NUMBER 14

CHRISTMAS PARTIES

The Senior class has completed plans for a Christmas party to be held Thursday evening at 7:30. The program will be in the form of a vaudeville show and will be staged in the auditorium. Each member will bring a present for some other member in the party. The vaudeville show includes black face comedy, musical numbers, eccentric dancing, pantomime and silhouette acts and a mental telepathy stunt put on at great expense.

The third year seniors will be invited to partake of the fun.

The Juniors plan to hold their Christmas festivities in the girls' gymnasium. Much time and energy are being devoted to making the program interesting and peppy. A feature of the evening will be an indoor track meet. Some of the cleverest entertainers of the student body have been secured to put on this part of the program, of which the side-splitting features will be the high-dive for a penny, backward relay race, eating contest, shot-put and peanut race. The latter part of the evening may be given over to dancing.

Third year class will hold their Christmas party in the Drawing room on first floor of North Hall. Games and stunts are being arranged for the evening. Names will be drawn and each receive a Christmas present. This sounds interesting so all Third years are going.

Sophomores plan to have a Christmas party in the Society room. Besides games and a real Xmas tree the 2nd years are going to have EATS.

The Freshmen as yet have not fully completed their plans for an Xmas party, but they plan to hold the party in the music room. Watch for further announcement on the bulletin board.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Sowers, student secretary of the Y. M. C. A. gave an interesting talk at last week's meeting. His talk concerned the appliance to school work of some of the principles which Mr. Wilson brought out in his lectures here. Raymond Sorenson and Orlando Nelson furnished some music in the form of a piano duet.

HOME BOYS SCORE HEAVILY IN INITIAL CONTEST WRIGHT SHINES AT CENTER

Playing before a large house, and in good early season form, the home basket tossers opened the 1921 season in an impressive manner by humiliating coach Mitchell's invaders by the top heavy score of 47 to 12.

As the score indicates, the contest was not of the exiting type. The visitors who looked good in their preliminary exercises, proved themselves to be hopelessly outclassed immediately after the opening hostilities. Their team work was the poorest seen on the local floor for several seasons and their close in attempts at the basket were at times ridiculous. Even their defense which was by far the most impressive part of their performance was of the mediocre kind and the shifty Red and White players were able to penetrate for counters almost at will.

Wright Makes Brilliant Debut

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the contest was the brilliant brand of basketball played by Duey Wright, who cavorted around the pivot position the major portion of the evening in the absence of Capt. Rice. The ability of this rangy lightweight has been a matter of common knowledge among both players and coach ever since he donned a Red and White jersey, but due to injuries and lack of poundage, he has never had the opportunity to exhibit his skill in a real contest. His performance Friday night was so replete with excellent shooting, brainy floor work and accurate passing, that recognition will probably lean more noticeably in his direction the coming season in spite of his handicap.

Forwards Show Class

Carolan and Gurnoe, who started both frames at the forward positions, went about their task in a veteran-like manner. Carolan was the high point getter of the evening with eight field goals and three free throws to his credit. He displayed his old time speed and shiftiness on the floor and left hooked the sphere for a number of spectacular counters.

Gurnoe, although a number of points behind his running mate in the

THE TICKET SALE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Prof. E. A. Witenack states that the students who sold tickets for the Champion Football game did very creditable work. Mr. Jesse Fiedler deserves special mention, as he outdid all others. This work is very important and contributes very much to the success of our athletics.

scoring column, showed great speed and shiftiness in his floor work. He showed his best form in the opening of the final stanza by caging three from the field with machine gun rapidity. The third one which was a sensational side-shot that produced a temporary storm of applause from the gallery and sidelines.

Defense is Strong

Morrow, who acted as pilot during the evening in the absence of Rice was the same stone wall into which so many aspiring forwards crashed with disastrous results last season. He broke into the scoring column only once, but he made this lone tally in a manner which made it evident that it could have occurred oftener had he cared to have it so. To his credit it must be said that there never was a player who scorned individual renown more, nor had the success of his team more at heart than "Reanie."

Chinnoek, who acted as running guard during the greater part of the evening, did what all his admirers thought he would do. He went big. Chin. is a big fellow with a lot of punch, and is a clever man on the pivot, and in locating the net. He is perhaps the best among the Red and White talent at long range shooting. He drew first blood against the Minn. crew and then added flavor to his evenings performance by making the final counter for his team with a fancy back board shot from back of the foul line.

In copliance with the general expectations, substitutes were used freely. The recent ruling making it possible for a player to re-enter a contest after having been removed, encourages these tactics.

The substitutes all handled themselves creditably during their rather brief stay in the conflict. Melvin, who served a portion of the time, as forward, in both frames, contributed two points to the total.

In spite of the top heavy score and the spurts of good team work and sensational shooting, the game was not without the early season rough spots. Both quints were guilty of fouls on numerous occasions, with the locals coming in for first honors. 8 of the 12 points annexed by the invaders were made possible by the generosity of the home boys in this department.

The dashing assault of the Red and White warriors in the opening of the final frame, soon saw the Farmers, who were already battling against heavy odds, trailing behind a count, which in comparison to their own negligible total, must have looked like the national debt. They appeared to be dazed and when they found the ball in their possession they were unable to advance it within anything that resembled striking distance.

Short Course in Agriculture

The agricultural department is planning a short course in agriculture beginning Jan. 4. Any boy 16 years of age or older may attend. Practical courses in dairying, feeds and feeding, farm accounts and English will be offered. A special course in gas engines and tractors has been arranged. Six tractors will be on hand for this study. An expert mechanic and lecturer from each tractor company will be here to talk about the points of their machine, one man taking the machine apart, while the other lectures.

The following tractors will be exhibited: Fordson, Moline, Sampson, International, Case and Rumley. It is expected that many farmers will plan to attend at least a part of these lectures, especially when a machine that they are using is shown.

Students attending the Normal who know of any young man likely to be interested in this course, should hand in his name at the office.

The students who are beginning to see the dawn of a new day, may be the same ones who won't be home until morning.

"The Old-Time Spree Not A Success"

The seven day test of one of the dairy cows of the Normal farm was completed a few days ago. The cow made a record of 22.1 lbs. of B. F. in seven days.

There are plans of putting several of the cows on yearly record.

SONGS AND STORIES

OF THE RED MAN.

The Indian program given Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Gale was enjoyed by all. In presenting their unique entertainment they set the stage with special scenery and literally covered it with curios and musical instruments. Mr. Gale gave a brief description and history of most of the curious instruments used and told interesting stories and legends, leading up to the musical numbers, whether instrumental or vocal, which were rendered—all of them unique, melodious and new. The written music for these numbers can not be secured in a music store. Mr. Gale was compelled to write his own music by listening to the songs of the Red Men and recording them.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gale appeared as Indians—in beautiful costumes—Mrs. Gale appeared in several different costumes, representing various tribes of Indians.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale are accomplished musicians and splendid entertainers. Since childhood both have been gifted musicians and during a number of years have devoted much time and spent thousands of dollars in the study of the music and musical instruments of various races, especially the American Indian, the Japanese, and the Chinese. Their collection of musical instruments is one of the largest and finest in the world. Mr. Gale is a vocalist, a pianist and violinist, a writer of music and a good story teller. Mrs. Gale has a rich deep contralto voice and is a good pianist. Their voices blended beautifully.

GAME WITH DR. COOKE'S MINN. VARSITY CREW IS ON BILL OF FARE FOR SAT. NIGHT.

Saturday night Coach Chandler and his huskies will center their attack on Dr. Cooke's proteges, in the University gym. We are not predicting a win, but considering our splendid showing at Minn. last year and comparing the relative strength of the two teams this year, we have every reason to look for a close score. The Minn. team has Arnie Oss, Neal Arnison and Kearney back in uniform this year. Hultkrans at center is a new man but has performed creditably in games up to date, especially against Hamline, whom they defeated 28 to 15. Richard Sullivan, also a new man has been doing good work. He held the speedy John Kobs, Hamline captain, to two baskets.

FORMER RIVER FALLS ATHLETE BREAKS INTO LIMELIGHT

Julius "Jud" Gregor, who will captain the St. Oalf basket ball team this winter, was accorded an unusual honor when elected to the post of leadership by his teammates. This is Gregor's first year at the Northfield school, although he is a classified senior because of work at this school and to be so honored by a group with whom he had never before played basket ball speaks well of the new leader's ability and popularity. While in school here Gregor was one of the star half backs on our foot team, and was prominent as an all round athlete.

Ruth Gehrke, who has been substituting for her sister, Cornelia, for the past two weeks at Colfax, returned to school Monday.

Jennie Martin spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Vernon Davis of Minneapolis.
