RIVER FALLS, WISCONSIN, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1938.

Number 22

From Dvorak's "New World" Symphony

Comes the "Finale" Which the College Concert Band Directed by Professor B. J. Rozehnal, will present its sixth annual Spring Concert in the college auditorium at eight o'clock, Tuesday evening, March 29.

Massenet's Phedre Overture will open the program, followed by the ever-popular semi-classical Day in Venice suite, written by Ethelbert Nevin.

The second half of the program will include numbers in a lighter vein. From the works of Ferdie Grofe, a contemporary composer, Mardi Gras will be presented, followed by Song of the Bayou, written by another contemporary, Rube Bloom.

Viennese waltzes will be represented by a selection of waltzes from Johann Strauss' Die Fledermaus. For the benefit of visiting bandmen the concert band will play the Class C selection for the national band contest, the overture Soldiers of Fortune written by R. E. Hildreth.

The program will close with the playing of selections from Sigmund Romberg's Desert Song, including the "Riff Song" and "One Alone."

Lawrence Frye, Former

River Falls graduate, has accepted the position of principal of the high school at Bigelow, Minnesota.

Graduating in 1933, Mr. Frye has since then served as substitute in the mathematics department for Mrs. Eide on several occasions. In the fall of 1936 he enrolled at the Iowa State University and completed a year of post-graduate work.

Mr. Frye began his work at the Bigelow school last Monday.

April 1 Is the Date for the Masquerade

dance sponsored by the student party committee.

The committee urges everyone to attend and announces that each one present is to appear masked and in costume. Prizes will be given for both the most humorously dressed man and woman attending, and for the best dressed group. Announcement of the date is being made early in order to give plenty of time to find a costume.

Music will be furnished by Carl Miller and his nine-piece Casa Majesta orchestra. Plans are being made for some old time dances which will include the square dance and the schottische and also for the dancing of the Big Apple.

The masquerade is to be held in the North Hall gymnasium. An admission charge of ten cents will be made.

At the Assembly Thursday

morning, March 17, the Johnson brothers from Ashland, Wisconsin, presented their educational program, "Your Friends, the Snakes."

The program given by the men, who are well-known naturalists, lecturers, and writers, was presented in the form of demonstrations accompanied by lectures designed to create a new feeling contrary to the old one of terror for reptiles.

One of the interesting presentations was a dress, valued at $1000, made entirely of perfectly matched rattlesnake skins. Miss Ruth Phillips modelled the dress. Miss Mary Katherine Prucha and Miss Pat Sherman, two college students, and Miss Jean Sherman, of the training school, lent their assistance to the Johnson brothers by aiding in the demonstration.

Masquer Members and Their Guests Will Weigh Anchor Friday Evening

State Championship Honors Were Won

by Dr. J. Henry Owens and Elmer Henke in the men's doubles at the state badminton tournament held in the Wisconsin Rapids fieldhouse on Saturday, Mar. 19, when they defeated the Fischer-Foote team of West Allis 15-11, 15-7.

Miss Louise Branstad and Miss Eunice Manske were runners-up in the women's doubles losing in the finals to the Wanek-Klores team of West Allis 15-11, 15-10.

The West Allis and River Falls teams carried off all the championships. Other cities represented were: Wisconsin Rapids, Madison, Green Bay, Waukesha, Racine, and Lake Geneva. Trophies were awarded to both members of the champion doubles team and medals to the runner-up.

Madison was selected as the site for next year's tournament with Waukesha as alternate. Each club represented at the tournament is allowed one member on the board of directors to help take care of organizing the Wisconsin State Badminton Association. Dr. J. Henry Owens will act as the River Falls representative.

Plans for a Roller Skating Party Are being advanced by the social committee of the FFA organization. The date is set for Wednesday, March 23, and students other than FFA members who wish to attend the party may buy tickets for twenty-five cents from Thenard Torgerson, committee chairman, Louis Malotky, Allen Peterson or George Kinney, the other members of the newly appointed committee.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, March 31, with the program arranged by Fred Brechlin and Thomas Ronningen who have been appointed to the program committee for the third term.

No meeting was held this month because of the examination schedule and because of a rearrangement of party dates by the student senate.

Mary Chase, a Graduate of '34, primary teacher of the Mill Creek State Graded School, Melrose, is convalescing at her home in Knapp. She was operated on at a Minneapolis hospital last month for injuries suffered in a sliding accident.

H. M. Eckley, a graduate of '21, who has been instructor of the Smith-Hughes agricultural classes for the past sixteen years at Viola, has resigned to take a well-earned vacation.

March 25, As They Promenade on the Decks of a Pirate Ship

piloted by Bennet Greten and his orchestra. The galleon, captained by Niles Grunke and Agnes Parkins, will leave the docks of North Hall gymnasium at 8:30.

Captain Grunke will be served by First Mates Robert Johnson and Phyllis Soderstrom. The remaining officers acting as chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Setterquist, Dr. and Mrs. J. Henry Owens, and Miss Nelle Schlosser.

The traditional pirate flag, floating under a blue sky studded with stars, will decorate the mast. Coils of rope and skulls and crossbones will complete the decorations.

Ruth Phillips, Betty Larson, Harriet Campbell, and Marguerite Rottier will act as stewardesses.

Committees which have been working on the formal are the following: Audrey Doolittle and Betty Jane Hogue, co-chairmen of the decorations committee; Norman Soderstrom, programs and invitations; Stella Tobiassen, punch; and Marshall Wilcox, orchestra.

Women Debaters of St. Catherine's in St. Paul

are scheduled to meet the Hawkins-Leonard team in the River Falls auditorium at the regular assembly period, Thursday, March 24. The question is: Resolved, That the National Labor Relations Board should be empowered to enforce arbitration of all industrial disputes. This question is essentially the problem of whether or not to outlaw strikes.

Plans for a Rural Fair and Field Day to

Be Sponsored by the FFA and to be Held on the College campus early next fall have recently been completed. Exhibits of vegetables, field crops, handicraft, and livestock projects will be displayed by members of rural schools and 4-H clubs. The collegiate FFA will provide a program of education and recreation.

The fair will replace the annual field day held in the spring. It is an innovation to make the usual FFA activity program varied and more stimulating to rural young people. Plans are being made by an FFA committee and the county school superintendents of Pierce and St. Croix counties.

The annual FFA rally of officers and advisers from high school chapters, a feature inaugurated last spring, will also be transferred to the fall. Since high school officers are elected in the fall and retire in the spring, it was decided that the meeting would be most beneficial to the group that is to function throughout the year.

Seventeen Students Achieved the honor roll in the junior high school department of the training school during the second term.

In the seventh grade were Bobby Pearson and Harland Jensen; in the eighth grade, Audrey Luberg, Nona McCollow, John Anderson, Norman Johnson, Bob Dopkins, Bob Knapp, and Marshall Olson; in the ninth grade, Muriel Griffith, Glen Anderson, and John Prucha; in the tenth grade, Muriel Pearson, Dorothy Edkins, Carolyn Goble, Leone Timmerman, and Mary Louise Jacobson.

"Shall the United States Maintain An attitude of pacifism or militarism" was the subject of a series of talks at the meeting of the YMCA on Monday evening, March 21. Members of the organization who have had public speaking experience were the speakers.

Willard Downing, Andrew Osborne, Loyal Joos, Clifford Hermanson, Glen Benson, and Laurence Knutson presented the various phases of the question. Some of the things brought up included preparedness, protection of foreign investments, isolation, and costs of wars. A short general discussion followed the talks.

Next Monday night the same general topics will be discussed by Mr. Philip Meagan, of the University of Minnesota.

Nearly Eight Per Cent of the Student Body Received a Place on the Honor Roll for the Second Term

This figure represents a two per cent increase over the rating of the fall term. Of the 47 students attaining the honor roll, seven received a straight "A" average.

Donald Monson, a sophomore pre-engineering student from Cable, received the highest rating with a total of 54 points.

The complete honor roll follows:

- Ahlgren, Lillie, A8, B8, 40
  - Anderson, Duane, A13, B3, 45

Four Groups Led Discussions

of etiquette at the meeting of the YWCA Monday evening, March 21, in the Social Room.

Joyce Leonard and Mildred LePage discussed table manners. They included in their demonstration setting the table, serving the meal, use of the silverware, and decorating the table.

Mae Nelson headed the committee consisting of Mary Stoll, Floy Lien and Elodie Knutson. Their topic was "Etiquette at the Bridge Table." They showed the right and wrong attitudes while playing.

Chairman of the group to demonstrate correct methods of introductions was Lillie Ahlgren. Other members were Alva Johnson, Margaret Nelson, and Gertrude Peterson.

"Traveling Manners" was the topic of Mary Griffith's committee. Edith Bauer and Audrey Graves assisted in the demonstration.

Next week the program will consist of a fashion show.

Earl W. Luther, a graduate of '23, supervising principal at Gillette for the past seven years, was recently named superintendent of the Mayville schools.

Our Most Skillful Automobile Drivers

are also the most dangerous and have the most accidents," is a fact that was recently proved by statistics gathered by Dr. Harry M. Johnson who led a study under the auspices of the Highway Research Board. This study was made in Connecticut, a state which keeps detailed records of all accidents which involve death or injury or a property loss of $25 or more.

This group of deadly drivers consists of boys who are 19, 20, and 21 years of age. Each 100,000 drivers in this age group was involved in 220 fatal accidents, which is a number three times as large as the number of accidents in which their parents were involved. After the age of 25, the driver improves, and at the age of 45, he is the safest driver on the road. After the age of 60, a driver again becomes a road menace.

The fact that women have fewer accidents than men is also brought out in this survey. This fact is explained, however, by statistics which show that there are fewer women drivers and that they drive less than the men do.

An article discussing this survey in detail may be found in the Science News Letter for March 5.

"To Hell With America!" Those Are the Words

used by an anonymous Englishman in summing up his opinion of America. He was given the inspiration for expression when A. J. Nack, that much-discussed writer for the American Mercury recently attacked British propaganda. The rebuttal was published in the March issue of the same publication.

Every advantage that might possibly be the result of a union of Great Britain and the United States, as hinted by Mr. Nack to be desired by the English, was exploded by this Englishman who is confident that his unprejudiced opinion is representative "of thousands, perhaps millions" of British. The military advantages he explodes by saying that a nation with endless debates in Congress could not agree quickly enough to be of any help in the fast-moving wars of today. Socially, too, England would be at a disadvantage, for it would tend to become Americanized. Americanization is characterized by Farleyism, 25,000,000 motor cars, amateur sports, the Youth movement, bank nights, Madame Perkins, hot-dog stands, Hollywood and about 30 other menaces listed by this English cousin. The terms WPA, REA, and TVA are in that list, too, for "bracketing the alphabet" will not solve England's national problems.

In further answer to Mr. Nack's statements this witty Englishman declares that no race has the Right-to-Rule attitude more than the American. He even gives the cause of the present dif-

The Rapidity With Which Adolf Hitler Stepped

in and took Austria under German control has left many people gasping for breath. With scarcely a murmur from the rest of the European powers, he has achieved his first great objective.

It has been a very fortunate as well as successful move on the part of Herr Hitler. His army which last year was afraid to move in the Rhineland has been encouraged an inspired by the lack of opposition to German advances. Ambitious army leaders have been taken care of, and the new conscription law has increased the standing army. German soldiers no longer look with awe across the Rhine at France's mighty military machine.

Two major objectives are always in front of this German dictator's mind. One, the unity of all German-speaking people; the other, the anti-Jewish policy. Incidentally, of course, in getting all Germans under the German flag some valuable lands, important mineral resources, and industrial centers are added to the growing empire.

What ambitious and industrious people can do given these great assets has been demonstrated to us by Germans themselves. The economic structure that had been built up in the German empire prior to 1914 is evidence of this.

If Hitler has everything else under control, he surely will "purify" the German race and exterminate the Jews in one way or another. Is it not logical for us to assume that a severe blow will have been dealt to the German economic machinery. The Jews in the land of the Nazis are not farmers; they are merchants, shop owners, lawyers, bankers, financiers, doctors, etc. To destroy such an important element of a nation's bourgeoisie is going to have a significant effect on that nation. It will not be incomparable to the exodus of the French Huguenots from France a few hundred years ago.

It seems that Hitler is on the road to success right now. How long his gestures will remain unheeded bluffs no one knows. The time, however, when his gestures will cease to be bluffs and become "effective threats" does not seem so far off. The progress of the modern armaments race will shape many foreign policies within the next two years.

facilities in the Far East as the Treaty of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, a negotiation of Theodore Roosevelt.

Is this evidence piled against us Americans true? If so, then the reason for any Yankee hostility is our inherent tendency toward law and order. When we fail to find that situation in our country, we begin looking elsewhere. The English gentleman compliments himself because we can find it there. At first we are jealous; then we become suspicious of the British, and finally we come to dislike them.

Is that the way in which we regard every foreign idea that is new to us? Are we, as our English cousin believes, first in the list of ludicrous races? Are we stupid and gullible instead of clever? Are we soft and bewildered instead of hardy and sure-footed? Are we land-grabbers and imitators instead of pioneers and experimenters?

Rhapsodies

IN BLACK AND WHITE

Well, there seem to be a couple big musical events in the offing for the very near future. We have had the opportunity to watch the rehearsals of The Band Wagon, that big musical production to be staged by the training school students.

When a bunch of high school band boys and a group of girls composing a high school chorus get together at a music festival, anything may happen. And happen it does - but to find out just what does happen you will have to attend the show tomorrow night. The soloists and choruses have been rehearsing tirelessly for several weeks. We personally hope that the college students turn out in large numbers to support the "poor kids" on whom they practice their wares when they get to be seniors.

And the other big event is the band concert. It's really quite a big affair - what with the ladies in formals and the gentlemen in "soup 'n fish." But those are just minor details; what really matters most is the music. The biggest number on the program, we think, is the Finale from the New World Symphony, written by the great Bohemian, Dvorak. Perhaps the reason we like it so well is that it contains that beautiful melody, which has been made into a song, "Goin' Home."

Mardi Gras by Ferdie Grofe is another of our favorites. Another number in the lighter mood is the Desert Song, a selection of many of the hit tunes from Sigmund Romberg's production of the same name.

But we mustn't give the whole program and steal some reporter's column inches. Therefore, without more ado, we hope that we see a lot of students at the concert, because - well from the musician's point of view, it's much harder to play before a small audience than to an auditorium packed with listeners.

The weather the last couple weeks reminded us of a "pome" written by a student of English Survey a couple years ago. You will undoubtedly notice the similarity to Milton's famous sonnet - in fact, the poem is a paraphrase of Milton's. The poem is entitled "A College Boy's Utopia", and we should like to give you a taste of it.

Now when I think of how I spend my days

In rushing back and forth to some dull class,

Or mixed up in a dry and boresome maze

Of details which professors to us pass,

And when I think of how remaining time

Is used in cramming for some useless test,

Or of a sonnet studying out the rhyme,
Or of three theories picking out the best,
I often wish that I could be more free
To listen to Dame Springtime's well-known call,
And seated underneath some shady tree,
With some vivacious blonde in love to fall.
Thus let my college days be wholly spent
And I believe I then would be content!

Memo For the Man About Town . . . . .

Here's a note you can take down—if you are interested in looking your best in the warm weather that's just around the corner. Our new offerings of Curlee Suits for Spring and Summer will do this job.

Not only are these suits beautifully styled by the leading designers of men's clothing in America—they're comfortable and economical as well. Curlee suits are expertly tailored from a choice selection of new lightweight woollens. These materials stand up and hold their shape through months of hard Summer wear. They require less upkeep than other suit fabrics and are more comfortable because they never get sticky and clammy and because they let your pores breathe.

You'll like the workmanship in these suits—indicative of Curlee quality for more than thirty years. You'll find models and fabric patterns you like in sizes that fit you. Put it down in the book—if you want the most in style, comfort and economy. Let your next suit be a Curlee Suit.

Elimination Games Are Being

Played to Determine the Team Which Will Attain Top Honors

in intra-mural basketball. In the first game of the tournament Erickson's five defeated Staley's quint in a thrilling game by the close score of 21-19. The Staley team led at the half 11-10 and only a last minute rally paved the way to victory for Erickson. Dale Johnson led the winners with 7 points, while Staley and H. Larson totaled 14 points to pace the losing team.

Bill Bartz's team was held in check for almost three quarters, but went on a scoring spree to down Hylkema's outfit 37-28. Harris of Hylkema's kept his team in the running by scoring 17 points, while Carlson and Bartz counted 20 points between them to give their team a hard-fought victory.

Lucente led his five in a win over Roberts 19-17 by scoring 8 points. These teams were evenly matched and it was anyone's ball game all the way.

Thursday night's games saw Cass's outfit win to keep in the tournament by downing Henke 26-20. Heebink and Maki paced the winners while Lyons and Henke played great ball for their team. Stu Larson's fast five were eliminated in a great game, by Frank's five, 26-24. The individual pace set by Lloyd Frank proved to be the downfall of the Larson quint. He tallied 16 points and also played a great defensive game to uphold his reputation of being a high class player in the intra-mural loop. Gettinger starred for the losing team, with 6 points.

This week will see the close of the tournament and the championship battle for the intra-mural title of the college. The heavy favorites for the lead are the Torgerson, Bartz, and Erickson teams. These teams have proved to be good playing combinations during the regular season and thus some real games are expected when they meet.

Hennings Team Won

the championship in the women's basketball tournament by defeating Rhodey's team in a game last week 47-20. The excellent passing and team work combined with the sharpshooting of La Vernia Jorgenson, season's high scorer, accounted for Henning's fine showing.

Griffith's team forfeited its game to Hawn's to give the Hawn team second place.

FORMER Falcon brothers go up the long trail together. We're speaking of the Manion boys, "Bud" and "Nor." "Bud" enters his River Falls high school team in the state meet at Madison a week from today and "Nor" leads his Luverne high school team to the state finals in Minnesota this week-end. Here's luck to both of them.

ANOTHER pair of Falcon brothers are hitting the news. Mel and Al Erickson, brother battery at the Miller training camp are receiving glowing press notices. The Minneapolis Star last week played them up as another Ferrell brother combination.

LOWERY should be all smiles with this mild weather we've been having. It gives him a chance to whip his football squad into condition for that St. Olaf spring clash on April 12. Backs have been triple-threatening since last Wednesday and the boys who do the job with no applause started blocking and tackling Monday.

CAN the Dean brothers come back? Will Schoolboy Rowe prove effective again for Detroit? Will Bill Terry battle as well on the diamond as he does in the periodicals and what will Bob Feller do for Cleveland? These are current big-league questions in baseball circles. Only a summer of torrid baseball will tell. Our prediction - Cards and Yanks in the World Series.

ON the all-star independent team named at Glenwood City a week back were the names of several former Falcons. Included were Kulas, Prescott; Torgerson, Amery; and Paulson Amery. Glenwood City took Prescott in the finals.

NOOK Blank won the free-throw contest. He sank 44 out of 50 to nose out John O'Brien who looped in 43 out of 50. Nook caged 25 in a row.

S I. Cloud and La Crosse have been added to the golf schedule for the Falcons. It won't be long until we can watch "the dirty little pill roll slowly down the hill and right into a bunker."

Falconess Sketch

Mary Katherine Prucha

A war-baby unaffected by shell-shock is this outstanding Falconess, Mary Katherine Prucha, who arrived for the first time in River Falls—in fact, it was the first time she had ever arrived anywhere—in May of 1918. The oldest of a family of three children, she has a brother, Paul, in the college freshman class and another, John, in the high school freshman class in the training department of the college. Her father is the man who sends home the bad news at the end of each term.

From very early times Mary Katherine has been of service to RFTSC; she attended the training school, giving River Falls' potential instructors practice in teaching and, as a matter of course, in enforcing discipline.

Dan's Dope

Spring weather has turned the attention of Falcon athletes to golf, football, and baseball. Under present arrangements, Coach Setterquist will direct the baseball squad, while Coach Lowery will concentrate his attention on football. Golf, a game which previously has not received much attention on the local campus, may receive its due recognition during the present term; for the reports are that a few inter-college matches have been lined up.

With Mel Erickson in the South, Coach Setterquist will have to pick another ace pitcher to bear the brunt of the season's work. His task is made easier, however, by the presence of Blank, Martin and Teeple all of whom have seen some action on the mound.

The infield with Wulf, Herkal, Hoey, Teeple, and Johnson probably handling the various positions should present a fairly smooth combination. Most of the receiving will undoubtedly be done by Roger Moore, who has one year of Falcon baseball to his credit. Coach Setterquist will have to locate a reserve catcher, however, to relieve Moore when necessary.

Local boxing fans will have an opportunity to support the Falcon squad during the first or second weekend in April when the boys go to Superior (Continued on last page)

Gerald Manion's River Falls High

School Basketball Team Won the Right to Enter the State Meet at Madison next week by downing Menomonie 27-25. The game was played at Eau Claire last Friday night after Fall Creek dropped Alma in a thrilling Class C playoff game.

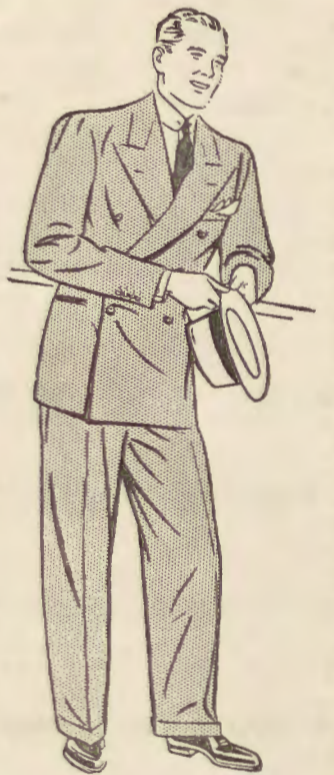

The orange and white cagers took complete control of the situation from the start to hold a nine point lead at the end of the first half. Menomonie spurted in the last few minutes but two field goals by Paulson put the game on ice for Manion's boys.

Gene Kay, tall center, led the River Falls team to victory as he played an inspired game at the pivot post. Paulson and Kay netted eight points each and Linehan dropped in seven. Deiss, Foss, and Henneman contributed greatly to a winning cause.

Manion's quintet will meet Cumberland in the state meet at Madison, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Cumberland is also coached by a former Falcon star, Elmer Beran, class of '31.

Records in the "B" Debate Tournament Held at the College Last

Saturday, March 19, Thomas Ronningen, Howard Deetz, Everett Chapman and Howard Wert, were selected to represent the school at Minneapolis where they will debate Augsburg Seminary.

Other Falcon debaters in competition were the Osborne-Webert and Harris-Martin teams who won three and one respectively of four debates each. The Moline-Baker and Thompson teams each won one out of three debates.

There were twenty-one debate teams from eight colleges in the tournament. Iowa State Teachers of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, achieved the best record with seven wins out of eight debates. Other schools and their percentages of victories were: Concordia from Moorhead, Minnesota, 62 per cent; Hamline 62 per cent; River Falls 60 per cent; St. Johns 37 per cent; Eau Claire 31 per cent; Bethel from Minneapolis 25 per cent, and St. Marys 25 per cent.

The debating began at 11 a. m. and continued through four rounds to 5 p. m. after which the teams, judges, and coaches were entertained at a banquet in the cafeteria. Mr. Frank Sirianni acted as toastmaster.

Irwin Loff, a graduate of last year, resigned from his position with the Northern States Power Company to accept a teaching position at Wilton, Wisconsin.

DAN'S DOPE

Continued from page three to engage in a State Teachers college meet. Possible competitors are Staley, Gherty, Mills, Thoony, Aldrich, and Wood. Staley, probably the most experienced man on the squad, has been getting into shape by appearing on Gibbon's amateur boxing card in St. Paul on Tuesday nights for the past few weeks. Last Tuesday his opponent hit the canvas for the long count at the end of 39 seconds.

FALCONESS SKETCH

Continued from page three in high school. She played basketball all three years, captaining certain intra-mural teams. Girls' baseball and tennis also occupied much of her time. As a GAA member she won a letter for athletic activities. She came to college, enrolling as a science major and social science minor. At present she is a junior, an honor society member, and a science club member. As a sophomore she was given the PEO award which is presented annually to the outstanding sophomore girl in college.

Kittenball, field hockey, basketball, tennis, ice-skating, all have their places on her program, but at present she is concentrating on badminton. She is able to keep her head above water in all of these sports, but doesn't swim for fear she will spoil that record. Having been a girl scout in high school, she now has charge of a troop at the high school.

There has been a sweet-tooth in the family for years, and she perpetuates its effectiveness, having a profound admiration and weakness for candy.

She likes good music and favors Wayne King. Bei Mir Bist du Schon was O. K. in her estimation—she is a second-year German student.

She doesn't always eat breakfast, doesn't care for cereals, and can cook enough to "get along if she had to bach it," and has shaken hands with Governor LaFollette.
