Marg Moors To Attend ACE Conference

Marjorie Moors has been selected by the local ACE group to attend the 1948 ACE Study Conference at St. Louis the week of April 19.

At a recent meeting members of the group expressed their preference to events they wish her to attend and report on. She will visit a modern elementary school in St. Louis including discussions with the school faculty under the guidance of an ACE leader, take part in Student Branch forums, and attend interest study groups. Special excursions are planned to help acquaint delegates with St. Louis.

Democratic education will be the theme of the general sessions held each evening.

The local ACE group has been requested to send in problems they would like discussed by the student forums. Materials will also be submitted for display.

Enough money was raised by the ACE sponsored puppet show to finance their delegate's expenses completely.

QUARTER MILLION DOLLAR BUILDING IS PLANNED

WILL HAVE SEATING CAPACITY OF 3,000

A drive to raise $250,000 for a new athletic and recreation building on the college campus was launched last week.

Although building plans have not been completed, the new structure will be capable of seating 3,000 spectators. Complete facilities to carry on a full varsity and intra-mural sports program will be provided. The building will also be used for farm shows, exhibits, and other community functions, as well as various college activities.

The River Falls State Teachers College Foundation, a non-profit corporation, has been organized to solicit and administer contributions from former students, alumni, and other friends of the college.

Articles of incorporation were filed recently in Madison by Mr. Ed. Rock, Mr. Elmer Benson, and President E. H. Kleinpell. A board of directors will be chosen soon.

A systematic campaign is being organized in an attempt to reach all former students and friends of the college. Last Tuesday night about 10,000 envelopes were addressed and filled by the faculty and their wives at a "Pen and Ink" party. These letters were sent to former students informing them of the new gym project and asking them for their support in the drive. A local group of business men met last Thursday night to discuss and organize the drive for funds.

IMPORTANT TO VETERANS!

All Public Law 346 veterans will automatically receive 15 days additional leave pay beyond May 28, 1948. If you do not want this additional pay and want to save this time for future study stop at the veterans desk and fill out the necessary form before April 16, 1948.

All Public Law 346 veterans with children who wish to file for additional subsistence must turn in certified copies of the children's birth certificates not later than April 16, 1948, at the veterans desk.

High Schools Here For Speech Meet

The district speech contest of the Wisconsin High School Forensic Association was held at the college on Saturday, April 10. More than 90 high school students participated in the meet.

Participants from the following high schools were here: Hammond, Baldwin, Prescott, River Falls, Hudson, New Richmond, Frederic, Amery, Ellsworth, Centuria, Boyceville, Clayton, Clear Lake, Dunn County Aggie, Elmwood, Grantsburg, Luck, Siren, Spring Valley, Turtle Lake, Union, Webster, and Woodville.

Miss Grace Walsh and Mr. Earl Kjer of Eau Claire State Teachers college, Miss Ann Simley of Hamline university, and Mr. H. W. Matheson of the speech department of Eau Claire high school acted as judges.

The contest was supervised by Miss Hawkins and Miss Mohr-dieck.

DANIEL ATTENDS MOCK UNITED NATIONS SESSION

Louis Daniel participated in the Wisconsin Student U. N. Conference in Madison last Friday and Saturday.

Daniel, a prominent debater, was chosen as the River Falls delegate because of his wide experience and his knowledge of the international scene. He acted as the Yugoslavian delegate.

The trip was financed jointly by Pi Kappa Delta and the Student Senate.

Participating colleges sent as many as five delegates to the conference, which aims to promote understanding of the United Nations and its functions.

HELP THEM OUT —

A Plea for Old Clothes

At a meeting of the officers of all campus organizations, Thursday afternoon, plans were made to make a house to house clothing drive on Saturday, April 17. The city was divided into areas for each organization. Members of the club will call at each residence in their area before Wednesday night to inform the townspeople of the collection on Saturday morning.

Every day letters from Europe are delivered right here in River Falls. The people who write these letters are pleading for food and clothing. They haven't enough clothes to keep their half-starved bodies warm.

AIR FORCE WILL RECRUIT THIS WEEK

Pilot training and non-rated officer candidate opportunities now being offered by the U. S. Air Force will be described by Captain W. W. Howard and W. M. Schramph at RFSTC on April 15 and 16 from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. The meeting will be open to all young men from this area.

Legislative Affairs Interest Students

Students of this institution are not caught unawares in regard to national legislative affairs. Approximately 100 students signed a petition and sent it as a telegram to Senator Alexander Wiley, United States Senator from Wisconsin, supporting Universal Military Training.

Senator Wiley, in a letter to Fred Thome and the other petitioners, expressed his "delight to have your judgment and that of your associates and friends on this subject." He went on to substantiate his support of ERP and UMT.

Veterans comprise a large number of the students at River Falls State Teachers College. As the reply of Senator Wiley implies, our national government is interested in the veteran's opinion and judgment.

Now that house cleaning is in full swing, our mothers are finding many items of clothing that no one can wear. The campus organizations are asking that the students bring these items from home and put them into the clothing drive. If you go home the seventeenth, bring these items back and leave them at the home economics room in the basement of South Hall.

Any kind of clothing will do. They especially need shoes, socks, skirts, sweaters, dresses, shirts, trousers, underwear, coats and jackets. Even hats and ties will be greatly appreciated.

ALL-SCHOOL DANCE

The Newman club will sponsor an all school dance Friday, April 23 at 8:30 in the North hall gym.

Edmund Lukajuski, of Minneapolis, will furnish the music and call the dances.

Those attending are asked to wear old clothes.

WILL TALK ON EUROPEAN PROBLEMS

MARTIN HALL

Martin Hall, world traveler, educator, lecturer, and author, will speak here April 26 at 10 a. m. in the college auditorium.

A native of Germany and an American citizen by naturalization, Mr. Hall brings to the platform over 12 years of experience and travel as a journalist in Europe and the Soviet Union.

An anti-Hitler German and veteran of the German underground, Mr. Hall escaped the Nazis in 1936 and came to America, where he became an American citizen. In 1947 he returned to Europe, bringing back an eyewitness report on the effects on Europe of our current American foreign policy.

A Cappella Choir In Radio Program

The A Cappella choir broadcasted a half-hour program over radio station KSTP, Minneapolis, Saturday afternoon. The program included both sacred and secular music. Transportation was furnished choir members in cars.

The choir will again broadcast over radio station WCCO Saturday, April 24, from 3 to 3:15.

Later that afternoon they will make musical recordings at Paul Schmidt's Music Company, also situated in the Twin Cities.

IMPROVED BAND IN ANNUAL CONCERT

A greatly improved concert band presented its 13th annual spring concert in the college auditorium last Thursday.

Playing a group of difficult selections, the band showed the result of long hours of painstaking rehearsals. Especially pleasing was the "Slavonic Rhapsody" by Friedmann, with its sustained harmonies, and its clarinet solo, played with dexterity and brilliance by Dick Phillips. The baritone solo by Eric Von Schweinitz enabled the audience to hear the possibilities of an instrument not generally considered a solo instrument.

The program was well arranged with a variety of selections from Bach to Gershwin.

Mr. B. J. Rozehnal directs the band, assisted by Nicholas Jadinak.

Centennial Drama Festival Held Here

A Centennial Drama Festival was held at the college auditorium April 2, in which eight organizations presented one-act plays.

The festival was part of a state wide celebration of Wisconsin's Centennial. The plays were criticized by Mr. Robert Gard, a field representative of the Wisconsin Idea Theatre and Miss Martha Van Kleeck, a member of the Centennial Committee on Drama.

Other Wisconsin teachers colleges will be hosts to similar groups in their areas.

From the dramatic groups throughout the state, representative plays will be chosen to be presented at the State Fair this summer.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I have just laid down the letter to the Editor in the latest issue of the Student Voice with my ire aroused. But as God's warm sunshine pours in the window I lean back and reflect. You know, I wonder if... His Satanic Majesty, the Devil, yawned and stretched on his fiery, red throne and kicked a klincker off his footstool.

"Smudgepot", he said, "What is going on up at the Pearly Gates?"

Smudgepot wiped the soot off his telescope and peered through it.

"There is a fellow with a Wallace button on climbing up the road now," squeaked Smudgepot. "He's rubbing his eyes as if he didn't believe it. He's probably one of those pseudo scientific guys that scoff at miracles. Well, die and learn I always say. St. Peter is coming out now, your Satanic Majesty, and he is stopping the wretch. Well, the fellow is arguing. It seems he lived in a Christian country along with about one hundred million of your slaves, sir, and because he lived under the shadow of a church he claims a trumpet blast of recognition. Of all the gall! This is good—he is one of those intellectuals who read the twenty-third Psalm once and now claim indisputable authority to say your Enemy came on earth only to set up a system of morality and a code of civil rights and not to die in order to redeem your slaves from their self-destruction if they will call on His name. You know, your Majesty, I can't help chuckling when I think how you have duped those naive egoists into thinking that going to church once a week or signing a temperance sheet will secure them a reward."

"Yes", beamed His Majesty, "yes"—as he neatly flicked a cinder from his crown.

"Now", smirked Smudgepot, "he is claiming he is one hundred per cent American, whatever that is, and wants two trumpet blasts. He even sold Christmas cards for half price; three blasts now are his demand. Oh, your Satanic Majesty, th's is rich! Now he has a church membership card, too. What's this? St. Peter is saying something about discrimination and hypocrisy and why didn't he read the Bible and truly repent of his misdeeds instead of walking about as a whited sepulcher. Now this fellow is pulling out a carpenter's union card—I don't see—Wow, St. Peter has him by the collar, is swinging him into the air and is going to drop him right into our delivery chute. Pardon me, your Majesty, while I light my blow torch. I am going to give this one the hotfoot."

His Satanic Majesty leaned back and smiled. Yes—victory is sweet.

Then I awoke. A dream? Yes. And yet, do you know Mr. Editor, a lingering stench of burning hair pervaded the atmosphere.

Walter Samson came into the cafeteria Thursday morning and ordered a big breakfast. He had just become a father! I thought of asking the usual trite question, "Is it a boy or girl?" But I was afraid he'd answer brightly, "of course, what else could it be?" So I substituted the question, "What did you name 'it'?", and found out that the baby was not an "it", but rather a "he", name of Phillip. There will probably be a run on the cigar market for a few days. Congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Walter Samson!

I just lately found out that some of my best friends go into "dives", and upon the instructor's insistence, too! But I gathered that they were only trying to improve their swimming skill.

Flash! It has just been reported through reliable sources that the 4th of July has an added celebration value for bachelors—they've once more made it safely through the fatal month of June—still bachelors. That must be the straight dope—just ask Fritz Subke; he said it.

Willie Wisdom was down from Madison the weekend of the last North hall dance, with his winning smile—and influencing people. I think Rosemary Lofgren could tell you more about his activities, so ask her—I don't gossip.

SPECTATOR EDITOR REPLIES TO REPLY

T'ain't whatcha say, it's the way that-cha say it!

This ungrammatical observation was underlined this week by an exchange of correspondence between Voice commentator Les Gaylord and Robert Couture, editor of the Eau Claire Teachers college Spectator.

It all started with a sports column in the February 23 issue of the Eau Claire paper in which River Falls students detected a tone of ridicule. Les undertook to protest the article to the Eau Claire editor in a letter which appeared in the March 8 Student Voice. The U. S. mail last week brought us Mr. Couture's "reply to the reply."

Editor Couture expressed the hope that the Spectator article didn't arouse any considerable resentment, as "our editorial policy doesn't have such objectives." He conceded that the tone used might have caused some injury, but he stated that the columnist was writing under a byline and was not necessarily speaking for the editorial staff of the paper.

In wishing River Falls success in its plans for a new gymnasium, the Spectator chief opined that "if Dr. Kleinpell goes about these plans in a manner similar to the way he performed at Madison last year in the fight for more appropriations for education, it seems a foregone conclusion that the new gymnasium isn't far off."

"Rest assured", he went on, "that we will try to minimize any abusive harangues by our columnists which may cause offense."

Nuff said. Leave us leave the matter die a natural death!

Dear Editor:

The letter by E. J. Wyman, addressed to the editor and published in the last issue of the Student Voice epitomizes a grave truth—that the world (including American pseudo Christians) would kill Christ again in event of a second incarnation. However, I wish to point out some fallacies which I assume to be the basis for E. J.'s reasoning.

In the first place, Christ was the master of every situation. In that day He was not servant to the Roman impositions nor would He be subject to the CIO today. Miracle scoffers could not stop the miracles so they conjured methods to stop the Miraculous and they were successful only at His permission.

The author of the letter evidently never realized the significance of Palm Sunday or he would not have suggested that Christ enter politics. The Son of God had more important business than government. NOTE: His refusal to be crowned "king of the Jews" as He rode into Jerusalem.

The most glaring misconception evident in the letter is the assumed purpose

Marilyn Jones in it, how can it be "blue?"

Harold "Somerset" Shay has been running around with his top off, but in the case of his convertible, it looks good!

Dick Yde, too, is among the new car buyers. He really keeps a shine to that Ford. That's what I'd call "polish"!

Home from Northwestern University, was our friend Dick Freeman. He dropped into the caf for a chat with friends—just before Easter vacation.

Have you heard about our new engaged couple, Glenn Ausen and Ruth Woods? She's got it—yes, indeed, a lovely diamond ring!

"Golden Earrings" will be the theme for the Junior Prom this year. This choice was made from numerous suggestions presented to the general committee. Peggy Rock, Rose Thorsbakken, Jane Olson and Marilyn Krueger are the winners of $3 and Prom tickets for two. Isn't it nice that it is Leap Year, fellows?

The Prom Committee will probably dabble with the idea of having fish stew instead of the customary punch for refreshments—to give it that true-to-cinema-life touch of the show of the same name.

of Christ. Christ stated that He came to save souls, not to save a fallen society. He came to redeem fallen man spiritually, not to rehabilitate man temporally. His teachings on morality were incidental to His urging man to be "born again". In short, E. J., has the purpose of Christ's presence confused with the result of His presence.

As long as men shall take Christ and use Him for their purpose they shall continue to manifest their corruptness; but when we allow Christ to take us and use us for His purpose, then we will manifest His righteousness.

True, E. J. and others would kill Christ again today but He would repeat, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do".

Mel Steinbron.

Editor:

President Truman stooped rather low the other week when he suggested that Henry Wallace and his Communists be sent to Russia "where they belong." Perhaps, though, he can be excused, for in some ways he seems a rather simple man and didn't quite realize the import of what he was saying.

Fear is already producing symptoms of the very disease we hope to fight off.

In an American college a professor, when he suggested the formation of a campus Wallace-for-President club, was called into the college president's office where it was suggested to him that he either get out of politics or get out of the college. It seems almost impossible that this happened in the United States where the Constitution guarantees us the free expression of our beliefs; it more nearly resembles something that might have happened in, say, Hitler's Germany.

Such manifestations of irresponsible thinking by national leaders contain a severe threat to our basic democratic principles; whereas the efforts of a citizen to elect to the office of President the man he deems most fit is an American right.

Prof. vs Student

Here's Your Rulebook

North Manchester, Ind.(ACP)—A writer for THE OAK LEAVES of Manchester College proposes the following check list to minimize student-faculty friction.

For Faculty:

1. Are you ever unfair because of personal attitude—either your attitude or that of the student?
2. Do you have your lesson prepared every day—with new jokes now and then, the lesson thought through on a college level and with questions that should challenge the student, rather than bore him?
3. Do you also realize that each student has two or three other subjects besides yours, and make your assignments accordingly?
4. Are you impartial in class discussions?
5. Do you dismiss class on time, as well as being on time?
6. Do you attempt to make your subject especially interesting to students who are not enthusiastic?
7. Are you neat and clean in appearance always?

For Students:

1. Do you get to class on time always, and keep appointments?
2. Are you neat and clean in appearance every day?
3. Do you attempt to be attentive and courteous in class, even when the subject seems a little dull to you?
4. Do you have your lesson prepared every day?
5. Do you put forth special effort before expecting an "A"?
6. Do you protest injustices to the professor courteously, in order that he may remedy them, rather than complaining impotently to your roommate and the world at large?
7. Do you refrain from conducting your private correspondence and conversations in class?

In Comment . . .

— by Les Gaylord

THE DIRECTIVE IN regard to "cuts" that the administration issued before the Easter vacation has caused considerable comment from both the students and, on the side, from members of the faculty. Some feel that this new order needlessly high-lights unauthorized absences. A few, of course, resent being unable to linger an extra day or two over vacations. Others believe that though this ruling may improve attendance to classes, it will harm the attitude of those who attend. Just as law has never made a man whit more just, compulsion has, probably never created a better student.

WHATEVER THE ATTITUDE taken it is obvious that this recent directive by the administration is a direct reversal of its formerly stated policy. In his welcoming address last fall, Pres. Kleinpell congratulated the students upon their "intelligent decision to attend college". And, following this, added: "The responsibility for education is yours, not the faculty's". The recent directive indicates that Dr. Kleinpell no longer believes that those same students whom he complimented are capable of making future intelligent educational decisions. It removes from the students upon whom he placed the burden of education the choice of attendance, without outside compulsion which goes hand in hand with educational responsibility.

OUT OF THE 750 students who left for Christmas vacation, the 56 who slipped away one day early and the 82 who returned a day late are reported to be responsible for this new policy. It is evident, if the administration can be so easily disillusioned, that its original policy had not been carefully considered before being put into practice. The students who left early or returned late were accepting their responsibility and governing their education as fully as those who followed what the administration expected of them and attended classes. If agreement is always necessary, freedom of choice without punishment is eliminated. If freedom of choice is eliminated, the responsibility for education has been taken over, to a large extent always agree.

SUCH DRASTIC REVERSAL of policy in the middle of the year engenders needless bitterness. It is only natural, after having wisely or unwisely carried the burden of education urged upon them, that the students would resent having it so brusquely removed. One can grow rather fond even of one's burdens. But it is only equally as natural for the administration, upon seeing the seed which it planted in the fall grow, to be alarmed at its waywardness. Delinquency was not what it expected.

WE WOULD LIKE TO SUGGEST that before a policy is declared in the future it might be wise to carefully consider its functionings and its results. It would be well to keep in mind that the desire for education is not instilled in a student by force but by persuasion—the result of cooperation between instructor and student. The policy or action that hampers that spirit of cooperation strikes a blow at the essential life force of education. We believe that the administration through its recent drastic reversal of policy has struck just such a blow.

Sport Highlights and Predictions

by Bob Gavic

It looks like we're going to have a few new faces on the coaching staffs around the conference next year due to the promotion of a couple of the mentors. Coach Smith of La Crosse has accepted the head football coaching job at Indiana University and has named Ted Whereatt of Superior State Teachers as his assistant. One of the more outstanding high school coaches in this part of the country has also resigned to coach in Minnesota. He is Coach Woock, who has been at St. Croix the past year and will be at Aikin, Minn., next season.

April 1st almost went by unnoticed this year except for one or two practical jokes. The victim of one of these was Professor (coach) Schlagenhauf. As he entered his football coaching class room, a big "April Fool George" written on the board stared him in the face. Mr. Schlagenhauf sat around quite some time waiting for his four student class of Wilson, McCardle, Schock, and Cardinal to show up, but it seems the boys spent the hour drinking coffee in the cafeteria. "Butch" kept the boys entertained as usual telling them just "how" and "why" he did "it" during the past football season.

TRACK INAUGURATED AT RIVER FALLS

The first track team to represent River Falls in the history of the school is being organized. More than 25 men are working out for the team.

The team will participate in a triangular meet at Winona on May 7. River Falls will be represented at the state meet which will be held in Milwaukee on May 15.

De Long Honored by Chippewa Merchants

Nate DeLong was honored by the business men of Chippewa Falls when he was presented with a gold watch at a dinner held on April 7. Nate's nickname "Mr. Swish" is engraved on the watch.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schlagenhauf attended the dinner. Coach Schlagenhauf was one of the speakers.

Gordon Olson and Gene Cardinal, who prepped at Chippewa High, and who played football last fall for the Falcons, also were present at the dinner.

CANCER SOCIETY LAUNCHES DRIVE

April has been nationally proclaimed as Cancer Control Month in which a drive is underway to recruit members in The American Cancer Society. Mrs. Howard Collins of River Falls has been named chairman for Pierce county. A "Task Force" of recruiters has been organized by her to obtain members in the American Cancer Society and to receive contributions to further the work of the Society.

In the past few years great progress has been made in the field of research and already a considerable decline has resulted in the incidence of many dreaded diseases. Won't you help in this National endeavor to reduce the "death rate of Cancer victims"? Today and every day people are dying from Cancer at the rate of "one every three minutes". Your contribution will help fight Cancer in the following ways:

RESEARCH—Under the direction of the nation's leading scientists, more than 250 Research Projects are under way in our greatest medical and educational institutions. Probing, searching, testing, these soldiers of science are devoting their lives to the cause of finding a cure for cancer.

SERVICE—The Service Program is designed to provide a source of public information concerning cancer and the facilities available in your community for the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

EDUCATION—All the tools of Service and all the knowledge of Research are of no avail—unless the public is aroused to the "Personal Threat of Cancer."

For years science has been hampered by the "taboo of silence"—the cloak of fear and ignorance which is cancer's greatest ally. Everyone, everywhere, must learn that DELAY can cause as high as 35 per cent of all Cancer deaths. Everyone must learn cancer's danger signals and what to do when cancer is suspected.

Locally Mrs. Chalmer Davee is the captain in charge of solicitors recruiting members for the American Cancer Society in a manner similar to that used by the American Red Cross.

Any and all contributions will be greatly appreciated. If you are not solicited and wish to make a contribution (this will generally be the case in rural areas) won't you please mail your contribution to Mrs. Chalmer Davee or to Mrs. Howard Collins. Business establishments will be solicited, but EMPLOYEES of these establishments will please make their contributions to the representatives who will call at their residences.

MAN of the HOUR

by Jack Wyman

Doug is a great man; no one is quicker to admit this than Doug. He becomes irked when the press does not see Doug the way that Doug sees Doug. The press is wrong. Once some newspaper men said some unkind things about Doug. Doug found this distressing; he sued them for a lot of money. The courts were reactionary; they didn't give him the money he asked for. I do not think he liked this. Not too long ago, Doug tried to keep certain press correspondents out of Japan; this made a lot of people mad including the correspondents. The Army quickly took the privilege of admitting the reporters out of the hands of the Supreme Commander. I do not think he liked this either.

Doug earned a great reputation during the war; he said, "I shall return." He did. One day, the army—by the grace of God and Doug—returned to Leyte. Doug stood on the quarterdeck of a transport. The scrambled eggs on his hat glistened in the sun. He was immaculate; he was very pretty. He expected the waters to roll back and make a path for him to the beach. The water didn't do this. The Supreme Commander had to wade ashore. He got his pants wet. He was unhappy. Later, many soldiers were killed in the Ormoc corridor. This made the Navy unhappy; the navy had planned to by-pass the Philippines in their island hopping campaigns. Doug wouldn't hear of it; he was adamant. Doug won. Many mother's sons lie in the Ormoc mud today. For this reason they can't vote for Doug; perhaps their mothers and fathers will. Bertie McCormick will; so will Bill Hearst. They have no forgotten sons in the Philippine mud.

Doug has a son named Arthur MacArthur. He is Doug's pride and joy. Every morning he allows Arthur to salute him many times. Arthur is learning respect.

Doug has been away from the U. S. for many years. This has not prevented him from keeping himself informed on current domestic problems. Bertie McCormick and Bill Hearst help him. Doug knows a lot about farming. Recently he said that the farm problems are the same the world over. By this he means that the rice paddies of China are the same as the giant wheat farms of the Dakotas. This is obvious to everyone but the Chinese and the Dakotans. They are stupid if they can't see the relationship. Doug also said another thing which may turn out to be the watchword of the world. He said, "If a war comes, it will come in the future." How illuminating! How wise art thou, O sage of Bataan!

Doug made a hit in Washington during the depression years. Once, when hungry, bonus-seeking vets marched on the capital, Doug set up machine guns and arranged to have the vets fired on.

Doug has great respect for three things. They are: God, the flag, and Doug. He often confuses the first with the last, but this is permissible for Doug is a great man.

CAFETERIA GETS NEW EQUIPMENT

Mr. Gage's two recent purchases for the cafeteria, a French-fryer and a pastry oven, will soon be yielding some delicious food.

The French-fryer, to be used for French-fries, plus fried chicken, pork chops, veal cutlets, and some other types of meat, cannot be installed until a heavier voltage line for heating than the college is receiving now can be installed.

With the addition of the new pastry oven, pies, cakes, and other pastries will be served more frequently than before. More bran muffins and other hot breads will also be more frequent on the menus.

FACULTY SUPPER

The college faculty will be entertained at a pancake supper Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the Goldenrod Room. Special entertainment has been planned by the social committee.

JERNEY'S REDECORATED

A job of redecoration was completed recently at the Jerney Boarding club. The two dining rooms and the living rooms were papered, which gives the club the homey atmosphere so desired by the students eating there.

Not one meal was interrupted during this process. "Ma" Jerney is to be complimented on her management.

The "R" Club is holding its annual party on April 16, 1948, at the Terrace Cafe at Lake City, Minn. Doyle Beyl, Jim Kosec, and Wayne Sinnen have been appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the event and the boys promise this year's event will top anything shown before.

"Boots" Deiss Gains National Rating

Eugene "Boots" Deiss, reserve forward on the RFSTC basketball team this past season, placed second in the best foul shooter figures among the small college basketball players during the 1948 season.

Deiss was second to Frank Cochran of the Delta, Miss., State Teachers team. Deiss netted 43 of 53 free throws for an .811 average compared to Cochran's .837 on 36 conversions out of 43 attempts.

YMCA TO MEET

On Wednesday evening, April 21, there will be a meeting of the YMCA for the purpose of electing new officers for next year.

This meeting is very important and all members are urged to attend. Notices will be posted at a later date designating the time and place for the meeting.

STORK CLUB FAVORED IN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The intramural softball league will begin play on Monday, April 12. There are 13 teams entered in the league.

Practice games were played last week. From the results of these games it seems that the Stork Club again will make a strong bid for the title which they won last year.

Strong opposition to the Stork Club may develop from the Blue Caps if Cal Timm can maintain his strike-out pace. In a five inning practice game against the State Jugs Timm struck out 13 batters.

Eight games will be played each week. All games will begin at 4 p. m.

Many Veterans Out for Baseball

No green grass equals greener baseball players. Spring, late in arriving, has finally allowed Coach Oscar Sjowall's boys on the diamond.

Due at Concordia April 19 for their opening game, the team needs sunshine and practice after a long cold winter.

Moundmen look promising and include Dan Demulling, veteran of last year, "Herb" Guith, an experienced thrower, Al Franko, and "Buster" Layman.

Several of last year's boys are back. Fellows, Cardinal, Benson, and Olson are keeping the infield active. Miles and "Bob" Smith seem to be holding their own behind home base.
