Future Farmers Will Hold Annual Field Day Saturday

Aim of Conference Is a More Effective Program of Work for High School Officers of FFA

To give the high school F. F. A. officers a better idea of their problems, duties, and responsibilities in regard to F. F. A. work is the purpose of the annual future farmer field day. It will be held in the college auditorium, Saturday, December 10, starting at 9 a. m.

F. F. A. officers and advisors from fifty high schools have been invited to attend this meeting sponsored by the Collegiate F. F. A. under the direction of Thomas Ronningen.

Group conferences will be the high light of the meeting. The group for discussing the duties and responsibilities of the presidents will be led by Richard Delorit, State F. F. A. president, and the vice-presidents will be directed by Hiram Thompson. Edwin Baker and George Roberts will be in charge of the reporters and the treasurers. The delegation of secretaries will be headed by Donovan Hohman. The ultimate aim of the conferences is a more effective program of work, directed by the student officers, in the high school chapters.

Dr. Karges will extend a welcome to the delegates, and a chalk talk will be given by Dean Stratton. Music is to be furnished by the college band.

A poorly conducted meeting in contrast to a model parliamentary procedure will be demonstrated by members of the senior class directed by Mauritz Carlson. The future farmer degree is to be presented by a degree team headed by Walter Gronning.

Louis Zahradka, graduate of 1937, will talk on the place of public speaking in F. F. A. work. Another talk on future farmer work will be given by Mr. Louis Sassman, state supervisor of agricultural education.

A Frosh Learns Badminton

Until last Wednesday afternoon my knowledge of badminton had been a digit or two below the zero point. But now!!!! — let me tell you all about it.

It was some unexplainable impulse that prompted me to add my signature to the list of those who wanted to learn how to play badminton.

Our class met Wednesday at 4. I have always prided myself on my SHMLD (Sherlock Holmes Method of Logical Deduction); so when I was handed a very light racquet, I deduced that a small ball would be used in the game. By some oversight no ball smaller than a basketball was to be seen in the gym. In one corner was a pile of doodads which were made of feathers and cork. They had been left no doubt by a careless janitor.

"You take this side," said my teacher. "Toss me the shuttlecock so that I can show you how to serve."

Shuttlecock? What was the girling about? I could see nothing on the floor except—it was here that my SHMLD saved me. The doodads had feathers. Cock-feathers. I pounced upon one of the doodads and handed it across the net to my teacher.

"You must hold it like this," said she. "As you drop the shuttlecock hit it with your racquet. It's really very simple." With that she batted it over the net to me.

I picked it up and holding it thus swung - and missed! After my fifth try I decided serving wasn't so very simple. By some stroke of luck I managed to get it across. Motionless

New Faculty Member Added

Robert Anthony, of Beloit, Wisconsin, is the fifth new member to be added to the faculty this year.

Mr. Anthony is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, having completed a five and a half year course there. While at Madison he received both his B.S. and M.S. degrees.

In addition to giving courses in bacteriology, he will assist Dr. Lieman in teaching classes in the botany laboratory.

Rachel Aldrich Married Thursday

Miss Rachel Aldrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin LaBrash of New Richmond, and Mr. Carlton Ames, son of President and Mrs. J. H. Ames, were united in marriage by the Reverend Mr. Kundert on Thursday, December 1, at 12:30 p. m., in the Methodist rectory at New Richmond.

Mrs. Wallace Brookins of St. Paul, sister of the groom, attended the bride while Mr. George Aldrich, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Immediate relatives of the bride and groom were guests at the ceremony and at a luncheon immediately following.

The bride's dress was of teal blue crepe. She wore burgundy accessories, and a corsage of gardenias. The bridesmaid's dress was also of blue.

The former Miss Aldrich is a junior in the English department of the college. She has been very active in the music and dramatic organizations, and has been a member of the Voice staff for three years. Mr. Ames has been a member of the college faculty for the past two years. Mr. and Mrs. Ames are at home on Oak Knoll avenue.

Gleaming Lights and Holly To Quicken Yuletide Spirit

Wreaths and colored lights will soon adorn the campus as the Palette club planned Yule decorations at their meeting last Tuesday evening.

Group committees were appointed by Ruth Moen, head of the campus decorations. A committee in charge of the lighting is headed by Marshall Johnston with Duane Anderson as co-chairman. Halls and library decorations in South hall will be planned by chairman Frederick Sweger, co-chairman Juliette Harding, and their group. The corridors of North hall and the auditorium will be taken care of by a third committee headed by Paul Somsen and Shirley Swann.

After the business meeting, the members worked on articles intended for Christmas presents. Leather key cases and purses, finger paintings, beaded purses, and monogrammed stationery are being made.

Debaters, Attention!

Study of the debate question for 1938-39 will begin this afternoon in room 224 at 4:10 and will continue for about an hour. The question is: Resolved: that the United States should cease using public funds for the purpose of stimulating business."

"R" Club Will Sponsor Dance

Stunts Galore Planned for Second Annual Event

The second annual masquerade, sponsored by the R club, will be held in the North hall gymnasium Friday, December 16.

Music will be furnished by Carl Miller's orchestra. Dancing will begin at 8 p. m. and will continue until ??.

Admission will be 25 cents per person. It is compulsory that everyone wear a mask.

Genial Fred Dubbe, 200 pound tackle of the Falcon eleven, will be master of ceremonies. He reports an evening full of fun is in store for everyone.

The stunts of the evening include: a grand march, during which the judges will choose the prize winners; a "jitterbug" contest; a series of tag dances featured by a woman's tag dance; a broom dance; and a circular two-step specialty under the administration and supervision of Professor Walter H. Hunt.

Cash prizes amounting to approximately $15 will be awarded to the best group of four or more, the best dressed couple, the best dressed man, the best dressed woman, the best impersonation, and the best "jitterbug" couple.

Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Justin Williams, Professor and Mrs. Clifford Juedes, and Professor E. P. Whealdon.

The committee in charge sincerely wishes that everyone will attend in costume. No elaborate costume is necessary. A hard-time party costume is a common garb. No one will be admitted at the door without a mask. The committee also urges the attendance of the faculty. The committee invites them as their special guests with no admission charge.

YMCA Holds Open House

Playing games, singing, and devouring a box of apples filled an evening of recreation when the YMCA held open house last Monday evening in the Men's Union. Thirty-five men attended.

Checkers (Chinese and regular), box-football, Ruma, carroms, crossword lexicon, monopoly, and various puzzles were in use. At 7:30 Prof. Marvin D. Geere, accompanied by Miss Cara Wharton, led the men in singing a series of familiar hymns.

Masquers Will Present First Play of the Season Tonight

Folk Dances Will Be Featured

Folk dances of the American variety led by an expert caller, Peter Olsen from Minneapolis, will be featured at a dance in South hall gymnasium, Saturday night at 8:30.

The dance is sponsored by the Student Senate and Social committee in order to provide a new form of entertainment for the students. No admission will be charged, and refreshments will be served during intermission.

Practice Teachers Are Assigned Classes

Thirty-six prospective teachers are getting their training in classroom work this term. Four of these 36 are practicing in the River Falls high school and the remaining 32 are teaching in the College Training School.

Those teaching in the high school are: Hilbert Jones, science; Leon Larson, sociology; Clarence Stolt, history; and Robert Torgerson, science and mathematics.

Six students are practice teaching in history classes in the training school. They are: John Bradley, Melvin Erickson, Elmer Hehnke, Orval Iverson, Mildred Le Page, Ruth Phillips and Clarence Stolt.

The six student English instructors in the training school this term are: Betty Boardman, Helen Brunner, Harriet Campbell, John Clair, Robert Hoey, and Joyce Rolson.

Stuart Larson, Raymond Moen, Charles Stratton, and Robert Torgerson are teaching science in the college training school. Teachers in the mathematics department are: Margaret Fandry, Werner Gleiter, Nils Sodegaard, Robert Torgerson, and Dwight Weideman.

Adelaide Hill, Dorothy House, Jenny Lindh, and Joyce Rolson are doing practice teaching in the geography department of the training school.

Imbert Eslinger, Leo Foley, and Robert Ost are teaching in the music department. Marjory Day is practice instructor in art; Betty Jane Hogue is teaching Latin. Melvin Erickson has charge of a geology laboratory and Stanley Torgerson of a physics laboratory.

The students in the rural department who are practice teaching in the training school are: Ruth Bjersted, fifth and sixth grade; Ethel Frawley, first grade; and Mildred Russ, the fourth grade.

Science Club Will Meet

Science club members will meet for a short business session on Thursday evening, December 8 at 7:15 in the chemistry lecture room.

Ruth Phillips and Willard Lane Head Cast of Ten in Comedy-Farce "Tons of Money"

Ruth Phillips and Willard Lane will lead the cast in the Masquers first play of the season at 8 o'clock tonight in the North hall auditorium.

The name of the farce, "Tons of Money," holds the keynote of the plot of the story which centers in the home of the Allington family. Aubrey Henry Maitland Allington, Willard Lane, is a nonchalant, extravagant soul who, aided by his pretty and equally extravagant wife, Louise, Ruth Phillips, is constantly besieged by creditors.

Other characters who add to the hilarity of the farce are Sprules, a butler with an ulterior motive, Harry Healy; Simpson, a parlor-maid in love with the butler, Muriel Taylor; Giles, a gardener who has recently been refused in marriage by the cook, Albert Zahradka; James Chesterton, a dignified solicitor, Robert Platte; Jean Enerard, recently bereft of her husband but out to find another, Ruth Petersen; Henery, the butler's brother, Niles Grunke; and business like George Maitland, John Bradley.

An inheritance comes at a propitious moment, and from then on it is a fight to the finish to keep the fortune from the ever-present creditors. The attempts of the family, relatives, and servants to gain control of the fortune, and the final outcome make it a "rip-roaring farce with a laugh in every line."

Other Masquers who worked for the success of the play were stage setting, Frederick Sweger, chairman, Niles Grunke, and Leonard Morley; advertising and tickets, John Bradley, chairman, Norman Soderstrom, Nevin White, and Martin Lucente; properties, Mary Andersen, chairman, Lenore Anderson, Marlys Lowe, Howard Wert, Edwin Baker, and Paul Henne-man.

Of F's and Other Things

It takes three strokes of the pencil or pen to make an F—did it ever occur to you that bad things always come in threes—Speaking of snow, you may have noticed that outrageous interpretation of a snow man on Elm Street. Girls, girls what happened to your artistic ability? That isn't a snow man. That's an ogre (or a pumpkin)—Getting back to term grades, no let's not bother—you biology students don't realize how badly you're getting gyped when you take botany during the winter term. You see - no field trips, no horse chestnuts, and no juniper berries—Remember, only thirteen days of school until Xmas vacation—Better get your letters sent to Santa Claus real soon; remember that Santa has an over supply of Century Handbooks—About that snowball fight that was waged on the corner of 3rd and Maple, there are only two sentences needed to describe the tumult. "The inimitable spheres were slightly sepia in hue, due to the earth included within their walls. The lads assiduously barraged their innocent victims, proving themselves artificers in the realm of the common snowball." Results? None as yet—well kids, there are just sixteen shopping days until Xmas, and don't give your grandmother an alarm clock again this year—Speaking of Christmas, what was Carl Miller trying to do with "Oh Come All Ye Faithful" at the dance last Monday? Was that put to swing music? Shame? With all the other songs that are swing-able why pick on Noel carols—Hush? That's just a polite way to say Shut Up!

Personalities Behind the News

Ruth Phillips

Willard Lane

Mrs. C. C. Ames

Thomas Ronningen

Ruth Moen

Ruth Phillips and Willard Lane will play the leading roles in the Masquer's play "Tons of Money" to be given in the auditorium tonight.

The former Rachel Aldrich became the wife of Carleton Ames, Thursday, December 1. Ruth Moen is chairman of the committee in charge of campus decorations for Christmas. Thomas Ronningen will direct the meeting of high school chapters of F. F. A. on the campus Saturday.

Defining the "Putter-Off"

The end of the term is always an open season for a very strange, but hardly uncommon, creation known as a Putter-Off. Perhaps you are not not aware of the identity of the species. You will hardly be able to find a definition of it in Webster; its picture hasn't yet appeared in "Sports Afield." The college instructor might well use the term test as a license to legally annihilate it.

In the common vernacular a Putter-Off is the student who, after doing haphazard work all during the term, is both disturbed and annoyed to find that he has received grades which are relative in value to the work that he has submitted. He has already forgotten how he left his chemistry or his bacteriology to go to the latest movie or to waste an evening talking to the fellows; the fact that he left his Friday's theme until Thursday night at 8:30 is also only a vague memory which he doesn't bother to recall.

The Putter-Off passes over his difficulties lightly with a flippant - "Oh, I'll work harder next term." Mr. Procrastinator may find, however, that if he captures one of those elusive things termed a job when his college days are over, there won't be any period of grace following a previous period of neglect; he may discover that his employer won't even be as lenient as was his college professor.

It's comparatively simple to fall into the category of the Putter-Off, but it's a difficult habit to break. It is particularly dangerous during this period in the lives of those individuals known as college students. And there's always a possibility of rain the next day if you have neglected making your hay while the sun was shining.

Let's Stay Out of War

The first move in getting a country ready for a war is to sell it on the idea that if war comes it can't possibly stay out.

The argument runs similar to this: If a major war starts anywhere, the world is so much a unit today that its effects are felt everywhere. Isolation is impossible; we became involved in the last war, and we shall inevitably be drawn into the next one. Therefore we may as well make up our minds to it, and cooperate with other nations now in an effort to keep the war from starting.

Now it may be true that we could profitably cooperate for the sake of world peace - - if any major power showed the slightest willingness to make any sacrifices for peace, which to date none of them have done. It is, however, absurd to say we can't possibly stay out of the next war.

We can stay out of it. Nobody is going to be insane enough to come over here and attack us. If we just make up our minds that we aren't going to do any fighting away from our home lot, and stick to it, we can stay out of war. It is as simple as that.

Of course it would be expensive. Much has been written to show that we would have lost billions in 1917 had we accepted the German submarine campaign and remained at peace. Our business boom would have collapsed, foreign trade would have stagnated, and financial markets would have gone into a tailspin. As it was we lost billions of dollars and saddled ourselves with a mess of trouble which even today is an impediment to progress.

From a dollars and cents point of view, it would have been cheaper if our government had bought up all the foreign orders for guns, shells, steel, cotton, wheat, oil, and all the rest that were outstanding in 1917, paid the sellers in hard cash, towed the entire lot out to the middle of the ocean, and sunk it there.

It is only a matter of fact that the government paid the bills later on. By going to war it simply took on some billions of dollars worth of other obligations. And, incidentally, sent about 150,000 young Americans to their deaths.

The expenses of any course of action are relative. It is quite true that under present world conditions it can be fearfully expensive for a nation like ours to remain at peace when everybody else is fighting.

However there is this to be remembered: Nothing can possibly be as ruinously expensive as a war.

The Baton

The annual Christmas performance of the music department under the direction of Mr. Geere is taking shape. The chorus and orchestra have been rehearsing The Glory of the Lord, a powerful number by Handel, which is to be the grand finale composition this season. The chorus will contain most of the fine voices around school and about the town, and as usual, between 85 and 100 voices will participate. The orchestra accompanies the chorus.

The band will give a half hour concert for a 4-H meeting which is to be held in the auditorium next Saturday. One interesting little number that is being rehearsed is Whistle While You Work, from Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

Folks have been criticising us for not getting around enough to pick up the gossip that they claim a column should contain. We still don't know just exactly what a gossip column is, but here is our idea.

"Chuck" Stratton says, "If it's lower than a 'C', don't post it."— The popular thing to do is to advertise for dates. We were quite shocked the other day to find on a booth in the Kandy Kitchen a napkin which had printed in bold letters across one side of it, "Sody wants a date. Call 492 W." — We were even more shocked to find that he must have had success, for several days later we found him in that same booth, a "teeheeing," and "chit-chatting" with a very nice lady. We think her name is Lyon.

Did you know that Bob Torgerson already has his date for the coming masquerade?—Bill Harris, last year's enigmatic freshman, was home for Thanksgiving. We thought for a moment that he had gone politically to the Leftist side but on second thought we decided that he is still decidedly "Wrightist!"—Anyone who stayed away from last Saturday evening's badminton games missed an evening's entertainment. — John Tarpey is a lover of children. Who'd have "thunk" it and at his age too.

Somebody stole Hehnke's hat. Will the culprit please return same immediately? — If you want to go some place in a hurry, just follow that Hudson lad, Warren Busch, around some day. For a freshman, he's got less to do in a bigger hurry than anybody else in school. — The gang from Centuria is supposed to have spent a very pleasant Thanksgiving.

For assistant Dean of Women we suggest a certain junior who is sometimes known as Andrew. And last, don't forget to come to the masquerade.

As I See It

Order Out of Chaos

Someone (I do not know whom) deserves applause for the improvement made in the use of the bulletin boards in South hall since the Thanksgiving recess. When we left school on the afternoon of November 23, the information on the bulletin board was an unintelligible jumble of notices thumb-tacked with no regard for order—just as it has been near the end of every term that I can remember. Moreover, some of those messages had been meaningless for days.

The board had been cleared, however, by the next Monday. Since then the items have been kept in orderly rows that are easily scanned. And each notice has had at least one thumb-tack all for itself. None the less, we still need a new bulletin board and regulations for its use. We have needed both these things, in fact, since the new stairway destroyed the old system. Yet, until those improvements become realities, our benefactor receives my praise for helping us make the best of inadequate facilities.

Are They Facts or Lies?

Some sort of glandular secretion seems to take place in me when I read recent press reports of the German Nazis' merciless treatment of a group of their countrymen. Beginning as a physiological reaction my anger seems to spread rancorously inside of me until my reason has time to take a rational view of the matter. Then, two questions arise. First, are they true—these stories that American newspapers are spreading about the savage cruelty of the latest persecution of a long ill-treated race? Having made the acquaintance of a German-Jewish exile I am inclined to believe that the foreign correspondents are giving us at least an approximation of the truth. And in the second place, what about the statements concerning the United States and the pictures of American life that the German press is feeding to its readers? They are just dirty propaganda, aren't they?

The Mote and the Beam

In that connection it is well to remember that propaganda is not necessarily composed of untruths. It may be a clever choice of facts. Of course, to accurately portray America would require more truths than the German propagandists tell. But in spite of all this, much as we dislike to, we must admit that the United States is not a perfect Utopia for the minorities where love and tolerance have always banished hate and cruelty. No. We have burned witches. We have scalped Indians for their land and segregated the survivors. We have murdered our brothers because they had agricultural slaves instead of industrial ones. We have suppressed the members of another race living with us. We have put our weaker neighbors under our imperialistic yoke. And we still club and gas and shoot our own people when they use the only weapon they have for forcing consideration of their needs. Emphatically, we do not have a clean record. Possibly, to polish our own spectacles might help if we feel we must operate on the eyes of another.

Protest Without Hate

We are not barbarous now. But we are not so much better than our predecessors that we do not need to dissipate our potentiality for barbarity by practicing tolerance ourselves. In spite of the difficulty we find in practicing our preachments we have a right to protest against inhumanity—be it Nazi, British, Fascist, Japanese, Soviet, or American. Thus, it seems to me, that the most vital problem in all of this is not How Can We Avoid Being Duped by Lies? but Can We Seek a Solution Without Allowing Ourselves to Hate?

Falcons Drub Mac Cagers in Initial Combat

Blank, Larson, and King Lead With Twelve, Eleven, and Ten Points Respectively

In a hardcourt battle on the Falcons' floor last Friday night, Coach Lowery's cagers started out where his gridders finished; on the winning side of the column, by easily putting down the threats of Macalester College of St. Paul 63-34.

When one realizes that the ball went through the hoop almost sixty times in forty minutes, the rate at which the boys traveled can be very readily imagined. The showing of the Falcons was exceptionally encouraging to their supporters and the fine reserve strength promised to furnish the starting team with adequate first class replacement.

Macalester opened the scoring and was momentarily in the lead but was soon submerged in a flurry of Falcon baskets. Being the first game of the season for both teams, substitutions were frequent and before the end of the first half every man suited for the game had seen some action. The score at the half was a respectable 20-16 margin for River Falls. The second half was a rout for the Falcons as the boys got hot and hit the hoop from all angles and distances.

1938-39 Schedule

- Dec. 6—St. Olaf, there
- Dec. 2—Macalester, here
- Dec. 9—Huron, here
- Dec. 12—St. Olaf, here
- Dec. 16—Oshkosh, there
- Dec. 17—Stevens Point, there
- Dec. 20—Augsburg, here
- Jan. 13—La Crosse, there
- Jan. 17—Stout, here
- Jan. 20—Superior, there
- Jan. 27—Eau Claire, there
- Feb. 3—La Crosse, here
- Feb. 10—Eau Claire, here
- Feb. 17—Stout, there
- Feb. 24—Superior, here

The Falcon veterans led by Blank, Larson, and Nelson played the same brand of ball that made River Falls a title contender in the conference last year. Especially noticeable was the improvement of the sophomore cagers Tarpey, King, Schwartz, and Palm. Two freshmen also appear to be definitely ready to step out and play college basketball by the fine showing they made Friday night. They are Bohmbach and Crosby, who contributed eleven points to the Falcon score. Macalester did not show much, either in scoring or in defense, but the work of Rusterholz and DeLapp was impressive.

Scoring was very evenly divided among the players and especially was this true of the Falcons. It is a fine thing and shows offensive versatility and good team work. The play was very fast but became ragged at times which is an early season difficulty to be overcome as the team gains experience.

River Falls Wins Badminton Tilts

Branstad, Manske, Hehnke and Owens Win Five Matches

Winning five of its six matches last Saturday evening, the River Falls badminton team overwhelmed the Turtle Lake club of St. Paul.

The men's doubles team of Hehnke and Owens defeated the Pass-Fought combination five straight games to win their match.

In mixed doubles competition, Eunice Manske and Henry Owens defeated Melvin and Dorothy Pass, and Louise Branstad and Elmer Hehnke triumphed over Arthur and Cecil Fought. Switching partners, the Manske-Hehnke team defeated A. Fought and D. Pass, while M. Pass and C. Fought lost to the Owens-Branstad combination.

The women's state doubles champions, Dorothy Pass and Cecil Fought, showed some real badminton in defeating the Branstad-Manske team in three hard fought games. The women saved the St. Paul club from a shutout by this victory.

One other game, a singles exhibition between Eunice Manske and Dorothy Pass, the Minnesota singles champion, resulted in a tie.

Intramural Men Start Round-Robin

Due to close of the term and the end of the touch-ball schedule, very little activity took place this past week in intramural sports. The basketball schedule gets under way this week, and bowling continues as usual. In basketball, twelve teams have been organized into two divisions of six teams each. These teams will play in a round-robin schedule, each team playing every other team. At the close of this schedule, the three high teams in each division and the three low teams of each division will play each other for the final standing. In this way each team will play ten games during the season. The first two games of the schedule were played last Monday evening. In what proved to be an exceptionally fast game the Badgers, captained by Thoeny, beat Anderson's Gophers 35-16. Scoring was well divided for the victors with Stene, LaDuc, and Thoeny getting eight points apiece. Mel Erickson was high point man for the losers as well as for the game, garnering 6 buckets.

In the other game of the evening the Wolverines led by Captain Martin with 8 points defeated the Badgers under Hoey 24-11. It was a rough and tumble affair all the way with 15 fouls being called. Martin and Deitz looked best for the winners while Hoey was outstanding for the losers.

Bowling has been progressing very fine so far but you men will have to keep up with your games from week to week. Be sure to post your marks on the score sheet on the north wall of the bowling alley. Some very good scores have been posted so far, and the rest of you men have some marks to shoot at. The following have the highest averages for four or more games:

M. Wulf	4	191.5
Dykstra	6	158.0
McNamara	6	149.8
M. Nugent	5	149.2
F. Swanson	8	141.9
Sandvig	6	135.6
H. York	6	135.0
B. Thorsen	6	134.5
G. Theony	4	133.4
H. Route	6	131.5

High individual scores so far are as follows: M. Wulf 245, Dykstra 184, McCollow 176, Nugent 171, Kinny 170.

Swimmers, Notice

Instructor Juedes once more requests that all men interested in swimming sign up for the sport immediately. So far interest has been very slight and unless more enthusiasm is shown, plans for the swimming team or the class meet will have to be discontinued. If enough men show an interest, the class meet will be held on January 19, at 7:30 p. m. All swimmers please sign up immediately.

Sports Roundups

The results of last week's games give us a fairly accurate indication as to who will be the top ranking teams in the conference. The Falcons showed mid-season form with their shooting. Coach Lowery, using every man in suit, demonstrated the fine reserve material which is very important in the present speed of basketball. Another team showing great offensive strength was Eau Claire, last year's champions. They beat Concordia 76 to 9, having led 40 to 1 at the half. Coach Bill Zorn used three teams with only one man being held scoreless. The LaCrosse Indians, in topping Winona Teachers 48 to 41, proved that they will again have a strong team.

Stan Torgerson, Falcon center, received a broken nose and a black eye shortly before the end of the Macalester game. The knee of a Mac player struck him as they were lying on the floor fighting for the ball.

Norbert Manion, brother of Bud Manion local high school coach, is turning out some fine teams at Luverne, Minnesota. After graduating from here, he became assistant coach in 1931, and head coach in 1934. In five seasons of football, his teams won the conference title in 1934, 1935, and tied for first in 1936. During this time they won 36 games and lost 4. In the four seasons of basketball they attended the state tournament three times. The other year they were defeated in the regional tournament. This record gives his teams 88 wins and 16 defeats in the two sports. Fred Dubbe, Falcon tackle, took part in some of these successful seasons.

The officials of the game with Macalester last week were George Higgins, sports announcer for WTCN, and John Getzel, the most publicized official in the country. He is the one who pulled the so-called 'boner' in the Notre Dame - Carnegie Tech. game which you football fans read or heard about.

Two sons of Kankakee, Illinois, have been elected captains of next year's United States Service teams. Al Bergner, 192 pound tackle, will lead the Navy, and Joe Stella, weighing 206 pounds, will lead the West Pointers from his tackle post.

Ollies Lose to Lowerymen in Close Battle

Nelson and Sheimo Lead Scoring With Twelve Points Apiece

The Falcon cagers pulled one out of the fire when they tripped up the St. Olaf squad in a thrill packed game at Northfield Tuesday night by a 40-36 count. The Falcons started slowly, and were not hitting the hoop, but their good shooting from the free throw line kept them always in the game.

The half found them on the short end of a 16-18 score. Beginning the third quarter they were playing a class of ball that was closer to what they were capable of and with only nine minutes remaining to play the Falcons had built up an eight point lead of 35-27. However, this margin was short lived as the Ollies put on a rally which tied the score at 35 all. King then added a field goal and Nelson came through with a field goal and a free throw. The best the Ollies could do was to add a free throw by Sheimo and the game ended 40-36.

An outstanding point in the game was the unerring accuracy with which the Falcons tossed their free shots. They made good on sixteen out of eighteen attempts. The contest was marred by numerous fouls, 34 of them being called, yet the game was very fast because of the keen competition.

The St. Olaf team plays a return game here next week. It undoubtedly will be a battle royal with the Ollies seeking revenge for this setback.

Projector Project Is Postponed Indefinitely

Senate Turns Project Over to Student-Faculty Committee for Further Discussion

Action by the Student Senate in regard to the purchase of a sound movie projector has been indefinitely postponed. The decision to this effect was made at a special meeting of the Senate Wednesday, November 30, attended, in addition to the regular members of the Senate, by several faculty members acting in a purely advisory capacity.

At the regular meeting held Monday, November 28, a committee was appointed to contact President Ames and find out whether or not the state would accept the responsibility of operating a machine providing the students purchased it.

President Ames' response was in the form of a letter in which he requested, among other things, full and definite information as to the type of equipment being considered, and that the means of financing the purchase be fully presented and understood by all to the extent that "we should have before us a complete picture of the proposal." It was requested that this information be presented to his office in writing.

Members of the Senate, feeling that too much time was being used in discussing the project without definite results, suggested that all information regarding the project be submitted to the Student-Faculty Relations Committee for investigation of Projection Machines, which should supply, if possible, the information requested by President Ames, pass their information on to the S. F. R. C. for consideration, and then present it to President Ames.

This material will be compiled at once in order that it can be considered at the next meeting of the S. F. R. C. meeting to be held Monday, December 12.

Other business taken up at this meeting of the Senate was the appointment of a committee to investigate possibilities for Christmas decoration. Miss Ruth Moen was made chairman of this committee. Financial obligations for the decorations will be assumed by the Senate.

The motion was made and seconded that the Senate appropriate funds to purchase a rubber stamp for the Social Committee.

Boy Scouts Are Sponsoring Membership Drive

Under the leadership of Eugene Gossen, scoutmaster, Troop 2-143 is having a new membership drive. Boys who will be twelve years old soon are asked to join. They pay their membership fee now and start working for their Tenderfoot badges. They cannot, however, get the badge until they have had their twelfth birthdays.

Mr. Gossen is being assisted by Burton Ellig, assistant scoutmaster, and William Gutzler, senior patrol leader.

After Christmas all the star-scouts who are fifteen years old will be organized into a senior patrol. At the present time Troop 2-143 has thirty-six members. This group is divided into four patrols. Each patrol has its leader.

Representatives Discuss Leadership at Rural Meet

Rural leadership was discussed at a meeting of the representatives of rural organizations in Pierce and St. Croix counties in the college auditorium last Friday and Saturday, December 2 and 3.

Pierce and St. Croix County Agents, 4-H leaders, members of the college faculty, and college students took part in and directed the conference.

Mr. Wileken, Mr. Anderson, and Mrs. Kellogg of the rural sociology department of the College of Agriculture at Madison were leaders in the discussion of various rural leadership problems.

Wyman Talks Before FFA

Dr. Walker D. Wyman delivered an address on America, the Melting Pot, at the FFA father and son banquet in Spring Valley last Monday evening.

Approximately 125 FFA members, their fathers, and local business men attended the dinner, which is an annual affair originated by Mr. Thorvald Thoreson during the time he taught at Spring Valley. This year's banquet was under the direction of Walter Hansen, River Falls graduate of 1938 and present agriculture instructor there.

A Frosh Learns Badminton

with pride I stood watching it float through the air. But my opponent was far from a statue. Back came the shuttlecock, whizzed by my nose, and floated to earth.

At my next serve the cock went over and most wonderful of all I returned it when my opponent sent it whirling back to me.

Just as I had begun to think it was fun, the janitor came in and told us to "scram", as he wanted to lock the gym.

Thursday morning when I hobbled out of bed, I decided that battledore and shuttlecock had proved to be mostly battle for me.

YWCA Activities Point Toward Christmas Season

YWCA attention is directed toward the approaching Yuletide season. Until the holiday vacation each of the three groups into which the organization was divided last week will be making either Christmas cards, candy, or gifts.

Mrs. Walker D. Wyman gave the nine girls who met in the art room Monday evening suggestions for making Christmas cards. The girls began working out individualistic ideas for their own cards. Next week they plan to put them on linoleum blocks.

Verna Annett's group of twelve women made minted nuts in the kitchenette and treated the other YWCA members.

Six girls in the third group, supervised by Doris Lindh and Joyce O'dell, met in the Social room to crochets mats and pillows and to make pin cushions.

Special Christmas project sponsored by the YWCA is collecting a fund to buy a radio for Audrey Jones, who is now in the City Hospital. Contributions to this fund will be accepted by Mary Anderson, social service chairman.

150 Swing at Matinee Dance

Approximately 150 students attended the matinee dance Monday afternoon in South hall gym.

Jitterbugs and swingsters jittered and swung to the music of Carl Millers orchestra which included an arrangement of "My Reverie" and a Christmas melody by the maestro himself.

When the first social event of the second term ended at 5:30 p. m., the finals of the past week were practically forgotten, and everyone was looking forward to the new term.

Ad's Fads

We often hear frets and sighs about the appearance of the "little lady's" hair. We might suggest that she visit the Modern Beauty Shop; they specialize in personality hair-cuts for women. These hair-cuts are only 50 cents. One can get a permanent there for $2.60. As for finger waves, the price is 40 cents, with a shampoo 65 cents.

With the date for the Masquerade set at December 16, it's high time we started looking around for a few costumes. We were looking for masks the other day. Helgeson's Golden Rule and the H & K Variety Store have several. There is a choice of eye masks, full masks with the face curtain, or full, humorous faces.
