Stout Coming Here For Game Next Friday

Stout Institute is not coming over in a special train. (Not because they don't want to), nevertheless, there will be a large number of followers here at the game Friday night. The Stout team has broken into the conference running the past week by winning from Platteville by the same score that Oshkosh did. This ought to make them feel like real runners up in the conference, and undoubtedly they will be out to give their utmost in an endeavor to hold their stride.

ORGANIZATION BATTLE WAXES HOT—"Y" LEADS

Organization basketball is now going through the crucial stage. To keep in the running some of the teams must win their remaining games, or be aided by the top-notchers losing a few games. Games the past week have drawn the leaders farther out in front. The Ag's crept up a notch closer to the "Y" by coming from behind in the last half to win from the N. C. A. Inability to make their shots count cost the Civics Club a defeat by the leaders.

LET'S KEEP IT UP!

The "River Falls Special" pulled in Friday afternoon, with about one hundred and fifty rooters, besides the team and several faculty members. As soon as they unloaded, the "lid came off" their inexhaustible fund of pep, with a bang that echoed all over town. Never lacking in this sporting quality at any time, the crowd seemed unusually bent on keeping up their moral, this time—Stoutonia.

Y. M. STAG SATURDAY

Every man in the institution, from the most dignified faculty member to the greenest freshman is invited to the stag party next Saturday evening. For once, all the dignity of the classroom will be forgotten and all the men of the school will get together for an evening's fun. Some of the high lights—Prof. Methuselah and one of his friends will discuss the younger generation; the faculty is organizing an all-star volley ball team.

Do not come in your Sunday suit if you do it won't look much like itself when you leave. After the entertainment bean soup will be served—all you can eat. We have been exceedingly fortunate in securing the services of the famous beansoup artist, J. P. Jacobson, to concoct the delightful delicacy.

Plan for it, and be there next Saturday evening, February 14, in the North Hall Gym.

AURELIA PLANS PROGRAM

Thursday being the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday, there will be a special program given by the Aurelia during the assembly hour. There will be music by the orchestra and a girl's quartet. Margaret Jackson will read, "He Knew Lincoln," Isabel Hart, "Lincoln, a Man of the People," Amy Fuller, "Lincoln Walks at Night (in Springfield, Illinois.)"

Red and White Scores Almost At Will

In a one-sided game, Coach Eggebrecht's basket cagers completely outclassed the Stevens Point Normal here Thursday night by the lopsided score of 41-13.

Though not as close as previous games here this year, the game was interesting and amusing from the spectators point of view inasmuch as it included all the diversities of the indoor sport. It was an excellent brand of basketball displayed by the Red & White. It would take some team to stop the Red & White in the form they were in Thursday night. Their floor plays were executed with timely precision which repeatedly resulted in a goal from close range. Then there were some lively scrambles after the ball, and some hard knocks which sprawled the men out on the floor for a short count—all of which went to add fight to the game.

There was, however, no intentional roughness, and the game was free

HIGH SCHOOL TOURNAMENT CONFLICTS WITH EXAMS

To all of us the end of the term means "exams," and to a large number it also means "cramming." To a large per cent of the student body, the High School Tournament implies a period during which the minimum amount of studying (or even less than that) is done. This year these two dates coincide. How can we lessen the conflict?

MELETEAN VAUDEVILLE

The Senior Class announces "The Fables of 1925," the annual vaudeville performance for the benefit of the Meletean, at the auditorium Friday evening, February 20 Watch for complete program in our next issue.

NEW PROM PLAN

This year will be one of transition as far as the Junior Prom is concerned, for no one class will be entirely responsible for its success or failure as has been true in the past.

The Junior Prom is the biggest social event of the school year at River Falls, and being the biggest event, should be the most successful. When it was decided that hereafter the Second Year class should act as host at the Prom, the Social Committee agreed to take the responsibility this year. This does not mean, however, that these representatives of the whole student body can do this without the hearty cooperation of the whole student body—quite the contrary. If this Prom is to be the success that all Proms have been, every student must cooperate with the Social Committee, and do his share. It is not often that a Student body has the privilege of being guests of honor as well as hosts and hostesses at one of the more formal school functions, so help make the occasion one that can be happily remembered.

AGRICULTURE NOTES

Otto Kruiziger, '24, located at Cameron, Wis., says he is enjoying his work. Otto has just organized a parent-teachers organization and expects to work in some demonstrations as part of the program.

Seniors—Have you already reported to Prof. May concerning your choice of a demonstration? If not, do so immediately. All Ag. seniors are expected to report not later than this week.

Roy Jones was called to his home at Wild Rose, Wis., last Wednesday on account of the death of his father.

The Federal Veterinarian, Dr. Downey of Madison, was here last week and made a tuberculin test of the Normal herds. None of the animals were found with tuberculosis.

Wilson, Hagge, and Gerkie made a trip to the cities Saturday. We understand they were interested in automobiles.

Prof. Spriggs is still seriously ill at his home. A specialist from Minneapolis attended him Saturday and his conclusions are that Mr. Spriggs will soon be on the road to recovery.

E. J. Prucha and H. G. Anderson returned from Madison Saturday morning. They report the Farmers' Week program very interesting. Several very noted men spoke and they really said some things that are worth considering. The display of the Grain Show was wonderful, there being excellent samples of corn, potatoes and small grains, considering the adverse season we had. The attendance was larger than usual. A number of River Falls graduates were in attendance with teams from the various high schools who took part in the different contests conducted by the Wisconsin Experiment Association. Prize winners will be announced next week.

from personal contact—two personal fouls was the most imposed on any man. The shooting of the Pointers added to the amusement, although at times they had hard luck at the goal. Their shots from close range were smothered by the superb guarding of Quandt and Dawson.

Cleberg started his long string of goals after a few minutes of play, and Quandt came through with his customary long one shortly after. Bergy found the net and rolled the score up to 8 to 0 before the Point took time out to solve the situation.

Schultz got a chance to start their scoring via the foul route but failed. Heebink made the count 12 to 0 on a pretty follow-in shot before Williams broke the ice on a foul shot which brought a rise from the crowd, which also greeted their few successive goals with loud cheers.

Stevens Point drew first blood when Quandt received a biff in the mouth, and time was taken out to tape Hale. Herrick finally bagged a field goal for the Point. Gibson went in for Cleberg, who already had 3 goals to his credit, but the elusive forward soon went in again to relieve Heebink, who went down for a short count as a result of a head-on collision with Bergy. Hanson went in for Laabs at guard and Eggebrecht immediately sent Donovan in for the big guard to watch. Atkinson went in shortly afterwards for Swan who was forced from the game with a bad ankle. Shortly before the half Williams sank a long one making the count 21 to 8.

Stevens Point came back with new life in the second half and ran their score up to 13 before the Falls got going. Heebink started it by rolling in another follow in shot, and thereafter the Red & White swept the Pointers off their feet. Bergy furnished a thrill when he emerged from a scramble with three Point men and caged a goal on a clever shot. In the last minutes O'Malley, Zamjohn, and Donovan got into the fray and the game came to a quiet ending. Luckily it had, for had it been exciting as previous games, the feeble whistle of the time keeper would hardly have brought it to a close. The gun, however, came to after the players left the floor.
