Discount planned by Senate

Student Senator John Chudy introduced a plan for a Student Union at last week's Senate meeting.

The Student Union would be aimed at getting a discount service for University students in the River Falls stores. Chudy's plan was based around trading free advertising or advertising at reduced rates in the STUDENT VOICE to the merchants in return for the discount to students. Chudy said that it was not unreasonable to hope for a 10 per cent discount.

A committee composed of Chudy, Alan Tronrud and Senators LaVerne Herberg and Steve Vogler has been working on the plan for nearly two months. There were three aims given for the Student Union. First, the union would be set up to save money for students. Second it would foster better relations between the campus and downtown River Falls. Thirdly, the union would probably expand the business of the River Falls merchants.

To help pay for the loss of advertising revenue of the VOICE, each member of the Student Union would be required to pay a dues of one dollar per quarter. In exchange, the student would receive a Student Union identification card similar to the college I.D. He would have to present this card when claiming the discount downtown.

Chudy said that he did not want to attempt to start the program this spring quarter. He explained that he felt it would be too much of a "rush job." He would like to get the union set up for next fall. Chudy said that his plans did not include a summer discount service because of the small number of students attending summer sessions.

Chudy's presentation was not a motion for acceptance, but an introduction for discussion of the plan. He will take the suggestions made by the senators back to the committee and report again in two weeks.

The Senate's other major action of last week's meeting was the introduction of the constitution for a Young Socialist League on campus. The League would be affiliated with the Socialist Worker's Party.

A motion to question the Attorney General about the status of the Socialist Worker's Party as a subversive organization before considering the League's constitution failed for lack of majority in a 5-5 vote with one abstention. Senators Feltes, Graves, Haines, Halverson and Herberg voted yes while Chudy, Ochiltree, Vogler, Weiss and Rasmussen voted no. Sen. Steve Ortman abstained.

Black Power to be topic of LAC forum

The Legislative Action Committee of Wisconsin State University-River Falls will explore the subject of "Black Power" through a Free Spirit forum on Thursday, March 21.

Paul Boutelle, vice presidential candidate of the Socialist Workers Party, will address the student body at 10 a.m. in the Student Center Ballroom. Boutelle will speak on the topic of "Black Nationalism and Socialism". During one session of the Grassroots Political Conference, Dick Gregory, 1968 Presidential candidate, explained the Negro problem to the student body. During his talk Boutelle will examine possible solutions to the Negroes' plight.

Boutelle will be present at a luncheon to be held in the Student Center Private Dining Room. Students are invited to bring their trays and talk with Boutelle. A panel discussion of "Black Power" will be held in the Student Center Dining Room at 2 p.m. The panel will be composed of Boutelle, Frederick Rusch, Douglas Davis, and Alan Larson.

Boutelle is the running mate of Fred Halstead on the Socialist Party ticket. Boutelle, born in Harlem 35 years ago has lived there most of his life. Like many other black youths, he dropped out of school early. "At the age of 16, after 10 years of boring school, I quit," he says. "I have no regrets at this time over the decision. When I started to acquire a real education in my early twenties, I did not have that much brainwashing to get out of my mind."

"My first awakening was a nationalist awakening, a feeling of pride in being black and a feeling of revulsion and hatred at what this capitalist racist system did and is doing to people of color throughout the world. Around 1957, I began listening to many militants from Malcolm X to the non-religious black nationalists. I felt then, as I do now, that black nationalism is necessary to the healthy development and liberation of my people," he said.

In 1963 the young black militant became active in an effort to build an all-black Freedom Now Party. He became chairman of the Harlem Freedom Now Party and in 1964 ran as the party's candidate for state senator from the 21st district.

In 1965 he helped organize and was founding chairman of Afro-Americans Against the War in Vietnam. He is presently secretary of the Black Action Front, a coalition of organizations and individuals, which organized the Harlem contingent in the April 15, 1967 mobilization against the war.

In 1965 Boutelle joined the Socialist Workers Party. Boutelle is married and has a 12-year-old son.

The Vice-presidential candidate has worked selling books on Afro-American history, and is presently a New York taxi driver.

Still interested in Quarter Abroad?

Anyone still interested in going to Europe with the Quarter Abroad group in the fall of 1968 can attend the March 19 meeting at 7 p.m. in Room 208 of the Student Center.

A $35 deposit is then due which partially covers the cost of the boat trip over and reservations in Paris for the week-long stay which is scheduled. The remainder of the money is due early in the summer.

Dr. Robert Bailey, who is coordinating the trip along with Dr. R. Scott Muller, who will accompany the group next fall, said that the trip has been approved by the administration and urged all students still interested in going to attend the meeting next Tuesday and pay the deposit.

First Edition here tomorrow

Tickets are being sold

Described as "the finest new group of its kind" by Tommy Smothers, "The First Edition" will be playing on our campus March 19, 1968. All of the members of The First Edition are former members of The New Christy Minstrels, and met while performing with that group. Here, they hammered out their ideas for a new group.

Mike Settle, rhythm guitarist for the group, has written much of the music performed by them, such as "If Wishes Were Horses" and "A Church Without a Name".

Thelma Camacho, the female vocalist, has this comment: "Although every area of music is different, each has the same standard of quality. The idea that only classical music should be admired is an outmoded one. If what you're doing is good--then it's good--whether it's classical, folk, country, or rock."

Terry Williams also sings for The First Edition. He began his musical career while a child, advanced to doing studio work on guitar, and later got a job with Warner Brothers Records.

The bass player, Kenny Rogers had his own hit "Cracy Feeling" in 1958. He said, "Since we've all been in a successful group we've had a taste of what it's like to be on top--but now we want it in our own way, with our own music."

The man who gives The First Edition its beat is Mickey Jones. Having played with Trini Lopez for eight years, and then with Johnny Ribers, he joined The First Edition, for, in his words, he "digs what they're doing".

Tickets are being sold in the Student Center for $1.00, in advance. Tickets at the door will be sold for $1.50.

WSU students may register to vote in city

Students at WSU-River Falls may register to vote for the Wisconsin presidential primary in River Falls.

The Election Laws of Wisconsin read: If an unmarried person be employed on a railroad, boat or stage line or is a student or teacher and boards at different places for part of the week, month or year if one of those places be with his parents, that place shall be considered his residence unless he has, by registering to vote elsewhere or by the performance of some other kindred act, elected some other place as his residence. If he has no parents and has not registered at any other place, he shall be asked: Do you consider this your place of residence and have you so considered it for the past ten days in preference to any other place? If he answers in the affirmative he shall be entitled to all of the privileges and be subject to all of the duties of other citizens in such place in the matter of voting, jury service, poll taxes and assessments for taxes.

The deadline for registration for the primary is Wednesday, March 21, at 5 p.m. To register, go to the city clerk in City Hall and ask to register this week. Take with your proof that you are over 21 and proof that you have been here ten days (or six months for out of state students). In case of any trouble with registration please call Dr. Richard Darr who will advise you.

Science Bowl set

The annual Science College Bowl will be held on Wednesday, March 20 at 7 p.m. in room 102 Student Center.

The Chemistry Club which sponsors the College Bowl will be one of the four participating organizations. Also in the bowl will be Kappa Mu Epsilon (Mathematics), Physics Colloquium (Physics), Tri Beta (Biology).

The questions that will be asked are submitted from all departments. The questions will range from agriculture to zoology, and will be selected at random. Only two people know what the questions are before the bowl, and even these people don't know what questions will be chosen.

Chemistry Club is the defending champion of the College Bowl.

One of the five young women above will be chosen as Miss Daisy Mae for Theta Chi's Sadie Hawkins Weekend. She will reign at the Dogpatch Dilemma on Saturday night.

Theta Chi celebrates Sadie Hawkins Weekend this Friday and Saturday

This year, Theta Chi will celebrate its sixth annual Sadie Hawkins weekend on Friday, March 22 and Saturday, March 23.

Festivities begin on Friday night at 8 p.m. with a folk concert featuring folk singers, Mark and Janys, who performed on campus during Talent Week. Admission to the concert is 75 cents single and one dollar double.

Saturday night the action really gets under way at 8:30 p.m. at the "Dogpatch Dilemma" in the Student Center Ballroom. Miss Daisy Mae will be crowned at the dance. Candidates for the honor this year are: Maralee Savage, Delta Iota Chi; Sandy Hurd, Hathorn Hall; Linda Lee, McMillan Hall; Bonnie Robertson, Kappa Delta Psi; and Kris Nystrumm from Phi Delta Theta.

Entertainment will be provided by the Illusions from the Twin Cities. Features such as the "Shotgun Wedding," "Behind the Haystack" and judging the most originally dressed couple will add to the fun.

Admission to the "Dogpatch Dilemma" is $1 single and $1.50 per couple.

Everyone is invited to attend these two fun-filled nights, so guys get a date for Friday night and remember that it's girl ask guy for the dance on Saturday night.

For more information, contact Don Seaton, Guy Bartolain, Butch Passehl or Warren Higgins.

Paper starts at Stevens Point

Stevens Point (SUNS)--An underground newspaper has begun publication on the WSU-Stevens Point campus. "Counterpoint" already has circulated two issues.

The paper, printed on tabloid-size newsprint using an offset press, sold about 1,300 copies at 15¢ apiece with each edition.

"Counterpoint" is put out independent of any university sanction. It is written almost entirely by students with some faculty contributions. A number of the English faculty from WSU-Stevens Point have become unofficial advisors.

The first edition of "Counterpoint" appeared in mid-February. It contained, among other articles, all expose on news distortion revolving around a visit to the Point campus by Richard Nixon, a discussion of residence halls entitled "A Study in Forced Conformity," a book review of Mary McCarthy's "Vietnam," and a full-back-page proposal for a Free University with eight independent study courses listed.

Campus acceptance to this first issue was quite enthusiastic. The 1,300 issues sold to the 6,000 students was about twice what the "Counterpoint" staff expected to sell.

The second issue featured a front-page poster announcing 1968 as the Impeachment Centennial of the Johnsons. The poster showed pictures of 1868's Andrew and 1968's Lyndon Baines.

This twelve-page issue also included an editorial on the firing of a faculty member, an article on South America by a Brazilian student studying at Point, a list of radical books and magazines, and movie and book reviews.

Harold Stassen speaks to LaCrosse students

LaCrosse (SUNS)--Republican Presidential hopeful Harold Stassen outlined his views on the Vietnamese war and the state of domestic politics before a delegation of WSU-L students Feb. 27.

Governor Stassen saw three major reasons for the war and listed them as: first, a failure in leadership by President Johnson; second, "the substantial failure of leadership of key Republicans"; and third, the undue influence of the "Military Industrial Complex."

Stassen stated that the war or attrition we are fighting now cannot be the answer to the Vietnam Problem. He urged that we "quiet down" the war without withdrawal. He said this could be done by slowing the air-war and regrouping our forces into a "powerful presence."

During the Stassen speech, students and faculty members were given opinion questionnaires dealing with American war policy, which they could fill out and turn in. These three alternatives were presented:

A. Aggressively continue the American

"Counterpoint" plans to continue publishing approximately one issue every three weeks.

war drive, concurred in by Johnson and Nixon, and if necessary escalate.

B. Quiet down the war without withdrawal, as urged by Harold Stassen and by retired Generals Ridgway, Gavin, and Norstad; invite both North and South Vietnam into the United Nations.

C. Withdraw from Vietnam, as advocated by Dr. Benjamin Spock and others.

The results of 152 returns showed that 27.6% of those questioned favored a policy of A. Those in favor of policy B totaled 51.09%, and those favoring policy C were 19%, and 2.4% gave other answers.

Carillon donations total over $15,000

The drive for the installation of a carillon in honor of former President Dr. Eugene Kleinpell has to date received over $15,000 in contributions, according to Louis M. Daniel, general chairman of the drive.

Daniel said, the community businessmen and citizens have been the biggest contributors donating $5,550. All of the members of the Chamber of Commerce, except two are cooperating with the drive, Daniel added.

Faculty members have donated over $4,000 for the carillon and the civil service employees at the University have given $225.

Students at the University will also be involved in the drive. According to Maggie Hough, student chairman and head of the Student Foundation Committee, the Foundation Week this year will be March 25-30 with the theme of "Noteworthy Appeal." This will be in conjunction with the drive and the week will include a basketball game between the coeds and male faculty members, an auction and a Midway. Further details of the week's events will be printed later in the Student Voice.

The target date for the carillon installation is May 26 and an additional $14,000 is needed to reach the total cost of approximately $25,000. Miss Vera Moss, committee chairwoman for the music selection, stated that a form of sacred music will be selected without any denominational leanings. It will be played for the University commencement this year and in the future for class breaks, holidays and on Sundays.

The carillon will be manufactured by Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., the world's largest producers of carillons. A Flemish-tuned carillon with Harp bells in a 37-bell range has been selected. It will be playable automatically or manually.

Temporarily the carillon will be erected on North Hall in time to be used for Commencement Day, May 26, but it will be moved when a tower is built with a future fund drive. All of the donors will be listed in a permanent record. The total goal is $49,375, which includes the cost of the carillon and the construction of the tower.

Daniel said the project is designed to unite all branches of this University in support of a tribute to Dr. Kleinpell. He went on to say that as a single, short-term project and one which will affect all parts of the University, the Kleinpell Carillon and Tower will become a reality.

Members of the drive are still soliciting funds. Daniel said anyone willing to help with the drive or with suggestions are encouraged to contact either the student chairman or one of the members of the faculty committee connected with the drive. They include Dr. Marion Hawkins, Dr. Richard Swenson, Thorvald Thoreson and Dr. Wayne Wolfe.

Composer Erb to arrive for Festival

The world premiere of Three Pieces for Brass Quintet and Piano by Donald Erb will be the highlight of the WSU-River Falls Fine Arts Festival. Erb, Composer-in-Residence at The Cleveland Institute of Music, is arriving Monday, March 18, and will be on campus for most of festival week which ends Sunday, March 24.

Erb's quintet, commissioned for Wisconsin State University-River Falls, will be premiered at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 21, at a Music Department concert in North Hall Auditorium. This composition will be performed by Carolyn DeJong, piano; Conrad DeJong, trumpet; Charles Dalkert, trombone; Gary Bird, tuba; Harvey Halpaus, trumpet; and Blanche Bounds, French Horn.

Donald Erb is currently on a fellowship from the National Council on the Arts while on leave from his position at The Cleveland Institute of Music. One of the first ten musicians in the United States to be awarded a fellowship from this newly created government agency, Erb has also received grants from the Ford and Guggenheim Foundations and was the 1966 recipient of The Cleveland Arts Prize.

He holds degrees from Kent State University, The Cleveland Institute of Music, and Indiana University and has studied composition with Harold Miles, Marcel Dick, and Bernard Heiden at these three schools.

Most of the important contemporary chamber music series throughout the country have played Erb's compositions. His works have been performed eight times on Music in Our Time in New York, and he recently conducted his own work, Reconnaissance (for conventional and electronic instruments), on the Monday Evening Concerts at the Los Angeles County Art Museum. Erb is co-director of the Portfolio contemporary music concerts presented throughout the year at The Cleveland Institute of Music.

Recently Erb has made frequent appearances on campuses throughout the country as guest conductor, lecturer, and composer. His works are published by various companies and he has just been commissioned by Nonesuch Records to write works for an entire record of music using electronic means.

Besides Three Pieces for Brass Quintet and Piano, the Thursday night concert will include these compositions by Erb: Dance Pieces (violin, piano, trumpet, four percussion), Venetian Boat Song No. 3 (violin, trumpet, piano, tympani, three percussion), Correlations for Piano Solo, Hexagon (flute, piccolo, alto saxophone, trumpet, trombone, cello, piano), Concert Piece I for Jazz Band, Fallout (narrator, chorus, string quartet, piano), and Kyrie (chorus, piano, electronic tape, percussion).

A University Jazz Band concert Wednesday, March 20, at 8 p.m. in North Hall Auditorium will include Erb's Concert Piece I. Other works to be performed during this program are Theme and Variations No. 2 by Bill Holman, Night Music by Gunther Schuller, Oleo by Sonny Rollins, Improvisation, Passacaglia by Robert Curnow, Two Cultures by Johnny Richards, All Set by Milton Babbitt, and Study in Rhythm by Lalo Schifrin.

Four of Erb's compositions for band--Stargazing, Compendium, Space Music, and Reticulation--will be performed during the University Symphonic Band concert at 8 p.m. Friday, March 22, in North Hall Auditorium. This concert, which will

GLC announces Greek Week plan

Monday, March 11 the Greek Letter Council (GLC) held its weekly meeting in the Falcon Room. Among topics discussed was Greek Week which will be held this year from April 29 to May 2.

Greek Week is designed to unite active members and incoming pledges of the various Greek Letter organizations. Plans for this year's week include: April 29, Games Night; April 30, Campus Clean Up; May 1, Picnic; May 2, Dance.

The Campus Clean Up is a program by which each fraternity and sorority will engage in some activity in hopes of making River Falls a more pleasant looking campus.

During the week the Council is also going to get a speaker who will speak on the purpose and responsibilities of Greek Organizations.

Dr. Hargrove has asked to be relieved of his post as faculty advisor to the club, be conducted by Music Department chairman William Abbott, will also include March with Trumpets by William Bergsma, Variations on a Korean Folk Song by John Barnes Chance, Caucasian Passacaglia by Vaclav Nelhybel, and Fantasia for Band by Vittorio Giannini.

The final event of The Fine Arts Festival will be a concert by the St. Croix Valley Orchestra at 8 p.m. Sunday, March 24, in the River Falls High School auditorium. This performance will be directed by John Kolpitcke with pianist Carolyn DeJong of the University Music Department as guest artist. Erb's Bakersfield Pieces for Orchestra will be featured in the program which will also include Overture to Der Freischutz by C.M. von Weber, Concerto No. 3 in C minor opus 37 by L. van Beethoven, Etude No. 1 Pour les "cinq doigts" d'apres Monsieur Czerny by Claude Debussy, and First Essay for Orchestra opus 12 by Samuel Barber.

SAC debates lounge issue

"The committee does not intend to drop the lounge issue until we have exhausted all possible avenues" toward a solution, stated Herbert Cederberg when speaking for the Student Affairs Committee in this matter.

The state fire marshal has rejected a proposal which the administration sent to him for verification regarding proper use of the lounge area. This was a follow-up of the continuing debate which arose when Phyllis Tousey and "Sunny" Knoll were denied the right to use dorm lounge areas for painting pictures. The reason for the denial was because it was a "fire hazard." The third floor of South Hall is being used for a painting area and it has already been condemned as a fire hazard.

The committee expressed concern about the fire marshal's rejection. None of the committee members know what the contents of the proposal were and therefore don't know how to recommend adjustments.

Individual members of the committee intend to see acting President Delorit to learn of his further intentions in the matter.

The committee also expressed concern over the reduction of library hours, especially since they have been working towards increasing them.

Lack of funds is the reason given for this change.

It was suggested that the library committee should deal with this matter but members felt it should be made clear that the Student Affairs Committee stands ready to help liberalize them.

A subcommittee, for drawing up a formal proposal on demonstration policy at River Falls, was formed. Douglas Davis was appointed chairman.

Chairman Cederberg suggested the possibilities of a student-book exchange on a cooperative basis. Students could leave paperback books, which had been assigned in classes, in a general area, where other people could use them. This outlet for used books would be serviced by members of the National Committee for Teachers of English (NCTE) and History Club.

Facilities are available now because the United Campus Ministry has offered the project room.

If enough interest is shown by students, it could be set up in a matter of weeks.

Un plan offered

An opportunity to spend the summer in New York City studying the United Nations through regular WSU-RF credit courses, attendance at UN sessions and meetings with delegation and secretariat personnel is being offered to one WSU-RF student under the Third Wisconsin Universities United Nations Summer Seminar, June 24-August 17, 1968.

Each student will enroll in two 3-credit courses focusing upon the UN and international organization. Participants will live in dormitories of the New York University Medical Center, within walking distance of the UN.

Admission is open to legal residents who will be juniors or seniors by the summer of 1968 at one of the participating institutions. Candidates should have a substantial number of college credits in history and the social studies, a basic course in political science and a grade point average of 2.50.

Descriptive booklets and application blanks are available from Dr. Raymond Anderson, 128 South Hall. The deadline for applications will be April 1.

The cost per student for the summer will be about $1,240. The Johnson Foundation will pay $600 of this total and the Student Senate will add another $300. The participating student will have to pay about $365.

Senate elections set for April 3

In accordance with the changes made in the Student Senate Constitution last spring, the student body will elect ten senators at large at Student Senate elections Wed., April 3. The senior, junior and sophomore class presidents will no longer have seats on the Senate, leaving a total of ten seats open. The freshman class president, when elected in the fall, will be seated on the Senate.

Of the ten new Senators, three of the incumbents shall automatically be re-seated if they are candidates for office. To be eligible for candidacy to the Student Senate, one must:

1. Have a 2.00 over-all grade point and a 2.00 for the previous quarter cleared through the Vice President of the Student Affairs office.

2. Be a student at WSU-RF, carrying a minimum of 12 credits.

3. Must have a petition signed by at least 50 students, and have it turned in to the Vice President of Student Affairs Office by 5 p.m., Friday, March 29.

Candidates for class office must meet the same requirements except their petitions must be signed by at least 50 members of their class.

Candidates for office may obtain petitions, rules to govern elect and school sign regulations from the Vice President of Student Affairs in Room 117 North Hall.

A Page of Editorial Comment

STUDENT VOICE EDITORIAL GOALS

1. Repeal of the state law limiting out of state enrollment
2. Improvement of parking facilities at the River Falls campus.
3. Enlargement of campus medical facilities.
4. Public bus transportation to and from River Falls.
5. A co-operative student discount service between the town and campus.

We need a change

It is time the internal governing system of this university underwent a radical change. There are three power sources here, each representing three separate interests and two of the sources answering to the ultimate superior, the administration. The Student Senate, trying to represent the students, the Faculty Senate overseeing the Student Senate and caring for the faculty they represent and finally but most important, the administration, with its power of life and death over the entire university.

Conflicts of interest, abilities and power are usually the rule and not the exception for the three groups. And around each group is clustered numerous committees, sub-committees, special committees and study groups trying to decide what is "best" for River Falls. Despite the much heralded improvement of communications guaranteed at the beginning of this year, a credibility gap is rapidly becoming a chasm between the students, faculty and administration. This must and can be changed.

We would propose a system similar to one that has been established at the University of Pennsylvania. At that university, all three elements at a university are represented by a University Forum composed of twenty students and twenty faculty members. The president of the university is represented on the Forum as well as four top administration officials. They meet monthly to discuss any relevant issue and also appoint committees to handle such matters as women's hours which seem to plague the Student Senate at River Falls. In this way all matters that concern the university, student-faculty or administrative are discussed by representatives of the WHOLE university.

Separate men's and women's courts handle all disciplinary infractions and their voices, more often than not, is the ultimate decision. A Court of this nature is already functioning at River Falls, but unfortunately the administration still has the ultimate decision. If a new system as we propose is established, the student courts MUST have the ultimate decision to reprimand their peers.

As reported in Time magazine, the Pennsylvania system provides a clear pathway through bureaucratic red tape and provides a democratic system in university governing.

We realize there will be many people who will doubt a system of this type-student and faculty alike-but look into this possibility of more effective communication and compromise. It is indeed worth a try.

Get out and vote

This year of 1968 is shaping up as one of the most intriguing political battles of this century. Men from Wallace and Nixon on the right to McCarthy on the left (with Johnson somewhere in between) are seeking the presidential bid. And Wisconsin appears to be a prime test sight for these hopefuls in the April 2 primary.

As a student, if you're 21 or older, you have an obligation and a right, if you care to express it, to vote for the GOP, Democratic or Independent hopeful you wish to back in the Wisconsin primary.

If you are a Wisconsin resident and are presently a student at this university and have been one for at least ten days, then you are eligible to vote in River Falls. If you want to vote in your home town, then write to the City Clerk in that city at least three days before the April 2 election and ask for an absentee ballot.

For those who wish to vote in River Falls, go to the City Clerk immediately and ask to register to vote and bring with you proof that you are 21 and evidence to show that you have been a student here for at least ten days - or six months for students from out-of-state wishing to vote in Wisconsin.

Regardless of which end of the political spectrum your views may lie, by voting you are giving substantial support for those beliefs.

The Phalanx

by Rich Marshall

An Editors tour

This week, I would like to use the PHALANX to plug some parts and explain other parts of the STUDENT VOICE under the new staff.

Unlike previous editors, I feel that page 2 is an important one. Instead of using it for "What's Doing" and advertising, page 2 will be reserved for news and feature material with very little advertising. "What's Doing" will be printed on the back page.

Last week, I explained the editorial policy for page 4, but I have been asked to explain the name of my column. The phalanx was a Greek battle unit. Composed of heavily armed infantry formed in close deep ranks or files, the phalanx was known for its crushing attack. Before the widespread introduction of the bow and arrow, the phalanx was able to crush any other type of opposition. I hope that this column will have the same crushing effect upon the things that I feel are wrong on this campus.

As for page 5, I would like to plug all three articles appearing there this week. First, the new feature editor of the VOICE, Evalyn Peterson, is doing a series of articles that trace the history of the Greeks on this campus. Throughout the rest of spring quarter, she will be doing an article a week on one of the fraternities or sororities. The order of the articles will be determined by the date of the appearance of each of the organizations on campus. The Greek articles will probably be found on either page 5 or page 2.

Second, on the left side of the page under the Phi Nu Chi story, is an article about CHOICE 68. CHOICE 68 is the National Collegiate Presidential Primary. It is designed to give students throughout the country a chance to voice their opinions in an orderly and socially accepted way. The primary election will be held on the campus on April 24, shortly after we return from Easter vacation. I hope that enough of the students on this campus will vote to make the effort behind CHOICE 68 worthwhile.

Finally on page 5, there is a column called INTERROGATIVE. The column is self-explanatory. A column of this type could be very effective as a direct line between the students and administration of WSU-RF, IF students are interested enough to use it. The VOICE received no replies to the column introduced last week. The column will be held open for one more week and if there are still no questions, the VOICE staff will assume that no student has a question worth asking and will discontinue the column.

Pages 8 and 9 will be the regular sports pages. The sports pages will have a little less advertising and a little more copy than before.

Finally, "What's Doing" and the "Want Ads" will be found on the back page of the VOICE from now on.

I will always leave the VOICE open to constructive criticism and suggestions from the student body. I want to be the editor of a "student newspaper." For those of you who take time to read it, here is a chance to improve it.

Phi Nu Chi claims to be first fraternity

In five years the "Greek Community" on the River Falls campus has grown from a dream to a reality for five fraternities and three sororities.

In the spring of 1963, a group of fraternal-minded people established the Greek system at River Falls. Using as a basis the accomplishments of fraternal groups on the campuses of the other eight state universities, this group presented their case to the faculty and administration at River Falls. Using the results of a nationwide survey on the merits of fraternal life, they presented their case to a faculty advisory committee which approved and sent to the faculty and administration a recommendation for accepting the establishment of fraternities and sororities on a local level. The faculty gave its approval and the "Greek Community" became a reality.

"The First Fraternity Chartered--Number One Ever Since" is the motto of Phi Nu Chi, the oldest fraternity on the River Falls campus. Originally called the Pinochle Club, Phi Nu Chi served for several years as the only purely social organization on campus.

The Pinochle Club was organized in 1957 and for the first few months met secretly in the basement of South Hall. The club was instrumental in the faculty decision to allow Greek organizations to be established on campus. The president of the Pinochle Club spoke before the faculty and explained the advantages of the fraternal system.

Phi Nu Chi was officially chartered in the spring of 1963. Dr. Robert Bailey, head of the sociology department, has served as adviser to the fraternity since that time.

Phi Nu Chi can point to a certain place of uniqueness in the special events area of their program. During Foundation Week, 1961, members of the Pinochle Club pushed a hospital bed from River Falls to Hudson, a distance of 14 miles, 28 feet, and six inches in a time of one hour, 58 minutes, and 28.6 seconds. A similar activity during Foundation Week, 1963, resulted in Phi Nu Chi members pushing a bathtub to Hudson in a time of one hour, 10 minutes, 54.5 seconds.

Phi Nu Chi reflects many social accomplishments in campus activities, among these achievements was the top placing in the 1963-64 Winter Carnival. The fraternity placed second in overall standings in both the 1964 Homecoming and in the 1964-65 Winter Carnival. In 1965-66 Phi Nu Chi won first place in the Winter Carnival and also won the all-Greek game night. They also placed second in Homecoming events.

The 47 active members of Phi Nu Chi elected the following men as officers for 1967-68: Jim Sacia, president; Harry Peterson, vice-president; Bob Halverson, secretary; Ben Meents, treasurer; Jerry Gust, parliamentarian; Dave Outcalt, sgt. at arms; and Sam Hough, historian.

Phi Nu Chi has been on social probation since October 1967. They will regain their charter in March but will continue on social probation the duration of spring quarter.

"Due to restrictions (social probation) we have been somewhat limited in our activities" and President Jim Sacia, "but we will go back to the top". Phi Nu Chi has been working with Mr. O. E. Born, personnel department, in a recruiting campaign for students for River Falls. The fraternity held a snow-mobile raffle during Winter Carnival and is using the money to send needed items to fighting men in Vietnam. Eight alumni of Phi Nu Chi are now serving as officers in the armed services in Vietnam.

Phi Nu Chi has accepted 27 pledges this year. Each pledge class is required to do a project which involves the city of River Falls or the campus.

Pledge projects have included city clean-up, delivering a baby-buggy of "Don Riley Hate Letters" and carrying an official proclamation from Governor Warren Knowles to Governor Karl Rolvagg.

As other frats on campus, Phi Nu Chi is considering affiliating with a national fraternity. "We have not yet decided with which fraternity to affiliate. We feel this is a very important step and because of our proud tradition of being number one--we will affiliate only with the best," said Jim Sacia, president of Phi Nu Chi.

Radical may find place in Choice 68

Editor's Note: The following is the first of a series of three articles written by the publicity director for CHOICE 68 to explain the connections between various campus segments and the National Collegiate Presidential Primary.

For student radicals these days, the menu has been sparse. Vilified by the press and Congress for their noisy activism, scorned by the majority of their moderate classmates more concerned with campus affairs, and lambasted from the pulpit for their flowing locks and sundry other hygienic offenses, they seem to have nowhere to go.

Their views, sound as they appear to them to be, remain largely ignored, and their protests, correspondingly, have disintegrated into displays of cynicism and emotional diatribes aimed at the Establishment. The American democratic process strikes them as more absurd with each passing day -- and each mounting crisis.

CHOICE 68, the National Collegiate Presidential Primary, will probably either solidify the skepticism of the campus radicals or cause them to re-evaluate their thinking as to the actual political power of the vote.

If a sizeable percentage of college students do care enough to participate in the election, and, indeed, do succeed in exerting some appreciable pressure over the policymakers of the country, then the radicals may well channel their considerable energies into the drive to lower the voting age to eighteen.

If the Primary fails, however, to stir the long silent student moderates or to influence American policy, then leftists will probably remain convinced that only forceful and, if need be, violent action will produce acceptable political ends. But of more immediate concern is whether the radicals will participate at all in CHOICE 68. The ballot, certainly, is well stocked with leftists and moderate-liberals, and the Vietnam referendum questions should satisfy the most extreme of the radicals. The current anti-administration feeling among students would also seem to indicate that a leftist vote is a distinct possibility.

Unfortunately, it's too soon to begin forecasting whether the radicals will respond to or boycott the primary. The one fact that is certain is that they do have a chance to mobilize and express themselves meaningfully and effectively in CHOICE 68. The decision is theirs, as James Reston wrote, whether they "want to dream or work." CHOICE 68 may well tell us which avenue they choose.

Northeastern University in Boston, Massachusetts became the first college in the U.S. to vote in the CHOICE 68 election. On February 16, over 2500 students (out of a potential electorate of 4000) participated in the Primary - a turnout percentage that Leroy Wheelock, Jr., Student Body President, termed "larger than any other election that we can recall."

Northeastern is on a cooperative quarter system - 13 weeks of class, 13 weeks actual career situation work, followed by another 13 weeks term of study. The unusually early election was held to give those students leaving for the second quarter work period an opportunity to vote. Their ballots will be counted simultaneously with those of their fellow classmates who will vote on April 24, the date that CHOICE 68 will be held nationwide.

On the River Falls campus, CHOICE 68 committee appointments have been made. The Speaker's Bureau has two members, John Peterson, chrm., and Victor Jee. Alan Tronrud will be chairing the Public Relations committee and Victor Jee will be working with him also. Mike Reiggert and Kathy Graham will make up the Publicity Committee.

Francis Haines, CHOICE 68 coordinator on campus, urges all interested students to actively participate in this primary because it is a "golden opportunity for students to express a meaningful and united opinion."

Interrogative

Space under this heading will be made available to the students of Wisconsin State University - River Falls each week. INTERROGATIVE will be a form of Action Line.

Each week a question or questions from RF students will be printed here along with an answer obtained in an investigation by members of the VOICE staff.

In many cases, VOICE staff members would be more likely to know where to get the answers to questions about campus policies or problems than the regular student. Therefore, the VOICE staff invites you to let us help you with your problems and questions. Each question will be answered privately if not printed. Names must be submitted with questions, but will be withheld upon request.

Council releases projection figures

The State Coordination Council for Higher Education has made enrollment projections that show the growth of the nine Wisconsin State Universities and their branch campuses will jump from 15,664 in 1960 to 90,754 in 1977. By 1977, Whitewater, with an enrollment of 15,526, Oshkosh (15,444), Eau Claire (12,662) and Stevens Point (11,514) will be the largest universities.

River Falls, whose enrollment was 1,445 in 1960 compared favorably with these schools in the past. However, the predicted enrollment (5,219) is the lowest in the state university system.

Interviews for one opening on the Academic Standards Committee and one opening on the Concerts and Lectures Committee will be held on April 3.

Questions may be submitted to INTERROGATIVE by leaving them in the VOICE mailbox in the Student Center Director's Office; the Publications office, 209 Student Center, in 310 North Hall on the Daily Supplement Spike or by contacting Rich Marshall, 324 Grimm Hall, Ext. 289.

11th Annual Grassroots Politics Conference Topic is:

'The Causes of Our Discontents'

Dick Gregory speech highlights week

Dick Gregory, black power advocate, and Presidential candidate, said Tuesday that the American system is intentionally killing American servicemen in Vietnam. "Do you mean to tell me that they can't give you a rifle that works when they can successfully send missiles to the moon?" he said. Gregory was speaking in conjunction with the annual Grassroots Political Conference.

Gregory was introduced by Mr. Herbert Cederberg, assistant history professor, as "the only Presidential aspirant that some of us can take seriously."

In his opening remarks, Gregory commented that it would be impossible for Negroes to make slaves of whites. "That would be 12 white slaves for every Negro to feed and clothe," he said. "Do you realize that with 180 million white folks we could pick all the cotton in two days! After that, they'd all have to go on relief."

The well-known comedian predicted that he would have the most problems with the colored people if he was elected President. "I would wipe out the poverty program and set up a $50 billion white rest program. I can hear the colored now, 'What are all those white folk doing sitting around and having babies?'"

The author of the book, "The Shadow That Scares Me," went on to say that time was too short to give answers to the many problems facing Americans today and that he could only give the symptoms.

The Negro leader stated that "You white folk better understand our attitude, because we sure as hell don't like what's going on. We're tired of people playing games with us."

Gregory said that the greatest problem facing this country is not air pollution but moral pollution. He appealed to Americans to be more honest. "The thing that scares me most," he said, "is that if our problems occurred anywhere else in the world we could solve them because we could face them honestly."

The Presidential candidate claimed that "The biggest job you youngsters have is giving sanity back to a totally insane nation." He cited the debate over the Clean Meat Bill, on which a "compromise" was finally agreed upon. "Tell me this," he said, "how do you reach a 'compromise' on a bill to have clean meat? Have you noticed that your meat is tasting any different lately?"

Gregory, referring to the American Revolution, commented "We had a revolution over a tax on tea. You can bet that we will fight much harder over our loved ones than George Washington could ever fight over a teabag."

The black power advocate suggested that all students get a copy of the Declaration of Independence and carry it always. "And then when the riot season opens again and you're watching the niggers burning towns on television, turn down the sound, take out your Declaration of Independence, and read it as loudly as you can. Or maybe we should have a march on Washington and burn or change the Declaration of Independence to read 'white only.'"

Gregory stated that each person must answer the question "If democracy is as good as we say it is, why are we running all over the world trying to force it down peoples' throats with a gun? You don't have to force people to accept something good," he said.

"I would also like to know," the Presidential candidate continued, "why I can burn the hair on my head if I want to but I can't burn the American flag. The Constitution grants me the right of free expression. I'm not interested in rags. I'm interested in people."

Gregory contended that it was the problem of the policeman and the fireman that needed to be solved, not the problems in the street. He asserted that there was no reason to have volunteer policemen and firemen in some small towns, when these same towns didn't have volunteer doctors, lawyers, etc. "You're going to have to see that they get overpaid just so they don't walk off the job, because we've treated them like dirt," he said.

The Negro speaker admitted that "most niggers are dirty, ignorant, and stink, but you'd better realize that it was America that dirtied us up." He went on to say that "if you want niggers to smell better, you'd better sweeten up democracy, 'cause it's democracy you're smellin'."

Gregory said that colored people are tired of American insults. He pointed out that Negroes in this country die six years earlier than white people. "Maybe you should come into my house and see my six kids. Every night I sit down at the table and realize that I'm staring at 36 death years."

Gregory made it clear that Negroes hate the white system, not white people themselves. He compared the American system to a cigarette machine. "We put 400 years of sweat and toil into the machine for dignity, which we never received. So we kicked the machine (Gregory was referring to the Watts riots) and the machine kicked back. Now we're going to tear the machine up into little bitty parts."

The black power advocate stated that today's young people are the most morally committed generation this country has ever seen. He is currently on his second 40-day fast. Gregory explained his first fast as a "protest against the war in Vietnam and an apology to you young folks for not working as hard when I was your age as you are for your moral commitments." His present fast is also to protest the war in Vietnam.

In conclusion, Gregory stated that "if you spend your four years here learning how to make a living, you have no guarantee that you will be able to get a job. But if you spend your four years learning how to live, making a living will be the easiest job you can get."

Assemblyman discuss party differences

Republican Assemblyman, Stan York of River Falls and Democratic Assemblyman, Fred Kessler of Milwaukee discussed the basic differences between Republican and Democratic views on Vietnam, student unrest, racism and poverty at the annual Young Democrats and Young Republicans Banquet held last Thursday.

Kessler criticized the Republican party saying that they "seek easy answers to complicated problems" and called Nixon's promise to end the war in Vietnam "hollow words." "They subscribe to a philosophy that a man must pull himself up by his own boot straps," he said.

York replied that the basic difference between the two parties was the way they view the role of the individual but that "the Republican philosophy says there are many things a man can do to help himself."

He said, "The Republicans recognize, in spite of the implications of our previous speaker, that there are many things we as individuals cannot control" and the role of government is "to provide a framework of law in which to accomplish together that which we cannot accomplish alone."

Concerning Vietnam York said, "The basic problem is a lack of goals," and that "the present administration is trying to solve new problems with old answers."

Kessler commented that the Republican party has not given any answers concerning the war. "I have yet to see them come out with any innovations," he said.

Kessler said that student unrest "is caused by some of the serious problems we face in the world today." He said that "education has received a shot in the arm," through Democratic leadership.

He said, "The banning of Students for Democratic Society (SDS) by the legislature is not an affirmative solution to student unrest. This is typical of what the Republican party does."

Schwengel opposes Johnson

Fred Schwengel, Republican congressman from Iowa, voiced his opposition to President Johnson's policies in Vietnam at an all-school convocation last Friday.

The congressman organized a committee of volunteers to travel to the war-torn country, study the problems and make a report to Congress and members of the Johnson administration. The report was given to Dean Rusk, secretary of state, and other executive officers who "listened with respectful attention but had no reaction."

Schwengel said he went to Vietnam as a hawk but returned as a realist. During his travels in the country he viewed the war as a mismatch between the politically and economically strong United States and the weaker Communist country. "The military war is our show entirely," said Schwengel.

The congressman stated that if the

"When we use totalitarian tactics to protect democracy we will not have a democracy left," he said.

York explained student unrest as "a clash between idealism and reality" and "a misunderstanding of the nature of democracy." He said students' idealism should be channeled into practical programs. "Let the idealism of students work itself out in practical programs such as the Peace Corps," he explained.

Kessler also criticized the Republican party in Wisconsin concerning civil rights and poverty. "The Republican party record on civil rights is nothing to be proud of," he said.

Concerning open housing legislation Kessler said, "Governor Knowles has swept this issue under the table." He said, "community organization is important in helping people help themselves" and "Those programs which have really captured the attention of the people come from Democrats."

Art show opens

The Senior Art Exhibition of Mrs. Sally Erickson of Hudson, Mrs. Carol Marine of River Falls and Miss Jamey Nelson of Plum City, will open March 24, with a reception from 2-4:30. The artists will be present at this time. The show will run through April 4.

The Exhibition will feature ceramics, prints, paintings, metals, fiber work and some sculpture. Many of the pieces will be for sale.

The gallery is located in the basement of the Student Center and is free to students and the general public. Gallery hours are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. weekdays and Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6 to 9 p.m. The gallery is closed all day Saturday and from 2 to 7 p.m. on Sunday.

United States is to stay in Vietnam and and be successful, the policy of search and destroy which the military is carrying out must be eliminated. He felt that bombing should be scarce and used for military purposes only.

It is a mistake to place the pacification program, a program for stability and progress in Vietnam, in the hands of the military, according to Schwengel. The program should be organized by civilians and it can not be successful until the Vietnamese government also contributes to it, he said.

Schwengel also explained the workings of the Iowa Plan, a program for financing higher education which he developed. The plan puts $25 billion into a rotating fund for loans and grants to needy students in colleges and Universities. The plan is presently being tried at the University of Iowa.

Kessler said, "The Republicans are not able to deal with violence," and pointed to a Republican bill that would supply aid to rural police departments but only minimal aid for urban centers.

York presented a three-point policy to help minority groups and the poor fill "meaningful roles in society." He said industry should be called in through job training, that adult vocational education should be provided and that programs should be developed to give meaning to life to people in slums.

York spoke in place of Republican Assemblyman, Jack Steinhilber who could not attend.

McCarthy campaigner will speak here tonight

Wisconsin manager of the Eugene McCarthy campaign for President, Donald Peterson, will speak at 8 p.m. tonight in room 101 of the Student Center. The 8 p.m. appearance is being jointly sponsored by the St. Croix-Pierce McCarthy Committee, the Young Democrats of WSU-RF, and the newly-formed Veterans for McCarthy.

A vice-president and general sales manager of a dairy products company, Peterson has been active in the Democratic Party for 20 years in Minnesota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin and is the Democratic Party Chairman of the Wisconsin Tenth Congressional District. The public is invited to hear him speak.

Composed of students and townspeople from River Falls, Prescott, Hudson, and Spring Valley, the St. Croix-Pierce McCarthy Committee will be canvassing River Falls and nearby towns, distributing campaign posters and literature, and establishing a "McCarthy for President" headquarters in River Falls.

Those individuals who wish to know more about the McCarthy Committee may contact Mrs. Kaye Abbott, River Falls or Carl Pemble, Route 3, River Falls.

Farnum defends Johnson

Reflecting the attitudes of his political party in his speech, Democratic National Committee chairman, Billie Farnum spoke at the opening session of the Grassroots Political Conference Monday morning in North Hall Auditorium.

Farnum, former Michigan Congressman from 1964-66, said the fighting in Vietnam was necessary to check Communist aggression. "We can't regard Vietnam as another Czechoslovakia as Neville Chamberlain did, a country removed, people of which we know nothing about," stressed Farnum.

He felt President Johnson was taking the "harder road of responsibility" and stated that he was proud to be a part of an administration "that is guided by an idea not a Gallop poll."

Farnum, who conducted John F. Kennedy's Presidential campaign in Michigan, said the present administration feels the domino theory regarding aggression in Southeast Asia is very real. "China looms beyond the frontier and if South Vietnam goes--a Chinese wave will go over Southeast Asia."

Two common denominators, both contributing to one another in the Asian countries, are that there is hard core communist subversion and aggression in these countries and all of these countries have urgent construction problems. Far-num stressed that the U.S. must help them. "If we pull out they would be forced to buckle under to Communism."

While the present administration is carrying on an intensified war in Vietnam, the Democratic chairman stated, "the United States is big enough to have different ideas on Vietnam and also it is not a one issue party or country."

The right to dissent on an issue is the privilege of every man, but with this goes the responsibility of "setting out in detail an alternative" to the problem. In the question and answer period that followed, Farnum said that Senator Eugene McCarthy had every right to seek the Democratic presidential nomination and that after the national convention next summer, the Democratic party must stand behind whichever candidate received the nomination.

ATTENTION SENIORS
There will be a Senior class meeting Tuesday at 5 p.m. in Room 202 of the Student Center. The purpose of the meeting will be to decide on the allocation of the money remaining in the senior class treasury.

Swimmers finish best season fourth in WSU conference

The River Falls Falcons finished with their best season yet in swimming as they swam to a tie for fourth place in the Conference Meet at Stout University last week. They finished behind Platteville, Stevens Point, and Oshkosh while tying Whitewater and beating three other WSU Conference teams. The Coach Michael Davis led team scored 46 points, or 32 more than their best previous year in 1967.

Most of the swimmers turned in their best performances of the season, as six varsity records were broken. Mike Waddell finished second in the conference in the 500 yard freestyle and fifth in the 1000 yard freestyle, setting varsity records in both events. Dave Chinnock swam to a third place finish in both the 100 yard and 200 yard backstroke events. Chinnock swam the 200 back in 2:19.5, as he whittled the backstroke record down ten seconds during the course of the season. Dan Collins finished third in the 100 yard butterfly and then came back and finished third in the 200 yard individual medley. His chance of finishing first in the 200 yard butterfly ended abruptly when he was disqualified. Fourth place in the 100 yard breaststroke went to Dave Penticoff, who followed up his performance with a varsity record-breaking time in the 200 yard breaststroke as he finished second in the conference in that event. Lee Wright performed very admirably as he came out of his first year of college swimming with a fifth place medal in the 100 yard butterfly and a third place medal in the 200 yard butterfly. The medley relay team of Chinnock, Penticoff, Collins, and Waddell finished fourth in record-breaking time and the free relay team of Brian Petersburg, Jim Daniels, Doug Caldwell, and Waddell finished fifth, setting a varsity record with a time of 3:40.0.

Doug Caldwell and Jim Daniels provided good leadership for the team in their position as co-captains. Daniels will be the only graduating senior, so River Falls should have a good nucleus for a team next year with probably eight returning lettermen.

Voice SPORTS

Hal's Lowdown

by Robert Halverson
Sports Editor

If you think VOICE writing is sometimes of a negative nature feature this bit of journalistic endeavor which was written by Bernie Peterson in his column "Bernie's Bucket Banter," and appeared in the February 22 edition of the WSU Eau Claire SPECTATOR.

"The Eau Claire basketball team is sitting in the locker room after twin defeats on the road to Platteville and Whitewater. Instead of Coach Willis Zorn entering to talk to his players, in comes this writer from the SPECTATOR's sports staff. He addresses the team thusly: "Congratulations Gentlemen, you have made my job much easier. As you know, it gets tough covering a basketball team sometimes. Especially when the team is mediocre; you know right around the .500 mark. That's what really grinds us sports writers.

"You guys started that way this year, up to a 6-6 record. But then you made the change that has made it easier for me to write about you. You lost five games out of six in such uninspiring, miserable fashion that I can do nothing but cut you guys down.

"I figured we really had something cooking when you blew that game at Superior. A real work of art losing to a previously winless team. But you did it.

"Now you're sitting a beautifully disgusting 4-10 in the conference, with only Superior to spit on. Face it fellas, that's plain rotten, considering the potential on this club.

"Since we want to get the most of this abortive season, I hope you've considered putting forth a sloppy performance at River Falls, for two good reasons: (1) you'll end up winless on the road, and (2) You'll have suffered what some athletic buffs consider a premier insult, that of losing two games in a row in one season to the Falcons."

This particular brand of needle aimed at the Bluegolds basketball team should certainly provide added incentive and fire to the Falcons rivalry which is already strong between the two schools.

ASSORTED BITS AND PIECES: Bill Van Dyke, ended up as the leading Falcon scorer with 289 points for a 19.3 average, he was immediately followed in 8th place in the conference by Steve Gustafson with 240 points for a 18.5 average . . . . . Robert White, coach of District 14 NAIA champion, Oshkosh, and his star forward Ron Hayek have repeated as Coach of the Year and Most Valuable Player in this district.

SMILING NOW BUT SERIOUS ON THE RINK are this group of Falcon hockey players. The pucksters had a record of 9-1.

GLC officers elected

New officers of the Greek Letter Council (GLC) were elected at the beginning of spring quarter. The newly elected officers include David Torkko, chairman; Barbara Stouffer, vice-chairman; Dawn Piiro, secretary; Jon Ubbelohde, sergeant at arms; and Richard Feldman, treasurer.

In addition to these new officers, each organization also elected new members to represent them on GLC. New representatives are Brian Seefeld and Andrew Peterson, Delta Theta Sigma; Susan Weaver, Phi Delta Psi; Dawn Piiro and Kris Nystrom, Phi Delta Theta; Dayton Hougaard, Alpha Gamma Rho; Tim Popp, Phi Nu Chi; Duane Wisse and Jon Ubbelohde, Phi Sigma Epsilon; Tom Boettcher, Sigma Rho; Susan Thoeny, Delta Iota Chi.

Among the activities currently under consideration are pledge period and Greek Week to be held this year from April 29 to May 2.

If you think staying in school is tough, talk to someone who quit.

Gymnasts improve, but finish in ninth

The WSU-RF gymnast's finished their season at the state meet held in La Crosse, Wis. The Falcons finished the season in 9th place, with a 2-6 record. La Crosse again won the title.

The only Falcon gymnast to place in the top ten in the state competition, was Larry Cipov, who placed 6th on Long Horse Vaulting.

Even though the season was not the best, several of the gymnasts broke school records for a seasons average. Wayne Schrubbe, with a 5.76 on the side horse, Larry Cipov, had a 7.18 average on Long Horse Vaulting, Andy Barrett finished with a 5.29 on the horizontal bar and Perry Karl ended with a 4.34 on the Still Rings. Larry Cipov also set a record for total points in school competition with 211.55 points.

All gymnasts showed great improvement for this seasons' competition. The other competing gymnasts were Victor Jee, trampoline and still rings, Steve Ortman, trampoline, still rings, floor ex., and long horse, Dave Roelz, trampoline, Bob Erickson, side horse, parallel bars and floor ex, Greg Zwaldo, long horse, Steve Guggemos, horizontal bar, free ex, side horse, long horse, parallel bars and still rings, and Jeff Stifanski, side horse.

The season was not a total loss, since most of the gymnasts were first year competitors, ground work has been laid for next year, and the promise is good. Also something must be said for the Coach, Mr. Larry Vold. Mr. Vold, a graduate student, will not be coach next year because he will graduate, but the whole team wants to give thanks to a man who did a fine job as a coach and wish Coach Vold the best of luck,

Mr. Vold has a prediction for La Crosse the state champs, "beware of your title, River Falls is angry."

Hardballers have savvy

This year the Falcon baseball team will have something it didn't have last year. Pitching experience was lacking last year although pitching was the teams strong suit.

This year the Falcons have their two starting pitchers from last year coming back. Scott Gaalaas and Perry Arndt were the teams main stays on the mound last year.

Gaalaas had a modest 5-4 record but that is very deceiving. The former River Falls high school hurler was involved in six one-run games in which he won three and lost three. In one of the three he lost, he was shut out 1-0. In another the score was 3-2 and the other one was a nine inning affair with conference champion Stevens Point 4-3. In nine games Gaalaas's mates got him a total of 27 runs which averages out to a three run er-game run production for this hard luck pitcher. On the other hand Gaalaas's earned run average was a sparkling 1.83.

The other half of the mound duo is Perry Arndt, a Medford sophomore. As a freshman last year Arndt's record was 4-1. His single loss can also be attributed to the Falcon hitters as a no-hitter was thrown at the Falcons by St. Olaf. Arndt's best day on the hill was against La Crosse when he scattered three hits and gave up one earned run in the process of beating them 3-2. Another game that will stick in the minds of the team last year was when Arndt won his own game with a single in the eighth inning of the Bethel game for his first win of the season and his college career. Arndt's earned run average was a respectable 3.27.

On the offensive side the leading hitter coming back for the Falcons will be Terry Frerker, a Madison sophomore. With a late surge which saw him collect six hits in his last 12 times at bat he wound up with a .302 average. He will be counted on this year to pick up where he left off last year.

Another hitter that will be counted on is Bob Jacobson, a Rice Lake junior. Jacobson started the season hitting at a .429 clip through the first six games, winning many with clutch hits in the late innings. "Jake" hit a slump however dropped to a .205 average for the entire season.

The big man that the Falcon hitters and pitchers will miss this year is all-conference first baseman Ron McIntyre. McIntyre hit .364 in the conference and .345 over all of the games. Coach Don Page will be hard pressed to replace a hitter of this caliber, but hitters like Frerker and Jacobson might take up the slack and with more pitching experience the team is looking toward a more successful season than last year's 10-6 mark.

By-law change gives AWS appeal avenue

A by-law change which would give the Associated Women Students (AWS) Executive Board a definite chain of appeal was passed by an all-member AWS vote on March 11.

The change, passed by a vote of 228-8, gave the Executive Board the option of appeal to the Vice President of Student Affairs in the case of a veto by the AWS adviser. The AWS adviser is the Associate Dean of Students, Dr. Nancy Knaak.

A rule change giving married women students voluntary rather than required AWS membership was also passed, by a similar large margin. The new rule will

Chemistry department gets $1,200 3M grant

Professor Theodore Setterquist, chairman of the chemistry department, announced Thursday that the department recently received a $1,200 grant from the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company.

The grant can be used any way the chemistry department wishes it. Setterquist said that the money will be used for the purchase of several pieces of equipment. This equipment could not have been gotten without this money. An overhead projector has already been ordered. Also a dry copier will be purchased later.

The grant, which is the second that the department has received from Minnesota Mining, will also be used for travel expenses. It will be used for faculty members expenses for the American Chemical Society meetings in San Francisco in March and also a meeting in Milwaukee in June.

Setterquist said there are 30 present and former students now working for Minnesota Mining. Ten of these are part time and go to school full time. These part time workers put in as much as 40 hours a week at 3M. Setterquist said this is one of the reasons the department was chosen for this grant.

go into effect Fall Quarter, 1968.

AWS Executive Board members elected for spring quarter were Mary Horton, IAWS coordinator; Joyce Pace, Upper-class representative; and Barbara Hopf, Member at Large. Rose Ann Lunda was elected vice president by the Executive Board to fill the position vacated by Pat Huppert.

The election was considered a success because a large number of women students voted. "For the first time in the history of AWS we are approaching a democratic government," said Sue Thielen, AWS president.

A committee of Executive Board members was appointed for constitutional review. The committee will meet separately from the Legislative Board and report at a future Executive Board meeting.

UAB plans for College Days

The University Activities Board (UAB) has begun plans for the annual College Days, to be held May 6-11. Activities have been coordinated to the theme "Roman Holiday."

The week of events will include Crazy

Kollege Kapers, a torchlight parade, an eating contest, chariot race, a mud sculpture and an orgy--consisting of pillows, grapes, belly dancers and toga clad participants.

MONEY: THE STORY OF AN ENGINEER

We all know, of course, that in this age of technology every engineering senior is receiving fabulous offers of employment, but do we realize just how fabulous these offers are? Do we comprehend just how keenly industry is competing? To illustrate, let me cite the true and typical case of E. Pluribus Ewbank, a true and typical senior.

One day last week while strolling across the M.I.T campus, E. Pluribus was hailed by a portly and prosperous man who sat in a yellow convertible studded with precious gem stones. "Hello," said the portly and prosperous man, "I am Portly Prosperous, president of American Xerographic Data Processing and Birth Control, Incorporated. Are you a senior?"

"Yes, sir," said E. Pluribus.
 "Do you like this car?" said Portly.
 "Yes, sir," said E. Pluribus.
 "It's yours," said Portly.
 "Thanks, hey," said E. Pluribus.
 "Do you like Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades?" said Portly.

"What clean living, clean shaven American does not?" said E. Pluribus.

"Here is a pack," said Portly. "And a new pack will be delivered to you every twelve minutes as long as you live."

"Thanks, hey," said E. Pluribus.
 "Would your wife like a mink coat?" said Portly.
 "I feel sure she would," said E. Pluribus, "but I am not married."

"Do you want to be?" said Portly.
 "What clean living, clean shaven American does not?" said E. Pluribus.

Portly pressed a button on the dashboard of the convertible and the trunk opened up and out came a nubile maiden with golden hair, rosy knees, a perfect disposition, and the appendix already removed. "This is Svetlana O'Toole," said Portly. "Would you like to marry her?"

"Is her appendix out?" said E. Pluribus.

"Yes," said Portly.

"Okay, hey," said E. Pluribus.

"Congratulations," said Portly. "And for the happy bride, a set of 300 monogrammed prawn forks."

"Thanks, hey," said Svetlana.

"Now then," said Portly to E. Pluribus, "let us get down to business. My company will start you at $75,000 a year. You will retire at full salary upon reaching the age of 26. We will give you an eleven-story house made of lapis lazuli, each room to be stocked with edible furniture. Your children will receive a pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades every twelve minutes as long as they shall live. We will keep your teeth in good repair and also the teeth of your wife and children unto the third generation. We will send your dentist a pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades every twelve minutes as long as he shall live, and thereafter to his heirs and assigns... Now, son, I want you to think carefully about this offer. Meanwhile here is 50 thousand dollars in small, unmarked bills which places you under no obligation whatsoever."

"Well, it certainly seems like a fair offer," said E. Pluribus. "But there is something you should know. I am not an engineer. In fact I don't go to M.I.T at all. I just walked over here to admire the trees. I am at Harvard, majoring in Joyce Kilmer."

"Oh," said Portly.
 "I guess I don't get to keep the money and the convertible and the Personnas and the broad, do I?" said E. Pluribus.

"Of course you do," said Portly. "And if you'd like the job, my offer still stands."

Modest proposal

Dear Editor:

I realize that it is not profitable merely to criticize; for a letter to the VOICE to be helpful and constructive it must offer suggestions to help right the wrongs the writer wishes to bring to light. So, if I may, I would like to offer my modest proposal in order to make "Mother Ace" more popular with the students that enjoy her services.

I would suggest that Ace Catering Services abandon the new Rodli Commons as a dining area. This would allow "Mother Ace," with the money saved from this obviously doomed enterprise, to purchase delicacies from the Far East, such as seaweed and octopus which would open a whole new vista to the menus. This would obviously profit the general populace at WSU-RF and delight the gourmets.

Another evident benefit to those students who reside in McMillan, Grimm and Parker Halls would be the continuation of the half-mile walk to the Student Center. This affords good exercise to those students who would otherwise sleep an extra 10 minutes; it also invigorates the student fully for his or her scintillating eight o'clock lecture.

It has been very kind, and I appreciate the fact that "mother Ace" has not, as of yet, opened this new food center. Keep up the good work.

Prolapse defended

Dear Editor:

Last Monday night, students who had submitted work to the Prolapse, as well as other interested students and faculty, attended a reading of the magazine at the coffeehouse. At the meeting, the Prolapse was discussed, and criticism expressed in the Voice was read.

Where was the Voice writer who criticized the Prolapse that night? Had he even bothered to read the magazine himself? I cannot help but think that this critic knew very little about the work he was so critical of, and was unaware of the hours and trouble that went into its production. I don't remember seeing any of his work in the magazine in an attempt to create a better piece of literature. How many others have criticized the Prolapse without realizing the significance of its publication?

I've heard plenty of grumbling about the lack of "free spirit" on this campus, but few seem willing to do anything to remedy the situation. As Mr. Rusch mentioned in his introduction, the significance of the magazine is largely the fact that students were allowed to express their ideas freely. The Prolapse will be on sale for some time yet. Buy a copy, read it, and stop to think about what it means to you as a student at this "free-thinking" university.

Ace efficiency

Dear Editor,

As the war in Vietnam gets worse, so do the working conditions at Ace Foods. Everyday we have to battle with mobs of ruthless people who not only throw dirty dishes at us but some pull dirty tricks and play with their food before throwing it back at us. I don't blame students for being disgusted with the food at times but don't take it out on fellow students. Under our new Administrator of War, we have been cut back on troops for wash room duty as well as in all departments. Why can't Ace afford to pay its workers minimum wage when they cut back on the number of workers, working hours, as well as food quality? The ideas of our new Director turn me off.

Efficiency is important, but the efficiency that has been shown lately will not raise the image of Ace Foods.

Disgusted Ace Employee

I would like to thank those students who took enough time to write the letters to the editor above. From this week on, I will reserve the right to answer any letters either here or in my column, the PHALANX.

Hoppe Speaks

by Arthur Hoppe
Chronicle Features

Howdy there, folks. How y'all? Time for another tee-vee chapter of The Real Great Society, starrin' the rootin'-tootin' Jay Family and featurin' ol' Elbie Jay--a clever feller who knows 98 ways to skin a cat. And it's a shame so few folks these days are chompin' to buy a cat skin.

As we join up with ol' Elbie today, he's stompin' back and forth in the parlor, unburdening himself to his unforgettably-loyal aide, Hubert Horatio Watshisname.

Elbie: Everybody's down on me. Just like they were on Abe Lincoln. Now they're saying I lose things -- four H-bombs, a spy ship, one embassy, 16 Vietnamese Premiers, my credibility and half the voters.

Hubert: You haven't lost these things, sir. You know right where every single one of them is. More or less.

Elbie: That's right, Hubert. Oh, they were unfair to Abe Lincoln, too. But I'm mighty sick of it. When will this talk about me losing things end?

Hubert: Well, there's the November election, sir (hastily) I mean once you're out on the campaign trail, you'll win them back through your magnetism, your humility and because you love the people. Just like Abe Lincoln.

Elbie: I sure do. The ungrateful polecats. Oh, I can't wait to get out there to howdy and press the flesh and humbly receive the roars of acclaim from those who come to the speakin'. You got my itinerary yet, Hubert?

Hubert: Right here, sir. Let's see, your kick-off speech is from the bottom of a Minuteman silo in Ohio. Then on to a rally in the Underground Ready Room of the Strategic Air Command in Omaha. You wind up with a major address on the gold drain from the bowels of Fort Knox.

Elbie: What am I running, an underground campaign?

Hubert: Security, sir. And look at this design of your special limousine for motorcades -- bomb-proof treads, four-inch armor plate, and a periscope on top so you can see the happy faces of your fans lining the route.

Elbie: Now how am I going to press the flesh all buttoned up in a thing like that?

Hubert: Through this little slot in the revolving turret. See? You stick your hand out and those cleared by Security get to come up one at a time and shake it.

Elbie: No sir, Hubert. Let us remember the example of Abe Lincoln. I must show courage in adversity, like Abe Lincoln, and put my case before my beloved people.

Hubert: All right, sir. Shall we start with a rally at the Ford Theater?

Elbie (after a thoughtful pause): And I want you to put my case before them, Hubert. Show them we are unafraid. Go out there among them and accept their love and acclaim on my behalf.

Hubert (nervously): Thank you, sir. Could I borrow the special limousine?

Elbie: And don't forget to compare me, Hubert, to that other President long ago who was vilified in the press and scorned by his fellow citizens.

Hubert: Which one, sir? Martin Van Buren, James K. Polk, Zachary Taylor, Millard ...

Elbie: It grieves me to ruin my perfect record, Hubert. But get lost.

Well, tune in again, folks. And meantime, as you mosey down the windin' trail of life, remember what Elbie's ol' granddaddy used to say:

"It's a smart feller who knows more'n one way to skin a cat. But it's a smarter one who knows how to dress a cat skin to look like mink."
