Visiting Teachers See 'New Twist'

More than 400 elementary school teachers met Friday at Wisconsin State College at River Falls to consider "A New Twist in Education," topic of the fifth annual Elementary Education Conference.

The teachers heard Robert T. Filep, executive associate of the Center for Programed Instruction in New York, explain teaching programs which combine texts and machines.

In mentioning teaching machines, Mr. Filep said that the text form should accompany the machine, since it is the unit of instruction that teaches, not the machine.

"If you are going to use a teaching machine, you had better have a tool kit handy," he told his audience in pointing out that machines do break down.

Joe Dickman, special project manager for Encyclopedia Britannica, conducted elementary math workshops during both morning and afternoon sessions. Also on the program were room demonstrations conducted by the supervisors in the College's Campus School.

Dr. L. G. Stone, dean of the College's School of Education, and Dr. Rowland Klink, principal of the Campus School, summarized and evaluated the conference at the end of the afternoon session.

An exhibit of teaching materials, books and program learning material was on display all day in the basement of Hagestad Student Center.

'General' Appears Tonight at 7:30 In North Hall

The Falcon Film Society and the Foreign Students Association are presenting the film "The Inspector General" on Monday, April 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the North Hall Auditorium. As for all other such films, the admission price is 50 cents.

With its entire cast from the Moscow Art Theatre, the film is based on a play by Nikolai Gogol. It is a satire on provincial corruption in Czarist Russia and has been performed on almost every stage in the world.

The film has Russian dialogue with English subtitles.

Classes will not be held Friday, April 6, at River Falls State because of the conference.

Nine Will Compete in Wednesday's Election

Nine students have filed petitions for the Student Senate election to be held Wednesday, April 4. Since fewer than 12 have petitioned for Senate positions, this will be the final election.

The group of petitioning candidates for the Student Senate is dominated by Freshmen. These freshmen are: Paul Kozak, Wautoma; Don Marsolek, Fountain City; Evangeline Scott, Hudson; Gene Smith, Clear Lake.

The junior hopefuls are: Frank Haas, St. Paul, Minn.; Dennis Haller, River Falls; James Lukasiewicz, Thorp.

Incumbents seeking re-election to the position they have held for at least the past year are: Ed Churchill, sophomore from Ladysmith; Wayne Hendrickson, junior from Spring Valley; Linda Kirk, junior from Barron; Don Koepnick, junior from Elkhorn; and Bob Richardson, junior from Spring Valley.

These candidates are vying for seven openings on the Senate. The remaining four positions will be filled by the four class presidents. According to the Student Senate constitution, at least three incumbents must be returned to the Senate. This means that a maximum of four of nine candidates seeking their first terms will be elected.

Voters Name Miss Isaac 'Cover Girl'

Pat Isaac, freshman from Lindstrom, Minn., is the winner of the River Falls Campus Cover Girl contest. She was one of five candidates in the contest which was decided by an all-school election Wednesday of last week.

Miss Isaac's picture will now be submitted to the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune, which is sponsoring the contest, to vie for its Campus Cover Girl title. Her picture will appear in the Tribune's PICTURE Magazine on April 22, along with the entries submitted by other co-educational colleges in this area.

The Tribune will print a ballot along with the contestant's photos, thus giving its readers a chance to select the finalists. Five finalists of the balloting will then be submitted to a panel of judges for the final decision.

Regents Approve 12 Promotions, 3 to Professor

Promotions for 12 River Falls faculty members were approved at the March meeting of the Board of Regents.

Dr. William Abbott, Dr. Ernst Jurgens and Dr. Allan Siemers will become full professors July 1, the effective date of the promotions.

Blake Anderson (on leave), Gerhardt Bohn, Dr. James Dollahan, Russell Gerber, Robert Krueger and Peter Muto (on active duty with the National Guard) have been advanced to the rank of associate professor.

Mrs. Audrey Adams, Dr. John Lankford and Ronald Laymon were promoted to assistant professor.

Dr. Abbott, Dr. Jurgens and Dr. Siemers were among 17 persons in the State College system promoted to full professor.

'No Exit' Being Prepared For Staging April 12-14

The first of three major theatrical productions to be staged this quarter is preparing for its performances on April 11, 12, and 13 in the Little Theatre. "No Exit" by Jean-Paul Sartre, a French existentialist playwright, is being directed by James Rankin, a senior majoring in speech and drama.

The play, "No Exit" is different from most college productions, inasmuch as it presents the playwright's interpretation of hell. There are three main characters who are damned for various reasons: Vincent Cradeau, a French journalist, Estelle Delaunay, the wife of a rich American, and Inex Serrano, a postal clerk. They are sentenced to remain in a room where there is no exit. The play frankly discusses emotional perversions. The characters are torn between playing the offense and the defense. Each needs something the others cannot give, whether it be confidence, love, or fulfillment of desires.

The play will be presented in the Little Theatre on April 11, 12, and 13 at 8 p.m. Tickets will be available at the College Bookstore.

Cigaret Packs Mean Money for Loan Fund

Between now and May 15, some lucky student or organization on the River Falls campus is going to win up to $50 in prize money and help the College in the process.

All it will take to win is to collect empty cigarette packages — hundreds of them; thousands of them, millions, if the competition is rough.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. has announced a promotional campaign in which it will donate one cent to the student loan fund and one-half cent to the student body for every empty L & M, Chesterfield or Oasis cigarette package turned in to them by May 15.

The contest will be open to any officially-registered organization on campus or group of full-time students who wish to organize solely for this purpose. Groups desiring to register must do so at the College Bookstore before 5 p.m. on Thursday, April 5.

Since the federal government will match every penny donated to the loan fund with nine cents, each package collected will in effect bring an additional ten cents to the student loan treasury of River Falls College.

The extra half-cent donated by Liggett & Myers will be used toward the prize fund, which will include a $50 first prize, a $25 second, and $10 prize for third and fourth in the number of empty packages collected.

To help the College collect extra thousands of empty packages, Liggett & Myers Co. has arranged window displays and receptacles with a number of business establishments in the River Falls area. The Student Senate has announced that in respect to the cooperating stores and businesses, students or organizations must not collect packages from these establishments for their private campaign. It was explained that these establishments will turn their empty packs to the college on May 15 when the promotion campaign concludes, and that the one and one-half cent will be used from any such packages in the same way as from those collected by student groups.

Jobs in Politics For Undergrads Now Available

Anyone interested in participating in the Political Internship Program sponsored by the Wisconsin Citizenship Clearing House during the coming summer should pick up application blanks this week, according to Dr. C. J. Graham.

Those selected will participate in a summer of work with a member of Congress or other governmental official, or with a candidate for election or a party headquarters of Wisconsin.

Any undergraduate student may apply, and two will be chosen from each college for final competition. The internship should fit in with and supplement the academic work of the student.

Applications and further information can be obtained from Dr. Graham. The deadline is April 10.

The Editor Speaks . . .

Why are you in college?

"That's a good question," you may say. But did you ever ask it of yourself? Just why you are here?

By some of the grades issued last quarter, it would appear that many haven't stopped to consider their reasons for being in school.

Are you here just because your parents sent you? Are you just stalling for time, maybe four years of it, before you have to go out on your own and make your own living?

Are you here to get a degree so that your earning power will be greater when you get out? What about your chosen profession? Have you really considered it seriously? Are you sure you are in the right field? Sometimes it takes trying a number of fields before you find the right one. Here is your chance to try. Are you taking your studies seriously enough and looking at them objectively? Are you putting enough into your academic work in order to get the most out of it so that if you say you don't like a certain field, you can say it honestly, knowing that you gave it a fair chance?

Women, are you husband hunting? A school of higher education is a good place to do it, if you are. But meanwhile, are you planning ahead to the day when you may have to be the breadwinner for your family? And what if you don't ever marry? (It's possible, you know!) Are you training yourself now for some profession that will be a challenge to you, that will give you some goal in life, or will you just be living a day-to-day existence? Are you wasting time in school now that you could be using constructively toward your future? So what if you do marry shortly after graduation? Your education is something that can never be taken from you. And besides, it is the mother of the family who brings up the children. Don't you want your children to have an educated mother?

Most of you are grown up enough to do a little thinking on your own. If you aren't thinking, then it is time to give it a try. Not that your reason for being in school is wrong. But, have you really thought about it seriously? Ask yourself, "Why am I in college?" Then make the best of the time and money you are spending here. Don't sit with your nose in a book constantly. Experience has taught many people that they miss out on a lot of practical education by this method. Just use a little moderation and apply yourself according to your own good judgment.

Letter

(Editor's note: The following is a letter placed in the library by Mr. Cooklock and is deserving of consideration by all River Falls students.)

STUDENTS:

Do you feel restricted, rule-ridden and regimented? Do you feel that the college does not allow you an opportunity to show you have mature judgment and self-control? Do you feel that totalitarian methods are used to coerce you into meek conformity? Here is an opportunity to demonstrate to the Administration and to your fellow students that our college students have pride in their school and in themselves.

The editorial in this week's issue of THE STUDENT VOICE notes the noise in the library. The STUDENT SENATE has visited the librarian explaining that students have reported to them that the library is too noisy for studying. Harsh methods were suggested to enforce a more library-like quiet. Librarians should patrol the reading rooms (remember the high school study halls?) and malefactors should be bodily ejected from the library (sounds more like a rowdy night club)! Are these measures really necessary? Aren't they the type of restrictions that gall you so now and treat like kids not adults?

Here is an opportunity for you. Why not make this problem the big issue on campus and set up a demonstration of how students can recognize a bad situation and can correct it themselves without policing. Let's make quieting the library the big challenge on campus as a proof that it can be done!

What can you do?

1. Come to the Library to study. If you have time to kill or are cruising the campus looking for a buddy, meet in the STUDENT CENTER. They need the business and is more centrally located. Commuters can rendezvous there not in our lobby.

2. Moderate your own talking.

We don't expect zombies in the Library. But if you talk, make it brief, to the point and do it quietly.

3. Use the buddy system—you know - library anonymous.

If a friend finds you and wants to talk, suggest that you both go to the Falcon's Lair and relax. Don't stand in the aisles or the lobby and blast away.

This is your problem and you can solve it. Don't gripe about the problem of library noise . . . perhaps you are part of the problem.

Student Senate Minutes

The March 26 meeting of the Student Senate was called to order by President Hendrickson at 6:30 in the Senate Office. The secretary's report was approved as read. The treasurer's report showed a balance of 674.20.

Two representatives of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield presented their student insurance plan for our consideration.

A representative of the Liggett and Meyers tobacco company presented a plan to the Senate by which we could earn money for the College Loan Fund. It was decided to allow individuals, teams, or organizations to sign up for this project. Captains must sign up for the project in Mr. Brock's office in the Student Center. Norrish, O'Connell, and Hendrickson will work with the L & M representative to get this program started.

Norrish moved, Churchill seconded, that we adopt this program as presented by Liggett and Meyers to benefit the Student Loan Fund. Motion carried.

Joan Lenselink presented the information on orchestras which the Social Committee has received. Richardson moved, Kirk seconded that we try to contract Rick Sutherland for the Prom. Motion carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:45 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Linda L. Kirk
Secretary

Festival Glory Climaxes Day in Winnipeg

by Shirley M. Olson

Successful participation by the River Falls Symphony Band and Brass Ensemble in the 44th Annual Manitoba Music Competition Festival was the climax of a busy day spent in Winnipeg, Manitoba by the Band, Brass Ensemble and Concert Choir, Thursday, March 22.

The Music Festival was under the control and management of The Men's Music Club and was affiliated with The Federation of Canadian Music Festivals and The British Federation of Music Festivals. The River Falls Symphony Band and Brass Ensemble performed in the Winnipeg Auditorium for their part of the competition before a crowd of over 600.

The Brass Ensemble, under the direction of Conrad De Jong, was entered in Class 322-Brass Bands. They played "Netherlands Dance," by Henk Badings; "Paduana," by Johann H. Schein; and "Interludes from 'Music for a Festival,'" by Gordon Jacob, and received a rating of 93 for their performance. As was stated in the Friday, March 23 issue of the Winnipeg Free Press, this was an "almost unheard of mark," and was the highest rating to be given at that point in the festival.

The Symphony Band, under the direction of Dr. William Abbott, was entered in Class 319-Bands—Grade A, and competed against the Winnipeg Concert Band. Both Local concerts will be given in River Falls this week by the returned organizations.

All three groups will perform at an all-school convocation Wednesday, April 4, at 1:25 p.m. in Karges Center. They will give another concert in Karges Center Thursday, April 5, at 8 p.m.

The local concerts will be similar to those given while on tour and will include selections from the printed program. According to Dr. Abbott, "George Washington Bridge," by Schuman, which was a definite crowd pleaser while on tour, will most certainly be heard.

bands played one selection of their own choice, and "Overture La Gazza Ladra," by Rossini. The River Falls band received a rating of 89 over the 86 given to the Winnipeg band.

Mr. David Griffiths, the adjudicator (judge) in the contest, was highly impressed with the performance of both River Falls organizations. He commented on the "remarkable ensemble, tuning and musicianship" of the groups. He suggested that the band use their pauses with more deliberation and a softer piano from which to build up, but stated that it was a "remarkably high standard of performance" and that he wondered how they had time to do anything but practice, as they were so proficient.

Of the Winnipeg band, Mr. Griffiths stated that they had a great amount of feeling for the music, but that they were just a little heavy at the beginning.

Mr. Griffiths, who is a professor of music at the Royal Conservatory of Music in London, said to the members of the Band and Ensemble, "You have travelled 500 miles or more to play for us this evening. I have travelled several thousand to hear you. I would gladly travel the same distance again to hear you once more." And finally, "The highest compliment we could pay the Wisconsin band was to say they were even better than the Winnipeg band."

Certificates from the Canadian Bandmaster's Association were presented to the Band and Brass Ensemble.

The performance of the River Falls instrumental groups was broadcast over CBC (Canadian Broadcasting Corporation) the day following the contest.

Dr. Abbott had been planning for a music trip to Winnipeg ever since he came to River Falls five years ago. It wasn't until this year, however, that he was able to get the state to appropriate enough money to cover expenses.

When he learned that the trip could be financed this year, he wrote to the Winnipeg Chamber of Commerce, inquiring if it would be possible for a group of musicians from River Falls to perform in the Provincial Parliament Building.

Mr. Stan Richardson, Secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Winnipeg, replied in the affirmative, and also invited the instrumental groups to take part in the Manitoba Music Festival. He suggested that if Dr. Abbott would tell him which day of the week the River Falls representation could be in Winnipeg, the rest of the festival would be arranged around this entry in the contest. This was done, and the rest of the tour was arranged with the Winnipeg Festival as the goal.

Organizations Visit Parliament

Another highlight of the day spent in Winnipeg by the touring musical organizations from River Falls was a visit to the Manitoba Provincial Parliament Building.

All three groups, the Symphonic Band, the Brass Ensemble, and the Concert Choir, under the direction of Chauncey B. King, performed in this building, which is similar to many of the state capitol buildings in the States.

They were welcomed to the Province of Manitoba by the Honorable Gurney Evans, minister of industry and commerce and provincial secretary. Following the performance, the Honorable Mr. Evans shook hands with each of the students as well as the directors, and gave each one a Manitoba lapel pin as a remembrance of their visit.

(It was later remarked by Mr. Richardson of the Winnipeg Jaycees that this was the first group known to him to receive individual pins. Usually just the directors of such groups receive pins, he said.)

In the afternoon of the same day, the River Falls visitors were invited to return to the Parliament Building to be introduced to the Legislative Assembly.

Shortly after they were ushered into the gallery, the Honorable A. W. Harrison, speaker of the Legislative Assembly, in his black robe and three-cornered hat, rose from his place of honor before the Assembly and welcomed the foreigners. Then, with a slight error, he introduced them to the Assembly as a group of students from Wisconsin State College at River Falls, "S. D."

A chuckle arose from the crowd as the members of the Assembly applauded in welcome by slapping their hands on their desks.

Other Highlights of Winnipeg

After the visit to the Legislative Assembly, the River Falls students were given a few hours' of free time, which they spent in a variety of ways.

Many went shopping in downtown Winnipeg, which is Canada's fourth largest metropolis, some went to movies, others hired a cab and toured parts of the city. Two men from the College, Dave Zerahn and Dave Bultman, spent the afternoon in a Turkish bath. (No pictures available!)

Many of the students remarked on the friendliness of the people of Winnipeg, and were quite favorably impressed with the city.

In the evening of the same day, after the contest at the Auditorium, the group was given the use of the Crystal Ballroom at the Royal Alexandra Hotel where they were guests Wednesday and Thursday nights. Music was provided by River Falls musicians, and such dances and the twist and the continental, which have most likely never been done in this ballroom before, were "exercised."

Other Points of Interest

The first night of the tour was spent in Fargo, N. D. Tuesday morning before leaving for Finley, N. D., a bus tour of parts of Fargo-Moorhead was taken, including the campuses of Concordia College, North Dakota State Teachers' College and North Dakota State University.

After an evening concert given at Mayville State Teachers' College at Mayville, N. D., the River Falls students were guests at a dance in the Social Room of the college. As the Mayville band was short on saxophone players, Dave Zerahn lent a helping hand in this capacity.

On the return trip, which began Friday morning, Dr. Abbott surprised his Kennedy, Minn. audience, as well as members of the band, choir and brass ensemble, with a very entertaining piano rendition of his variations on "You Are My Sunshine." Some of the variations included waltz style, music box style, classical, rhumba style, 1890's style, and, as he announced, "as my band would play it!"

After having performed in Vernadale, Minn.; Finley, Mayville, Minto and Neche, N. D.; Winnipeg, Manitoba; and finally, Kennedy, Minn., an exhausted group boarded the busses and headed for home.

All was quiet except for an occasional chorus of "Show Me the Way to Go Home" or a peal of laughter from some unidentified source.

At midnight, Friday, the tired musicians arrived back in River Falls with a total of almost 1200 miles behind them, and headed Dr. Abbott, chairman of the music department, was well satisfied for their respective homes. fied with the trip.

"A tour of such magnitude," he said, "can be successful only in terms of the behavior of the students involved. I will be eternally grateful to them for their responsibility.

"In all sincerity," he concluded, "it is the most wonderful group I ever had the pleasure of working with on tour."

Former Falcon Cager Heads List of Badger Coaches

By Ron Zirbel

The State High School basketball tournament has been of much interest on the local scene within the past few weeks. One of the items that are note worthy but has been overlooked to some extent is the record of one of the coaches at the State Tournament. This coach is Harry Gibbs of the Eau Claire Old Abes. He has been with Eau Claire since 1955 and was appointed head coach of the Eau Claire team in 1956. Harry has led the Old Abes to the state meets in 1958, 1950 and 1961 as well as this year. This is a record in that he has participated in the state meet in four of his six years as head coach. His state meet record is 4 and 7. The Old Abes lost out in the final game of the tournament to the No. 1 rated team Milwaukee Lincoln. They won the Big River Conference championship with a 16-2 record and won the Cadott Sub Regional, the Stanley Regional and the Eau Claire Sectional on the way to the state tournament. The overall record for 1961-62 season was 23-3.

Gibbs is a product of Madison East High School and was lured from the University of Wisconsin to play at Wisconsin State College at River Falls. This was a great asset to the River Falls fans as in the four years (1946-50) that the Gibber was here, he and his teammates, Nate De Long, Newman Benson, Wallace Lindholm and Charley Most gave River Falls the Wisconsin State Conference title four years in a row and representation at the NAIB tournament three times.

The 1946-47 season saw River Falls win the Northern Division Championship for the first time since the 1935-36 season. The Falcons went on to win the State title by winning over Oshkosh, winner of the Southern Division.

The Falcons lost in the first game of the NAIB meets to Marshall College of Huntington, West Virginia, who went on to be the NAIB champs.

The 1947-48 season saw the Falcons again taking the Northern Division title. In their bid to go to the NAIB meets the Falcons lost to a speedy Beloit quint.

The 1948-49 season was Gibb's best season as he scored 253 points in 27 games for a fine 9.4 average. The Falcons again won the Wisconsin State College conference title. In their bid for the NAIB meets lost out to Beloit for the second straight year. The Falcons received a last minute invitation to play in the NAIB tournament and lost out in the first game to Iowa State Teachers 65-64 in a hard fought contest.

The 1949-50 season drew to a close the college basketball career of Harry Gibbs, along with other greats such as, Newman Benson, Charles Most, Eugene Deiss, Wallace Lindholm, and Nate De Long. These players were nicknamed the "Our Famous Falcons" for their many evenings of entertainment over the past four years and the fame they have brought to River Falls.

The 1949-50 basketball Falcons swept to an unprecedented fourth consecutive Wisconsin Teachers College Conference championship and their first undefeated conference record. River Falls played in the NAIB tournament at Kansas City and won their first game over a tournament favorite, Eastern Illinois, 80-68, but lost in the second game to East Central Oklahoma 75-64.

Harry Gibbs lettered four years at River Falls and scored 842 points in 108 games for an 8.25 average. Some quotes from the Student Voice about Gibbs are as follows. In the March 3, 1947 issue—Harry Gibbs, hailing from Madison is the long shot artist of the team and has been outstanding in the breaking up of the opponents defense with his almost uncanny ability to hit from the center of the floor. From he November 21, 1949 issue—Harry Gibbs and Itch Lindholm handle the guard posts. Harry is one of the best left-hand long shot artists in the game. From the January 16, 1950 issue—Harry's ability to sink them from the middle is a great asset to the team no only in points, bu because it brings out the defense enough to the middle is wide open for De Long. Defensively, the Gibber always draws the job of holding down the opponent's hot shot, who never manages to be quite so hot on that particular night.

The River Falls basketball fans of today, can be just as proud of Harry Gibbs in his achievements as the fans of yesteryear were of his playing ability. Nothing can be taken away from the other members of the "Our Famous Falcons" as they too have all been successful in their respective jobs but the Gibber has achieved his success in the field he must have loved most and was the best in. That can only be summed up in one word - basketball.

Two Falcons Mentioned; All-College Team Announced

The second annual Collegiate All-State basketball team, selected by the sports editors of the state's college newspapers, was announced last week by the sponsoring St. Norbert TIMES.

Players from Wisconsin's 19 small colleges were eligible for the team and the first five by position were Dean Austin, Oshkosh State, and J. P. Fisher, Whitewater, at forwards; Fred Seggelink, Stout, center; and John Bell, Lakeland, and Mike Wisneski, St. Norbert, at guards.

Second team selections were Jack Povaser, Northland, and Bob Blizzard, Eau Claire, forwards; Howie Fuller, Carroll, and Bill use, Stevens Point, guards; and Dean Sandifer, Lakeland, center.

Named to the honorable mention team were: Stu Jensen, Dave Heisig, and LeRoy Weyenberg, St. Norbert; Joel Ungrodt and Jim Jordan, Lawrence; Dick Papke, Ripon; Bob Loewe, Eau Claire; Gary Simonson, Stout; Joe Steffen, Whitewater; Ed Markunas, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee; Gerald Hickman, Platteville; John Bonk, Art Nelson, and Gene Evans, Superior.

Frank Hunter, Northland; Sam Forrest, Lakeland; Jim Jaeger, Oshkosh; Dick Ritzenthaler and Bucky Wickman, Stevens Point; Irlie Grant, Carroll; DON KOEPNICK AND GARY SCHARFENBERG, River Falls; Pete Franzman and Eugene Kock, Northwestern; and Roger Fondrick, Milton.

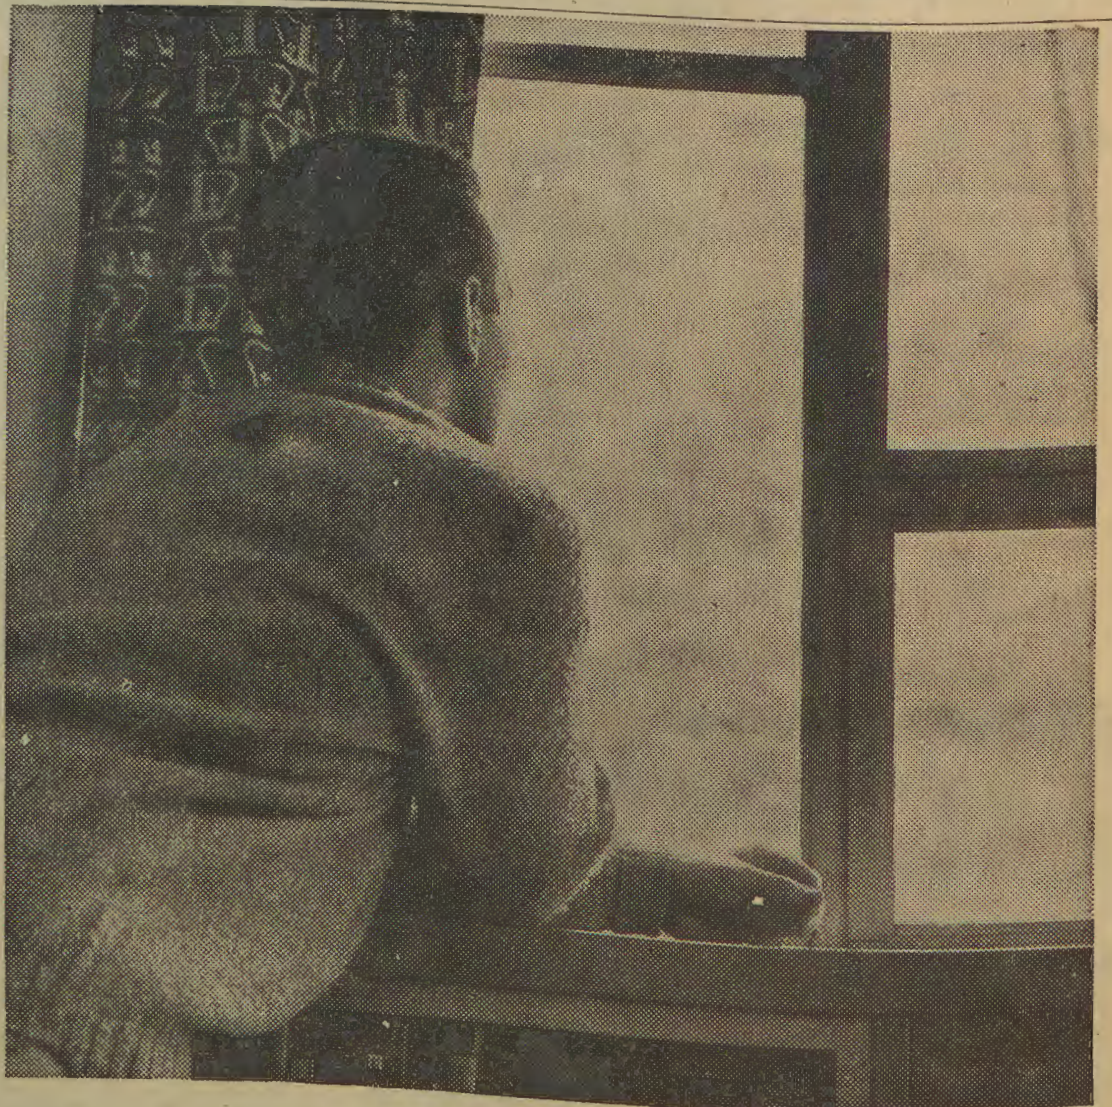

Players on the first and second teams will be sent certificates from the St. Norbert TIMES to be awarded to them through their individual college newspapers.

GREYHOUND

Tapping The Sports Line

By Dave Henderson

Although it may not be too apparent, judging by the snow on the ground and the unseasonably low temperatures, spring is here. With the coming of spring and its warm temperatures, athletes throughout the country begin bringing out the gloves, spikes, rackets, and other equipment, that typifies the soon-to-be spring sports.

The just completed winter season held many ups and downs for west-central Wisconsin teams, coaches, and athletics. A few high points this writer feels worth noting are as follows:

Hudson's Linehan brothers made good in basketball. Older brother Don broke in the starting lineup at the University of Minnesota, while younger brother Dave led Hudson to an outstanding season, and was named to the all-conference, all-northwest, and all-state teams.

Falcon basketball took an upturn this year by posting the best conference for a River Falls team in years.

Eau Claire just fell short of the state championship in basketball losing to Milwaukee Lincoln in the final game. With the Old Abes fine showing former Falcon cager, Harry Gibbs, now head coach at Eau Claire, became one of the most successful high school coaches in the state.

For the second time in three years the River Falls wrestling team coached by Byron James won the conference championship. Individual Falcon champs were Pat Mrotek and Dick Culver.

Athletic director and head football and track coach, Fran Polsoff signed a contract with the St. Louis (football) Cardinals as assistant coach.

The newly inaugurated Falcon swimming team won their first meet this year and is looking forward to a much more successful season next year with a fine nucleus returning.

River Falls failed to place anyone on the all-state college team, however junior Don Koepnick and senior Gary Scharfenberg gained honorable mention posts.

A record turnout for the winter intramural sports program led to a highly successful quarter. Hats off to director Ben Bergsrud for a fine job!

Finley Wins Chess Tourney

Results of the 1962 River Falls State College Championship Chess Tournament:

	Won	Lost
Champion
1st—William C. Finley	4	1
	Won	Lost
2nd—Roger Vanous	3	1
3rd—Larry Warhol	3	1
4th—Ronald Berg	2	2
5th—Earl Burton	2	2

The 1961 champion, Earl Burton, was ousted by Bill Finley. Berg and Burton tied for 4th place.

Sometime within the next month, the new champion, Bill Finley, will stage a simultaneous exhibit of chess with as many players as possible.

There will be a chess club business meeting next Wednesday, April 4 to elect officers for next year. All are urged to attend.

Winter I M Action Ends

Winter quarter I-M's started with basketball play-offs for the purpose of dividing the teams into leagues, the "R" and "F" league. The "R" league consisted of a group of teams whose members were generally great players; some of which should have definitely given a try at varsity ball but felt for some reason their chances of obtaining a uniform were just about nil; the main reason not being playing ability. The "F" league held the teams that didn't win enough of the initial play-offs to place in the "R" league.

But, "on the court" play-offs, weren't enough to end the I-M basketball season. Due to some unnecessary error in the keeping of the score in the final tournament game it took some "off the court" play-offs to determine who were the champions of River Falls. I-M basketball for 1961-62.

The last issue of the Student Voice pictured the respected champs who called themselves the "Untouchables". The "Untouchables" were declared victors when a "back-court" foul levied against the opposing "Saddelites" was brought to notice at a meeting held after the game, which ended in a confusing tie.

The league play placed the teams in the following positions:

"R" League
Squirrels	9-0
Saddelites	8-1
Untouchables	6-3
S. O. T. P.	6-3
Jumpers	5-4
Rizzo's Raiders	3-6
Floor Burns	2-7
Atomic Passions	1-8
Toe Jam Tim	1-8
"F" League
Lumber Pilers	7-1
Doynne's Boys	7-1
Church Keys	7-1
Eagles	7-2
Court Jesters	6-3
Clear Lake Clods	5-3
Muteneers	3-5
Prucha Three	3-5
Outlaws	3-6
P-Sers	2-6
Jokers	2-7
Elmers Boys	1-7
Dirty Half-Dozen	1-7

Volleyball

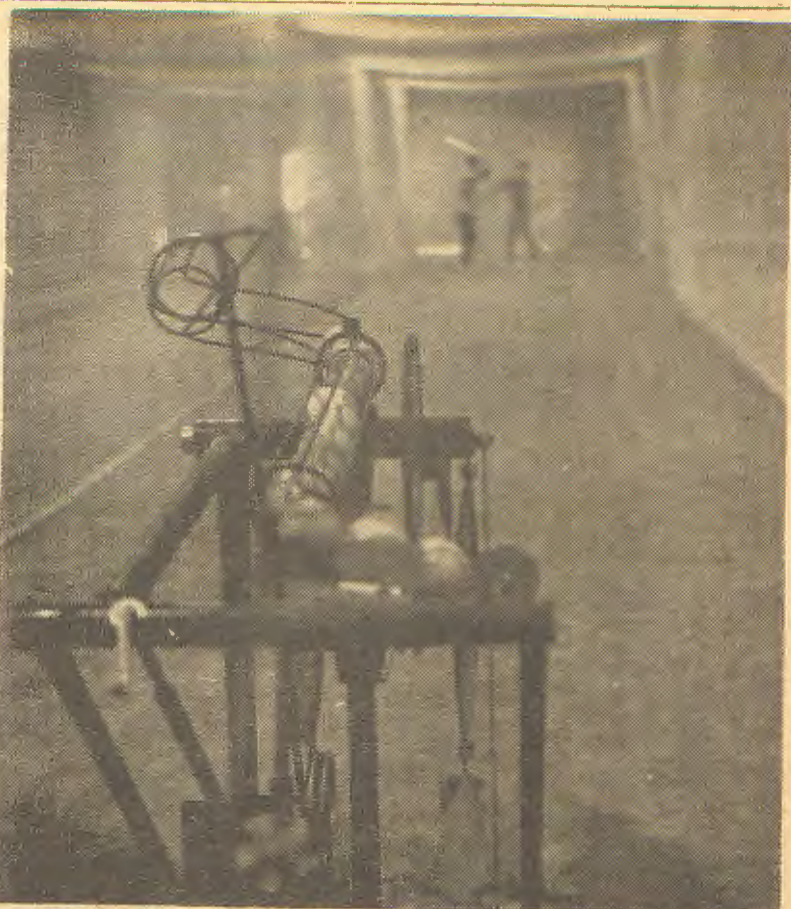

by Ed Churchill

This week saw the Joker's defeat all but one team on their way to the Intramural Volleyball Championship. They accumulated five wins and one loss. The first game they won by forfeit, the second they walked off with a score of 15-6, the third they lost to the Zabrowski's squad in overtime 10-8, the fourth through the sixth by scores of 18-9, 23-3 and 18-7.

The squad members, Galen Pittman, Dick Pariseau, Dave Emerson, Jim Van Camp, Larry Olson, Charles Moore and Vern Wanish felt that, although Zabrowski's squad won, the "Camelots" were the toughest team that they played.

The final standings were:

Jokers	5-1
Zabrowski	4-2
Aces	4-2
Camelots	3-3
Fukowee Terbe	3-3
PMOS	0-6
Nelsons	2-4

IRON MIKE, the automatic pitching machine employed by the baseball team is symbolic of the nearness of spring. Both baseball and track teams have been working out in doors for two weeks in preparation for the on-coming seasons.

Kegler's Korner

by Ron Zirbel

With the final results turned in this past week, the Falcon Keglers find themselves in a not too well situated spot. This is sixth place in the standings. In the last nine games they lost all but three and made the final tumble. Against Michigan Tech the Falcons rolled their second high series only to lose 2 points. Against Ripon College they lost two games by four pins and 3 pins. Against Oshkosh State the Falcons were close but just not close enough. This is one of the objectives of postal competition in that if the bowlers were facing each other and realized the closeness of a match there would be more incentive to try just a little harder.

Next week I'll have the results from the conference roll-offs which were held at Stevens Point this last week-end. The four teams competing are Whitewater, Oshkosh, Ripon and Michigan Tech. The winner of this roll-off will represent the Mid-States Conference, Western Division in the NIBA roll-offs at the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colorado, on April 14, 1962.

Alley Cats Continue

In the intramural bowling tournament the Alley Cats moved into the Championship match by winning over the Gutter Dusters 1563 to 1476. Al Leibziet paced the Alley Cats with games of 206 and 191 for a 397 series. Wednesday night will find the Alley Cats rolling against the Scraggs to decide the Regular league championship.

Morehead Patterson Award

The Second Annual Morehead Patterson Award Presentation will be made to the All Events winner of the National Inter-collegiate Bowling Tournament at a luncheon sponsored by AMF in the Grand Ballroom of the Fort Des Moines Hotel, Des Moines, Iowa, April 9, 1962.

The award, inaugurated last year, is a modern, classic, Grecian sculpture done by the widely known New York sculptor, William King. The trophy, which is mounted on a rosewood base, is five feet high. It will be sent to the school of the All Events winner where it will reside for one year. At the end of the year it will be given to the school of the new winner. In addition, the All Events titleholder receives a smaller trophy for his own.

The Morehead Patterson Award was first made to Mike Flanagan who was a junior at the University of Washington last year.

The trophy is named for Morehead Patterson, board chairman of American Machine & Foundry Company which cooperates with the ABC and the Association of College Unions in sponsoring the tourney.

While the competition in the seven previous tournaments has been keen, it is anticipated that this year's winner will face the most difficult opposition yet encountered. Among the reasons are the number of entries in the regional face-to-face competitions. A total of more than 10,000 students from 146 different campuses entered. Fierce duels narrowed the field, until now there are 50 students from 10 regions entered.

On April 8 and 9 the 50 finalists will meet in three separate competitions—singles, doubles and team. Unlike last year, this year teams will be made up of five-man squads. The All Events winner will be determined by his total scoring in the events.

All of the finalists will, for having made the finals, be presented with AMF bowling equipment at the AMF luncheon.

Dr. Lankford's Study of Protestant Giving Read to Historians, Reviewed by Magazine

by Paul Arneson

"Twentieth Century Protestant Giving: Theology versus Practice" is the title of a recently completed three year study by Dr. John E. Lankford, instructor in history at River Falls.

This paper was read to the 76th annual meeting of the American Historical Association by Dr. Lankford in December and reviews have appeared in several periodicals including the current (March) issue of the "Episcopalian."

This "economic test of Christian faith" emerged from Dr. Lankford's studies of methods used to elicit giving as compared to the actual giving patterns of six major Protestant denominations in the 20th century.

Measured by their own standards these major denominations have never in the present century lived up to the goals they set for benevolent contributions, according to Dr. Lankford. Members of these churches consistently refuse to contribute to the benevolent and missionary work of the denominations sums even approximating the amounts given for the non-benevolent local needs, he said.

On the basis of this study Dr.

Lankford concludes that "if we accept the idea put forward by many of the church executives that giving for the missionary and benevolent work of the denominations is the truest indication of deep Christian faith and belief, the historian is forced to conclude that American Protestants have not really been deeply committed to or influenced by their religion."

Dr. Lankford received his A. B. from Oberlin College and his M.S. and Ph. D. from the University of Wisconsin. During the summers of 1956 and 1957 he served as research assistant to Cong. Richard Bolling of Missouri.

Since the fall of 1961 Dr. Lankford has been on the staff at Wisconsin State College, River Falls. At the present time in addition to his staff duties he is preparing the manuscript of a book "Congress and the Foundations," which he hopes to have published this coming summer.

River Falls Young Dems Gain State Recognition

The River Falls Young Democrats, attending the state convention on March 23, 24 and 25, not only gained the distinction of being the most active club in the state, but had elected to state office four students and two alumni.

The Young Dems of Wisconsin meet annually to revise their constitution, platform, and to elect state officers. This year's convention, which was represented by nearly 50 clubs, was held in the Hotel Eau Claire, in Eau Claire.

The session was opened on Friday night, March 23, by the Attorney General of Wisconsin, John Reynolds. Saturday morning and afternoon saw reports of the various committees. The purpose of the committees is to adopt new resolutions, or to revise old ones to be added to the constitution and the platform, and to approve the standing of the delegates from the various clubs. Voting on the proposed measures took place immediately after each report.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson, of Wisconsin, was the headlined speaker at the convention banquet held on Saturday night. Gov. Nelson spoke briefly on the problems the state administration is presently confronted with. He denied the rumor that he is going to run for the office of Senator.

Elected to state posts were: Bob Agranoff, administrative representative, Frank Urbanz, state treasurer, Russ Spence, northern liaison officer, and Alex Romanowski, ninth district vice chairman.

Larry Gansluckner, and Lyle Hofacker, both alumni of River Falls, were elected to the posts of State Chairman and executive Vice-chairman.

American Studies Major Approved For River Falls

A new major in American studies for River Falls State College was approved at the last meeting of the Board of Regents and will be offered next fall.

Dr. Walker Wyman, a leader in preparing the new program, has explained that the major does not involve new courses but is simply a new combination of existing courses. An interdepartmental committee will administer the program.

An 81-hour broad-area major and a 33-hour minor for elementary education majors will be offered.

The broad-area major will include basic requirements in American history, literature, music, art and drama and seminars in American studies. Also required will be courses stressing foreign areas of study in literature, speech, art and foreign languages.

More information about the new major can be obtained by contacting Dr. Wyman.

Rood Home Tour Will Leave Here Tomorrow at 4

A trip is being planned to visit the home of John Rood, the bronze falcon sculptor. Tentative plans for Tuesday, April 3, are to leave River Falls at approximately 4 p.m. and to return about midnight.

The group must be limited to 25 persons. However, some vacancies are still available.

Anyone interested in making the trip may receive confirmation by contacting Bob Richardson, 229 Stratton Hall, as soon as possible.

of four men who owned and operated an art gallery. Another owner happened to be James Crane, also a member of the River Falls art department, who is presently on leave of absence.

After receiving his master's degree, he supervised the elementary art education in the Jackson, Mich. school system and student teachers from Michigan State University.

It was through his acquaintance with Mr. Crane at St. Cloud that he first became interested in River Falls.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nottingham and their two daughters, Karron and Kristen, find River Falls interesting and stimulating.

"I find the students to be very sincere, unsophisticated, and enjoyable," said Mr. Nottingham.

However, he still misses the primitive of the Pacific Northwest—specifically Seattle, his hometown.

His family, who resides there, is quite active with water recreation. His father, a retired engineer, is involved in this field for the forthcoming World's Fair. He is also commander of Seattle's Sandy Point Yacht Club. During the summer months, the family yacht is used for excursions to Alaska or Hawaii.

Nottingham Relates Past, Finds Students 'Enjoyable'

by Sandy Appleby

The new member of the art department, Walter Nottingham, is one man with an interesting background and a promising future.

His background includes traveling and studying in Europe, while serving with the State Department's Security Service, living in New York, and owning a supper club near Brainerd, Minn.

His European home was in Barvaria, which is located in the Alps of southern Germany. Here he and his wife, whom he had met when stationed in Minneapolis spent their leisure time skiing and skating. During his working hours Mr. Nottingham taught basic German and American personnel and indoctrination courses to German nationals, while Mrs. Nottingham worked as a secretary to an Air Force base commander.

When stationed in the states, they lived in San Antonio, Texas and Columbus, Ohio and at one time Mr. Nottingham served as coordinator for military personnel attending Minot State Teachers College in Minot, N. D.

After leaving the service, they lived in New York City before moving to Minnesota where Mr. Nottingham became the owner of a supper club that was located a few miles from Brainerd.

Later he started school in St. Cloud and sold his supper club. He worked part time as a bartender and also as a member of St. Cloud's recreation department.

Upon receiving his bachelor's degree, he accepted the position as assistant instructor while working towards his masters degree at St. Cloud.

While at St. Cloud, he was one
