VOLUME XLVII Number 16 RIVER FALLS STATE COLLEGE MONDAY, JANUARY 23, 1961

Government Reorganization Political Conference Theme

Reorganization of various levels of government in Wisconsin—a controversial state topic which has not yet reached the stage of being a "hot" issue in Pierce county—will be scrutinized in February at River Falls State College.

Coming to RFSC for the fourth "Grassroots Politics Conference" Feb. 8 and 9 will be state and area leaders in the issue. Topic of the event is "Wisconsin Government in the 1960s—Is Reorganization Needed?"

Highlight of the two-day annual conference will be a debate between Attorney General John Reynolds and State Senator Bob Knowles, on "Reapportionment in Wisconsin—How Shall It Be Done?"

Reynolds is generally considered to be the top prospect to replace Gaylord Nelson as the Democratic party's candidate for governor in 1962, if Nelson runs for the U.S. Senate as he is expected to.

River Falls' mayor, Maynard E. Hoffman, will also be a conference participant. He will be one of five persons in a panel discussion on "County Reorganization — Problems and Proposals."

Other members of the panel will be Douglas Weiford, Eau Claire's city manager; Assemblyman Harvey Dueholm; John P. Reynolds, vice president of the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance field services division; and St. Croix County Board chairman Frank Van Someren, Jr.

Another conference highlight will be a morning speech by Ivan Nestingen, mayor of Madison. Nestingen, who has been involved in a bitter city-county battle between Madison and Dane County, will speak on "Problems Facing Wisconsin's Cities."

Two visiting political scientists will also talk during the two-day affair. Prof. James Donoghue, director of the Bureau of Government of the university's Extension Division; and Prof. Ralph Huitt of the political science department at the university, will both speak.

TIE IN TROPHY RACE AS CRYSTAL CAPERS COMPETITION BEGINS

The Veteran's Club and the Pinochle Club are tied even up in the race for the social events participation trophy as the deadlines for entering planned Winter Carnival activities draw near.

The Vet's Club and the Pinochlers each have 200 points, 65 ahead of the third place Future Farmers of America who have accumulated 135 points. Trophy race was instituted last fall in an attempt to insure more active interest in campus events.

The above statistics were tallied at the end of Foundation Week, and do not include any points possibly gained by a club since the beginning of Winter Carnival sign-ups.

A breakdown shows that the Vets' Club picked up 150 points during Homecoming festivities — including 75 for sponsoring the winning Queen candidate — and their remaining 50 points for participation in Foundation Week activities.

The Pinochle Club, however, has led a somewhat more balanced scoring attack by getting

Carnival Participation Sign-up Deadlines Near

With two deadlines already past for participation in Winter Carnival events and others fast approaching, it is important that social clubs or organizations sign up now to get into the trophy race, according to the Winter Carnival Chairwomen.

There are six different categories in which groups may compete for points toward the trophy during the Feb. 2-3-4-5 Winter Carnival festivities, the slogan contest, beard contest, Carnival King contest, snow sculpture contest, midway booths, and treasure hunt.

King Candidates must be submitted to the Carnival Committee no later than this evening, while plans for participation in the midway booths and sculptures must be recorded no later than Monday, Jan. 30. Signing up for the treasure hunt will take place on Saturday, Feb. 4, just before the search begins. Each social organization may send no more than two representatives to look for the treasure, according to the Carnival Committee.

The deadline for signing up for the bowling tournament is also Monday, Jan. 30. Deadlines for entering the slogan contest and beard contest have already past.

The complete point system for Winter Carnival is as follows:

- Slogan Contest: 10 points for entering, 15 for winning.
- Beard Contest: 10 for entering, 15 for winning in any category.
- King Candidates: 15 for entering,

75 for winning.

Midway Booth: 25 points for entering.

Snow Sculptures: 10 points for entering, 50 points and $7. for first prize, 25 points and $5 for second, and 15 points and $3 for third place.

Treasure Hunt: 10 points for entering and 25 points for finding the treasure.

Bonus: 30 points for entering four of the six categories.

On Your Mark Officials Give Treasure Clue

"On the well-trodden path it may very well be; To find our treasure you'll need no key.

"We're sure you walk by at least once a day, And if you walk close it will sit in your way.

So go the first clues to the 1961 Winter Carnival Treasure Hunt, which begins at 8 a.m. on Saturday, Feb. 4. The treasure will consist of 25 points awarded to the social club which first discovers its whereabouts.

Another clue will be published in next week's Voice, and the final clue will be read at the Talent Show, Thursday, Feb. 2.

The Editor Speaks ..

While obtaining the most modern, well-rounded education possible seems the logical goal of today's college or university student, certainly the full merits of such an education cannot be realized unless the individual applies his "storehouse of knowledge" in the best way for the individual. Choosing the right career, indeed, can be as important to a person as obtaining the education itself.

In an effort to help students of River Falls College choose and plan their life work, a Third Biennial Career Conference will be conducted on Tuesday, Jan. 31.

The specified purposes of the career conference are to offer discussions of various problems in making the best vocational choice; to evaluate how much and what kind of education is necessary for various types of work; to review personality factors in vocational success; and to present opportunities in business and industry.

One-hour discussion sessions will analyze requirements and possibilities in 34 different career fields. Each session will be headed by a faculty member from the particular vocational department as well as by an outside speaker.

Certainly the value of such a conference to tomorrow's leaders cannot be over-emphasized.

RF Campus Basements Come Up in World

Art Studio Replaces Kitchen Pots and Pans; Gym Becomes Chem Lab

by Freddy Falcon

Since the construction of the new Student Center and Physical Education buildings at Wisconsin State College at River Falls, the basement areas of old North and South Halls—only two short years ago the center of campus life with their gymnasium, cafeteria, swimming pool, meeting and social rooms, and lounges—have become a matter of little concern and certainly less traffic in the routine of busy students.

In the near future, however, when approximately $150,000 worth of remodeling is completed; when new equipment is installed in the redesigned rooms; and when several of the professors and instructors have moved their entire offices into new quarters; the basements of the College's two oldest buildings will once again become centers of activity on campus as well as scientific and cultural center of Northwestern Wisconsin.

Briefly, the basement area of North Hall has been made into physics and chemistry rooms and demonstration areas, while the renovated areas of South Hall will be utilized by the art, music and language departments.

"This is probably the greatest stride forward in stimulating interest in the arts which has been taken in Western Wisconsin in the past 20 years," commented Dr. William Abbott, chairman of the music department, in speaking of the remodeling plans. "Plans such as these will not only improve the space conditions for the music and art departments," he stated, "but they will undoubtedly improve the quality of what the departments can offer."

Dr. Abbott also feels that with the new and better facilities, River Falls will be able to recruit more outstanding students for studies in music or art. "This expansion of facilities implies recognition of our administration and other officials of the importance of the arts," he concluded.

Art workbenches where stoves used to sit, paint cupboards where pots and pans were once stored, and drawing and painting equipment where students once ate their meals and talked over coffee will transform the old cafeteria of South Hall into perhaps the most complete ceramics studio in the Wisconsin State College system.

The cafeteria dining room has been relieved of its booths and tables, and is awaiting the installation of equipment for a large drawing and painting studio. The kitchen area has been completely remodeled and will house a ceramics and crafts workshop.

Significant in the kitchen area will be the installation of six new potters' wheels, now being constructed by Kurt Wild, art instructor and specialist in ceramics, and two of his students. Ceramic students will mix their own glazes directly from the chemicals in the new studio.

The old cafeteria pantry and office will be a multi-purpose room in the new art studios. Most interesting in the room is a large oven, called a kiln, for baking potteries. The kiln is a large firebrick-lined heating unit which can be sealed and heated to very high temperatures for baking ceramic fixtures, and is big enough to treat several small pieces of pottery or a very large article or vase.

Mr. Wild will have an office where kettles of soup and pans of potatoes and vegetables sat on a serving line during the heydays of the old cafeteria.

A dream finally comes true for Dr. Abbott and the music department when they move into spacious new quarters where the women's gym and the girl's locker rooms used to be. The department has long planned to move down stairs from their creaky third floor habitat whenever a new physical education plant was built, and that time has now come.

The women's gym of South Hall has been revamped into a music instrumental rehearsal room, to be used for band, brass ensemble practice, and occasional class lectures. The ceiling of the gym has been dropped, and lights have been installed to permit use of the room for theatre-in-the-round productions by the drama department.

Dr. Abbott and Conrad DeJong, music instructors, will move into the remodeled offices just off from the old gym which used to serve as offices for the women's physical education department. The west office, which will be for Dr. Abbott, has a large picture window facing into the new band rehearsal room, and will be equipped with electrical facilities for making tape recordings of the music practice sessions. There will also be an intercom system throughout the new music department.

The music department has also inherited a large amount of space in the basement areas below the old gym. The girls' lockers and showers have been reconstructed into nine soundproofed, acoustically-treated rooms which will be used for individual practice rooms. What used to be the ceramics room, in the basement, before the renovation began has been developed into another sound-proof room which will be used for ensemble rehearsals.

The two rooms in the east wing of the South Hall basement area known to students and faculty who remember the days before the Student Center as the ping-pong room and the lounge have been taken over by the foreign language and psychology departments.

The ping-pong room has been equipped as a psych lecture room, while the lounge across the hall has undergone extensive surgery for the language department.

The old lounge will have 30 booths wired for studying with recording materials. Beyond the booths will be three more small rooms; one will be a glass-paneled control room, another a recording room, and one will be a stack room for films, records, tapes, and other audio visual supplies. In the old lounge there will also be a small conference room and an office area for the attendant in charge.

The Knotty Pine Room will be divided into offices for Dr. Gossner and Dr. Jurgens.

While North Hall plans are not quite so far along as those for South Hall, extensive remodeling will take place. The wrestling room, which burned out last spring, will be made into a room for chemistry, as will the men's lockers.

The area which in the past has served as offices and storeroom for the men's athletic department will be used for chemistry and physics set-ups and for storing supplies.

The North Hall Gym, as yet untouched, will eventually be divided into two amphitheatre lecture rooms for physics and chemistry. Experiments will be set up where the locker rooms used to be, and then will be wheeled into the amphitheatre rooms for lecture purposes.

No definite plans have been made as yet for the swimming pool area.

Neil Barron, chief engineer for the College, states that the new rooms should all be ready to move into by the beginning of Spring Quarter. "There is a lot of equipment yet to arrive, several piles of office supplies to move, and about 15 pianos to bring down four flights of stairs before the rooms will be ready to go," Barron states. The state building inspectors were on campus last week, however, to give approval or disapproval to the accomplishments of the contractors.

General contractor for North Hall has been the Olson Construction Co., Stillwater, Minn. The firm had the general contract for construction of the Student Center. The U&M Electric Co. of Menomonie, Mich., and the Early Plumbing and Heating Co. of River Falls had the North Hall plumbing and heating contracts.

The Willie Construction Co. of Stillwater, the same company which built the Physical Education Building, has the general contract for remodeling South Hall. The Starkweather Electric Co., Oconomowoc; the River Falls Heating and Sheet Metal Co., River Falls; and the Early Plumbing and Heating Co., River Falls, have the plumbing, heating, and ventilating contracts for South Hall.

Six Fall Quarter Grads Report Immediate Plans

If the results of basketball action in the Wisconsin State College Conference during the holidays can be used as an indicator, a topsy turvy season is in store for all loop teams.

When River Falls (comfortably settled in the cellar) battled undefeated Oshkosh into overtime before bowing 92-89 on the Titans' home court yet, you can realize how tight the league is going to be.

Oshkosh remains atop the heap but how long will it last? They lost to Eau Claire and a subpar St. Norbert's team in the Titans' Holiday Tourney giving rise to doubts about their continuing as the league favorite.

Meanwhile the Blugolds of Bill Zorn were picking up support as the conference darkhorse. But three straight defeats by Whitewater, Milwaukee and Superior have relegated Eau Claire to the ranks of the mediocore.

Superior's Yellowjackets are having one of their best seasons in years. They dumped Platteville on the Pioneers' home floor two weeks ago, marking Platteville's first home loss in four years. This "No place like home" attribute marks John Barth's crew as another possible title threat.

Milwaukee has a string of 34 straight wins on its home floor in Baker Fieldhouse and reigns as defending champion. Their one-two punch of Jerry Grochowski and Dave Vincent is the most potent in the circuit but the Cards' 126-96 defeat at the hands of Platteville leaves one wondering if they're of championship caliber.

And we've said nothing yet of Stevens Point's racehorses that still have Sammy Sampson in harness. On any given night they could beat any other team in the conference.

Whitewater, this corner's pre-season choice as league titlist, has had its share of troubles but still has a fighting chance.

Only LaCrosse, Stout and River Falls seem out of the picture as far as winning the crown is concerned. But as we mentioned at the outset, the Falcons' battle with Oshkosh points out how close this race may get before its over.

ICE FISHING

Not much room for tidbits this week. Here's an item that should interest some sportsmen (and women) however.

Tentative plans have been made by the activities committee to hold an all-school ice fishing contest on Saturday, Feb. 10. Anyone interested in participating or judging is requested to contact Mr. Reynolds in the student center office.

Unless yours truly dips a line that day, the obvious favorite has to be Howie Brockman. Watch this column for further developments regarding this event.

W R A Holds Synchronized Swim Clinic

Swim Clinic

A synchronized swim clinic was held in Karges pool on Saturday, Jan. 14, 1961. It was conducted by Miss Marilyn Hinson, instructor of swimming, and Carol Corbel, a student, both of Beloit College.

Miss Corbel was a winner in the national A.A.U. competition in 1960. In the afternoon she gave a solo performance for the public entitled "Scintillating Serpent."

Miss Hinson and Miss Corbel spent the morning and part of the afternoon working with 14 River Falls students and their director, Mrs. Jim Grubb. The group worked on synchronized swimming forms and show productions.

"They said it couldn't be done" but they did it in '61.

Nancy Fox and Pat Grant took top honors last year in badminton while Grace Maule and Jean Eyhre had to settle for second place. This had been bothering Grace and Jean throughout the year until last Monday evening when they turned the tide and got revenge. This year the top honors went to Grace and Jean and the right to go to the LaCrosse Badminton Sportsday, Feb. 25, 1961. Nancy and Pat will have to be content with second place.

Basketball

Basketball will get underway this evening at 6 p.m. under the direction of Miss Carol Leach, newly elected sports head.

"Approximately 50 enthusiastic students have signed up," said Carol, "and from the looks of things it is going to be a rousing good tournament."

Coach Leach says, "In order to have top-notch competition these rules should be observed at all times."

1—Games start at 6:00 sharp and failure to attend means forfeit.

2—No team member may play on more than one team.

3—The team must have 6 members to start the game and 5 to continue.

4—Official D.G.W.S. rules will be followed.

Cagers Face Busy Schedule; Matmen Entertain Moorehead

by Jim Norrish

This week the Falcon Cagers play at home entertaining St. Cloud Wednesday and take to the road to invade Eau Claire on Saturday while the Grapplers will host Moorehead on the same night.

Coach Don Page and his crew will attempt to avenge an earlier 86-74 loss this season to St. Cloud. The Huskies will have the height advantage in 6' 7" Bob Campbell, 6-7 Gene Afinson, and 6-5 Bahne.

In the first encounter Don Caruth had 19 points while Campbell hit for 13 to lead a well-balanced attack.

Eau Claire also handed the Falcons a defeat earlier this season, edging them 58-57 in what was the first conference game for both teams. As this goes to press the Falcons are winless in conference play and Blugolds are 2-2.

The two platoon system by Coach Bill Zorn was plagued by cold shooting as was River Falls in Karges Gymnasium. On their home court the Blugolds will be tough and the Falcons will have to play above par to come home victorious.

The leading scorer for the Blugolds is Forward Bob Blizzard. They have two fine playmakers in Jim Bade and Al Urness and a good rebound, scoring combination in forward Dave Putney and 6-6 center Bill Klish. The second squad is almost equal in ability; therefore, the Blugolds put the pressure on at all times.

Wrestling Coach Byron James and his matemen are also looking for revenge. Moorehead, who handed the Falcons one of their two defeats last year, won decisively 20-6 last week. Returning from last year's squad are Joe Kannapel, Arlan Mueller, Ron Filipy, and Ron Wiger.

Mueller and Pat Mrotek, wrestling in the 147 pound class, dueling in a thriller. With 5 seconds left in the match Mueller broke a 2-2 deadlock to win 4-2. Dave Garlie at 157 declsioned Filipy 6-2. Wiger, wrestling in the heavy-weight class at 279 pounds won over Larry Julien 4-10.

This match could prove to be interesting as the team will be out to get revenge while Julien will want to settle one personally.

Wrestlers Humiliate Bluedevils 27-5

by Jim Norrish

The River Falls wrestling squad made it two victories in a row as they dumped Stout 27-5 on the Bluedevil's mat Saturday night. The Falcons were never in trouble as Stout forfeited the 123 pound, 130 pound, and 137 pound classes.

Stout's points came on a pin by Leon Stephenson with 5:02 gone in the match with Wayne Garlie. Besides the forfeits, the point getters for the Falcons were Jerry Halverson, Arvin Jacobson, Dave Garlie, and Larry Julien.

Falcon Jerry Halverson won the 147 pound match on a reversal in the second period. Fred Loomis received one point for an escape but it wasn't enough as Halverson won 2-1.

The only points scored in the 157 weight division were by Arvin Jacobson to hand Stout's Glen Hardy a 2-0 defeat. Jacobson scored on a reversal in the third period.

One-hundred sixty seven pound Dave Garlie and the Bluedevils' Jerry Holubets battled to the wire but Garlie came out on top 4-3.

Holubets scored three points in the final period in a gallant try for a come-from-behind victory.

Heavyweight Larry Julien kept his winning ways by scoring a 2-1 win over Robert Raczek. Julien developed a nose bleed halfway through the match but continued fighting to squeeze out the win.

Pagemen Continue Losing, Drop 71-58 Tilt to Stout

by Ed Schlumpf

Stout's upstart Bluedevils combined torrid free throw accuracy with a last quarter surge in pushing River Falls, hapless Falcons deeper into the WSCC cellar Saturday night in Menomonie.

The final score of 71-58 doesn't indicate the closeness of the contest that left Don Page's crew with a 0-6 record in loop play and 3-9 mark overall.

The Bluedevils, using one senior, three sophomores, and three freshmen, hit only 24 field goals to the Falcons' 26 but connected on 23 of 29 charity tosses to ice it. Stout's final 11 points of the game came on free throws.

Coach Bob Bostwick's charges hit a blazing 50% from the field in the first half and trooped to the dressing room with a 41-34 halftime advantage.

The Falcons kept pecking away in the third quarter and narrowed the gap to two points at 54-52. But with big George Wolf sitting on the bench throughout most of the fourth quarter (he scored 15 points in the first half) the Falcons' attack lost its punch and fell reeling before the deadeye Stout free throw shooters in the waning minutes.

Wolf finished the game with scoring honors totaling 19. Mick Collins snapped out of his scoring doldrums netching 17 and Gary Scharfenberg added 10. Gary Simonson paced Stout with 21 while Barney McCall and Ron Larson each had 11 and Glen Harke 10.

Fran's Pass Reception Record Broken

by Gar Lenander

Of all the records broken this year in the professional football, the one that hit closest to home was set when Sonny Randle caught a John Roach pass to break the nine year record of pass receptions by St. Louis Cardinal ends. When the St. Louis football team was in Chicago, Fran Polsfoot, the former Washington Huskie All-American end, set a record of 58 pass receptions in 1951 which held until Randle's record breaking performance in 1960.

The Colt's Johnny Unitas set a new record of 42 games in which he threw at least one touchdown pass, and Paul Hornung, the Green Bay golden boy, set a new scoring record while leading the Packers to a division title.

"Moose," as Polsfoot is affectionately known by those in the athletic department, has guided the Falcon football team for the past four years. He led them to a conference title in 1958.

Grapplers Bounce Mac 22-8

The Falcon wrestlers bounced into the win column for the first time this season with a decisive 22-8 victory over visiting Macalester last Thursday night.

The win brought the season record for coach Byron James' squad to 1-2.

Jerry Fehlen wrestling in the 123 lb. division dropped a tough 4-2 decision to B. Antorovich to give the Mac's a 3-0 lead.

the 147 lb. bracket. Jacobson's decisioned 3-0 over J. Warling.

The usually reliable Dave Garlie had things pretty much his own way before putting the pin on P. Bourgerie in 0:27 of the third period. Wayne Garlie picked up a 4-3 decision over G. Clark in the 177 lb. classification.

The Falcons heavyweight, Larry Julien wasted little time in finishing the match. He put the pin on Charles Burkhardt in 1:25 the first period.

Macalester then upped their lead to 8-0 when R. Krech pinned Mick Hall in 1:65 of the second period.

James' crew then followed with four decisions and two pins good for 22 straight points.

Dick Culver started the River Falls scoring with an 8-2 decision over R. Lillemon in the 137 lb. classification.

Jerry Halverson and Arvin Jacobson came up with consecutive decisions in their respective weight divisions to give River Falls a 9-8 lead. Halverson won a hard fought 2-0 decision over D. Gilland in

by Ron Zirbel

After a three week lay off the intramural bowlers got under way with a full schedule. In "A" division action the Alley Cats held their first place berth by toppling the Tequila Kids 1546 to 1418 for three points. In other action the Gutter Dusters got into the winning ways by rolling past the Nine Pinners 1579 to 1547 with a 130 handicap.

Scraggs Take Lead

In "B" action the Scraggs took over first place by knocking the Pea Knucklers 1580 to 1385. The Pin Boys, who had held first place, dropped three points to the Maple Splitters by scores of 1418 to 1472. In other action the Dog Faces slipped two points from the Weasels by the slim margin of one pin. The Dogs had 1420 to the weasel 1419.

The big gun in this week's action was Rich Larrabee, who put together games of 210 and 152 for the Dog Faces. Earl Finder and Dan McKeeth helped the Gutter Dusters back on the winning trail by rolling series of 356 and 359 respectively. Paul Wright had a 201 game for the Nine Pinners.

Keglers Falter

In intercollegiate bowling the Falcons fought a losing battle, when they came up against the two top teams in the league and could only come away with one point.

In their match with LaCrosse, the top team in the conference, the Falcons piled up their highest series of the season but failed to stop the tough Indians. River Falls had games of 852, 974 and 945 for a series of 2771. La Crosse had games of 924, 906 and 980 for a series total of 2810.

In their other match, the Fal-

Lions Draft Mick Lauber

by Pat Higgins

Mick Lauber, one of the greatest athletes ever to don the red and white Falcon colors, was drafted by the Detroit Lions at the recent National Football League draft meetings held in Philadelphia.

The 6-2, 185 pound speedster was picked on the 15th round by the Lions and is expected to be tried out at an offensive end position.

Lauber was the only player drafted from the Wisconsin State College Conference at the meetings. Mick, who is currently teaching in Anoka, Minn., could not be reached for comment, but a reliable source (Fran Polsfoot) indicates that Lauber will be on the practice field when the Lions open practice sessions July 16 in Northern Michigan.

Gusties Sink Swim Team

River Falls' new swimming team opened their season last Thursday with a dual meet at Gustavus Adolphus. The meet, however, was actually a practice session since it was the Falcon's first experience in the water under competitive conditions.

No official scores were kept, but unofficial tabulations showed the Falcon swimmers on the short end of a 80-23 score.

Coach Dick Zamjahn was pleased with his team's showing against the Gusties, who were the MIAC champions last year.

Tom Cuskey showed fine form as he placed third in the diving competition. Cuskey also competed on the 400-yard free-style relay team, which won that event after the two Gustavus teams were disqualified. The Falcons' winning time was 4:42.5.

Jerry Strackbein placed second in the 60-yard free style and third in the 100-yard free style.

Coach Zamjahn says that lack of depth seems to be the main problem he is facing. He urged that any interested swimmer may still make the team by trying out at 3 p. m. any day of the week.

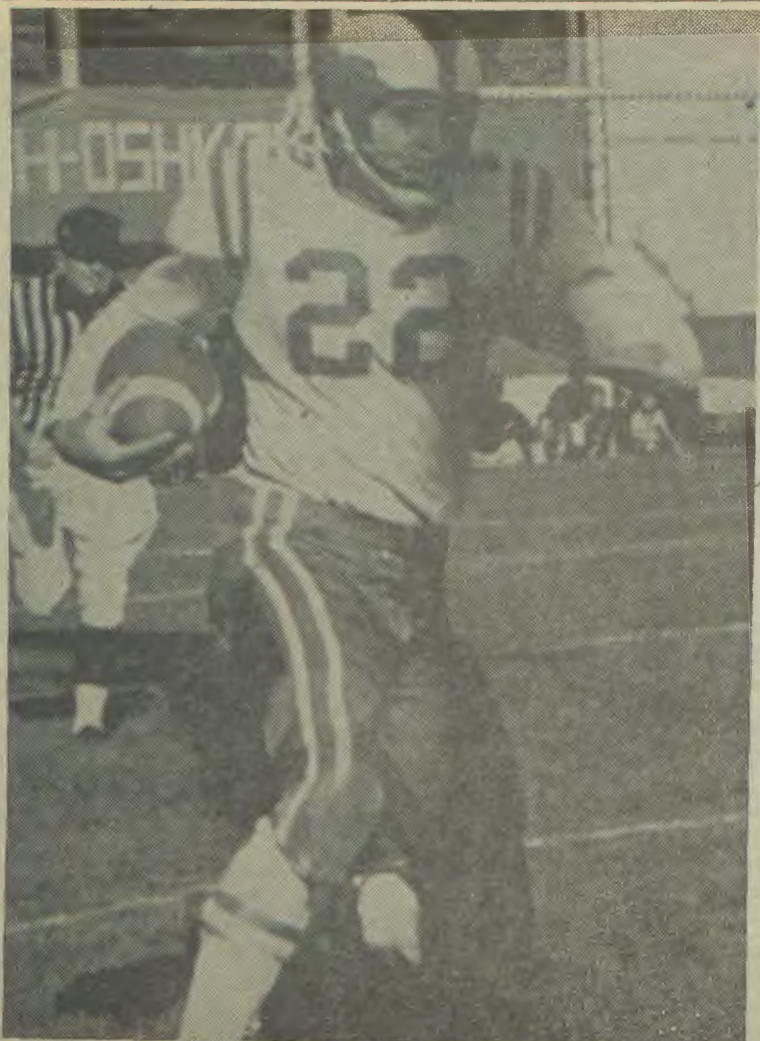

Lauber's latest honor was a fitting climax to a prep and college career marked with frequent honors and achievements. At Glenwood City High School Lauber won a total of 14 letters competing in football, basketball, baseball and track. Besides being rated the best athlete that the "Hill" city ever produced, Lauber holds the single game, season and career basketball scoring records at Glenwood City.

At RF State Mick won all-conference honors as a sophomore and junior in football. A knee injury during his senior grid season limited him to part time duty and prevented him from winning possible further honors on the gridiron.

Lauber won four letters in basketball and was named to the WSCC all-conference team as a junior. He also was a standout pitcher for the baseball team, winning three letters on the diamond.

Jim Filkins, the Falcons' big gun, took over the high single honors for the conference by rolling a 267 game against La Crosse.

Splits picked up this week were: 4-7-9-10, by Ron Williams and the 3-7-10, by Jer Brehm.

While enrollments are growing rapidly in virtually every education field offered by the Wisconsin State Colleges, the number of students enrolled in rural education programs is diminishing at an equal pace, according to a recent release from the Board of Regents.

Rural education students take two or three years of work in a special program, and then go out to teach in the county schools throughout Wisconsin.

In 1955-56, for example, some 469 students attending eight of the State Colleges (Stout does not offer this program) were enrolled in rural education divisions. In the fall of 1959, however, the number had dropped to 190.

This past fall, the total again dropped sharply to only 70 students—two men and 68 women—out of an on-campus enrollment of 15,644.

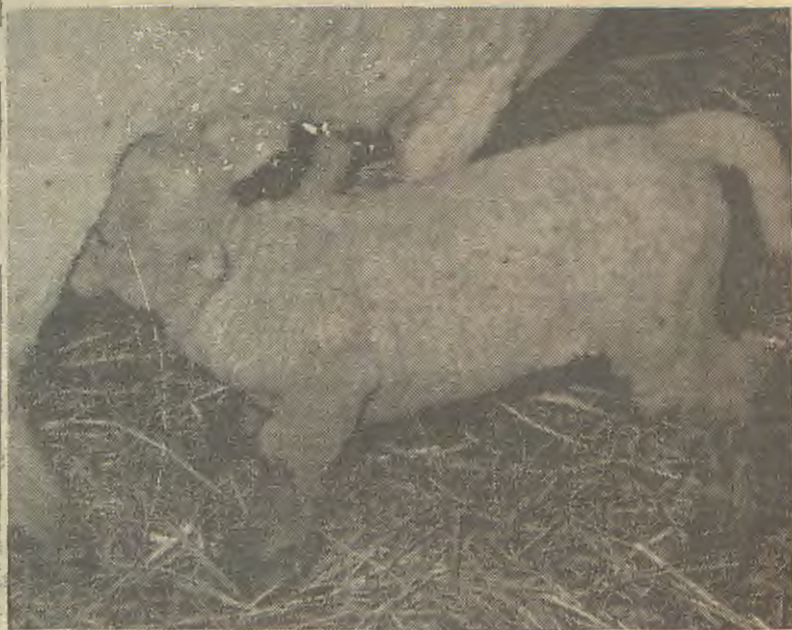

Several reasons are responsible for this rather significant change in enrollment. More and more college students who want to become teachers are, themselves, realizing the greater value of a four-year program which culminates in a bachelor's degree, the report said. The additional time provides valuable information on course content as well as the art and techniques of instruction, it was added.

Throughout the country, furthermore, emphasis is being placed on the necessity of a four-year preparation for teachers. And this emphasis, the regents claim, undoubtedly has had some effect upon the prospective teachers.

At the same time, the number of rural schools in Wisconsin is declining, curtailing the job potential in that category. County supervisors to the State Department of Public Instruction on June 30, 1950, that there were 3,953 one-room schools operating in Wisconsin. On that same date in 1955 there were 3293 such schools, while on June 30, 1958, the total dropped to 2,444. And it continues to drop as more school consolidation is affected.

College Career Conference Offers Advice, Discussions

The Third Biennial Career Conference at Wisconsin State College at River Falls is set for Tuesday, Jan. 31. As in the past, the Career Conference will give career information to students through group meetings at which a faculty member and an outside speaker will be present.

The Career Conference will open at 9 a. m. with an all-school convocation in North Hall Auditorium. The speaker will discuss some of the problems in making wise decisions in vocational choices, personality factors in vocational success, opportunities in business and industry, and generally inroduce the meetings to follow.

Organized according to academic fields, the discussions will give information concerning the variety of occupations for which a major or minor in that area might be prepared, according to Dr. Nancy Knaak, director of the Conference. Students are urged to attend two meetings, Dr. Knaak stated, one relating to their academic major, and the other according to a minor.

Classes will be excused for the Conference, and will resume at 2 p. m.

Group meetings are scheduled for another hour, the first to be at 10 a. m. and the second at 11:10 a. m.
