Zorn Is Elected Pi Kappa Delta Chapter Head

Honorary Forensic Fraternity First Greek Letter Group For Local Campus

Election of officers for a chapter of Pi Kappa Delta which is being organized on this campus was held Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 in the history lecture room.

The president of the local group for the next year is Roman Zorn. The vice-president is Rolf Ordal, and the secretary-treasurer is Marion Hawkins. Werner Gleiter was selected as corresponding secretary.

The local organization, which is officially the Wisconsin Delta chapter of a nationally prominent forensic fraternity, is the first Greek letter group to organize on the local campus. It is also the fourth chapter of Pi Kappa Delta to be granted to a Wisconsin college. Other chapters in the state are located at Ripon college, Carroll College, and Oshkosh Teachers College.

The seven active charter members of the fraternity will be: Daniel Dykstra, Roman Zorn, Rolf Ordal, Loell Larson, Werner Gleiter, Joan Smith, and Marion Hawkins. President Ames and Doctor Justin Williams will probably become honorary members. Dr. W. D. Wyman, who is already a member, will have his membership transferred to the local chapter.

Installation ceremonies for the local chapter are tentatively scheduled for the week of May 20. The installation ritual will probably be presided over by Professor Owen P. McElmeel of St. Thomas College, who is Province Governor of the Upper Mississippi area.

"Poor Old Jim" Is Given At Community Club at Hudson

The play "Poor Old Jim" given by the Masquers for an assembly program last fall was presented at the Prairie Lawn Community meeting near Hudson Friday night.

Miss Rhoda Hawn accompanied the group to the community where she gave the reading, "Snoozer".

Those making the trip were Elizabeth Mason, Robert Stewart, Lois Raud, Francis Haugh, and Rhoda Hawn.

Wharton Gives Music Program

Young Pupils Give Recital For National Music Week On Coming Friday Night

A musical program will be given by a number of pupils of Miss Cara Wharton Friday evening, May 8, in the college auditorium. Since this is National Music Week, it is an appropriate time for a musical evening.

There will be no charge for admission to this program to which everyone is invited. The following program will be presented:

Duet, "Blue Danube Waltzes" by Strauss-Chasins—Mary Jane Larson and Miss Wharton

Solo, "Sur la Glace a Sweet Briar" by Drawford—Mary Jean Ramer

Solo, Rubenstein's "Melody in F"—Katherine Kurtz

"A Friendly Agreement" and "The Dutch Boy's Accident" by Blake—Norman Helgeson

"To a River", Alice Grubb accompanied by Norman Helgeson

"The Frolicsome Lamb", "Little Blue Forget-Me-Not", "The Fireman, the Pony and Cart", "The Runaway Kite", "Little Snowflake", and "In the Old Swing", solos by Alice Grubb

"The Robin and Spring", by Alice and Norman

"The Three Little Kittens", a duet by Alice and Miss Wharton

"The Soldier's March" by Schumann and "Waltz of the Star Performer" Richard Freeman

"The Sicilian Mariner" and "Minuet" by Mozart and "The Hurdy-Gurdy" Betty Jean Pratt

"The Flower Day" by Gaynor—Betty Jean Pratt

"Sparklets" by Miles—Patricia Milbrath

"Daddy's Little Baby Boy", Mary Jean Ramer

Rachmanninoff's "Prelude in C minor"—Shirley Mueller

Solo by Carolyn Goble

"To Spring" by Grieg—Joyce Chapman

Duet, Shirley Mueller and Miss Wharton

Grieg's "Norwegian Bridal Procession"—Ida Frank

"First Movement of Concerto in A minor" by Schumann. Mary Jane Larson with Miss Wharton at second piano.

Y.M.-Y.W. Will Hold Conference

Lake Independence Conference Scheduled for May 15-17; Plans Are Underway

The annual YWCA and YMCA conference which is held at Camp Ihduhapi, Lake Independence, Minnesota, will be held the week-end of May 15-17. This conference was discussed at the meeting of the YWCA last Monday night.

Emma Lou Tubbs, one of the twenty students who represented River Falls at this conference last year, spoke on the subject "Independence Last Year." Joan Smith gave a talk on "Independence This Year", in which she told what speakers are expected to be present at the meeting and what activities will occupy the week-end.

The purpose of this conference is to bring together student and faculty leaders of the student associations of Minnesota and Northwestern Wisconsin. Students attending will have an opportunity to discuss the duties of their respective offices and the best methods of conducting them.

The following program was also presented at this meeting of the YWCA: piano solo, Gladys Schultz; humorous declamation, Mary Anderson of the River Falls high school; vocal solo, Gertrude Peterson, and a reading by Ruth Phillips.

Monte Carlo Setting Is Used for Prom on May 16

The Social Committee, headed by chairman Kenneth Wallin, is busy making the arrangements for the annual spring promenade which will be held Saturday, May 16.

"A Night in Monte Carlo" will be the theme of this prom. In the receiving line will be Hope Sandow, Kenneth Wallin, Marion Williamson, Stuart Larson, Dr. and Mrs. Justin Williams, and President and Mrs. J. H. Ames.

The music for this event will be furnished by Ernie Palmquist's orchestra from Green Bay. Mr. Palmquist is the composer of "The Music Goes 'Round and Around."

"College today is something like a chain drug store which in spite of the many incursions into other merchandising fields continues to sell a few drugs." Albert Britt, president of Knox College, Illinois, drops a word of criticism.

Symposium On Current Trends Will Be Offered

LaFollette, Hull, Hill, Babrick Will Be Among the Guest Speakers at Meetings

A new course, called a "Symposium on Current Economic and Political Trends," will be added to the curriculum during the summer session this year.

"The purpose of the course", said Dr. Justin Williams, chairman of the curriculum, "is to throw light on the focal points of world interest including Europe, the Far East, and the United States."

In conducting this course the staff of the history department will be supplemented by other faculty members and several prominent outside speakers.

The speakers who have been invited include the following well-known men:

- Governor Phillip La Follette
- Congressman Merlin Hull
- President J. D. Hill of Superior
- Major-General Peter Bobrick, a Pro-Bolshevik of Russia
- Prof. A. R. Upgren of Minnesota
- Prof. Edgar Wesley of Minnesota
- Prof. E. B. Schmidt of Minnesota
- Dr. No-Yung, Chinese Assistant Federal Reserve Agent
- O. S. Powell of the Federal Reserve Bank

Most of these people have accepted, and the committee plans to invite other speakers later.

Professors Stratton and May and Doctors Williams, Wyman and Owens are among the faculty members who will speak.

This class will meet four days a week for two hours credit. It will be open to everybody.

Members of G. O. P. Are Entertained by Miss Greene

Miss Alberta Greene, faculty adviser for the G.O.P., entertained the members of that organization at an informal dinner at her home Friday evening, May 1, at 6 o'clock.

About twenty members were present at the dinner.

Dr. Wyman will deliver a commencement address at Milltown, Wisconsin, on Friday, May 22. The title of his speech will be "Must America Choose".

Y Cabinets Are Planning Picnic

Y.M. Will Entertain Y.W. With Picnic Supper on Mound Next Monday Night

Members of the YMCA cabinet will act as hosts at a YM-YW picnic supper on the "Mound" Monday evening, May 11. The groups will start from the campus at 5:30 o'clock.

The committee supervising arrangements includes LeRoy Brown, Robert Johnson, Vaughn Smith, and Russell Gettinger. Howard Elliott, Leonard Hermanson and LeRoy Brown compose the program committee.

The committee planning the refreshments for the supper includes Professor J. P. Jacobson, Lloyd Wilson, Everett Compton, John Christianson and Edwin Baker.

Musicians to Entertain Assembly

Mary Krakowski, soprano and Magdalen Massmann, pianist, will entertain the student body and faculty at the regular assembly Thursday, May 7, at 9:50.

The program will be presented by these musical artists who were originally scheduled for March 12. The postponement was necessary because the snow storm made roads impassable.

"More destructive than constructive" is the practice of working through college, says President Conant of Harvard.

Hail New Plan to Revise Universe

The seeds of a bright idea in the fertile minds of some eastern university students bore strange fruit in the shape of an organized movement for "Veterans of Future Wars" and "Gold Star Mothers." Now after all the hullabaloo has quieted, one might venture to say that just because farmers no longer get paid for not planting potatoes is no reason why we shouldn't pay these unburied not-mothers for the sons they can't have on account of having lost them in the future wars.

But more seriously, this idea of paying off the soldiers before the battles are fought isn't a bad idea at all and should do much to bring about world peace. Wars are just like automobiles and anything else. Just because you can have a car now and pay for it later, the streets are covered with them. But if we had to pay for the darn things in advance, there wouldn't be more than two dozen in the city. We're all willing to have a spree today if we don't have to pay the fiddler until tomorrow. If things could only be arranged so we'd have to go through all the agonies of the hangover first, then no one would ever go on a spree.

As a matter of fact, I'd like to get in touch with the powers-that-be and have them revise the whole universe on that plan. I mean, a sort of a pay as you enter proposition. If all those who wanted to be bad could be forced to spend the better part of 14 eons in blue-blazes first, then the whole world would be an operating Sunday school. It's a great idea and we'll have to get together and have it passed by congress—after I've had my spree.

Chronic Cases of Pessimism Persist

Now, at last, she has come! After months of complaints, howls, cries, etc. Many there are who after long and thoughtful meditation under a moon, had come to the conclusion that never again would she visit our fair region.

Pessimists, you say. No, my friends, only optimists trying to make the best of a doleful situation. They were only trying to steel themselves against the terrible fate that was ever to be in store for them. From now on they were ever to walk in the dark, never to dream again with high hopes and pace again beside a crystal brook with the song of wind in their ears and love in their hearts, 'cause Spring would never come and without it love could never thrive.

And now we say again, have heart my laddies, with the dawning of this day she has folded her wings and settled down upon us to the tune of a mere 75 degrees.

We thought that now the world would again be a happy place and everyone would sing just like the birdies sing, but not on your life.

From every corner come a thousand and one complaints.

"I could hardly keep awake in that class all winter. What in the name of heaven am I going to do now?"

"I think it's just too mean to have weather like this when the profs make us slave from noon till night. If it had stayed cold I wouldn't have felt half so bad."

And the most woeful lament of all, "How can I appreciate this weather all by myself?"

For ourselves, we've decided to stick to our knitting and ignore the weather.

No State Will Stand Forever

"The state we save created" Hitler states positively to his Nazi followers, "will last for all time."

Maybe so - but probably not. In this so very imperfect, woeful world, the only unchangeable thing is change itself. Nothing is quite so certain as the fact that what exists today will most likely be gone tomorrow. Since time immemorial, men have vainly sought to construct something, a system or a building or a monument that would last forever. None has ever really succeeded; it is doubtful that anyone ever will.

It would be indeed tragic if it were possible for humans to fashion something that withstands the ravages of time for all eternity. There would be the end of progress. There is progress because nature inexorably tears down man's creations. Consequently it is always necessary to be building constantly. From the old mistakes, man learns how to build better.

If the first mud hut man ever built had been imperishable, there would be no comfortable homes today. If the crude governments man had devised had proven to be indestructible, democracy would have been unknown in modern times.

It follows then, that Hitlerism will merely be a footnote in the history books of the future (if they still have them).

Doctrine of Work Is Obsolete

Until very recent times the gospel of work was glorified, both in song and in deed. Those who believed in the Christian religion were among the greatest devotees of the doctrine of work, considering the ability to labor a blessing of mankind. Calvin Coolidge said: "To provide for the economic well-being of our inhabitants, only three attributes, which are not beyond the reach of the average person, are necessary—honesty, industry, and thrift."

It sounds easy. But does such doctrine hold true in the world today? The cause of the present depression is said to be overproduction. Yet overproduction was brought on by America's earnest belief in the doctrine of work. Pioneers who crossed the plains to make their homes in the West set out with the idea of conquering and bending nature to their wills. After that was accomplished, and the greatest hazards of material living overcome, the more energetic men turned to other pursuits. They worked because they thought some day it would make them rich. To accumulate wealth was the incentive for labor.

Today students are no longer taught that "honesty, industry, and thrift" will one day make them rich. Labor and production, if controlled, will provide great benefits. But to end this depression there will have to be control—and with control will go the old gospel of work—and in its place a new philosophy of living and working.—Los Angeles Junior Collegian.

Psychologist Invents 'Notescrip'

A new system of shorthand and typing, founded on what psychologists call "kinesthetic perception", has just been invented by Dr. J. Edgar Coover, psychology professor at Stanford university. The shorthand, written on the principle of dots for consonants and dashes for vowels, is to be called "Notescrip". It is not as short as the present Gregg and Pittman shorthands, but tests have shown it to be easy to transcribe directly from the code. The new system of typing is learned through position rather than sight and touch. Each finger must learn its different key position before the student touches a typewriter.—Junior Collegian.

Campus Chatter

We understand that all the English Methods students are suffering from writers cramp. It seems that it is the fourth lengthly outline. Don't you suppose we should see the humane society about it?

The roll call in the senior college courses sounds like the morning after the battle of the Marne. All these seniors are out trying to make some school board see things their way.

The other day a professor asked his class why that particular class was being taught in school. What a question to ask a bunch of sophomores when some seniors have been pondering that question for several years.

Well, now that spring is here white pants will break out like a rash and soon twosomes, foursomes, and those unwanted threesomes will be wandering hither and yon over our fair campus. And by the way is it not about time to be hearing the old one about the "peaches, pairs, and nuts?"

The time of year has arrived when poetry? begins to flow spontaneously from the pens of at other times uninspired young men.

During the rain storm last Thursday afternoon one of the occupants of the library suddenly stopped---- talking---- and dashed off the following gem.

Rain, rain, beautiful rain,
You cover everything
Wetly;
And then you go
Right down the drain
And soon get all
Pollutely.

Falcons Downed By Gopher Nine

M. Erickson Fans Nine Men; Gophers Score on Falcons' Numerous Misplays

Playing ragged baseball, the River Fall Falcons were defeated by the University of Minnesota, last year's Big Ten champions, at Minneapolis Tuesday 14 to 3.

River Falls counted first in the sixth inning when Seidel was safe on a fielder's choice, then scored on Johnson's hard line-drive which went through center field for three bases. Two more runs were added in the ninth by Stenback and Johnson.

Minnesota combined hits and River Falls errors to score nine runs in the sixth inning, which featured a home run by LeVoi. High wind and apparent stage-fright are blamed for the twelve River Falls errors, while the Gophers were charged with four misplays.

Mel Erickson struck out nine Minnesota batters, and Blank added one more to the list. Only four River Falls batters were retired by the strike-out route.

Iowa State Teachers College will meet River Falls here Friday and Saturday of this week.

Badminton Final Matches Are Scheduled for Tonight

In the "Battle of the Century" tonight in North Hall gym the final match of the W. A. A. badminton doubles tournament will be played. Dr. Karges and Audrey Jane Barrett will battle for the championship against the team composed of Vaughn Smith and Lucile Creswell.

This game will be open to the public, and an admission charge of ten cents will be made.

Last Wednesday Dr. Karges and Miss Barrett won the semi-final match with Miss Vera Moss and Mr. E. J. Prucha, thus becoming eligible to compete in the finals. Fourteen couples entered in this badminton tournament for the first matches.

All persons interested in entering a golf tournament with an all-college entry are asked to see Ted Setterquist, who is arranging the tourney.

Kibitzer's Korner By LOUIE

FROM all the favorable comment we hear about the signing of Mr. Lowery by the athletic council we gather that he is off to a good start at River Falls. If that famous pupil of "Piggy" Lambert uses the fast Purdue break, the basketball fans will see some flashy basketball on the Falcon court next season. With the abolition of the center jump from the game, a system such as Lowery will most likely use should make a 40 minute game about twice as long to the fans.

AS Lowery is an all-around athlete of the first water he should well be able to take care of the duties here at River Falls. His record at Mankato shows that he has the ability. While there he produced a championship team in football in a school that has been weak in that line.

LOWELL "Red" Dawson has been getting the bird from the news-writers down in the Fox River valley for signing his athletes from that section of the state. Mel Erickson has intentions of trying to break into a little faster company as soon as school is out. While the Melrose Marigold has his old job at Prairie du Chien, he'd just as soon get into a little faster stuff this year.

COACH Cowles has a good chance to repeat with his baseball team again this year, that is with "if" considered. The games with the Iowa State team and Minnesota shows that the Falcons are recognized as a good ball club. And here is good news for the boys who like the halls. The plans for the new stairway in South Hall include special love-seats to be built into the turns.

OUT at the baseball field last Wednesday the Falcon pitchers poured the ball past the Mac hitters at great rate. Sixteen strikeouts in the first game is no mean potatoes even if the Mac boys weren't so heavy with the stick. Wulf showed that he still had the old punch in the stick by getting 2 for 4, with a circus catch by the long Pederson robbing him of his first homer of the year. Nystrom also kissed one with the home run label, but the fielder happened to be playing just in the wrong place at the right time.

NOW that the spring training has improved the all-around performance of the Falcon ball players, the game at Minneapolis Wednesday should see the Falcons a lot better than they were at the Gopher diamond last year. With the longer spring workouts, Blank and Erickson should show the Minnesota boys a lot better assortment of slants than the Gophers saw last year.

STRIKEOUTS. Thompson and Elmer Peterson, co-managers of a softball team, are waiting for Fred Dosch to organize his "Ashes Haulers" team again this year so that the Thompson-Peterson team can take revenge for the lickings they took from the Haulers last year.

Tennis Team Is Being Organized

V. Sveinsson Is In Charge Of Entries for Tournament Beginning This Week

River Falls will have a tennis team this year. Because of this certain regulations have been laid down in regard to the use of the tennis courts for the remainder of the term.

1. The courts will be used from 4 to 6 o'clock daily for the rest of the term by members of the team for practice and for tournament play.

2. At all other hours the west concrete court will be reserved for women players and the east court will be held for the men.

3. Except for members of the tennis team the use of the courts are restricted to one hour. All courts must be surrendered at the end of that hour.

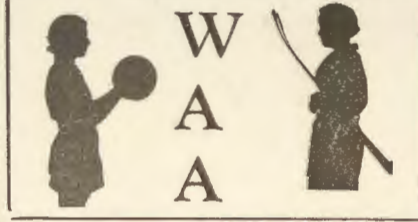

4. No players will be allowed on any court unless they are equipped with tennis shoes.

Valdo Sveinsson will be in charge of all entries and team play.

Fourteen men have signed up for the tennis tournament which will begin this week. Because of illness, Jim May, champion last fall, will not be able to defend his title.

The following is a list of pairing for this tourney:

- Sletteland vs. J. O'Brien
- L. Larson vs. Simmelink
- Ryan vs. Marquardt
- Ryan vs. Sondergaard
- Hehnke vs. Shepard
- Devereaux vs. Loofbourrow
- Sveinsson vs. Bye

The volleyball tournament ended Thursday, April 30. The team of which Ethel Schallenberger was the captain won this tournament by defeating the team which was captained by Lillie Ahlgren.

The baseball season began yesterday. The next baseball practice will be held May 7. W.A.A. members who need more points should report for these practices.

The members of the W. A. A. are planning a camping trip which will take them to the "Y" camp near Hudson for the week end of May 15 to May 17.

Twenty-six members of the organization, chaperoned by Miss Mary Louise Branstad and Miss Fiedler of the River Falls high school, will participate in the fun on this trip.

The time during this trip, which is an annual event for the W.A.A., will be filled with a number of sports. Swimming, badminton, volleyball, and kittenball are among the activities scheduled, according to Miss Branstad.

Setterquist Compiles Data On Basketball Intra-murals

Preston Lampson's intra-mural team walked off with high honors in the intra-mural basketball league during the past season. Professor Ted Setterquist, director of the intra-mural athletics, compiled the following data on the past intra-mural basketball season.

A total of 110 men competed in the league on the twelve teams entered for the race and a total of 55 games were played between the various teams. The final league standings are as follows:

Lampson	7	0	1000
O'Brien	7	3	700
Seidel	7	3	700
Stenbach	5	4	555
Gossen	4	4	500
Johnson	5	5	500
Bergner	5	5	500
Luchsinger	4	5	444
Simmelink	4	5	444
Gustafson	3	8	298
Dykstra	2	6	250
Younggren	2	7	222

Correction

In last week's VOICE we stated that the price of a ticket entitling students to the use of the golf course for the remainder of the term was three dollars. This price was reported to us incorrectly. Instead of three dollars the ticket is obtainable for one dollar and fifty cents. This entitles students to the use of the course for the rest of the term.

Joint Meeting of Science-Agrifallians Is Scheduled

A joint meeting of the Science club and Agrifallian Society will be held in the Men's Union tomorrow, Thursday, May 7 at 7 o'clock.

The two clubs are planning to have a representative from the State Fish Hatchery at Osceola give a talk on fish culture.

This program was arranged for two weeks ago but due to impassable roads the meeting was postponed.

According to Bob Johnson, president of the Science Club, this should be a very interesting meeting.

It will be the final meeting for the Science Club, while the Agrifallian Society will hold one more meeting.

Federal Reserve Banking System Is Speech Topic

The function and operation of the Federal Reserve Banking System was the topic presented at the college auditorium under the auspices of the Citizen's Council of River Falls, Friday evening, May 1, at eight o'clock.

The lecture was presented in the form of a moving picture with an accompanying explanation, as in the familiar news reel. Mr. Maize, an official of the Federal Reserve System, was in charge of the presentation.

The organization and distribution of Federal Reserve Banks as provided for in the Federal Reserve Act of 1913 and later legislation to aid agriculture, industry, commerce, and finance were graphically pictured.

How the Federal Reserve Bank of our district at Minneapolis operates was the principal part of the lecture. Some things shown and explained were: the speeding up and methods of handling check services; handling and safeguarding money, disposal of old money, equipment of banks, methods of procuring loans.

Following the lecture, an opportunity was given to question Mr. Maize further.

Preceding the lecture, the River Falls high school band under the direction of Professor Nicholas Jadinak, played a number of selections.

Masquers Hold Party And Plan for Banquet May 21

The Masquers held their regular term dancing party last Thursday night after the business meeting. Gerhard Thompson, chairman of the Masquers social committee arranged for the radio music and the popcorn balls that were served by the W.A.A. girls.

May 21 was the date set for the annual banquet at which time the election of officers for next year will be held. Gerhard Thompson was appointed chairman of a committee to plan for the banquet. Others on the committee are Mary Jane Larson and Robert Knowles.

John Batty will be in charge of the stage for the senior class play. Helping him will be Clifford Hermanson, Emma Lou Tubbs, Odas Newton, Gwendolyn Fox, and Dora Mae Hocking.

An all school dance was held in South Hall gymnasium Friday evening, May.

Music for the dance was furnished by the radio and a phonograph. Cards were played in the social room. About forty people attended the dance.

The dance was chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Wyman and Mr. and Mrs. Justin Williams.

The cost of education should be higher, says Dr. William P. Few, president of Duke University, otherwise we build "a race of half-educated and sometimes half-respectable panhandlers, and at the worst ordinary vagabonds and even criminals."

Placements of Graduating Students Are Progressing

All except five students who are graduating from the rural department in June have contracted for schools for the coming year. Irene Mentink has been engaged to teach in the Carr school in St. Croix county. The other rural placements were reported in last week's issue of the VOICE.

Helen Kotts who is a senior in the English department has received a position in the high school in Lancaster, Wisconsin. Miss Kotts will teach English and coach dramatics.

Harold C. Lunde of Ellsworth, a '35 graduate, has received a position in the high school at Clayton. Mr. Lunde, who received his degree in education and mathematics, will teach the eighth grade and direct music.

Dinner and Tea Are Planned At Social Graces Meeting

Miss Irma Hathorn led a general discussion of social graces at a meeting Thursday, April 30.

Questions concerning the way to act when going places and while in the public eye were answered. The students tested themselves on the section in the questionnaire "As Others See You". Plans were made to sponsor a dinner and a tea at which the students will put into practice the rules they have learned at the etiquette meetings.

Miss Hathorn appointed two committees to take charge of the dinner and the tea. Tea committee--Gladys Schultz, Bertha Jensen, and Elizabeth Hilyar. Dinner committee--Gerhard Tostrud, Marion Hawkins, and Lucille Bierbaum.

Residents of Minnesota only are eligible for a new Harvard scholarship.
