The Student Weekly of the River Falls State Teachers College

VOLUME XXII RIVER FALLS, WISCONSIN, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1938 Number 18

Climaxing a Season of Winter Sports Activities, Students of River Falls Will Take Part in a Winter Sports Revue to be Sponsored by the Student Senate and held on Saturday and Sunday, February 26 and 27.

Although much of the success of the venture will depend upon the weather and the presence of more snow, plans are going forward to include both ice and snow sports. ACTIVITIES WILL BEGIN at 7:30 Saturday evening with the coronation of the king and queen of the Revue on an ice throne under a flood of colored lights. Nominees for the title of queen who have been chosen by a nominating committee consisting of one member from each class include: Mildred Pedersen, Gertrude Peterson, Leona Rhodde, Eunice Manske, and Mary Helen Kay. Fred Alfonse, Eddie Cass, Robert Platte, Robert Hoey, and Claude Brandtner will compete for the kingly crown. Students will cast their ballots for the royal fair on Tuesday, February 22, in the Student Voice office between the hours of 9 and 4.

OTHER ACTIVITIES OF the evening will include a broom ball game, conducting of some of the championship sports matches, and the Winter Revue Ball to be held in North Hall gymnasium. Sunday's activities at the rink will include skating exhibitions, the remainder of the ice contests, and the championship hockey match. Led by the marching band, the crowd will proceed to the reservoir mound at the northern edge of the city, where the toboggan races and ski jumping contests will be held.

Following the presentation of the awards to the various winners, refreshments will be served there if weather permits.

THE GENERAL COMMITTEE in charge of the Revue selected by the Student Senate consists of Joseph Hyde, chairman, Roy Peterson, and Willard Lane. Assisting them as various committee heads are: Walter Herkal, in charge of nominations; Andrew Osborne, election; John Cannon, throne; Werner Gleiter, lighting; Ruth Phillips, coronation; Romain Brandt, athletic contests; Mildred LePage, refreshments, and Ed Baker, exhibitions.

Recently an Account of an Experiment in measuring the diameter of the sun carried out by Bruce Erickson and LeRoy Leadholm was published by School Science and Mathematics. Both men were students in Professor Charles G. Stratton's class in astronomical geography.

Because of the accuracy of their result, Mr. Stratton, who assigned the project, suggested that they send the article to the publishers of School Science and Mathematics.

By means of a cardboard tube, a pair of dividers and a draftsman's rule the boys succeeded in measuring the diameter of the sun with an accuracy of one one-hundredths of a minute of that given in the Nautical Almanac. They maintain that their results show the possibility of obtaining accurate measurements without the help of expensive instruments.

Two Talks by Members of the Mathematics Club will be the main feature of the organization's meeting on Wednesday evening, February 23, in the mathematics room. Harold Fjeseth will present a review of the life of Madame Marie Curie, famous French scientist, taken from her autobiography, and David Wicken will talk on the subject of solid geometry from the book Mathematics for the Millions.

Representatives from the State Beverage Tax division and from the office of the Federal Collector of Internal Revenue are expected to be present to answer questions of fact regarding state and federal law. Other speakers will present ten minute speeches on the following viewpoints:

(1) Against licensing taverns to sell hard liquor, (2) for licensing taverns, and (3) for a municipal liquor store.

Three Women Students Will Represent River Falls State Teachers College at the Speech Activities contest to be held in Eau Claire on Saturday, February 19.

In the extemporaneous reading contest, River Falls will be represented by Joyce Leonard. Selections for this contest will be chosen from Margaret Mitchell's Gone With the Wind. Grace Nelson will be entered in the dramatic reading contest, and Marion Hawkins will present her original essay, Cheaters.

Because of the Fact That the Eau Claire game at River Falls is to be played on Tuesday, February 22, the Science Club meeting which was to be put on by the FFA on that evening will be postponed. The next regular meeting of the club will be on March 22 at which time the chemistry department will furnish the program.

Three talks by members of the club were given at the last meeting. George Kinney spoke on "Herd Improvement." Roy Gillis discussed Henry Ford's relation to agriculture and "Higher Farm Incomes" was the subject of Stanley Bednarczyk's talk. Karl Korting entertained with a humorous reading.

Purchase of a Banner displaying the FFA emblem and signifying the purpose of the organization was decided upon by the collegiate chapter.

the Citizens Council of River Falls is sponsoring a public panel discussion on liquor control in this city, to be held in the high school auditorium on Thursday evening, February 17, at 8 p. m.

Kettlekamp Inc. Faces Indictment

Dr. B. H. Kettlekamp is definitely on the spot! Since he began advertising his new product in his Thursday night programs over station RFSTC his business has expanded with amazing strides. Kill-or-Kure has put the drug firm of Kettlekamp Inc. on its feet again, with a radio public extending over several states.

Now there comes a discontented customer with a complaint against the doctor for the calamitous consequences of using Kill-or-Kure.

This party is bringing suit against the doctor for complications resulting from the use of Kill-or-Kure, a patent medicine distributed by Kettlekamp Inc. The party of the first part contends that the use of Kill-or-Kure for a foot ailment resulted in amnesia with ensuing complications, for which the party of the first part seeks to recover compensation to the amount of $10,000 from the party of the second part.

Student Voice Members Will Present the One Act Play "Teddy's Tough Luck" by John Kealy

during the regular assembly hour tomorrow morning. This play, under the direction of Niles Grunke, is the third of four student organization programs sponsored by the Student Senate.

Norman Soderstrom, heading the cast of this delightful comedy, plays the part of Teddy, impetuous son of the Harding family. Rachel Aldrich is cast as Betty, Teddy's sister, who is about to be married to Johnny Drake, this part being taken by Frederick Johnson. Dorothy House plays the part of Mrs. Harding, the mother of the children.

The plot is concerned with Teddy's efforts to get ready for the wedding. The difficulty arises in deciding who is to wear what dress suit. How Teddy solves this problem, and then is the very end is frustrated in his desire to parade in his new finery at the wedding is a situation which provides hilarious amusement leading up to an unforeseen climax.

In Response to A Popular Demand, Doctors J. Williams and W. D. Wyman Will

debate the question: "Resolved that congress shall adopt the Ludlow amendment" before the meeting of the International Relations Club in the Men's Union at 7 this evening.

The question of whether the American electorate rather than Congress should be given the power to declare war has been one that has troubled legislators for many years. Dr. Wyman will uphold the affirmative side while Dr. Williams will present the negative viewpoint. Time will be allowed for discussion after the speakers present their views.

A change in date for the club's meeting was necessary due to the open forum discussion on liquor control on Thursday evening.

Plans Are Being Formulated

for a freshman party to be held Friday evening, February 25. This will be on the same week end as the Winter Sports Revue, so students who usually go home for the week end are urged to change such plans and take advantage of this opportunity for a hilarious two days.

Matinee Dancing in the South Hall gymnasium will be sponsored by the WAA on Thursday February 17. Dancing will begin at 3:10 p. m. and will continue until 5 p. m. The price of admission is ten cents.

Results of a Student Poll

on the question of an all-school masquerade dance found sufficient favor in the eyes of the student body to warrant one. Plans will be made to sponsor one in the beginning of the spring term.

Aim of Committees in Charge of Arrangements for the Puff Pant Prom and the Men's Stag Party which will be held on Saturday night, February 19. The Men's Stag will be held in the North Hall gymnasium while the Puff-Pant Prom will be held in the gymnasium in South Hall.

The Annual Men's Stag Party, under the direction of Howard Elliott, YMCA Social committee chairman, will begin at 7:30 o'clock and is open to all men in school.

The party will open with a series of games which will be directed by Coach E. P. Lowery, or by some member of the athletic department if Mr. Lowery should be unable to attend. Following this a series of faculty and student contests in games will be conducted.

Following the games, a mock trial will be held in the Men's Union. This trial concerns the difficulty of a patient after having used Kill-or-Cure as a cure for fallen arches. With Joseph Hyde as judge, and a complete set of witnesses. It is hoped that justice will be rendered.

All men who attend this stag party must wear tennis or other gym shoes because the gym floor must be kept in first-class condition for the basketball game to be held here next Tuesday.

At ten o'clock, Prof. J. P. Jacobson will serve his world-famous bean soup.

All men are therefore requested to wear old clothes gym shoes, and bring a soup bowl and a spoon.

Miss Irma Hathorn and Mrs. Gladys Symes will lead the grand march at the Puff Pant Prom at 8 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Victrola. Other couples in line will be Olive Joos and Joyce Leonard, Grace Nelson and Vera Klimper, and Phyllis Soderstrom and Mae Nelson.

All women students, as well as faculty women and faculty members wives are invited to attend. They are requested to come in couples, one dressed as a man and the other as a woman. The admission charge will be twenty-five cents per couple.

Grace Nelson, general chairman of the Puff Pant Prom, has made the arrangements for having the gym decorated. Punch will be served during the dance. Formal dance programs will be used.

"We are planning a big party," said Joyce Leonard, Social chairman of the YWCA, "and we hope that we will have a big crowd."

Deciding a Date for the Annual

Masquer's Formal was one of the primary topics of the business session at the regular meeting of the Masquers organization, Thursday, February 10. The date decided upon was March 25.

Niles Grunke, president of the Masquers, has appointed committees to take charge of arrangements for the formal. General chairman will be Robert Johnson. Co-chairmen Audrey Doolittle and Betty Jane Hogue will direct the work of the decorations committee which will include Bette Campbell, Mary Andersen, Nevin White, Cyril Lyons, Lawrence Gherty, and Fred Whitmarsh. Programs and invitations are in charge of Norman Soderstrom, chairman, Ruth Nelson

Intolerant and War-like is the American youth.

That attitude is very likely an outgrowth of a wrong kind of patriotism. In school many children form the opinion that the United States is the all-important country. As soon as a geography class learns that the United States produces a certain commodity, that class assumes that in rank of world production the United States is first. Characteristic of the same attitude is this instance: the teacher told the class of the saying that although the United States flag looks like a stick of candy with stripes, it's never been "licked." The class certainly rose to the occasion; one boy said with finality, "No sir, it's never b - 'eaten'."

Instances like these have made this attitude apparent to even the casual observer, but there is definite proof, too.

The Science News Letter recently told of an examination given to a great number of school children in New York City. Two-thirds of the group believed an insult to the United States flag to be sufficient cause for war. The same test showed that the less these children knew of real facts, the more illogical was their reasoning.

American educators should be awakened to the fact that if the United States is to hold the title of the Friendly Nation, today's students need to be taught to have more respect for other nations. Isn't it the youth of today who will be extending a friendly hand in the world tomorrow?

Opponents of American Equality Among the growing navies of the world have become very articulate since the drafting of the administration's 800 million dollar naval appropriation bill. If that opposition succeeds we must necessarily expect the gradual weakening of security from aggression in the Western Hemisphere, and we must prepare for curtailment of the free and extensive foreign trade and investing that has grown with American industrialization.

The first change of policy forced by our dropping out of the naval building race would mean that German economic penetration of South America could be strengthened by the strong arm methods adopted in Ethiopia and China. Inability to more than weakly defend our shores is, as well, to invite all three "have not" nations to gain political control of countries uncomfortably close to the United States.

That this would not immediately harm us may be true; but with the advantage of distance between the United States and possible aggressors lost we would ultimately be forced into an even

Slants on World Affairs

Indicate That

Whatever is to be the outcome of the administration's bickerings with business, both big and small, is still a mystery. Business insists that it must be let alone, but F D R doesn't think so. Business has brought forth numerous suggestions that would check recessions, but these have been politely ignored by the administration. In reality, the fight hasn't begun yet.

Further evidence of the extension, or shall we say restoration, of German influence over central Europe is evidenced by Austria's new peace with the old Fatherland. Nazism, once allowed in Austria, will extend rapidly because the German element is very strong in Austria.

Now what will Il Duce's reaction be? Or are we soon to find out definitely if there exists a written agreement between Italy and Germany? Both should rejoice as it appears that their two ambitions, gaining recognition of the conquest of Ethiopia and restoration of German colonies, are going to materialize.

A very serious condition exists in Washington today. The trouble is about increased armaments and a larger navy. It is going to lead us into one of the most expensive contests the United States has ever engaged in.

The administration, as expected, interpreted Japan's refusal to clarify her naval program to mean that she (Japan) is building super-battleships. So we are in the race already. The heads of our navy department are terror stricken of what many people believe are our future enemies and are doing their best to increase naval appropriations. At any rate it seems these ambitious American war lords don't want to retire until they can get some real glory and higher pay.

greater armament program than now proposed to insure our very independence. Postponment is at best poor economy.

Losses of foreign trade and investments could not but follow foreign disrespect for American ability to protect her interests outside of the country as has been amply demonstrated by previous experience.

Security for our foreign interests is not the intent of a small group as we so frequently assume. The financial structure is interwoven with connections to and dependence on foreign interests. Small investors, their banks, and insurance companies are all involved; hence American economy is both directly and indirectly connected to our interests abroad. Destruction or loss of our investments in trade and other foreign ventures would thoroughly disrupt the entire American economic structure to the injury of all.

Thus we might think of our political and economic security before idealistically tying our hands.

Rhapsodies

IN BLACK AND WHITE

Our humble apologies for overlooking one of the features of the Honor Society's program. Among the instrumentalists was one outstanding performer, the bass slapper, who augmented each crescendo, emphasized each accent, and kept unerring rhythm - with a chew of gum.

We happened to listen in on that notorious Charlie McCarthy - Mae West broadcast, and among our scattered memories of it is the well-worn phrase which was used to describe Adam, "tall, tan, and terrific." Since then we have tried our hand at making up - well, shall we call them triplets? Sum total of our efforts so far has been: blithe, buxom, and beebum; impotent, impertinent, and impecunious; sweet, sagacious, and scintillating; vivacious, voracious, and vascillating; and regal, refined, and refulgent.

It seems that the student body has been quite critical of the sounds emanating from the third floor of South Hall. In fact, in last week's Voice appeared a note about the excessive noise from the music classes. After reading that, we personally were quite discouraged over the music appreciation of the student body until we consulted Webster about that word "noise." To quote him noise is: loud or senseless shouting; sound of any sort, especially if without agreeable or musical quality." We refuse to make any comment except that here is one case where someone certainly used the correct word at the right time.

A favorite pastime of a certain more or less erudite sophomore is to practice in an effort to improve his handwriting. Instead of writing and rewriting the same word, he plays an association game and writes words which seem to follow each other in a logical way in his mental processes. We salvaged a practice sheet from his desk, and we should like to reproduce a part of it here. His mind works as follows: Marjorie Gustafson, Mae Nelson, Robert Johnson, Phyllis Soderstrom, William Carlson, Elmer Watkins, Walter P. Chrysler, John D. Rockefeller, Chiang-Kai-shek, Joseph Stalin, Norman Thomas, D. D. Kennedy, Reno, Nevada, Salt Lake City, bigamy (followed by the names of two faculty members whom we deem it advisable to omit), Fox Boarding Club, Dan Dykstra, Labor Relations Board, Fargo, N. D., Madison, Wis., Robert M. LaFollette, Supreme Court Plan, Roosevelt, Morganthau, Alexander Hamilton, Constitution, Huey P. Long, Amanda Florness, Shirley Temple, nail polish.

On good authority we have learned that that ubiquitous campus cameraman is still looking for a lab assistant to help in his latest scientific experiment being conducted in the in-

Dr. W. D. Wyman Was Recently Asked by

Mr. T. R. Hay, to contribute an article to the Dictionary of American History. In 400 words he is to report the early history and the importance of the town, Independence, Missouri.

The editorial staff of this book is composed of eminent historians, James Truslow Adams being editor-in-chief. The Dictionary of American History is being compiled in response to a demand for it from the historians of this country.

This co-operative enterprise started without any definite limitation as to the number of topics that would be included or the space that would be given to each. After a search was made through source material bearing on each section of the country, a list of over twenty thousand subjects was submitted to the leading historians of the country.

By an intensive editorial sifting process, the number of articles was reduced to 6000. Many overlapping subjects were combined. Some general subjects were broken into separate episodes. It was decided to limit the length of the articles to 5000 words, and it was estimated that the average article would be 200 words, with many as brief as fifty words.

A tentative list of subjects with the number of words proposed for each was submitted to seven hundred historians. Criticized and revised, the final list will contain 7500 topics. There will be approximately a thousand contributors.

Each article is being written by a recognized authority on the subject. Payment for any article will vest all rights to it in the Dictionary of American History.

Title Hopes for the Falcons Dimmed

As the Yellowjacket Quint Decisively Drubbed Them 47-34 Last Friday

night. Offensively and defensively River Falls played its poorest game of the season. Ted Whereatt's men took an early lead and were never threatened as the Falcons failed to click.

Axon and Paquette led Superior as they looped in ten points each. Simstad and Engdahl got nine and eight points respectively.

Blank was the scoring star of the tilt as he dropped in eight charity heaves and three field goals for a total of fourteen points. Cudney added nine more to the losing cause.

The contest was a rough affair with both teams fouling frequently. A total of 29 fouls were called. Superior led 27-13 at the end of the first half.

Blaisdell Reached the century point in the Big Ten individual scoring race when he garnered nine points this week. His lead is being threatened by six other players who have reached 80 points or better. D. Peterson of Lucente's holds second position with 82 points, while Al Erickson is third with 81. Harris, Roberts, Niccum, and Frank are all tied for fourth place with 80 points. Harris's scoring spree of 21 points in one game was the highlight of the Big Ten movements. Before this, he hadn't been listed among the Big Ten leaders. Lucente men hold the first three positions.

Dan's Dope

Eau Claire opened up on one of the biggest scoring sprees of the season last Friday when they drubbed the LaCrosse Indians 63-42. Coach Zorn's men are clearly proving they are the class of the conference, which, of course, doesn't mean that the Falcons cannot take them into camp next Tuesday night.

The Falcons received a new baseball prospect recently when Jim Erickson, nephew of the Erickson brothers enrolled here. Jim has been playing semi-pro ball in his home town, Bangor, Wis., and from reports he can do a neat job of covering second base or roaming the outfield.

And it won't be long before Al and Mel will be heading for Florida to join the Minneapolis Millers for spring training. The Erickson boys expect to take their exams a week early in order that they may report on time. While the Falcons will miss their services, we certainly will be pulling for them to make the grade in Double A competition.

River Falls will be well represented at the Golden Gloves Tournament to be held at Eau Claire this week end. Staley, Mills, Maki, Thoeny, Ward, and Aldrich are the local college men who will swing into action. In addition to these boxers, Koehler, high school specialist, is to show his stuff. The boys have been working out in the college gymnasium for the past few weeks, and they should be in good shape for the event.

Ice enthusiasts will be able to take part in our own Winter Revue to be held a week from Sunday. All Falcon skaters are urged to take part in this event, as its success will determine whether or not it will become an annual affair and whether similar projects will be sponsored in the future.

Rhodey's Team Took It On the Chin Again

Tuesday night by losing to the Griffith team. After leading at the half 13-10, they went into a slump the last half to lose 24-18. L. Jensen collected twelve points to lead the Griffith team to victory while Manske kept Rhodey's team in the running with eleven points.

Hawn's team gave the league-leading Henning's team notice that they were still in the running by defeating them 22-17. The game was a see-saw affair until the last few minutes when Hawn's popped in a couple of baskets in succession to clinch the victory. This game was a scoring spree for Parrish of Hawn's who collected fourteen points and Jorgenson of Hennings' who got twelve.

On Thursday night, Rhodey's team upset the dope with its 29-24 victory over Hawn's. Their passing attack and set shots were just too much for the Hawn team's defense. Manske was high point scorer for Rhodey's with 18 points while Parrish was high for the losers with 15.

Henning's team really showed it was the team to beat when it turned back Griffith's 35-28. Several times during the second half, Griffith's threatened to take the lead, but the Henning's forwards came through with points whenever they were needed. Jorgenson led the scoring with 20 points. L. Jensen was high for the losers with 13 points.

The Big Five in scoring: Parrish—Hawn's 105, Jorgenson—Henning's 97, Jensen—Griffith's 92, Manske—Rhodey's 70, Lundmark—Henning's 48

The Standings are as follows:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Henning's	6	2	.750
Hawn's	4	4	.500
Rhodey's	3	5	.375
Griffith's	3	5	.375

Falconess Sketch

LaVerne Jensen

A lucky day for Luck, Wisconsin, when on June 20, 1918, that blonde bit of energy, LaVerne Jensen, put in her appearance. Born of Danish parents, she's entitled to belong to that exclusive group of Danes inhabiting these school premises. And are they good? Just ask any of them.

Luck has seen quite a bit of Miss Jensen. She attended grade and high school there, where she was a necessary part of the establishment. In high school, she took part in all athletics, was on the staff of the school paper belonged to the pep club and the honor society - ranking second in a graduating class of thirty.

Since coming to River Falls, she's formed definite opinions on several things: worst subject-English Composition, favorite sports-basketball and badminton in winter, tennis and swimming in summer. Just incidentally, she is the present tennis champ having defeated LeVernia Jorgenson in last fall's matches. She, also, is a member of the Red Cross Life Saving Corps.

Her present ambition is to get an A from Dr. Williams in American History. She is a member of the YW, GOP, and WAA.

Ask anyone who knows her and they'll agree when she says her favorite pastime is talking! In her estimation steak and salads are tops in the food line.

Most of the Basketball teams have only a few games left before the regular intra-mural tournament begins. Torgerson's outfit, after a close first half score of 6-2, came back to down Erickson's team 19-8 with Dean Johnson tallying nine points for the winners. It was their eighth victory against one defeat.

Bartz and Lucente fought for the second position in the standings, with Bartz coming out 39-31, but only after a tough battle. Alfonse kept his team in the running by scoring sixteen points. Erickson of the losers garnered thirteen points while Blaisdell, also of Lucente's five, was held to nine points.

In another big upset, Staley's quint downed Frank's fourth place five 28-26. This was the second win for Staley's team and they can be counted on to win some more before the round is completed.

Marquardt's team dumped Henke's 40-31 with Devereaux leading the way with sixteen points.

Ben Hylkema's pennant threats continued to keep pace by downing Rundell's quint 35-21. Harris pounded the net for 21 points, while Mel Erickson added eight points to put the game away. Roberts' gang turned in a victory over Stu Larson's team 25-23 with Cannon getting nine points.

A Badminton Tournament

for men has been scheduled by the Athletic Council. Tournaments will be played in both singles and doubles. There is no entry fee and players may enter at any time by starting at the bottom of the ladder. Entries should be made to Dr. J. H. Owens. The drawing has been made and the tournament ladder is posted in the South Hall gymnasium. It is hoped that several matches may be scheduled with other colleges during the spring months.

FALCON championship hopes were considerably frustrated by their defeat at the hands of Superior. IF River Falls wins from La Crosse and upsets Eau Claire and IF Ted Whereatt's men also upset the Zornmen, the three teams could be tied for tops. "Ifs" - but why not?

ASTUTE observers claim that fans are missing things when they don't take a look in at the River Falls boxing squad. Dan Linehan, local cop and expert pugilistic coach, is training the boys.

LA CROSSE has little chance of gaining top honors in the conference this year - but they can do a lot of damage as they play River Falls Superior, and Stout.

COACH Bud Manion of the local high school, has whipped together a winning aggregation after working without much material for the past two years. Last Friday his Orange and White quintet defeated Ellsworth, one of the strongest teams in the league.

OMINOUS dark clouds are gathering over the sports horizon for the Big Ten. Michigan recently signed Fritz Crisler as its head coach. Michigan is due for a big shake-up and the other teams had better be on their toes.

NOW black eyes seem to be circulating on the local campus. Roger Moore is courting one as the result of losing a three round decision at Menomonie Friday night. Glenn Thoeny has a like adornment that he acquired in boxing practice - and by the way William Mills won his bout at Menomonie on a second round knockout.

"Soft" Weather Last Week Held Up

the games scheduled in the Intra-mural hockey race. This, however, did not prevent the squad from having a tough scrimmage on Thursday. This week's schedule is as follows:

- Tuesday—Dubbe vs Ellig
- Wednesday—Foley vs Ellig
- Thursday—Wills vs Dubbe

Hockey has proved to be a very interesting sport to a number of boys. More enthusiasm has been aroused than was really expected. Coach Setterquist has already been making plans for the continuation of the sport, with high hopes of including it in the regular gym credit activities.

Preparations are being made to put on an exhibition hockey game at the coming Winter Revue. Many of the students who have never witnessed a hockey game or even watched the intra-mural battles will have an opportunity to see two teams present a good example of how this contest is executed by the "big timers."

LaCrosse Will Furnish the Opposition

for River Falls This Friday Evening as the Falcons Will Attempt to avenge the 47-35 thumping they suffered from the Yellowjackets last week.

The Indians were on the short end of the score last week also going down to a 63-46 defeat at the hands of Eau Claire. To date the Maroons have one win and have lost three in the conference race. They boast a victory over Stout and have suffered defeat at the hands of Eau Claire twice and River Falls once.

The stars for the Maroons are Juedes at forward and Becker at center, the latter having scored twenty-two points in the first game with Eau Claire. The remainder of the starting line-up will probably be Kelly at forward and Sacharski and Carlson at the guards.

Conference Standings

Team	W	L	Pct
Eau Claire	5	0	1.000
River Falls	4	2	.666
Superior	3	2	.600
La Crosse	1	4	.200
Stout	0	5	.000

Spring Valley Cagers and Fans Have

their heated rivalry with Altoona intact today but they have a new friendship and respect for their bitter rivals as the result of the actions of Captain Olseth of the Altoona high quint.

Ove Berven took his Spring Valley cagers to Altoona for a game which was a natural, for the Altoona coach is Harold Isaacson, Spring Valley boy and former River Falls State Teachers' College star. The Valley piled up a 23-13 lead in three quarters, but Altoona spurted, got hot and tied the score at 24-24. With the crowd in an uproar and seconds to play, Danielson of Spring Valley was fouled while shooting and given two free throws. The crowd continued to yell as he stepped to the foul line and Captain Olseth of Altoona walked over to Danielson telling him to take his time and not shoot until the crowd quieted down.

Danielson shot, however, and missed the first one. Olseth then went to the referee and requested that he tell the crowd the game would not continue until there was absolute silence. The official complied, Danielson shot and sank his second shot and Spring Valley won 25-24.

Representatives from Five Colleges

Gathered in Kirk's Hall at Macalaster February 10 to Discuss Student government problems. River Falls sent five members of the Student Senate to this meeting which is the second in the series to be held by the Student Forum.

Each college brought before the house its most serious problem concerning student government, and representatives from other colleges suggested remedies as applied in similar situations of their own. Comparisons were made and an effort put forth to find a suitable solution to the difficulty.

Of five major questions that were discussed, the one most important to the River Falls representatives was that of freshman orientation programs. Another one of particular interest to our group was the question of student participation in the formulation of curriculum. Other questions were raised regarding exchange students, the cost of development and the advantages of it. Also, the advisability of curtailing student participation in extra curricular activities was discussed. Cheating was the final problem introduced. The honor system, police system, and other methods to abolish dishonesty in tests were debated.

River Falls representatives took special note of the first two questions, and expect to apply wholly or in part, the ideas to work out the first problem regarding a method of freshman representation that is satisfactory to the entire student body. In the second case, the object is to discover if it really is advisable to have students help choose their own college courses, or if it would be better for them to have specific courses given to them by department heads, who know what is included in each line of study.

The Student Forum is a recent organization, created to solve the various problems that come before college students.

The first meeting was held at Hamline, and the group will be the guest of St. Catherines College at another gathering which will be held in the near future.

Other colleges who were represented at Macalaster were St. Thomas, St. Catherines, and Hamline.

Representatives from River Falls were Daniel Dykstra, Marion Hawkins, Laurence Gherty, Joseph Hyde, and Willard Lane.

and Doris Nystrom. Stella Tobiasen, chairman, Phyllis Hawn and Olive Joos have been appointed to the punch committee. Ruth Phillips, Harriet Campbell, Bette Larson and Marguerite Rottier have been chosen as hostesses. Marshall Wilcox is in charge of securing the orchestra and has contracted Bennet Greten's orchestra for the evening.

Robert Knowles, Ruth Phillips, Betty Larson and John Bradley have been appointed as directors for the one-act plays to be given sometime in March.

As the feature of the evening's program, Carleton Ames spoke to the organization on the art of make-up.

Ruth Phillips read Lord Dunsany's play A Knight at an Inn.

In a recent issue of the Student Voice an error which needs correction appeared in the "Faculty Sketch" of Dr. Kettlekamp.

His initials were given as "B. J." They should have been "B. H." "H" for "Hoshone" or "Hoshoton" or something which comes of family worship (his grandfather's name was that). Our apologies, Dr. Benjamin H. Kettlekamp. We justify ourselves on the ground that you are known at times as "Benjie" which easily becomes corrupted into "Ben J."

OBTAINS POSITION

Marion Larson

Mrs. Marion Larson is the first member of the 1938 graduating class to obtain a position. She has been hired to teach English and German in Prescott, filling the position left vacant because of the illness of the former teacher. Mrs. Larson will receive her B. E. degree at the end of the winter term.

Plans for a Formal, to be held early in April, are being made by the R Club. Several orchestras have been contacted but the committee has not made a report as to which band will be selected.

Recent unexcused absences caused the creation of a new by-law to the Club's Constitution. The new law states, in so many words, any member absent for two consecutive meetings will be fined fifty cents. The Club officials think that this new law will cut down on the absences.

Kettlekamp Inc. Faces Indictment

The plaintiff's attorney has intimated that the decision is already in his pocket. The legal staff for the prosecution is lining up a formidable array of witnesses who will testify in this epoch-making trial (for RF STC). Can we let the doctor down at this exigent moment in his career? By all means, no! All men who have succeeded in salvaging at least one pair of trousers are requested to be present at the trial (accommodations will be provided also for men without trousers). Dr. Kettlekamp shall be assured that the students are unequivocally behind him and his Kill-or-Kure.

Guilty or not guilty! The college campus says "No!" What will the law say?

Next Monday Evening's Group

Session Will be the Last in the Series of Meetings Conducted by the joint YW-YM on problems concerning college students.

The meeting of the Men, Women, and Family Relationships group will continue the discussion on engagements, conditions delaying marriage, and related topics. A short part of the period will be given to answering the questions which have been placed in the question box.

Mutual love, good heredity, health, good sportsmanship, an equal level of intelligence, similar interests and ideals, and means of support were listed as desirable requisites in mates. "The greater similarity of interests in partners, the greater the possibility of successful marriage," said Dr. Walker D. Wyman, resource man for the group.

The commission on Campus Living has decided to discuss how much time students do and should spend reading books and other unrequired work, the honor system, and various marking systems. A suggestive list on the board will be used for further topics.

In the group on religion the results of a questionnaire used at the previous meeting were used as a basis for a discussion of various points in the Christian faith.

"Our Attitude Toward European Powers" will be the topic of discussion in the World Affairs group next Monday.

A lively debate regarding the Japanese Panay incident occupied the greater part of the meeting this week. Much controversy arose over the International Law and whether it is idealistic or practical.

Sketching in Charcoal, Using

Frederick Johnson as a model was the chief activity at the regular meeting of the Palette club held last Tuesday evening, February 8, in the art room.

Others attending the club meeting busied themselves with wood-carving, one of the new projects recently introduced.

THE LOUDSPEAKER

Assembly program committees have been having quite a time thinking up new and different ideas to present on these Thursday morning free-for-alls. So far the products of their cogitation have been both amusing and educational, to take Ed Baker's Professor Quizz act for an example, but the "well of ideas" is becoming more and more arid, much to the directors' dismay. Tomorrow morning finds the Student Voice entertainment billed for production, and, as Willie Shakespeare says, "the play's the thing," with a one act comedy farce about a dress suit, a soup-and-fish, or something. The last of this series of home-made horse operas will on next Thursday when the Masquers will attempt to pull all the strings together and put over their masterpiece of Ziegfeldism.

The newest arrival on the campus is jovial "Bicky" Bickerstaff, a blond husky formerly of the University of Wisconsin, who has joined the numerous group of other Bloomer asteroids present here, with the express intention of "gettin' some work done," as he vehemently stated recently. Keep a stiff upper ace of spades, son!

The bulletin board situation in South Hall is worse than ever this year, if we can believe what everyone noticed there last week to be any indication of what goes on all the time. The walls of the corridor were a mass of scribbled slips of paper, exhorting juniors to pay their dues, and beseeching any finder of a heliotope fountain pen to put it on the front steps of a certain house on South Second street. All of these dramatic appeals were so tightly wedged together that it was practically impossible to get any information whatsoever with but a desultory glance. Maybe the mighty Student Senate can evolve something to bring order out of this particular hunk of chaos.

The "Look Alike" contest reported in Life a few weeks ago failed to uncover a striking double for Fred Waring. Last Thursday in assembly we saw a man with a profile that closely resembles that of the old smoothie. This personage, we are proud to announce was none but the old genius, Lawrence Valentino Selvig, himself. Carved into majestic lights and shadows by the footlights below his features showed themselves to be truly dynamic, rivalled only by the astuteness of Mr. Selvig's thinking. This mighty being, we thought, should go far on the road to fame and distinction. Well, anyway, quite a way at least!

If the present business depression keeps up, we imagine there will be much need for economizing on all sides. If the big utilities keep kicking, maybe we'll have to produce our own individual electricity. Now what we have in mind in case such a thing actually happens is this: one hour a day is to be devoted to rubbing one's feet across the thick rug in the Social Room. This should generate enough "juice" to keep the lights on and the music box pulsating. Then again, maybe not - but who cares anyway?

Tryouts for a Home Talent show to be sponsored by WLS and staged by the Junior Class of the High School February 24, 25, and 26 will be conducted in the high school auditorium February 16 and 17.

Singers, dancers, and musicians of all kinds are needed. All those interested are urged to come and try out.
