NO. 30 River Falls State College

MONDAY, MAY 26, 1958

Honors Day to Recognize Academic Award Winners

Recognition of scholastic achievement will be made at the annual Honors Day convocation in North Hall auditorium June 4 at 2 p. m.

Approximately 30 scholarship with a total cash value of more than $2500 will be awarded. Main speaker at the program will be Pres. E. H. Kleinpell.

In addition to the scholarships, there are book awards and the presentation of gold and silver "R."

Seniors who have attained a 3.5 grade point average for their four years in college and have received no grade lower than "C" will receive the "Gold R." Sophomores with a 3.25 average for two years of work at River Falls will receive the "Silver R."

The non-scholastic awards usually made on Honors Day will be presented at the Traditions Day "Recognition Awards" convocation May 29 at 9 a. m.

Traditions Day To See New Ideas

This year the Traditions Day committee, under the direction of Arnie Kaluzney, has come up with several new ideas and projects that will make the day a success. The annual spring event is to be held on Thursday, May 29.

Each class has had the job of originating something this year that will become over the years a tradition. This year's kickoff will be an all-school sing, set up by the freshmen. This is to be held in front of North Hall, Wednesday, May 25, at 7 p. m. Organizations will participate in this event in competition for a trophy.

Immediately following the school sing, there will be a dance in the library, with Diane Richardson, Doug Young, and Jim Laue furnishing the music.

On Thursday the school flag will be flown in honor of the seniors, who are asked to wear a tag during the day with their name and major printed on it. Seniors wearing this tag will receive free coffee in the cafeteria, compliments of the juniors. Underclassmen are urged to ask the seniors questions concerning their major field.

At 9 a. m., there will be an all-school convocation in North Hall Auditorium, at which time Jerry Stern will present the trophy for the all-school sing. Also at this convocation there will be a presentation of the non-academic awards for the year. Included will be awards in athletics, dramatics, and debate.

Freshmen Make Plans For All-School Picnic

An all-school picnic will be held in back of Hathorn Hall tomorrow evening, Tuesday, May 27. Serving will be from 5:30-7:30 and faculty and students alike are invited to attend.

On the menu will be hot dogs, potato chips, and pop or kool-aid. The event is being sponsored by the Freshman Social Committee under the chairmanship of Jack Huntley.

The committee asks all to come and have a good time and a cheap meal. A fee of 25 cents will be charged each person but they can eat all they want.

Ceremony Set For June 7 At Stratton Hall

The cornerstone of the newly completed Stratton Hall will be laid Saturday afternoon, June 7, preceding the Senior - Alumni banquet. Present at the ceremony will be Herman T. Hagestad of the State College Board of Regents and C. G. Stratton for whom the dormitory is named.

Mr. Stratton was Dean of Men at the college from 1930 to 1937 and now operates a flower nursery in River Falls.

During his first years at the Normal at River Falls in 1915, Mr. Stratton taught seven classes of geology and five classes of geography a week in a classroom devoid of equipment. In addition to this, he was assigned the duty of finding rooms for both men and women students and helped coach the football team.

In 1918 Mr. Stratton took a year's leave of absence from teaching to accept a position in Paris as cartographer for the American Commission to Negotiate Peace.

During World War II he kept in contact with servicemen and published a servicemen's edition of the Meletean in 1946.

Mr. Stratton hold an AB degree from Michigan State Normal School and an honorary doctor's degree from Ypsilanti State Normal, also in Michigan.

Mr. Stratton served for a number of years as head of the local Ground Observers Corps and also has been Cooperative Weather Observer for the United States Weather Bureau since 1919.

Graduates Guests At Social Events

Graduating seniors will be entertained at various social events in the coming week.

The annual Faculty Women's Tea and Faculty Men's Smoker were held today to open the scheduled activities. Faculty women and seniors girls met in the Social Room at 3:30 with the faculty and senior men holding the Smoker in the Activity Center at the same time.

The Senior-Faculty Picnic at Glen Park Lodge will be held on Monday, June 2 at 4 p. m. for all seniors and faculty and their families. A faculty-senior baseball game will precede a buffet style supper. Tickets for the picnic will be available for 50c. Children under six will be admitted free. Chauncey King and Gerhardt Bohn are co-chairmen of the event which is being planned by the faculty social committee. Student tickets are being handled by Neil Christenson, while Nicholas Jadinak will take care of North Hall faculty tickets and Dr. Gilbert Smith, South Hall.

Invitations will be sent to the faculty and seniors for the Freshman-Senior Faculty Evening to be held on Tuesday, June 3. The 8 p. m. program in the Little Theatre is strictly for entertainment and will feature skits centering around the emotions seniors experience during their college years. Musical selections will also be presented. The program will be followed by a coffee hour in the Social Room at 9:15. The freshman class sponsors the evening program and members of the class will take part in the skits. General chair-

STUDENTS TO SHOW 'OUR TOWN' COLLAGES

The exhibit of collages of "Our Town" will be on display in Rm. 121S Monday through Friday.

This is a project of the Freshman Communication classes, in which students try to represent their home towns symbolically and to give a total meaningful impression. Describing the project, Dr. Walter Engler said, "By first using non-verbal symbols, selecting them and arranging them to create a total meaningful impression, the student is released from 'pen fright,' which often presents him from expressing his feelings and thoughts effectively."

In a way, he explains, the collage does what the outline does for the writing of an essay. After the student has studied his collage and noted the relationships of the various symbols to each other, he writes a paper of some length on his home town, using the collage as the focus or organizational pattern in developing his paper.

NOTICE

Due to spring quarter final examinations, the next issue of The Student Voice will be published Sunday, June 8.

Watson to Address Grads At 1958 Commencement

GEORGE WATSON

State Superintendent of Education George E. Watson will be the principal speaker at the Commencement exercises to be held Sunday, June 8. A total of 173 students, the largest in the college's history, will be awarded B.S. or B.A. degrees.

Mr. Watson will give the commencement address during the exercises to be held on the lawn in front of North Hall. He is a member of the Board of Regents of State Colleges, the Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin, and a member of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education in Wisconsin.

Graduating with degrees in agriculture are 41 students; in liberal arts, 38; in secondary education, 50, and in elementary education, 44. 130 men and 43 women are being graduated. In addition one student will receive a three-year certificate and 16 will receive two-year certificates.

Awarding of the diplomas will be done by President Eugene H. Kleinpell and Herman Hagestad, the college's member of the State Board of Regents. Music for the event will be provided by the college concert band under the direction of Dr. William Abbott. A reception will follow the Commencement program on Sunday afternoon.

On Saturday, June 7, a cornerstone laying ceremony will be held at Stratton Hall. Prof. C. G. Stratton will be present along with representatives of the college, the alumni and the Board of Regents.

The Senior - Alumni - Faculty Banquet will be served in South Hall at 6:30 p. m. Reservations for the banquet should be made, if possible, by Friday, May 30.

WILLIAM FINLAN GETS PROLOGUE EDITORSHIP

College Band to Give Outdoor Pop Concert

The college band will hold its annual pop concert on North Hall Lawn Wednesday, June 4, at 7 p. m.

The program for the outdoor event has not been announced. However, Dr. William Abbott stated that selections of Broadway show tunes will be played. Everyone is invited to attend the concert.

NICE WORK Delorit Judges 'Alice' Contest

Richard Delorit, Director of the Division of Agriculture was one of the judges at the regional "Alice in Dairyland" contest held at Fountain City, Saturday, May 17.

Two princesses were chosen on the basis of leadership, personality, photogenic qualities, and the ability of self-expression. The two girls and 18 other regional winners will compete at DePere, Wis., June 19-21. Four winners at DePere will vie for the title of Alice in Dairyland and the chance to promote Wisconsin agricultural products as an employee of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

The contest is open annually to single girls between the ages of 18 and 25 years.

French Club to Sell Tickets to Sagan Film

The French Club will sell tickets this week in the cafeteria for "Bonjour Tristesse," which will be shown at the Falls Theatre. The club will make 20c on every ticket sold to the movie, which is taken from Francoise Sagan's novel.

The movie, starring David Niven and Deborah Kerr, will be shown Tuesday, May 27, and Wednesday, May 28. Tickets may also be purchased from French Club members.

The Editor Speaks . . .

Every college has its traditions, and River Falls is no exception. But attention should be directed to the advent of new events and projects that perhaps will become traditions on this campus.

One of the most amazing innovations is the dance to be held in the library. We have never heard of this taking place on any other campus, and feel that this could be an annual affair to look forward to. Anyone who has ever wanted to tap his feet or beat the table in the quiet of the library, should certainly take advantage of this opportunity.

The songfest, if backed up by students, can be one of the best traditions on the campus. Competition is always stimulating, and in an activity of this sort almost every person with a bit of interest can get into the swing of competition and have a good time doing it.

The Traditions Committee has other plans underway which will not be disclosed until Thursday.

Other events on campus have become traditions. Every year seniors rate free coffee on Traditions Day in the cafeteria for their four years hard work at the institution. This year, again, the school flag will be flown in their honor.

Traditions Day is held annually, primarily to honor the seniors. However, the event needs student support, just as every other function that is held on campus.

Critics Corner —

by Mark Wyman

Although partially obscured by wisps of local fog, the view from Arthur Miller's bridge was powerful, yet sensitive, and at all times hardhitting. And director Henri Elzinga produced a play that was a fitting finale to his illustrious college dramatic career.

Mr. Elzinga's job was made much easier, it must be admitted, by two things: he had an outstanding play, and his cast included most of the "big names" of RFSC theatrical work in the past two years. Under somewhat similar conditions, Miller's "Death of a Salesman" was directed by Dr. Davis last fall; "Bridge," however, lacked the over-all greatness of its predecessor.

Doug Krug and Beatrice DeGidio, cast as Eddie and Beatrice Carbone, would have made the play worthwhile even if the supporting parts were played by recruits from the Campus School. But they weren't. Even the short-but-important roles of Louis and Mike, Ed's bowling buddies, were done to perfection by Norbert Teclaw and Jim Kenall—and this was real perfection, for when they laughed at something which they themselves admitted was not funny, the audience burst out, too.

Mr. Krug's and Miss DeGidio's excellent portrayals were not entirely matched by Charlene Bitney, who nevertheless is to be commended for her first college dramatic appearance. Although starting rather weakly, she appeared to mature to the part as the play progressed, and finished a much better actress than at the start of the play.

The arrival of two "submarines" (illegal immigrants, we learned) to the home of the Carbone and their niece, Catherine, played by Miss Bitney, served to introduce French teacher Henri Allard to the River Falls theatrical scene. He and Mike Fleming, as Rodolpho and Marco, gave excellent characterizations of a pair of Sicilians with great expectations. Their inward hopes and fears, and their deep sense of honor were brought out well by these two actors.

When Mike Dodge as Alfieri, the lawyer, gave the setting as "the gullet of New York, swallowing the tonnage of the world," it could be assumed that the view would not be one along the level of a Sunday School picnic. And it wasn't. In the realization that Eddie really loves his niece more than his wife, in his attempts to convince his friends (as well as himself) that his niece's lover Rodolpho is not "100% man," and in his last try to "save face" after exposing the "submarines" to the Immigration Department, the audience saw human life in its lowest form.

Eddie's inevitable downfall reached its last stages when he saw Catherine and Rodolpho falling in love, and when his blundering attempts to stop it failed, Catherine's turning against him finished the job. "He bites people when they sleep," she tells him at the end. "He comes when nobody's lookin' and poisons decent people—in the garbage he belongs!" But perhaps Eddie's wife, Bea, gave a truer picture of their existence when she answered, "Then we all belong in the garbage...whatever happened we all done it."

It was here that "View From The Bridge" had its greatest power in its portrayal of blood turning against blood. And director Elzinga moulded this power into each character in the play. The result was truly a fine production.

THE TRADITION OF THE IVY

When, a few years ago, we were enthusiastically singing "Marzy Doats" we learned that little lambs eat ivy. When picnickers wander from the circle of those creating hot dogs, they learn that Mother Nature has an ivy touch. When newly-weds look at the new home, they solemnly decide to plant a sprig at the chimney base. Park gardeners fool with it, estate dwellers include it in the trappings, poets rhyme with its name but there is one place where it truly belongs. College halls without ivy are practically naked.

At times, optimistic ones attempt to put colleges into skyscrapers, into church basements, into warehouses, into office files, into U. S. post office boxes, into trailers or into summer resorts, but nearly all such attempts end up in empty seats, red ink and promotional despair. Its not the high cost of living, it's not the humidity, it's not the international situation, it's not a kink in the curriculum, it's not a lack of vitamins. What? Simple! No Ivy!

Scuffers may go about scoffing, doubters may use up time doubting, explainers may go about explaining, alibiers may go about alibi-ing but after all it's logical "Alma" is as nearly human as the rest of us. She is sensitive and proud. She knows what she wants when she wants it and if you think you can drag her around without a decent wardrobe you have some unfinished homework to do. If you want class in the classics, human interest in the humanities and a shirt on the concerto, dress her up. Give her that ivy robe and the problems of the campus will be solved.

When Junior IV decides at age 17 that he will not carry on the family tradition but will go into the cold, cruel world and when he is so determined he sasses dad, breaks mother's heart and refuses to eat his oatmeal there is only one cure. Load him into the car, drive to the old campus. When he sees the ivy, he is sunk. From this time on until September he will be packing. Strange, isn't it, what a little greenage on a brick wall will do.

man of the event is Muriel Peterson with Phyllis Gartland, Barbara Scheffer, Bob Nelson, and Arlo Miller working on the planning committee.

Also on Tuesday, June 3, the AWS Senior Women's Supper will be held for all senior girls and the AWS Board. The supper will begin at 5:45 p.m. in Glen Park Lodge. A program is being planned.

Members of the Class of 1908 will be honored on the 50th anniversary of their graduation from RFSC at the Senior-Faculty-Alumni Banquet being held on Saturday, June 7, at 6 p.m. in South Hall gym. Edward P. Rock, Superintendent of Schools in Hudson and a 1918 graduate of the college will be the main speaker. Tickets for the banquet will be distributed to seniors at the Commencement rehearsal on June 3.

State Meets Close Spring Sports Program

LACROSSE COPS 1ST; FALCONS TAKE 2ND

La Crosse State's golfing team made a complete sweep of week-end action against the Falcons as they copped the Wisconsin State College Conference golfing crown at Green Lake Monday. The Indians won the meet for the second year in a row having triumphed last year on their home course. River Falls finished second after having entered the meet as favorites because of an earlier win over La Crosse this spring.

Nine of the 10 Wisconsin State College Conference schools entered teams in the meet. Only Stevens Point failed to send a delegation.

The final results:

La Crosse	644
River Falls	655
Whitewater	659
Milwaukee	671
Eau Claire	683
Oshkosh	686
Superior	686

Baseball Coach Don Page has named 19 letter winners for the completed 1958 season.

Seniors who won letters were George Holland from River Falls, Ken Barrows from Cumberland, Everett Glaser from Prairie Farm, and Dale Crisler and Lewie Johnson from Barron.

Five sophomores won letters. They were Howard Madsen from Amery, Roger Piehl from Shawano, Dick Peper from St. Proix Falls, John Gegerich and Jim Turnquist from Greenwood.

Four rookies performed greatly for Coach Page—Bill Halverson from Glenwood City, Frank Gombold from North St. Paul, Bob Maxwell from Red Wing, Minn., and Tom Trainor from Menomonie.

Eleven cindermen won letters this year under Track Coach Fran Polsfoot it was announced today. There were no senior letter winners, two juniors, six sophomores, and three freshmen.

Those receiving letters were Frank Sprenger from Hayward, Del Mottaz from North St. Paul, Minn., Bill Shimel from Merrill, Dale Henning from Osseo, Dan Teetzen from Shawano, Fred Coleman from Cumberland, Walter Wanzong from Turtle Lake, Aaron Burchell from Hillsboro, Cliff Lindsay from Paraiso, Panama, Fred Flanagan from Prairie Farm, and Vern McKinney from New Richmond.

TRACKMEN TAKE 5TH

Cumberland freshman Fred Coleman blazed to a 2:00.0 half mile to tie the River Falls school record and take the only Falcon first in closing the track season at the State meet in La Crosse Saturday.

Coach Fran Polsfoot's team scored 9½ points to finish fifth in a seven team field. The totals: La Crosse 64½; Milwaukee 62½; Oshkosh 57 5/6; Whitewater 25; River Falls 9½; Stevens Point 6 and Eau Claire 0.

Two records were broken in the meet as La Crosse's Dick Pam-puch hurled the javelin 191-4 to break the old mark of 184-4 set by Jess Lyon of La Crosse in 1929, and Oshkosh's Rod Coughlin tossed the discus 136-2, breaking the old mark of 135-10½ set by Stennent Pierce of La Crosse in 1956.

Others scoring points for River Falls were Dan Teetzen with a third in the two mile, Aaron Burchell with a fifth in the discus and Del Mottaz, who tied for fifth in the pole vault.

In summing up the Falcon track year, 11 men, all of them underclassmen, earned their letters. Their return, coupled with the return of sprint record-holder Roger Huser from the service, should give Polsfoot's team much more depth in 1959.

The Falcons placed first in one of their seven meets this spring, copping a triangular with St. Thomas and Eau Claire on April 26 by a 78-45-28 margin.

Coleman's half mile performance Saturday was the only record-tieing or record-breaking performance of the year. As a boy who never participated in high school track, he must be singled out as the Falcon thinc-lad who showed the most improvement of the year.

Sprinter Frank Sprenger was the top point-getter for the season, rolling up 41½ points even though he didn't run in the state meet because of bad ankles. The other 10 who earned letters, and their point totals, are:

Duane Swanson Cops Ping-Pong Tourney

by Ed Schlumpf

Red Wing's oft-frustrated Duane Swanson finally lived up to expectations last week and came through with a smashing victory over game Sam Perry to cop the spring quarter ping-pong tournament. Swanson won the best-of-three series by taking two straight games 24-22 and 21-19. Thus the newly crowned champ will compete in a tournament this week involving fall term winner Fred Kalantari and winter winner Jack Neurer.

For Swanson victory was indeed deserved. His bid for the top in the autumn classic fell short and he advanced all the way to the finals in the winter tourney before bowing to Neurer.

The first game with Swanson found a desperate Perry hopelessly behind 19-11 when suddenly the tide turned. A blazing flourish gave Perry nine straight points and the lead at 20-19. But Swanson was not to be denied this time and finished fast to win 24-22.

A similar rally was needed by Perry in the second game but again it fell short. Trailing by 20-18, Perry spurted for four straight points but lost 21-19.

Sticklers!

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN A BANK OFFICIAL IS DEPRIVED OF HIS LUCKIES?

(SEE PARAGRAPH AT RIGHT)

BANK ROBBERS often try to get rich through no vault of their own. So often, in fact, that bank officials rarely get rattled by ordinary hold-ups. But sometimes the gangsters go too far. Sometimes (Curses!) they lift the officials' Luckies! That dastardly act is bound to cause real Banker Rancor! Why? Simple. Every Lucky (You can bank on this!) tastes like a million bucks. Every Lucky is made of fine tobacco . . . naturally light, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. But don't accept our account—check it yourself. Get Luckies right now!

TIME'S RUNNING OUT! Better get your Sticklers in fast! (You haven't lived if you haven't Stickled!) Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.
