

Student Senate Cancels Referendum

President Casts Deciding Ballot

SEN. PRES. LARRY FELTES cast the deciding ballot when the voting on the motion to halt the two referendums ended in a tie.

The Student Senate has decided not to have a referendum Wednesday concerning the cancellation of big-name events next year and the reservation of two hours on Tuesday night for church groups.

At last Monday's meeting, Sen. Harv Stower questioned the need for a referendum and moved that the Senate not have referendums on the two issues. Stower said that it would be disastrous if only a small number of students voted.

Harriet Lansing, elected to next year's Senate, asked if the referendum would prove anything and if the Senate would act on the outcome. It was explained that the referendum would be an opinion poll.

The vote resulted in a tie, and Senate Pres. Larry Feltes then voted for the motion. Feltes said that he voted for the motion because the student body has elected the senators to decide on issues. The two matters will be discussed at tonight's meeting.

The Senate also moved to accept the constitution of Nu Alpha Xi fraternity. The constitution approval by the Greek Letter Council had previously been delayed, reportedly because there was some question about the motives of the organization.

Sen. Fran O'Connell, representative to the Constitution Committee, said that there is nothing in Nu Alpha Xi's constitution to stop it from becoming Greek, and that there is little difference between its constitution and those of the other Greek organizations.

In other action, the Senate moved to switch insurance plans from Continental Casualty to Blue Cross-Blue Shield. The cost for a school year will be $33 and will insure the student wherever he is.

The Governing Board was denied a request to have a banquet with the money they have in their treasury. It was the consensus of the Senate that the Governing Board should not use money which came from students for the purpose of having a banquet.

The Senate moved to purchase seven benches for the campus if approved by the Campus Planning Committee. The benches will be placed at various spots around the campus.

The Student Center was allotted $300 for the purchase of three tandem bicycles.

SEN. HARVEY STOWER who moved to cancel the proposed referendums on church night and big-name social functions.

Registration for Fall To Be This Summer

Students enrolled this quarter at River Falls State College may register and pay fees for the fall quarter during the summer, Registrar Melvin Germanson announced last week.

According to information released by the Registrar's Office, students may register between July 15 and Aug. 21 by mail or by going to the Registrar's Office in North Hall.

Class schedules for next year are not available yet, Germanson said, but they will be mailed to all students who fill out forms which can be obtained in the Registrar's Office.

Registration material for the summer session is available now at the Registrar's Office. The eight-week summer program will run from June 15 to Aug. 7.

Germanson said that students planning to register during the summer must counsel with their advisers about tentative programs before leaving school this spring. He also said that juniors and seniors must complete applications for senior division.

Present students who do not register for fall quarter during the summer will register Sept. 9 and 10, Germanson said.

African Film Will Be Shown

"Camera Gunning Across Africa" is the title of a color film on African wild life to be shown by Cleveland Grant at 1:25 p. m. tomorrow (Tuesday) in North Hall Auditorium at River Falls State College.

Grant will be making his fourth appearance at River Falls. His newest film was shot during a four-month photographic safari last summer in central Africa.

He was photographer on the Milwaukee Public Museum Angola expedition and later co-operated with the Atlantica Foundation in the Rhodesias. The last lap of his safari took him into an uninhabited area of Mazambique.

Grant has been a photographer for Walt Disney films and has worked with a number of expeditions.

Paterek, Syse Speak At Costume Workshop

Saturday morning saw college faculty and students, area high school teachers and students, and other interested persons converge on the River Falls campus for the first in a series of free lecture and demonstration workshops in theatrical costuming and makeup.

Featured speakers at the session were Sanford Syse of the college speech department, who demonstrated the art of theatrical stage makeup, and Dr. Josephine Paterek of the college English department, who presented a program on the general approaches to costuming for the modern theatre with emphasis on modern dress. The workshop sessions will convene again on Saturday, May 16, at 9 a. m.

Dr. Paterek brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to the workshop. She served for seven years as costumer for Hamline University in St. Paul and, in 1959, the Crown Publishing Company of New York City published her book, "Costuming for the Theatre."

MISS HINSON APPOINTED TO I. A. A. CONTROL BOARD
Miss Marilyn Hinson, assistant professor of physical education at River Falls State College, has been appointed to the board of control of the International Academy of Aquatic Art.

The appointment was made after the academy's festival last month on the River Falls campus.

John H. Peterson, senior from Clear Lake, has been awarded an Andrew Mellon Fellowship for graduate study in political science next year at the University of Pittsburgh. The one-year renewable grant includes a $2,500 stipend.

Nine College Presidents Here For Internship Program Meeting

Presidents and deans of the schools of education from the nine Wisconsin State Colleges will meet at River Falls State College today and tomorrow to discuss future expansion of the teacher-internship program.

Presently, River Falls and Oshkosh State Colleges in coordination with the University of Wisconsin are participating in a pilot-study of the internship program.

Highlighting the conference will be John Guy Fowlkes, director of the Wisconsin Improvement Program and initiator of the internship program, who will speak tonight at a dinner held at the J.R. Ranch near Hudson. His topic will be "A Contemporary Design for the Preparation of Teachers."

Robert Brown, assistant to the dean of education at the University of Wisconsin, James Stoltenberg, co-ordinator of the teacher internship-program at the University of Wisconsin, Allan Siemers, professor education at River Falls and Russell Lewis, college-university consultant, will speak on the internship program in action tomorrow morning.

Another panel composed of Daniel Brown, associate professor of education, John McKenna, superintendent of schools at New Richmond, Fred Holt, superintendent of schools at Janesville, and C. W. Spangler, staff member of the Department of Public Instruction will discuss "The Intern in Partnership."

Those attending the conference from River Falls are Daniel Brown, Allen Siemers, Phillip Anderson, John Perrin, Dr. Gordon Stone, dean of the School of Education, and President E. H. Kleinpell, who will introduce John Guy Fowlkes this evening.

Reconsider

Tonight the Senate may clear up two items which have been hanging over its head for some time now. These are the question of whether or not there should be a night set aside for the churches and whether or not the Senate should sponsor big-name social activities.

In each case, the Senate will be faced with a difficult decision. With the first question, that of church night, the Senate must decide whether they wish to give special privileges to a single group or organizations, not all of which desire these privileges.

Although it is true that not all local clergymen wish to see Tuesday designated as church night the Senate is understandable reluctant to ignore a petition favoring such a move which was signed by around 400 students. Granted, this is less than 25 per cent of the student body, but it is the only such petition that the Senate has received all year and the Senate appears overjoyed that someone other than The STUDENT VOICE has noticed them.

Regarding the cancelling of big-name social activities, the Senate still does not have a clear cut choice. True, the students have been apathetic and there has been little reaction from them, but the Senate has been asked by people from outside the Student Body to reconsider. This, plus the fact that some senators may feel they should not penalize the incoming crop of freshmen because of the lethargy in the present student body, could well cause the Senate to reverse its previous stand on the matter.

After all, it must be remembered that the Senate took this drastic step in cancelling expensive activities right after they had suffered a huge loss on Peter Nero and thus may wish to reconsider its decision.

It gives us confidence to see that the Senate is constantly re-evaluating itself for this is one mark of a sane, sensible government. Whether the Senate reaffirms or recalls their previous action, the student body will know that the decision has been carefully weighed for more than two months and its probable effects carefully observed.

Shirking Duty

"Civic irresponsibility" is a term applying to more than the person who fails to register and vote, to the businessman who is "too busy" to sit on a jury, and to the housewife who can't afford the time to serve on some community committee for the improvement of the neighborhood.

"Civic irresponsibility" has shown itself right here on campus last year, last month and last week. For the past month the Student Senate has called qualified persons to sit on the various school committees for next year. The Senate held interviews for these positions but a noticeable lack of qualified persons showed up.

The junior or senior who sat in his room and found things wrong with activities around River Falls and yet did nothing to improve the situation is an example of this irresponsibility.

The commuter who lives nearby but believes it too big a task to come back to school at night for some worthwhile activity is shirking his duty to the community as well.

Going to college is indeed a personal thing. It is one of the most important steps in a person's life. But, ones duty does not stop with oneself, it goes out to the world in which that person lives, in this case the school.

If River Falls State College would have been much the same whether you had been here for four years or not, you are shirking your "Civic responsibility."

Student Senate Parliamentarian Says Newspaper Misquoted Him

Dear Editor:

I have no quarrel with the principles of freedom of the press, but I feel that it is time that someone pointed out the fact that these principles also place certain responsibilities upon the shoulders of those vested with this freedom. The first and most important of these responsibilities is accuracy in the printed word. I was "quoted" twice in the last issue of The STUDENT VOICE, and to the best of my knowledge, I was inaccurately quoted in both instances. Any statements I make as a representative of the student body are a matter of record open to my fellow students, and I have no objection to accurate quotation being made. I do feel that I have the right to demand that such quotations be accurate and in accord with the context in which they were delivered, and that interpretations of statements not be offered as quotation.

I feel also that good journalism demands a degree of good taste, and if this is not true, I hope someone with more journalistic knowledge than myself will so inform me. I feel that The STUDENT VOICE has been following a policy which does not evidence such taste in its ceaseless search for sensationalism even to the point of encouraging and instigating incidents of a "newsworthy" nature.

Let me make it clear that I do not advocate a puppet paper. The freedom of The STUDENT VOICE is essential to the free spirit of our campus. I do advocate sound and mature judgement which has been lacking in many instances. I speak here not as a member of Senate, but as a student of River Falls who is concerned about the image presently being presented in a publication whose obligation it is to present a fair image to the student and other interested parties.

Very truly yours,
John F. Hansen

Need New Rules For Library?

Dear Mr. Editor:

It is 8 p.m. Sunday evening. There is a test at 10:40 tomorrow morning. There are three different books or reserve in the library for this class, one copy of each. A student can check out one of those books at 3 p.m. Friday and need not return them until 9 a.m. the following Monday. The Library is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays, and from 7 to 10 p.m. on Sunday evening. This means that during the eleven hours that the Library is open on the weekend, it is possible that students who have not read the material required for Monday morning's test will not get a chance to read the material.

People wonder, whenever they read figures about the numbers of books stolen from our library, why people would want to steal a book, when they could easily read the book for free. Now I know why people steal books. It's simply a matter of gaining an edge on classmates.

The cure? So simple that it isn't done. When there is only one copy of a book in the whole library, keep it in the library until just before it closes for the night and make it due within 15 minutes of the time the library opens the next day.

Someone's got the book I want.
Don Negard

38 Pledges Are Initiated

Pledges of Kappa Delta Pi, an honor society in education, were initiated as members at the annual Spring Banquet. Thirty-eight students in education with an honor point ratio of 3.0 or better became members of the society.

Dr. Richard Swensen of the chemistry department was selected honorary member of the society this year. Following the banquet held at The Terrace Supper club in Somerset, Dr. Donald Frye spoke on the subject "Potential Beyond the Moment."

Batmen Split Twin Bill

BY MARK ANDERSON

The conference-leading River Falls baseball squad split a non-conference double-header with Winona last Tuesday at Ramer Field, edging the Warriors 1-0 in the opener and dropping the nightcap 10-2.

The baseballers were rained out of the scheduled twin-bill with Eau Claire on Saturday. The games are now tentatively slated for Wednesday afternoon on the Blu-gold's diamond.

On Saturday at Ramer Field the Falcons will host the Superior Yellowjackets who sport a 3-3 conference record. The 12:30 double-header is the final home series of the season.

River Falls still tops the Wisconsin State College conference with a 4-0 record, but their last four games were postponed because of wet grounds. The Platteville series slated for three weeks ago will not be re-scheduled unless the title outcome depends upon it. According to Don Page River Falls has never won the baseball title. His team came close in 1958 finishing with a 16-2 overall mark and losing the title in the season's final contest.

The split with Winona left the Falcons with an 8 and 2 win-loss record. The other defeat was suffered two weeks ago against Mankato State.

Senior southpaw John Boertz burlied a four-hitter in the first game with Winona boosting his personal record to 4-0. He gave up three singles, a double, fanned eight and allowed only one runner past second base.

The Pagemen scored their lone run in the second inning, which proved to be sufficient. Al Space singled home Harv Ankley after the veteran catcher cracked a double.

Ankley went 2 for 3 to lead team hitting, as the Falcons only collected six base hits.

The contest was a defensive one all the way. Besides being a pitchers duel, seven double plays were registered--four by River Falls and three by the Warriors.

The home team jumped to a quick, but short-lasting lead in the nightcap on Wayne Jarvinen's booming blast over the left field fence. Winona came back in the second frame with a single tally, added one in the third, and scored a pair in the fourth inning on Callahan's homer.

River Falls notched their second and final run in the last of the fourth on three singles off the bats of W. Jarvinen, Gustafson, and Space. Space got the rbi., scoring Jarvinen.

Winona held only a slight 4-2 lead, but then came the seventh inning and six insurance runs. The Warriors scored on a pair of home runs, two singles, a walk and an error, to make the score 10-2.

The red and white-clad Falcon batsmen threatened in the bottom of the seventh but to no avail as the game ended with the bases jammed.

Cinderman Trounced

The Falcon thincads were literally ran over last Tuesday, when they were beaten by the St. Olaf trackmen 80 to 51.

Two River Falls school records were broke, however, during the windy day. Falcon speedster Danny McFarlane ran the 440 yd dash in a fast 50.2 seconds but was still edged out of first by a "hair" at the tape.

Another River Falls record was broken when the combination of Tom Bosman, Jerry Jensen, Bob Bray and McFarlane took first in the mile relay running it in 3:31. The school record of 3:32.2 was set by the same group in a dual meet with Stout here April 23.

Taking the other blue ribbons for the Falcons were 880 man-Bray, pole vaulter Glen McNaughton and javelin hurler Dave Wirtala.

Coach Christensen singled out the efforts of Bray and Wirtala in their respective events, and also the consistency of Tom Staiger in the mile run. He added that he expects Staiger to give a much better showing in the coming meets.

River Falls placings and total winning times and distances from the May 5, dual meet with St. Olaf:

Mile Relay--1--River Falls; time 3:31.2 (New school record.)

This week River Falls will close out season action with the WSSC meet at Whitewater Saturday.

I-M Action in Full Force

The Playboys cruised into first place in F league intramural softball with two impressive victories last week. They dumped the Tigers on Monday and crushed the Fence Busters on Thursday with the intramural season's first shutout.

Steady pitching by Orlin Berg handcuffed the Fence Buster's in the Thursday encounter, while his mates tallied 13 runs in their rebounding 13-0 triumph. It was the third win of the season for Berg and the Playboys.

In other F league action, May 4th boosted their record to two wins and one loss, by handing the Fence Buster's the first of their two losses of last week, with a 5-1 victory. The men from May scored five runs, with the help of errant Buster fielding. Gary Klecker held the opposition to one run in gaining his second victory.

The King and His Court crowned the Kingmen 21-10 in a free scoring F league encounter. An 11 run fifth inning and four solo homers in the sixth crushed the Kingsmen twirlers. Dennis Quinn got the victory with relief help from Carl Glese.

The Rat Finks soared into first place in the R league by knocking off undefeated Ric's Rec 18-4. The impressive squad tallied their third win without a setback. Chuck Kuhtz was the winning pitcher and Ric Buhr was charged with the loss.

Another contender top spot in the R league is the undefeated Grape squad. They rolled up their second win without a defeat by topping May 1st 14-4. Pitcher Mort Mortinson gained his second win of the season.

Prior split with two R league aggregations this week when they topped the CH's 18-7 and fell to Chief's Chargers 18-11. In the contest with the CH's, it was the big bats of the Prior men that proved to be the downfall of their opponents. The Prior squad blew an early lead in the Charger contest to absorb their second loss of the season. Hurler Dave Taube received the decision in both games.

Golf Team Mis-Putts

The River Falls golfers experienced a streak of bad luck, losing both matches to opponents in last Thursday's triangular meet at Eau Claire. Against Eau Claire, the Falcon's Roger Miller managed to salvage 1 1/2 points, while Eau Claire collected 13. In the Winona match River Falls fared better but still came out on the short end of a 13-3 score. The Falcon scoring was divided between Roger Miller and Dave Stone, who each collected one point.

The River Falls' linksters will be in action at home Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Tuesday they will face Eau Claire and Wednesday a triangular meet with Carleton and St. Olaf is scheduled. The conference meet will be held on Friday and Saturday of this week at Lawsonia Country Club at Green Lake.

This week's action will conclude this season's golf schedule for River Falls.

Mrs. Chennault's latest book, "Chennault and the Flying Tigers," is the first complete story of her famous husband's life and the American volunteer pilots he organized into the formidable flying group called the Flying Tigers. The book is based on official papers, letters and reports and on her and her husband's private papers, diaries and conversations.

Courts Will Not Interfere With Colleges

BY THOMAS E. HALLOWAY

"The right of a college or university to require students to live in dormitories or residence halls set up by the college or university appears to be within the discretion of the boards of control. If the board desires to make such a requirement, it may do so. The courts will not interfere so long as the action is reasonable and not arbitrary.

The preceding paragraph was taken from a manual entitled "The Legal Basis for College Student Personnel Work," published by the American College Personnel Association. The manual lists court decisions throughout the country in which the courts have continuously upheld the rights of colleges and universities to establish whatever policies they deemed necessary concerning housing, food services, admissions, student discipline, student activities, etc.

Students on this campus have questioned the right of the college to require students to eat on a food plan, require students to live in college approved housing, conduct inspections of student housing at will, and in general regulate all or nearly all, aspects of student life.

Students, in letters to The VOICE, have complained about inspection of their rooms by college officials, contending that this was a violation of their (the students') right to privacy. According to the manual, the students enrolled in a college or university do not have the same rights that they would have were they entirely on their own and not contracted to the institution.

According to a decision by the Supreme Court of Florida, "As to mental training, moral and physical discipline and welfare of the public, college authorities stand in loco parentis; and in their discretion may make any regulations for their government which a parent could make for the same purpose, and so long as such regulations do not violate divine or human law, courts have no authority to interfere."

This is supported by the generally accepted idea that "in administering disciplinary action, the college or university is not bound by the general principles of justice found in our courts. The college is in a position where it is responsible for the welfare of a large number of students, most of them legally minors. . . In this capacity the college needs discretion in the establishment of rules and regulations for the protection of the students."

The college-student relationship is contractual and part of the contract for admission is an implied promise to conform to the rules and regulations of the college. Any failure to do so on the part of the student is sufficient grounds for the college to terminate the contract.

The manual further states that a student accused of a violation of the rules should not have to prove his innocence. It is generally up to the college to prove his guilt. "The presumption of innocence is present but not to the same extent found in courts."

The courts have held that attending an institution of higher learning is not a right but a pri-villege. This interpretation leaves the decision of how this privilege should be granted almost entirely up to the faculty or governing boards.

Concerning off-campus housing, the courts hold that colleges and universities may specify which off-campus housing is acceptable to the institution. Hence, the list of "approved housing" which lists residences acceptable to this college. This applies to single students of any age, except those living with relatives or at home.

It is also entirely within the law for students to be required to patronize institutionally operated facilities (such as food services) either through a fee system or an operational rule of the institution when those facil-
