Gridiron Men Finish Season; Win Honors

Many Stars End Athletic Competition; President Ames Reviews Season

By President J. H. Ames

We have just closed a very successful football season. In the last two games the team showed a very great superiority over both La Crosse and Eau Claire. The team is one of the best which has represented our college in recent years; it missed the state championship by only one touchdown. Among its achievements was the victory over St. Thomas, a team which is now at the top of the Minnesota College Conference. The coach and players are to be congratulated on the splendid results of the season's play.

Backs Finish

With the close of the season, seven players pass from gridiron activities, having completed the three years of playing time allowed by conference rules. Four backfield stars who have been together for three years, are included in the number. In the 1928 squad the backfield reserves included Bob Sutherland, John Schlicht and Arnie Larson, with Bucky Bartosh in the line. In 1929 these men became regulars in the backfield; Bartosh was lost to the team in early practice. In the present year, Bartosh moved to the backfield and these four men teamed together throughout the season.

Boys Play Well

In Captain Larson the team had one of the best backs in the conference. Arnie performed the functions of a bucking backfield man, sharing this responsibility with Bartosh. Both men could always be depended upon for the necessary yardage through the line. Both men were strong defensive players. Bartosh was one of the best blockers in the game and many of the long runs made by his team mates were due to

College Party Plans Are Announced

The "R" club formal scheduled for this week end has been postponed until after Thanksgiving.

This week end the Ag-Rural Life party will be held in the South Hall gym. The party will be in the form of a dance. Entertainment for those who do not dance will also be provided in the form of games and card playing.

On November 21 the freshman class will hold its first party.

Poultry-Grain Show Program Interests All

An interesting program has been planned for the Poultry Show which will be held Thursday and Friday, November 20 and 21.

Thursday morning the entries of poultry and grain will be received in the gymnasium. In the afternoon, Prof. J. B. Hayes of the University of Wisconsin will judge the exhibits. Prof. Hayes did the judging at the show last year.

At 10 a. m. Friday morning, there will be a judging contest for high school boys. The winning team will receive a silver loving cup which is now held by Roberts. When a team has won the cup three times, it becomes theirs permanently.

Friday afternoon there will be a program in the auditorium for rural school boys and girls. Prof. J. I. Malott will give an address of welcome. Several students from the agriculture department will put on a mock debate on an agricultural topic. Miss Amundson of the state club department will speak. A talk will be given by H. G. Seyforth, county agent of Pierce county. The band and Ag quartett will furnish music and songs for the program.

Masquers Pick New Members For 1930 Club

Six Pass Stiff Entrance Tryouts; Groups Begin Work On New Benefit Play

The following new members were elected to membership in Masquers because of successful tryouts and satisfactory marks required by the organization: Gwenith Dopkins, Elmer Beran, Ed Fisher, Irene Hale, Leslie Libakken and Claude Tait. It was voted at the business session to renew the membership in the Wisconsin Dramatic Guild in which Masquers displayed so brilliantly last year. A Board of Admission was selected to begin work on the tryouts for prospective candidates to the Masquers.

An interesting program was given as the concluding part of the meeting. Maxine Blaine gave a very interesting report on Theatre Guild Plays now playing in New York. Byron Holtz favored with two piano selections and Miss Margaret Burkholder cleverly interpreted and impersonated the one act play "High Heart."

Parents, Relatives Visit Here Saturday

Fathers, mothers and other relatives of the football boys sat together in a reserve section at Ramer Field during the game Saturday. Free passes and invitations were issued by the Athletic Council to the parents early in the week.

More than a score of relatives came to see the game. Many of the parents were too far away to come to the game.

Among the group was an invalid father who came more than 250 miles to see his boy play his last college game. The father was John Larson of Park Falls. A smile came often to the father's face as he watched the sterling captain execute one thrilling play after another. It was the first game he had seen his son play since Captain Larson performed at Park Falls High.

Even Styles In Athletes Change These Days-- All Hail The Tall, Sleek, Dribbling Hero

Saturday was a turning point in the lives of many people. For some, it was merely a birthday; for others, the last game of football of the season; for still others, the final game of college football.

A few Saturdays hence, hundreds of elevens will have experienced this same crisis. The football season will be over. Except for a few post-mortems and the publication of numerous mythical elevens, the season passes as promptly as it arrives.

Students Peruse Newspapers Principally, Bulletin Indicates

Survey Also Gives Data On Type of Material Group Prefers to Read

How much reading is actually done by students?

According to a Survey Bulletin No. 375 on "Activities of College Students" by M'Ledge Moffet we find the following statements true.

Newspapers

"The daily reading which a teachers college student does is largely confined to newspapers: 41.4 per cent of the students read the daily paper published in a small city; 28.4 per cent read the metropolitan dailies; 38.6 per cent read the Sunday editions of these papers; 31.8 per cent get their news from the country or weekly newspapers.

"How does the intending teacher read a newspaper? Only 78 per cent of the students scan the whole paper or read the headlines on the front page, while a much smaller per cent reads anything but the cartoons and funny strips. Why should these facts exist when one can have a metropolitan daily delivered at the door for only fifty cent per month?"

Magazines

The reading of magazines is a monthly activity for 30 per cent or less of the college students; 10 to 20 per cent do not read magazines at all. On the whole the teachers college student does not enjoy magazine reading. An explanation can be made: first, the reading habit has not been formed early in life; second, probably because the student has had a limited contact with different types of magazines.

There are, at the present time, good, interesting magazines on the shelves in our own library. How many of them have you made use of this year?

Mechanics Arts Work Progresses

All the outside work on the new mechanics building has been completed with the exception of putting in the sky-lights. There is some grading to be done on the south side of the building before the ground freezes.

There is considerable work to be done on the inside of the building. The heating system is partly installed. The floor will be made of concrete and covered with wood flooring. The plastering has not yet been started.

The building does not have to be finished until March, so there is little chance of making any use of it this school year. It will, however, be available for summer school.

The Art Appreciation class is making plans to visit the Art Institute and the Walker Museum at Minneapolis Friday, Nov. 14. Miss Greene will accompany the class.

Debate Squad Prepares For Big Question

Begins Work On Topic To Be Used In Conference Battles; Winners Fed

The debate squad has stopped finding out good and bad things about chain stores and has turned with earnest to the college question: Resolved: a system of compulsory unemployment insurance should be adopted by the government.

At the meeting last Monday night, the teams were divided up for a four week series of trial debates. The first squad will be chosen before Thanksgiving and the second squad will debate the neighboring high schools on the question of chain stores.

Last Wednesday evening the squad entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harrington and the winning team of the first round debates including Miss Garley, Capt. Voskuil, and Casey at a banquet in the College Cafeteria. Leonard Madison was master of ceremonies.

Coach Harrington gave a brief prophecy of where such meetings might lead to, namely that of a forensic club. All the freshmen were called on to give short speeches and proved that they were in the right place.

Three new members joined the squad this week: Robert Davee, Carlton Shultz, and Wallace Clapp. The squad this year is one of the largest in the history of the school. Due to the keen competition for places on the team, there is a great deal of interest and much work being done. The prospects of the season look favorable, followers say.

Rural Life - Agrifallian Plan Joint Celebration

The first Agrifallian - Rural Life party of this year will be held in the South Hall gym next Friday evening, November 14.

Chris Hanson, Ed O'Connell, and Walter Klenderman of the Agrifallians and Florence Woods, Kathryn Johnson, Leora Smith, and Lawrence Seekins of the Rural Life represent the committees chosen to prepare plans for the party. The committee will have an orchestra to furnish music for the dancing.

Masquers To Present First Benefit Soon

November 25 Set As Date of First Production To Be Given By Players Cast

A three act farce-comedy will be presented by the Masquers in the college auditorium on Tuesday evening, November 25. The play will be given for the benefit of the tenth annual poultry show which is to be held here the preceding week.

The play is under the direction of Miss Schlosser. It is the first of the series of plays that the Masquers' organization presents during the college year.

According to Miss Schlosser the play has a stirring plot and furnishes plenty of laughter to the crowd to which it is presented. "As a comedy it should furnish a fine entertainment to the students and town people," said Miss Schlosser.

The cast is made up of the following people: Margaret Fox, Irene Hoel, Margaret Helwig, Evelyn Rhiel, Gwenith Dopkins, Elmer Beran, Edward Fisher, Leslie Libakken and Claude Tait.

A committee from the Agrifallian composed of Arno Dittbrenner, Jim Deringer and Irving Haug will handle the business part of putting on the play.

Large Crowd Attends Dance For Athletes

More than sixty couple "tripped the light fantastic" at the dance held in the North Hall gym Saturday night. The dance marked the close of the football season.

The dance was a stag affair. Like most of the dances held this year it was of an informal nature.

Members of the Eau Claire team and their co-ed friends were invited to attend.

Deficiency Report Unusually Good

Total No. boys reported	84
No. deficient in 3 subjects	3
No. deficient in 2 subjects	24
Total No. girls reported	47
No. deficient in 3 subjects	2
No. deficient in 2 subjects	8

The marks were mostly D's. There were but 43 students who received an F; 33 men and 10 girls. The proportion between men and women is about the same as other years. This is an unusually low number.

Agriculture Boys Enjoy Big Meeting

At a meeting held in the Men's Union last Thursday evening the Agrifallian society transacted business and enjoyed a versatile program in the presence of more than sixty members.

The Ags voted to have an organization basketball team. The chairman was instructed to appoint a committee to meet with the chairman of the Rural Life and plan a party which the two organizations plan on having some time in the near future.

Chris Hanson and his committee presented a program that older members said was one of the best in years. The Agrifallian quartett made its debut by singing two numbers. This musical organization is composed of Oral Claffin, Royal Enloe, Leland Chapman and Robert Hanson.

President Warner appointed the following committees: Basketball, Jim Hocking, Irwin Lotz; Ag Party, Chris Hanson, Walter Klenderman and Ed O'Connell.

The following committee will plan the program for November 20: Leonard Madison, Carl Wolf, Lester Gibson and Monroe Theis.

A Word For Tuxes

The band boys looked very handsome in their new uniforms. "Clothes do help make a man," is literally true. Perhaps soon the "R" club will insist that every man wear a tuxedo; otherwise why call a party a formal? Certainly a college bred man should feel as much at home in a tuxedo as he does in his year-old blue serge. His first experience in wearing a tuxedo should come in college, not in later life.

River Falls is a cabbage center. Why not a sauer-kraut festival? Why not a local champion eater?

According to a recent college bulletin 95 per cent of the students get no dramatic experience. At least they have the opportunity of criticizing the same old actors.

Hiking Season

The hiking season is ever present. But the student who missed a walk, along one of the many interesting and lovely trails that are to be found in this community, during the past week end, or missed other weekends, missed one of the most fascinating sports the local vicinity has to offer.

One needs only a companion or two. Any direction will take the student to some unusual formation, hidden valley, ravine, creek, or clump of woods. There chick-a-dees, squirrels, sparrows, partridges are making ready for winter; there one is surprised by lovely beauty spots, fascinating views. Such discoveries furnish the thrill of hiking.

On almost every mound and cliff about, one can find the initials or name of a former River Falls student. One can be sure that such a student has realized one of the greatest pleasures this college community has to offer.

Thanks! Manager Laatch

We are all grateful to the manager of our theatre for the treat he had in store for us after the mass meeting Friday nite.

Some of the students were too anxious to get in and spoil the show for the earlier movie-fans. This was not the right attitude, especially after Mr. Laatch had so kindly consented to admit the entire group free of charge. We are sorry this happened and feel that we owe the manager an apology.

Perhaps we should be more considerate of the other fellow and not take a selfish attitude such as that which was demonstrated Friday nite.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra has scheduled a series of programs for this winter to be given in Northrup Auditorium of the University of Minnesota during the winter. On November 14, Ruggiero Rucci, the world's youngest violinist will appear as soloist.

Music lovers consider these concerts the treat of the year. Everyone interested should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear them.

Work Is Scarce This Year Says Employment Head

Prof. A. N. Johnson

A. N. Johnson Explains Reasons For Lack of Present Employment; Faculty, Town Folks Can Cooperate

Many of the students who come to River Falls find it necessary to find spare time work to help pay school expenses. For several years an employment bureau has been maintained for the purpose of helping them obtain jobs.

Professor A. N. Johnson has been at the head of this work for the past eight years. Mr. Johnson has been of great service in providing spare time work for students. Here is what he tells us about student employment:

Every year from 20 to 25 students work on farms for their room and board. This year 21 men are working on farms near River Falls. These students are expected to work about four hours a day on school days and all day on Saturday in return for their room and board.

Many students seek work for spare time and Saturdays. This year there are 30 men who want odd jobs of this kind. About 50 per cent of those seeking work are from the agriculture department. The other 50 per cent is divided among the other departments.

This year there has been very little work for those who desire odd jobs. During the past years there has been enough work to employ from 15 to 20 men regularly. This year there has been work for only five or six. During the last two or three weeks there has been practically no work.

About thirty students find employment each year working for their board in the restaurants and the cafeteria. About twenty more earn part of their expenses working at various other business places.

The scarcity of work this year is easily explained. Although some of the students get odd jobs in town, most of the work is on farms near River Falls. Due to an early season, most of the farm work was done before the beginning of the school year. Consequently there has been very little work from this source.

Mr. Johnson says that at present student employment is the lowest it has ever been. He expects that in the future it will be possible to find jobs for many more of those seeking work.

Editor's Note: Town people who have odd jobs which they wish done should call Mr. Johnson.

Fleming Book Collection To Be On Display Soon in Art Room

During Good Book Week, the beautifully illustrated books belonging to the Elizabeth Fleming Memorial Collection will be on display in the art room.

Since the inauguration of the memorial in 1925, following the death of a loved teacher, this collection has grown to thirty-seven books, among them artistically illustrated editions of children's tales, books of travel, of art, of nature. Within the month, five more volumes will be added, a book on birds, one on nature, one on architecture, Lamb's "Tales from Shakespeare," and "Stories of Famous Operas."

During the year, these books are kept in the library in a special case donated by the school, but upon application to the librarian, friends, faculty members, and students are at liberty to make use of them.

A fund of $182.35 still remains in the bank. This includes one hundred dollars, which the late Mrs. Lizzie Fleming willed to the school, and which will be used for the purchase of artistic editions to be added to the memorial collection dedicated to her daughter, Elizabeth Fleming.

Visitors Applaud La Crosse's Hospitality

If La Crosse can't excell in football, at least they can put on a real dance, just ask the kids who stayed! And what's more, they didn't try to keep the conquerors out, either.

The North Hall gymnasium was a veritable ball-room. Great panels of Red and White, R. F.'s colors, not their own maroon and grey, hung from the sides, while unique lamp shades for the ceiling were Japanese parasols. The twelve-piece orchestra, which seemed to know all about its business, was all but hidden in a canopy of red roses over lattice work.

The balcony was converted into a check room, where wraps could be safely left with no charge. La Crosse seems to be pretty good at doing things for the fun of doing them, and not just to see in how many ways they can take cash from the Homecoming crowd. (The programs and little megaphones at the game were donated.)

The receiving line, waiting just inside the hall, introduced the strangers to handsome men or beautiful co-eds, as the case required, and there seems to have been quite enough of both, from all reports.

At about ten o'clock, the dancing was interrupted for the presentation to Bud Cashman of a large bouquet of chrysanthemums and daisies, for having played the best game that day.

The dance ended at one o'clock.

Falls Trims Eau Claire; Score 31 - 6

Boys Play Great Game In Last College Appearance; Many Subs See Action

Running and smashing their way to five touchdowns, the Red and White wound up the season by defeating Eau Claire last Saturday by a score of 31 to 6.

Unable to pierce the River Falls' strong line, Eau Claire resorted to the passing game, attempting 27, of which 10 were completed and 5 intercepted.

River Falls received the kick-off, and started a slashing drive down the field which ended in a touchdown. Line plunging by Larson and Schlict, combined with Sutherland's 25 yard dash off left tackle, carried the ball seventy yards in four first downs.

Early in the second quarter Eau Claire intercepted a pass on the River Falls 37 yard line and then completed 3 passes in a row, the last of which, from Deroun to Blair, gave Eau Claire their lone tally.

From this point, however, River Falls clearly demonstrated their superiority throughout the remainder of the game. Sutherland's and Warwick's dashes off tackle and open field work featured the ball carrying of the day.

Following is a play for play account of the fracas:

Frosh Team Plays Today

Meeting one of the strongest high school teams in the northern part of the state, the local frosh eleven will end its season this afternoon. Amery High School will furnish the opposition.

Coach Jensen of the Frosh expects to send a strong team to the Polk county city. The Twin Lakes city lads have lost only one game (and that by one point) and they are expected to furnish strong competition.

The Gossip Twins

It doesn't look so much as if there's strength in numbers. The Fallsites at La Crosse more than outshone the whole Homecoming crowd at the Milwaukee game. The fifty odd sore-throats that came away from La Crosse bear some slight testimony to the yelling that was turned loose down there. The only drawback to the little megaphones they furnished was their tendency to create little black mustaches—quite a unique affect, really!

It might be added that the "L" club donated the programs, and liberally, at that! However, admission to the game was one life-sized dollar—nuff sed! According to reports, the dance was highly enjoyable—what with introductions to all the handsome lads and lassies!

The River Falls band surely did itself and the old school proud down there at La Crosse. It's still somewhat of a novelty for our school organizations to broadcast impromptu programs, and give street concerts. And these are merely a few of the things Mr. Schliep and the band did. Most of the things were as much of a surprise for them as for the spectators.

Well, Well! The little Scotch treasurer of the W. A. A. revolutionized national traditions and persuaded the organization to part with the whole magnificent sum of $5.00 to help send the band to La Crosse. How's that for progress?

Aren't the Frosh girls green enough without wearing green rompers in gym class? At least they cause quite a sensation, according to the rate at which the east library windows filled with men during the 3:10 period Tuesday, when the girls were posing for Miss Latta. If you didn't see them Tuesday, boys, cheer up, they'll be in the Meletean.

Too bad Superior was out of the conference this year. Your Frosh have missed half of your first year's experience in not seeing the annual, yea, traditional battle with these Northern Lights. You know, River Falls turned the Lights out last year.

the fact that Bucky took the opposing tackle out of the play. In addition to his ability as a player, Arnie was an outstanding captain in his fine example and splendid spirit.

Schlict Stars

Johnnie Schlict played a brilliant game in the backfield. It was his function chiefly to lead the plays, which he did with vim and dash. Those who saw Johnnie in the last game with Eau Claire, will long remember the fighting spirit which he put into his play. He also excelled as a ball carrier, his specialty being dashes off tackle as was demonstrated both at La Crosse and on the home gridiron in the present season. One of the strong scoring plays of this season was the combination of Sutherland to Schlict on forward passes, points being made on this play against St. Thomas, Stout and Eau Claire.

Suthy Runs Wild

In Bob Sutherland the team had one of the greatest quarterbacks in the history of football at River Falls. Suthy's runs around end and dashes outside of tackle made many long gains for River Falls. In every game in which he played, the opposition could not stop him. He became the despair of opposing coaches and players, and his ability has been recognized throughout the conference. In addition to his fine ground gaining ability, Suthy was an excellent field general, making a fine selection of plays when scoring opportunities were in sight. His selection of plays in the Milwaukee game by which he scored the first touchdown may be noted as an example of his fine head work.

The backfield worked together very smoothly, each man being a scorer when the situation presented opportunities. In the last game with Eau Claire every man in the backfield counted in touchdowns scored.

Krueger Reliable

One of the outstanding line men of the season was Leo Krueger, at guard. Though not a big man, Leo frequently broke through the opposing line tackling plays before they could get away. He was pulled out of the line to run interference for the backs. His speed and aggressiveness made him a valuable man in this capacity. Krueger has played on the team three years, during the first year as an end and for the last two seasons as guard. He is rated by the coach as an exceptionally competent lineman.

End Play Strong

Two ends will be lost to next year's team, Ray Wile and John Hammer. Both of these men have participated in most of the games, both last year and the present season. Both are fast and exceptionally good at receiving forward passes. Wile, during the present season, was used for the kick-off and did brilliant work in this capacity. Hammer was unfortunate last year in breaking his arm and was lost to the team for a good share of the season. He has been a valuable man throughout his playing time and has been used by the Coach in practically every game.

Another man who should be mentioned with those who have completed their playing time, is Arno Dittbrenner. Dittbrenner has been out for the team four seasons, and has been one of the most dependable men on the squad. With a wealth of linemen, Dittbrenner has not had many opportunities to play in conference games, but has always acquitted himself well when given an opportunity.

Few To Return

With the loss of these eight men from the squad, the Coach will have a large contract in building a team of championship caliber for 1931. With Gerhardt and Habermann for centers, with Zeddies, Holstrom and Junchen for guards, the center of the line next year should be strong. Great strength at tackles should be in evidence with Claffin and Hemp, veterans of two year's play, and with Morrow and Kingston with experience the present year. Helixon and Woodward at ends will be available for next year. This group of men will be supplemented by some able players coming up from the freshman squad. With four backs completing their playing time, it will be necessary for the Coach to build a new backfield. He will have some good men to work with, including Joe Braun, La Dusire, Warwick, Hagestad, Pederson and freshmen who will be available next year.

Reserves Are Good

There is no attempt in this write-up to apportion credit for the season's success. Many men in the reserves and among the freshmen are very deserving of mention. Future seasons will give them an opportunity to display their football ability.

In closing I must say a word of commendation for the Coach, Mr. Klandrud. No coach can succeed without good material. On the other hand, no matter how good the material, a football team cannot be developed without a coach who not only understands football and the strategy of the game, but is able to secure the cooperation and respect of his players. In these respects, Mr. Klandrud is to be highly commended. The men are willing to do their best, not only for the school but for the Coach. The success that Mr. Klandrud has had in three years at River Falls constitutes conclusive evidence as to his sterling qualities as Coach and Director of Athletics.

Training School Notes

Miss Esther Marie Nelson, graduate student of the Teachers' College of Columbia University, visited the training school Monday to interview the faculty. Miss Nelson is working on her doctor's degree. She is collecting material for her thesis on teachers' training. She expects to call on about fifty schools throughout the country, filling out a questionnaire according to the answers given by their faculties. She has been to the coast and is now returning to New York City.

The Junior High has opened a contest for the celebration of Book Week, November 16 to 22. This contest includes the making of book plates, posters, oral talks on books, book reports, and knowing the authors of about fifty books of Junior High age. Many have already handed in book reports. Since an appropriate prize is to be awarded to the one receiving the highest number of points, there will be some keen competition.
