Other members of the committee are Jean MacMillan, sophomore from Stillwater, Joe Alms, junior from Spring Valley and Jim Durning, senior from Hudson. A member of the freshman class will also be added.

The Social Committee will meet every Monday at 6 p.m. in the Student Center. Students are invited to bring suggestions and complaints to these weekly meetings.

First Social Committee sponsored event will be a Chris Barber concert Wednesday, October 14.

UW Placement Director Will Speak at Convo

Emily Chervenik, Director of Placements at the University of Wisconsin, will discuss the job future of college graduates at a convocation on Tuesday, Sept. 29, in the Little Theater at 11 a.m. She has conducted job studies on University of Wisconsin graduates and is well informed on the midwest employment picture.

The convocation is an advance event to the annual Career Conference. Dr. Knaak, Dean of Women, urges all women students and interested men to attend.

MOBILE X-RAY UNIT TO VISIT COLLEGE

All students will be required to have a chest x-ray taken when the Mobile Unit is on campus next week the Dean's Office has announced. The unit will be outside of South Hall on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 23 and 24, from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.

Students who do not use this free service will be asked to have a chest x-ray taken by their own doctor.

Green Beanies Turn Red

by Jack Huntley

If college frosh are green, then the freshmen at River Falls are quite unique. This was noticed when they donned smart red and white beanies last week.

The traditional beany holds a three-fold purpose: it encourages school spirit, unites new students, and serves as a means of identification.

This year something new has been added to beanie wearing. The sophomore class will sponsor a beanie decorating contest, with prizes being offered separately for boys and girls in the following categories: most humorous, most original, and "his and hers" for couples going together. There is only one restriction in decorating-the wearer's name must appear somewhere on the outside of the beanie.

All new freshmen have been requested to wear beanies at all campus activities and in River Falls. Those who are attending the Whitewater game, Sept. 25, are asked to sit in the cheering section, and are requested to join in the freshmen line formation at the game.

Beanie wearing will be climaxed on Friday, Sept. 25, at the annual frosh-soph tug-of-war at 4:30 p.m. A softball game between the two classes and a picnic will follow.

This year, having eliminated the threat of Kangaroo Kourt, the sophomore class compliments the freshmen on their fine school spirit and cooperation in carrying out the beanie tradition.

Sauter-Finnegan Chosen As 1959 Homecoming Band

Highlighting the 1959 Homecoming festivities will be the nationally known Sauter-Finnegan dance band. The orchestra will play at the Homecoming dance on Oct. 17 at St. Bridget's Gymnasium.

Other plans for Homecoming week include a Friday night pep fest featuring the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the music of the Hut Four Quartet. A dance has also been scheduled for Friday night.

HOMECOMING SLOGAN

Slogans for the 1959 Homecoming against the Eau Claire Blugolds are due no later than 6 p.m. Sept. 23. A suggestion box will be placed in the Student Center.

Campus organizations are urged to invite alumni from their particular club back to the campus and sponsor some activity for them. Organizations are also asked to sign in the Student Center for campus decorations, window decorations, floats, and the "Scream for the Team" contest.

Clubs sponsoring a Queen candidate must submit the name to the Homecoming committee by Monday, October 5.

Suggested Homecoming slogans should be placed in the ballot box in the Student Center no later than Wednesday, Sept. 23.

Drama Seniors Begin Play Rehearsals

Rehearsals will get in full swing tonight for three one-act plays to be presented on campus in the near future. A comedy, a tragedy, and a children's story, should offer a variety of high quality entertainment for college students and children of this community. Each will be cast and directed by a student in fulfillment of a Directing Course requirement.

Two of the plays are tentatively scheduled for the evening of October 14th. Dave Blank, a senior, will direct Anton Chekov's comedy, THE BOOR. Set in Russia, THE BOOR portrays the attempts of a wealthy, cocky, landowner to collect a debt from the young widow mistress of a country estate which develops into a quite comical situation.

THE GALLOWS MAN: A MID-WINTER STORY, a Finnish play written by Runar Schildt, will be

by Bill Finlan

New policies were developed and some old regulations were verified at a meeting of the Student Center Governing Board on Tuesday, Sept. 17, at the Student Center.

Nothing, said the committee, is to be sold on campus by clubs or otherwise in competition with the Student Center's book store. This means, for instance, that sweat shirts may not be sold by the Vets Club this year. The book store will have them in stock and must not encounter competition from students in compliance with regulations from higher authorities than the Student Center Governing Board.

Tickets, graduation announcements and similar items may be sold for two consecutive days at a table available at the entrance to the Student Center according to the governing board. For example, the producer of a play may have tickets on sale at the table for two days. More time may be allotted for sales of Homecoming, Winter Carnival and Spring Formal tickets.

The governing board reminds students that the Cafeteria is a business and no longer merely a service to the students. Therefore sack lunches are not to be eaten in the Cafeteria. The board explained that this procedure is not tolerated in an ordinary restaurant operation and cannot be accepted at the center cafeteria.

Posters and announcements to be placed on the Student Center bulletin boards must be 8½" x 11" or smaller in order to accommodate all interested groups

Students are also reminded by the governing board that there are no allotted funds to replace damaged or worn pieces of the game equipment or for the purchase of additional games. Therefore the charge for the use of the games serves as a resource for these items. For instance, nearly 400 dollars will be spent within the next couple of weeks to put rubber mat (curbing) around the edge of the ping pong tables.

The governing board has established the Centerama attraction for students which will occur throughout the year on Friday evenings of those weekends which require additional activities on campus. The first Centerama was held on Friday evening.

L.T. Open House For Frosh Tonight

The Little Theater will be the scene when freshmen who are interested in working with college theater can take part in the annual Freshman Theater Party, given by Masquers and Alpha Psi Omega. The party will take place at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Those in attendance will have the opportunity to tour the theater and will observe make-up, scenery changing, lighting, and costumes.

Alpha Psi Omega, National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, will present scenes from last year's productions. Refreshments will be served in rooms 101 and 102 in the Student Center by Masquers, the campus dramatics group.

Four Freshmen Chosen as New Cheerleaders

Chosen as the 1959 cheerleaders in competition last week were Rolfe Rodlyn, senior from Menomonie; Bev Ramacier, junior from West St. Paul; Judy Osen and Barb Meyer, freshmen from River Falls; Barb Korsmo, freshmen from Shiocton; and Rosemary Stesniak, freshman from Clayton.

Mr. Rodlyn, active in Vet's Club and Sitzmarkers, has been a cheerleader at the college for two years. Miss Ramacier has a lower elementary major and speech minor. She has been a college cheerleader for two years and is active in Alpha Psi Omega.

An elementary major, Miss Osen has joined USF. Also an elementary major, Miss Meyer belongs to the Newman Club. Miss Korsmo served as a high school cheerleader for one year and Miss Stesniak led cheers at Clayton High School for four years.

New cheers will be initiated by the group this year and they ask for cooperation from the student body to improve school spirit and cheering.

Plans have been made for a seating arrangement at games which will allow students to sit in one cheering section.

KLINK PARTICIPATES IN KANSAS CLINICS

Dr. Rowland Klink, principal of the Campus School, participated just prior to the beginning of school here in three "In-Service Institutes" for county teachers in Kansas.

Held in the three most heavily populated counties in Kansas, the institutes for both elementary and secondary teachers centered on "Developing Concepts Through Field Trips and Commercial Television Presentations."

The Editor Speaks . .

What is a "Brown Bagger" and what are his rights on the River Falls campus? The term probably originated in the military service and was used to describe an individual who commuted to the base, ate the lunch he brought and when returning home at night carried a brown sack containing groceries. In applying the term to our campus it describes the commuters who carry their dinner to school.

Prior to this year "Brown Baggers" were permitted to purchase beverages and eat their lunches in the college cafeteria.

One of the conditions that encouraged students to return to River Falls this year was the opening of the new Student Union. The new student gathering place was to feature better recreational facilities and a spacious cafeteria.

Last week the Student Center Governing Board passed on a decision (not their own) that in brief stated: Students bringing lunches would not be permitted to eat them on the campus.

A reason behind the decision is that the cafeteria is no longer a service but a business operation. In leasing the cafeteria area to the food service for a guaranteed amount the students automatically lose their jurisdiction over the control of this area.

A question arises over the sensibility of this decision. Is it profitable for the food service to refuse the "Brown Bagger" the privilege of occupying a seat that probably won't be filled any way? By enforcing this regulation the food service will lose the trade the commuters give them and create an atmosphere of ill will.

Other students are perturbed by the treatment given their fellow classmates. One cannot help wondering whether the little inconveniences caused by the "Brown Baggers" is worth the possibility of a sharp decline in patronage.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Dear Editor,

College is once more in full swing, bringing back to campuses all across America the reunion of roommates and friends, bringing back an age old tradition called freshman initiation.

Upon seeing the above paragraph, I imagine several people said to themselves, "Oh no, let's not go into this again!" But I say, "Let's not throw this thing out too hastily."

To me, having gone through the ordeal as a frosh last year and now being able to look back on it, the initiation program meant much, much more than being dominated by sophomores and wearing green beanies. It was a period during which "the ice was broken" and I became a full-fledged part of college life.

Take a look at this year's freshmen, for example. They cling together in little groups composed mainly of kids who knew each other in high school, not necessarily because they want to, but probably because they are just plain too bashful to open up and make new friends.

For myself, and I dare say for several of my classmates, the harassing we went through greatly helped to remedy this situation. What could be a better freshman "mixer" than compelling each of them to wear the traditional green beanie, forbid them to walk on green grass, and keep them green with envy of sophomores and upper classmen. Throw them all into the same situation and they will try to get out of it together, just as we did last year and others have for years before us.

Let's take a second look at last year. Everyone by now must know what went on. But just why did all of this happen? Is it because all of a sudden there is a different and "hoodier" type of person entering college who has no sense of responsibility? Or is it because there was a possible lack of responsibility where there has previously been a sufficient amount? Is freshman initiation, inclusive of kangaroo court, beanies, etc., being discontinued to protect freshmen from innocent, traditional fun, or to protect others from reoccurrence of the embarrassment suffered last fall when things definitely got out of hand?

I think it is a shame and disgrace to the students, faculty, and alumni of River Falls College that we have reached a point whereby we must admit that there is no one in the entire institution who could successfully and intelligently sponsor the tradition of freshman initiation.

Improved Falcons Edge Tough Pointers 13-7

Cross Country Team Begins Four-Mile Preparatory Jaunts

by Eddie Fisk

The River Falls cross-country team began conditioning exercises Monday, Sept. 14. If the team is to have a successful season it will be mainly due to the running efforts of senior Danny Teetzen. At the present time he holds the school record for the two mile run. "Teetzen is one of the best distance runners to ever attend River Falls," said Falcon coach Fran Polsfoot.

The only other returning letterman from last year's team is sophomore Eddie Fisk. The other members who have reported for running are freshmen Wendell Hillskotter, Jack Powell, Jerome Halvorson, and Earl Burton.

The cross country boys are running four miles every day to get in good condition for the opening meet with Carleton College on Oct. 4. Anyone interested in joining the cross country team should report to the athletic office by Monday, Sept. 21.

WRA Selects Board Members

The Women's Recreation Association of RFSC will be host to the Wisconsin Athletic and Recreation Federation for College Women convention to be held October 2 and 3. Invitations have been extended to the other twenty-three colleges in the state. Approximately 60 WRA students and advisors are expected to attend the convention.

The subject of the convention is "Competition — or Fallout?" It will be a follow-up evaluation program of the Sportsdays and Playdays set up by the various colleges at last year's LaCrosse convention. Discussion groups will be held pertaining to the success of the program.

Plans are underway to get Jeanne Arth, women's tennis pro, as the guest speaker at the banquet Saturday.

Officers of the local group planning the event are Emogene Nelson, advisor; Carolyn Brown, president; Diane Dvorak, vice president; Dorothy Braun, secretary-treasurer; and Ginny Rogers, publicity.

TWO WENT DOWN but only one got up as a result of a head-on collision in Saturday night's gridiron battle at Ramer Field. Jack Omer (white 31), River Falls fullback smashed into Stevens Point end Bob Schroeder and both went down in a heap. Jack Neurer (81) and Mick Lauber (22) helped Omer to his feet and he continued in the game but Schroeder was carried off on a stretcher.

Falcon Fanfare

by John Doyle

Known throughout the Wisconsin State College Conference as one of the best offensive and defensive tackles is Jim Carew, one of Fran Polsfoot's hard charging forward wall. Caru-chi, who stands six feet and weighs a solid 220 pounds is always good for 60 hard minutes of football. Last year Jim was named an all-conference tackle, and this year is one of the co-captains being counted on to lead the 1959 Falcon gridgers to victory. Jim will always be a headache for opposing passers.

Jim Carew

Jim has earned letters in football for three years and is an active "R" Club member.

He entered River Falls from Elcho, Wisconsin, where in his pre-college days he was a three sport letterman in football, basketball, and baseball. Jim also likes to hunt and fish.

Gridmen Face Whitewater in Saturday Game

by Maury LeBreck

This Saturday River Falls will play host to Whitewater State's Quakers, a member of the Wisconsin State College Conference's southern division.

Whitewater compiled a 4-2 record last year losing only to River Falls and Stevens Point. Thus the Quakers will be out to avenge their 14-0 defeat suffered at the hands of the Falcons.

Coming with Whitewater will be 17 returning lettermen. Among them will be two all-conference selections; tackle Duane Jacobson and quarterback Roger Johnson.

River Falls won last year's game 14-0 despite going scoreless for the first period. But the Falcons struck quickly in the second stanza turning a fumble recovery into a score. The TD came on a pass from Tom Everson to Mick Lauber. Jack Delahunt's try for extra failed and the Falcons retired to the dressing room with a 6-0 halftime bulge.

In the second half, Everson tossed a short pass to Frank Sprenger who outmaneuvered the line backers and scampered 25 yards for a touchdown. The two-point conversion came on a pass from Everson to Tom Sheild.

The Falcons have four all-conference selections in end Jack Neurer, halfback Mick Lauber, guard Dick Shimel, and tackle Jim Carew returning.

Lauber Brothers Score Both River Falls TD's

by Jim Laue

River Falls' defending WSC football champs did a remarkable about-face from the previous week in dumping Stevens Point 13-7 in the conference opener before an estimated 2,000 home fans Saturday night.

Coach Fran Polsfoot's Falcons more than made up for the dismal showing against Augsburg the week before by grinding out the victory over a highly-rated Point club in one of the most rugged gridiron battles ever waged at Ramer Field. Flying turf and cracking leather were the order of the evening as the red and white posted victory number two in the current three-game series with the Pointers.

So, the stage was effectively set for Saturday's battle and the fans were not disappointed. Sparkling line play led by Neurer and tackle Jim Carew, coupled with the field generalship of Jim Hallen were key factors in the Falcon triumph. River Falls dominated the first half, allowing the Pointers to come no closer than the 22 yard line, while posting a 7-0 lead. Stevens Point failed to make a first down until two minutes had elapsed in the second period. The only serious threat was a field goal attempt from the Falcon 38 by Dick Ryskowski, which fell wide to the left in the first stanza. Carew demolished another possible threat by dismantling two Point backs and recovering their fumble during an attempted criss-cross on a punt return.

CAREW AND LARRY JULIEN halted the Pointers on the 22 in the second quarter with a crushing tackle and fumble recovery duet. Julien set up the first Falcon score late in the period with another loose ball snatch, this time on the 50. Behind excellent protection from the forward center line section of Julian, Carew, Dick Shimel, Tom Sackett and Dave LeClaire, Hallen completed four straight passes for 49 yards and mixed in a running gain of one yard for the TD. He threw to Neurer for 14 with the help of a lateral to John Lauber, then tossed for 28 to Duane Tollefson for a first down on the eight. John Lauber gained one on the ground, then Hallen fired to Mick Lauber for six before pitching again to John for the score. Hallen booted the point.

The Pointers got inside the Falcon 20 for approximately two seconds during the whole game, just long enough for speedster Jack Bush to complete a 38 yard scoring dash midway in the third period. He took a pass from Bill Kuse, then hurdled Mick Lauber in a sideline show on his way to the TD. Ryskowski's kick tied the score.

THE FALCONS drove 68 yards for the clinching score in the fourth quarter with the help of the Hallen - Mick Lauber passing combination which saw completions of 13 and 30 yards to set up Miek's one-yard scoring plunge. A tight RF pass defense held Point on the Falcon 29 late in the game before Hallen ate the ball several times to run out the clock.

River Falls' scoreboard edge showed up in the statistics, too, as the Polsfootballers totaled 249 yards to 166 for the visitors. A big edge in the passing department, led by Hallen's seven for nine for 93 yards, made the difference.

"R" Club Urges Removal Of High School Letters

Once again the "R" Club, composed of Falcon major letter winners, is requesting that high school monograms and numerals not be worn on campus or in town. Letter jackets and sweaters are permissible, provided that all letters and numbers have been taken off.

President Jim Turnquist said that while the "R" Club realizes that all students enjoy wearing high school colors, it feels that high school days are over now and that college life has begun.

Turnquist noted that in some schools, lettermen become quite violent in enforcing this rule, often going to the extreme of tearing the monograms off offenders jackets. But he added that no such action should be necessary here as all freshmen can be expected to cooperate.

Turnquist urged all former high school athletes to go out for some sport here at River Falls and thus compete for something to be really proud of — a college letter.

TRI-COUNTY LIBRARY PURCHASES 66 FILMS

Students interested in science, mathematics and social science will be glad to learn that 66 new films have been purchased by the Tri-County Cooperative Library this fall. They will be used by area schools.

The films, some of which are in color, range from 11 to 33 minutes long. They were selected in the most needed fields.

The films cost a total of $5,100 and the National Defense Act may pay up to half of this amount. If it doesn't pay that the schools participating will have three years to pay the cost.

The films will be stored in the college's film library. The towns included in this program are: Prescott, Elmwood, Ellsworth, Baldwin, Hammond, Hudson, New Richmond, Glenwood City and the campus schools in River Falls.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Comes to Campus October 6

Students and faculty members can donate blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile comes to River Falls on Tuesday, October 6. The mobile unit will be at the Lutheran Church between 1 and 7 p.m. Miss Nelson's Personal and Community Health classes will have charge of campus registration.

Persons giving blood must be between the ages of 18 and 60. Unmarried students under 21 must have "parents consent" slips signed by their parents. Take or send these slips, which can be obtained in the Student Center from Monday, September 21 until Friday, September 25, home promptly and have them with you when you report to the bloodmobile.

Students are asked to keep appointments if they sign cards. They may come to the Lutheran Church without having registered if they find later that they can give blood. However, to aid in setting up a time schedule, as many as possible should fill out the cards in advance, stating the time they wish to donate blood.

Blood donors must be in good health and never have suffered from malaria, asthma, jaundice, diabetes or bleeding ulcers; must weigh at least 110 pounds, and may not donate for one year after surgery. Donors may eat a normal diet.

The number of pints of blood used in hospitals is increasing greatly and more donors are needed to keep a sufficient supply of blood available. Pierce county residents used 305 pints of blood during the past 6 months, and any person living in any county that participates in the Red Cross blood program may receive blood without charge in case of illness or injury.

*If you have checked (D) in three out of four questions, you're pretty sharp . . . but if you picked (C)—man, you think for yourself!
