Activity Fees May Finance College Annual

President Confirms Rumors of Possibility of Shifting Expenses on Budget

Plan Has Advantages

That the Meletean will be financed through the student activity fee in the near future is a possibility according to rumors about the campus.

These rumors were confirmed at the President's office in an interview by a Voice reporter.

The details have, however, not been perfected and nothing definite can be said at the present time. A general idea of the reform proposed can, however, be given.

Facts on Present System

At the present time, the Meletean is financed largely by the students. Each person obtaining a copy pays $2.75 directly. Indirectly the student pays class and organization dues, a large part of which go to the Meletean as payment on the pages each group has in that annual publication.

The present financing of the book is thus divided as follows:

Direct sale of Meletean	50%
Classes and organizations	40%
Directory, and benefits	10%

Advantages of New Plan

The major advantages of the proposed reform are as follows:

1. It will eliminate the burden placed on a few by those who fail to pay dues or take an active part in our school activities.

2. It will place all organizations on an equal basis.

3. It will place the burden of the students and faculty on an equal basis.

4. It will enable students to obtain the Meletean for slightly more than they pay for it directly at the present time, not including indirect payments.

The complexity of financing the present Meletean will be eliminated.

Librarians Take Statistics to Solve Library Problem

The library staff is always on the "lookout" for means to improve the library system. At present, the members of the staff are taking statistics to determine how efficient the reserve books are being used.

Much of this rush at 4:05 could be avoided if the students would use the reserve books more during the day, according to Rhea Gibson.

Many Students Attend College Dance Friday

A school dance was held Friday evening in the South hall gymnasium. This dance was given under the guidance of Joyce Bergseng, Raymond Penn, and Carvel Morton, senior members of the Social committee. Miss Weberg and Mr. Junkman chaperoned.

This was the first of a series of class dances.

Janitor Proves to be Better Scout Than Regulars

Three Superior Yellowjackets kept themselves under cover at the Macalaster game with the intention of scouting the Falcons. In order to keep out of sight of the searching eyes of our men, they concealed themselves until the game started, and then entered the crowd to do their spying.

A Macalaster janitor proved to be a better scout. Instead of doing the scouting, the Yellowjackets were the ones to be scouted.

River Falls State Teachers College Campus As It Looks These Days

The first real snow storm in three years again bedecks the River Falls campus in its noted winter beauty.

Snow now covers our spacious lawns, shrubs, coniferous and deciduous trees and buildings.

This scene, combined with our residential district and mounds in the background enfolds college life here in a maze of winter beauty.

Garns to Give Reading Here

Recognized as one of the Outstanding Entertainers in the Northwest

John Seaman Garns, impersonator and baritone of the Dramatic department of the McPhail school in Minneapolis, will appear on the assembly program this week.

Mr. Garns is regarded by critics as one of the best impersonators and one of the most clever entertainers in the Northwest. He has received much applause and has met with approval wherever he has performed.

The upper-classmen will remember Mr. Garns by his presentation of "Monsieur Beaucaire" here several years ago. He combines both music and oratory in his rich baritone voice.

During the past five years Mr. Garns has broadcast from Minneapolis radio stations. His series of short lectures on the humorists and poets of America fascinated his listeners and increased his admirers by the thousand.

Townpeople are invited to join the students Thursday morning and enjoy whatever Garns has to offer.

Band Benefit Dance to be Held Friday Night

A benefit dance will be sponsored by the college band in the South hall gymnasium Friday night at eight o'clock. The committee in charge promises a program of specialty numbers in addition to the dancing.

The gym will be decorated by a committee headed by Charles Stapleton.

An admission of 25 cents will be charged. The money taken in will be used to pay for band suits.

Picture to be Unveiled at Y. M. Program Tuesday

Unveiling one of Mindens woodland scenic pictures will feature the Y. M. C. A. program in the Men's Union January 19.

The picture was selected by a committee composed of J. P. Jacobson, Marvin Pratt and Dorr Snoyenboss.

Do You Know Bill? He's Worth Knowing

"Bill" has walked 9,171 miles since he came to River Falls from the west in 1927.

He lives at the College farm and helps in the daily delivery of milk and cream from the college dairy to its 60 patrons in the city.

"Bill" is thirteen years old and in excellent health barring chronic lameness.

Occasionally "Bill" gets excited. He dislikes noise and children. He is easily handled.

On his left hip "Bill" wears a brand--an A with a bar across the top. "Bill" is a real disciplinarian. When Raymond Swanson, his driver, lingers too long over a delivery of milk or cream, "Bill" goes on to the next patron and stops. And he turns around by himself on end streets.

"Bill's" memory is keen; he knows all of his patrons and pulls up at their homes at his own choosing.

The driver doesn't touch the lines on the route except to hurry "Bill" along. The whip is there just for looks.

This bay horse, "Bill", was named by the college farm manager, Mr. Miracle. Do you know Bill? He's worth knowing.

Twin City Trio Appears Here January 23

The Lee Trio, highly recommended by Twin City music lovers, will present a program before the college assembly here January 22.

The trio consists of a pianist, tenor and violinist.

Mr. Lee is recognized by many in the Twin Cities as the outstanding tenor there. He sings with ease and in a manner that pleases his audience according to newspaper comments.

Mr. Lee has studied under the world renowned Auer of New York city.

Press Club to Study Printing

R. B. Eide to Give Helpful Hints on Managing High School Publications

Members of the Press club which meets at 7 p. m. Monday nights will take a course in high school publications beginning next week according to R. B. Eide, in charge of the Student Voice.

After assignments have been made and the paper laid out for the next week, 30 minutes will be devoted to problems confronting the teacher in charge of high school publications.

Such problems as sources of news, timeliness of news, styles or organizing news articles, features, make-up and typography, the business end of the publications, circulation, and objectives will be discussed at the meetings.

Although only extra curricular credit is given the Press club member, the courses should be one of great value to any student who plans on teaching, members believe.

Students not on the Voice staff desiring to attend the courses are welcome to come Monday nights.

If you take the year of your birth and double it, add 5, multiply by 50, add your age, add 365, subtract 615, then the last two figures will be your age, and the others the year you were born.

Meletean Work Is Progressing

Chuck Freeman is Managing Editor; First Shipment to Engravers Last Month

Work on the 1931-32 Meletean is well under way according to Miss Latta, the adviser.

The committees have been selected and include the following people.

Charles Freeman, Centuria, Managing Editor; Raymond Penn, De Pere, and Louis Keeler, Shell Lake, Sales Managers; Frank Vuchetich, Park Falls, Photographer; Marvin Pratt, River Falls, Art; Section Editors: Ruth Robinson, Hudson; Lura Ross, Hudson, Ben Patterson; Crystal Myrick, Elk Mound; Gwendith Dopkins, Hersey; Anthony Runte, Milwaukee; Dagmar Pederson, River Falls, Typist.

A large shipment went to the Bureau of Engraving in December and more will be sent next week. Some proofs have already been received.

The class sections are to be large this year.

The work in campus photography will be a high-light this year, according to reports.

Due to arrangements made with the Bureau of Engraving last week, the December discount on pages in the 1932 Meletean is to be extended this year to February 1.

This will enable those who could not make their full payment in December to still have the benefit of the lower rate.

Treasurers should take advantage of this extension of time.

President Ames to Attend Conference

President J. H. Ames will attend the University of Minnesota conference on the education of teachers in Minneapolis on January 15 and 16.

The meeting will include a discussion on 75 listed issues on the curriculum of teacher training.

The meetings will be held in the reception room of the Minnesota Union on the university campus.

A luncheon will be held on the university campus Saturday noon.

Miss Louise Hansen, of Turtle Lake, was called home Saturday afternoon by the death of her father, who underwent a serious operation last week.

Three Local Students Are Officials in High Games

Harry Roes, Arnie Larsen and John Schliet are basketball officials with good reputations in the high schools of this part of the state.

Roes has been in the game for a number of years, but to Larsen and Schliet the work is comparatively new. These men are well known in basketball circles and get a good deal of work as officials not only in local high schools, but in Minnesota as well. Harry officiates for Menomonic and Chippewa Falls regularly.

Stockdale to Address Rural Life Club Thursday

John Stockdale will talk to the Rural Life club Thursday evening at their regular weekly meeting in South hall. His subject will be on the possibilities of a rural teacher in the field of club work and community clubs.

Mr. Stockdale is well read on the subject and is experienced in the field of community club work.

"Y" Cabinets Enjoy Joint Session Tuesday Evening

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet members were guests of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet at a coffee party in the South hall social room Tuesday evening.

"The coffee was made to suit my taste, but before next time, however, I'll learn to eat cake without using a fork," exclaimed one young man. No doubt this is merely a hint that they would accept another invitation soon.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the Sophomore Class, Y. W. C. A., and all others who sent me flowers, letters and cards during my recent illness. As it is still a physical impossibility for me to write to all of you I take this opportunity to say "thank you."

Sincerely,

Fae V. Hanson

What Makes for Confidence in Teaching?

INDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES are to prospective teachers what the Volstead act was to founders of the W. C. T. U. Great reform movements of all ages have had their start in much the same way---in a hazy vision which remains distant yet beautiful to behold, at the same time furnishing excuses for lectures, notes for essayists, and sustenance for publishers.

The analogy may seem far-fetched. Individual differences, you say, do not constitute mere theory. Evidence to the contrary is found everywhere. Even the most settled educator bases his course on that principle.

Daily accounts are read of notable strides made by leading universities where the theory is put into practice.

And yet to the average student it remains aloof---something to be casually stored away among myriads of other class notes, and as speedily forgotten.

With due deference to the average student (whoever such an elect may be), is it surprising that one now leaves college with such a hazy idea of the work before him? No doubt this A. S. was selected carefully and his case well diagnosed before any regulation could be made which would outdo the constitution in endurance in spite of fluctuation conditions or varied personalities.

In order to conform to such regulations, it is quite necessary that individual preferences be ignored for a term of two, three, or four years. A student submits to the routine diet of facts to be swallowed at given intervals; he stoically reads the chapters assigned from a text bearing an 1897 copyright; he makes only a faint demur at the restrictions imposed by the average 16 hour schedule; and at the end of the prescribed treatment he wonders why the very thought of a teaching position frightens him.

When practice replaces theory, is it not logical to suppose that doubt gives way to assurance? I. E. J.

There is not much difficulty in confirming the mind to contemplate that which we have great desire to know. Watts

Piano, Too, May Come Back

MUSIC LOVERS were interested in a recent editorial published in the Minneapolis Journal. It told the story of the piano and that the piano was coming back into the living room again in place of mechanical music. The editor says in part, "A piano! It was the symbol of all luxury, of the Romance of wealth and culture in the late nineties."

Yet in a few years, and modern methods of manufacture brought the piano within reach of everyone.

But the mechanical piano abolished amateur playing, and the radio pushed aside these, and we went radio mad.

Alas, the advertising broadcast took possession of the new magic, and crooning and jazz drove real music from the air. A hungry hearted world is turning once more from machinery to life, and the once forgotten piano is dusted and tuned, while clumsy fingers seek again for the lost chord.

It may be hard on the neighbors when the amateur picks out Schumann or Mendelssohn with one finger, but no harder than the loud speaker and infinitely more promising.

After all, the finest appreciation of music is born of the attempt to create it.

We may still have the great music through the phonograph and the radio, but we shall better enjoy it, and sooner outgrow the atrocities of the present broadcast if we learn once more to make music of our own, however clumsy. It is the doing, not merely the possessive receiving, that trains the mind and expands the soul.

It is every man's duty to labor in his calling, and not to despond for any miscarriage or disappointments that were not in his own power to prevent. L'Esrange

Beauty in a College Town

RIVER FALLS AND VICINITY offers much to the lover of the out-of-doors from a scenic and a recreational standpoint.

The campus of the College is unusual in its size and its trees. It is as beautiful in winter as it is in any season of the year. The soft, light snow of the past week has beautified the trees and given them new proportions.

The Mounds, with their gradual slopes, offer the skiing or tobogganing enthusiast a wonderful playground.

Ice skating on Lake George or the upper pond is excellent.

A hike thru Glen park and past the second power house down river is worthwhile. The deer of the park will be seen as you hike along.

The Kinnickinnick river, as it meanders southward, presents many unusual, interesting and beautiful picture studies.

If you'd like to feast your eyes on beauty, add some beautiful photographs to your collection, and enjoy the stimulation of a few hours out-of-doors, don your boots and hiking togs and you'll come home from your hike, or sport with a keener appreciation of River Falls and the beauty of Nature.

The college band at the conference game with Eau Claire last Thursday evening showed the only school spirit in evidence. Congratulations Mr. Schliep and the band!

The majority of the students were there. The cheer leaders, in spotless white shirts and snappy red ties were also present.

Because the Falcons had the game "in the sack," why stay at the game passively, expressionless? Why come at all if you're not going to express yourself?

The team and the coach deserve your support and enthusiasm.

Get that good old River Falls spirit alive---rekindle it if you have to, but let's see it and hear it! N. C. R.

The library should be partitioned into two rooms. One could be used for study and the other could be used for the numerous other purposes a student finds for a library. This would give the ambitious students a chance to concentrate, and still provide for the more socially inclined. C. A. D.

Why not adopt the conference style of teaching here as applied in Oxford University, England. You make an appointment to smoke, drink, talk and sleep with your instructor. New Books Worth Reading

POST-MORTEM
By
Noel Coward

IN TIMES LIKE THESE, when the disarmament conference is big news, such a book as Post Mortem by Noel Coward (a play in eight scenes) is of pertinent interest and value to River Falls students.

John Cavan, dying in a dugout in 1917, revisits London of 1930 in this brilliant, barbed and passionate indictment of a world that learned nothing from war.

This is a new NOEL COWARD, with the old gleaming and mordant style but with a deeper and more fierce sincerity, a satirist who indicts the hypocrisies of a false and gaudy civilization, with no sacrifice of dramatic intensity.

His courage, his daring was excellent,

But, ah me, alas, alack---
Going down on just one.
Though it ought to be fun
Nearly broke poor Arnie's back!

From out its cave
Its fiery breath exhaling;

And swooped upon its prey below
With claws to rend and tear.

Alas, alack
Though strong and fierce
In vain the dragon breathes its fire
The bird keeps up
It's dread onslaught
With courage mounting high and

Ka-jak! Ka-jak!
The sound resounds
The Falcon soars again
The dragon foiled by wit and skill
Lies vanquished on the plain. F.A.N.

River Falls took a 30 to 22 defeat at Macalaster college last Saturday in their fourth encounter with Minnesota college teams this season. Although they had many chances, their shots missed the loop most of the time, it is reported.

Win First Conference Game

Sinking baskets from almost any angle, the Falcons outpointed Eau-Claire Thursday night to win their first conference game 47-23.

Seig of Eau Claire, started the scoring with a field goal and Eau-Claire, outplaying River Falls, held a two point lead for the first few minutes.

Morrow then sank two baskets in quick succession to put the Falcons ahead by two points. Two baskets by Mattson, followed by LaDusire's quick counter and a free throw by Morrow left the score at 14-4 and from that time on the Falcons were never in danger. The half ended with Eau-Claire trailing 24-10.

The game was interrupted by many substitutes on the part of the Falcons.

A marked improvement was seen in the teamwork and passing of the Falcons. Mattson led the attack with 16 points. Helixon's superb floor work and defense play was a feature.

Moorehead is Easy Prey

Piling up a big lead at the start, the River Falls Teachers won an easy victory over the Moorehead teachers Monday.

River Falls led 16-5 at the half and maintained this lead throughout the game.

The Falcons turned a game doped to be a hard one into an easy victory when they found the basket at will and outplayed the Dragons in every department of the game.

The play of the Falcons was by far the best it has been during the season. They set up an almost impenetrable defense only permitting the Dragons two field goals the first half and not until the game was 12 minutes old did the Dragons register the first one.

Not only did Helixon and Kuss star defensively, but they also started the Falcon plays and helped the forwards work the ball in close for short shots.

Morrow at center and the forwards put on this season's best demonstration of offensive basket ball.

Students will find Chow Mein and Chili Con Carni always on hand at the GLENN PARK KITCHEN LODGE

Appears in Lineup

Fred "Pat" Mattson of Edgewater has played good basket ball to date for the Falcon team.

He has filled in very capably this year; his fine shooting being a real asset.

Did Morrow ever go hot in the Moorehead game? And how! And it is a treat to watch "Laddy" perform.

The freshmen had hard luck in their game. They should have drawn Moorehead. Lampson and Schneider looked good though.

If any student wants to get his money's worth he should witness any one of the many intramural games now being staged. They are free. Messrs. Runte and Anderson look like certain varsity material. They use the Minnesota back-hand dribble.

The first essential that the freshmen are taught upon their entrance to the pool: Keep cool! If the coach looks at you in a voice as though you couldn't swim look back at him in a tone as though you could.

I bet a little lunch went a long way for the Moorehead basketball center.

Peds Play Basketball Game on Roller Skates

Two of the peds from Holmen played in a unique basketball game during the holidays. Palmer Severson and Friend Terpstra were a part of the team from Holmen which donned roller skates and defeated the West Salem five on their own floor. Those who were in the fray say that basketball on roller skates is an extremely difficult as well as a rough game.

Falcons Point for Game With Yellow Jackets

Superior Completes Heavy Schedule of Preliminary Games Successfully

Just what the outcome of the River Falls-Superior game next Friday will be nobody is able to say, with any assurance. Even though Coach Ted Wheratt has been "singing the blues" about his team, he nevertheless appears to have a fast traveling quintet.

With numerous returned lettermen and a good stiff preliminary schedule, from which they've come out ahead in their games, the Yellow Jackets chances appear considerably better.

However, the fact of the matter is that Superior has played a heavy schedule and may have lost that early season snap that the Falcon five is achieving.

As the Falcons started slow and are coming along faster and faster, it looks as though the Falcons will soar to a win. With a fighting spirit that lasts longer and a steadier play throughout the game, fans look to a win with a margin of but a very few points.

One thing is certain; they can't duplicate our guards.

Intramural Caging League Commences

The intra-mural basketball league is now in full swing. On Monday afternoon the season opened for the young men of the institution. The early games are played for the purpose of classification of teams into the two divisions, the A group and the B group.

Freshmen Lose to Fast North High Quintet

In a fast and exciting preliminary to the Moorehead game, the freshmen took their first defeat by losing to North High of Minneapolis 31-27.

Although trailing the whole game, the frosh played good ball and were commended on their fine floor play and spirit in defeat.

Schneider and Lampson starred for the freshman while Siegel and Garter led the visiting team to victory. Coach Schlicht's team showed a decided improvement since their last game. Fans agreed it was a good game to watch.

Local "Y" Members Get Important Assignments

A meeting represented by the committees of the various Y. organizations met January 9 at the University of Minnesota campus for the purpose of planning the coeducational, faculty, student conference to be held at Lake Independence, Minnesota, in April.

From our group J. P. Jacobson, Ruth Robinson, and Evelyn Volla were present. They report that our local organization has been chosen to arrange the program to be given for the occasion. It was suggested that it be a dramatic presentation of the plan, purpose and spirit of the Lake Geneva conference. An annual Lake Geneva Banquet will again be celebrated.

Have You Noticed? . .

When the other fellow acts that way, he is ugly; when you do, it's nerves?

When the other fellow is set in his way, he's obstinate; when you are, it is just firmness?

When the other fellow doesn't like your friend, he's prejudiced; when you don't like his, you are simply showing that you are a good judge of human nature?

When the other fellow tries to treat some one especially well, he's toadying; when you try the same game, you are using tact?

When the other fellow takes time to do things, he is dead slow; when you do it, you are deliberate?

When the other fellow picks flaws in things, he's cranky; when you do, you are discriminating?

When the other fellow gets destructive it is toughness; with you it is forcefulness?

When the other fellow dresses extra well, he's a dude; when you do, it is simply a duty one owes to society? (Author unknown)

The new lights at Northland college have spoiled the ardent love-making of the shy northern lads and lassies on the college campus during the hours from dusk to dawn. Although a few protests are heard, the love-lorn are seeking new abodes and night-walking has been made safe on the Northland campus.—The Student Life. (Northland College Paper)

Voice Staff Spends Many Hours Putting Out Paper

The editors figured up the average amount of time they spend on The Student Voice every week recently. The managing editors each spent 15 hours a week and the news editors each spent seven hours of their time on the publication. If all of the hours spent on The Student Voice every week were totaled, the figure would be over 100.

This includes all of the student time spent by the entire staff in preparing one edition for its readers. The figures are not mere approximations, but have been carefully compiled by a member of the staff.

All of the students on the staff carry regular programs besides the extra work on this publication.

Jacobson and Howard Talk Before Agrifallians

Edwin Howard, senior in the agriculture department gave a talk on the merits of casein at the Agrifallian meeting last week. Everett Jacobson, a junior in the department, also talked to the men. His subject was an explanation of the new tax on oleomargarine.

A committee was appointed to send flowers to Clifford Nelson the president of the organization who has been out of school since his appendicitis operation before the holidays.

Roomers at Gallup's Enjoy Party

The students rooming at Gallup's were entertained last week by their landlady and her family.

Each person at the party was responsible for one of the refreshments served. Dancing and games furnished the entertainment.

Those present were: Ruth McIntyre, Barron; Margaret Burkholder, Hudson; Christi Njos, Baldwin; Irwin Lotz, New Richmond; and Mrs. Frances, Marjorie, and Glen Gallup.

Local Science Professor to Talk on Prohibition

Dr. R. A. Karges, of the chemistry department of the River Falls State Teachers college, will be one of the feature speakers in this city's "Institute on Prohibition and Law Observance" to be held Monday morning at the Methodist church.

Dr. Karges is very much interested in the subject and according to those who have heard him, has many fine points on the question to be discussed at the meetings.

Dr. Karges recently talked to the men students of the college on a similar subject.

Other River Falls speakers on the program are the Reverend Arthur S. Johnson, of the Lutheran church, and Mrs. R. C. Mooney, active in the local W. C. T. U. circles.

Personals, Alumni News

Ethel Severson was called to her home at Colfax on Saturday because of the death of her grandmother.

Miss Haddow, Miss Schlosser, Mrs. Schlosser, Miss Fobes, Miss Delander, Miss Weberg, Miss Hathorn, Mrs. Grimm, and Mr. and Mrs. Eide enjoyed the play given at the Theatre Guild in St. Paul last Saturday.

George "Buck" White, class of '30, brought his junior high school basketball team to the local court Monday for a tussle with the training school team. "Buck" is teaching at New Richmond.

Skiing and tobogganning were in vogue the past Sunday on Reservoir Mound and other good hills near by. If participants were to be judged on performances, Arnie Larson would undoubtedly be crowned champion of the day.

Miss Inez Rewey of the training school gave an interesting travelogue of her vacation in the South at the Y. W. C. A. meeting last evening. She described the Southern cities, particularly Miami, the Bok Singing Tower, and the Fountain of Youth. Her talk was supplemented by slides of pictures she had obtained on her trip.

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet, in all sincerity, lauds the Y. W. C. A. as an outstanding woman's association on the campus. Such an opinion was more vociferous and unanimous after sharing in the tryouts of the new coffee urn that the girls have in the South hall social room.

Better Keep It

Rastus and his wife, driving to town in their decrepit car, had parked it casually in the first available space. While they were away a traffic officer attached a numbered tag to the vehicle for parking in a prohibited zone.

On their return Rastus noticed the tag and was for throwing it into the street, but Rebecca restrained him. "Sabe de ticket, honey," she advised. "Dat number might win sumthin'."--Praire Farmer.
