WISCONSIN STATE COLLEGE VOLUME XLII NUMBER 25

Hathorn Hall, women's dormitory, will get increased capacity this summer when a third floor is added. General construction for the addition has been awarded to George W. Olsen of Stillwater, Minnesota, who did the construction work on the building originally.

Ventriloquist and Hut Four Headline Vets Variety Show

Talent that has appeared on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town," along with other professional and amateur acts, will be featured in the annual Vets Club Variety Show, Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the North hall auditorium.

Ventriloquist Rod Skibenes and the "Hut Four" quartet headlining the program have presented acts on the Ed Sullivan television program. The quartet has also appeared on the Arthur Godfrey show.

Students on the program include the Y-Tones, a girls' trio composed of Shirley Olson, Mary Louise Olson and Elaine Solum. Faculty talent in the show includes Dr. William Solley who will present a novelty act. Co-starring in the act will be his son, 10-year-old George Solley. Humor will be added to the show by Richard Doetkott with a variety act.

Gary Jensen and Merton Hansen, "The Amery Terrors" will present a pantomime on western singers. The act will provide a contrast in musical entertainment to the piano duet to be performed by Henri and Harry "Liberace" Elzinga. Music for the entire show will be furnished by the Falconaires. Dale E. Johnson is to be Master of Ceremonies.

Rod Skibenes was a professional ventriloquist until he retired to become a church and club entertainer.

Senate Names Albrecht To Edit Student Voice

Arlin Albrecht, sophomore from Chippewa Falls, was named editor of The Student Voice at last week's meeting of the Student Senate. The appointment came after the resignation of Shirley Neuner, former editor.

On recommendation of the faculty advisor to the newspaper, the Senate approved the nomination of Mr. Albrecht to the editor's position through the winter term of 1956-57.

This begins a policy of naming a new editor at the beginning of the spring term rather than at the beginning of the fall term. The change was made to provide for greater continuity since it was felt that normally the former editor would be available for advice and assistance at the time the staff changed.

The new editor has served as associate editor of the paper since the beginning of the year. In addition to the newspaper, he has worked on the Meletean as photographer along with being a member of Masquers and the young Democrats.

WESLEY FOUNDATION HOST TO METHODIST YOUTH CONFERENCE

The Wesley Foundation at River Falls will be host to the Spring Conference of the Wisconsin Methodist Student Movement April 13, 14, and 15. Approximately 150 students from 16 colleges in Wisconsin are expected to attend the Conference.

Included on the program will be addresses, Bible study groups, buzz sessions, interest groups, a business meeting and recreation.

"Revolution and Reconciliation" Dr. Edward T. Ramsdell, Professor of Theology at Garrett Bible Institute, Evanston, Ill., will address the conference on the theme "Revolution and Reconciliation." James Crane of the college faculty and contributing artist for "Motive" magazine will lead the interest group "Revolution and Art."

It appeared under the heading "Pick Your Favorite Campus Cover Girl" along with an official ballot and the photos of queen candidates from 33 Upper Midwest colleges. A color-photo of the winner will be published later.

This will be the second time the Minneapolis publication has run a campus cover girl contest. Last year River Falls chose Blake Murray Hubert of Stillwater as its representative. This year's candidate was chosen by the student body from five photographs published by the Student Voice.

In research Dr. Baldwin has made valuable studies in his field, among them the discovery of a group of bacteria useful in the making of citric acid. With Dr. E. B. Fred, president of the University of Wisconsin, he and others collaborated on a book which explains the University's pioneer work in discovering the secrets of the bacteria which enable green vegetation to take nitrogen from the air.

This year's Commencement will be the 78th in the history of Wisconsin State College at River Falls.

College to Sponsor Float for May Day

Preparations for a float sponsored by the faculty, classified personnel and the Student Senate to be entered in the May Day—USA Way celebration April 29, have been announced by Chairman of the float committee, Robert Polk. The estimated cost of the float is between $250 and $300.

Small City Demonstration May Day—USA Way is an annual observance in which a small American city organizes a demonstration of faith in America and in freedom. The observance originated in Burlington. River Falls has been designated by Governor Kohler as the site of this year's third annual celebration. The day will be marked by religious services, a floral pageant, a mammoth parade in honor of the Four Freedoms, and speeches by national spokesmen. The plans also include flying the American Flag on homes and places of business in River Falls and other communities in Western Wisconsin and on farm homes in the region.

Endorsed by Dignitaries The project has the endorsement of Governor Kohler and of Vice President Richard Nixon, Senator Alexander Wiley, Representative Lester Johnson of the 9th Wisconsin Congressional District, J. Edgar Hoover, and other national figures. The basic purpose is to tell the story of America and its freedom in a day-long observance in which the citizens of a representative American community demonstrate the loyalty and freedom of United States citizens.

Citizens Committee in Charge A project committee of River Falls citizens is in charge of the day. Generous contributions of time, effort, and money by citizens and organizations have made it possible to plan for an extensive program of events.

Festival to Attract 1000 Musicians Here Thursday

Over 1000 high school students from 22 different towns in Wisconsin are slated to take part in the 32nd annual Music Festival scheduled for Wisconsin State College at River Falls on Thursday, April 12th.

The announcement, made by Nicholas Jadinak of the College's music staff, stated that about 500 soloists and 175 ensembles, both vocal and instrumental, will take part in the day-long program which runs simultaneously in nine different places in the morning starting at 8 a.m., and in ten different places during the afternoon session.

The ten adjudicators who will judge are all from Minnesota. (Continued on Page Four)

The Editor Speaks . . .

In some areas of the United States newspaper editors must be alert to avoid confusing the Smiths, the Browns and the Joneses. But here, it's the Olsons, the Johnsons and Andersons. Last week's issue of the Voice carried a picture of Mary Louise Olson in a story about Shirley Olson. The substitution seems even less likely when it is considered that Mary Louise Olson's picture has been used in several past issues of the Voice and because of the fact that Mary Louise was the winner of a "Cover Girl" contest in the February 20 issue of the paper.

Shirley Olson

Earlier it had caught the confusion in the same story between Willard Olson and Willard Olson. This came after it was found that Willard Olson rather than Howard Olson had agreed to teach at Elmwood as was earlier reported.

Political Views

by the Young Republicans

Many events of importance are happening in these troubled days. It shall be the object of this column to try to keep you informed on some of them. The first in the series will deal with the farm problem and in particular the history of our great dilemma.

Problem Began in 1945

The problem with which the present administration is faced actually began in late 1945 at the end of World War II. At that time American agriculture had geared itself to the production demands of war time. When the war ended farmers found it hard to reduce their production to the smaller peacetime demands and asked for government aid. The Government then extended high rigid price supports to the farmers to help them maintain adequate standards of living, which it did. Prices again being favorable and with no restriction on production the farmers continued their terrific pace of production.

Acreage Allotments

The next step was to add acreage allotments in a feeble effort to curb production, in hopes that this would bring about a miracle but no miracle came. Surpluses continued to mount, and the administration searched but could not find a solution. Finally the Korean war came along to stop the accumulation of surpluses but it did not liquidate those already in existence.

New Administration

Faced with these problems a new administration stepped bravely into office to face this previously unsolvable problem. The results we know. Surpluses such as the dairy surplus were decreased tremendously, other surpluses have held constant or have decreased, and things were put back on a more even keel.

Gad Books!

by Wm. Hagestad

A STONE, A LEAF, A DOOR; THOMAS WOLFE'S:

"LOOK HOMEWARD ANGEL" is a long (600 pages), disconnected and vigorous novel. It is the story of the history, thirty years preceding his birth, and the youth of Eugene Gant. The book is filled with a myriad of characters, each exemplifying some facet of young Gant's life in Altamont—a southern resort city. The reason for the historical section which precedes the birth of the protagonist is at once obvious. Wolfe is much concerned with the origins of his characters, where they derive their individual idiosyncrasies — "whose rib is in them".

EUGENE IS THE ISSUE of Will Gant, a stone-cutter, with a passionate and pompous rhetoric and great love for two stone angels of white Italian marble which stood before his shop in Altamont. Young Gant's mother came from the Pentland tribe; She was frugal, quite conscious of money and invested and dealt with joy in real estate. In "Look Homeward Angel" the elder Gant is dying of cancer and Eliza (the Pentland, Eugene's mother) is going irrevocably mad with sharp and fast deals in real estate.

"LOOK HOMEWARD ANGEL" is an exposition of the truly wasted lives which are the result of small-lived mollification. Eugene's brother, Ben, is, with Eugene himself, struck with the reality of his, his family's and the people-of-the-town's, buried lives; Ben lacks the individuality to escape and lapses into an extremely negatively cynical attitude toward his life, the town and all that has submerged him.

EUGENE SEES THE HORROR of this system and resolves to get away from it. He goes to the State University, later to Boston and Harvard. There is always an acute hunger in young Gant though—a hunger which, he feels, could have been fulfilled if he had stayed home; his hunger is only for expression and the answers to ill-defined questions which later resolve themselves.

"LOOK HOMEWARD ANGEL" is the first in a series of books dealing with the life of Eugene Gant—largely autobiographical.

THE BOOK UNDER CONSIDERATION is significant because of its truly perceptive exposition of the deadening effects of things vulgar and "other-than-natural" in a Thoreauian sense. By this point, and it alone, Wolfe and "Look Homeward Angel" may be placed in the Ruskin-Hardy-Lawrence continuum.

IT IS INTERESTING: there are so few stylistic parallels between these writers and yet they all deal with the same thing and ask much the same questions. This would lead one to venture that the material these writers treat is quite elemental and completely divorced from the "time-binding phenomenon."

Political Groups Active on Campus, Members May Train Future Leaders

by Jim Gardner and Al Halls

Will a future governor of Wisconsin in 1975, or a senator or representative from the state be able to say that he was once a student at River Falls WSC?

Judging from the enthusiasm shown by young Republicans and young Democrats on the campus today, one of those bright young politicians could easily be one of tomorrow's leaders.

RF Graduates in Politics

Several River Falls graduates in politics today are: William W. Clark, elected assemblyman (in 1920 and re-elected numerous times until 1952 when he was elected to the State Senate. Robert Knowles who was elected State Senator of Wisconsin's 9th district in 1954 and Arthur Gustafson, who was a candidate for congress in Minnesota.

The purpose of the young Republicans and Democrats is to gain a fuller knowledge of how their respective parties are organized and operated, know the party leaders, the control they have, and how they obtained their positions. The young politicians work closely with the senior party on many of their activities especially during election years.

This Year's Activities

Campus activities this past year included speakers from both parties. On November 18 Senator Alexander Wiley spoke at an all-school convocation in North hall auditorium. State Senator Knowles spoke to the political science class January 10. Phileo Nash, chairman of the Democratic party in the state visited the campus this year and talked to many of the young Democrats. Movies, debates and a trip to Washington, D. C., have also been a part of the program conducted during the past year.

Both parties are under supervision of faculty members. Dr. E. N. Peterson heads the young Democrats. James McLaughlin is the advisor for the Young Republicans. Student party Presidents on campus are Gaylon Greenhill, Democrat; and James Sorenson, Republican.

RF Nine to Open With 'Kato; Outdoor Drills Begin Today

Baseball coach Bill Solley expects to begin full-scale workouts at Ramer Field today if weather conditions permit. The Falcon baseballers have been practicing indoors for the last few weeks in preparation for the opener, a home double-header with Mankato on April 21.

Solley has lettermen at every position except short, third and two outfield spots. Topping the seven lettermen returning are pitchers Louie Johnson, Lefty Johnson and Ken Barrows, all proven winners. Veteran Dale Crisler will be back at the catcher slot, giving the Falcons experienced batteries.

First baseman Dick Hoffman and second sacker Johnny Steffen will give the Solley-men a sharp-fielding right side of the infield. Both are fairly good hitters as well. Gene Luebker is the lone outfielding vet returning. He's tentatively slated for a starting berth in center field.

Solley declined to note any other sure starters since the inclement weather has prevented any extensive outdoor fielding and hitting workouts until this week. Others expected to be battling for starting positions are catcher Vern Steinmetz, a veteran of summer city team baseball; short-stop George Holland; outfielder Malcolm Langer, the leading hitter in the Pierce-Pepin league last summer; infielder Roger Rofler and infielder Al Suezaki of Kealakekua, Hawaii.

SPORTS IN A NUTSHELL

by Rog

To conclude the predictions for the outcome of the pennant races in baseball for 1956, we'll move over to the National League.

We'll have to go with Brooklyn in the NL this year because of their well-balanced attack, fine defense and sound pitching. Their team is well-established with seasoned veterans at almost all positions. Manager Walter Alston has also proven himself to the baseball critics by bringing a winning season to Brooklyn and now is out to prove that last year was not just a flash in the pan.

A lot of fans are hoping for Milwaukee to combine all the talents everyone knows they have into one big team effort and carry off the flag. This is possible only if all the players are "on" for a full season. Up to now the Braves have been a bunch of individual players funtion-separately, but when they occasionally have decided to work together the result has been a winning streak. Therefore, with this possibility in mind, the Braves must be called the toughest competition for the Dodgers.

After the Braves, the next five places can be occupied by the Phillies, Cubs, Cards, Reds, or Giants. The Pirates are destined for the cellar again unless one of the forementioned five slips badly. Favored to fill out the first division, however, are the Reds because of their strong offense and pretty fair pitching strength and the Cards, who seem to be determined to make this year a prosperous one.

The Redbirds are counting on Stan Musial to have another big year, and "The Man", in no mood to disappoint his fans, should come up with the batting championship of the NL. He'll probably be closely followed by Richie Ashburn (Phillies), Willie Mays (Giants), and Ted Kluzewski (Reds).

In the home run department, we'll go along with Big Klu while Duke Snider (Dodgers) or Willie Mays should take the RBI crown.

If the Reds have a good year, Kluzewski might be awarded the Most Valuable Player Award. By winning the pennant the Bums will probably nominate Snider, Campanella, or Newcombe for the MVP award. Robin Roberts will continue with his 20-game seasons and cop the MVP trophy for the pitchers.

So it will be the Red Sox vs. the Dodgers in the 1956 World Series. This is almost a tossup, but we look for the Bosox to carry home the larger share of the melon after six games.

Ollie Guest Organizes College Golf Team For Coming Season

Ollie Guest, senior from River Falls, announces the formation of a golf team to represent RFSC in the coming spring sports season. Guest has three meets lined up with two more tentatively scheduled.

On May 4 the team will meet Winona, on May 12 they'll attend the Bi-State meet at St. Cloud and on May 18 the State meet in La Crosse will be attended by the Falcon golfers. A contest with Stout is scheduled for April 24 or 26, and a meet with Bethel College is tentatively planned. All meets will be held away from home since the River Falls golf course is currently undergoing reconstruction.

A meeting of all those interested in being members of the golf team was held in the athletic office at 3 p.m. today. Veterans who are expected to be the mainstays of the squad are Guest, Rod Adolph, Bob Gerlach, Don Siebold and Frank Oas.

Falcons Host to Winona Track Squad Saturday; Bad Practice Weather May Slow Both Teams

The Falcon track and field squad opens the 1956 season this Saturday with a dual meet against Winona Teachers at Ramer Field. Starting time is 1 p.m. RF coach Fran Polsfoot noted that distances, heights and times probably will be comparatively slow since neither team was able to hold extensive outdoor workouts until just one week before the meet.

The River Falls thinclads should make their best showing in the distance events, according to Polsfoot. All the distance men did extensive running on the highways near Ramer Field before the track was dry enough for use.

Although Winona finished last in a field of four in last year's Bi-State meet, the Minnesota school is expected to field a much improved team this season. River Falls placed second in the meet. The Warriors from Winona should be especially strong in the high jump, led by Bob Anderson, a consistent placer last year.

Polsfoot said last week that everybody who has been working out this year will be given an opportunity to compete in Saturday's contest. Pacing the field are five lettermen: Jim Finstad and Roger Huser in the sprints; Phil Kuss and Joel Dahlby in the 440 and up; and Dick Zamjahn in the pole vault, hurdles and broad jump.

Top Falcon competitors in each of the events follow:

100, 220: Finstad, Huser, Wayne Haushalter.

Hurdles: Zamjahn, Wayne Su-kow.

440: Kuss, Al Forsythe, Dick Danke.

880: Kuss, Vern Parker.

Mile: Parker, Dahlby, Jim Rutherford.

2 mile: Dahlby, Rutherford.

Shotput and discus: Bob Koplin, Don Swanson, Tom Shield.

Pole vault: Zamjahn, Del Mottaz.

High jump: Dahlby, Mottaz, Earl Zimmerman.

Board jump: Zamjahn.

Relay team: Huser, Finstad, Haushalter, Kuss.

Latest reports from the athletic department note that Eau Claire State may send a small group of contestants to the meet.

Intramural Scoring Leaders Listed

The intramural basketball season has ended, leaving behind a pile of statistics to be arranged and shoved aside. Topping the list was team 1 of the A league who, after finishing in a first place tie in the strong A circuit had to do away with the upstarts from D and C leagues before capturing the championship.

Leading individual scorers average-wise was Bob Hubert of team 3 who put together 72 points in three games for an average of 24 a game. A close second was team 1's Neil Christenson with an average of 23.5. The top point getter was Rog Knutson, also of team 1, with 151 points, but he had the advantage of playing three tournament games. Second was Ardell Linnerud of team 28 with 143.

The top individual performance was turned in by Orin Johnson of team 29 who netted 48 points March 5 as his team defeated team 28, 101-68. Both the score of 101 and the two-team total of 169 also set season marks.

Other players who scored 30 or more points in a single game were: Wayne Stoflet of team 23, 38; Gary Swoboda of team 29, 30; Ardell Linnerud, 36; Tom Beers of team 8, 30; and Neil Christenson, 30. Stoflet's 36 points in one half was also a high mark.

Of the top scorers Johnson, Stoflet, Swoboda and Linnerud all performed in the D league, surprising many who had believed that the majority of the talent lay in the A league.

Average-wise A league and D league dominated, each with three of the top six scorers. A league placed six of the top fifteen, while C league placed only one.

The top 15 scorers in three games or more were:

Name & Team	G.	TP	Ave.
Bob Hubert, A-3	3	72	24
N. Christenson, A-1	4	94	23.5
A. Linnerud, D-28	7	143	20.4

Gary Swoboda, D-29	6	111	18.5
Gordon Hoff, B-11	6	101	16.8

Sanders, Wooden Tops

This year's River Falls State Coaches Clinic is host to two of the winningest coaches in the nation. UCLA football coach Red Sanders has a 27-year winning percentage of .711, and Bruin basketball mentor Johnny Wooden sports a 10-year win mark of .734.

BADMINTON TOURNAMENT SCHEDULED

The intramural singles badminton tournament will begin tonight at 6:30. Approximately 30 players are expected to participate. A doubles tournament will be held next Monday, April 16. Entrance sheets for the meet will be posted on the North Hall bulletin board throughout this week.
