'Voice' Reviewer Sees Faculty Act in 'Most Unusual Manner'

by Fran O'Connell

Thursday night I saw 27 of that astute group of individuals commonly called the faculty of River Falls State College behave in a most unusual manner. They were poisoning people, burying the bodies in the cellar, digging the Panama Canal in the cellar, allowing homicidal maniacs to spend the night in their house, and least, but unfortunately last, committing one another to Happydale, a home for the mentally deficient.

The play Arsenic and Old Lace presented last Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights by the Faculty Players was the scene of these rather bizarre actions. The action of the play took place in the setting of the Brewster home in St. Paul.

Josephine Paterak, and Vera Moss who played the parts of Abbey and Martha Brewster, respectively; gave good interpretations of the two sweet, gracious old-maids who liked to surprise people with arsenic in their wine. But then I might add that they have had practice in surprises, what with tests and all.

I must commend James Harless, or Teddy Brewster, and Mrs. Paterak for carrying the bulk of the task of maintaining audience interest and attention. Teddy not only "charged" up "San Juan stairway" to the dramatic sound of a bugle, but his antics throughout the play "charged" it also.

Dr. Engler adapted himself very well to his role of the Rev. Dr. Harper, but Miss Bowman, who played his daughter Elaine had difficulty in forgetting some of her natural inhibitions, as did Mr. Manning, who played the part of Mortimer Brewster.

Elaine's fiance. But then counselors must set a good example at all times!

It is apt that Dr. Peterson, who took on the role of Dr. Einstein, a thief and murderer, had to get away, for he certainly "stole" part of the show.

The very capable police force consisting of L. G. Stone, Martin Laakso, Wayne Wolfe, and Francis Chisholm did a good job of "breaking up" the scene with their appearances at the Brewster household.

One of the disappointments in the play came when Mr. Manning stopped Mrs. Paterak and Miss Moss from poisoning Mr. Gibbs, played by Dean Rozehnal. But then I guess Dean Rozehnal had his disappointing moments

I think Mr. Skalka should be commended for his fine job he and his crew did in designing and constructing the set for the play. It added greatly to an already enjoyable play.

Mention also should be made of poor mentally unbalanced Grandfather Brewster, whose photograph hung on the wall of the Brewster home. That rather simple, but kindly face is hauntingly familiar. I wonder where I've seen it before, or what the circumstances will be when I see it

One Semester in Vienna For River Falls Junior

A Wisconsin State College student sailed for Europe Friday (February 2) for a semester of study in Vienna (Austria).

He is Bob Kowalczyk, a junior music major from Gilman.

He is among a group of 90 U. S. college students who will study for a semester at the University of Vienna, under the auspices of the Institute of European Studies. The group, mostly sophomores and juniors, is composed of students from more than 60 American colleges and universities

Formal classes at the University and at the Institute will begin March 5. According to their proficiency in German, students may attend either English or Germantaught courses. While in Vienna, the 90 youths will live with Viennese families.

Debarking in Southampton on February 10, the group began a 15-day field-study trip through England, Belgium, northern France, Luxembourg, Germany and Austria. Under the direction of Institute instructors, they will visit European universities, museums and cathedrals, and the headquarters of several international organizations.

Robert T. Bosshart, president of the Institute of European Studies, said field-study trips are scheduled during normal university vacation periods to provide background for formal classwork in Vienna. Two additional study trips are planned for later in the semester—one to Italy, the other to Switzerland, southern France and Spain.

In Vienna, the group will join 130 U.S. students presently studying abroad under the Institute's "European Year" program. Both groups will return to the U.S. in early August.

Welch, Kuehn and Lucey Are to Be Headliners

"The New Conservatism" will be the theme of the 5th annual Grassroots Politics Conference to be held Wednesday and Thursday, February 7 and 8, of this week.

The principal speakers, who will present varied approaches to the topic, are Prof. Francis G. Wilson of the University of Illinois, a conservative political philosopher; Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society; Philip G. Kuehn, 1960 Republican nominee for governor of Wisconsin; and Patrick J. Lucy, chairman of the Wisconsin Democratic Party.

Prof. Wilson will open the conference Wednesday with an 8 p.m. address in the Little Theatre. He will examine the new conservative movement as an intellectual who has studied and written in the field for many years. Prof. Wilson is a prominent member of the American Political Science Association, and is the author of several books, one of which, "The Case for Conservatism," will be on sale in the Student Center during the conference.

Opening Thursdays activities will be Robert Welch who will deliver a convocation address at 10:40 a.m. in Karges Center. Mr. Welch, 62, of Belmont, Massachusetts is variously known as a businessman, author, and most recently as the founder of the John Birch-Society.

A graduate of the University of North Carolina, Mr. Welch has been with the James O. Welch Co., a candy manufacturing company, most of his life. He has also served as a director of several other business corporations, held various executive positions with the National Association of Manufactures, and has written several books. Since 1957 Mr. Welch has devoted his full time to the John Birch Society. This highly controversial group, which Mr. Welch founded, has attracted a great deal of national attention and debate during the past two years.

At noon Thursday Prof. Ralph K. Huitt, director of the Wisconsin Citizenship Clearing House, will speak at a luncheon for visiting dignitaries in the Student Center.

"Grassroots Perspectives on the New Conservatism" will be the subject of a panel discussion at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Little Theatre. The panel participants include: Walter Butler, president of the Walter Butler Co., architects and engineers, of St. Paul; Curtis B. Gaylord, publisher of the "Polk County Ledger;" Robert Johnson, assemblyman of Buffalo, Pepin, and Pierce counties; and William W. Ward, assemblyman of St. Croix county.

A discussion on "The New Conservatism in Wisconsin Politics" featuring Philip G. Kuehn and Patrick J. Lucey will highlight the Young Democrat - Young Republican Banquet at 7:30 Thursday evening in Hagestad Center. Mr. Lucey, a real estate dealer from Madison, has been chairman of the Democratic party of Wisconsin for over three years. Mr. Kuehn, president of the Wisconsin Cold Storage Company in Milwaukee, is the former chairman of the Republican party of Wisconsin and a candidate for the governorship race this fall.

The discussion between these two political leaders promises to be a lively one and all interested students are urged to attend, according to Dr. Charles Graham, conference chairman. Tickets are available from members of the Young Republicans and Young Democrats.

The co-chairman for the banquet are Frank Urbanz, president of the Young Democrats and Charles E. Smith, president of the Young Republicans.

The sponsors of the annual Grassroots Politics Conference are the Wisconsin Citizenship Clearing House and the River Falls department of social sciences.

High Schoolers Plan on Trying College Saturday

Area high school seniors, their parents and their guidance counselors will attend the 12th annual "Go to College Day" Saturday on the River Falls State College campus.

Last year, more than 400 persons came to the College for the conference, which is set up to acquaint the students with the College and the facilities available and includes special sessions in guidance and educational opportunities for the parents and counselors.

The day's activities are to begin at 9 a.m. with registration and a coffee hour. Scheduled at 9:30 are a welcome by Wayne Hendrickson, president of the Student Senate, and remarks by President E. H. Kleinpell. All three groups also will listen to a faculty panel discuss "Educational Opportunities at River Falls" at 10 a.m.

At 10:45 and 11:25, the students have an opportunity to attend half-hour classes in subjects of their choice. The parents will spend the rest of the morning hearing a panel dealing with "The Effect College Will Have on Your Son or Daughter," and the counselors will take a tour of the campus.

The noon meal will be a buffet luncheon in the Student Center. In the afternoon, the high school seniors will divide into interest groups to talk with instructors and then will hear a student panel discuss "What Freshmen Want to Know."

In the meantime, the parents will hear a student panel on "The Students' View of College." Dr. B. J. Rozehnal, dean of students, will talk to the counselors on "A Profile of the River Falls Student" and then the counselors will hear a student panel.

Coffee and coke in the Student Center will end the day at 3:30 p.m.

The Editor Speaks

In this issue is a review of the faculty play that was presented last week in North Hall Auditorium. As anyone that attended the play will attest, it was a very enjoyable performance. The cast was weak in some spots as is to be expected in any amateur production. Apparently, some of the people in the play were afraid that it would be weaker than it was because our reviewer was asked to write a review that would not offend any of the actors or other persons involved.

As the reviewer realized, this play was presented, as it was supposed to be; as a farce. For this reason, he reviewed it as such. He saw fit to compliment those that were to be complimented and the places that they were weak were given a light touch that an amateur performance should be given.

It is unfortunate, however, that some of the faculty had so little confidence in themselves and the student that was reviewing their performance. It is not the purpose of the Voice to discredit those that do not deserve discredit. The people that are involved with this office make a very conscious attempt to be fair and equal in their reporting. Also, when a personal review is given on such as a play, it is usually written by a person that has a working knowledge of his subject. It is hoped that with some knowledge of the subject, a writer can better visualize the problems involved and either give a constructive analysis of his subject or shed a light of understanding to those that have not been aware of the subject upon which he is directing his attention.

In the future, it is to be hoped that more confidence will be shown in both the persons concerned in a report and in the student body. Students can usually be found judicious in any serious criticism they might have to offer.

It is for this reason that the members of the Student Voice staff can proudly say "the Voice is completely uncensored and is the only uncensored student newspaper in the Wisconsin State College system to the best of our knowledge." The staff will do its best to maintain everyone's confidence because, to the members of this staff, freedom of the press is a vitally important matter.

Go To College Day

All panel members, tour guides, hosts, and students involved in other ways with "Go to College Day" on February 10 are asked to attend an important meeting on Wednesday, February 7, at 1:25 p.m. in Center Room 201.

What is John Birch Society?

The formation of the John Birch Society grew from a Dec. 8-9, 1958, meeting in Indianapolis, Ind., which attracted eleven very influential men together to hear Robert Welch's views on anticommunism.

Welch launched into a two-day lecture which has become the "Blue Book", the basic text of the John Birch Society. He told the group that the society was to be a monolithic organization and it's objective was "less government and more responsibility."

The "Blue Book" lists a 10point plan of action.

- 1. Establish reading rooms small and inexpensive - which would serve as rental libraries.
- 2. Expand the circulation of conservative periodicals as rapidly as it can be done without too much waste.
- 3. Do everything possible to support and widen the audiences of such radio programs as those of Fulton Lewis, Clarence Manion, and other conservative commentators
- 4. Organize the powerful letterwriting weapon that lies so ready
- 5. Organize front groups.
- 6. "Another thing we should do. and one badly needed, would be to start shocking the American people", Welch listed as his sixth
- 7. "Expose dozens of slimy characters at loose in our midst."
- 8. Set up a nation-wide speakers' bureau composed of conserva-
- 9. Welch proposed setting up "one by one and very carefully, governments-in-exile out of the most respected and solidy anti-Communist refugees from the satellite nations."

10. Organize a non-political bod which can accomplish its objective more surely and efficiently than either of the major political parties.

The John Birch Society is organized into small local chapters, usually 20-30 members apiece, which takes their orders from the society headquarters in Belmont,

It is a semi-secret society. The membership roll is not disclosed and the members do not strive for publicity. The names of the members of the ruling council have been revealed.

The annual dues are $24 10r men and $12 for women. A life membership costs $1,000. Each month the members receive a bulletin, which includes the agenda for the month. The October. 1961, bulletin had as some items on it's agenda; One dozen candles (reprints of various carefully selected books), the movement to impeach Earl Warren, a vote of thanks for the sponsors of the Fulton Lewis program (part of the letter writting campaign), and a new membership drive.

The society is still quite small. Their goal of 30,000 members by the end of 1959 was not reached.

Bailey Tells Beliefs

Colorful, tasteful, and somewhat different was how Dr. Robert Bailey III presented his "last lecture" in North Hall Auditorium last Wednesday.

A "Last Lecture", he said, means different things to different people. Some people believe that a "last lecture" would be one that an instructer would deliver before his death. However, he stated, death so often comes quickly or under sedation in a hospital that he does not feel this would be the

According to Bailey, a "Last Lecture" would be one that he would deliver to a student body if he knew it would be the last lecture he would deliver in that institution or if he was leaving the teaching profession.

In this lecture he said that he would want to clarify the misconceptions that many people hold regarding his beliefs and It was on this theme that he based his "Last Lecture".

Foreign Student Advisor Tapes Language Program

Miss Hawkins

Miss Hawkins has announced that construction of a taped program in language skills lab has been begun. Its purpose is to help foreign students to perfect their English at a more rapid rate.

She will be aided in the production of the program by Anita Munson, senior in speech and English, who will become faculty assistant spring quarter.

This program in the language skills lab will give the students an opportunity to supplement class instruction with individual practice. This is a pioneer effort in a field where this type of program has not been applied before. The program will be put in use spring quarter.

Miss Anita Munson from Minneapolis, who will graduate in March has been appointed faculty assistant in the departments of English and speech for the spring quarter. Miss Munson will go on to graduate school next fall and make college teaching her profession.

Her duties include helping in communications and generally assisting in the construction of new courses and programs for the department as a whole.

Meletean Editors Release Deadline For Photographs

A deadline of Friday, Feb. 9, has been set for graduating seniors to supply the yearbook staff with a graduation photograph, according to Meletean co-editors Nancy MacNeil and Patrick O'Connell.

One picture is all that is necessary, the co-editors said, and it should preferably be a wallet-size glossy print. The pictures may be turned in at the Publications Office in the Student Center.

Any senior who will graduate in June, at the end of the 1962 summer session, or who knows he will graduate at the end of next Fall Quarter is eligible to have his picture placed with the graduating seniors in the '62 Meletean, the yearbook staff said.

St. Cloud, Mankato Halt Pagemen; Scharfenberg Leads Falcon Scorers

Mankato

River Falls went down to it's third consecutive defeat Wednesday night, this time at the hands of Mankato in a non-conference game by the score of 75 to 71. The Falcons now stand 6-8 for the season and Mankato is 8-6.

Mankato jumped off to an early lead and were in full command in the first half. Toby Garey sank a twenty foot jump shot with 8:35 remaining in the second period to bring the Falcons within seven points at 20-13. The visiting Indians then outscored River Falls 26 to 16 to leave the court with a comfortable 46-29 lead at intermission.

The second half saw a complete reversal of play by both teams. River Falls, who could do nothing right in the first half, suddenly came to life, and Mankato lost their snap as passes started going astray and their shooting percentage fell off.

River Falls started the second half by sinking six straight and kept pecking away at the big lead enjoyed by Mankato. With 13:34 left in the second half Garey Scharfenberg hit a 16 foot jump shot to pull the Falcons within six points at 47-53. Mankato then extended it's lead to 10 points. Freshman guard Bob Pritchard then led a Falcon surge that almost over took the Indians. Pritchard scored three quick buckets to pull the Falcons within six points, and the Falcons kept pecking away at the Indian margin until with :20 left in the game River Falls trailed by a single point at 71 to 72. Mankato forward, George McKay then calmly sank three free throws to sew up the game for the Indians.

Gary Scharfenberg led the Falcon scorers with 18 points followed by Tobey Garey with 16 and Bob Pritchard with 15. George McKay led the visiting Indians with 17, 14 in the first half, and Jim Christianson had 16.

La Crosse Out Swims RF Poolers

The River Falls poolers fought a grim battle Jan. 27 when they invaded La Crosse only to loose 59-36. Wayne Seebold pulled the upset of the afternoon defeating two Indian divers that had been previously undefeated in the spring board competition.

The Falcons showed good strength in the 100 yard butterfly as Tom Mitchell and Jim Hirschinger placed first and second respectively. Mitchell set a team record the week before in the 59-36 loss to St. Thomas, swimming the 200 butterfly in 1:14.6.

Although only coming in first twice the whole afternoon the visiting squad finished second in six events. Don Nelson finished second in the 200 yard breast-stroke while Jerry Sargent finished second in the 200 yard backstroke and 440 yard freestyle. Ron Lindberg finished behind the winner in the 220 yard freestyle, Mitchell in the 100 yard individual medley, and the Falcons in the 400 yard medley relay.

Chris Carisch set two team records against St. Thomas, one in the 60 yard freestyle with a time of 26.4 seconds and one in the 100 yard freestyle in 1:01.1.

The Falcons have slowly made experience pay off as they are continually placing close behind the winners and with a little more depth could win their first match of the year.

St. Cloud

The River Falls basketball squad fell below the .500 mark in won-loss percentage Monday night as St. Cloud won 87-68. River Falls record now stands at 6-7 having lost two straight non-conference games.

St. Cloud's Jerry Roepke and John Blomlie found the home court to their advantage as they accounted for 61 points between them. Blomlie dumped in 14 field goals and five charity shots for 33 points while Roepke hit for 11 fielders and 6 free throws for 28 points

Pacing the Red and White was Gary Scharfenberg with 22 points. Don Koepnick added 12 and Bill Swartz and Toby Garey had 10

The visiting Falcon five trailed by four points 47-43 at intermission but fell by the wayside the second half as the Minnesota team slowly outdistanced the fading Falcons.

The third period was the Wisconsin team's downfall as they could manage only 10 points. The last quarter was not much better getting only 15 and St. Cloud accounted for 40 points the last half

Tuesday night will be the start

Tuesday night will be the start of the intra-mural basketball playoffs to determine the champions This program under the direction of Physical Education Director Ben Bergsrud completed a round of league play last week.

The 22 teams in the two leagues ("F" and "R") played Tuesday and Thursday nights with a total of 11 games a night. Approximately 200 participants fought for top honors in the nine game slate with an opening game to determine which league they played.

The members of each league were selected, in the majority of cases, as the winner of the opening game went into the "R" league and the loser went into the "F" league.

The top five teams in the "R" league and top three in the "F" league were selected for the double elimination tournament. By getting into the finals a team will have played 14 games, almost as many as a high school will play in

This program is probably the best intra-mural program in the state colleges and the sports staff would like to salute Mr. Bergsrud and his staff for a job well done.

Conference Race

The Falcon basketball squad travels to the southern part of the state this weekend in a battle for first division. Platteville is at the bottom of the heap but preseason favorite Stevens Point is fighting to stay in first division along with River Falls.

River Falls could be fighting for the top spot in the league if they could sweep these two games. The Falcons have lost only one game with a 6-0 behind the scoring of leader.

Even if the Red and White do not win both games they could have a lot to do with the conference race. La Crosse has been defeated once and the Falcons end the season playing the Indians in Karges Center.

Matmen Whip Carls

The River Falls wrestling team continued it's winning ways Thursday by swamping Carleton in a dual meet by the score of 23 to 5. The win extended the grapplers seasons record to four wins and one tie in dual meets.

Charles Hindes got the Falcons off to a good start by pinning Ted Hoepner of Carleton in the 123 lb. class with 5:54 gone in the second period. Milton Peterson, Pat Mrotek, Dick Culver, Loren Nor-

Julein's Record Stands at 63-8-2

On Thursday, Jan. 26 Falcon heavy-weight grappler Larry Julien suffered his first defeat this season. Timm Stauffer of Superior upset Julien's dream of an undefeated season to bring his season record to 9-1. This ran his total defeats for four years of competition to only eight in 73 matches. His over all record for the four years stands at 63 wins, eight losses, and two ties.

His big opponent which has caused him some sleepless nights is Jerry Wedemeirer from Winona. The big heavy-weight from Minnesota has accounted for three of Julien's losses and one tie.

Last year the Falcon matman placed second in the NAIA wrest-ling tournament at Golden, Colorado, as once again Wedemeirer was there to cop top honors.

Julien will have his sights set on March 9-10 to revenge the loss to Stauffer in the conference meet and on March 16-17 for the NAIA tournament at Winona.

Other Falcon grapplers that have outstanding records going this year are Jerry Halverson (9-2), Loren Nordahl (7-2) and Jerry Fehlan (6-3).

dahl, and Jerry Halverson then scored successive decisions to extend the score to 21 to 0 in favor of River Falls.

Peterson won 4-2 over Gary Osteraas in the 130 lb. class; Mrotek outlasted Hank Bluhm 2-0; Culver took an easy win over Jim Harris 7-0 in the 147 lb. class; Loren Nordahl edged Tom Rankin in the 157 lb. class 3-0, and old reliable Jerry Halverson won over George Sweazey of Carleton in the 167 lb. class, 3-1.

Dave Neil then put Carleton on the scoreboard by pinning Steve Gutting of River Falls in the 177 lb. class with 3:59 remaining in the second period. This left the score at 20 to 5 with one match left. Heavyweight Larry Julien put the finishing touches on the one sided match as he decisioned Frank Logan of Carleton 2-0 to run the final score to 23 to 5.

Reserves

The River Falls reserves, in a preliminary match, downed the Carleton subs by the score of 14 to 5. In the first match John Clivele of River Falls broke his arm while wrestling Carleton's Bob Middleton in the 130 lb. class. The Falcons had to forfeit the win to Carleton to give them a temporary 5-0 lead. River Falls then came storming back to sweep the remaining matches to win 14 to 5.

In the 137 lb. class Kermit, of River Falls decisioned Mike Freed of Carleton 3-0, to bring the Falcons within two points at 5-3. There were two matches in the 147 lb. class. Jim Zeller won over Jim Schlademan and Jim Kanable shut out Jack Cann 5-0 to put the Falcons in the lead.

In the heavyweight class Bob Cuiver of River Falls pinned John Swartz with :29 remaining in the final period to make the final score 14 to 5.

Frosh Has 6 Wins, 1 Loss

The freshman basketball squad has upped its record to six wins and no losses having defeated the St. Croix city team, 3-M, for the second time, and losing to the intra-mural all stars.

Intra-mural

The intra-mural team led by Glen Stuve and Rich Miller with 14 points each swamped the reserves 76-57 to hand the freshmen the first defeat of the year. Porky Madson led the fledglings with 11 followed by Den Kaiser with 10.

St. Croix

The Falcons jumped to a quick lead and held it through out the game handing the St. Croix city team a 66-56 defeat. The freshmen had a well balanced scoring attack as four men hit in double figures.

Glenn McNaughton and Bob Chubb dumped in 11 each and Den Kaiser and Tom Strasser had 10 each.

At intermission the Falcons held a 34-28 lead and increased the lead to the final 10 point margin in the second half.

Mankato, behind the strong arm of Jack Frost (that's his name), rolled to an easy victory over the River Falls Keglers. Jack had games of 221, 198 and 201 for both high series and high game honors. The Falcon keglers either had too much Winter Carnival or were just hold to the maples because no 200 game was registered and they didn't hit their previous average in any of the three games. Len Hofman had high series for the Falcons with a 539 effort and Jim Filkens rolled the high game of 197.

The team going to Muncie, ndiana, Feb. 16 and 17 to represent the River Falls Falcons in the Region 6 Tournament has been chosen and they are as follows: John Cook, Vic Londo, Norm Garle, Mike Lukowicz and Ron Zirbel. The bowlers were picked on he basis of their average and bility to go and to pay their own ray as much of the expense is being met by them.

Hemispheric Policy Told

out dictators in Latin America and Inter-American Conference could be held in a telephone booth," said deputy assistant to the secretary of state Willard Barber in a speech in North Hall Auditorium last week. This remark was made in answer to a question from the audience concerning U. S. policy toward Latin American dictatorships. He said that we must accept these dictatorships and try to help them operate their governments efficiently.

"The Challenge of Latin America" was the topic of Mr. Barber's speech and he showed the importance that this part of the world holds for the U.S. He illustrated this first of all by relating population figures, both present and projected. He said that the population of Latin America by the year 2000 would be two times as large as the U.S. population at that time if the present population trends con-

Who Is Birch Founder?

The Founder of the John Birch

Robert Welch, "The Founder" is a 62-year old son of a Baptist North Carolina farmer. He was born Dec. 1, 1899, on a farm in Chowan county and in his words, his "ancestry is full of farmers and Baptist preachers.'

A very educated man; Welch graduated from the University of North Carolina at 17, attended the United States Naval Academy for two years and ranked near the top of the class the first year, and enrolled in the Harvard Law School for two years.

A very sucessful businessman; he joined the James O. Welch Co., a nationally known candy company owned by his brother. He was for many years in charge of sales and advertising and has been in the candy business most of his adult

Welch served on the National Association of Manufacturers' Board of directors for seven years. He served three years as a regional vice-president and two years as chairman of the NAM's education advisory committee. The Bostonian (he moved to Belmont, Mass., in 1919) has authored books besides his other achievements. His first, "The Road to Salesmanship" was published in 1941. His book's on the country's "ideological struggle" appeared in the early 1950's. "May God Forgive Us" in 1952 and "The Life of John Birch" in 1954 were two which were published. He is probably more famous for his private work, "The Politician" which has been referred to as the "Black Book" and is not in circulation.

"On Jan. 1, 1957, Welch gave up most of his business responsibilities and most of his income to devote practically all of his time and energy to the anti-communist cause" the Founder wrote in a personal sketch of himself.

population explosion in this area can be attributed to modern medicine and the fact that it has curbed the huge number of child deaths.

This has also had the effect of making the Latin American population a very young one, he said. According to Barber, 40 percent of the population of some Latin American countries is under 15. Mexico has 51 percent of its population under the age of 20. The impact of this fact gains importance when one considers what must be done to provide servies to these youths, who are not as yet paying their own way, he said. This has created another situation that has caused much of the recent violence. The explosion of youth that has hit this area has caused a huge migration to the cities and away from the agragrian areas. With this trend has come riots and violence because there has been no grassroots control in city politics in Latin America, he pointed out.

He said population make-up is another important factor when considering the ideas and problems of this part of our hemisphere. Most of the population is called mestizo because it is mixed Spanish and Indian. This was caused by the entrance of the Spanish Conquistadores into South America. When they came, they came "stag" and this caused them to mix with the Indian women of the areas that they were spreading Spanish control over, according to him. Barber said that this is different than the U.S. experience where our forefathers came to this country with their families and had little reason to mix with the native women. Next important in numbers are the Indians and last (smallest in number) are the Negroes. With this population mixture, he said, some problems are generated.

According to Barber, the imortance of Latin America lies in their position of affecting our national security and trade. He said that the U.S. has many bases and aides in Latin America and that 30 percent of our exports and 30 percent of our imports are involved with Latin America. Also, he pointed out, 44 percent of Latin American imports and exports are involved in business transactions with the U.S. How important this is was pointed out by his illustration of Columbia, where 91 percent of her revenue is derived from the growing of coffee. If American housewives should become irate at the price of coffee, they can boycott this commodity and the Columbian industry, government and economy would probably collapse in a very short time. Therefore, it is important that we aid these countries in getting away from this monoculture so that their economic base will be broader and more solid. The problem of monoculture is a big one in Latin America, Barber said.

Barber went on to point out some of the differences between the U.S. and Latin America. First of all, the point of ancestoral heritage bears importance as these people have a different background to remember than the average American.

Also, of major importance, the fact that there are many different languages spoken in Latin America causes difficulties that are not experienced in the U.S., Barber pointed out

John Birch Provided Direction for Rightists

John Morrison Birch and the "John Birch Society"?

The namesake of the controversial extreme rightists was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Birch of Macon, Ga., a husband and wife Baptist missionary team. He was born in China.

He came to America at the age of two and graduated from Mercer University in Macon, Ga., as the top man in his class in 1939. Birch organized a secret "Fellowship Group" when he was a senior at the Baptist affiliated college and intended to suppress a liberal trend on campus. He and his "brothers" succeeded in forcing the college to try five faculty members. All were dismissed. In the wake of the "Fellowship Group" cru-sade, Dr. John D. Freeman, a world-famous Baptist leader, was admonished for using a theologically "unsound" text book.

Birch became a Baptist missionary and returned to China in 1940. World War II caught him still in the Orient and in 1942 he joined a group that later became General Claire Chennault's Fourteenth Air Force. He served in China in an air combat intelligence capacity.

On a routine mission in 1945 in central China, after the war had ended, Birch and his small team encountered Chinese Communists. Birch was found dead in a ditch.

Robert Welch, society founder, never knew the 27-year old Army Air Force captain, but has refer-red to him as the "first uniformed American casualty of World War

"In both his life and his death he was almost as controversial as the organization named after him" — Time, April, 14, 1961.
