NUMBER 31

FRIDAY NIGHT DANCE

Last Friday evening, the last dance that is arranged for by the Student Social committee, was given.

A local seven-piece orchestra, consisting of piano, violin, clarinet, cornet, trombone, drums and xylophone, furnished the music.

The chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hayward, and Mr. and Mrs. Davison. About 100 couples attended and everyone had a very enjoyable time.

We are all looking forward to the matinee dance that has been planned for the near future.

CAST FOR CLASS

PLAY SELECTED

The cast for the class play has been selected by Miss Nellie Schlosser. The play will be "The Roman-cers," by Rostand.

The cast includes a groupe of the best stage performers of the student body, most of which are experienced actors. The principal members of the cast are: John Williams, Erwin Davidson, Gilbert Anderson, Evelyn Roloff, Louie Seefeldt, and Harry Newman.

ALL SCHOOL PICNIC MAY 5, 1921

Students! Don't make any other plans or arrangements for May 5. That is to be the gala day of the year when all members of the student body and faculty may enjoy a day in the open.

The final plans for the event will be published in next week's issue of the Voice.

SWEATERS GIVEN

BASKETBALL MEN

At yesterday's assembly the members of the squad were presented with the official letters and sweaters of the school in recognition of the valuable service performed during the past season.

The men who received sweaters were, Capt. Rice, Capt.-elect Carolan, Morrow, Wright, Melvin, Olson and Chinnock.

MACALESTER HERE TODAY

Don't forget that today is the day when the gang is going to turn out to see the local club swingers make amends for the rude treatment received at the hands of the Macs a year ago. Let's plan on being there

THE MAN WHO MARRIED A DUMB WIFE

A rare treat was offered Monday evening when the men of the faculty stepped out into the limelight and presented their satire comedy, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife."

The first act centered around the difficulties of Leonard Botal, as played by Mr. Jacobson, who married a woman who could not talk. The defect of his wife, Catherine, taken by Mr. Hayward, was a source of worry and sorrow to Botal. He finally hit upon a plan whereby she might have her speech restored by a cure. The doctor thinks such a cure possible. An operation as performed by the surgeon was a success, due, no doubt, to the strength of the instruments used.

In the second act we find that Leonard Botal's troubles had in reality just begun. His wife, who is now able to talk as fluently as most of her sex, keeps up a steady stream of conversation. Her husband is driven to desperation. Finding that the doctor is unwilling to deprive her of her ability to talk, Botal gives up hope. The doctor suggests that he, Botal, might be deprived of his hearing. The plan is accepted after some hesitation.

The play ended in a tragic manner. Catherine goes mad when she finds her husband can not hear her talk. She bites her husband, who bites others and all become mad.

All in the cast were true stars and took their parts very naturally. Miss Schlosser, who coached the play, worked especially hard and is to be commended upon the success which the play achieved. Miss Schlosser was presented with a bouquet from the men of the cast, as an appreciation of her work with them.

The bouquets presented to the faculty men after the conclusion of the play were prepared by the women of the faculty.

BENEFIT MOVIE FRIDAY NIGHT

"Half A Chance," a recent 7-reel Pathe release and Pathe weekly are to be shown Friday night at eight o'clock in North Hall auditorium.

This movie is being shown for the benefit of the Oratorical association, whose funds are badly depleted.

The price is only 25c, so you can't afford to miss it. Date her up now!

FALLS NINE REGISTERS SEC- OND WIN OVER LUTHER

SEMINARY—SCORE 11 TO 3

In the return game with Luther Seminary, played at St. Paul last Saturday, the locals again took the measure of the Lutherans.

Rice pitched his first ball of the season for the home team. The lanky right-hander handled the job creditably but did not show his old-time effectiveness. He was relieved by Gurnoe in the eighth inning.

The Chandlerites showed an improvement in their offensive play by garnering nine bingles and exhibiting unusual pep and daring in their base running. Olson featured in this department with three thefts, the last of which was a steal of home.

The first tally came in the second inning after Johnson had fanned. Olson was hit by the pitcher and stole second. Melvin fanned. Gurnoe singled, scoring Olson. Gurnoe was then caught stealing, Scharfe to Schauer.

Two more runs were sent over in the fourth. Carlson and Davis singled. Johnson flied out to second. Olson slammed a double, scoring Carlson. Davis was called out at the plate when he tried to score from first on the double. Olson stole third and tallied on Schauer's wild heave to third. Melvin grounded to first for the third out.

Luther scored two in the fifth on errors by Rice and Johnson, a single by Bloede and a passed ball. In the seventh, Olson got a life on Ulrich's error. Melvin walked. Gurnoe whiffed. Carolan sacrificed and Rice singled scoring Olson and Melvin. Luther went out, Bloede to Conrath, retiring the side.

Another error by Ulrich in the 8th put Carlson on first. Davis struck out. Johnson doubled, scoring Carlson. On a fielder's choice Olson made first and Johnson beat Conrath's throw to third. Olson took second. Johnson scored on Melvin's grounder. Bloede to Conrath. Olson stole home while Gurnoe was whiffing for the third out.

The home club completed its scoring in the 9th. Carolan led off with a single and took 2nd on a passed ball. Rice walked. He went to third on another passed ball. Carlson struck out. Davis flied to second. Johnson was hit by the pitcher and pilfered second. Luther scored on Epple's error. Olson retired the side, Schauer to Conrath.

The ministers scored their third run in the last inning on a double by Epple, Kellar's sacrifice and some poor baseball by Olson, when he failed to peg to the plate to head off Epple, who was scoring after Conrath had grounded out via Gurnoe to Olson. Henke grounded out, Luther to Olson, retiring the side.

LOCALS DROP 5 TO 0 CONTEST TO HAMLINE WHILE WEATHERMAN WEEPS

The high class pitching of Luther, though possessing the qualities that would win nine games out of every ten, was insufficient to win for the locals the rain infested exhibition with Hamline University last Friday afternoon.

Several things figured in to make the fracas a rather unusual affair. Firstly, the greasy pellet was hardly in a condition to warrant first class pitching, but Messrs. Luther and Smith fooled their loyal but uncomfortable audience by sending the opposing swatsmen into the fluttering throes of a duck fit. Secondly, it is somewhat of a freak performance for a club, that leaves twelve men stranded on the paths during the nine frames, to go scoreless. On two different occasions the locals had the highways congested with a man on each corner and on two other occasions two runners were on waiting to push over counters, but opportune hitting was not forthcoming.

The visitors got away to a one point lead in the initial inning. Barnes singled. Ames went out, Luther to Olson, and Barnes went all the way to third on the play. Hartfield whiffed. Kobs got a life on Melvin's error while Barnes raced over with the first tally. Smith fanned for the third out.

The home club threatened to knot the count in their half of the first, when, after Gurnoe had grounded out via Smith to Kobs, Luther drew a clean single. He went to second on Carlson's grounder to third and was safe when Pedalty muffed Kruger's throw. Johnson fanned but Carolan made first on Smith's fumble. Olson then fled to left field retiring the side.

Hamline scored another in the third. Barnes drew a walk and stole second. Ames fanned and Hartfield grounded out, Davis to Olson. Barnes scored from second when Olson failed to peg to the plate after making the put-out.

In the third with two men away, Davis and Melvin connected for two consecutive singles, but Rice grounded to Kobs for the third out.

The visitors scored two more in the seventh, after Smith had whiffed. Kopland got a life on Johnson's bobble and went to third on Erickson's single. Kruger got in front of a wild heave by Luther and took a base. Pedalty bunted to Luther on a squeeze play. Luther's peg to the plate was a bit wide, the ball getting away from Carlson and Kopland scoring. Barnes fouled out to Carlson and Erickson was trapped off third. In the ensuing relay Carlson soaked Erickson on the Lima, the ball rolling into the outfield allowing the wounded athlete to score.

The Minnesotans made their fifth and final tally in the ninth on Erickson's single, his stolen base, Kruger's sacrifice and a passed ball.

Again in the 6th the locals jammed the bases only to repeat their first inning performance by leaving the runners stranded. Their last opportunity came in the eighth after Carolan had grounded out, Pedalty to Kobs. Olson got hit with a pitched ball and took first. Davis drew a walk. Melvin then struck out and Rice grounded out to first.

LINCOLNIAN

The Lincolnian society will hold its regular meeting this evening at 6:45 in the music room. Mr. Hayward is the speaker for the evening. He has not announced his subject, but it is sure to be an interesting one. The quartet has also been engaged for this occasion. This will be one of the best programs we have had so far this year and every member should be present.

LOCALS

Mr. Malott was also absent Monday.

Miss Feeney is absent from school because of tonsillitis.

Mr. Hanna judged the declamatory and oratorical contests Friday at Fredrick.

The Girls' Glee club assisted at a recital given by Miss Fossing last Thursday night.

Ruth Hinman was called to her home in Glenwood because of the death of her brother.

Miss Hathorn, Miss Tilton and Mr. Ames judged the declamatory and oratorical contests at Osceola Friday.

Miss Pierce, the student secretary of the Y. W. C. A., will visit here Wednesday and Thursday. A picnic will be given in her honor Wednesday at the lodge.

Miss Schlosser was presented with a beautiful bouquet by the members of the "Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" cast, in recognition of the most excellent coaching they received under her direction.

The following girls have accepted positions for next year: Florence Bates is going to Cumberland; Helen Pittman will teach at Hudson; Bessie Rouse at Kenosha; Isabel Scott and Carol Tostrud, both at Elva, and Irene Larkin at Marshfield.

GIRL ATHLETES
TRAINING DILIGENTLY

Baseball and track athletics are absorbing the interest of our feminine athletes just now. Every after-school period sees a group of girls warming up on the diamond or trying the hurdles. The inter-class baseball tournament promises to give some hot competition while track enthusiasts are trying to attain or surpass the national records for women.

Mildred Bartlett seems about to push Babe Ruth for laurels, while Helen McNally is threatening to establish a new record for the baseball throw. Janet McNabb is sports leader for baseball, while May Fuller heads up the track athletics.

Pauline Severson, tennis head, is planning the tennis tournament for girls, which will be announced soon. See that your racket is in good shape, start practicing, and enter the matches.

Points in the G. A. A. can be earned by participating in all of these events and there is still need for a number of girls to fill in the class teams in baseball. Come out and make your team the winner.

Dashes, hurdle races, running high jump, running broad jump, basketball throw, baseball throw and inter-class relay are the events listed for the track meet.

The girls think they have the portent of good luck for the season, since they pursued and killed a snake on the baseball diamond Monday. Baseball practices are held at 3:45 on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and track practices at the same time Tuesday and Thursday.

"Stock Judging Contest"

There will be a high school stock judging contest held at the Normal June 17, during the time of the Normal Stock Show. The following high schools have reported that they will be represented here with teams:

- New Richmond,
- Ellsworth,
- Roberts,
- Frederick,
- St. Croix Falls,
- Milltown,
- River Falls High.

This is one of the big events that will take place during the time of the Stock Show.

Mr. Prucha's High School Agricultural class received 1000 Norway and White Pine trees from the State Conservation department, and Monday they set them out on the land of the Normal Farm. Their purpose is to start a small grove.

The official tester is here conducting a test on three of the Normal cows. Mr. Goodman thinks that the three cows have great hopes of making a very good record for this year.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The orchestra opened a very delightful assembly program Thursday, which was chiefly musical. Miss Fossing gave a piano solo, Miss Wind played several violin solos. A cornet solo by Joe Gurnoe was an unusual feature of the program. Swen Olson completed the musical program by some baritone solos. The current event number was given by Raymond Sorenson, who spoke on the Yap controversy.
