Local Churches Present Annual Student Mixers

Miss Muriel Stubkjaer Reads on Lutheran Program; Many Attend

The Newman club held its first meeting of the year in the basement of the Catholic church on Thursday evening, September 21. The evening was spent playing Bunco. High honors went to Imelda Farrell. The members of the club enjoyed several musical selections by Father Fagan. At the conclusion of the entertainment the ladies of St. Bridget's congregation served a delicious luncheon.

On last Friday evening a record crowd for the Lutheran Y. P. S. mixer, gathered for the purpose of a social get-acquainted party.

A program featuring Miss Muriel Stubkjaer, a reading artist from Minneapolis, was given in the early part of the evening. The program was followed by games. "If every fellow there didn't get a date that night, it was his own fault," an enthusiastic attendant was heard to exclaim.

Of course one of the big features of any party is the fine lunch and this party proved to exception to that rule long since established at the Lutheran church.

Judging by the fine crowds that attended the mixer, the officers of the Y.P.S. are looking forward to a fine year.

The annual Methodist mixer was reported by all who attended as a very successful event. A jolly crowd of nearly fifty students were present to take part in the fun, games, entertainment, and refreshments.

The social part of the event consisted of games, magic tricks, and music. Helen Vaughan gave a very pleasing presentation at the piano. Everette Gellette, sophomore, acted as master of ceremonies.

Freshman Class Elects Officers

At a meeting of the Freshman class held Tuesday morning Palmer Aastrud, River Falls, was elected president of the class. Donald Simmelink, Baldwin, was elected vice-president. The balloting on the secretary and treasurer will be finished at an assembly on Tuesday of next week.

President Ames acted as adviser of the meeting due to the fact that the official faculty adviser has not been appointed yet.

Prof. and Mrs. Russell Johnston entertained the training school faculty and several other faculty members at a picnic in the Prescott tourist park last Friday evening. We are told the teachers did justice to the weiners and the rest of the supper.

Freshmen Enthusiastic Over Membership

One of these days just take a stroll down the hall for the sole purpose of reading the bulletin boards. What will you see?

"Masquers meeting tonight at 7:30", "Y.M.C.A. meeting tomorrow night", "Tryouts for mixed chorus will be held today", "Student Voice meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock."

All the freshmen want to belong to the various clubs and societies. A few will be admitted to all; others will belong to none. Some will gain prominence as officers in the organizations while others will go through

River Falls Eighth

Statistics released by LaCrosse Teachers college September 25, rank River Falls eighth in size of the nine Wisconsin state teachers colleges.

The exact enrollment figures for the nine colleges are as follows: Milwaukee 1,351, LaCrosse 717, Whitewater 673, Superior 670, Stevens Point 664, Oshkosh 654, Eau Claire 617, River Falls 537 (today's total) and Platteville 461.

The total 6,334 is a gain of about 10 per cent over the figures of four years ago, but about 200 less than the total for last year.

College Band Prospects Good

Prof. Rozehnal Has Varied New Projects to Work Up; More Strings Needed

Prof. Rozehnal is very pleased with the prospects of band and orchestra. Sixty-two students have signed up for the band. From these people he has chosen 42 men for the marching band, 40 for the concert band, and 20 for the girls' band. With only men in the marching band this year, Mr. Rozehnal expects to do some new and interesting things and have a band which will stand at the head of the list. They will begin very soon working on new formations.

New instruments and music have been added to our instrumental library. Among these are drums and two Aida trumpets. Look for these trumpets when the boys appear for our first game; they'll make a big hit carrying the red and white banners.

Mr. Rozehnal is planning several concerts, one to be out-of-doors within a month or two.

Thirty people have signed up for orchestra, and judging from the first two rehearsals, we will have a fine orchestra this year. Mr. Rozehnal has some very fine new music which the orchestra people find interesting. Among the numbers to be presented this year are one of Beethoven's symphonies and the Mendelssohn concerto for piano and orchestra with Mary Jane Larson at the piano.

Mr. Rozehnal issues a call for more string players. He hopes to add some string basses to the instrumental library and will look for players for them as well as violinists, violists, and cellists. It will be well to note the change in the practice day from Monday to Tuesday evening at 7:15.

Attended by her father who is a physician in Milwaukee, Mrs. Eide, instructor in the mathematics department has been improving rapidly from an appendix vermiformis removal at a Milwaukee Hospital.

Reports state that if improvement continues satisfactorily she may be expected home within a few days.

college serene in the knowledge that the fate of certain clubs do not rest in their hands.

Some will consider college as a place to find merely amusement in the whirl of clubs; others will combine fun with study, and still others will just study.

This week literally dozens of students will be kept in suspense as to whether or not the judging committees in the organizations will have found their attributes satisfactory for entrance.

Good luck to you, fellow students!

Williams Leads Radio Detail at Camp McCoy

Reports Two Weeks Spent in Education, Amusements, at National Guard Camp

Two weeks at Camp McCoy with the 57th Field Artillery Brigade during the later part of the summer makes a delightful vacation. At least, this is the attitude of First Lieutenant Justin Williams of the college history department.

Dr. Justin Williams

From July 29 to August 12, about fifteen hundred guardsmen from over 35 Wisconsin cities, encamp on the 12,000 acre government reservation near Sparta. River Falls contributes one battery of thirty men to this group. Professor Williams is one of the officers of this battery.

The communication detail, of which the River Falls battery is a part, has a very important part to play in manoeuvres. The officers who direct the firing manoeuvres of the artillery and the artillery itself are sometimes separated by several miles of territory. It is the duty of this communication detail to string wires between these two important posts in such a manner that messages can be relayed promptly.

When conditions are such that this is impossible, recourse is had to transmission by radio, usually in code form. Lieutenant Williams here paused in the interview to boast with evident pride that the River Falls battery possessed a radio transmitter valued at one thousand dollars.

The first day in camp an officer spends a good deal of time shaking hands with fellow-officers—bankers, lawyers, businessmen, doctors, and teachers, a cross section of the whole state.

Work begins on the second day. Reveille comes at five-thirty, followed by breakfast at six. The area is policed every morning from six-thirty to seven, then drill for half an hour. The next three hours are spent at the communication school. Gas mask instructions are given from eleven to eleven-thirty. Lunch comes at twelve. There is more school from two until three. Retreat comes at five, followed by supper at five-thirty.

Kittenball games and music by the regimental band are the chief entertainments from six to eight.

The prize fighting takes place from eight to nine-thirty. After this comes retreat, which is at ten.

Two Boy Scouts act as mascots. The three officers from River Falls are Captain Weber, First Lieutenant Williams, and Second Lieutenant Ingli.

Caraway Taken Ill While Driving

Mr. Roy Caraway, Ellsworth, suffered a stroke while driving to that city last Thursday evening. He is getting along quite well and expects to be back to school soon.

Noted Traveler Speaks Tomorrow In Assembly

George Elias, "A Shepherd of the East", will address the student body at the regular Thursday assembly this week. His address will be "Revolt in the Desert". Mr. Elias has led a very interesting and unusual life as a shepherd boy in the East, a soldier in the Russian army during the World war, and as an adventurer in Persia, Russia, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Poland, England, and Mexico. Since his travels he has spent his time as a lecturer.

Wyman Plays Individualism

Declares Brighter Outlook For Future; Policies of Government Favor All

Stressing the fact that "there has never been a genuine system of rugged individualism", Mr. Walker D. Wyman, instructor in the social science department, gave the main address at the second regular meeting of the Y.M.C.A.

His theme: "The Myth of American Individualism" was ably illustrated by many interesting examples relating to his topic.

Mr. Wyman stated that the American business man is ruggedly individual until he gets into trouble and then he asks the government to help him. He then went on to declare his outlook for the future was the brighter because he believes that the policies of the government are being discussed by the American public quite intelligently. In the school corridors, on the street corners, and in the lobbies of hotels, marked interest is being shown in public affairs.

He maintained that we should be looking forward to the days when of the so called "stuffed shirt" era the "wild cat" stock is over; the end and when government places the interest of the consumer paramount to the producer.

First Glee Club Rehearsal Held

Thirty-five women turned out for the first regular meeting of the girls' glee club at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Tentative plans were made for the year which included a Christmas program of foreign festive songs.

Miss Wharton states that there is still room in the organization for more members. First sopranos are especially urged to join.

'32 Graduates Get Jobs

Two members of the class of '32 have recently signed contracts for teaching positions.

Mr. Wilbur "Tony" Weisapple is to teach mathematics and coach in his home town, Durand, Wisconsin for the coming year.

Miss Margaret Kelley will teach history and music in the school at Hixton, Wisconsin.

Wasps Make Nice Pets - - Sometimes

Can it be that the expression on the faces of the freshman English students, seldom seen outside of a pasture, that inveigled the many wasps to swarm confidently around them has undergone such a change in two weeks that the wasps no longer care for their company?

Surely after such insistence, on the part of the professor that they make good pets, the creatures could not

Registration Statistics Show 533 Enrolled

Freshmen Lead in Numbers; '34 Class Largest Known; 35 % Upperclassmen

Registration statistics for the college issued by the administration show 295 men and 238 women enrolled thus far.

The college draws its students very extensively over the state. 97 Wisconsin high schools and 32 high schools from outside the state are represented in the present enrollment. Thirty-five per cent of the enrollment comes from towns and cities at some distance from the institution.

The enrollment by classes shows there are 91 seniors, 90 juniors, 145 sophomores, and 207 freshmen.

The average enrollment over a period of 8 or 12 years is approximately 500 students. The significant thing about the enrollment in the River Falls State Teachers college is the fact that it is fairly uniform from year to year. This gives the school stability.

Approximately 35 per cent of the enrollment of the college is in the junior and senior years which is an unusually high percentage of upperclassmen.

The number of seniors the present year indicates that the graduating degree class for 1934 will be the largest in the history of the school.

The number of degree graduates has grown from 26 in 1929 to 70 in 1933.

The cause for the increased enrollment is due to the growth of the four year degree courses. These were established in 1927 and have shown steady increase up to the present year.

Of the 291 men enrolled in college there are thirty-four who are doing light housekeeping. There are six who drive to college from Hudson and seven more who drive from Ellsworth. There are sixty-eight boys who live in the vicinity and drive to school.

Agriculture Juniors Lose Singlemen Title

Mr. Clifford Narveson, member of the junior agriculture class, entered the realm of married men September 10, when he was united in matrimony at Northwood, Iowa, with Miss Irene Dickman, Wells, Minnesota.

After the nuptial ceremony the newly-weds toured to the fair at Chicago.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Narveson are making their home in River Falls.

Shortly after school closed last June, Mr. William Daughtery, member of the junior agriculture class, broke from that old gang of his by joining Miss Eileen Martin, Emerald, Wisconsin, in marriage at Red Wing, Minnesota.

Mr. Daughtery is continuing his work at River Falls while his wife will be engaged in teaching a St. Croix county school during the present school year.

have felt unwelcome. Perhaps they considered him too familiar when he so inconsiderately brushed one out from underneath his glasses.

At any rate we know that, having once been an object of diversion for the class, the wasps have deserted.

It is our suspicion, however, that most of the girls in the class aren't very anxious for them to return.

Time Budgeting

TEACHERS and those of you who are upperclassmen realize the common occurrence of failures in college. A student may be quite intelligent, quite willing to work, but will often fail to make the grade. This is especially true of lower classmen in our universities.

One of the main reasons for many of our college failures is the lack of the student to use his time properly. He or she somehow does not find enough time to do their work. The best method of removing this problem of finding sufficient time is to use the budget system.

The budget system for your time is practically the same as a budget for national expenses. Its purpose is to so arrange time for the maximum efficiency.

The students' time must be arranged to give him sufficient time to study. If he has fifty hours to study, he should arrange to get his fifty hours.

Budgeting of time, however, is not applicable to studies alone. Social activities are an important part of college life. Time must be budgeted not for studies alone but for social activities as well.

The time budget keeps a happy balance between studies and social activities and is always a constant reminder that we are primarily college students. J.S.

President's Diplomacy

IN dealing with Cuba, President Roosevelt has again executed one of his characteristic common sense movements. The Cubans are feeling that they have thrown off Spanish despotism only to succumb to American imperialism as exemplified by American business control. American capitol owns Cuba. The Platt amendment gives us the right to intervene in order to stabilize government in Cuba. These two reasons form the basis for the President's policy concerning Cuban affairs.

To use the "Iron Fist" in Cuba would stir up all Latin America. To avoid resentment, President Roosevelt ordered the state department to round up all the Latin American diplomats in Washington and explained to them the grounds for intervention. The President further expressed the hope that Cuba would right her own "Ship of State". This was the first time in history where any president has ever taken the Latin American countries into his confidence regarding our dealings with Cuba. It was a good piece of diplomacy because it did much to relieve the existing warlike tension. E. M.

What Do You Think of the New Regulations Pertaining to the Length of Teacher Training Courses Now in Force

I think that the new law is a much needed one. Not only should it serve to check slightly the constantly increasing over-supply of teachers, but, more important still, it should serve to raise the standard for teachers graduating from those departments.

—H. Jensen.

I believe that the new system of regulations whereby the rural teachers will be required to take a course of two years study and the elementary teachers to take a course of three years study will be a great move in solving the problem of placing our teachers for at least a few years. Consequently, the system will offer the teacher a better opportunity to become trained for the field of teaching.

—M. K.

I sincerely believe that the change in the length of course for rural and elementary teachers that becomes effective in Sept. 1934 is a valuable and much needed change.

It will relieve the unemployment situation among teachers to some extent by retarding graduation for one year.

The early school days of children are of much importance in shaping their characters therefore their teachers should have the best training possible for the task.

—H. B.

The new system may prove to have some disadvantages. To many high school graduates of next spring, it will mean a postponement of their advanced education. It is well-known that a large number of one and two year students must borrow part, or all of the money with which to go to school. If the minimum teaching preparation is extended to two years they will not be able to borrow to complete the course. Aside from considerations for these students I think it a good plan for reducing, at least temporarily, the number of unemployed teachers.

—E. Peabody

I believe that a rural school teacher should be required to take more than two years of training because she has to teach all of the eight grades. Certainly one preparing to teach all of the grades should have a better preparation than an intermediate or primary teacher.

—E. R. W.

I am for the new regulation 100 per cent. It has three outstanding benefits. It will give rural teachers better training, city teachers will have a better academic training and it will help relieve the employment situation.

Student Opinion

Why can't the teachers dismiss classes promptly when the bells ring? We are expected to be on time for all classes, but we can't unless we are excused from the class before on time. When one has to go from one building to another and probably to the locker room, he needs all of the five minutes afforded. If the teachers will do their part by stopping immediately, the students will cooperate and get to classes on time.

—P. G.

Perhaps you've read opinions and discussions in our Student Voice in which somebody is everlastingly howling about some phase of our college that he or she feels isn't quite up to par.

Maybe in a few cases that person is right, but did you ever stop to think that in a great many instances that person may have absolutely no foundation for his unfavorable criticism?

Why not take time to check up on the situation before you plunge into a one-sided discussion of what should or should not be done around this institution?

Perhaps, although it may sound quite unreasonable, the executives of the various departments know some particular reason why it isn't advisable to carry out your suggestion. Why not go to them and find out?

And did you ever think of the bad advertising our college receives when every issue of our college paper that is sent out to the various exchanges has some fault to find with this, our college?

Let's astonish the campus by saying something nice about our college. Just think it over.

—F. S.

I am sure that everyone appreciated the fact the floor was waxed for the mixer. Many dances in previous years have been rather disappointing because of the fact that it was like sliding on sandpaper to try to dance. Not only is this very fatiguing but also it is very hard on shoe leather. If the floors would be as good to dance on as the one in North Hall was at the Mixer, school dances should all be very successful. I'm sure the students would appreciate it if the social committee would put away a little money to buy some wax.

Another thing that would add to the good times would be a little less reticence on the part of the young men to ask for dances. At a school function such as this, I don't feel that a formal introduction is necessary. But if you feel that it is, why don't you get someone to introduce you? All could have a better time if everyone has a chance to enter in the fun.

Would it be possible to have a "stag" party and require that all "stag it". There are many who would like to go to dances if they could afford to have a date. More would be encouraged to go to dances if they knew that it would not be a couple affair. What do you, as fellow students think about this idea?

—M. E. G.

It seems that the various organizations in this school have very little love for each other. The majority of them are tight and they don't seem to trust a single soul.

Books Worth Reading

By M. W.

INVITATION TO THE WALTZ by Sue Lehmann

The author of Invitation to the Waltz is a young woman especially adept at delineating the relations of young people. This is not Miss Lehmann's first novel. Dusty Answer, her first volume, won her considerable fame, and in this second book, the author does not let down her standards one whit.

The subject dealt with is slight. To adolescence, however,---feminine adolescence, anyway---the account of the ball would be of tremendous importance. Miss Lehmann's sympathetic nature enables her to analyze the heroine's moods accurately and delightfully.

This is the type of book you need to add interest to that horrid physics or math problem that needs doing. In fact, if you read this volume, you will forget that there ever was such a thing as physics!

Last winter the Masquers put on a play. They made an attempt to borrow a piece of furniture from one of the social rooms. Did they get it? No sir, the only answer they got when the request was made was "No". When the prom committee last spring made a similar request they also got "No" for a reply.

The thing wound up by the Masquers borrowing their furniture from a private home, and the prom committee got theirs from the high school.

Why should this be? Is there any answer but pure selfishness? I say no. What do the rest of you think?

—P. W. D.

The enrollment of Stout Institute is smaller than last year. Four hundred ten students are enrolled.

Falls to Meet Macs at St. Paul Field Saturday

Former Games Indicate Hard Clash Awaits Falcon Team; Falls Won 6-0 in '32

On Saturday of this week, September 30, the Falcons engage the strong Macalaster college team of the Minnesota conference in a pre-conference football game. Past records reveal three meetings of these two teams. The first game was in 1919. In this tilt, the Macs downed the Cardinals by the score of 13-0. In 1925, the score was 13-13 although River Falls seemed to enjoy what little advantage there was. Our last meeting with Macalaster was in 1932 when we eked out a scant 6-0 victory.

The past games offer little in comparing the relative strength of the teams. Both teams have probably developed a great deal of football technique since these games were played. We feel, however, the River Falls has developed faster and we are pulling for a victory on Saturday.

In Shots By Vern

Taking with him about 28 men, Coach Cowles engaged St. Olaf in an informal scrimmage which lasted about two hours Monday afternoon.

With the exception of Eide, McChesney and Bergemann, who have slight injuries, all the men had a chance to scrimmage. From all reports, Coach Cowles was fairly well pleased with the way the men showed up in the backfield and line both defensively and offensively.

Lampson was tried at end and he showed up well as did VanWinkle who played in the backfield.

Cowles started the scrimmage with Kuss and Lampson, ends, Simpson and Panzenhagen, tackles, Maack and Voskuil, guards, Aastrud, center, Dawson, quarter, Nolde and Mack, halfbacks, and Brickner, fullback.

This lineup was changed often with Brekke, Swainson, Glass, Jacklyn, Van Winkle, Kolberg, Johnson, Krause, Clapp, Zaner, Vezina, and Norwich seeing plenty of action.

After reading the St. Paul Daily News from last week one can imagine that the Falcon team is going to be in for a busy afternoon when they meet Al Gowan's Macs Saturday on Shaw Field in St. Paul.

Composed largely of green, inexperienced men, Macalaster is out to avenge the 6-0 defeat suffered by their team last year on Ramer Field.

River Falls is favored to repeat this year, due to the fact that the Falcons are composed largely of lettermen from last year; it doesn't mean a thing if the team isn't clicking.

Saturday's game is going to be a real game and don't forget it. All students who can should find a way up to back the team. Help them get off to a good start in the opening game of this year's football season.

Big League Prospect

Ray Helixon

Fifteen players, considered as big minor and major league prospects, were selected for an all-star aggregation from the seven clubs of the Northern Baseball league recently by Danny Boone, manager of the Crookston team and president of the circuit.

Ray Helixon, former star athlete at River Falls State Teachers college, was named as one of the three outstanding fielders of the league. He played with the East Grand Forks club last season and has now returned to school.

W. A. A. Notes

The W.A.A. held its election of officers last Wednesday. The girls who were elected will hold office for a half-year term. The following were elected:

- Marie Klugow ----- President
- Lois Espeseth ---- Vice-President
- Bernice Smith ----- Treasurer
- Doris Nelson - Recording Secretary
- Grace Schwalen --- Soccer Leader
- Elizabeth Bonney - Hockey Leader

At the meeting held Tuesday, Sept. 26, the changing of system points and the admission of new members was discussed.

Milwaukee Paper Lauds Falcon Title Hopes

River Falls Teachers' college WILL have a football team. Fans up in this sector are already getting ready to root home a winner and if they are disappointed it will be because La-Crosse or Superior or some other northern division team of the state teachers college conference has some long range guns of their own. It won't be because River Falls is a weak sister. All in all the Falls have a fine looking layout--and if followers of other clubs are counting their title eggs before they are hatched it should be well to remember that a little Saturday afternoon tiff, at which tea and wafers won't be served, lies ahead and there'll be Dawson, Simpson, Panzenhagen, Voskuil et al to push out of the way.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Falcons Given Initial Test in Ole Scrimmage

Coach Cowles Discovers Deficiencies in Squad; St. Olaf Suffers Injuries

Last Monday the fighting Falcons got their first real taste of football at Northfield on the Oles' gridiron.

The boys went through a speedy hour work-out which delivered up a few flaws. Coach Osborne Cowles expects to have these deficiencies ironed out for the clash with Macalaster Saturday.

St. Olaf's suffered the only injury, a rather costly one at that, to their 200 pound center who was figured to fill the shoes of the last year's Oles captain.

The warriors of the Red should fair well according to advance dope. The veteran forward wall will be backed up by an experienced backfield. VanWinkle, a freshman, may land in the starting line-up if he continues to improve. The newcomer is a player's player and would fill in well in any backfield. The Macalaster tussle may be a barometer for this year's wins and losses.

Mud 'n Yer Eye

Huzzah! Yowsah! Featuring the triumph of something or other in the heralded adoption of the NRA code in this here school. The only trouble with the heralding was that everyone knew about it before we had a chance to tell you.

Anyway, no one else told you that "General" Wilbur Johnson--the only fellow in school who wears collars-with-button-down-flaps--and we like them-- was school administrator. He is doing well. Why not? No women to ---who started that subject?

So now it's 40 hours a week instead of 16, and it seems that the boys are all trying to get 12:30's. What a life. The boys in the shops have to cut down on the amount of sand paper they use; the library can't allow you to read a book twice (who wants to?) 'cause it wears it out too fast. And the person who wisely wisecracked about the fans not being on enough in the library is hereby informed that that's all part of the program--the warmer it is the more work for the unemployed---fanning themselves.

You may not realize it, but that's a wonderful thing for this institution. Heretofore we've had a lot of expense buying athletic equipment and paying Simpson to work on the tennis courts so's the unemployed could have something to do. And now; just don't turn on the fans and everyone can either kick or fan himself. Marvelous.

One more thing. It seems that the distance to and from school has been shortened, at least in some directions. Mr. Robertson says it takes him 15 seconds less to get home at noon now than it did last year. But the Physics department, it seems, is working on the theory that some attractions can be stronger than gravity, and that the resulting pull----but that's all too deep for you---I mean for me.

Lee Shippey, of the Los Angeles Times, has a headline "How To Tell Ladies from Men Now That Both Wear Pants".

That ought to be easy.

Boy: A police dog.

Pedestrian: That doesn't look like a police dog.

Boy: No, it's in the secret service.

But you should get Judge Knowles to tell you the story about the barker--the one Mr. Wyman almost told in Sociology the other afternoon.

It's just possible that we'll make poetry (?) a regular feature of this column. It may conflict with The Three Arts, of course, but we'll take a chance. Here goes:

Y.W.C.A. Activities

The first regular meeting of the Y.W.C.A. was held Monday evening, September 25, at 7 o'clock in the girls' Social Room, South Hall.

Ardelle Hamlett played several piano solos before the regular program. A very entertaining skit was given by the members of the cabinet in which they pointed out the meaning of Y.W.C.A. work and discussed each member's work in particular.

Probably the most talked of idea is the fact that Jane Boyle with the aid of the Y.M. social chairman and their respective committees are planning a dancing school. In this feature the girls and boys who can not dance are invited to attend. It is planned to have the school in South Hall gymnasium. The school will commence in the near future so that all students will be able to dance at our homecoming. Further notices will be posted on the bulletin board.

The work of the word fellowship, social service, music, program, and publicity departments is also very interesting. In publicity, Katie Phillips is determined to bring about a revolution in poster making. The very idea of having a picture of a boy eating cake to advertise the basketball game between Superior and River Falls!

After the short meeting, every girl, personified by Maxine Olson, was admitted into the organization through a brief interpretation of the Candlelight service.

The Candlelight service will be held in North Hall assembly on Monday evening, October 2, at 7 o'clock. This is the service in which the girls who wish to belong to the Y.W.C.A. present themselves for membership. A special invitation is extended to all freshmen girls as well as other college girls.

Have you seen the new "Hollywood Capes"? The Y.W.C.A. is sponsoring a sale on this garment which has been the most popular item of wearing apparel at the World's Fair, the sales running as high as 25,000 to 35,000 daily.

The Hollywood cape is made of the purest rubber, full length, military style, graceful and attractive in appearance, in white, powder blue, green, red, black, purple, maroon, and dark blue, and suitable for all outdoor occasions--rain and wind proof. It is the ideal garment for young people.

The popularity of the Hollywood cape has been firmly established by the publicity it has received at the fair and its adoption in Hollywood by the famous movie stars.

This wonderful opportunity of providing for our season of rainy weather is offered to the students for the nominal price of $1.00 per garment. Leave your orders with the treasurer of the Y.W.C.A. or any of the cabinet members.

Two Elected to Y. M. C. A. Cabinet

Two new members have been added to the Y.M.C.A. cabinet in place of two fellows who have not returned to school. Thorvald Thoreson has taken the vice-president's job and Willard Swanson has taken the position of faculty-student relations chairman.

Next Monday evening there will be a very interesting meeting. The ceremony of reception of members will be conducted and a talk will be given by President Ames. Every member is invited and we want a one hundred per cent attendance of the members. Anyone else is invited to attend also.

Ruth Robinson Entertains Y Cabinet

Ruth Robinson, '33, was hostess to the members of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet, Miss Hathorn, Miss Dagmar Pedersen, and Miss Laura Ross at a six o'clock dinner served at her home in Hudson on Thursday, September 21.

Ruth's artistic temperament made the delicious dinner an occasion of merriment. After dinner the guests were entertained at three tables of bridge.

From the City Pulpits

First Congregational Church—

Next Sunday is Rally Day in the church and church school. The preaching service is at 10:00 Sunday morning. The sermon subject is "The Business of Christians". You will be enriched with worship through good music and devotional atmosphere.

The promotional services of the church will be held at the 11:15 hour.

The young people meet at seven o'clock. We had an unusually fine meeting last Sunday evening. You will be welcome to this service. Sunday evening we begin a study of Stanley High's book for young people, "Today's Youth and Tomorrow's World". After this service there will be a fellowship hour and refreshments.

Clyde C. Harris, Minister

Lutheran House of Worship—

Sunday Worship at 9:00 A. M.
A hearty welcome to all students.
—Arthur S. Johnson, Pastor.

Methodist Episcopal Church—

The pastor's theme for next Sunday morning is "The Educational Character of Religion."

Classes in the church for college students are conducted by Dr. Karges and Mrs. Weed.

All college young people are invited to a picnic and hike on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock under the leadership of Glen Lund, president of the Young People's society. The hikers will leave the church and go to the Tire Swing on Rocky Branch. The frolic will close with a weiner roast and a camp fire service. Bring along ten cents to help pay for the eats.

The Young People's service under the leadership of Vaughn Smith will discuss "The Quest of Life's Meaning."

Here & There

Imagine four men, presumably in their right minds, wallowing around in the mud all night long just to hear a chorus of bull frogs!

Sounds rather daffy, but then lots of daffy events take place every day and maybe in River Falls for that matter.

And then there's the farmer whose farm is so small that his cows have to give condensed milk.

Speaking of farms brings to mind that a bumblebee can pull 300 times its own weight. But what impresses us most, however, is the malicious vigor of its push.

While we are on the subject of nature, we might as well tell about the wonderful trees that grow on our campus. On any nice day one can see peaches, pears, and nuts under any of them.

Says a very eminent sociologist: "Love is blind; marriage is a result of love; therefore marriage must be an institution for the blind."

As long as we are on sociology it might do to mention that the good Reverend --- said: "It would appear that the younger generation is on the skids to perdition."

This may be true, but from general observation the sliding seems to be great.

"Yes sir", says the popular young co-ed, "I never knew there was a shorter way home."

"How do youse guys know that I ain't no college goil?"

It used to be "who and what are you?" Now it is "how much ya got?"

"Gee, you look rather bunged up Jim. What happened?"

"My wife hit me with an oak leaf."

"An oak leaf? You're crazy."

"Oh yeah? It was from the center table."
