TEAM IS PRIMED FOR ST. THOMAS

CERTIFICATION OF HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS

CONSIDERED

A meeting of representatives of the various educational interests of the state was held in Madison on Saturday, September 23, at the office of Dr. Hinmon, Head of the Department of Education of the University of Wisconsin. The committee is composed of the State Superintendent's Department, the Principals' Association and the Normal School Presidents.

The work of the committee looks towards legislation advancing requirements for high school teachers. Two forms of certificates are proposed, a permanent certificate to graduates of Four Year Courses in colleges and normal schools, a temporary certificate good for a period of four years granted to graduates of Three Year Courses in normal schools. This temporary certificate may become a permanent certificate after the completion of one year of advanced study at a normal school or at a college or university.

The Normal Schools are now supplying over 40% of the high school teachers of the state. In view of this fact it appears to be a wise policy to put the normal schools in such a way that they may more adequately prepare teachers for this line of work.

President Ames of the River Falls Normal School attended the committee meeting as representing the Normal School Presidents' Association.

THE CHURCH RECEPTIONS

From all reports, the receptions given last Friday evening by the churches of this city for the students of their denominations, proved to be an evening well spent by all who attended.

At about eight o'clock, groups began to gather at the various churches, for the fun, programs, and "eats" which were to follow. Approximately one hundred students were in attendance at the Methodist and Lutheran meetings, and 50 or more at those held at the Catholic, Congregational and Baptist churches.

Fight and Quality Showing Up

It is easy to notice the improvement made in the football squad this week. The men are rapidly rounding into form, and they improve as the number of sand burrs are lessened. If one was to be present in the dressing room after a scrimmage, he would appreciate the efforts these men are making in behalf of the school.

It is not safe to pick berths for the different men at this time. From the fight exhibited by candidates for the positions, it looks as if it will not be wise for any one to let up in their efforts one bit. The coaches are non-committal on the subject of places so far.

Clanton arrived last week after the "Voice" had gone to press. "Tarzan" immediately fell into the old fighting mood. There are lively times ahead for someone. Ziebell and Riencke are working well together, and with Gurnoe and Gerretson, make a real live backfield.

The line will measure up to, and possibly beyond, any line the football teams River Falls has ever had. We can rest assured that they will be there with the old stone-wall this season.

Saturday, September 30, the team will play the St. Thomas Cadets on their own field. Coach Brandy's men have played one game this season; it was with the Fort Snelling team, last Saturday. St. Thomas cleaned up, 19-0. With the experience of one game in their favor, St. Thomas will give a royal battle, and should prove a good try out for the Red and White.

The schedule for the coming season follows:

September 30, St. Thomas, there.
October 7, Dunwoody, here.
October 13, Eau Claire, here.
October 21, Stout, there.
October 28, Junior and Senior game.
November 3, La Crosse, here.
November 11, Superior, there.
November 18, Oshkosh, here.

The last number marks our big homecoming. Let every man and woman of you be on hand to show the alumni the type of school we are developing here. They expect to see improvements; they shall not be disappointed.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR RETURNS ON

OUT-OF-TOWN GAMES

A score board will be run at Kulstad's clothing store, giving the dope on games played away from home this season.

Score standings for halves and quarters will be given as well as the important points and incidents of the game as it progresses. Fans and supporters who cannot go to St. Thomas College at St. Paul next Saturday, may receive enlightenment from this bulletin board.

Often in past years, have we at home, hung around for reports, hoping, guessing, telling, and some even knowing what was to come over the wire from the team miles away. Now we shall have accurate and authentic reports to talk over. No more guessing for River Falls.

MATINEE DANCE

Naomi Gibson, Carl Bradford, and Frank Albee furnished the music for the all-school "mat" dance last Friday. A large crowd danced from 4 o'clock till 5:30. It is a very good way to get acquainted because it is not considered a "couple" affair and many students go who would not do so to an evening party without a partner.

As soon as the various classes have their elections, the new social committees will plan more good times. Watch the bulletin board for announcements.

WORK, OUR KEY

For all of us, new work is about to be taken up. In order to succeed we must be sincere, serious, and harmonious in every action we undertake. An aim or goal to strive for is necessary. Labor, good sincere labor on the part of each individual, is the key to success. After all it is character and personality which count in work of this kind.

"It matters not how straight the gait,
How marred with punishment the scroll.

I am the master of my fate
I am the captain of my soul."

YOUR OPINIONS AND TRUTHS

The "Student Voice" staff wishes to have it plainly understood that it is not a select few who would keep the opportunity of publically expressing personal standpoints on important current topics entirely to themselves. This sheet must be run by the school if it is to be a school paper. In order that this be carried out, student's opinions must have space in its columns.

Last year a news box was nailed to the staircase to the right of South Hall entrance. After becoming used to this receptacle, a number of students contributed quite regularly their ideas on any subject in which they had become interested.

Here is our proposition to each student in school: We want your opinions and ideas on any important question that offers a chance for writing. If you have a truth, or truths, to give to our group of readers, we shall endeavor to publish it, providing the printer's code of laws permits us to do so.

No paper should be more willing or better able to print the truth than that of an educational institution such as this. We are, generally speaking, a group of teachers in the making. There is every real reason in the world why such a group should know, and learn to give others, the great fundamental truths underlying our social problems.

You will not regret a little action in this direction. We urge any student who has an element of sincerity about him to try his hand at this opportunity. It will make an enjoyable experience for anyone.

JUST A WORD OR TWO

Everyone does admire a man who has succeeded in making the football team, and winning his letter. After the season is over and the letters are awarded, it brings up a little feeling of: "Wish I had gone out; that letter might have been mine."

The winning of the letter shows that the wearer has made sacrifices, suffered injuries and denied himself many pleasures. But after all is over, isn't it worth while? As one looks over the group of men out to make the team, he is struck by the fine physique of some of the fellows. Then too, one is struck by the contrast shown by some other fellows out of places. Lacking in weight and height, they are there to give their best, taking the bumps as they come, and getting along on their nerve. Those are the fellows one can admire without feeling that they are getting by on their build.

Then if you have followed the squad for a time, noted the new arrivals, and thought of the quality of the material, you may notice a well built fellow with plenty of weight, come out, draw a suit, and go forth to play. A day or so he takes an interest in the work; then turns in his suit, quits the game, and perhaps the school.

It is queer, when one pauses to consider, that a fellow so gifted lacks just one small thing to make a real man and put things over. "The more such men come into my life, the more do I admire the race horse with its determination to be ahead." After years of telling what would happen when he should be given a chance to get on the team, one round of practice, and already the nerve has vanished just because of the absence of the real heart. Just of such material are slackers made. Much as one detests the name "yellow," it may aptly describe the type.

Hats off to the fellow, who, though lacking in physical powers, has the nerve to try, and sticks.

WRITERS TAKE NOTICE

Before dropping an article or manuscript of any sort into the "Student Voice" box in South Hall corridor, be sure to sign your name to it. We wish to cite people for staff positions. They who like this work should attempt a demonstration of their skill.

Better begin at the bottom and work up than to begin at the top and have your foot slip.

AGRIFALLIAN

The first meeting of the Agrifallian Society was held last Thursday evening. The meeting took the form of an intermittently exploding rocket, similiar to the one a prominent scientist planned in an ambition to reach the moon. Some of the loudest explosions were by Pres. O'Brien, Prof. Johnson, Prof. Prucha, Prof. May, "Shorty" Halron, and Ex-president Hildebrand. Everybody watch the progress and result of the "Ag Rocket."

The business part of the meeting consisted of electing the following officers for the ensuing semester:— President, R. L. Liebenberg; Vice-President, Harvey Gilboe; Secretary, Harvey Wanish; Treasurer, Armund Bauer; Sergeant at Arms, Merrill Halron.

Mr. Liebenberg, the last of the speakers pledged to support the interests of the Agrifallian Society.

AURELIA

All girls who wish to become members of the Aurelia Literary Society please hand their names to Miss Robinson as soon as possible.

"AG" NEWS

The Normal School Farm exhibited nine animals at the Pierce County Fair; six Holstein and three Guernseys. The Holsteins all received firsts with two Grand Championships to boot; Grand Champion Bull and Cow. The Guernseys did not fare as well, but acquired a first and a second. The school farm made the best showing of any exhibitor.

The men in the "Ag" faculty are being called upon for considerable extension work this year:

Mr. Prucha and Mr. May judged the boys' and girls' exhibits at the Pierce County Fair last week.

Mr. Johnson and County Agent Seyforth will judge at the Hudson Fair this week.

Mr. May will judge at the Community Fair at Bloomer on September 29, and at the Frederic Community Fair, October 7.

Mr. Prucha and Mr. Hunt will assist County Agent Seyforth in culling demonstrations during the month.

The efforts of the Normal School Agricultural Department to enter a judging team at the National Dairy Show were not approved by the Universities. Evidently they are afraid of their little brothers.

Mr. Johnson observed the Ames University stock judging team at work this summer. He says that "Doc" O'Brien, Hildebrand, Clafflin and Bauer would make a combination that would give them a race for the money.

The "Ag" Department of the Normal School has been reorganized this year. Mr. Prucha specializes in Agronomy and Bacteriology, Mr. Johnson in Animal Husbandry, Mr. Anderson in Agricultural Economics, and Mr. May in Agricultural Education and Farm Management.

The "Ag Profs." evidently do not want any of the students to get ahead of them. Professors Johnson, Prucha and Spriggs attended the Ames University this summer.

Arthur Gordon, '22, was here from Menomonie over the week-end. He has an excellent position with the Dunn county Agricultural School in connection with the Smith-Hughes work.

THURSDAY'S ASSEMBLY

Last Thursday was organization day at assembly. The different clubs and societies were presented most ably by their representatives. The three christian organizations were introduced to the students at the Mixer party, so they were not repeated. The order of the program was as follows:

- Girls' Glee Club, Virginia Hoerer.
- Mens' Glee Club, Winfred Bird.
- Camera Club, Alice Mackin.
- Aurelia Literary Society, M. Carroll.
- Agrifallian, George O'Brien.
- Orchestra, Pauline Norseng.
- Rural Life Club, Marvel Pearson.
- Civic Club, Gordon Boardman.
- G. O. P., Vidle Tubbs.
- Lincolnian, John Gerretson.
- Girls' Athletic Ass'n., Violo White.

School Notes

Dan O'Brien, '22, has left for the "U" of Wisconsin.

Rosa Neevel spent the week-end at her home in Baldwin.

Arthur Gordon of Menomonie visited in the city Sunday.

Louie Sabotta registered Monday. Hurry up Independence.

Virginia Hoesser spent the week-end at her home in Durand.

Joyce Reed of St. Paul visited her sister, Lenore, the first of last week.

Bernice Schwedes and "Much" Haphon spent the week-end at their homes in Plum City.

Glen Morgan is attending school; he is the class advisor, president, secretary and treasurer.

Peg Brown, '22, spent Sunday at her home in River Falls. "Peg" is teaching in Somerset.

Miss Wirt held an interesting session Sunday night. 'Twas a shame more people weren't present.

Allen McAndrew has a stiff neck—from turning around so much to look at the pretty girls, 'tis said.

A number of fellows from school spent Saturday on farms in the vicinity of town helping fill silos.

Louis Schommer has attained a position of dignity at last. He is the basketball coach in the Junior High.

Ann Vangen, who teaches in Plum City, spent Saturday and Sunday in River Falls, visiting her sister who is attending Normal School.

Margaret Follansbee and Marie Moynihan, '22, who are teaching at Lynd, Minnesota, spent the week-end at their homes in River Falls.

Frank Allbee made R. F. N. a short social call Friday. By the way, Frank is a traveling representative of a stocking manufacturing company.

Ethel Thomas, member of the class of '23, left Friday for Glendale, California, where she will make her home. She will attend the Teachers College at Los Angeles.

The G.A.A. society held an informal mixer in the Girls' Gym Monday afternoon for the benefit of the new girls of the school who are interested in girls' athletics. A group of girls presented pantomimes of "life in the gym and dressing rooms and the annual G.A.A. camping trip." After this program the girls were treated to a dancing party. The G.A.A.'s are good entertainers as well as sports-women.
