

City Considers Raising Beer Drinking Age to 21

Voters in the city of River Falls will decide on April 6 whether to adopt an ordinance amendment raising the age limit for drinking beer in the city from 18 to 21.

Engleman Reaches EC After Dinner Finals

Shirley Engleman, freshman, was a finalist in the after-dinner speaking contest at the 10th Annual Eau Claire Speech Tournament. She received a superior rating in the preliminary rounds and spoke, as one of the finalists, before 265 guests at the banquet on Friday evening.

Beverly Domaika and Margaret Helmer received an average team rating of superior and placed 4th in the "A" division.

The teams of Bill Schoenwetter and Halbert Belt, Shirley Engleman and Annette Peterson, Jerry Murphy and Larry Henneman, received average team ratings of excellent.

All other speakers in the individual events won average ratings of excellent. They were Annette Peterson with an original narrative of Annie Oakley, Jerry Murphy who spoke on the future of atomic energy and Larry Henneman who presented his original oration, "Crime in America."

Margaret Helmer and Jerry Murphy took top honors in discussion with 46 points apiece. Shirley Engleman was next in line with 45 points. Halbert Belt and Annette Peterson also participated in this event.

Dance Theatre Group Rehearses For Spring Recital

The dance theatre group has set its concert date for Thursday, March 18, at 8 p.m. This concert will be free to the public as its purpose is to introduce and familiarize River Falls and surrounding communities with this type of dance.

The first part of the program will consist of individual dance solos and duets. The second half will be a rendition of the musical "Down in the Valley", by the entire group. Solo parts are Jenny Sue Garnett, Lee Prentice, Richard Decamp, Ted VerHaag, and Myron Gayle Moen.

On March 18 the group will present a short concert for the Faculty Women's Club and the AAUW. The concert will consist of solo numbers and a scene from "Down in the Valley".

Later in the spring the dance theatre group plans to take an assembly program to several high schools in this area and Minnesota. The group also plans a symposium with Macalester College, at which the two schools will exchange ideas and work together on a combined concert.

Jenny Sue Garnett sophomore, and Lee Prentice, junior, won first prize in the FFA Talent Show February 5 with their dance interpretation of "Shall We Dance" from "The King and I."

A petition for referendum filed at the city clerk's office January 28 assured the proposed ordinance change of a place on the ballot, if the River Falls city council does not vote on the issue before the spring election. The council indicated it would not vote on the matter last fall, when it referred the request of a group of River Falls citizens for immediate decision on the proposed age change to a petition for referendum decision.

The petition for referendum was signed by 372 River Falls citizens, more than the required number of signers on such a petition, which is 15 per cent of the votes cast for governor in the last regular election. Among the signers were 26 RFSC faculty members.

Actually only two River Falls taverns would be directly affected if the proposed amendment were adopted: the C. & S. and Jim's Tavern. They are the only two River Falls bars in which beer may be sold to 18-year-olds; the other six taverns in the city also sell liquor and thus are not allowed to sell either liquor or beer to anyone under 21.

Wisconsin sets the minimum age limit at which fermented malt beverages may be sold (if liquor is not sold in the tavern) at 18; municipalities may, however, raise this limit to 21 if they desire.

If the proposed ordinance amendment is adopted by the city of River Falls in April it cannot be revoked or amended for two years.

The petition for referendum which was presented to the city clerk's office reads as follows:

I, the undersigned, a qualified elector of the ward designated of the City of River Falls, County of Pierce-St. Croix, State of Wisconsin, hereby petitions the Common Council, City of River Falls, to adopt the ordinance attached hereto, without alteration, or to refer said ordinance to a vote of the electors at a referendum to be held as a part of the spring

RFSC Concert Band to Present 'Stories in Music' Thursday

"Stories in Music" will be the theme of the winter quarter concert presented by the College Concert Band Thursday evening, February 25, at 8 p.m. in the College Auditorium under the direction of B. J. Rozehnal. Several ways in which stories are illustrated musically, both traditionally and in a modern vein will be presented.

In the traditional setting Sef-ranek's suite "Atlantis" portrays the lost continent mentioned in Plato's History. The four parts of the suite are: (1) Nocturne and Hymn of Praise, (2) A Court Function, (3) Love Story, and (4) Destruction of Atlantis.

Also in traditional setting the band will play two excerpts, "Overture Minature" and "March" from the familiar "Nutcracker Suite," by Tchaikowsky, a story of a little girl who receives among her Christmas presents a nutcracker.

The story of Washington Irving's "Icabod Crane" is told in a more modern setting of "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," by David Bennett.

The feature selection of the evening will be Carlton Colby's dramatic Rhapsody, "Headlines," which depicts the hustle and bustle of the modern big city newspaper, with its variety of moods, modern rhythms and catchy "blues" tunes.

From the modern musical comedy, the band will play the lilt-tunes of Sigmund Romberg's "New Moon," and Oscar Strauss' "My Hero".

Marches for the evening will include two dedications to outstanding bands of our country, the famous "Band of America," and the "Armco" band of radio fame.

Myron Gayle Moen, sophomore from Hammond, will act as commentator for the band and will narrate the stories suggested by each number.

There will be no admission to the concert. A free will offering will be taken.

Program March 11 Features Dancers

Four folk dancing groups from the International Institute, St. Paul, will present a program on the RFSC stage in North Hall auditorium on Thursday, March 11, at 8 p.m.

Forty costumed dancers will appear on the program, which has been especially arranged by the River Falls student-faculty lecture and concert committee.

The four outstanding groups which will present dances are: the Twin City Danish Dancers, the Odin Scandinavian Dancers, the Polish Dancers, and the Workshop Group.

St. Paul's International Institute is a service bureau and recreation center for people of foreign backgrounds. It is a member of the American Federation of International Institutes and the St. Paul Community Chest Council.

The leader of the Twin City Danish Dancers, Peter Olsen, came to the U.S. from Denmark in 1921. He has been a folk dance teacher at the International Institute since 1936 and is the instructor of the Minneapolis Folk Dancers.

The Odin Scandinavian Dancers organized in 1952 to participate in the National Folk Festival at St. Louis. They are under the leadership of Arnold Elvrum, who specializes in Norwegian dances.

The Workshop Group, directed by Dorothy and Jacques Wesson, have attended several National Folk Festivals, giving demonstrations with their group of German and Austrian dances.

Mrs. Lillian Kurkowski, leader of the Polish Group, is responsible for arranging all dance classes at the International Institute. All of the members of the group are of Polish descent and are affiliated with the Polish National Alliance.

Mrs. Eleanor Groff Adams, instructor at Mechanic Arts High School, St. Paul and an authority on folklore and folk dancing will narrate the program.

Camera Club Exhibit In Social Room Now

On exhibit now in the Social Room is the work of the St. Paul Camera Club. This is a collection of the works of a group of amateurs, which has recently been at the St. Paul Public Library. The collection includes portraits, land and seascapes, pastoral scenes, etc. It will be here until March 1.

Following this, the Gimbel Art Collection will be on campus. First introduced at the State Fair, the collection is entitled, "Wisconsin the Playground." It features artists' interpretations of Wisconsin as a vacationland.

Peter von Zahn

MENC Sponsors Series Of Music Hours

The River Falls Student Chapter of the Music Educators National Conference is sponsoring a series of music hours during the spring term. The student members will alternate conducting one hour programs in the Social Room. The programs will consist of records from the different periods in the history of music. They will include selections from the Modern, Classical and Romantic periods.

The first program will be held Wednesday, February 24 from 12:30 to 1:30. All students are invited to attend these informal hours.

All-American composers will feature this first hour's presentation.

Peter Von Zahn, Correspondent, To Speak Here

Peter von Zahn, a former war correspondent and now correspondent for the largest German radio network in Europe will be heard in River Falls on Monday, March 15.

Mr. von Zahn will speak in North Hall Auditorium on "What You Can Expect From Germany." His lecture is scheduled for 10 a.m.

Born in Germany, von Zahn studied at leading universities in Germany and Austria, receiving his Ph. D. from the University of Freiburg. He was called into service with the German army during the second World War and was sent to Russia as a war correspondent.

After the war, he assisted the British in setting up German language broadcasting facilities and reporting to the German people.

In 1951 he came to the United States to help the State Department in studies of American armament and troop training.

Mr. von Zahn now makes his headquarters in Washington, D. C. where he broadcasts regularly to five million German listeners in Europe.

The Editor Speaks

Are We Overorganized?

According to a list in the deans' office there are 32 official organizations on campus. They are of various types: athletic, religious, extra-curricular, fraternal, social, and professional.

We feel there are too many of them. We feel the Student Senate has sanctioned the existence of organizations which are not contributing to college life as a whole, but which exist for their own narrow purposes, for furthering their own selfish interests.

It seems to us that an organization should not be officially recognized as such if its aims do not include, directly or indirectly, an interest in the college in general besides the immediate purposes for which the group is set up. Does the organization participate in all-college activities, such as Homecoming and the Winter Carnival? Can it be expected to occasionally go out of its way for a purpose not directly linked to its objectives?

If an organization receives Student Senate approval, is allowed to use the college's physical facilities, is permitted to have a faculty adviser, and expects to receive publicity through the college, it should in turn serve the college in reciprocal fashion. If it is not willing to do this, it should exist completely independent of the college.

It would be well if the organizations already in official existence on RFSC's campus took stock of just what they are contributing to the college. And perhaps the Student Senate might scrutinize a little more carefully the reasons why organizations which ask them for official sanction need it.

Library Criticisms---Valid?

No one has taken an official tabulation, but we'd wager the most frequent gripes about college facilities concern the library.

The complaints are varied. A good example concerns a friend of ours who checked a book (for two weeks) and happened to leave it on the bookshelves outside the cafeteria after he'd had it for a couple of days. It disappeared. He combed the campus looking for it. Finally, he checked the library stacks for the book, and there it was. What happened?

Other gripes concern library hours. Why, ask some students, can't the library be open longer on week-ends? Why does it close for all college assemblies when the cafeteria doesn't?

Other complaints are more petty. Why don't they turn the lights on earlier? Why don't people talk more quietly? Why are the papers and magazines put out so late?

It seems to us that these complaints are rather picayunish. We cite them because we believe they're a good indication of what the average RFSC student complains about. They describe the level of student criticism on our campus.

If more students would spend the time they use in criticizing the library for promoting better personal study habits while sitting there, the atmosphere might become more conducive to studying.

Deficiencies

Deficiencies came out last week. A deficiency, as we understand it, is a statement sent to the student at midterm to tell him that he is not doing satisfactory work in a course. This gives the student opportunity to improve his work before the finals.

The deficiencies were sent out four weeks late this term—they came out the tenth instead of the sixth week. It seems to us rather futile to bother sending out statements, warning students they'd better get on the ball, when they've only a two-weeks chance to do so. Better that the college should save its stamps and paper and have the faculty tell the student personally at midterm that he's deficient, rather than wait until the end of the term when he has little time to remedy it.

Senate Minutes

Tuesday, Feb. 16, 1954

The Student Senate meeting was called to order by the president, Margery Deans. The secretary's minutes were read and approved.

Bob Strain and Al Kind volunteered to help collect donations at the March of Dimes benefit game with Bethel College on February 22.

Vaughn Hoffman was present at the meeting and presented the tentative plans of the Foundation Committee for Foundation Week, May 3 through 7. The slogan for the week will be "United for a Union" and will probably include a "Rec Day", the "R" Club boxing, wrestling, trampoline show, and a show by the faculty. The Student Senate will be in charge of the "Rec Day" and Sigma Chi Sigma will sell buttons for the events. Jim Be-lisle made the motion which was carried to accept the proposed dates and plans for Foundation Week as presented by Mr. Hoffman.

Discussion followed concerning the United Nations Conference in Madison on March 26, 27, 28. Myron Gayle Moen, Bill Verkuilen, and Al Kind volunteered to attend this conference as representatives of the River Falls Student Senate and the amount to be allotted to each to defray expenses will be decided at the next meeting.

Julianne Ryan made the motion that the Senate cooperate with Miss Hawkins in the debate tournament on April 14-17 by arranging a social hour. The motion was carried.

The motion was made and carried to adjourn.

Mystery of Fritzie's Meleteans Solved by George Grim

by Phyllis Benoy

"Fritzie", we have your number now.

Last week George Grim told the story of the missing Fritzie Blomholm in his daily column in the Minneapolis Morning Tribune. Two RFSC Meleteans, 1918 and 1919, with Fritzie Blomholm's name in them were turned into him by a Dayton Company driver, who'd found them lying in a gutter at the corner of Forty-eighth street and Grand avenue in Minneapolis. They were in good condition, as if they had just been lost.

Grim's question, "Fritzie, where are you now?" was enough to waken our sixth sense and to stir our curiosity.

How could Fritzie Blomholm be found? We began by rummaging through the old Meleteans and found the one for 1919. There was Fritzie: by her picture were the words:

"Gaze into her eyes and you see a little angel,
"Gaze a little longer and you see a little imp."

Our missing Fritzie couldn't have been a suitcase student. She was president of the G.O.P. and active in the athletic council, basketball, Camera Club, Y. W.C.A., Meletean staff, Student Voice and also a cabinet member.

No longer did Fritzie seem to be just an ordinary alumna. We knew her as someone real who had talked and laughed in the very halls that we do now.

In spite of the fact that we had but one clue we kept on digging for more information. The Meletean listed her home town as Hudson. We found out that Ann Nygard's mother owned a bookcase (with a loose shelf) that she'd bought at an auction in Hudson last winter: an auction held at Mrs. Blomholm's house. Mrs. Blomholm had died shortly after the auction.

We called Hudson. Mr. John Hughes told us that the Mrs.

Blomholm who had died was Fritzie's mother. Her father was a Lutheran minister and had preached in Hudson and River Falls; he had died before his wife. Fritzie had two brothers—one in International Falls, Minn., the other is secretary of the Anchor Casualty Co., St. Paul.

But what about Fritzie? Mr. Hughes thought she was dead. She had taught a while and later married, but he'd lost track of her.

While we were prying further into Fritzie's past someone else had read Mr. Grim's column. Her brother in St. Paul phoned that "Fritzie had known a young man in Spooner, Wis., and had been saddened when he went away to war in 1917. She taught school at Osceola, and at Spooner after her graduation.

"Then Harold Fike came home from the war and married Fritzie. They had one daughter and two grandchildren. Fritzie died in 1946; her husband in 1949."

The old Meleteans had slid into the gutter as Fritzie's daughter and her family were moving their possessions to a friend's basement where they could live until it would be possible for them occupy their new home in Minneapolis.

An thus unfolded the mystery of Fritzie Blomholm and her Meleteans.

Bullfrog, Pusswampus Prepare Polliwogs For Life on Lily Pad in Okeefenokee Swamp

by Bo Peep

Shortly after the hibernation season began down in the Okeefenokee swamp this season a bull frog, high potentate of the region, called together all the polliwogs under his jurisdiction and announced a series of meetings, which he said would instruct them in the ways of the world.

"Harrumph," he croaked, and began his lecture. "You polliwogs are growing up now. Soon you will have legs like we older frogs, and so you must learn to use these legs. So to show you how to act as real members of the profession we will meet next time on a lily pad, and I have asked several of the swamp elders to speak to you about your future in the Okeefenokee."

Soon after that the first assembly took place, and roll was taken. The bull frog spoke briefly on what frogism offered the polliwog in the way of security and frog's rights and then introduced a tortoise, who lectured on hopping techniques and how to apply for a swamp pension after thirty years in residence.

The bull frog then called on his colleague, a large brown pusswampus to speak to the polliwogs. He rolled his beady eyes, licked his tongue, and said, "Being a grown up frog isn't too bad, though it is hard work and there are many responsibilities to concern oneself with. All this can be pleasant if one makes it his concern to reside on a pastel colored lily pad." Then he told about the experiences he'd had with other polliwogs who didn't find pastel lily pads and related how unhappy they'd been.

The bull frog then asked a dear friend, a cottonmouth of high repute to speak on the prospects of marriage and friendly relationships. She told how important it was for growing polliwogs to situate themselves in the

Critics' Corner

Summer and Smoke

by Marie W. Holmes

The Masquers' presentation of "Summer and Smoke" introduced a number of unusually interesting new faces on the River Falls stage. Janet Thode, as the busy-body, Mrs. Bassett, was refreshing. Elsie Nordby, as Nellie, was "a beautiful doll" and was extremely effective in her role. Margaret Helmer provoked much laughter and glee with her animated facial expressions, and her excellent timing. Maggie gave us a comic and impish Mrs. Winemiller, rather than the bitter and twisted characterization one would suppose the role to require. George Knipfel was a plausible Papa Gonzales, and Roland Grothe, as the very proper "friend" of Alma, was good.

Mae Wiskerchen was a beautiful Alma. Her portrayal was very good; especially so in some of the many scenes she had. Alma, as the idealistic spinster, is a difficult role for any actress.

Marilyn Murphy as Rosa Gonzales was very effective—voluptuous though wispy, and somewhat "ethereally" sexy.

The role of Dr. John, played by John Bos, was his best characterization since he started his acting career at RFSC.

Lack of space presented a problem in staging but it was well handled with a symbolic set, dividing the stage into three parts. The lovely costumes were exceptionally appropriate, and the lighting effects were excellent when one considers RFSC's lack of equipment.

It is difficult to give any analysis of individual performances; audience response on this occasion detracted from the play's continuity, and contributed to the lack of good total effect.

Talent Show

by John Reque

February 5's talent show, sponsored by the F.F.A. and a part of the Winter Carnival week-end, was one of the more mediocre talent shows presented on the RFSC campus in the past five years.

There were altogether too few acts during the show which showed evidence of conscientious rehearsal. The talent was too innate to impress an audience; during no single act was one aware of the attentive house common at a good play, a well-performed choir concert, or a carefully practiced band concert on the River Falls stage.

In spite of the usual grumbling about the judges' decisions, the winners deserved their prizes, for they were among the few acts which showed evidence of intense preparation and stage presence. But something drummed up and tossed off in a couple of weeks is not worthy of the F.F.A. talent show.

Better stuff has been presented before; better stuff, if it available on our campus, should be presented in the future.

most opportune places, what to wear and how to act.

A friendly 'gater who wanted to help explained, "You are in demand! Things aren't like they were twenty years ago when I was young. I have sent in beautiful hide to get a job and they sent it back because there were too many flaws in it. Nosiree, now they'll taken anything. Have no fears about employment. We can get you a salary of eight dead flies per day without any trouble."

"Yes, you are right," interjected the bull frog. "But remember, now that your body's developed, your mind must develop too. You must have the Amphibians Creed which I will pass around."

"If there are any further croaks, stop into my mudhut and see my firefly. She'll be glad to tell you everything you need to know," said the bull frog. And the firefly did!

WELL REPRESENTED. . . In a recent bulletin, listing the top twenty-five scorers in the conference, River Falls placed two men in the top four. Bobby Williams was third (has been second until last week) with 166 points, and Don Fick was next in line with 147 to his credit. The other member of the Falcon front line, "Zeke" Wells, was in the number 10 spot with a total of 116.

Eau Claire's huge center, Rog Hanson, is in first place with 204. Hulmer of Superior is second with 168 (only two more than Williams), and Hanrahan of Milwaukee is the last of the elite five with 146.

EVER WONDER????? As a spectator, or a player, have you ever wondered how much tape is used by the local crew for binding up weak ankles? A recent check revealed that Coach "Phil" uses 80 yards of 1 1/2" tape each day!!! At a cost of $3.00 per day, you can see just one of the reasons it costs so much "moola" to run this institution.

WASTE BASKETS OR A FIELD HOUSE????? In an informal meeting recently the remark was made that, "we can't even throw our ice cream and gum wrappers on the floor without having them drift out on the basketball floor". The answer of the other member of the conversation which we overheard was, "Well, what can you expect when the floor is so small?" Need we say more?

CLOSE AND YET SO FAR!!! This phrase could very well fit our Falcon basketball team of last year and the one of this season. Last year Kuss et al were one of the only two teams that defeated the champs from Platteville, and this year could very well wind up being the only team in the league to hold a decision over pace setter Eau Claire. This feeling was strengthened last week when the Blugolds knocked off Milwaukee, the only team in a threatening position at the present time.

Table Tennis, Wrestling Tournaments Coming Up

Anyone interested in participating in the table tennis and wrestling tournaments should turn their entries in to the athletic office by February 26.

Looking to intramural basketball we find that once again "Johnnies", of the "A" league has won the intramural championship as they defeated the Dynamos of the "B" league 81-58.

Anyone interested in selecting an "Intramural All Star Team" from the 3 intramural leagues may do so by selecting five players and turning their names into the athletic office.

The All Star team, chosen by the number of votes cast for each individual player, will be composed of the top 10 players

GET AWAY FROM THOSE NETS BOBBY. . . In his attempt to get the rebound, Williams grabbed the net and seems to be lifting himself and Herum up to greater heights. Again the rebounding power of the local crew is evident, as they outnumber the Blugolds four to one.

RFSC Bows to Platteville, Oshkosh on Road Trip

River Falls bowed in two contests on their recent road trip to Platteville and Oshkosh.

On February 12 the Falcons dropped a game to Platteville by a score of 93-77. The game was as much closer battle than the score indicated.

Platteville stepped off to an early lead by sinking 9 out of the first 11 shots. The Falcons were on the comeback trail through the entire game. In the second half the Falcons narrowed the gap several times only to be stopped by bad breaks due to officiating. In the closing minutes the Falcons again closed the gap to 3 points. Several more decisions by the officials broke the attack and Platteville went on to win 93-77.

Following the Platteville game River Falls went to Oshkosh to play the second game of the road trip. This game was a thriller from start to finish. The lead changed hands about a dozen times. In the final minutes the Falcons led by three points. Oshkosh scored and closed the gap to one point. On an attempt to score River Falls lost the ball and Oshkosh scored to take a one point lead. On the next play Don Fick was called for charging which gave Oshkosh two free throws. They tallied on both tosses and took a three point lead. Williams, in a final effort scored in the last seconds. The Falcons were on the tail end of a close one 85-86. Bob Williams was high scorer with 28 points. This gives River Falls a 5 and 5 record in conference play. Platteville is leading the league with an 8 won and 1 lost record.

named. The All Star team will play the College Frosh., on February 27, as a preliminary to the La Crosse game. The votes should be in the athletic office by Friday, February 19.

Polzin To Head FFA During Spring Quarter

The Future Farmers of America held their spring quarter election February 18.

Elected as president was Delmar Polzin; vice-president, Rubeen Patrikus; secretary, Matt Shubatt; treasurer, Stan Lehman; reporter, Bob Miller; advisor, Harold Lodahl; sentinel, Harold Heck; parliamentarian, Vernon Fait.

USF SELLS CUPCAKES FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Members of the United Student Fellowship recently completed a fund raising campaign in order to finance an Indian student to attend the Allahabad Agricultural Institute in Allahabad, India for one year.

The group raised eighty dollars by selling Christmas cards and cup cakes in River Falls.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

A donation of thirty-five cents will be collected from students at the Bethel basketball game, Monday evening, February 22. All donations will be given to the March of Dimes drive. Margery Deans, Pres. Student Senate

A note of thanks for the splendid cooperation that the College has again given the Red Cross Drive.

The drive was very successful; one hundred and fifty-seven (157) pints were taken this year. This substantially exceeded last years total.

We are looking to the future and hope that these figures can be greatly improved upon. Thanks again.

Falls Drops in Conference Rank Via Superior Loss

Superior downed River Falls in a conference tilt Saturday night by a 71 to 88 score. This loss for the Falcons drops them in to the second division with a 5 won and 6 lost record.

The first half of the contest was a nip and tuck battle with River Falls taking the lead by five points. In the third quarter the Yellowjackets caught fire and gained a 14 point margin. The Falcons lost their touch and were unable to overtake the hot Superior five.

The two remaining games for the Falcons will be played at home with Bethel on Monday and with La Crosse on the following Saturday.

up early in the game.

While being played very well by the zone defense of the Falcons, and Blugolds' towering 6-9 center, Rog Hanson, was held slightly below his average output with 21 points. He got 21 points help also from Leroy Nelson. The boys from EC had four players in double figures, but lost three players via the foul route. The Falcon defense and close calling by the referees accounted for the departure of these Blugolds as well as Fick and Linehan for the local aggregation.

The second quarter was the deciding one as the Falcons outscored Eau Claire 22 to 15. Fick and Co., dumped in 22 in the first round to 21 for EC. They only maintained a 49 to 44 edge in the second half.

Falcons Crush Eau Claire, 93-80

The River Falls "Giantkillers" won the game, Saturday, February 6, that could make this a successful year in itself, when they knocked Eau Claire off its lofty perch to the tune of 93-80. The victory gave the Falcons a 5-3 conference record, while it was the first defeat in league play for the Blugolds.

Big Don Fick led a balanced Falcon attack with 21 markers, as all five starters hit double figures for the second time this year. The other two members of the Falcons' great forward wall contributed many valuable points, and were always in the thick of the rebounding. Their spirited play was no small part of the victory.

The many times forgotten guards or workhorses of the team played superb ball, and their ball handling and passing was nearly flawless. They kept the Eau Claire crew off balance with their dribbling, floor play and timely points which helped increase the ever widening lead which the Falcons built

Garnett-Prentice Duo Take Talent Show Prize

The Winter Carnival, this year, more suitably called "the Mud Fest", ended February 6. The faculty women's basketball team beat the WAA all-stars Friday morning and Vaughn Hoffman won the "500" card playing tournament that afternoon.

There was no snow during the week-end so skiing was called off and open swimming was held both Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Jenny Sue Garnett and Lee Prentice won the FFA talent show with their modern dance excerpt from "The King and I". Second place winner was Jeannine Davison, who sang, "One Kiss." Janis Benson placed third with a dance version of the theme, "Lili."

Judged the most entertaining were Ruth Stolpe and Yvonne Olson in the pantomime of "Lipstick, Powder and Paint". Honorable mention went to the girls' quartet, "The Tulips."

Don Helberg and Manny Barboad tied for first place in the beard judging contest held at the intermission of the talent show.

In the bowling tournament held Saturday, prizes were given for the high and low bowler in both the men's and women's division. Aleda Peth had the top score and Le Vaun Swartz the low for the women. In the men's division Jim Hueber was high scorer and Dale Johnson, low.
