Campus Drive for March of Dimes Starts Thursday

Once again the annual appeal for funds for the fight on infantile paralysis is being brought to us. The local "March of Dimes" campaign which opened January 14 and closes January 31 is part of the nation wide appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for funds to continue the fight against the dread disease.

On Thursday, January 24, the YWCA will be prepared to receive contributions from the college. There will be a table in South hall presided over by one of the YWCA girls, and your generous contributions will be gratefully received there. Both lapel buttons and folders will be supplied to contributors.

At 11 o'clock immediately following assembly on Thursday, Mr. Russell Johnston, director of the Training School, will show to the Training School children a movie depicting the fight against poliomyelitis. College students are also invited to see this film.

FACULTY VACANCY IS FILLED

F. Leon Reynolds, a graduate of the University of Kansas, will fill the vacancy on March 1st left by Miss Isolde Henninger in the language department.

Mr. Reynolds received his bachelor of arts and masters degree from the University of Kansas. He also did one year of graduate work at the University of Wisconsin.

For the past three years, Mr. Reynolds has served with the army in the ETO in the Intelligence Divisions. He was selected for this work because of his specialized training in French and German.

Mrs. Francis Chisholm has been substituting in the French and Spanish departments since Miss Henninger's illness.

NOTICE!

Freshman appointments for Meletean pictures are to be made this week. Notice bulletin board for hours.

Mosher Returns to Faculty

After three years of navy life, Professor John Mosher is back at RFSTC teaching geography and conservation classes. While in the service, Mr. Mosher worked in weather offices in the United States and the Pacific Theater.

Mr. Mosher took his basic training at Farragut, Idaho. He then worked in weather offices at the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, New Jersey and at Seattle, Washington. He shipped out for twenty months of overseas duty from Port Hunene, California and went by way of Pearl Harbor, Eniwetok, and Guam to Saipan. His work at Saipan consisted of making weather patrols to such now historic places as Truk, Iwo Jima, Okinawa and Tokyo. He made the patrol over Nagasaki to investigate the weather conditions just before the atomic bomb was dropped.

Mr. Mosher returned to the United States at San Pedro, received his discharge at Great Lakes, and came back to River Falls a few weeks ago.

ASSEMBLY FEATURES FULL LENGTH MOVIE

"So Ends Our Night", a full length movie, will be shown during the student assembly at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, January 24. Adapted from Erich Remarque's novel, "Flotsam". The movie features Frederic March, Margaret Sul-lavan, and Erich von Stroheim in the title roles.

Students will note the change

HAMMER ELECTED F.F.A. PRESIDENT

The first meeting of the River Falls Collegiate Chapter of the FFA since the spring of 1943 was held January 9, 1945. The primary function of the meeting was the election of officers to take charge of the duties of the organization until the end of the school year.

The following officers were elected: President, Philip Hammer; Vice-President, Frank Pappenfuss; Secretary, Leland Dobberstein; Treasurer, Wallace Brey; Reporter, Glenn Barquest; Sentinel, Marvin Erdmann.

The next FFA meeting will be held in the Men's Union, Thursday, January 24th, at 7:30 P. M.

SUMMER SCHOOL SCHEDULE MADE

Announcement was made this week that the college will run a six-week summer session instead of the six and five week sessions that have been run during the war.

The session will begin June 11 and close July 14.

Courses will be offered in all departments and divisions enabling a student to advance his studies toward a diploma in rural or elementary work or to a degree in any of the fields of

That a colorful, gay Mardi Gras certainly isn't restricted to New Orleans, Louisiana, will be exclaimed by many RFSTC students after Friday evening, January 26th, when the Language Club will sponsor a Mardi Gras in the South hall gym.

This miniature Mardi Gras in the form of a masquerade dance will be highlighted by the unmasking of everyone, and the awarding of prizes to the best costumed boy and the best costumed girl. After this event the prize-winners will lead the grand march.

Between dances masqueraders may try their luck fishing in a fish pond or they may discover the paths in which their futures lie by visiting Madame Lazonga. At the gaily decorated refreshment bar, pink lemonade, ice cream, and pop corn will be served. Last, but certainly not least, a floor show will be presented to add to the evening's entertainment.

Under the chairmanship of Lola Estenson and with Dr. Jurgens as the advisor, the Mardi Gras will undoubtedly be one of the most enjoyable social events of the year.

PLANS MADE FOR WINTER CARNIVAL

The weekend of February 15th has been tentatively reserved for the RFSTC Winter Carnival.

This carnival is an annual affair and is one of the outstanding social events of the school year. Last year the carnival and homecoming events were combined.

No definite plans have been made but please keep the date in mind and be thinking about it. If you have any suggestions or ideas, pass them on to any Student Senate member. Watch for further announcements.

In the meantime, you'd better get your skates sharpened and skis waxed so you will be ready for the big weekend when it comes!

The Editor Says

We are citizens of a democratic country, and, more important, we are future teachers of this country's youth. Such a statement lays a very heavy responsibility upon each and everyone of us to become awakened to the progress of the world about us.

All necessary knowledge cannot be obtained by rote memorization of facts obtained from teachers or textbooks. We cannot go out into the world as mere pedagogically stuffed bipeds. We must have developed minds—minds which are ceaselessly alert to the world.

The chief purpose of higher education is to promote this mental development. In college, an effort is made to make students think and reason for themselves.

But the entire job cannot be done by classroom professors. We must make an effort within ourselves to develop our mental initiative. Why not make better use of the newspapers and periodicals furnished us by the library? And why not join in on those discussion groups in some of our organizations? Their purpose is to start us thinking about some of the outstanding current problems.

Let's become more alert to the world in which we live!

Letter To The Editor—

Dear Editor:

Now that the boys are coming back, the campus lights are brightly burning, the school is gay with activities, and everything in general is quickly getting back to normal, why don't we get back to pre-war library hours?

Many complaints and criticisms have been passed around about the very short library hours. Why couldn't the library be open one or two nights a week from 7:00 to 9:00, or from 8:00 to 9:30? This would especially bring thanks from the basketball fellows who have their afternoons occupied.

DON'T FORGET THE MARDI GRAS FRIDAY NIGHT!

SHOULD WE HAVE MILITARY TRAINING IN PEACETIME?

One very current and difficult post-war problem in America seems to be the question of peacetime compulsory military training. The problem was recently discussed at a Y breakfast and should be discussed many times at meetings to keep it in the minds of people and to obtain different slants on the situation.

Many people readily advocate military security for our nation or a similar plan for winning the peace, but they seem to shy away from peacetime military training for our young men to keep peace lasting. It is easy to see this point of view, especially if the training isn't done the same all over the world, but, as yet, very few suggestions that are workable have been proposed to replace the training program.

In a recent address delivered by Senator Robert M. La Follette at the Central State Teachers College at Stevens Point, Wis., Senator La Follette asks, "Who is it we are preparing to fight?" He answers his question by saying that no one can say that it is one of the enemies we have defeated, because their ability to wage war has been destroyed. He then suggests that possibly it is an ally we have a reason to distrust. If all the people felt that we had a defi-

Droop Snoops Student Voice

Droop swings into action again after a long rest to see how much mischief he can get into.

Our New Year's party turned out to be a successful evening of gaily, what with good music, horn blowing and confetti. Many new faces were seen mingled in the crowd. "I brung my man", stated several of the coeds who were escorted by husky handshakes from off the campus.

Three of the House of Collins' Romeos were seen enjoying a pleasant evening, namely Ray Warren, Earl Picha and our own Terry Clark Gable Hayes. To complete the sextette were Verna Goodspeed, Ruth Mellum and a furrerer. She's from Carleton College and drives her own car. How do you get all the angels, Terry? They left early for points north for frog legs.—hm—All went well until they ran out of gas on the way home at Roberts. Since when is Roberts the way home from the Buckhorn?

Many have been questioning Lorraine Thannum's recent and numerous trips to Minneapolis. Droop does it again and finds that a certain home-town sailor has been getting frequent short leaves to the Cities. Put two and two together and what do you get? So does Droop—

Boys! Boys! What's this we hear about compliments on Miss E. Hoffman's perfume? Droop thinks you had better stick to the 'apple on the teacher's desk' principle. It may be primitive but it is not nearly as personal.

Droop in his sly manner has spied Greenly and Keid together numerous times. Could it be another affair budding?

Congratulations to our star basketball center on his marriage. Where are the cigars, Joe?

We hear Pat Patterson spent the Holidays very pleasantly. Ask Farmer Hanson for details.

Now Droop must leave you until some future date. In the meantime, I'm a-watchin' ya—

OBSERVATIONS ON LIFE'S STRUGGLES

This week, being the period which finds teachers wrecking vengeance on the hapless students who have caught up on their sleep during lecture periods, perhaps should be devoted to mid-terms (they consist of the substance of the professor's nightmare of the previous night) as the topic for discussion. But, having all I wanted of mid-terms, and expecting a lovely little "valentine" to crowd its way through the dust in my mailbox, I shall turn to more pleasant observations.

Have you ever stopped to watch yourself struggle with lettuce salad? Although it's now quite proper to use your knife to cut the salad, you somehow feel rather foolish tearing into a helpless piece of lettuce, with knife poised, as if it were a thick, juicy steak which you expected to "moo" back at you at any moment. So you delicately take your fork and strike, and,

Falcons Fight On in Thrilling Basketball Season

Coach Schlagenhauf's Falcons journeyed to Northfield, January 4th, and edged the Vikings 35 to 32 on their home court. The Falcons rolled up a 17 to 10 half-time advantage only to have St. Olaf, paced by Dick Nelson, come back to take the lead. However, in the final minutes, River Falls set up a counter rally which gave them the decision.

Jim Moore, playing center in the absence of Joe Young, did a nice job under the basket and dumped in 10 points to lead the Falcons. The rest of the scoring was evenly divided among Hanson, Brooks, Foss, and Berggren. Nelson led St. Olaf with 14 points while their usual scoring star Jack Rudy was held to 5 points by the defensive play of Berggren. It was the Falcons' fifth victory and their second over St. Olaf, giving them a good start in the 1946 half of the season.

River Falls playing their first home game after the holidays handed a weak Stevens Point outfit a 57 to 37 drubbing. The Pointers employed a zone defense and the Falcons quickly broke through to run up a sizable lead.

Bud Foss got River Falls off on the right foot when he popped in three long shots in succession. Then center Joe Young and Dave Hanson combined to start a scoring duet which gave the Falcons 28 to 18 half-time lead. Only spectacular long distant shooting by Hartman kept the Pointers in the game.

At the start of the second half, River Falls' defensive play slumped, and for a while Stevens Point kept pace with the Falcons. Then, Dave Hanson batted in two rebound shots and the Red and White pulled away to a commanding lead which they held to the end despite numerous substitutions.

Farmer Hanson really had a big night as he poured in 20 points, mostly on side shots and tips. Young hit for 11 and Foss tallied 10. Brookes, Vine, Baird, and Berggren chipped in the other markers. Hartman meshed 18 points for half of his team's points.

Saturday evening following their victory over Stevens Point, River Falls traveled to St. Cloud and absorbed a 69 to 36 defeat at the hands of a powerful St. Cloud Teachers outfit.

The Falcons were never in the game as the fast breaking St. Cloud team roared to a 34 to 15 lead at half-time. The Falcons were obviously tired from the game on Friday night and were no match for the fast, hot shooting St. Cloud quintet.

Vine led the Falcon scoring with 8 points while Brookes and Baird had 7 apiece. Young, Moore, Foss, Berggren, and Tracy also contributed to the scoring. For St. Cloud everyone of the starting five tallied 10 or more points with their Captain, Rojacich, leading them with 18 points.

In their last game before the Christmas vacation, RFSTC avenged a previous defeat by whipping Macalester 36 to 30 in a thrilling encounter on the Falcons' home floor.

The game was close throughout and like the previous game with Malcaster very rough, with 42 fouls being called during the contest. Both teams were decidedly off on their shots and the all around play of the teams was rather sloppy although the game was played at a fast clip.

River Falls led at the half 16 to 13 and held onto a slim lead throughout the game. In the last four minutes Gordy Vine pushed in two quick buckets to ice the game for the Falcons. Joe Young led the scoring for both teams by garnering 13 points while Gerberding had 10 for Macalester.

GIRLS COMPETE IN TOURNAMENT

The girls' basketball tournament has really started in high gear. Each team has won one game apiece. The first team captained by Ruth Seekamp won the first game 24-12. But Pat Cox's team came through with a 26-15 victory in the second game. The tournament is still on so it is hard to tell who will be the victors.

secondary education.

The director will this year again be Dr. Wyman.

Students interested in specific courses should make their desires known to chairmen of the departments or to Professor Prucha.

There are a lot of people who have the itch for money but most of them don't want to scratch for it.

RFSTC DEBATE SQUAD WILL PARTICIPATE IN TOURNAMENT

RFSTC will be represented in the Red River Valley Tournament at Concordia College, in Moorhead, February 8-9. The debate teams are: Charles White and Norris Crist, Louise Melbye and Louellyn Reiss, and Louis Daniels. Representative in extemporaneous speaking is Steinbraume; in men's oratory, Louis Daniels.

The question to be debated is: Resolved: That the foreign policy of the United States should be directed toward the establishment of free trade among the nations of the world.

Last year's team, Louis Daniels and John Bradley, was very successful, having won the cup at the Eau Claire tournament where fifteen colleges were represented.

PLAY WILL BE ASSEMBLY FEATURE

"So's Your Old Antique", the comment of Sally (Pat Cox) in ridiculing her husband's (Norris Crist) antique shop, forms a most comic theme for the one-act play by Clare Kummer, which is to be presented in assembly, February 7. Mrs. Pettis (Lois Brandt) almost succeeds in breaking up the happy Barlow home by her incessant flare for antiques, and Mr. Malster (Bob Kinney) almost puts the Barlows on easy street by his.

It'll give you a laugh! Don't forget the one-act comedy February 7th in assembly.

MILITARY TRAINING

nite nation in mind as the next aggressor when peace time military training was proposed, what a pessimistic nation we would be! If someone had been prowling around your house at night, and you had a watch dog around to give you a sense of security, would that mean you had a grudge against a certain person and were "out to get him?" On the other hand, if all houses had watchdogs for security, there would be no worry of prowlers. It might be worth while to advocate a universal plan of military training.

There certainly is much more to be said on this topic but perhaps the important points have been touched. Regardless of how the situation is handled, the final outcome will surely be for the best.

World Student Service Relief Asks Our Aid

"The University of the Philippines is in ashes," writes Dr. Maximo M. Kalaw, a leading educator and statesman in the Philippines. This great and beautiful university in Manila had more than 7500 students and 714 professors before the war. Santo Tomas, the oldest university under the American flag, was one of the other thirty-six institutions of collegiate rank in the Philippines, with a total enrollment of 168,584. Great damage was done to most of these institutions. Only 36,000 volumes of the 733,099 in the National Library were saved. In other libraries, 6,971,791 volumes were lost, and 90% of laboratory equipment of colleges and universities was destroyed.

The University of the Philippines reopened this fall in temporary quarters. Joe Mixer, California '43, home from war duty in the Pacific, has written: "I just returned from the Philippines where I saw schools start up from nothing but thatched roofs overhead. But they are building students who will some day build their country."

Funds contributed to the World Student Service Fund go to help Filipino students who have suffered grievously during the war, as well as to help students in all of the war-seared lands. Roland Elliott is now investigating student needs in China and other countries in Asia on behalf of World Student Relief.

Plans are now in progress for the local World Student Service Drive which will be under the sponsorship of the YMCA and the YWCA. The date will be announced soon.

OBSERVATIONS

not so delicately, a piece of lettuce slithers off your plate into your lap.

You remove the offending piece with as much haste as possible, and try to recapture your dignity by conquering the lettuce remaining on your plate. You succeed in cutting off a sizeable chunk (by sizeable, I mean two sizes bigger than your mouth) and surreptitiously try to stuff it in. This cannot be accomplished unless you have a tub to stand on—which you haven't. The choking which results has definitely given lettuce top billing on your "black list". But cheer up—you can always eat a carrot!

BITS FROM BUDDIES

Corporal Edward Greenhouse sent a card of greeting and says he plans to "be a student of River Falls again next fall."

'Rich' Lejuene of the U. S. S. Mount McKinley recently made a "tour" of Japan, having seen the demolished Hiroshima, and had a liberty at Tokyo and Yokohama. This year he got his turkey, too, and found living conditions a vast contrast to those aboard ship. There are meager food supplies along Japanese streets, the only food being "sold at any store or place is tangerines."

Kenneth Enloe is in a naval research laboratory in Washington. He had met fellow servicemen Marvin Passow who was going to signalman school in Illinois and Sam Young who was leaving for Seattle the next day.

From Mindoro, Philippine Islands, Don Ubbelodhe sends Christmas greetings and says that there they are "waiting, hoping, and desecrating and counting our points."

Glen Barnes is now stationed at San Diego. He has been transferred from duty on a Victory ship bringing troops back from France to petty officer of the watch.

Mr. Stratton received a letter from Lt. (JG) Ted Gleiter, who is a qualified weather forecaster in the Navy. Ted said he was kept busy night and day, and all the hours in between.

George Frenchick sent a letter requesting information on the rooming situation in River Falls. George is from Weyershauser, and plans on returning to school next term.

From Robert McCordie, who is at Calicoan, comes a New Year's greeting and letter. "Butch" has run into several people from River Falls including Nate DeLong, our former basketball star.

From Lt. Ruben Dastard comes a very interesting letter. Ruben is in the hmo chemical office for the Nagoya area. He was enjoying a snowstorm then, just like the kind Wisconsin has. After spending a year and a half in the tropics, Ruben said he has learned to enjoy snow.

Wayne Babel, CMC, writes from the U.S.A. Alaskan. He is helping in the big task of bringing soldiers back to the United States. Wayne enclosed a copy of the address given by his commanding officer commemorating the Second Anniversary of the commissioning of the ship.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bender are the proud parents of a daughter, Susan Carol, born on January 5. Congratulations, Tom and Edna!

HERE AND THERE ON OUR CAMPUS

Two more newly returned veterans have enrolled this term at RFSTC. They are Ray Wolfe of River Falls, and Herbert Boettcher of Cadott.

Dr. Wyman will go to Madison, Wisconsin this week to attend a meeting of the State Centennial Committee. This committee is working on the centennial celebration for the state of Wisconsin in 1948.

Chess was the highlight of the Math club meeting last Wednesday night. It is planned that more meetings will be devoted to this game of the centuries.

This term Miss Moss and Dr. Wyman are conducting a two hour special reading course for juniors and seniors. The class is reading some of the works of Thomas Paine and Ralph Waldo Emerson. Six weeks are to be spent on each writer. The class holds a discussion on some piece of writing each week.

A new party idea was used Monday, January 14 when the Honor Society met for a Twelfth Night party. After witnessing the beautiful pillar on South hall campus, the party returned to the social room. There they followed an ancient Twelfth Night custom—eating a cake in which were placed a ring, a bean and a bell designating respectively the queen, king and clown. These positions were held for the night by Joyce Julian, Anna Mae Hoseid, and Lois Meulemans.

The third installment of CALIFORNIA EMIGRANT LETTERS, compiled by Dr. Wyman, appeared in the recent issue of the Cal. Historical Quarterly.

The college cast of the Masquers recent production of "Blithe Spirit" along with several other persons traveled to the University of Minnesota last Saturday evening, January 19, to witness the University players production of 'Blithe Spirit'. The cast was very fortunate and pleased in being invited back stage after the performance.

Dr. Chisholm, head of the English department, has been giving a series of lectures on general semantics at Hamline University. Two lectures have already been delivered, one on January 9th and the other January 16th. Two more are yet to be given, one today, January 23rd and one on February 6th.

Popularity of Health
Cottage Decreases

Since vacation, there has been little illness on the campus. Some students have been ill, but there is no comparison with the illness that prevailed on the campus before Christmas.

Some students have been at the Infirmary, however. The week after vacation, Hans Jensen was a patient because of the flu. Last week, Warren Johnson was confined to the Infirmary with tonsillitis.

Another student, Lois DuBois, was taken to the local hospital last week for an appendectomy. Miss Tadsen reports she is doing very well.

I HAVE A RENDEZVOUS WITH FRENCH

I have a rendezvous with French

In some room whose number I don't know,

When the bell rings in a minute or so

And the smell of food fills the air—

I have a rendezvous with French

Where irregular verbs will be the fare.

It may be French will come my way

And someday I may "parle francais"

It may be I shall pass that class--

I have a rendezvous with French

In some scarred chair among the mass,

When one o'clock comes round again today

And from those other classes, I make my way.

Goodness knows it were better to be deep

Buried in books like "Gone With the Wind",

NEW BOOKS ADDED TO THE LIBRARY

Many books of popular interest have been purchased and added to the college library. A list and a collection of these newer books may be found just inside the library door for the use of anyone.

A few of the new books which may be of special interest are two in the field of reconversion from soldier to civilian. They are "Sixty Million Jobs" by Henry A. Wallace and "Soldier To Civilian" by George K. Pratt. Two books of notable interest in the history field are "Story of the Irish Race" by Seumas Mac Manus and "The Real Soviet Russia" by David J. Dallin.

A most interesting addition to the library has been a set of Shakespeare records including "Julius Caesar", "Merchant of Venice", "Othello", and "Twelfth Night". In the literature and fiction group are books of popular interest such as "Excuse It, Please" by Cornelia Otis Skinner, "A Bell for Adano" by John Hersey, "The White Deer" by James Thurber, and "The Wide House" by Taylor Caldwell.

Where one can never think of sleep,

With Rhett and Scarlett on a garden bench,

While Ashley and Melanie are always near--

But I have a rendezvous with French

At one o'clock in old South Hall,

With a test on partitive, I fear,

And though, with Madame's assignment,

I am not through,

I shall not fail that rendezvous. P. C.

ENGLISH WORKSHOP USED AT MSTC

Milwaukee State Teachers College, for the last four years, has carried on a new system in their English department.

Under the system, students work at their own speed and are able to complete as many courses in one semester as they desire. All students take English workshop placement tests at the beginning of their college careers and are then enrolled in a series of units, based on their test results. Those who receive the highest grades in this diagnostic test are excused from the first two units but all students must take the third unit.

Advanced courses include commercial, scientific, and critical writing; journalism and editing; description; narration; the short story; the essay; letter-writing; and verse.

Over 400 freshmen have enrolled in the workshop this year.

NEWS OF ALUMNI

Captain Russell J. Haberman (B.S. 1933) is now in charge of de-Nazification of financial institutions in Frankfurt, Germany. As fiscal officer, he has under his jurisdiction over 60 vaults, 120 private insurance companies, Frankfurt's municipal finances, and 242 billion reichmarks deposited in financial institutions there. He entered the service as a private in January 1941. After leaving River Falls he took his law degree at Gonzaga University.

Mrs. Clarence Mielke (Gert-rude Kirchmeier, 1934) has been principal of the State Graded School at Rib Lake, Wisconsin, for the past two years.

Lee Foley (B.S. 1939) has just returned from three and a half years of military service and has joined the staff of the Veterans Administration at Wood, Wisconsin.

Lois Bernd, a graduate of fall term, has started teaching English at Hillsboro, Wisconsin.

Irene Raawe, RFSTC graduate in history who has been a WAC in the Pacific, is now teaching in Prescott.
