High School Tournament To Be Held Here Next Month

Teams To Compete Here To Be Selected Through Preliminary Meets

According to announcement made by Supt. H. C. Mason of the local high school who is a member of the tournament committee, the annual high school basketball tournament will be held in the college gymnasium on March 18, 19, and 20.

Trophies and individual medals, the same as in former years, will be awarded to the winning teams. As this no longer is a regular state district, the winner of this tournament will not go to Madison. Special permission to hold the tournament was secured through P. F. Neverman, secretary of the W. I. A. A.

Preliminary rounds will be held in Hudson, Spring Valley, New Richmond and Colfax to select the teams that will meet here. Four or five teams will compete in each meet. The two best teams from each will make up the eight that meet here.

The supplementary groups will play on the week end of March 9th. The teams will play as follows: At Hudson: Prescott, River Falls, Roberts and Hudson; at Spring Valley: Elmwood, Ellsworth, Woodville, Baldwin, and Spring Valley; at New Richmond: Clayton, Clear Lake, Somerset, Hammond and New Richmond; at Colfax: Elk Mound, Boyceville, Glenwood City and Colfax.

Unlike other years the teams will be picked on their strength at this time of the season. In other years it was the custom to pick the eight teams that had the best record for the entire season.

The regular state tournaments are to be held at Eau Claire, Rice Lake, Superior, Stevens Point, Madison,

Training School To Give Variety Program

On Thursday evening, February 26, at 8 P. M. in the College auditorium, a program will be given by the students of the Training school, including the Elementary and Junior High School Departments. This program will consist of orchestra and chorus numbers, a musical play or operetta, and a one-act play.

According to training school faculty members, the program will be one that college students and faculty can well afford to attend.

An advance ticket sale is being staged by the pupils of the training school.

Elmer Beran Wins

In Speaking Contest

Elmer Beran, senior, will represent the River Falls Teachers College in extemporaneous speaking in the contest held in Stevens Point on March 30th.

Beran won the local contest some time ago. The Voice unintentionally missed the announcement last week.

Beran taught mathematics and science and coached at the Baldwin high school for four years. He will obtain his B. E. in June.

Miss Lucille Garley will be the orator from the local school.

Press Club Holds

Miniature Banquet

More than a score of members, writers, business staff, and distributing men turned out to the Press Club meeting Monday night. As soon as the usual routine of business was completed the group journeyed to the River Falls Printery where a diligent search was made for type lice supposed to be found in such places. None were found, however.

After the staff had inspected the machinery that puts out the Voice each week, the group adjourned to the Kandy Kitchen for refreshments. A short impromptu program was presented.

Acting as toastmaster, Leonard Werner called on the following people to give short talks: Adele Deans, Seward Nielson, George Strand, Royal Anderson and Arno Dittbrenner.

Debaters Leave On Week Speaking Tour

Coach E. W. Harrington and his negative debate squad left Monday noon on a debate tour that will extend throughout the entire week. The students making the trip are: Lucille Garley, William Hawkins, Leonard Madison and Morris Buske.

The schedule calls for a debate at Lawrence College, Appleton on Tuesday, Milwaukee Teachers on Wednesday and Marquette University on Thursday. This is the final tour the team will make before it meets the Superior Teachers there in the first conference debate March 6th.

Social Elite Attend Annual G.O.P. Formal

Activity Brings Back Many Alumni to Local Campus

Amid a smartly decorated setting and to the music of Dave Dahl's Music Makers, more than fifty couple, many of them alumni, celebrated an evening of merriment at the South Hall gym Saturday evening. The event was the annual G. O. P. formal.

Activities began at 8:45. The receiving line was composed of Laura Ross, president of the organization, Earl Sanford, President J. H. Ames, Miss Greene, Maxine Blaine, Edwin Warwick, Ruth Robinson, Carleton Schultz, and Regent and Mrs. J. H. Grimm. Programs were completed after the reception.

Ten numbers and four extras completed the dancing program for the evening. According to comments expressed, Dave Dahl's five piece orchestra won wide favor from the dancers. It was their first appearance here.

Faculty chaperones were: Miss Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Klandrud, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hill.

'R' Club Wins Sale Prize In Ticket Contest

The "R" club sold the largest number of tickets for the movie "Good News". For their effort the athletic council will present them with a liberal prize.

According to reports from students who attended the show, the movie was a treat. The athletic council received a commission on the ticket sale.

New Features Will Accompany Music Contest

A great deal of interest is being shown in the Music Contest to be held here April 23-24. Entries of bands, glee clubs, and choruses are unusually heavy this year. At least twelve bands will compete. Many teams will participate in the music memory contest.

A band marching contest, open to all hands regardless of class, will be held on Main Street. The winning band will receive a drum-major baton from Dyer Bros. of St. Paul and fifty dollars in cash from the River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

During both days of the contest Dyer Bros. will have a $5000 display of band and orchestra instruments. This added attraction will be of special interest to instrumentalists.

The problem of securing lodging for the visitors has always been a difficult one. The new plan of having all the vocal organizations compete on Thursday and the instrumental organizations compete on Friday will enable many of the contestants to return home the same day.

Falls Cagers Play Eau Claire Peds Friday Night

Eau Claire Teachers invade the local campus on Friday night of this week. This will be the next to the last game this year.

Although the Zorn men do not have a very impressive record, statistics show that they have improved greatly since the early part of the season. Figures also reveal that in other years when Eau Claire had weak teams they usually pointed toward the River Falls games and gave them some very difficult battles.

It is also reported that Eau Claire has a basketball wizard in a man by the name of Eggleton. Critics say that fans will have a chance to see one of the best men in the state when they come out to the game Friday night.

A preliminary game is being arranged by Coach Klandrud.

Prof. Hanna Judges Feature Stories

Prof. O. M. Hanna who judged the feature stories written for the Voice announced his final placings Monday. All the stories written this year were submitted.

First place was awarded to "Stick 'Em Up, Don't Move", Are Commands As College Trio Are Taken for Yegg Men." This appeared on January 13th. It was written by Leonard Warner.

Groups Elect; Classes Nominate As School Year Reaches Midway

New Regent Appointed At Superior Teachers

The board of regents of the State Teachers Colleges received a new member in the person of Robert E. Curran, Superior. He succeeds the veteran Clough Gates at the head of the lakes college.

Mr. Curran is a product of the Superior Teachers college. He graduated from it in 1916. In 1921 he completed the law course at the University of Wisconsin. Since then he has been an active attorney in Superior.

Ag Men Visit At Twin City Co-op Plants

Marketing Class Members Visit Grain Exchange and Cooperatives

Minnesota had Wisconsin college visitors Friday as three car loads of Ag men embarked on a trip to the Twin Cities. The group made up the Marketing class from the college.

The first stop was made at the Central Cooperative Livestock Exchange in South St. Paul. Here they listened to a talk given by N. K. Carnes, general manager of the exchange. He spoke on the history and accomplishments of the organization. A trip thru the yards came next. While all the boys agree that this was a highly instructive trip, Jim Hocking commented that it was educational to him in another manner. "I'm going to wear hip boots next time," said Jim.

Minneapolis was the next destination, and the Chamber of Commerce was the place of inquiry. According to the group, the most interesting feature here was the way the grain is sold on the exchange.

Land O' Lakes, the great dairy cooperative in North Minneapolis concluded the tour for the day. After an inspection trip, the group listened to a talk by Sales Manager A. J. McGuire.

Although Arno Dittbrenner confessed he felt just a bit tired from carrying a huge red tag around for more than half an hour on his coat tail, and although "Bill" Turner and Irwin Lotz admitted that they liked Minneapolis waitresses just a shade better than any here, the group called it a day's work and journeyed back to the Badger state.

Y. W. C. A. To Omit Week's Meeting

Last Tuesday evening the Y. W. C. A. meeting was a patriotic one.

The musical numbers included a piano solo by Eleanor Boardman "America" and "America the Beautiful" sung by all.

Miss Rewey read certain interesting parts of "Abraham Lincoln, Man of God".

Due to the scout training course which is being offered, there will be no regular meeting of the Y. W. this week.

Two Organizations Have Held Elections; Classes To Vote Thursday

Selection of officers to guide the various classes and organizations for the remainder of the year is in full swing at the college at the present time. Two organizations have already held their elections.

At their meeting which was held on February 12th, the Rural Life Club selected their officers for the remainder of the term. The following people were chosen: President, Floy Anderson; Vice-Pres., Elsie Lewis; Secretary, Kathryn Johnson; Treasurer, Florence Woods.

More than sixty members turned out to the Agrifallian program and election which was held last Thursday. The officers selected by the Ag men are: James Hocking, president; William Turner, vice president; Oral Clafin, secretary; and Arno Dittbrenner, treasurer. A finance committee was also appointed at the meeting.

Classes Elect On Thursday

According to an announcement by Mr. Prucha, the assembly of this week will be devoted to class meetings. Nomination committees have met and are now ready to submit their choices to their classmates. Each class will meet in their assigned room to do the balloting on Thursday at 9:50 A. M.

The senior class committee made the following nominations: President, Clair Bartosh, Irvin Lotz; Vice-President, Thelma Haga, Leonard Warner; Sec.-Treas., Alma Busse, James Hocking.

Sophs Have Wide Choice

Second year people will make their choice of guiding hands from the following assortment: president, Karl Korting, Marvin Pratt; vice president, Lucille Hawkins, Walter Hagestad, Lucille Garley; secretary, Margaret Helwig, Ruth Achenbach, Betty Dodge; treasurer, Ove Berven.

A. C. Vogele, freshmen class advisor, announced that the Frosh nominations will be made from the floor when the group meets for the election. "There will be no nominations before hand," he said.

Debaters Are Victors In Four Matches

The two college debate teams returned to form last week and turned in four victories. Each team won two decisions.

Activities began Monday night with a victory over St. Paul Luther gained by the negative team. They turned in their second win on Friday against La-Crosse.

The affirmative team won from Northland Wednesday evening and from St. Norberts on Thursday. The latter was held before the Kinnickinnic community club.

Vocational Ag Men Visit At College

L. M. Sassman, state supervisor of Smith-Hughes work and Mr. Fay, teacher trainer, interviewed all seniors in the Ag department on Wednesday. The purpose of the visit was to acquaint the supervisors with the men who are going out in the teaching field.

Both men reported that they were well satisfied with the interviews. As he addressed the entire group last fall, this is Mr. Sassman's second visit to the campus during the school year.

Rev. Hoisington to Speak at "Y"

Rev. F. W. Hoisington of the Methodist church will be the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. meeting tonight. His talk will be on some phase of the Wickasham prohibition report.

Collegiate Corduroys Cause Caustic Comment

Well, for the luvva Mike! Who'd a think it? Some say its collegiate—others think there should be a law against it.

A lot of racket was stirred up last week when several of the boys appeared in "collegiate corduroys." Monogram artists and local cartoonists soon monopolized the situation and drew pictures on them until there was no room left. Next in line came a dozen other who scribbled their names all over the things.

One of the boys was still not satisfied. He even let a mule put the prints of its shoes on them. Keeler says it didn't hurt, as the mule was sitting down at the time.

"Collegiate corduroys" were originally designed as a pair of trousers. Now they are used for advertising and most anything else the owner can think of.

It is reported that Horace Merrill will pack his in moth balls and save them to sooth the "bosseys" when he milks cows next summer. Leslie Libakken says he intends to get an extra pair as he says they are exceedingly comfortable for him.

There has been a rumor (Forum members say) to copyright the designs on Louis Keelers pair. Others believe that William Wrigley Jr. could well afford to furnish the pants to all collegians as a means of advertising his product.

A frosh coed was heard to remark, "Is that the new debaters uniform? My, aren't they grand!" No doubt she now has a new "inspiration."

If the group allows us to make a suggestion we would say this: "If you want a real job of printing done bring your corduroys down to the River Falls Printery, and we should be glad to put you in a barrel and run your trousers through the press this afternoon."

We'll give you a choice as to which you would rather have—the front, back, editorial or sport page, neatly stamped on your apparel. A rather unique article this would be to hand down to posterity, if you ask us.

Stout Blasts Falls Champ Hopes 33-27

Defeat Is First Since 1926 That Falls Has Taken From Trainers.

Unable to snap out of their slump the River Falls cagers lost a hard fought game to Stout, 33-27, at Menomonie last Friday night. With the defeat all championship hopes went glimmering.

The game was exceedingly rough, 34 fouls being called by the officials. Three River Falls men left the game via the foul route, Sutherland, Miller and Schlicht in the order named, while Pahl of Stout was also called out on personals late in the game.

The Redmen started out as if they meant business by running up a 6-0 lead on Sutherland's two free throws and baskets by Warwick before the game had well started. This, however, with single free throws by Schlicht and Sutherland was the extent of their scoring the first half. In the meanwhile, the famed River Falls defense cracked wide open, letting Stout men sift through for set-up shots to run up a lead of 18-8 at half time. Led by the rangy Coengros, the scoring spree of the Trainers completely demoralized the locals and the game threatened to become a rout.

In the second half, however, the Klandrud men put on the brakes and threatened Stout's lead time after time. Baskets by Miller and Warwick cut the lead down to 21-18 at one time, but the Redmen's offense was slowed up when Miller had to leave the game on personals and the crippled Berven took his place. Schlicht was ejected shortly after, but Warwick's shooting still kept River Falls within striking distance until within a few minutes of the end. Pahl's long shots and baskets by Anderson and Stori enabled the Trainers to hold their lead, however, and the game ended with the score 33-27 in favor of Stout.

Warwick led the scoring for both teams with eleven points while Coengros with ten was the big gun for Stout. Helixon of River Falls and Stori of Stout played fine games at their respective guard positions.

Frosh Quint Wins Over Osceola 20-14

The River Falls Frosh squad nosed out a victory over the Osceola high school in a preliminary game before the Menomonie-River Falls game at the high school gym on Friday night. It was the seventh straight win for the yearlings.

Osceola took the lead at the beginning of the game and held it for three-fourths of the game. A final spurt in the last three minutes of play gave the frosh the decision.

The reporter was unable to get the complete box score. Below, however, is the River Falls summary:

Soph Pivot Man Is Among High Varsity Scorers

Close at the top of the scoring column all season and a master at getting the tip-off is Ove Berven, local six foot three center.

Berven is playing his second year of varsity basketball. In his high school days the blonde boy was a powerful factor on a Spring Valley team that placed high in the district tournament for two consecutive years.

"Bervy" is also an excellent student. His name often appears on the honor roll.

So They Say

By Dick Hemp

La Crosse clinched the Teachers' basketball championship by trouncing Milwaukee 36-30 on the latter's floor last Friday night. Although Milwaukee piled up a lead of 16-10 at half time, the Maroons came back strong and some exceptional sharp-shooting by Novak and Van Galder pulled the game out of the fire. Mr. Novak, as usual, led the way with five baskets.

It has been the misfortune of the Redmen to encounter two teams who were at the peak of their games when they played La Crosse and Stout. Last Friday night, the Stout team looked like champions in their surprising upset victory. Had they won one of those close games with La Crosse, it would be hard to predict just who would be sitting on top of the heap at the present moment.

While we profess nothing but admiration for the fine spirit and play of the Stout team in their now famous win, we can't say as much for the crowd that attended the game. To boo River Falls players while they were shooting free throws, boo River Falls cheers and razz the officials was nothing to that bunch. To those who were at La Crosse and Menomonie both, the contrast in the spirit of the two crowds was very obvious. One thing we can at least say of the La Crosse rooters, they were sportsmen.

Next Friday night, Klandrud's men will entertain Eau Claire. Coach Zorn's aggregation has been strengthened by the addition of Clementson, a dead shot, who plays at a forward position. We have seen this boy play and can vouch for his keen shooting eye. Eau Claire gave La Crosse a good run down at La Crosse and it was only through a flurry of baskets on part of the Maroons in the second half that pulled them ahead 32-22.

Approximately 550 to 600 teams compete for the Illinois high school basketball championship every year. Up here in Wisconsin the number varies around the hundred mark (we believe 128 is the exact figure). The Illinois I. A. A. evidently sanctions tournament play for the high schools not only have their district tournaments, sectional tournaments and state tournaments to determine the state championship, but also hold county tournaments for the county championship and numerous invitational tournaments which take place in the early part of the season. For example, Witt high school of Witt, Illinois a little town of approximately 800, engaged in all five tournaments mentioned last year. We wonder what the Hon Paul Neverman, secretary of the W. I. A. A. would say to a program like that.

Strange to say, Indiana and Illinois hold innumerable high school tournaments, but are the ones who oppose the National meet, sponsored by the U. of Chicago, the most. Illinois is not so much against it as is Indiana. For years, the Indiana schools have not allowed their champion to compete and that recalls an interesting incident. During the Christmas holidays, Athens high school of Athens, Texas, winners of the Stagg tournament of last year and the year before, toured the state of Indiana and Kentucky on a barnstorming trip. The National champions won exactly two games out of thirteen played against Indiana high schools, and this with a veteran team, the majority of whom had played in the national tournament the previous year. As Roundy says, write your own ticket.

Doc Meanwell invariably attends the Indiana state tournament every year. He probably has the same motive which induces a poor man to visit the U. S. mint. Invariably the good doctor comes back shaking his head and wishing that one-tenth of the material he has seen would enter Wisconsin.

The Spotlight

Illuminating the Higher Things in Life

The first week of the spring term will bring River Falls its annual basketball tournament. However, the tournament this year will be independent of the regular district meets in Wisconsin and a detailed discussion of its operation appears in some other article this week. Though it be independent, let us make it bigger and better.

There will be sixty-four young men here representing their high school colors, and many more enthusiastic rooters. What impression do we, as students of this college, wish to make upon their minds. Remember, the majority of them are possible future students. Let us make their stay enjoyable by showing them our hospitality, our sportsmanship and our institution.

We want the students of this college, who are graduates of high schools represented in this tournament, to cheer for their former school, but what about the others. Above all things, let us not be "boobers", nor one sided rooters.

Eight teams will be out there upholding the colors of their schools. Let us encourage each and every one in a whole hearted manner so we may have as the ultimate result, a winner who has won under no handicap or undue encouragement.

To the contestants and visiting rooters: This column extends you a hearty welcome. May you enjoy your three day stay though your team win or lose. And may the best team win, win by fighting, fighting hard and fighting fairly.

The March issue of Harpers Magazine carries an interesting article on "The Moderate Drinking." It gives the reactions received by a woman who "indulges," supposedly, at a moderate rate.

If you think moderate drinking is all wrong, she tells you differently. If you think moderate drinking is all right, again she tells you differently. There must be a happy medium. Read it and judge for yourself. She talks from experience.

While in the process of studying your lessons, take a one or two minute rest every half hour. Psychologists say it makes one more efficient.

Are we living in an age of speed? If so, where is it getting us? Perhaps it would be a good idea for some people to stop and think a minute before they push the accelerator to the floor board, that 32,000 people are killed annually in the United States and that one-third of these are due to speeding.

Rumor has it that the Stoutonians again refused a number of River Falls rooters admittance to their dance without faculty members or chaperones. Perhaps they think that the reason for so many boys and girls being tardy here is that the boys played marbles too long and the girls came late because mama could not get the curling iron heated quick enough. Some day we'll grow up, though.

Training School Notes

On Friday the 20th, the Pre-First Grade gave a little play entitled "Chicken Little".

The Second and Third Grades are preparing for their February Birthday party, which will occur on Friday, the 27th. In the Art and Project periods, the children are decorating paper napkins, making badges for favors, writing invitations and making room and table decorations. As part of the program, the Birthday children acting as hostesses, are preparing a short playlet entitled "What the New Year Brings."

As part of the February History work, the Second Grade made a tour of North and South Halls looking at pictures and other works of Art pertaining to Washington and Lincoln.

Librarian Reviews New Additions To Library

Miss Gibson calls attention to several new books in the library. She mentions several in particular. Henderson's "Contemporary Immortals" is written in a very interesting manner and deals with such men as Einstein, Beard's "The American Leviathan" tells the story of constitutional development in this country and of government as it functions. Wiggam in his "Marks of an Educated Man" discusses a number of the things which Miss Garley mentioned in her oration. Villier's "By Way of Cape Horn" is an actual account of a sailing voyage. "The Raven" by James is a biography of Sam Houston. It was the 1930 prize biography. "Italy Under Mussolini" by Bolitho suggests its own contents. Besides these, there are several new books on methods which will prove helpful to the student-teachers.

College Briefs

Ida Qualle, a former student here, is now majoring in geography at the University of Wisconsin. According to Mr Stratton she intends to resume her work teaching again at the end of this school year.

Carl Amundson and Chester Crowell spent the week end about town and at the Krueger house. "Chet" is teaching social science at Cuba City, and Carl is spending his second year as principal of the high school at Maiden Rock.

Clair Bartosh made a personal application for the science, manual arts and coaching position at White Bear, Minn., on Tuesday of last week.

There has been talk to the effect that a German play will be presented some time in the future by the German Department of foreign languages.

The new song books for the college chorus have arrived. The name of the book is "Program Chorus".

Miss Bridges has been absent from the Training Department this week due to illness.

Miss Greene gave a lecture Tuesday of last week to the Woman's Club on the pictures that were on exhibit Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

Clarence Holstrom was back in school yesterday after a vacation of more than a week. Clarence had an infection in his neck. "I'm still a bit shaky," was his comment when he was asked how he felt.

The practice teacher at Fairview and Forestville attended the farmer's program at Ellsworth last Tuesday.

Miss Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Malott and Lucille Mallot, and Mr. Schliep, were among those who attended "The Flying Dutchman" in St. Paul, Saturday night, February 14. Mr. Malott says, "And it was a great show, too."

Mrs. Mallot and Miss Jorstad spent Saturday and Sunday with Lucille Mallot at Frederic, Wisconsin.

Rural Life Notes

W. A. A.

Plans for a camping trip were discussed at the W. A. A. meeting last Thursday evening. The girls plan to spend a week end camping early in May.

Means of earning money were discussed. The organization was divided into several groups. Each group is to make as much money as they can. At the end of a certain time, the side which earned the most money will be given a party by the losing side.

The names of the girls on the honor team and the names of the girls who received squad points were announced by Miss Branstad at a girls' basket ball banquet last Thursday evening.

The following girls were selected on the honor team: Helen Lamson, Cornie Amundson, Dagmar Pedersen, Luella Hermanson, Florence Woods, Rosilie Leisy, May Taylor, Ethel Haga, Joyce Schwalen, Nellie Knight, Alice Bartosh and Leona Hill. These girls will get 100 points toward their sweaters or letters.

Irma Jensen, Irma Guiser, Alice Lund, Ann Glass, Bernice Smith, Agnes Kurtz, Portia Hill, Helen Hunter, Myrtice Harlander, Margaret Swanson, Florence Walsh, Adelaide Hermanson, Esther Reinke, Alvina Bates, Margaret Booney, Adele Deans, Alice Howland, Eda Kreuzeger, Luella Gregerson, Helen Shafer, Dorothy Taylor, Elizabeth Keith and Nila Carter received squad points.

We're becoming more and more convinced that this is a Kow Kollege when the fellows start blossoming out in the nearest relation to dairy pants. They're bad enough in the original form, but oh! the decorations! We thought it was bad enough with girls painting their faces, but who would have thought it would come to this!

Although Theology is not included in our curriculum, most anyone taking Psychology, will sooner or later, make his way to the starred shelf, pull down the Bible, to satisfy his curiosity as to what all the references are about.

It seems to us that the height of inconsiderateness is the way some
