

Scholarships To The Brainy on Honors Day

The orchestra opened the Honor's Day Program with the playing of Mendelssohn's Festival March.

Dr. Philo Buck, Jr., of the University of Wisconsin then addressed the students on the subject "The Scholar in Arms."

Mr. Geere directed the Girls Choir in the singing of "Drink to me Only with Thine Eyes" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Dr. Karges presented the following seniors with Gold "R"s: Margaret A. Jerdee, Merle E. Michaelson, Muriel Pearson, Beverly Rasmus, Margaret A. Stronks, Leone Timmerman, Robert Van Keuren, Dawn Wheeler.

Dr. Karges presented the following scholarships: The H. E. Hayward scholarship created by the class of 1924 for a junior student on the basis of scholarship, character and general merit to John Prucha.

The Alumni Scholarship awarded to the most deserving junior student was presented to Virginia Stronks.

Muriel Griffith was awarded the PEO Award which is made available by the PEO Sisterhood to deserving women students.

The Sigma Chi Sigma scholarship was awarded to Kathryn Sneesby, freshman chosen on the basis of scholarship, personality and leadership ability.

The highest ranking junior girl on the basis of scholarship Patricia Ryan, was awarded the Faculty Woman's Club Scholarship.

The program closed with the Pledge Song.

Kolberg Commissioned Ensign In Navy

Mr. Berger Kolberg, one of R.F.S.T.'s chemistry teachers, has received a commission in the U. S. Navy as an Ensign. Mr. Kolberg will report for duty on June 1 at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York. He expects to do training work in Marine navigation.

Mr. Kolberg graduated from River Falls and later taught for several years in the local high school, after which he resigned to accept a position in Madison, Wis.

Since February Mr. Kolberg has been a member of our college faculty.

The sixty-fifth commencement of this school on Sunday May 23, at the college auditorium, will be unique in that five of the graduates are already in the armed services. They are Joseph Emmett Kelly, Rolf Nilsestuen, Robert Nicol, John Jarolimek, and Loren Thompson. Their parents are being sent special invitations for the graduation activities.

SENIOR "PREXY" AFDAHL

The graduation exercises will begin at one forty-five o'clock with the procession, which will be led by the chorus, from South Hall to North Hall. President J. H. Ames will preside over the exercises. The invocation, which is to be given by Rev. Lesley Skerry Olson, rector of the Episcopal church, will be followed by a vocal solo, "Arm, Arm, Ye Brave," by Handel, to be sung by Mr. Marvin D. Geere.

Theodore C. Blegen, Dean of the Graduate School at the University of Minnesota, will speak on the topic "The Challenge of the Pioneer Tradition." Dean Theodore Blegen is one of the most accepted authorities on Norwegian migration and pioneering in the country. He has written a two-volume book on this subject.

"The Intermezzo from the L'Arlesienne Suite No. 2," by Bizet, will be played by the college orchestra under the direction of Miss Ingweld Pfitzner. After the presentation of the diplomas by Professor R. A. Karges, the orchestra will play the Festival March by Mendelssohn, for the recessional.

Immediately after the services, the seniors and faculty will be at home to parents, alumni, and friends in the South Hall gymnasium. Miss Albeta M. Greene is in charge of the arrangements for this luncheon.

The senior - faculty - alumni dinner will be served at the Congregational church at six-thirty o'clock on Saturday, May 22. The graduating classes of 1893, 1918, 1933, and 1938 will be feted at this banquet. Mrs. J. S. Wadsworth and Abbie L. Flint will awards to M. C. O'Connell for four years of band, to Dawn Wheeler for four years of orchestra and to Merle Michaelson, Margy Skagen, Norma Howe, Dorothy Edkins and Carolyn Goble for four years in both band and orchestra. Those receiving honorable mention are Albeta Pleszczynski, John Jarolimek and Rolf Nilsestuen.

Mr. W. H. Forsythe of the American Legion presented Kenneth Rasmussen with the Legion Athletic Award.

The meeting closed with the playing and singing of the Pledge song.

Students Accept Teaching Positions

The following people have already accepted teaching positions for next year:

Marjorie Dalquist—Wausau, first grade.

Marie Holverson—Amery, English
Irene Hophan—West Bend, fourth grade

Norma Howe—Superior
Marjorie Skagen—Superior
Margaret Jerdee—Amery, History
Marcia Nelson—Maiden Rock
Margaret Pepper—Lancaster, junior high

Albeta Pleszczynski—Wausau, first grade

Jeanne Treadwell—Sparta, fourth grade

Leone Timmerman—Baldwin
Dawn Wheeler—Prairie Farm
Katherine Anderson—Cornell, upper grades

Mary Catherine O'Connell—Amery, English

They Did Their Bit

On Monday and Tuesday of this week blood donations were given at the Congregational church. About 40 college students and ten professors gave their blood. However, about 120 people were taken each day, for the citizens of River Falls also took part. Under the capable direction of the Red Cross Donors Unit the blood of seven people was taken every fifteen minutes.

The blood obtained through these donations will be made into blood plasma, a valuable aid in blood transfusions for our men in overseas service.

The Irish Have It As Ryan Heads Sigma

Patricia Ryan was chosen as president of Sigma Chi Sigma for next year at the last business meeting of this organization. The assisting officers are Ruth Mattison, vice-president

PATRICIA RYAN

Lois Harmeling, treasurer; Jean Larson, secretary. The new adviser elected was Miss Nathalie Delander.

Veloise Baker, class of 1941 was recently married to Merlin Swanberg of Grantsburg, Wisconsin. Veloise has taught English in the Grantsburg High School during the past year.

New Senate Grabs The Reins To Rule

Virginia Stronks, a member of the Junior Class of next year, was elected president of the new Student Senate at the meeting on May 13. Nona McCollow was elected vice president; Dorothy Johnson, secretary; and Corrine Swanson, treasurer.

John Prucha, retiring president, outlined work for the coming year and instructed the new officers in their duties. The Senate's position next year will have a number of difficulties because of the decreased enrollment resulting in a smaller sum of money to be spent for student activities.

The new Student Senate held its first regular meeting on May 17 at which it elected Pat Milbrath as Editor-in-chief of the Student Voice for the coming year, Dorothy Kay, John Prucha, Pat Milbrath, June Healy, Patricia Ryan, Gladys Leadholm, and Gerald Wallen were elected to the Party Committee.

It was decided to postpone until next fall the election of persons to the Athletic Council, Health Committee, and Assembly Committee. At the suggestion of Miss Maud Latta, the editor of the Meletean will be chosen after the commencement of the college year of 1943-1944.

Voice Of The College Greet's All Our Men

In this, our last issue of the Voice for this year, the staff wishes to thank the boys in the Service who have contributed their letters and made this column possible.

We hope that you will continue to write. Your friends at College want to hear from you and want to know where you are. We hope that again next fall the Voice can be sent to you.

"SECOND LOOEY" GEORGE

George K. Chipman, graduate of the agriculture department last year, was recently commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps. He was graduated with the armament class from the Technical School of the Army Air Force at Yale University.

BOB'S THINKING OF US

At the present time "Bob" Nicol, '43, is at Auburn, Alabama. "Bob" was business manager of the Voice until his induction in December. He writes—I have been here at Auburn University for almost three weeks being classified as part of the Army Specialized Training Program. API has a beautiful campus and the people are very friendly. It normally has an enrollment of 5000, and the city of Auburn is a typical college town with a population of 7,000.

"The faculty of API's education department has put us through an extensive testing program before classifying us. I was approved for basic engineering, but declined the offer. I would have been sent to Georgia Tech. for the course. To complete the course would take some 18 months, and I decided that I would rather be with the troops. My declining the offer does not make it final, so I am awaiting final decision from the Sixth Service Command Headquarters. I hope to be leaving here very soon.

SLANTS
By JOCH

Now that the lawns are green, the trees are beginning to foliate, one can't help but admire the beauties of our campus. It's a perfect setting for wiener roasts and picnics, if only there were an outdoor fireplace situated among the trees in the south-east corner of the campus. Such a fireplace could easily be built from quarried limestone and would cost very little. We know that if such a picnic spot were available, organizations and private student groups would make good use of it—especially during the spring and the crisp autumn weeks. Then too, summer-school students would find ample opportunity to use facilities if they were available.

Throughout the school-year we have been observing with much interest the various activities promoted on our campus, and we haven't been able to help but note those individuals who have been outstanding in the performance of their extra-curricular duties. With your permission, we humbly submit our nominees for "students-of-the-year:" Sherman Frinak and Rita Salmon, who have assumed the major share of the responsibility of maintaining the service flag and who have cheerfully donated many hours of actual work on the flag; Peter Skroch and his co-workers, who regardless of war time difficulties staged the finest homecoming celebration in years; Edward Greschner for his untiring efforts as War Council chairman; Wayne Baird, who as Party Committee chairman was responsible for an excellent social program; Willard Jacobson, whose direction made the Winter Carnival a complete success; Bob Thayer, who as president of the junior class put on a prom the likes of which most people thought was impossible in war-time Dawn Wheeler, who has devoted so much of her time to making the Meletean a success; and to Carol Whitaker, Calvin Larson, Margery Ericson, who have worked hard and faithfully in the face of war-time difficulties to make the Student Voice a paper of which to be proud.

This last week of school is so crowded with last-minute social events that one finds it difficult to review adequately for final examinations unless he deliberately turns his back on the pleasures that invite him. However, the real student will stick to his books to the very end and will keep social events at a minimum. The whole idea of crowding these last-minute parties and picnics into the last week is fundamentally wrong, especially when one puts these events before all else in rank of importance. The social end of college life should always be of secondary importance, and any distortion of this relationship is not sound.

The time has flown by so swiftly that we are at the end of another school-year without realizing it. As we reflect back over the happenings of the year, we appreciate more and more the advantages offered to us here at River Falls. Truly it has been a happy year, and we only wish that all our friends might be back on the campus again next year. Writing SLANTS has been thoroughly enjoyable, and we hope that you have found some degree of enjoyment in reading it. We have tried to avoid being trite or unfair; and if in that we have succeeded, we are contented.

The Childe Frankenstein

BOB BOSCH
The Frankensteins once had a son,
He was their pride and joy.
When sonny frightened Nursie, Mama,
Said, "He's Papa's boy!"

Well, son grew up, a charming youth.
He murdered dear Aunt Sue.
He strangled Aunt Ophelia.
And poisoned Mother, too.

As Mother lay there dying,
Pa consoled her with this line:
"He may not be a good boy—but He's a dandy Frankenstein!"

Mail Will Be The Little God Next Year

What will RFSTC be like a year from now?
Perhaps mail will be greeted as enthusiastically as male—what makes me talk so loose-like? Perhaps the cafeteria will have an all girl staff—fewer dishes broken! Perhaps girl wrestlers will dominate college athletic interests. Perhaps the wondrous beauty of our "down creek" will be really appreciated—from the biological viewpoint. Perhaps with no boys around girls will no longer need that evening "coke". Perhaps the Post Office (now let's not be childish!) will be doing a "bang-up" business. Perhaps there'll be another vitamin to give us "deficiency tremors" Perhaps the girls will be in some sort of Reserve. But let's hope that this ——— war is over and life at RFSTC will be humming as usual. Perhaps! !

The Greeks Had The Idea

LOS ANGELES—(ACP)—The Greeks had an idea about paying enlisted men which does not jibe with Uncle Sam's, according to Dr. Arthur P. McKinlay, professor of Latin, emeritus, at the University of California.

"The Athenians paid their sailors nine cents a day, not through a lack of money but for fear some of them would injure their health by spending their money on things which bring on sickness." So spoke Alcibiades the general, 410 B. C., in Thucydides, VIII, section 45, Dr. McKinlay reminds.

"As for our own well-being and fighting powers," said Dr. McKinlay, "I would take a large percentage of the gross receipts from the sale of tobacco, wine, beer, whiskey and cokes and put it into a reserve fund to take care of the wastage of these businesses."

What I've Learned This Year
A Freshman---

When I enrolled in this institution last fall, I never thought that I would see the day when I would be given the opportunity to make public my discoveries and experiences of my freshman year in college. It seems as if that is what I am asked to do now, and if some of this should reflect upon a few of you people, (profs included) remember it is through no fault of mine.

I suppose we could start off with the academic part of my year, but I'm afraid that wouldn't prove very satisfactory or complementary to yours truly. I will say that my grade average is too close to the 100 per cent for comfort (I'm sure that I'm not alone.).

Now you ask, "What other part is here to the matter if it isn't academic?" Well you might call it social affairs or just "getting around." I have learned by the process of elimination, just where the softest sofa in town is located and where the most desired girl is to go with it. I feel this is quite an accomplishment in itself and feel that my money and time were well spent. I also possess the knowledge of knowing the shortest and quickest way to get to the Kandy Kitchen from my 3:00 class. Fortunately, that is a military secret and cannot be revealed.

How to get marks without studying!! Aha!! I knew that would get you.—I've found that if you go to class (at least once a week) and take a few notes, you won't have to worry about getting marks. Don't bother to "crack" a book because you will have everything necessary in your notes. As I have said before I haven't been very successful along this line, but I'm still trying. I'm working on a new idea now and if it meets my expectations, I'll let you all in on it next year.

Never again will I take a two hour course under the impression that I'll get a "snap" credit. Those "fish" courses have more work connected to them than can be put out. I quote Poe's "Raven", "Never more."

The upper classmen in this school have been perfectly swell. There isn't such a thing as class superiority among the students. We freshman of 1942-43 have appreciated this in more ways than one.

In conclusion I would like to say that anyone who leaves his perfectly good home and comes to college with the idea that he is really going to "cut loose" "raise Cain", should go back to high school for a while yet. It just isn't being done and can't be done. I know!

Heres to the rest of you freshman who have lived and learned. See you next year!!!

1942-43 As We Saw It

Well, another year of that long hard, hard grind in school is just about finished. Last fall, and every fall as we come back to college, it seems like there's a mighty long year of hard work ahead of us. And many times during the year we spend hours and hours in cussing and discussing our studies.

But now that the year is over it doesn't seem to have been so bad after all. Some of us—especially those who are now in the armed services—might even wish we could begin the year all over again. After all, most of us haven't worked so very hard, and we've had a lot of fun.

During this last week of school we'll begin to think of the fun we've had and of the acquaintances—judging by appearances, I guess you could call some of them more than acquaintances—we have made in the last year. Why even the "profs" haven't been so awfully bad.

When the Meleteans come out, we'll be sitting on the steps, cluttering up the halls, and obstructing "traffic" in general, as we write little "sweet nothings" to each other. Then we'll begin to realize that many of us will never see each other again. We'll also think of all the fun we had here at "good old RFSTC".

Ere They Leave Us

I don't know why it is, but you just can't pin the chillun' in this school down to anything definite. To be specific—I was curious to know what the male element is going to do between now and the time they go into the service. Very naively, I imagined they would mention spending their time at home entertaining their folks, working, or adding to their education in equally constructive ways, but these are some of the answers I got:

Hugh McCardle: First of all, I'm going to fix the family boat so they'll be safe while I'm away, (Hugh lives in Spring Valley, you know!) I'll spend the remaining days in the store. The nights will most likely be fully occupied!

Ruby Meehan: Polish my shoes so I can pass inspection. If I have time, I'll wind up a few extra-curricular activities, and keep the store running. I'm going to catch up on my correspondence-course lessons, so I'll know something about the Marines. Then I'm going to have as good a time as rationing will permit.

Les Dyer: I'm going to spend a little time at home, and quite a little here in River Falls. In other words, I'm just going to give 'er h - - ! ! !

Lloyd "Curly" Larson: Censored ! ! !

Bob Thayer: I am planning on working and seeing the sights of the big city of White-water.

Frannie Ptacek: I am going to attend the first summer session, at least until July 1, 1943.

Ken Poppy: I am going home and go fishing and - - - for a week, with a fellow from Marquette University.

More power to you, fellows ! ! !

Those extra-curricular courses in "astronomy", and other such pastimes will be especially vivid in our memories.

I guess I better quit though, or I'll be getting too philosophical, and anyway I have to be getting ready for that date! But before I sign off I'd like to offer one last piece of advice: eat, "drink," and be merry for tomorrow you may be really working—but don't neglect those exams altogether.

Falcons Take Three More To Make Season A Success

Manionmen Trounce Bluejays Twice, 6-3 and 10-6

River Falls took both ends of a doubleheader from Eau Claire last Friday, May 14, by scores of 6-3 and 10-6. This gives the Red and White a clean sweep for the year's competition with the Bluejays: one football game (15-7); two basket ball games (42-39 and 48-40), and three baseball games (the first one, 7-6).

In the first game the Falcons built up a 6-0 lead at the end of three innings, and Ken Poppy held Eau Claire scoreless until the sixth. Ken allowed only seven hits and came through with a two-run round trip blow in the second inning. Storzer got a triple in the first inning. Melberg celebrated his return to the starting lineup with a single and a double.

Coach Manion started his second team in the second game, and the boys did all right for themselves. Joe Ott hung up a sensational record in this game. Coming into the game in the second inning, Joe struck out four men in his first inning (one man getting on base on an error). He struck out eight of the first nine men to face him and got eleven strikeouts in the six innings he toiled. The Falcons had a 5-3 lead in the fifth inning, when the defense fell apart. Four errors gave Eau Claire four unearned runs. The highlight of the contest was a homerun by Lee Dosch in the sixth inning with the score tied 6-6 at the time. The Falcons got their ten runs on seven hits. The boxscores:

Falcons Top Concordia 4-1

The Falcons continued to play fine ball as they defeated Concordia J. C. Wednesday afternoon, 4-1, at Ramer Field. Stan Martinson pitched but got into trouble in the fifth inning. Ken Poppy received him and went the rest of the way allowing only two hits and no runs. Poppy also got two walks and scored a run to aid his cause. The Falcons finally got more hits than runs in one contest however, they didn't waste many-getting six run in the first inning and threatened only once after that. Martinson and Storzer each got two hits. The box score:

Falcon Netmen Lose

Concordia defeated River Falls again, 4-1 on the home courts Monday afternoon. Andrea defeated the number one man, Greenun by the score 6-1, 8-10, 6-3. Gutzler put up a good fight before going down 6-1, 4-6, 7-5. The other matches were close, too. Vine, Doolittle and Pirus were other members of the team.

ASK THE SOLDIER IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC

"BOY, THE HEAT AND WORK DOWN HERE ARE SOMETHIN', AREN'T THEY?"

"WHAT LUCK... COKE! IT'S GOOD FOR THE OLD MORALE."

"That's based on a real letter. 'Gimme a Coca-Cola' is the watchword for refreshment with every branch of the service. It's the soldier's buy-word wherever they gather...and they get together where they can get Coca-Cola. Distinctive, delicious taste. Quality you can count on. Thirst-satisfaction plus refreshment. Any way you look at it,—the only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself."

Graduation Festivities Culminate

(Continued from page one) represent the class 1893, Ed. Rock, '18, Dagmar Pederson Frye, '38, Leonard Madison, '31, Kenneth Afdahl, '43. Eva Cole Hass, class 18, will be the toastmistress. Remarks will be made by President J. H. Ames and Regent James A. Richards. The welcome to the Alumni association to be extended to the graduates will be responded to by Kenneth Afdahl.

The musical numbers of the program will include a flute-violin-piano ensemble by Norma Howe, Dawn Wheeler, and Muriel Pearson; Marjorie Dahlquist will sing a duet, and a piano solo will be played by Dorothy Nelson.

Professor J. P. Jacobson has made the arrangements for the dinner, with the assistance of Mrs. Margaret C. Eide.

The officers of the senior class are Kenneth Afdahl, president; Raymond Hoeft, vice-president; Mary Catherine O'Connell, secretary; and Margaret Stronks, treasurer. Their adviser, Mrs. Eide.

FFA Ends Year With Picnic

Last May 11, the FFA organization held its annual FFA picnic at Glen Park. A business meeting was held at which the next years officers were elected. These officers will very likely not serve in their respective posts, but it was necessary that we elect these officers so that they may form the nucleus of the postwar reorganization of the FFA. The newly elected officers were: President, Bob Thayer Vice Pres., Donald Qualmann; Secretary, Hugo De Jong; Treasure, Eddie Greschner; Reporter, Wally Merlberg; watch dog, George Webb. An excellent meal was prepared and served by the quartermaster committee consisting of "Ham" Smith and Frank Reynolds.

After the business meeting a ball game was held, seniors versus underclassmen. The results were unfavorable. Mr. May acted as umpire, but unfortunately was called away after the third inning.

The FFA boys wish to thank Mr. May for all his help and guidance which he has given us during the past years.

Voice Of College Greets Our Men

(Continued from page one) "Just prior to my coming to Auburn, my company spent four days on bivouac. We got pretty tired before it was over, but I enjoyed myself very much. Everything was supposed to simulate war conditions—each man having a fox hole dug beside his tent, eating breakfast and supper in darkness, and washing and shaving in a nearby creek.

"Since I arrived in Auburn I have really taken life easy. We are quartered in a rather new women's dormitory and have a beautiful dining room for a mess hall—and a lovely red-haired female mess sergeant. I have seen several track meets and baseball games, which keeps the place from becoming boring . . .

"My basic training ended three weeks ago, and now I am beginning to receive letters from men who trained in the same company as I did. . .

"I would guess that my class will be graduating in the very near future. I surely wish I could be in River Falls for the occasion, but this is war. At least I will be thinking of the old class as they get their sheepskins."

Cpl. Howard Hull who graduated from the agriculture department last year tells what he has been doing this past year.

"Just a note in appreciation for the Voice which I have been receiving so consistently. It all brings back pleasant memories—and don't think I wouldn't like to be back there.

"As for me—I have traveled much during my ten, and half months in the service. Nearly all of this time was spent in schools—some civilian. The entire winter was spent at Camp Murphy, Florida, located several miles from Palm Beach. However, just recently I have been transferred (to Robins Field, Georgia.)

My work deals with that of Airborne radio—truly an interesting job. At present I'm working in the industrial area located several miles out of camp.

"Happened to run across one of the good old River Falls grads sometime ago—Jack Osborne. He was at Daytona Beach—several thousand WAACS are stationed there. For the life of me I can't see what Jack was doing there!"

Sgt. Apolinary Karasch '41 thanks those who make it possible to send the Voice to the boys and greets the faculty and students.

" . . . Only one in the service can tell you how much that paper means to them. Regardless of how busy I am, when the Voice comes in everything else has to wait until I finish glancing over the paper first. I realize the burden put on those who make the paper possible and once again, thank you.

"Since receiving the last Voice, I have been transferred from my former station—Columbus, Mississippi.

I'm now enrolled in the Army Finance School here at Wake Forest College, N. C. The course is 13 weeks consisting of military and finance training. There are three groups in school, each group consisting of approximately 325 men from all parts of the United States. All of them have had some grand experiences since being in the army, but we don't have much time to share them with each other. Our day begins at five fifteen in the morning and we have continuous classes until at night. Quite a day! We are under the super-

High School Grads Exam.

Final Examination
Question: What should I do upon graduation from high school?

Answer: If a young man, Uncle Sam probably has answered that for you. However, if you are under 18 and normally would expect to go to college, you could start your college work and complete a year, more or less, before leaving for the service. This might give you an advantage in the armed services.

If you are a young woman, you should consider teaching. Never have we been faced with such a teacher shortage as we have now. Your principal could advise you on this point.

Question: What are the advantages of teaching?

Answer: Preparation for it gives you a broad background of great value whether you teach for a life time or not. It is a profession that will always be here. Salaries are good—beginning teachers are starting at salaries from $125 to $165 a month. Promotion is fast.

Question: How long does it take to prepare for teaching?

Answer: For rural teaching, one year and one eleven week summer session; elementary, the same if the need is great; high school, two years and two summer sessions. This assumes that you do creditable work.

Question: Do I have to accelerate my program and go to summer schools?

Answer: No You can finish in the middle of the year without so doing, and you can reasonably expect to get a position.

Question: How long is the teacher shortage likely to last?

Answer: As long as the war lasts plus a few years afterward.

Question: When could I start?

Answer: Summer school starts June 1, the academic year September 13. For further information address the Summer Session Committee, State Teachers College, River Falls, Wisconsin.

vision of the Army Finance Officers Candidate school located at Duke University in Durham, which is approximately twenty miles from here. The course had formerly been nine months in length, and now it has been cut down to three.

"Wake Forest College is a private institution—Baptist which has been taken over by the army. The campus is very beautiful. The soldiers occupy all the dormitories and the gym which is a huge place. The enrollment of the college is very small—the reason being obvious."

ERC Men Receive Calls

A new group of ERC men have gotten their calls to service, and will be on active duty after June 3, 1943. The men are:

- Bernard Bagon
- Roman Bagan
- Colburn Brooke
- Hugo DeJong
- Gerald Drehmel
- Donald Graham
- Edward Greschner
- Philip Gutzler
- Roscoe Huber
- Elroy Jensen
- William Kirsch
- Allen Linster
- Vingil Martinson
- Hugh McCardle
- Wallace Mehlberg
- Le Moyne Olson
- Marshall Olson
- Raymond Polzin
- Kenneth Rasmussen
- Herman Smith
- James Sparr
- Ralph Thompson
- Gordon Vine
- George Webb
- Howard Webster
- Vernon Zignego

Final Plans For Summer Session are Complete

Under the pressure of the shortage of teachers, plans have now been made for the eleven week summer session running from June 1 to August 12. The session is divided into a six and a five week term and enables a student to earn one quarter of college credit.

Registration will be held in the gymnasium on June 1. Classes will start Tuesday morning at 8.

The state fees will be $10 for the first session and $5 for the second term.

During both sessions classes will be offered in the divisions of rural, elementary, and secondary education. All the departments will function as in the regular year. The training school will run for the first session and and practice teaching may be taken by those qualified.

In order that former teachers who plan to enter the profession again may have an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the subject matter and the method of teaching, a "refresher" course has been organized. Review classes are offered from 8 to 10 A. M. and the remainder of the morning may be spent observing and practice teaching in the various levels of the training school. This work may be taken for three or six weeks.

Teachers in the rural schools have an opportunity to prepare units for next year in the rural work shop. Elementary teachers have the same opportunity in the elementary work shop.

Visiting faculty are Miss Blanche Sias who will guide the rural work shop; Mrs. Margaret Parker of the Price County Normal who will aid in the "refresher" program; Miss Pfitzner who will continue teaching instrumental music; and several University of Minnesota staff members who will lecture in the course on public and professional affairs.

Honor Society Elects Officers

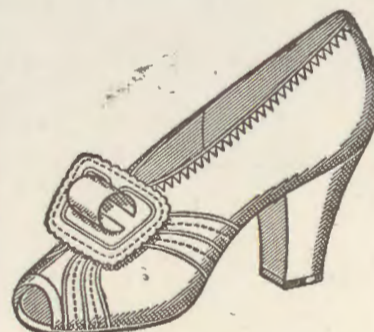

The Honor Society's last meeting of the year was a picnic held on the afternoon of Thursday, May 7, on the South Hall campus. The election of new members was held. John Prucha was elected president, Louise Melby, vice-president, and Elizabeth Sampson, secretary-treasurer. In spite of the scarcity of members, the Honor Society plans to carry on next year as usual.

NOTICE

All textbooks are due in the textbook library immediately after each examination. All records must be clear before students leave school.

The textbook library will be open beginning Wednesday, May 19 from 7:50—12:00, 1:15—5:00 daily. Mary Bradley

Keeping very busy this spring with all of his speeches at functions in the community is Dr. Wyman who will speak on June 2 to the Pierce County Rural School Graduates. On May 31, he will give the Memorial Day Address at River Falls.

Old Rivals Meet; Falcons Lead 14 to 10 Games Won

The annual Falcon-Yellow Jacket grid encounter has been a long standing institution in the western conference. A spirit of friendly rivalry exists between the school with each team hoping to win that game more than any other of the season.

Statistics prove that through the years River Falls has had a slight edge over the northern neighbors. In the recent campaigns between these eleven River Falls has won 14, lost 10, and tied 3. Moreover the red and white aggregations have totaled 336 points to their opponent's 179 in these tilts.

Teachers College on Saturday, November 14, will be of unusual interest to all rural and elementary teachers and students.

The conference will feature several prominent speakers and lecturers, among them Miss Gertie Hanson, Director of the Radio Workshop at the Stevens Point State Teacher's College.

A complete program of the Educational Conference Day will appear in a future edition of the Student Voice.

Last year's Falcons took a hard fought 20-0 game in Superior Gate's Stadium, but the contest was not as one-sided as the score would appear.

The River Falls points came from line plunges by B. Boettcher and Mraz and a pass from Ott to Schmidt. Schmidt converted twice. Although Superior threatened several times the River Falls line tightened and held off the invading horde. An intercepted pass by Trecker set the stage for the final tally. In this game the Falcons turned in one of their most brilliant performances of the season.

The Falls-Superior games have been as follows:

1912	River Falls 0—Superior 0
1913	River Falls 0—Superior 39
1914	River Falls 14—Superior 0
1915	River Falls 61—Superior 0

"How about a Coke date?"

"We've been 'goin' steady' a long time, you and I. You see, I'm a symbol of the life and sparkle of Coca-Cola. Therefore, I speak for Coke. I like your company. I offer something more than a thirst-quenching drink. It's refreshing. Yes sree...it's got that extra something you can't get this side of Coca-Cola itself. Let's get together. Make it a Coke date."

Churches Attract Alumni

Welcoming the alumni is the key note of activities of the church groups this week-end.

A tea will be served at the Methodist church after the football game Saturday for both the old and new members of the Wesley League. This is to be considered as an open house for the alumni who will be here for homecoming.

The Lutheran students are planning a dinner on Saturday as a means of welcoming the "grads" back to the LSA. All of the Lutheran students are invited to come to this meal, which will be served at five o'clock. Tickets, which are 25 cents are being sold on the campus by the group leaders.

Math Sharks Plan Program

Plans were made for the social events of the year by the Math Club members at their last meeting, and Merle Michaelson, president of the organization, also outlined the year's work.

It was decided that the social events were to consist of a Christmas party and a picnic.

After a short business meeting games were played for the rest of the evening. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Margaret Eide, faculty adviser.

Faculty Women and Fresh Mingle at Social Tea

Freshmen girls met and talked with women members of the college faculty at a tea given for them by the Women's Faculty Club Tuesday afternoon.

The women in the receiving line were officers of the club: Mrs. John May, president, Mrs. Theodore Setterquist, vices-president, Miss Vera Moss, treasurer and Miss Mable Arbutnot, secretary. Introductions were facilitated by the use of name tags.

Mrs. J. H. Ames and Mrs. R. A. Karges poured at a table attractively set and decorated with juniper branches and brightly colored fruit.

This tea was the first of its kind and was very successful in that nearly all the freshmen women and faculty members were present and found the opportunity to meet each other very pleasant.

Dr. Wyman Acquaints YM With World Changes

The main feature of the YMCA's first meeting on Wednesday, October 7, was a speech by Dr. Walker Wyman who talked about the war and about the changes which are taking place in the world at this time. Another excellent feature of the program was Bob Kulstad and his trombone quartet. In addition to the program new members were also initiated.

On Wednesday evening, October 14, the second meeting of the YMCA was held with Reverend J. W. Harris as guest speaker.

Students Urged to Hear Reverend Whitehouse

Rev Norman Whitehouse who for the past three years has been Director of Religious Education of the First Presbyterian Church of Evanston, Illinois, will speak at 10 A. M. Sunday October 25 at the Congregational Church. He is especially well qualified to talk to young people and has taken as his subject "A Faith For Times Like These." College students are particularly invited to hear this timely message.
