FIELDS TO LEAD NEXT R. F. SQUAD

Athletic Council Gives Spread

The Athletic Council entertained the members of the basket ball squad at a banquet held at the home of Mr. Hayward, Wednesday evening. The tables and room were appropriately decorated with the colors of the school and the emblems of the School's Athletic prowess. A streamer from a basket ball in the center of the table, led to each person's plate. Inside of the ball were the subjects of each man's speech.

Mr. Eggebrecht was permitted to speak upon a subject of intense interest, "Money Talks." Mr. Hayward followed with a talk, "Hugh Fullerton on Big Ten Athletics. Mr. Ames spoke on enlarging the athletic equipment and expressed the School's appreciation for the services rendered by the team in realizing a championship.

Team Members Talk Real Confidentially

The men of the team were given a chance to unload their thoughts of the season. "Dashing Dorgan" Chinnock favored the company with a talk entitled, "What My Girl Thought of the Superior Game." "Clafin reduced his speech to, "How It Feels to be Captain of a Championship Team." Ziebell related how he spent the afternoon in the Galloway Hotel at Eau Claire. Joe Gurnoe was not permitted to talk about the baby, but gave the history of the second half of the game at Superior, and related an incident at the cafe following the game.

Don Field's told how it felt to score the winning basket at Eau Claire, but was requested by Ziebell and Hyatt not to demonstrate how it was made.

Following the banquet the following were awarded sweaters and letters, Clafin, Fields, Gurnoe, Chinnock and Ziebell. These men were also awarded gold basket balls as a

Liebenberg Gets Only Fair Start Up Oratorical Ladder

Reports received here, regarding the State Oratorical Contest, give our school orator, Rex Liebenberg, sixth step on a flight of nine. Let us throw more light on the subject. The meet was held last Friday evening at Milwaukee. Stevens Point rode away on first honors. It is interesting to note the wide scattering of judges' votes. Two of them favored Liebenberg with highest rating, two others with lowest, and the rest scattering along down the scale. More detailed information will be published next week.

"Y" WINS ORGANIZATION TOURNAMENT

Several "Characters" Show Up

By defeating the Lincolnian in an overtime game in the finals on Friday afternoon, the Y. M. C. A. became the champion society basket ball team. This game was the sensational game of the tournament. The score stood 15 to 14 in favor of the Y at the last moments of play when a foul, allowing two free throws, was called on the Y. M. C. A. Smith lost the chance of winning the game for the Lincolnian by making only one of the free throws. During the five minutes overtime play, the Y. M. C. A. made four points, while the Lincolnian made two. The Y. M. C. A. came through the tournament with a clear record, defeating every other token of appreciation for their bringing the championship to the school. Donovan, Hyatt, Smith and Bergman were awarded silver basket balls.

Don Fields was elected to head the team for next year. Knowing the ability of Fields during the two years he has been on the team, we feel that the team could have made no better choice.

SHINING LIGHTS IN BASE BALL

Veterans of Last Year Appear On Scene

Monday evening about fifteen men reported for baseball practice. Coach Eggebrecht is very anxious to have all others interested in trying out for places on the team to report at once. Practice will be held in the North Hall gymnasium until weather permits outside practice.

With Hyatt, Shannon, Luther, Kees and Miles of last year's team as a nucleus, it should not be difficult to build a team equal to those of past years.

The first game is scheduled with St. Olaf College, at Northfield, April 10.

MASQUE BALL MAKES HIT

Noticeable Costumes Are Displayed

Everyone who attended the masque ball Saturday night will agree that it was an unqualified success and should be made an annual event, as indeed, the social committee plans to do.

The judges had a hard time in picking the prize winners except in one case, that of the best comic costume. "The Dutchman," as impersonated by Prof. Hunt, was the comic hit of the evening. Marguerite Tucker, as "Sis Perkins," furnished him the only real competition, taking second prize.

After considerable deliberation, the judges awarded the other prizes as follows: Best gentleman's costume, Prof. Hayward as the "toreador;" Second best gentleman's costume, Stanley Bergman in a colonial outfit; Best ladies' costume, the two shamrock girls, Mildred Heibrink and Lenore Reed; Josephine Eskra as a gypsy girl took second prize for a ladies' costume. The first prize for group costumes went to a group of senior girls in orange and black polka dots. Six third-year girls in sham-

WHAT NANOOK DID

Last Friday students had the opportunity of enjoying a "different" movie. "Nanook," unlike the usual run of films, has no plot at all; it is just the story of the every day life of an Eskimo family. Those who saw it, however, will testify that this did not detract in the least from the interest of the film, for it was vividly realistic and filled with bits of exciting action. All who attended it went away with a much clearer idea of the life of the Eskimos, and of the country where they live—a country nearer to us than California, but about which most of us know little or nothing.

Some students wonder if Mrs. Hayward knows how well Mr. Hayward plays the role of "Cupid."

Mr. Hayward: "What is the highest form of animal life, Miss Demulling?"

Lucy D.: "The giraffe."

society team. Olson and Keyes were the stars on this team. "Tubby" Hansen removed a "condition in religion" by playing in all the Y. M. C. A. games.

The first game of the tournament was played on Tuesday afternoon between the Lincolnian and the Agrifallian; the Agrifallian easily winning by the score of 21 to 8. On Wednesday afternoon the Y. M. C. A. defeated the N. C. A. by the score of 33 to 18. "Butch" Kirshner's sensational playing was the outstanding feature of this game. Two games were played on Thursday afternoon. The Y. M. C. A. defeated the Agrifallian 26 to 16, and the N. C. A. defeated the Lincolnian 18 to 8. Two more games remained to be played on Friday afternoon. The first game was played between the N. C. A. and Agrifallian. This game was very close and exciting as it determined which team would finish in second place. The resulting score was 13 to 10 in favor of the N. C. A. The final game was between the Y. M. C. A. and the Lincolnian and resulted in the victory of the Y. M. C. A. by a score of 19 to 17.

The following is the result of the tournament:

rock costumes took the second group prize.

The first character prize went to Carleton Ames as Uncle Sam. Miss Ruth Kelly of the High School faculty was awarded the second character prize for her impersonation of Mother Goose.

The costumes generally showed more thought and work than those displayed last year. There were fewer merely ridiculous costumes, thus improving the general tone.

ENTERTAINMENT BY PHYSICS CLASSES

An unusual program was put on at Assembly by Mr. Jacobson's physics classes. The application of physical laws to mechanism with which we are familiar was the object of the demonstrations.

The principle of water pressure as applied to the water system of North Hall was explained by Amy Fuller.

Mildred Randall and Avery Ames showed how formulas are used in everyday life.

The differences between the kinds of cameras was pointed out by Kenneth Hummel.

A very interesting explanation of geysers and hot springs was made by Carrol Grubb.

How a magnetic current works was well shown by Westly Magnuson.

Clark Ingli, aided by Orlando Nelson, gave a clever demonstration of the action of electricity in a vacuum.

The climax was artificial lightning and a short talk on the dangers and prevention of disaster from lightning, by Jack Zahorick, assisted by Rudolph Hawk.

Mr. Jacobson and his students put on a most creditable performance.

Miss Wirt sure has a lot of "dumb bells" in the gym.

During the past week "Tiny" Hansen succeeded in warding off a second condition in religion by his consistent playing as basket ball guard. The football fans will be pleased to note this improvement.

THE EASTER RECESS

Every student is urged to conform rigidly to the following suspension and resumption of school duties fixed for the Easter recess: Classes close Thursday, March 29, at about 2:40 P. M., or in time for the 3:10 train; classes resume Tuesday, April 3, 7:50 A. M.

It takes a lot of sparking to make a match.

VESPER SERVICE

A vesper service under the auspices of the religious organizations of the Normal School will be held in Normal auditorium, Sunday, March 25, at four o'clock. Music suitable to Easter-tide will be sung by the children in grades three to six of the Training school, and the Semi-Chorus from the Girls' Glee Club. A cordial invitation is extended to members of the school and to the public to attend this service.

THE SPANISH ATHELETE

His head was like a nutmeg;
His brains were in his feet,
But he had the reputation
Of a darn good athelete.
He came to our institution
Just to show how much he knew,
He said he used to "sing" first base
On the high school baseball crew.
His success was meteoric—
He won every throwing meet,
That was about the limit
For he was a Spanish Athelete.

"The Wizard of Oz," Saturday and Monday.

Charlotte McLeod spent last week in Menomonie as nurse to her mother.

Edna Wilcox's mother from Turtle Lake is visiting relatives and friends in the city.

Ellen Lewis of Roberts visited R. F. N. S. friends and attended the masquerade.

Friends of Dutch Zmdars will be pleased to hear she is speedily recovering from her recent illness.

Ann Vangen, '22, who teaches in Plum City visited her sister Helen, and others over the week end recess.

John Vezina, '17, who is attending the medical school of the U. of M. visited school last Wednesday afternoon.

Laura and Dorothy McNomara, Connie Crawford, Edna Olson, Ethel Blanchard and Ed Casey were in New Richmond the past week end.

Get up your class spirit. Attend the girl's basket ball tournament in South Hall gym beginning Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

Reba Offerdahl, Blanche Hansen, Marjorie Brewer, Floy Slauson and Carl Bradford spent Saturday and Sunday at their homes in Hudson.

Those that were thrilled to their toes as they read "The Wizard of Oz," when they were children, will be the first ones to buy tickets for the movie.

If you see a girl coming down the hall with a most cheerful countenance, it will be a safe bet that she has just received a bid to the prom.

Hurry up fellows, before some other man asks the girl you want.

Jack Gerretson has returned to school after being laid up a week because of a lamie back. He declares it was caused by a girl hitting him when he was not looking.

STOUT IS APPRECIATIVE

Mr. Ames has received the following letter from Coach Bowman:

"On looking over my notes I believe I overlooked writing you relative to our appreciation of your treatment of the Stout rooters at the game held at River Falls some time ago. Every one expressed himself as well pleased with the reservations of seats, and the band was especially appreciative of having room kept for them. Should you make arrangements to send a train over here next year we shall certainly see to it that every detail of seating arrangements etc., is to your satisfaction. Incidentally our congratulations on securing the state championship. Your team certainly deserves it."

Cordially Yours,
C. A. Bowman.

Say fellows, is the weather more changeable than a woman?

An onion can make you cry, but there is no vegetable that can make you laugh.

Mr. Mitchell: "Miss Canton, give a memorable date in history."

Gwen C.: "Cleopatra's date with Mark Anthony."

In spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to what a woman has been thinking about all winter.

A man is merciful to his beast; J. Hoar would walk a mile for a "Cam-el."

Clarence Le Jeune became so fussed the other day while a young lady was walking with him that he went into the wrong rooming house.

"IT HAS A 'KICK"

"Chase a bullfrog three miles and gather up the hops, add a bottle of shellac and a bar of strong home-made soap. Boil, and add a grass-hopper to each pint to give it a kick. Pour through an I. W. W. sock to keep it from working. Pour a little in the kitchen sink, and if it takes off enamel, it is ready for bottling." Hohman says that it is great stuff.
