Dr. O. Meredith Wilson to Speak At Dedication Ceremonies Friday

Two and one-half years of continuous building construction at Wisconsin State College at River Falls will be commemorated at 10 a.m. Friday when three new campus buildings will be dedicated.

Buildings to be dedicated are the H. T. Hagestad Student Center, the R. A. Karges Physical Education and Recreation Center and Frucha Residence Hall.

Wilson

Dr. O. Meredith Wilson, new president of the University of Minnesota, will be the principal speaker at the ceremonies in the main gymnasium of the Physical Education and Recreation Center.

Other speakers on the program will be William D. McIntyre of Eau Claire, president of the Board of Regents of the Wisconsin State Colleges; Eugene R. McPhee of Madison, director of the State Colleges; and Lt. Gov. Philleo Nash.

The College will become the center of educational activities of the State College system Thursday when the presidents of the nine colleges and members of the Board of Regents hold their meetings in conjunction with the dedication ceremonies.

The presidents will meet Thursday morning. For two of them, Dr. Rexford S. Mitchell of LaCrosse and Dr. Jim Dan Hill of Superior, the event will be a homecoming, since they are former River Falls faculty members.

Thursday afternoon will be the meeting of the Board of Regents. The Regents will approve a budget for the State Colleges to be submitted to the Co-ordinating Committee for Higher Education.

The presidents, regents and members of the Board of Directors of the River Falls State College Foundation will be guests of the faculty Thursday evening at a dinner in the Student Center.

Dr. Wilson, the dedication speaker, came to Minnesota from the University of Oregon, where he served as president from 1954 to 1960. Trained as an historian, he had previously taught at Brigham Young University, the University of Utah and the University of Chicago.

'Squash Oshkosh' Slogan Of Homecoming Activities

"Squash Oshkosh" will be the slogan for River Falls Homecoming activities the week of October 3-8 which will feature a concert by the Woody Herman band, the traditional parade, skits, a dance to the music of Bobby Shannon, and the biggest football game of the year.

The winning slogan submitted in the contest was originated by Fred Colman, senior from Cumberland. Homecoming chairmen stated that three "Squash Oshkosh" slogans were submitted, and that judges were forced to draw for the winner.

Deadline for entering queen candidates for Homecoming is Monday, Sept. 26. The Homecoming kick-off convocation will be at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Sept. 29, in North Hall Auditorium. At this time all queen candidates will be introduced before the student body. The deadline for entering the float and window and lawn decorating contests is at 4 p.m. on Sept. 29.

Highlights of the Homecoming week will include two famous dance bands of the Northwest. Woody Herman will give a concert in North Hall Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 4, and on Saturday, Oct. 8, the Bobby Shannon orchestra will provide the music for the Homecoming dance.

Other activities include a candle-light supper and pep fest on Friday evening and the big parade on Saturday morning.

RF Freshman Dies in Wreck

Dennis Wollan, 18, freshman from River Falls, was one of five area teenagers killed in an automobile accident near Spring Valley last Friday evening. Another passenger of the car survived the crash with serious injuries.

The youths were returning from a high school football game in Spring Valley when their car went out of control and struck a bridge about four miles west of Spring Valley on highway 29.

Killed instantly were Lawrence Guise, 17, Thomas Reis, 18, and Wollan. Charles Dopkins, 17 died en route to a Menomonee hospital and Dennis Rhy, 17, driver of the car, died about 2:30 a. m. Saturday in a St. Paul hospital.

Lynn Gelo, 16, the sixth passenger in the car, is in Miller hospital in St. Paul, where he is listed in satisfactory condition.

Robert J. Samp to Lecture On Cancer at Convocation

Dr. Robert J. Samp, M. D., Medical and Scientific Director of the Wisconsin Division of the American Cancer Society, will discuss "Cancer Research" at a convocation in North Hall Auditorium on Thursday, Sept. 22, at 2 p.m.

Dr. Samp, who was key speaker for the 1958 American Cancer Society National Kickoff in Chicago, has delivered cancer information talks to 1200 audiences in 275 cities in 40 states. His objective is to reach and inform part of the 85,000 Americans who die needlessly each year of curable types of cancer. These unnecessary deaths are due to ignorance about cancer, indifference, fear, quacks, or misinformation about the disease.

A native Madisonian, Dr. Samp received his pre-medical and medical training at the University of Wisconsin where he is currently assistant professor in the surgery department at the University Hospital's Tumor Clinic. His professional interests lie in the fields of professional and public cancer information, cancer prevention, cancer quackery, and cancer detection. He is also Medical Education for National Defense Coordinator for the University of Wisconsin Medical School. A veteran of World War II, Dr. Samp served in the U. S. Army as an infantry medic in the European Theater.

The Physical Education and Health departments urge all students, faculty, and area residents who are interested in getting the facts on cancer to attend this meeting.

Shortage of Tenors Hampers Concert Choir

A shortage of men, and especially of tenors is currently the greatest problem in the development of the College concert choir, according to C. B. King, choir director.

Mr. King states that while many excellent voices have been auditioned for the concert choir, there is still a shortage of men, particularly of tenors.

"Since a good balance is an essential to the choir," Mr. King said, "some excellent female voices will have to be cut from the choir unless more tenors are available."

He said that anyone who is interested in singing may contact him in room 319 of South Hall, preferably as soon as possible.

The Editor Speaks . . .

One of the biggest and most enormous steps forward in the ever increasing progress of Wisconsin State College at River Falls will be noted this week as school administrators and scholars from all over the Northwest will converge on our campus for the dedication of three new buildings.

The construction of the Hagestad Student Center, Prucha Hall, and the Karges Phy Ed Center has been the biggest building boom this campus has ever undergone.

When the first class from River Falls State Normal graduated in the late 1870's, the only building on campus was Old South Hall. The present South Hall was built in 1898 after fire destroyed the original.

The campus saw no more construction work until 1914, when North Hall was built. The campus school was added in '27, and the Industrial Arts Building in 1930. The next building was not to come until 1951 when Hathorn Hall opened, although a wing was added to the Industrial Arts Building in 1948.

The Library was completed in '54, the third floor of Hathorn Hall in '57, and Stratton Hall in the fall of '58. The Student Center was first put to use in the fall of 1959.

The completion of these buildings by no means marks the completion of the River Falls campus. The College Farm will be dedicated in the near future, and plans are nearly completed to enable construction of a new campus school to get underway.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WHILE WE'RE AT IT, MISS DOANE, WHY DON'T WE PLAN A SECOND SEMESTER SCHEDULE FOR YOU, ANYWAY? — JUST IN CASE."

Student Senate Minutes

President Ron Skone called the first meeting of the Student Senate to order on Sept. 13, 1960. The secretary's minutes of the last meeting will be read at the Sept. 20 meeting. Treasurer Scotty Smith reports a balance of $466.77 in the Student Senate account.

Harland Carlson and Roger Christy presented the tentative schedule of events for Homecoming. The planned budget for this event is $1000 - $1200, prizes and orchestra fees included.

In accordance with a suggestion from the Homecoming committee, Scotty Smith moved that the Woody Herman band be engaged for Tuesday, Oct. 4. Karl Schmid offered the second; motion carried unanimously.

Karl Schmid moved and Dennis Seefeldt seconded the use of a point system during Homecoming. This plan provides a set of a number of points for each event that an organization enters during Homecoming.

Bob Agranoff spoke about the new Student Activities Office. This office is to be used by school organizations and committees. Scotty Smith will check into the possibility of obtaining a typewriter for his room.

It was suggested that a permanent alternate be appointed to the Student Governing Board. Action on this was tabled.

Bob also called attention to the upcoming Student Union conference to be held in Illinois. Delegates will be chosen soon.

Carol Hanson will be in charge of having a new cape tailored for the Homecoming Queen.

Dennis Seefeldt and Carol Hanson will work on the meeting schedule for campus organizations.

Warren Rogers was appointed chairman of the Student Directory committee.

President Skone read a letter from Bill White, Chief Executive of Eau Claire's Student Government, in which River Falls was asked to join in an October 1 conference on the Eau Claire campus.

Warren Rogers moved that the AWS Board be granted permission to meet in the Senate room this Wednesday. Scotty Smith offered the second; motion carried.

Dennis Seefeldt moved for adjournment. Dawn Bergstrom seconded the motion. The motion was carried; meeting adjourned.

'I'm New Here'

Freshman Impressions

by Wanda Mae Guse

All of a sudden, like angels (?) out of heaven, we are here. Angels never encountered such trials and tribulations. Someone has said "Three's a crowd." I'll bet that person was sneaking around Hathorn Hall.

Of course, Hathorn is nothing compared to the events of "Freshmen Week." Confused? Just ask an upperclassman. Trouble was, he had his own problems. Kidding aside, some of us would have been stranded but for the help of our senior colleagues. Freshmen or seniors, every overheated one of us was still compelled to stand in line. I spent my time asking my overheated neighbors "What's your major?" because that sounded rather collegiate.

After registration was over, I casually dropped in on my classes to listen while my name suffered from the usual various forms of mispronunciation. How does one explain to a professor that it's not one's fault to have been born with a name of a famous nursery rhyme character, in fact, the name of Mother of all nursery rhymes??

Strange faces make some of us less aggressive ones feel very insignificant. The wrong attitude? Maybe, but a feeling of inferiority or fear is said to be the cause of many successful lives. Such as that may be, we are getting to know all these strange faces. We've learned something about the pros — if the "lion roars," don't grab your chair, grab your books. Really, we are looking forward to many interesting classes.

Along with most freshmen, I love the atmosphere of relaxation and friendliness that prevails throughout the campus. We newcomers are working to carry on the friendliness tradition of River Falls. My little fears of being cast aside as just a nobody easily vanished as invitations to take part in social, educational and religious activities were presented.

What happened last week isn't really the issue to us, though. I believe all of us are most concerned about what will happen next week. What is ahead of us? Will we succeed? Perhaps we are much more hopeful than apprehensive as we swing into the second week of classes. I can speak only for myself, but I, for one, am going to love college.

Honors Course to Begin Tuesday

About three years ago interested instructors at Wisconsin State College at River Falls realized that they and the College not only had an obligation to help the students in the lower academic bracket, but also to give special interest and stimulation to the talented student.

The result was the establishment of an "Honors Course" to help meet the challenge of the student who showed unusual ability and intellectual curiosity.

The course is primarily a "reading" course with books selected for reading and discussion on a basis of variety and significance. An attempt is also made to choose books which the student does not normally encounter in some other class he may be taking. Selection is made by students and faculty from suggestions submitted by both groups.

The first meeting of the Honors Course this year will be on Tuesday, September 20, at 7 p. m. The group will meet in the Librarian's Lounge of the Chalmer Davee Library.

Brownowski's "Science and Human Values" will be the first book for discussion this year.

The Honors Course is now in its fourth year on River Falls campus, and during that time more than 50 students and nearly a dozen faculty members have participated.

Students interested in enrolling should contact Miss Moss, Mr. Cooklock, Dr. Storla, or Mr. Wolfe.

Lloyd's Tally Brings 7-0 Win Over Northland

Falcons to Encounter First Conference Foe

Fran Polsfoot's gridmen return to Ramer Field this Saturday night to open their 1960 Wisconsin State College Conference campaign against Superior.

Superior finished third in the conference last season with a 3-1 record. In last year's contest the two teams battled to a 13-13 tie in a game played in the port city.

The Falcons drew first blood in that contest when end Duane Tollefson blocked quarterback Don Ferkovich's fourth down punt late in the first quarter. The ball bounced into the end zone where it was recovered by Ed Olund for a TD. The conversion attempt was missed leaving the score at 6-0.

Moments later a Superior guard, Bill Kogenick, recovered a Falcon fumble on the Falls 24 yard line. On the first play Ferkovich lobbed a screen pass to Bill Smiley, good for 24 yards and a touchdown. Jack Neuer blocked the conversion attempt leaving the score knotted at 6-6.

It wasn't until the middle of the final period that River Falls could set up a substantial drive. Mick Lauber picked up 30 yards on a fake pass. Tom Everson hit Lauber and Neurer on successive passes for a total of 29 yards, before Everson scored on a Lauber aerial. Jim Hallen's conversion ran the score to 13-6.

The Yellowjacket attack bounced right back when John Miller ran Marv Hanson's punt back to the RF 13. Four plays later Ferkovich hit Kuklinski in coffin corner with a seventeen yard pass. Ferkovich's extra point left the score in a 13-13 deadlock.

This season head coach Mertz Mortorelli will be out to improve the Yellowjackets third place showing of last season despite the last of twelve lettermen including all-conference guard Jim Langlois and all-conference fullback Russ Cuskey.

This season Mortorelli will be relying more than ever upon the fine passing arm of quarterback Don Ferkovich. Jim Hugdahl, Wayne Tongue and Mick Sears will probably be on the receiving end of Ferkovich's passes.

Starting at the tackle positions will be co-captains Dick Perri and Clarence Lacina. They will be backed up by Ken Johnson, Tom Nichols, and Don Frye.

Leading the four lettermen at the halfback positions is Melvin Shaffer a terrific blocker and tackler. The other three scheduled to see plenty of action this season are Duane Shutter, Dave Conway and Phil Bohnen.

'R' Club Urges Removal Of High School Letters

Once again the "R" Club, composed of Falcon major letter winners is requesting that high school monograms and numerals not be worn on campus or in town. Letter jackets and sweaters are permissible, provided that all letters and numbers have been taken off.

President Mick Collins said that while the "R" Club realizes that all students enjoy wearing high school letters, it feels that high school days are over and that college life has begun.

Collins said that in some schools lettermen become quite violent in enforcing this rule, often going to the extreme of tearing the monograms off offenders' jackets. But he added that such action should not be necessary here as all freshmen can be expected to cooperate. Collins urged all former high school athletes to go out for some sport here at River Falls and thus compete for something to be really proud of—a college letter.

Falcon Fanfare

by Ed Schlumpf

You can't enjoy the program until you've met the master of ceremonies. So before the main event (conference action) gets under way, we've brought the ringmaster into the Falcon Fanfare limelight for a brief introduction.

We're referring, of course, to the likeable Fran Polsfoot, River Falls' Athletic Director, football coach, and track coach.

The athletic program has come a long way since Fran joined the River Falls coaching ranks in 1954. "Moose", as he is affectionately called, first took over as athletic director and head football, basketball, and track coach in 1957. After compiling a 10-10 hardcourt record that year, Fran dropped the basketball post to concentrate on the pressing duties of the athletic directorship and his first love, football.

The results are in evidence everywhere. Polsfoot's gridders have compiled a 15-10-1 record including the conference title in 1958. The physical education department has been expanded to include four male coaches. This provided for a full-time golf coach which has resulted in the establishment of River Falls as one of the toughest golf teams in the state. It also resulted in wrestling being elevated to the intercollegiate level at River Falls and a subsequent state title last year.

But the latest and most gigantic step forward came last spring with the dedication of River Falls' spanking new physical education building which houses enough modern facilities to attract any prospective student.

Currently the Falcons are faced with a rebuilding year, but the prospect of some discouraging Saturdays doesn't affect Fran in the least. "It'll take about three games to get working together but the potential is there," commented the Falcon mentor following a long workout last week.

Polsfoot cited inexperience and depth as his two major problems right now but singled out four outstanding newcomers as bright spots on the horizon. Three of them, Gary Burke, Ed Vick and Larry Ellingson, are linebackers while the fourth is a promising freshman tackle named Dan Hubin.

Vick, a 165-lb. bundle of energy who'll "play anywhere" according to Polsfoot, caught a lot of fans' attention in the Augsburg tilt with his rocking defensive play. Burke weighs only 180 but he plugged up some giant-sized holes in the Auggie onslaught.

Ellingson couldn't nudge Pete Hubin or Duane Jensen out of the fullback slot but has moved into the linebacking position with ease. Dan Hubin, Pete's younger brother, may have a lot to do with solving the Falcon's tackle troubles before the season is over.

Polsfoot points to Whitewater's defending champion Warhawks as the team to beat for the WSCS crown but lists LaCrosse as Falcons' toughest foe since River Falls doesn't meet Whitewater this year.

Those fans that made the trek to LaCrosse last year remember the Falcons' daring side line pass on a kickoff play. And the amazing huddle play while receiving a kickoff against Stevens Point, was another eyeopener. So although the picture may not appear rosy on the surface, don't despair. When "the Moose is loose", you come to expect the unexpected.

SPORTS WRA

by Ginny Rogers

W.R.A. (Women's Recreation Association) is an organization for all girls interested in participating in sports activities and in having a lot of fun. Girls need not be proficient in a sport to participate, and even if one is very amateurish, the W.R.A. welcomes you.

Seventy-nine girls attended the WRA picnic Wednesday, Sept. 14. At this time the officers were introduced and coming events and activities were announced.

Volleyball, the fall sport, will begin tonight at 7 p.m. in the auxiliary gym of Karges Center. This will be a practice session and all girls interested should come and join the fun. Teams will be set up and the following Monday the tournament will begin.

Any girls interested in archery should consider the all-state mail-o-graphic archery tournament. The dates are Sept. 1 through Nov. 1, 1960. Any of three events may be entered: (1) Miniature Columbia Round: 24 arrows at 25, 20, and 15 yards; (2) 60 arrows at 15 yards; and (3) 60 arrows at 20 yards.

Touch football captains should submit their rosters to Intramural Director Ben Bergsrud as soon as possible. Mr. Bergsrud also announces that anyone interested in intramural archery can sign up now in the basement of Karges Center.

Rogers moved into a starting halfback position in Saturday's game at Northland as Mick Lauber shifted to quarterback replacing the hobbled Bob Dawson. (photo by Blegen)

Larry Lloyd's twisting fourth period touchdown run ended a three quarter scoring drought and gave the River Falls Falcons a 7-0 non-conference victory over Northland College Saturday night at Ashland.

The Falcon halfback received a short pass from Bob Dawson and was momentarily stopped at the Lumberjacks 25 yard line, twisted away from two would-be tacklers to scamper down the right side to pay dirt. Mick Lauber's toe provided the extra point.

Starting their successful march from their own 29 yard line the "Red and White" were faced with a fourth and one situation on the Lumberjacks' 44. Ken Mow, back to punt, fired to strike to Dawson for the needed yardage and the spark.

Fleet Northland backs Jim Culbertson and Dick Bonewitz provided shades of last week's Augsburg tilt as they hit the Falcons' line repeatedly for good yardage in the middle of the field. The 'Jacks punched twice within the 30 yard markers but were confronted with a stiffer RF line.

River Falls first solved the stubborn Northland club's defense in the third quarter when Lloyd again swept left end for an apparent TD, nullified by an eager backfield. A Lauber pass on the next play was picked off by Jerry Fitzgerald to end the Falcons' threat. Fitzgerald's running mate at the opposite end also got into the interception act picking off two stray aeriels.

The Falcons' offensive unit showed better balance on the ground and in the air. Throwing the ball for Coach Polsfoot were Mick Lauber, John Lauber and Bob Dawson; at quarterback, Lloyd, and Mow. Duane Jensen and Pete Hubin, switching off at fullback, showed terrific drive.

Heading the defensive unit were Gary Burke, Jensen, and Lauber, who all were credited with interceptions. In one wild mix-up Howard Hofschild came up with the oval. The Falcons' defensive prowess kept Northland signal-caller Don Krall from completing a pass.

Next week's conference foe, Superior, Saturday night was blanked by Michigan Tech 14 to 0. In other area results Fred Pongratz scored three times to lead LaCrosse over St. Norberts and Winona whipped Eau Claire 14-0.

Nearly All of Wisconsin Youths Live Less Than 40 Miles from State Colleges

A recent study by the State's Coordinating Committee for Higher Education reveals that 91 per cent of Wisconsin's 1957 high school graduates lived within a 40-mile commuting distance of a State College or other institution of higher learning.

Established from 1866 to 1916, the nine Wisconsin State Colleges were strategically located to best serve the needs of Wisconsin youth at a time when transportation was a problem. Devoid of cars, good roads, buses, planes and trains, 40 miles in 1870 was not a "commuting" distance.

The first students at most of the early State Colleges — or Normal Schools as they originally were called — probably anticipated difficult trips if they lived any distance from an institution.

When Platteville was started in 1866, students living to the North or south traveled by stagecoach—a vehicle too often associated with the Trans-Mississippi West—on lines which made daily or tri-weekly trips.

Members of the first class at Whitewater, which convened in 1868, were somewhat more fortunate and could depend upon the Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien Railroad, which ran through the community, or upon the Chicago and Northwestern whose tracks were 13 miles away.

Most accessible of the early institutions was Oshkosh, started in 1871. It drew heavily from nearby counties, largely because it was served by four railroads and two steamship lines.

The fourth school was established at River Falls in 1875, although an examining committee was disturbed by the fact that transportation was available only by stagecoach. The nearest rail facilities were at Hudson, 12 miles away.

Voice Needs Photographers

Interviews will be made in the Student Voice office on Wednesday, Sept. 21, at 6 p. m. for all persons interested in becoming College photographers.

Experience is preferred, but applicants will also be judged by other criteria.

All persons interested are invited to attend this meeting. Persons unable to attend at this time may contact either Wayne Harman or Don Blegen.

Skin Divers Meet Tonight

"Fathom Falcons," skin-diving club on the River Falls campus, will hold its first meeting of the year this evening in room 201 of the Student Center at 6:30 p.m.
