

Winter Carnival Starts Wednesday

King Candidate Voting To Kick Off Festivities

by Kathy Jenkins

Voting for king this Wednesday, will officially open the Gala d' Hiver festivities of the 1962 Winter Carnival. Ballots may be cast in the Student Center from 8 to 5 p.m. To climax opening day activities, the annual F.F.A. Talent Show will be featured in North Hall Auditorium starting at 7:30 p.m. The evening will be highlighted by the coronation of the king and the beard judging contest (for those very determined whiskery chins seen currently on campus).

Thursday, Jan. 25, will add new activities to the regular Winter Carnival events. The chairwomen have nicknamed this day "Ski-Wear-Day". They suggest that the student body wear their ski-outfits to classes to add to the spirit of the occasion. Among the days activities will be a Broom Ball Contest starting at 2:30 on Hathorn Hall Parking Lot and later, at 3:30, there will be open skating for all. At 5 p.m. the annual pancake eating contest will be in the Student Center. The evening will be topped by a basketball game with Augsburg and presentation of the King and His Court at half time. Following the game will be a jam session in the Student Center with a skit presented by the Sitzmarkers.

Classes will be dismissed at 9:40 a.m. on Friday morning for the outing to Ski Mac. Special half price rates are: $2.00 for tows and the use of the grounds; boots, 50 cents; skis, 75 cents; poles, 25 cents. There will be no sliding or tobogganing allowed on the hills. The Sitzmarkers have organized races and contests and the Pinchle Club has organized indoor activities for the less brave.

After the supper hour (5 - 6 p.m.) hay rides have been scheduled for 6:30, 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30 for any brave souls that haven't had enough fresh air during the day. As one fresh-air fiend gleefully proclaimed, "Tally-ho, yolks and to the slopes."

Mixed Doubles Bowling Tournament will get the ball rolling at 8:30 Saturday morning at Collins' Lanes. All those interested in participating should sign up in

All present and prospective Voice staff should report to the publications office at 4 p.m. Wednesday. This meeting will be used to reorganize the staff and to reassign beats. New personnel are specially invited.

Room 2 of the Student Center by Friday, Jan. 26. Students are invited to Swenson Hill at 1 p.m. Saturday afternoon for sliding, skiing and tobogganing, followed at 4 p.m. by a warm-up and judging of the Snow Sculptures.

The Foreign Students on campus will offer entertainment along with six mysterious can-can girls during the French Dinner to be held Saturday evening from 7 to 9:30. Following the dinner there will be a Gala d' Hiver Semi-formal in the Karges Center. Tickets for the dinner and dance are on sale in the Student Center Monday through Thursday. Prices are $4.00 per couple for the dinner and dance or $3.00 per couple for just the dance.

Sunday morning, Jan. 28 will be devoted to church attendance. That afternoon will see students at a water show and open swimming in Karges Center and an ice fishing contest. At 4 p.m. there will be a warm-up in the Student Center.

The water show will feature the Synchronized Swim Club from the University of Minnesota and two divers from the College swim team. This event will begin at 1:30 and will be in Karges Center. The ice fishing contest will be held on the south end of Cedar Lake at 1 p.m. and admission and entry fee will be 50 cents. Prizes for the contest will be 10 dollars for the largest fish, five dollars for the first fish and three dollars for the smallest.

Monday will see a bedraggled student body returning to classes.

'Man Called Peter' Will Show Sunday In Little Theatre

The movie A Man Called Peter, starring Richard Todd and Jean Peters, will be shown in the Little Theatre Sunday, Feb. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

The film tells the story of a Scottish immigrant boy, whose conscience would permit no compromise with principles. A warm and moving story of faith.

Admission is 25c. Sponsored by the Social Committee.

XLVIII NO. 16 RIVER FALLS STATE COLLEGE MONDAY, JANUARY 22, 1962

Faculty Play Will Have 'Weirdest' Characters

What is probably the "weirdest" assortment of faculty members ever gathered in one spot will appear on the stage of North Hall auditorium the evenings of Feb. 1, 2 and 3 when "Arsenic and Old Lace" is presented. Proceeds will go to the River Falls State College Foundation.

The "weirdness," according to a faculty spokesman, lies entirely in the characters portrayed by an all-faculty cast under the direction of Dr. Blanche Davis, director of theatre.

For example, there's Jonathan Brewster, a homicidal maniac with international achievements in murder. His striking resemblance to Boris Karloff is the work of his partner, "Dr." Einstein, a plastic surgeon who sometimes suffers from "bottle fatigue."

There are the two old-maid aunts, sweet, gracious ladies with the nasty habit of dropping arsenic in the home-made elderberry wine they serve to unsuspecting guests.

Then, there's Teddy Brewster who is convinced he's Theodore Roosevelt and is happily digging the Panama Canal in the basement. More nearly normal are the Rev. Dr. Harper, his knowledgeable daughter, Elaine, and her some-time fiancé, Mortimer Brewster.

The cast in order of appearance, is as follows:

- Abby Brewster ----- Josephine Paterak
- The Rev. Dr. Harper ----- Walter Engler
- Teddy Brewster ----- James Harless
- Officer Brophy ----- L. G. Stone
- Officer Klein ----- Martin Laakso
- Martha Brewster ----- Vera Moss
- Elaine Harper ----- Lois Bowman

Students Asked To Give Blood

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in River Falls Thursday and the Red Cross has extended an invitation to students, especially those with O negative blood. Interested persons should sign up with Miss Emogene Nelson or members of her Health Education class.

The Bloodmobile will be at the Lutheran House of Worship 1-7 p.m. The Red Cross said that 60 donors came from the student body in September and they hope that more will turn out Thursday.

- Mortimer Brewster ----- William Manning
 - Mr. Gibbs ----- B. J. Rozehnal
 - Jonathan Brewster ----- Jay Gossner
 - Dr. Einstein ----- Edward Peterson
 - Officer O'Hara ----- Wayne Wolfe
 - Lieutenant Rooney ----- Francis Chisholm
 - Mr. Witherspoon ----- Walker Wyman
- Names of another 13 members of the cast have been withheld, upon request, Dr. Davis said.

Falcon Sculptor Decides Position For Bronze Bird

The question of which way the bronze falcon fill face when sculptor John Rood places it on the North wall of Karges Center was answered last week when the sculptor was on campus to clear up last minute details concerning the contract which will begin his work on the big bird. According to Kurt Wild, College art instructor, Rood said the bird will be pointing down, however, it will not point downward as sharply as the model would indicate. It will be in a swooping position rather than in a diving position.

It was pointed out by College President Kleinpell that the bird will be emphasized with lights. These lights will not be put up by Mr. Rood, but he will direct Neal Barron, College engineer, and his crew in placing them.

The bird will be made of brass, will be placed at least 10 feet above the ground (to discourage vandals) and will be supported on the wall with 15 or 16 steel pins. The bird will be set away from the wall from one to two feet, Rood said.

A note of special interest is that Rood guarantees to have (continued on page 4)

The Editor Speaks . . .

During the first week of next month, the Annual Grassroots Politics Conference will be on Campus. The theme of this year's conference is "The New Conservatism." Whether this conference will discuss the recently proclaimed "growth of conservatism on American college campuses" can not be discovered by studying the titles in the Conference program.

This subject is one that seems to be enjoying a good bit of recent discussion. In the two fall issues of the UWM Post (published by the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee), the editorial column decries college instructors in general because they are liberally oriented in their political views.

The Post states that college instructors are not the only intellectuals that are interested in politics. It claims that many intellectuals are conservative-minded thinkers that don't have the advantage the college professors have in expressing their views.

Strange as it may seem, the Post claims that these liberal educators are "naturally liberal." "Naturally?" These professors have had at least seven years of advanced education that could have had something to do with forming their ideas. Undoubtedly, these educators have done a great deal of studying and have considered the arguments that both liberal and conservatives have to offer. This study could very easily have influenced their decision to support the liberal cause.

Do these people, if they are so abundant as the Post proclaims, feel enough conviction with their ideals to find other media for expressing their views. Seldom is a group that is large in number and strong in their beliefs weak in their expression of these ideas. It seems strange that these "large" numbers of conservative intellectuals that roam the United States are sorely lacking a spokesman.

Another inconsistency the Post writer presents in his argument is that conservatism is growing on the American college campus scene. If this is true, obviously the college instructors have been doing a very poor job of indoctrinating the defenseless students.

To cap off all of the inconsistencies presented, the writer says that many students would move to a different school if they could afford to. He cries for more conservative thinking in government and, without the aid of any punctuation, turns upon himself by saying that many students would receive no advanced education at all if they could not attend a government-supported college.

Grapplers Handle Stout 23-5

The River Falls wrestling squad, finally swinging into action after a long layoff, swamped the Stout Bluedevils 23-5 Saturday night in Karges Gymnasium. It was the Falcons all the way as Stout finally came through with some team points in the next to the last match. The Falcons are now 2-0 in dual matches having dumped Gustavus and have placed second in the Carleton Invitational and fourth in the Iowa State College Invitational.

The match saw only one pin as the Bluedevils Leon Stephenson pinned Dean Dix with 1:57 remaining in the second period. Stephenson was the only bright spot in an otherwise weak and dull Stout squad.

The first match at 123 pounds was forfeited by Stout to Charles Hinds of the Falcons to give the home team five quick points.

Milt Peterson of the Falcons, weighing in at 130 pounds, easily out pointed Ed Fiesler 9-2. Out side of Stephenson's pin these were the only points scored (individual or team) by the Stout squad.

In the 137 and 147 pound classes the Falcons scored an escape and a takedown in the last period to win 3-0. Pat Mrotek beat Dennis Lerum and 147 pound Dick Culver handled Dale Dix.

Loren Nordahl wasted little time in the first period to score on a take-down and a predicament over Fred Loomis to win easily 7-0 in the 157 pound class.

One hundred sixty-seven pound Jerry Halverson scored a reversal in the second period over 167 pound Glen Hardy to give the Falcons three more team points.

This set the stage for the pin by Stephenson with the Falcons leading 20-0.

In the final match of the long evening for Stout, heavy-weight Larry Julien beat Jim Keeler 3-0, scoring an escape and a take-down in the second period.

Pagemen at Home Twice; Matmen, Poolers on Road

by Jim Norrish

The River Falls basketball team is at home for two games this week while the swimming and wrestling teams are on the road.

Tonight at 8 p.m. the Cardinals from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee will invade Karges Gymnasium in an attempt to climb from the bottom of the conference. On Thursday night at 8 p.m. the Falcons will hope to avenge an opening season loss to Augsburg 79-69 as the Auggies are here for a non-conference tilt.

The swimming team travels to La Crosse on Wednesday hoping for their first victory of the season and the wrestling squad, also on the road, will invade Superior.

The Cards of Milwaukee are currently supporting a 1-3 record at press time and were considered under dogs at Eau Claire Saturday night.

Milwaukee is without the services of Dave Vincent and Jerry Grochowski who were second and third in the individual conference scoring race with 308 and 280 points respectively. Among the leading letermen returning are Ed Markunas who scored 170 points last year. The tallest man on the squad is 6-5 Dennis Koehler, who was under-study of all conference Grochowski last season.

In the first meeting between the Auggies and Falcons the Minnesota team had a well balanced attack led by Freshman Dan Meyers with 15 points. Lloyd Raymond, a 5-8 guard, and Wendell Carlson added 16 and 11 respectively. Center Ron Hanson standing at 6-7 and Charles Anderson hit for 10 points each.

The wrestling squad will have their hands full when they travel to Superior Friday for a dual meet with the defending conference champions. Once again the Yellowjacket squad is dominated by grapplers from Pennsylvania. as seven of the eight starting matmen are from that state.

Battling in the 123 pound division will be the Falcon's Jerry Fehlan, who finished second in the conference behind the Yellowjacket's Bill McCreary his opponent Friday. Charles McCreary, Bill's brother will wrestle at 130 pounds and Paul Henkowitz will weigh in at 137 pounds.

Winning the conference divisions last year for Superior besides Bill McCreary were 147 pound Glen Getgen, 157 pound Terry Cole, and 177 pound Timm Stauffer, who finished third in the NAIA last season.

Rounding out the squad is John Ross, the only man not from Pennsylvania and Dick Rauwolf.

Having lost seven straight meets the swimming team will attempt to get on the winning track at La Crosse Wednesday. The Falcons will clearly be the underdogs as the Indians are noted for their strong swimming teams.

The Falcon bench and the crowd are following the action of the Oshkosh and Falcon clash in which River Falls won 85-69. Head Coach Don Page seems to feel that was a bad call by the referee or that they should have called a foul but didn't.

Indians Scalp Falcons

The La Crosse Indians found the home surroundings to their liking Saturday night as they downed the visiting River Falls squad 77-57. Having suffered only one defeat in conference play and winning four leaves the Indians in contention for the championship. River Falls is 3-2 in league play.

The last 10 minutes of the second half told the tale as the La Crosse quintet poured in 26 points while the Falcons could manage only nine. Mid-way through the first half the Falcons were trailing by only one point 14-13 but La Crosse's combination of Pete Hassemmer, Bill Sugar and Larry Tranberg accounted for 24 points in the 10 minutes to clinch the victory.

Don Koepnick was the only River Falls threat in these 10 minutes as he accounted for the Falcons nine points in the second quarter and finished the evening with eight field goals and five for seven from the charity stripe for 21 points. Tobey Garey added 14 in the otherwise sputtering Falcon offense.

The Indians had four men in double figures as Tranberg led the home team with 19 points. Bill Sugar added 15 while Ken Peterson and Larry Hilgendorf dumped in 13 and 11 points respectively.

La Crosse swished 33 shots in 71 attempts for a fine 46 per cent while the Falcons managed only 25 of 79 attempts for 32 per cent.

Kegler's Korner

by Ron Zirbel

After two weeks of vacation and a misplaced article last week I guess I should try to bring the bowling fans up to date. Over the holidays the National Intercollegiate Bowling Association sent out a compiled report of the results in the Association so far this season. John Cook from River Falls is leading the association with a 205 average in 8 games. John also holds the high individual single game with a 279 game. Northeastern Oklahoma holds the high team game of 1053 and Southern Illinois University holds the team series record with a 2950. Oregon State University holds the high team average with a 923.

The River Falls Falcons are currently in third place with a 6-6 record after taking three points from Bradley University and 2 points from Stevens Point. The team average is 876 with their high game being a 970 and a high series of 2640.

In the intramural leagues the action is running strong with only a few weeks left in the regular season. In the All-Star league, the IC's plus one is still leading the pack with the Minorgay's and Braduwa's closing in in second and third place respectively. In the Regular league the Scraggs are on top but are leading by only one point. The Gutter Dusters who were in first place last week are in second place.

200 games: Charlie Smith 243, Vic Londo 217, Mike Lukowicz 213, Wayne Hanson 210, Ed Gregorich 209, Norm Garlie 208, Loell Roehl 206, Duane Anderson 205 and Val Barrows 202.

'Area 8' Art Exhibit Includes Work of 3 River Falls Teachers

by Ron Anderson

"Area 8" is the name of the art exhibition now being shown in Room 1 of the Student Center, which includes, among the works of various artists, pottery, collages and paintings done by members of the River Falls College faculty.

The show is a collection of work created and shown by eight area artists. Three of these artists are art instructors at River Falls.

Kurt Wild, who arranged and promoted the show, is showing some of his own ceramic pottery at the show. William Ammerman is showing paintings in water colors and oils. Walter J. Nottingham is showing oil paintings, prints, and recent experiments in collages.

Other artists whose works may be seen at the exhibition are: Abraham Cohn, Robert Schellin, Harvey K. Littleton, and Alix and Warren MacKenzie.

Although the exhibition offers quality works of art, often ambiguity surrounds these "modern" creations when viewed by the layman. According to Mr. Ammerman, this probably results from the stereotype idea of art, especially of paintings, held by many people.

He suggests that perhaps people, because of tradition, expect art to always provide them with something familiar with which to identify. "But why?" he asked. "When someone looks at draperies or floor patterns they can be unfigurative, but something hung on the wall in a frame is expected to tell us what it is."

Speaking of his own painting, Mr. Ammerman said he starts with a natural form and works away from a photographic effect, "yet the end result is easily recognizable."

Mr. Ammerman goes on to compare art with music. He said, "We accept music without pictorial content; we accept it as an experience, therefore do we have a right to expect more of painting?"

Mr. Wild, who is showing his ceramic pottery at the show, said he "enjoys the feel of pottery." He said, "I have no profound philosophy on it. But everyone likes beautiful things in his home and I try to create something beautiful. A potter is somewhat like God," he explained. "A potter takes something humble like clay and tries to make something of beauty."

Mr. Wild said he is very pleased at the responses the art show has received. He said that be the fifth day of the show 18 pieces had been sold. According to Mr. Wild, the total worth of the show is $2,600. "Although I could be prejudiced," he said, "I believe this show is comparable to anything that could be seen at Walker Art Institute. This is an excellent show."

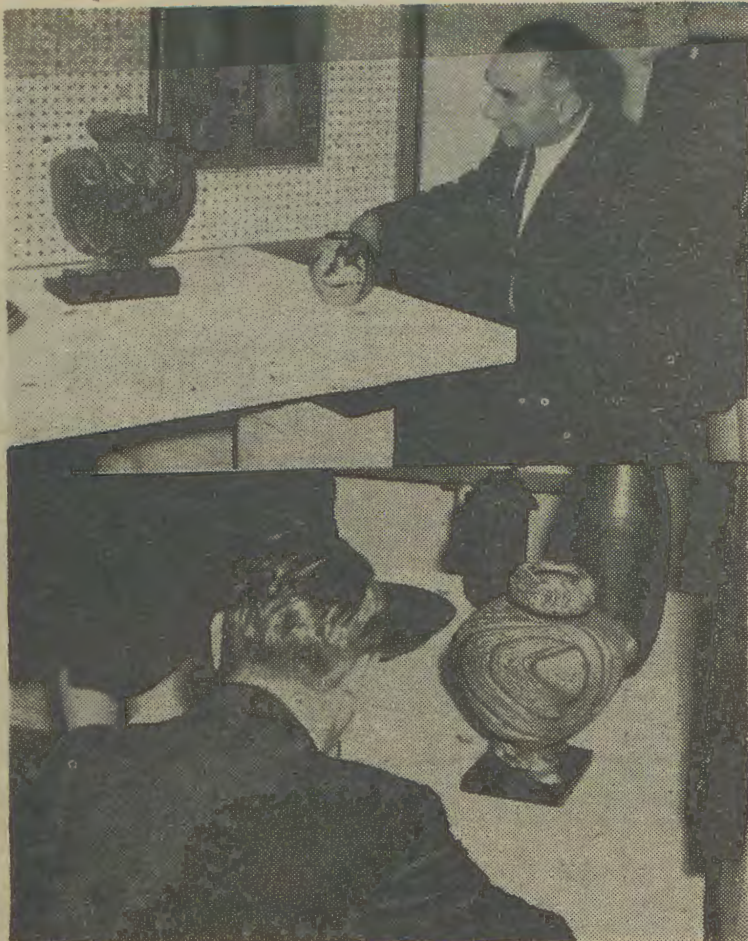

Mr. Nottingham, who is showing his paintings and recent experiments in collages, explains his use of color as expression, and his use of ordinary objects in unfamiliar combinations as his attempts to find something that is halfway between poetry and math.

"Often what I am attempting to achieve is a simple statement which will be as inclusive and powerful as those made by children," I believe," he continued, "that the strongest statements man can make are often the simplest in form."

Romayne Loudenback, art student who designed the west wall of the Student Center Cafeteria, enjoyed the show, and expressed his opinion that "it was something new around here and it is a good show. I bought six soup bowls and a mug."

"I liked the show very much, especially the pottery," said Bey Monette, who has studied in the Chicago Art Institute. "The works showed good design and form. This show is a good thing, and shows what people on campuses are doing, and it is an aid to ceramics students right now."

Work on the bird will not be done on campus as previously hoped, however, Rood has consented to have groups visit him during the progress of the work in his studio so that students here will be able to see what is involved in the welding, casting and shaping of the bird. Details of these visits will probably be handled by the Art Club.

Mr. Wild commented that Rood "was very pleased" with the suggestion that he stage a one-man sculpture show. Details of the show will also be handled by the Art Club. One suggestion concerning this show was that rather than back up the sculpture work with paintings, photographs of the falcon's progress will be used.

Omission

An omission was made in last week's edition of the Student Voice. Mrs. Vern Richardson of Spring Valley and Sam Rineck of Chippewa Falls should have been included in the honor student listings.

Mrs. Richardson is in elementary education and Mr. Rineck is in agriculture education.
