11th Grassroots Conference highlighted by Dick Gregory

Schwengel

Gregory

Friday, 10 a.m. in Karges gym

Dick Gregory, comedian and civil rights advocate, will be featured in the 11th annual Grassroots Politics Conference which will be held here March 11, 12, 14, 15.

Gregory is one of five speakers who will discuss the theme "The Causes of Our Discontents" encompassing such issues as Vietnam, student unrest, racism, poverty and drugs.

Gregory, who has appeared on national television as an entertainer and has been arrested many times for marching in civil rights demonstrations, is running as an independent candidate for president in the 1968 elections. Gregory wrote an autobiography, "Nigger," which became a bestseller and is author of a new book entitled "Sermons."

Gregory, sponsored by the Concerts and Lectures Committee, will speak Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Karges Center.

The political conference was opened by Billie S. Farnum this morning. Farnum is deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee and served as a congressman from Michigan in 1964-66.

The annual Young Democrats and Young Republican banquet will be held on Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Ballroom of the Student Center. A debate between Republican Assemblyman Jack Steinhilber and Democratic Assemblyman Fred Kessler will be featured.

Steinhilber was elected to the Wisconsin Assembly by the Oshkosh voters in 1966, having previously served as district attorney of Winnebago County.

Steinhilber has been a state leader in the areas of highway safety, air and water pollution, student load programs and a bill that would make economics a required high school and vocational school course.

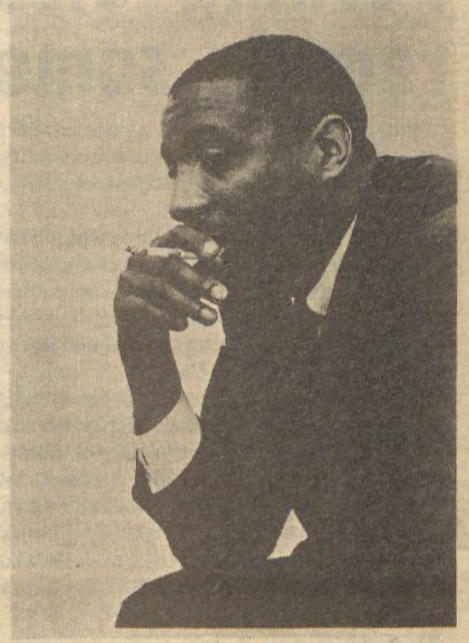

Kessler was elected to the Assembly in 1960 as a representative from Milwaukee. He was defeated for Senate in 1962 and re-elected for the Assembly in 1964 and 1966. In 1964 Kessler worked with Governor Reynolds' staff on the reapportionment of court cases.

Kessler is a member of the Legislative Council committee.

The political conference, which is sponsored by the political science department and Student Senate, will end with an all-school convocation featuring the Honorable Fred Schwengel, republican congressman from Iowa.

Schwengel, a former school teacher and insurance agent, served in the Iowa House of Representatives for five terms before his election to the 84th Congress. He has been re-elected every term since 1954 except for a defeat in the Johnson election in 1964.

The all-school convocation will be on Friday at 10 a.m. in Karges Center.

War and economics referenda included

Candidates chosen for Choice 68 ballot

Student directors have determined the candidates and the referenda that will appear on the National Collegiate Presidential Primary, CHOICE 68, ballot.

After meeting in Washington, D.C. for two days, the area directors announced that they had selected a slate of 14 candidates for the primary. The candidates are: Fred Halstead, Socialist Worker; Mark O. Hatfield, Rep.; Lyndon B. Johnson, Dem.; Robert F. Kennedy, Dem.; Martin Luther King, Independent; John V. Lindsay, Rep.; Eugene J. McCarthy, Dem.; Richard M. Nixon, Rep.; Charles H. Percy, Rep.; Ronald W. Reagan, Rep.; Nelson A. Rockefeller, Rep.; George W. Romney, Rep.; Harold E. Stassen, Rep.; and George C. Wallace, American Independent.

The students also decided that three referendum questions should be included on the ballot. Two deal with the country's involvement in the Vietnam War and the third concerns the priorities of government spending in confronting the "urban crisis." The two Vietnam questions ask what course United States military action should now take and what course should the U.S. follow in regards to bombing North Vietnam.

Any student currently enrolled in an American college of university will be eligible to vote in the CHOICE 68 election. This includes graduate, part-time and foreign students, as well as those studying abroad in American branch universities.

JOHNSON LAUDS CHOICE 68

During the Washington meeting, President Lyndon Johnson spent nearly an hour and a half talking with the directors about their plans for CHOICE 68. The President said that this type of vote would be highly significant. He also said that when students expressed their opinion intelligently, people across the nation "stop, look, listen and evaluate." He added that he thought a stronger vote amongst the nations youth would favor the Democratic candidates and policies.

The President ended the meeting by wishing the students and CHOICE 68 success.

ANDERSON CHOSEN AS ADVISER

On the River Falls campus, Francis Haines, campus coordinator, announced that Dr. Raymond Anderson, professor of political science, had accepted the faculty advisor position.

Weiss to be third Senate vice-president

Senate has elected Wayne Weiss its third vice-president for this school year at last Wednesday's Student Senate meeting.

Former Vice-president Clay Halverson resigned from his office because he was unable to make at least a 2.0 grade point average for winter quarter.

Halverson succeeded John Harter to the vice-presidency of Senate when Harter resigned from Senate early in winter quarter for the same reason.

Senate officers must maintain a 2.0 grade point average each quarter in order to retain their offices.

Y-Dems answer Vietnam increase in troops with strong anti-war resolution

The WSU-River Falls Young Democrats unanimously passed a resolution against the Vietnam War last Thursday night. At a meeting attended by more than twenty students, a strong resolution was passed. According to members of the club the resolution was passed partly on the basis of the new demands for more troops for the war.

The resolution reads as follows:

Whereas, the WSU-RF Young Democrats have consistently expressed doubts as to our present involvement in Vietnam, and Whereas, they believe that involvement to be indefensible on moral, legal, and historical grounds, and

Whereas, they regard the recent request to further the U.S. involvement in this unjustifiable war by committing 200,000 additional troops to the conflict as not being in accord with the heritage and traditions of America,

Be it therefore resolved that WSU-RF Young Dems urge that President Johnson deny the request for additional troops.

Be it further resolved that the WSU-RF Young Dems call for the immediate cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam, and recognition of the National Liberation Front as a partner in negotiations to establish a coalition government for Vietnam.

Also at the meeting it was decided that the club would canvass the dormitories for both memberships and attendance at the Grassroots banquet to be held next week.

The group also made plans for the upcoming state convention to be held in Madison the 29-30-31 of March. It was announced last week by the state organization that Senator Eugene McCarthy will be a speaker at that convention.

Protests called legitimate

"Protests which infringe on the rights of others are legitimate under some circumstances," Bob Glinner, Sociology Department said during a panel discussion on "Protests, are they justified?" in the Student Center dining area last Tuesday.

In opposition to this, Gordon Fleury, a student member of the panel, said, "To try to take away the rights of others is an injustice."

Other members of the panel were Vern Elefson, Agriculture Department; Ray Anderson, Political Science Department, serving as moderator, and John Peterson, the other student panel member.

Also in answer to Glinner's statement, Fleury said, "I am leary as to what those conditions are."

Backing up Fleury's statement, Elefson said, "I don't object to protests as such. I do object to protests that infringe upon the rights of others."

Glinner justified his position by contending that criminals have their rights taken away from them when they commit a crime and therefore we have the right to punish those others who are breaking the fundamental laws that our country is based on until they conform.

Elefson said he did not have much confidence in self-appointed judges of society. He felt that this could lead to anarchy.

The hour long discussion sponsored by the Campus Committee to End the War in Vietnam ended with a question and answer period with questions from the audience of about 100 students and faculty.

Soulingy gets first job as Student Affairs member

Student Affairs Committee members Bill Webster, Bruce Williamson, Joe Koutney and the newly named member, Rich Soulingy, were appointed to meet with Theta Chi representative, Ed Jacobsen to go over the national constitution.

This was the first meeting which Rich Soulingy attended as a member. He was appointed to fill the position vacated by Jean Larson who resigned the committee.

Dr. Richard Darr and Francis Haines reported to the committee on an installment payment problem which Alan Tronrud had previously brought to the committee's attention. They said that, after seeing William Parker, director of housing and Cletus Hendrickson, business manager of the University, it was found that Tronrud had been lax in meeting installment payments before.

They felt the business office was justified in requesting Tronrud to make his payments in one installment. They also felt that no discrimination was being shown Tronrud by dealing with the matter in this way and although it was the first time this had happened, any similar situation would be handled in the same manner.

John Peterson, a student at River Falls, appeared before the committee with the request that a uniform code for both protesters and authorities be adopted for use in demonstrations on campus. His request arose from incidents during the Dow Chemical demonstration in which he felt authorities handled the situation poorly.

He brought with him a proposal for a uniform code. Douglas Davis pointed out that the committee had already drawn up a proposal of this type after the Hathorn

Peace Corps test

The Peace Corps Placement Test will be given March 16 at 8:15 a.m., Room 100 North Hall.

Further information may be obtained from A. D. Barrett.

Anyone who is planning to take the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) April 27, must apply now. Applications made after April 2, will be charged an additional $3.

Interrogative

Space under this heading will be made available to the students of Wisconsin State University - River Falls each week. INTERROGATIVE will be a form of Action Line.

Each week a question or questions from RF students will be printed here along with an answer obtained in an investigation by members of the VOICE staff.

In many cases, VOICE staff members would be more likely to know where to get the answers to questions about campus policies or problems than the regular student. Therefore, the VOICE staff invites you to let us help you with your problems and questions. Each question will be answered privately if not printed. Names must be submitted with questions, but will be withheld upon request.

Questions may be submitted to INTERROGATIVE by leaving them in the VOICE mailbox in the Student Center Director's Office; the Publications office, 209 Student Center, in 310 North Hall on the Daily Supplement Spike or by contacting Rich Marshall, 324 Grimm Hall, Ext. 289.

Fine art festival runs March 17-24

The premiere of a commissioned composition by Donald Erb will be one of the highlights of the University Fine Arts Festival. Erb, Composer-in-Residence at The Cleveland Institute of Music, will be on campus during the festival which runs from March 17 to 24.

Music Department concerts including Erb's works will be held in the North Hall Auditorium on March 20, 21, and 22. Erb's Bakersfield Pieces for Orchestra will be featured in a St. Croix Valley concert on March 24.

Three Pieces for Brass Quintet and Piano, which was commissioned for River Falls will be premiered at the March 21 concert. Other Erb works included in this program are Correlations, Dance Pieces, Hexagon, Fallout, and Kryie.

The concert on March 22 will feature Compendium, Spacemusic, Reticulation, and Stargazing, all of which were composed by Erb.

Parking rules remain same

University parking regulations will not be changed for spring quarter, according to Neil Barron, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

No parking is allowed on either side of the drive from Cascade Avenue south to the Stratton Hall parking lot or on either side of the drive from Cascade Avenue to the blacktop surfaced lot at the corner of Hathorn Hall.

The only parking areas to be without a parking permit sticker displayed are the gravel surfaced lot south of Stratton Hall, the small blacktop surfaced lot at the south-west corner of Hathorn Hall, both sides of the graveled road-way below the hill south-west of Hathorn Hall, and the gravel surfaced lot north of the Ames Laboratory School.

WSU system 6th in nation

The Wisconsin State University system is the sixth largest higher education system in the nation according to a report on college and University enrollments compiled by a University of Cincinnati professor. The system, which placed seventh last year, is growing much faster than the national average.

The nine-university system increased 15 per cent in full-time enrollment and 3.5 per cent in full-time freshmen. The national average is a 6.2 per cent increase in full-time students and a 2.3 per cent increase in full-time freshmen.

The top ten higher education systems in full-time enrollment this year are: (1) State University of New York, 139,454; (2) California State Colleges 122,637; (3) University of California, 91,494; (4) City University of New York, 64,969; (5) University of Minnesota, 46,088; (6) Wisconsin State University System, 45,618; (7) University of Wisconsin, 44,267; (8) University of Texas, 42,774; (9) University of Illinois, 40,391; (10) Ohio State University, 38,666.

Hall women's hours demonstration and that it had been sent to the Faculty Senate where it was given approval and sent back to the committee.

In continuing debate over the proper use of lounge areas in residence halls, Herbert Cederberg, Phyllis Tousey, Sunny Knoll and Kurt Wild, head of the art department attended a meeting with Dr. William Munns, vice-president of Student Affairs and the director of housing. The administration agreed to draw up a proposal to review the blueprints of the dorms and submit it to a fire marshal pending his approval as to where a student could paint. Dr. Darr felt this was "merely a ploy to delay" action on this issue and Cederberg's reaction was that they were attempting to "subvert effort" to reach a decision. The committee wants a deadline for a decision by the administration to clear up the matter.

The subcommittee for the Prologue Investigation reported to the members and a motion was made and seconded to make the report a formal resolution, for future use.

AWS sets election

An Associated Women Students (AWS) all-member election was arranged at the Tuesday night meeting of the AWS Executive Board. The election, held Monday included balloting for Executive Board members, a proposed AWS By-Laws change, a Special Events Committee poll, and a poll concerning married women students' voluntary membership in AWS.

Candidates running for the three positions on the AWS Executive Board were: Joyce Pace, Dawn Piirto, Dorothy Mack, upperclass representative; Sue R. Nelson, Mary Horton, IAWS coordinator; Barbara Hopf, Charlotte O'Neill, Sandy Peters, Anne Parnell, member-at-large.

Suggestions for the Special Events Committee poll included guest speakers, a self-improvement program by Patricia Stevens Modeling School, a fashion show, conferences, workshops, special programs, and an AWS sponsored Pom Pom group for River Falls games.

Search and seizure, right to legal council and drug abuse United Council Assembly topics Room search and seizure was one of the topics discussed at the 1968 Winter United Council (UC) held at WSU-Stevens Point Friday and Saturday, Feb. 23 and 24, attended by several WSU-River Falls students.

Other areas discussed were rights of students to employ professional legal council when appearing before university judiciary boards, the Hershey Memorandum, deferred payments for student fees, absentee ballots for students and drug abuse.

Student Senate President Bob Rasmussen and Senator Chuck Feltes, the two voting delegates from River Falls at the United Council Assembly Feb. 24, attempted to include that room searches must be conducted at a reasonable hour.

The proposed amendment met with opposition from two thirds of the delegates from the nine Wisconsin State Universities, led by the two delegates from Whitewater. The amendment failed with a vote of 6-12.

The Due Process resolution does set up a procedure for searches. "Except under extreme emergency circumstances, premises occupied by students and the personal possessions of students should not be searched unless appropriate authorization has been obtained. For premises such as residence halls controlled by the institution, an appropriate and responsible authority should be designated to whom application should be made before a search is conducted. The application should specify the reasons for the search and the objects or information sought. The student must be present during the search. For premises not controlled by the institution, the ordinary requirements for lawful search should be followed."

This resolution also set up requirements for hearing committee proceedings, and defined the status of students pending final action on charges of any violations.

This resolution among others that were passed by the UC will be presented to the Wisconsin State Board of Regents for consideration.

In discussion of hearing committee proceedings, Oshkosh attempted to amend the Due Process resolution with the object to delete the possibility of students hiring professional lawyers to defend their cases. River Falls, Eau Claire and La Crosse opposed the proposed amendment by arguing that in a situation such as expulsion the student would want the best possible defense.

The resolution considering the Hershey Memorandum which deals with General Hershey's proposal that students who participate in illegal demonstrations be reclassified states that the UC "go on record as strongly opposing the 'Hershey Memorandum'," and "urges that the Selective Service System reevaluate its present recommended policy as stipulated in the 'Hershey Memorandum' of Oct. 26, 1967."

The UC also passed a resolution urging "the Board of Regents to establish a policy of deferred payments of fees (incidental and non-resident fees, tuition, textbook rentals, student activity and student union fees) in order to provide better opportunities for students to secure a college education."

Feeling that the present system for students obtaining absentee ballots "weakens the student's opportunity of practicing the constitutional right to vote," the UC passed a resolution stating that "A uniform system be developed by the state legislature which will make it possible for students to obtain an absentee ballot through the college or university at which they are enrolled."

Two resolutions coming out of the UC Drug Abuse Seminar were passed by UC. One states that each of the nine Wisconsin State Universities set up an educational program for their students on drug abuse. The other states that each university present a proposal by WSU-Stout to establish a campus attitude to their student governments for consideration without obligation to accept or reject the proposal.

Stout's proposed Drug Policy mainly states that since the misuse of marijuana and other drugs is in violation of the law that Stout cannot and will not protect students from prosecution under Federal or State laws.

The proposed policy also says that university physicians and counselors are available for help and that conferences with these people are privileged.

A third resolution from the drug abuse seminar failed. It intended that UC would not "condone the possession, consumption, purchase or sale of marijuana and other drugs on the campus of any Wisconsin State University." Oshkosh argued against the resolution stating, "We might as well pass a resolution condemning speeding on Highway 41." The general feeling of the UC assembly was that since the misuse of marijuana and other drugs is already unlawful, it is unnecessary to pass the resolution.

UC considered the possibility of having a lobbyist to represent UC at the state legislature. No definite arrangements can be made until a budget is presented at the spring UC meeting which will be held at WSU-Superior.

Each school in the council of presidents was given a special assignment to find the best way for possible assessment of university fees to go to the UC.

The Council of Presidents also discussed the possibility of including the branch campuses to UC.

WSU-Stout received the participation award at UC. Each time UC meets the university which participates the most in the activities receives the award. The host university, this time WSU-Stevens Point, makes the decision. Robert D. Johnson of WSU-Stout accepted the award for Stout.

First Edition returns for another concert

The First Edition have been contracted by the Student Senate for a second appearance at WSU-RF. They will be playing at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, March 19, in Karges Gym.

The First Edition appeared here during the Winter Carnival's International Talent Preview in February. This time they will be working with a comedian. The group will present two 40 minute shows with the comedian doing a 30 minute act in between.

Student Senate contracted the group for $1,750 and paid $250 for the comedian.

Tickets will be sold to students for $1 in advance and $1.50 at the door. All others attending will be charged a flat rate of $1.50.

Radio station bogged down

The university's radio station is apparently little closer to being on the air now than it was before Christmas.

Lorin Robinson, a faculty member responsible for the development of the station, reported last week that the station application is "bogged down" in Washington.

Robinson said that the application was accepted for consideration by the Federal Communications Commission in January, but that the first two frequencies reported led to unforeseen difficulties.

"Our first frequency choice would have interfered with a station recently granted to Carleton College in Northfield, Minn. Our second request might lead to interference with one of two stations run by St. John's College," Robinson said.

Robinson indicated that the St. John's station is planning a power increase which would probably result in interference.

"The station hasn't yet filed for the power increase. We've had our application in for several months, but the FCC indicates that if they get their paperwork in within 30 days, we will probably have to get involved in a lengthy and costly hearing."

Robinson said that, in order to avoid the possibility of a hearing, he has amended the application and requested a third alternative.

"If this one doesn't do it, we'll probably have to have that hearing," Robinson said.

But frequencies are apparently not the only trouble the station has been having.

According to Robinson, the state's commercial broadcasters, through the Wisconsin Broadcaster's Association, recently protested to the Board of Regents about what they termed the "proliferation" of state university radio stations.

"I'm glad to report that, even though the Regents did investigate the radio situation on the state campuses, they didn't take any action on this protest."

Robinson said that the commercial stations' concern is similar to a giant being afraid of a gnat.

"What these broadcasters can possibly fear from a handful of under powered, under financed, under staffed non-commercial stations on the air from four to eight hours a day is beyond me. They must really have an inferiority complex."

"The Wisconsin Press Association presented the same argument to the Regents decades ago about student newspapers. But our obviously more enlightened publishers realized that student activities like this provide trained personnel for their businesses."

Robinson said that while awaiting approval from the FCC the acquisition of equipment continues. To date some $5000 has been spent.

"Even though approval of our application may take longer than anticipated, I can see no reason why the station can't be broadcasting next Fall," Robinson said.

A Page of Editorial Comment

Prologue printed

The Prologue has been published. Under the pseudonym of the Prolaspe, the campus literary magazine defied administrators who would have its voice silenced. Instead of being "officially" published, The Prolaspe was printed in Madison through the facilities of the Students For a Democratic Society.

After the controversy surrounding Frederick Rusch's controversial introduction ebbed, it was doubtful whether the magazine would ever again be published. The advisor quit, the editors were up in arms against the administrators who censored the introduction and to top it off, the Student Senate refused to pay the editors for their work when the Senators discovered they could not act as publishers for the Prologue.

When the turmoil had subsided, the editors of the Prologue decided to go outside of the university community and have the magazine published on their own and then charge a small amount for each copy. They appealed to the SDS, and because this group has no complexes about protecting innocent ears, they agreed to publish the much discussed Prologue.

Our opinion after reading the Prolaspe is one of extreme letdown. It was much more effective as a controversy. There are few poems of any literary merit and the entire tone of the book is one of sophomoric writings and pseudo-literary doubletalk.

However, the magazine is for sale and we would encourage you to buy a copy. Not because it contains any literary masterpieces, which it surely doesn't, but because this controversial magazine has come into the open and the people should have a right to read (and perhaps yawn) over the Prolaspe.

We would ask one final question. Is this magazine the best of literary effort this university can put together? We surely hope not. If anyone was going to censor the Prolaspe it would not arise from its vile, obscene and radical thoughts but from the one basic fact that it would probably bore the reader to death. And that most assuredly would be a crime.

Hoppe Speaks

by Arthur Hoppe
Chronicle Features

"All right, men, man your posts," said Captain Buck Ace grimly, "and Remember the Alamo!"

"Excuse me, sir," said Private Oliver Drab, 378-18-4454, diffidently, "The what?"

"Don't tell me you don't remember the Alamo, soldier," said Captain Ace. "Why, that's where 182 heroic Texans held off the whole Mexican Army for days and days. 'I shall never surrender or retreat,' said their leader, Colonel Travis."

"Why not, sir?" asked Private Drab.

"Because heroes never surrender or retreat, son. That's why people remember the Alamo. And the reason I want you to remember it today is that you men are lucky enough to be in pretty much the same position."

"As the Mexican Army, sir?"

No, as the Texas heroes, Drab. See this map? We're holed up in this little valley and we've suckered the enemy into surrounding us on these hills on all four sides. They're going to have to give battle."

Private Drab nodded. "Just my luck," he said.

"So this is our chance, men," said Captain Ace, rubbing his hands, "to go down in history with the defenders of the Alamo."

"Oh, I'd like to go down in history, sir," agreed Private Drab. "I read the other day about this Russian who lived to be 148. I bet he goes down in history."

Do you want to live forever, Drab?"

"Well, sir, considering the alternatives . . ."

"Remember the Alamo, son! Think of those Texans, running low on ammunition, falling one by one, but each taking a dozen of the enemy with them."

"By actual body count, sir?"

"Think of how the names of James Bowie and Davy Crockett will live forever. Think of what a glorious thing it is for little school children to read about the Alamo"

"Oh. Well, I'll remember that, if you say so, sir. But, frankly, I'd just as leave remember Dien Bien Phu. Some of the French got out alive."

"Damn it, Drab," snapped the Captain, "they're counting on us to be heroes. Don't forget, the President himself is a Texan. He remembers the Alamo."

"I guess you're right, sir," said Private Drab apologetically, "but there's still one thing I don't understand."

"What's that, Drab?"

"If he remembers the Alamo, how did he ever get us in a fix like this?"

"The Captain was right about one thing, Oliver," Private Drab's friend, Corporal Partz, said later as the two crouched in a bunker. "It's a great thing to read about battles like this in the history books."

"What's so great about that?"

"Right now," said Corporal Partz, ducking as the mortar rounds crept closer, "I'd give my right arm for a guarantee that I'd get to read about this one afterward."

The Phalanx

by Rich Marshall

Editor introduces policy

I have changed the masthead at the foot of this page to read, "The STUDENT VOICE is not meant to be a public relations organ for the University." This is not meant as a threat or as a clue to a series of bitter attacks against the administration. Rather, it is a statement of policy.

The PHALANX will deal almost exclusively with this University. I have very definite biases about the war in Vietnam, racial problems and how to save the world, but this column will seldom be used to promote them. The PHALANX will attack the problems here on the Wisconsin State University-River Falls campus.

I feel that there are a number of serious faults in the way that this "University" is run. I feel that much of the "Moo U," "Silo Tech" and "Hayseed Normal" image of WSU-RF can be traced to dragging feet in North Hall. There are a number of administrative policies with which I violently disagree and will do my best to change in my year as editor.

The administration, however, is not the only institution on campus capable of improvement. Student Senate, Faculty Senate, Mother Ace and the student body as a whole all could find ways of improving themselves. Throughout the coming year, the PHALANX will be making some suggestions. I hope that they are not all ignored.

The PHALANX will not always be complementary to the University, but it will not necessarily mount one attack after another. If a person, action or organization merits, praise, the praise will appear here. I will attempt to keep this column balanced.

I believe that a student newspaper has the responsibility to act as a forum, interrogator and, if necessary, as a prod to keep the University community a vital, living institution. It must not be allowed to become stagnant or "slip into the rut." When and if the University does stop moving forward it becomes a farce.

PHALANX columns, in the near future will probe library hours, parking, recruiting, women's hours, Ace Foods and a number of administration policies.

I hope that through this paper and this column, I will be able to assess the attitudes and opinions of RF's student body and give it what it can call a STUDENT VOICE.

Feedback—

I fully agree with the editorial, "Who Will Die," on the hazardous situation on Cascade. Something will have to be done.

I have but one question: which of the hundred odd crossings between Main St. and Fourth St. do you find the most dangerous? I would guess the 25 odd crossings on Third and Cascade.

Since campus planning has decreed this congestion on the corner of Third and Cascade, there are two solutions.

1. As there are more students than cars, we should have a "Cascade Mall," with the same simple expensiveness of the Nicollet Mall.

2. If cars count more than people, the solution would be to have an underground tunnel, which could also be used evenings for social gatherings of one sort or another.

CHANGE IN FILMS

"Red River of Life" will be shown instead of "Our Bible: How It Came To Us." An unexpected problem prevented the obtaining of the originally intended film.

"Red River of Life" pictures the inside of a beating human heart and how it operates. It also explains how life hangs by a very slender thread, the chemistry of the red blood cell. This film is supported by scientific fact and Biblical and secular history.

The film will be shown Monday night, March 11 at 8:00 in the North Hall Auditorium. Admission is free. It is sponsored by Baptist Student Fellowship Group.

U.A.B. GAMES COMMITTEE INTERVIEWS

The University Activities Board-Games Committee will be holding interviews for a vacant position on the committee this Tuesday afternoon, March 12 at 2 p.m. in the Student Senate office. All interested students are urged to attend. This committee is in charge of all the Crazy Kollege Kapers and eating contests throughout the year, well as Winter Olympics and the Gameroom in the Student Center Building.

STUDENT FOUNDATION COMMITTEE INTERVIEWS

The Student Foundation Committee will be holding interviews for two positions: one soph and one junior, on March 14, in Room 200. Anyone interested is encouraged to come.

BETA BETA BETA

Tri-Beta will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday, March 12 in Room 329 Ag-Science at 7 p.m.

UNITED CAMPUS MINISTRY

The United Campus Ministry will sponsor a group to Eau Claire on March 13 for a program by Rev. Malcolm Boyd. Reve Boyd, author of "Are You Running With Me Jesus?" and "Free to Live, Free to Die" is being sponsored by the Eau Claire Council of Religious Organizations. Anyone interested in attending should contact Rev. Dan Jonas as soon as possible.

The United Campus Ministry will sponsor a two session series on "The Pill" at 7 p.m. on March 18 and March 25 at Karges Center. An introductory film "Birth Control and the Law" will be shown on March 18. A panel discussion with Dr. James Cicero, M.D.; Dr. Howard Smith, philosophy department, WSU-RF; and Rev. Richard Truitt, River Falls Methodist Church will be the program for the March 25 session. Everyone is welcome to attend.

LUAU

King Kamehameha will rein over the annual Hawaiian luau at 7:30 p.m. on March 16 in the Student Center Ballroom. The luau, sponsored by the Special Events Committee of UAB, will have Hawaiian food, Hawaiian entertainment, Hawaiian decorations. Free hula lessons will be given. All faculty and students are invited to attend.

UAB announces luau plans

Plans for the annual Hawaiian luau, sponsored by the Special Events Committee, were announced at the University Activities Board (UAB) meeting Tuesday night. The luau will be held at 7:30 p.m. on March 16, in the Student Center Ballroom. A Hawaiian meal, Hawaiian entertainment and dance will be featured.

The board discussed various suggestions for increasing attendance at UAB sponsored movies, possibly including a combined movie and dance, foreign films, underground films, and a film festival. A suggestion for rescheduling movies to a different night of the week was also discussed.

Hockey season best

Despite a late start, the Falcon hockey team compiled its best record since the advent of hockey as a major sport. The Falcon sextet picked up nine wins against a lone loss to St. Cloud.

Due to the sudden departure of last year's coach, Dr. Walt Granata, the team was left without a coach or schedule of games. Added to this was the long-awaited decision on the budget for the hockey program.

Fortunately for the University, Tom Younghans, a graduate student at WSU-RF stepped in and volunteered his services as head coach. Subsequently a budget was approved and Younghans hurriedly assembled as much of a schedule as was possible. The team was provided with new uniforms and proceeded to prove that the money was well spent. The opening game saw the Falcon pucksters defeat the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame 8-6, before a packed house at the Ice Center in Golden Valley.

The season was highly successful as the St. Paul-bred skaters revenged their only loss to St. Cloud and defeated all-comers until the meager schedule ran out on them. Frigid crowds saw the million-dollar line of Joe Broneak, Shorty Vogland, and Duane Selander play fast exciting hockey to combine for a total of 55 points. They thrilled to the hard-skating former All-American Jerry Trooien as he led the line of Jerry Coe, Trooien, and Gene Hoff on dazzling power plays. Trooien was the team's leading scorer as he compiled 29 points. Hard-hitting John Humphrey connected for 23 points to tie Selander for second place in scoring honors. Humphrey and Trooien amassed their points despite seeing much action as defensemen. Other scoring leaders were Shorty Vogland with 18, Joe Broneak with 14, and Jerry Coe with 10.

Rock-solid defense was provided by the sturdy veteran Jon Swenson and sophomore Jim Brindley. Co-Captain Pete Boelter played an outstanding game in the nets against the Irish as he allowed only 6 goals while stopping 33 shots on goal. A subsequent injury (which ironically occurred while he was cleaning the rink in preparation for a game) caused Coach Younghans to utilize Dick Darmody in the Falcon cage. "Darms" played in nine games finishing with a .959 average. Reserve goalie Greg Lindberg played in one game finishing with a .915 average.

The Falcons were among the hockey teams considered for the first National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament held in St. Paul March 6 and 7. The tourney was won by Bemidji State.

An attempt is now being made to organize a conference of Wisconsin and Minnesota schools, should this materialize the Falcons could very well be the terror of small college hockey in this area.

Chosen as the club's Most Valuable Player was wing Joe Broneak. The Cretin High graduate will also be a co-captain next year, as his teammates selected Broneak and ace Goalie Dick Darmody to lead the 1968-69 Falcon hockey team. A foreseeable problem on the horizon of Falcon hockey fortune is the hiring of a full time coach. This is necessary to even further insure top notch performances such as young Mr. Younghans provided as he gave so generously of his time and talent.

Runners lose

River Falls traveled to Morehead State Saturday and met the toughest competition it will meet all season.

Morehead State won the meet with 68 points, followed by North Dakota State 64 1/2, University of Manitoba 16, and River Falls 2 1/2. The competition was well out of the RF bracket as some of the times may prove.

A highlight of the day came when Ron Monscuc, Morehead, ran the 60 yard dash in 6.0 seconds, one-tenth of a second off the existing world's record. The two-mile-run by Clint Chamberlin, Morehead State, also bettered the Big Ten Record, which is an example of the Falcons' opponents.

River Falls points were scored by Dick Nerbun in the high jump. He tied for second, jumping six-feet even.

With the toughest meet out of the way, Coach Smith and the RF trackmen can settle down for a hopefully fine season.

Oshkosh wins title

Falcon Five places 7th

Oshkosh State finally won the University Conference cage title after suffering two defeats late in the season. The Titans, led by Ron Hayek, finished the season with a 13-3 record, one game ahead of Stout and two ahead of Stevens Point. Platteville, La Crosse, Whitewater, and River Falls battled for first division in a very close race.

Hayek and Bill Heidemann, Stout, shared scoring honors with 362 points apiece for a 22.6 average. Mike Hughes, Stevens Point, followed with 325 points (21.7), and Joel Hafner, La Crosse, contributed 319 markers (21.3). The Falcons' entries in the top ten were Bill Van Dyke and Steve Gustafson with 289 and 240 points respectively.

Van Dyke scored the most season points (384) for the Falcons and he also led in rebounds with 217. George Voss nipped Bill Glomski in the free throw department by one percentage point (.73) and Voss also topped the list with 34 steals. Denny Burich contributed 50 assists and a team high.

So, another season comes to a close with the Falcon cagers supporting a 10-11 season record, completing their first campaign under Newman Benson. Coach Benson molded a team comprised of sophomores and juniors into a fine ball club and this seasons record is a great improvement over the cellar finish last season. The players feel they can take the title next season and with everyone back it would be exciting.

The bucketball season, like any other campaign has its ups and downs, its bright and disappointing moments. One of the most exciting and depressing moments came during the Superior game at River Falls. Four technical fouls were called resulting in the expulsion of Coach Benson and Van Dyke. This was depressing, but the crowd (as meek as it was) gave the two a standing ovation. It shows RF still does have a little school spirit left. Let's have that spirit next year.

On Feb. 21, the Falcons traveled to Stout to renew its rivalry. The Blue-devils, out for revenge of an earlier loss to the Falcons, staged a last minute rally to nip River Falls 75-70. River Falls led through most of the game only to lose in the last 30 seconds.

George Voss got in the spotlight by missing the bus to Stevens Point and Steve Gustafson, playing with sprained ankles through the season, sparked at Eau Claire by dropping in a layup in the last seconds to defeat the Bluegolds.

The cagers looked rusty after the Christmas break, but showed strength as the season came to a close. Surprising performances by Glomski, Burich, and Palmer contributed to many wins.

Van Dyke, who threw in 39 points against Northland, was selected to White-water's "All-Foe" team. Others selected for the team were Hayek, Oshkosh; Randy Fletcher; Dakota Wesleyan; Mel Coleman, Stout; and George Terry, Illinois State.

Gustafson and Van Dyke were also nominated for the NAIA All-American team. They were among 30 players from 13 Wisconsin schools to be nominated.

Eddies Beat Jams

Eddie Pohl's, Fat Eddies outlasted the Jute-Jolly-Jams 58-44 to repeat as intramural basketball Champs.

The Fat Eddies were also knocked out of tournament contention by the West Central Boys who played a strong first half. West Central led by 18 points at one time before the Fat Eddies played their usual ball.

To advance to the finals, Pohl's players defeated Raysha Baysha 59-23 the Haulers 79-38 and West Central 68-59.

The Jute-Jolly-Jams had easy going after they nipped New Colony Five 42-32. The Jutes then disposed of the Innocents 49-33 and the Newman Club 58-34.

Oshkosh in NAIA

Oshkosh coach Bob White will take his WSUC champion Titans into the N.A.I.A. tournament in Kansas City, Mo. starting Tuesday night.

The Titans are also champions of District 14 of the N.A.I.A. They will face stiff competition as they square off against Guilford College of Greensboro, N.C. The Titans carry a 19-5 record compared to 25-4 for the top seeded team in the 32 team tournament.

CRAIG SWENSON
NATIONAL RUNNER-UP

Craig Swenson, 130 pound Falcon wrestler, placed second in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics wrestling tournament held this weekend at Alamosa, Colorado on the campus of Adams State College.

Swenson, Hudson sophomore, was the only Falcon wrestler to place in the rugged national tourney. Last year Coach Byron James placed one wrestlers also, Steve Schmidt who finished third.

Over the previous weekend the Falcon grapplers defended their WSUC crown at Oshkosh. The Falcons placed second behind the Yellowjackets of Superior. The Yellowjackets scored 70 points while the runner-up Falcons scored 58.

Ken Fleuro, Falcon 115 pounder, successfully defended his conference championship. Tommy Madison placed first in the 152 pound class and Craig Swenson and Ed Houghdahl each placed second in the 130 and 145 pound class respectively.

The next action for Falcon wrestlers will be the United States Olympic tryouts for the Wisconsin district which will be held March 29 and 30 at Karges Center.

The Falcon baseball team opened practice Tuesday, March 5 with 52 candidates turning out. With head coach Don Page and assistant coach Jim Helminiak, the Falcon baseball team will try to improve on last years winning record of ten wins and six losses.

Page has eight returning lettermen back from last years team. The returning lettermen include: Perry Arndt, pitcher and outfield; Terry Frerker, third base; Scott Gaalaas, pitcher; Bob Jacobson, catcher; Dave Olson, pitcher; Duane Selander, second base; Steve Vail, third base; and Bob Orcutt, catcher.

Lettermen lost to the team from last year include: Ron McIntyre, Jay Gast, Hjalmer Gunderson, Mike Milutinovich and John Wolf. McIntyre was an all-conference first baseman.

Page indicated that to improve this year, "offensive punch," will be needed. He went on to say that the team might have to sacrifice defensive ability to get more offensive punch into the line-up.

He said that the starting line-up is still mainly unsettled. He went on to say however, that Terry Frerker will have to play somewhere. Scott Gallaas will be the number one hurler and Perry Arndt will be the number two pitcher. In the outfield Page felt that Bob Afdal will be the number one candidate for one of the outfield positions. Bob Jacobson seems set catching if he returns to his early season hitting form of last year.

Page mentioned Bill Glomski at shortstop, Dale Brainard as a pitcher and outfielders Mark Guderyon, Monti Krizan, and Terry Bodeen and Dave Rosga, first base as other returning players from last years team that can help this season. New comers this year that Page mentioned as possible additions to the team included: shortstop Joe Broneak, outfielders George Voss and Bob Afdal, lefty thrower John Humphrey and Harold Blank at shortstop.

The varsity has scheduled 21 games including five games on a spring vacation road trip into Iowa. Page also said that there will be a freshman team.

Sigma Tau Epsilon becomes Theta Chi

Sigma Tau Epsilon last week became the third local fraternity to affiliate with a national organization. It became a colony of Theta Chi International Fraternity on Wednesday, Feb. 21, as they were pledged by Ed Jacobson, field representative from Theta Chi.

Theta Chi presently has 140 chapters and 8 colonies in the United States and Canada. Ed Jacobson, Theta Chi Field Secretary, explained that "It is quite possible that our colony here in River Falls may be installed as an active chapter by the end of this school year."

Jacobson went on to explain that active status would mean the local chapter would be able to send a delegation to this summer's biennial convention in Miami Beach, Florida. A "School of Fraternity Practices" is held in conjunction with the convention.

Theta Chi has only two other chapters in Wisconsin, one at Ripon and one in Madison. But there are two chapters in the Twin Cities, at Hamline and the University of Minnesota, and another at St. Cloud State.

"Sigma Tau Epsilon affiliated with Theta Chi because national affiliation affords a much wider range of possibilities for growth and development," according to one member. "Sig Tau had probably reached its peak as a local and Theta Chi seemed to have the type of program that best agreed with the present outlook of our group."

"We felt that Theta Chi had more to offer us than other nationals. We were very much impressed with their fraternal ideals and standards. Also, we realized that after 112 years of growth, Theta Chi is as strong a national as any," another member added.

Current active members of the colony are now learning about their new fraternity and will be on a study schedule arranged to end near the end of April. New pledges will be on a similar schedule, possibly ending a little later.
