EAU CLAIRE TASTES FIRST DEFEAT 7 TO 3

See Some Of River Falls' Beauty Spots

Try a Hike Before the Snow Comes.

Now that we are having a taste of genuine November weather, crisp, cool, and bright, it seems that we ought to be enjoying the outdoors to the full. After school at night, and on Saturdays and Sundays, there is plenty of time to pull away from the old grind and take a long walk. There is nothing better for jaded appetites, or spirits, either, besides furnishing an opportunity to see some beauty spot in and around River Falls, than a long, brisk walk in the cool air.

Perhaps you students, who are spending your first year here, might like to know of the places around about, which students of former years have found beautiful and restful. Some of these you have already found perhaps, but most likely not all of them.

A good hike for a Saturday, is out to the natural monument, five miles northeast of town, in the Kinnickinnic valley. Follow the road to Hudson out of town until you reach the second cross-road. There turn to the right and follow the main traveled gravel road about four miles, until you come to a cross-road with a small white school house at the left. From here, looking northwest, a tree-covered hill may be seen, with what looks like the top of a rock sticking up through the branches. This is the monument. Cut across the fields, if you like cross-country hiking, and see for yourself, one of the curiosities and beauty-spots of the county. Be sure to take a knife along so that you may add your initials to the ones already carved in the soft sandstone of the monument.

Still another long hike is to the St. Paul Y. M. C. A. camp on Lake St. Croix, near Prescott Roads. This is about nine miles from River Falls. Perhaps, if you take this hike, it might be well to plan on catching one of the busses home, as they go right by the camp. To reach this place, follow the main road to Hudson for about nine miles. You will then come to a corner with the roads leading

Coach Eggebrecht

Coach Eggebrecht, whose first year as head coach of the football squad, has now brought us within one notch of state championship honors, helped win two state championships in football for the old school when he played at half-back in 1915, and 1916. His ability as a coach is, without question, on a par with his ability as a player.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER HOLDS STUDENTS

Emphasizes Horrors of Modern War.

Mrs. Milton Fuldheim of Milwaukee delivered an inspiring address on "The Modern Minotaur" at a special assembly last Wednesday.

Mrs. Fuldheim stated that we would have wars as long as military leaders are placed before children as the only great heroes; war is considered glorious, and the theory that

There will be a dance Friday night, eight o'clock, North Hall Gym. Admittance by budget tickets, or outsiders must have permits from Mr. Hayward or Miss Hathorn.

Watch for announcement concerning the dinner dance given by students in honor of the football squad.

Quandt Scores in Last Minute Of Play

Pass and Run Turn Defeat to Victory

Superior Next.

With the fighting instinct that never says die, when the glory of victory seemed well nigh impossible with only a minute and some seconds left to play, and with the score 3 to 0 in Eau Claire's favor, the Red and White came from behind and scored a 7 to 3 victory over the Purple and Gold. It was a wonderful autumn day that marked this Homecoming game on the Eau Claire gridiron before the largest crowd River Falls ever played before. It was with one closing drive of desperation and final fury that Coach Eggebrecht's fighting gridders maintained their march towards the state championship.

These intense moments came when the Falls obtained the ball on Eau Claire's 45 yard line. With this short time left the Red and White started in a desperate attempt to pass their way to a touchdown. Ziebell made a perfect pass over left end to Quandt. But alas, with an open field before him on the 25 yard line Quandt fumbled the ball. It seemed heart-breaking. On the next try a pass to M. Smith netted eight yards. But Quandt certainly did redeem himself. On a pass over center this speedy half neatly grabbed it on the 20 yard line, shot between two Eau Claire safeties and crossed the goal line. Here at last was the turn of war, the unexpected shock that numbed the wearers of the purple and gold and lifted River Falls' legion to its feet with a hurricane of noise. Then Ernie booted the ball over the bar for another point, and River Falls had the margin by which to triumph.

As both teams started the struggle, not many plays were needed to show that neither eleven had an offense that could make much ground. The

HOW ABOUT A REAL COLLEGE PAPER?

Every week, when the exchanges from other Wisconsin Normal schools come to our desk, we are again depressed when we compare them to the Student Voice. Do you realize that of the papers put out by at least nine Wisconsin Normal schools, the Student Voice is the smallest? It is true that these papers are located in larger cities, and in most cases have larger student bodies to depend on for subscriptions than we have, but this does not make the comparison any less unfavorable.

The only way in which we can put out a paper which will compare favorably with these others is to raise our subscription price. It is the plan of the staff to publish a paper, sometime toward the close of this semester, as a sample of what we could do regularly with a twenty-five cent increase in our share of the budget. We should like to hear from some of the students about this. Since the student body is paying for this paper, it is up to them to say whether or not they wish to have a paper that can be put beside papers put out by other schools of the same class without apology.

Although, we are anxious to have everyone who is entitled to a copy of the Student Voice get his paper every week, we find it necessary to call your attention to the fact that only those who have paid their budget fees, or paid a subscription otherwise, are entitled to a paper, and then, to only one copy. The circulation department will consider it a great favor if you will refrain from asking for more than one copy. If one student takes papers for half a dozen, fifty per cent of the time, there are one or two papers wasted, not intentionally of course, but this makes an appreciable difference in the number of copies necessary to go around. Let's have everyone come and get his own paper.

war is necessary and unpreventable prevails. She discussed the futility of war from both the economic and biological aspects. Since the students of this school are preparing to be teachers, Mrs. Fuldheim urged them to spread among the children the doctrine that the sacrifices of war will be unnecessary if differences are settled through arbitration.

Mrs. Fuldheim is considered one of the best women orators in the country. She showed an intimate knowledge of the subject, and held her audience through her magnetic personality and splendid delivery.

STITT WILSON HERE AGAIN

The Christian organizations have prepared a treat for the students of this school in the person of J. Stitt Wilson, who will be here the tenth, eleventh and twelfth of December. Mr. Wilson was here several years ago, and delivered a series of lectures. Local residents, who heard him then, will testify to the worthwhileness of Mr. Wilson's addresses.

River Falls is very fortunate to be able to get such a speaker as Mr. Wilson, since his time is taken up for many months ahead. The colleges of Wisconsin have secured a month of his time this year, and River Falls has three days of this.

Let's keep these dates open, and let nothing prevent our hearing these remarkable lectures.

MASS MEETING GOES OVER BIG

The more we have, the better they get—in the case of mass-meetings, especially. One of the best of the year was pulled off last Friday evening in the North Hall gym. The much-talked-of importance of the Eau Claire game furnished the impetus that brought out a large and enthusiastic crowd to show their pep and to hear a regular pep-meeting program. A number of speakers, representing the faculty, the student body, and the team, showed their oratorical ability. The main feature of this part of the program was, of course, the famous Swedish orator. The musical end was upheld by the Faculty Vacuum Quartet, whose one selection was so enthusiastically received that they would have sung another—if they had had it prepared—and also by the band which furnished the accompaniment for the singing of school songs. Nels and Joe led the yells, which somehow sounded a bit better in the gym than they do in the assembly room. We'll be looking for more pep-meetings of this calibre from now on, and there's no good reason why we shouldn't have them.

Miss Orma Erickson was entertained by the supervision class at a party last Thursday evening at the J. M. Chinnock home. Her classmates presented her with a Normal School pin as a farewell gift. Miss Erickson completed her course at the end of the first quarter.

first quarter was singular in that it was an exceptionally even contest. Straight football was played by both sides. Not a pass was attempted, and not a first down was made by either side on six tries apiece. Each team punted six times; the average punt was thirty-five yards apiece, and the average return of each was six yards. The quarter ended with Eau Claire in possession of the ball on their own forty-three yard line.

The Reds outplayed their rivals in the second quarter, but failed on two chances to score. They started with the ball on their thirty-two yard line. M. Smith made a sprint to the fifty yard line for first down. Unable to gain, both sides exchanged punts with River Falls starting again from the fifty yard line. After an incomplete pass and two short line bucks were played, the dashing Maier clawed his way through an opening and winging out free and unmolested, he loped thirty-nine yards to Eau Claire's eight yard line. Eau Claire put up an impenetrable defense and held the Falls on three line plunges. Eau Claire got the ball on a blocked pass on the fourth down.

Later in the quarter the Falls again threatened when Eau Claire fumbled the ball on their twenty-one yard line.

Unable to penetrate the defense of the Eau Claire line and unable to complete a pass, Ernie attempted to drop-kick from a difficult angle and against the sun. The goal was missed by a few feet.

Between halves the Eau Claire rooters stormed the field and massed themselves in front of the River Falls stand with hilarious razzing.

Eau Claire went wild with the start of the second half when Dahl received the kick-off on the ten-yard line and returned it fifty yards to the Falls' forty yard line. Two line bucks and a forward pass netted them the necessary ten yards for the first down. Three more line plunges gained eight yards. From this vantage point the noted drop-kicker, Art Olsen, booted the ball over the bar for the first count.

Ziebell made a good return of the kick-off and on the next plays the driving Maier gained first down on two line plunges to the forty-five yard line. The Falls started an aerial attack, but Eau Claire intercepted the second pass on their forty yard line. Neither side gained, and the exchange of punts gave Eau Claire the ball on the Falls' forty yard line where Olsen tried a drop-kick, which fell short. The remainder of the quarter was played in River Falls' territory. Eau Claire made one first down but failed in two attempted passes. The quarter ended with River Falls in possession of the ball on their own twenty-eight yard line.

Both sides opened up on passes during the final quarter. Early in this quarter Eau Claire completed a pass, Adolph Olsen to Donaldsen, who raced twenty-eight yards to the Falls' twenty yard line where Maier executed a pretty tackle. On failing to gain, Olsen again attempted to drop-kick which failed. Although one pass was completed, the Falls was unable to gain much, and a poor punt gave Eau Claire the ball on the center of the field. They immediately lost the ball when Rademacher intercepted a pass. After an exchange of punts, the Falls made first downs on a pass to Kees. Three more passes failed and the Falls punted to Eau Claire's twenty yard line. A ten-yard penalty for holding helped the Red and White, and Eau Claire was forced to punt out of danger. Ziebell returned the ball from the fifty yard line to the thirty-eight yard line, and it was here that the break in the battle came when River Falls completed passes to victory.

On the second play after the kick-off M. Smith intercepted a pass and rushed the ball to the twenty-five yard line when time was called.

The last game of the season will be played on the local gridiron next Friday, when the strong Superior eleven will journey down from the north. Superior is looked upon as one of the strongest teams in the conference. They held the strong St. Olaf eleven 20 to 12, they overwhelmingly defeated Stout, and out-classed Eau Claire in plays. A victory over Superior will mean state championship honors. Let's put forth all that we have to accomplish this feat.

Whitewater—

Prospects for a successful season in oratory and debate are very bright this year. Many strong high school debaters and orators, promising members of the public speaking class, and four of last year's debaters present an excellent group from which the debate team will be chosen.

Oshkosh—

Harold Hawkins, New Richmond High School and La Crosse Normal school football and basketball star, is attending Oshkosh this year. Roundy, sport writer of the Capital Times, speaks of him as the greatest high school basketball player that ever played in a high school tournament. Hawkins at one time lived in River Falls.

Beloit—

The coach will soon instruct, in a series of speeches in the college chapel, the coeds in the fundamentals of football. Many schools have carried out such a plan successfully. Our River Falls Normal School coeds need such instruction too; why not explain basketball to them some assembly?

Northland—

The first homecoming of the college was held last Saturday.

A girls' quartet is touring Chicago and suburbs.

Superior—

Superior has two debate coaches, one for the subject matter and one for delivery, and a third faculty member coaches oratory. They always put out a first-class team, as we learned to our sorrow last year. Most of Superior's last year's champs are gone.

Two new teachers arrived at Superior, one in the English department and one in the Biology department; the former spent her summer traveling in France and England.

La Crosse—

One of the merchants of La Crosse, during apple week, gave each student and teacher an apple.

Milwaukee—

The first copy of the Echo Weekly was received last week. We suggest that you put in more news and less literature.

The football coach at Milwaukee, George F. Downer, is sport writer for one of the Milwaukee papers.

Kearney (Neb.) State Teachers College—

One of the Y. M. C. A girls goes to Indianapolis to the International Student Volunteer Convention Dec. 28-Jan. 5.

Stout—

An organization to establish a standard in both scholarship and athletics that will appeal to the student body and the faculty is the Menomine Club consisting of thirty-five picked men from the Industrial Arts department.

Lawrence—

One of the bleachers, strained by the over-capacity load it was supporting, gave way in the excitement following the making of the first Lawrence touchdown in the homecoming Saturday, dropped approximately three hundred fans to the ground. Fortunately only a few were injured, and they only slightly.

Our own R. F. S. N. S. bleachers on Ramer Field are far from safe.

An exchange student from the University of Rennes in Brittany, is Mademoiselle Yvonne Fourniere, who is attending Lawrence this year. Upon an interview she said that many of our customs surprised her, especially coeducation and the use of rouge by the girls.

About 250 River Falls rooters attended the Eau Claire-River Falls game. A chartered bus took about twenty students from River Falls. Twenty cars averaging about six or seven to a car drove up. Among the rooters, there were about one hundred old grads, who are always behind the team. A few of the fellows rode to Hudson and bummed a ride on the train to Eau Claire.

"Oh, that's all right, I was going to discharge him, in any case."

"TWO CROOKS AND A LADY"

The above are not the names of new movies, but they are the titles of three real live-up-to-the-minute comedies to be presented at the Normal auditorium under the direction of Miss Schlosser on Nov. 22, 1923. The cast is an all-star outfit and speaks for itself.

"Suppressed Desires," the latest word in one-act comedy, fresh from the pen of Susan Glaspel. Have you ever been "psyched"? If not, you should be. Come and see what happened to Stephen and Mabel when they were "psyched."

"Poor Old Jim" is a Cecil De Mille play and a scream from start to finish. You all remember your home town character, the subject of most of your jokes. You have him here in all his glory and with all his accoutrements, yes, even the flask on the hip, and it gets the best of him in spite of the 18th amendment.

"Two Crooks and a Lady," is one of the 47 Harvard Works of plays written by one of the pupils of George P. Baker and first produced at Harvard. A real up-to-the-minute play, as good as is to be found in any theatre, and the three plays offer a splendid evening's entertainment.

ORGANIZATIONS

Y. M. C. A.

The main feature of last week's Y. M. C. A. meeting was a talk by Professor Hunt on "The Rules of the Game." The basis for his discussion was a comparison of the rules of the game of football with the rules of the game of life. Mr. Geere led the singing in the absence of Mr. Jacobson. The meeting was especially well attended.

Y. W. C. A.

Dr. Miller of Minneapolis, a chiroprapist, spoke at last Tuesday's Y. W. C. A. meeting. Special music was in the form of a vocal duet by Catherine Chapman and Marjorie Jewell.

LINCOLNIAN

At the Lincolnian last Thursday evening, Mr. Davison spoke on a timely theme—that the world has failed to develop in a mental and spiritual way on a par with our great mechanical advancement. Reba Offerdahl played a violin solo, accompanied by Jean Scott. The members of the society were divided into two teams for the carrying out of different contests in extempore speaking and debating to be held during the year with William McLaughlin and Oliver Younggren as captains.

AURELIA

The following Kipling program was carried out at the last Aurelia meeting:

- Life of Kipling—Maude Stoddard.
- A Just-so-story—Romola Cheney.
- Gunga Din—Mildred Nichols.
- On the Road to Mandalay.
- Officers who were elected are:

G. O. P.

The G. O. P. turned out en masse last Thursday for the first regular meeting since the home-coming rush. After a short business meeting, the new girls entertained the old members in a program somewhat similar to a second initiation. Although the numbers on the program and the participants cannot be named, they would do credit to any vaudeville circuit. Just the right finis for the meeting was an impromptu dance in the girls' gym. We are glad Miss Roherty, our advisor, holds the key to the gym, so we do not have to enter via the step-ladder and window route as formerly.

The following students entered school at the opening of the second quarter: Janet Kinnett, Elmwood; Hazel Ranney, Boyceville; Norissa Canniff, Minneapolis. The following students have completed courses and have withdrawn to teach: Loretta Therien, Orma Erickson, Marie Hanley and Ruth Kuske.

The Christian Endeavor meeting last Sunday, was a splendid one. The topic "Friendship" will be led next Sunday evening by Mrs. Wm. T. Martin. Mrs. J. O. Thrush will give a piano solo. YOU are cordially invited.

north and south. About a block down the north road is a sign, which reads, "Camp St. Croix." Turn in at the roadway you will find, and walk about a quarter of a mile west. This brings you almost directly into the camp itself, several buildings and a large club-house, built on the edge of a cliff, which drops almost directly into the lake. From the porch you can see many miles up and down Lake St. Croix. This is one of the most beautiful views in this section of the state.

These two hikes are quite long for ordinary purposes. However, there are many interesting places within half an hour's walking distance of town which are well worth seeing. If you are moody and dispondent some fine afternoon, and think that a cemetery might be an appropriate place to visit, cross the Maple street bridge and follow Maple street as far as it goes. You then find yourself on a country road. Follow this road to the first farm-house, walk through the yard and south, across the pasture, following the bank of the river to the lower dam. Climb the hill to the right of the dam. You will find yourself in an old, old grave-yard, where some of the very first settlers of River Falls are buried. There are some statues scattered around which might interest you. It is a beautiful place, over-looking the falls and the river. If you are tempted to go farther, follow the river path for about two miles until the path, going west, lies at the foot of some steep lime-stone cliffs. Look closely and you will see, far up the almost perpendicular slope, a small hole. This is the Indian cave, about which small boys of the town associate some thrilling stories.

These are just a few hikes, selected at random, from a dozen different possibilities. Your time and effort will be well repaid, however, if you visit any of these places. Remember that the snow will soon be so deep that hiking across country for any distance will be impossible, so get out and take a little stroll while the weather is fine. You won't be sorry.

AG. NEWS

The regular meeting of the Agrifallian club will be held this coming Thursday night. A very interesting program has been arranged and will consist of the following numbers:

- Music—Kexel and Madison
- Talk—Clayton Holmes
- Parliamentary law practice
- Round Table Discussion—Mr. May.

The committee thought it would be of interest to members of the club to hear some of the agricultural work that was discussed at the Eau Claire Teachers' convention, so Mr. May will present this work.

Dr. Downey, Federal Veterinarian for this district of Wisconsin, conducted his usual semi-annual Tuberculin test on the Normal dairy herd last Friday and Saturday. He reported the herd in first class condition.

The men of the faculty entertained the football squad in the Domestic Science rooms. Mr. Davee acted as toastmaster, calling on Mr. Hayward, Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Ames. The banquet prepared by the Domestic Science department, was excellent, and the male members of the faculty footed the bills.

A student of psychology would have been interested in the effect of the winning touchdown on the two crowds at the Eau Claire game Saturday. Before Quandt broke loose, the Eau Claire stands were in a riot, band playing, colors waving, and students shouting, while the River Falls bunch, although cheering as stoutly as ever, were beginning to feel the gloom of defeat. As he crossed the line, the situation was reversed. The Red and White section came to its feet with a roar of triumph, while the Purple and Gold sank back dazed by the sudden blow to their championship hopes. Funny, isn't it, what a difference 7 points can make in the way a fellow feels?
