PROSPECTS INSURE A RECORD-BREAKING HOMECOMING

River Falls Wins First Conference Game at Eau Claire, 6 - 0

Friday---Mass Meeting Sat.---Parade---Game Homecoming Ball

We all know that this is going to be a busy week-end, but do we know just what we are going to do, and where?

Friday evening there will be a big mass meeting in the auditorium. Old students know what our homecoming mass meetings are; new students want to find out; so we'll all be there. After the mass meeting we'll find ourselves falling in line for the torch light parade.

The first thing Saturday morning is the big parade. Organizations are busy fixing their floats, so if you have some originality, and want to do your bit, help with your organization float.

We're all going to be at the game in the afternoon, not only in body and mind, but with all the PEP we have.

The G. O. P. will serve a luncheon at 6:00 in the Congregational church dining room. All Gops, old and new, want to be there.

Saturday evening brings the usual homecoming ball. This is one of the big social events of the year, and no one should miss it; so men, make your dates.

A PAGE FROM THE PAST

(Taken from "The Normal Badger" Dec. 1896)

"On Saturday, October 17, the Menomonie team took their defeat like men. Off to the east a city called Menomonie that a few days ago rejoiced in the fact that she had an undefeated football team now mourns the loss of an expected victory. The Normalites, having the kick-off, chose the south goal, and as the ball was sent into the opposing ranks the excitement began in earnest. Menomonie made a fine play, pushing the ball beyond the center of the field. Each play for some time was to the advantage of the Stout men, but the Normalites soon solved the mystery and the eastern players began to retreat. For nearly ten minutes neither team made scarcely any gain, but sud-

The Athletic Council is going to award a three dollar prize for the best float and the same prize to the best comic float. These prizes will only be given to organizations or classes and not to individuals. All floats should be ready to start at 10 o'clock.

Oratory & Debate to be of Special Interest This Year

Besides having strong athletic teams during the past few years, River Falls has been gaining recognition as a strong school in the ever expanding field of oratory and debate. This year in March the Falls will have the pleasure and duty of entertaining the State Oratorical Contest. It is up to the new students as well as the old to take an interest in this work. The high schools throughout the country are demanding teachers who have had some experience along this line. It is well for every student to remember that it is special trained talent along some other work than subject instruction that gains the attention of the hiring school boards and principals.

At present there are nine persons who are working on their orations. Sometime during the first part of November there will be an elimination contest at which four members will be chosen to take part in the finals in December. The nine persons out for oratory are the following: John Davison, Donald Olson, Harry Ellefson, Osborne Attoe, John Burke, Clarence Nyht, James Casey, John Jennings, and Margaret Jackson.

Last year River Falls had one of the best debate squads, in many respects, that Mr. Mitchell has ever coached. Besides winning second in the state, they proved to be a lively bunch at all those little debate parties which make going out for debate a pleasure—

Rady Is In Local Hospital

The keen edge was taken off from the pleasure of trimming Eau Claire when "Rady," our veteran end, broke his leg and was carried from the field. He was brought back to the local hospital Saturday afternoon. Although visitors are not allowed from 12-3 o'clock, Rady welcomes company at any other time of the day. No doubt he still retains his sweet tooth, as well as his craving for fruit, so let's show him that it makes some difference to us that he isn't around the campus.

The boys last year said that the radio that the school bought for them was about the best thing that happened to them all the time that they were down there. Rady hasn't any company, so why not get him a radio to help him recuperate? Just a few cents apiece wouldn't make any difference to each individual, but it would make a lot of difference to Rady. Let's dish up when asked!

Karges' Trip to Alaska Appreciated By Students

Usually the students complain about assembly being dry and not having any kick in it. Last Thursday the entire student body (and faculty) got a real treat. Mr. Karges told of his trip to Alaska. This was something alive, interesting and educational.

One of the big points in his speech was the vast amount of unused resources which Alaska possessed. Perhaps pioneer days will yet be open for real red blooded Americans to find the greatest single achievement in the history of Alaska by bringing its vast resources into use.

Mr. Karges related his entire trip in such a manner that the assembly gave him their undivided attention throughout his lecture.

If it were possible for more of the faculty to spend their vacation in this manner, maybe the assembler might have more attraction for us.

A HOMECOMING BAND

The band is one of the features that makes the homecoming parade the success that it always is. Music has a marvelous effect on us humans, and when a band starts playing some peppy march, everyone peps up just a little more. We want our band to be just as good this year as it has ever been, and it can be if we want it. The Normal will have its own band this year, as the city band does not care to cooperate with us in this feature of homecoming. Every loyal booster that plays a band instrument is cordially invited, yes requested, to come to band practice tonight at 7:00 o'clock. Let's drown Stout's band Saturday.

RIVER FALLS BANQUET IN MILWAUKEE NOVEMBER 6

Two of our former graduates, who are enthusiastic boosters, have arranged for a big River Falls meeting in Milwaukee during the meeting of the Wisconsin State Teachers' Association. The following announcement will explain the matter:

"Big River Falls Reunion Banquet Friday night, November 6, at the Y. M. C. A., Milwaukee, during the W. T. A. Convention. Come and greet your old friends. Many of the old grads will be there. Tickets $1.00. Reservations must be in by Thursday night, November 5, and may be sent or phoned to Reynold Jensen, Y. M. C. A., Milwaukee, or to Laura E. Kellar, 1232 1/2 Oakland Ave., Milwaukee."

Five Plays Advance Ball 60 Yards For Touchdown

PLUCKY RADY BREAKS LEG

Coach Cox and his proteges brought back both good news and sad news from Eau Claire. The 6 to 0 score does not indicate the superiority of the River Falls team over the Eau Claire boys. The River Falls boys went into the battle, led by Capt. Nelson, with all the fight and vigor a good team needs in order to win.

Early in the first quarter the visitors spoiled Eau Claire's homecoming day. The Red & White advanced down the field after the kickoff as if without opposition. In four plays the River Falls boys were within scoring distance, and Quandt, who had been doing most of the advancing, dashed over for a touchdown. The goal kick fell short. Coach Cox's well oiled machine was working perfectly, and Eau Claire fans gloomily fell under the spell of a dismal, dark cloud. The kickoff to Eau Claire proved disastrous and heartbreaking to the invading warriors. While trying to get near the runner with the ball, Rademacher, River Falls' veteran endman, was blocked from the rear by a loyal son of Eau Claire, and broke two bones of his left leg. He fell with a smile; the greatest thing a fighter can do. Helwig took the va-

Former Instructor Publishes A Bulletin Now In Library

The Library has just received a copy of "Higher Education Circular No. 30," published by the U. S. Bureau of Education, entitled, "Politics and Curricula of Schools of Education in State Universities," prepared by Prof. J. B. Edmons, of the U. of Michigan, and Alfred H. Webster, graduate student, U. of Chicago. Mr. Webster was instructor in the department of education of our school last year during Mr. Hunt's leave of absence.

YOUR WEEK-END

Most of the new students have been going home to mama and papa, or their sweetie every week-end. Up until this time we have forgiven you if you have been so inclined, but now your days of grace are over. This week-end should find every student now attending normal right here on the job.

Saturday is homecoming. Now if you are so homesick you can't live without the sight of ye old friends, just drop them a line like this:

Dear Old Pal:

It will be impossible for me to get home this week-end, as we are having our annual homecoming celebration. I must be here. I want you to come and spend the day. Bring mama and papa and my kid brother, and little sister, also the Brown fellow.

We play Stout, so come and bring your yells with you. Everybody is going to be there, so you come too.

Your busy
Side Kick.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT

Perhaps the weather only enhanced the Senior Primary Girls party for their new Junior sisters last Wednesday. At any rate, more than thirty happy girls built fires, chattered, sang and danced at the Lodge. An enormous amount of "wonderful eats" disappeared.

Elaine's Rolls-Ruff, which carried all the utensils back was the hoisiest Ford we have ever heard, but it ranks among the most successful, too.

Miss Bridges did much to make the party a success, and her girls are grateful. They feel that the new girls of the Primary department will smile oftener and say "Hello" to more people as a result.

ESSAY ON MAN

Man is an omnivorous animal. Some smart people call him a biped, but this is a zoological error. He's just a plain, everyday, two-legged animal.

He roams at will, feeds in the daytime and sleeps at night. Some nights.

He is very tame. You can go up and put your hand on him anywhere, so long as you don't put it on his pocketbook. He has, under such conditions, been known to kick.

He is like a dog; howls a good deal and runs around at night. Like the elephant, he has a trunk, but he doesn't always carry it around with him. The elephant does.

As to what man is really good for anthropology is still in the dark. He is fast and often goes in the human race. Although in many respects he is like other animals, in this respect he is different from them all: he lies standing up.—Normal Badger.

DEBATE AND ORATORY

makes one almost forget that he is also getting credit for his work. This year there are only four members of last year's squad back. The regulars are Burke and Wandry; while Frances Lethlean and Floyisius Williams have excellent talent which will gain recognition this year. As there are twelve members on a debate squad, eight more members will have to be picked. In order to have a successful year, Mr. Mitchell desires that all who have any interest in debate answer to the call found elsewhere in this paper.

A large number of excellent high school debaters have been seen around school, but this should not scare any person out who desires to make a try. Every person trying out will be placed on a team and receive help on how to gather and arrange his material in preparation for the elimination debate held the first week in November. The question for this year is, "Resolved that the 18th Amendment shall be repealed."

SUCH IS LIFE

A practice teacher's life may not be all joy, but neither is the pupil's. One long suffering young seamstress, after ripping nearly every seam that she sewed, submitted the following to the practice teacher:

Baste, or Rip, or Both

The teacher came up to me one day

Said she'd give me a little tip

If I didn't baste that seam,

I'd certainly have to rip.

So I sat down and basted it

And thought how much time

basting saves

But alas! when I sewed on the machine

It looked like the ocean waves.

Then came the teacher once again

To see the result of her tip

—Still echoes in my ears those words—

She said, "Rip, rip, rip!"

All who wish to take part in the debate tryouts will please see me in my room at 3:45 Thursday afternoon. Please be prompt.

Rexford S. Mitchell
Coach.

ORGANIZATION NOTES

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Finances:

Evidently the students of R. F. N. S. have gained the idea that it costs something to join an organization. The first question a student asked, when interviewed to join the "Y" was, "How much does it cost?" or "What are the dues?" The Y. M. C. A. finances are secured in a different manner than most of the other campus organizations. There are no set dues in the Y. M. C. A., but this branch is financed, as are all others, by voluntary contributions. Each man in the local "Y" is given an opportunity to make a contribution to the fund for local expenses. There is no set amount; just what the student feels able to give. The annual financial drive is on the Thursday and Friday following homecoming, October 22-23. Be prepared when the committee calls on you.

Next week the Y. M. will have a visitor. The state student secretary, P. H. McKee, will be here for one of two days. The old members, especially those on the cabinet, will remember "Mac." He will speak at the "Y" meeting next week, so let's have every fellow out to show him that R. F. is up and coming.

G. A. A.

The formal initiation of the G. A. A. will take place Thursday evening. The old members and candidates for membership are asked to meet in the girl's gymnasium at 5:45. The bunch will have supper together, but as soon as that rite is over, and the dishes washed, all friendship ceases, and the hostilities begin. All who survive the torture and come through the ordeal in any other way than on a stretcher will be accepted as associate members of the organization.

Each girl is asked to bring fifteen cents to help pay the expenses of the evening. All new members are urged to wear old clothes and the largest shoes that they have. Each candidate must provide herself with a towel, or other blindfold of suitable proportions.

Dues are payable Thursday evening—50c for associate members; 75c for active members. Be prompt.

The volley ball chairman reports a good attendance at the practices last week. There were many good players out, and the interclass meet will be well worth while. Come out and join the fun.

AURELIA GIVES ROUSING INITIATION

Last Thursday evening at 6 o'clock the old Aurelia members treated the new members, twenty-two in number, to a delicious lunch. It was served in the Domestic Science rooms, and was enjoyed by all who were there. This was one of the pleasant things, but after lunch they adjourned to the society room, and there the fun began. Hazel Heyer and Doris Frederickson did the difficult work of initiating the new members, which they did, very much to the new members' embarrassment. Each one received individual attention, and had ample opportunity to display her talent. Anyone passing by in the hall knew that something was going on, for bursts of laughter could be heard at frequent intervals. Of course this was all caused by dramatic action, gymnastic stunts, and the great musical ability displayed by the new members. At the end each new member declared herself a goose; so there was no doubt but that they were fully initiated.

The old members thought that they deserved a treat at this stage of the game; so apples were passed, and different girls played the piano while others danced. Everyone declared it one grand and glorious evening.

N. C. A.

The N. C. A. mixer given at the Catholic church basement last Wednesday evening went over with a boom. The condition of the weather did not prevent the majority of the members from turning out to the first party of the year. The evening was evenly divided into playing games and dancing. Everyone seemed to take the right spirit early in the evening and hold it throughout the entire party. With such a spirit prevailing it was impossible for anyone not to join in, and make the evening a real success. This program was followed by an excellent lunch given by the Catholic ladies of the parish. The generosity of the first dish of ice cream made many of the gathering sigh regretfully and turn down a second one. There is a rumor that another party of similar nature will be given in the near future.

The N. C. A. members have another treat in store for them when Father Fassbender speaks at the next meeting. Let's all be there.

G. O. P. INITIATION

Although horrors and thrills were experienced Thursday evening when the new G. O. P. members were initiated, but few have been reported on the casualty list.

The words "G. O. P. Initiation" have a startling effect in themselves, due to the past reputation. All anticipations were realized Thursday night.

A paddling committee of welcome rushed the new members through a third degree, then "goodby" was said to marcelles and curls of any form for a week. These constituted only a few of the many stunts presented.

To end the performance, the victims were divided into groups and sent out in quest of a broom and waste paper basket, previously placed in the cemeteries of the vicinity. A few bold and daring in each group warded off ghosts and hysterical results.

An admirable spirit of good sportsmanship was displayed, which every G. O. P. member must have.

This and that

Vivian Vasaw spent the week-end in St. Paul.

Ted Jensen spent the week-end in Elk Mound.

Paul Rosenberg was in Colfax for the week-end.

Eva Davison shopped in the cities Saturday.

Let's do all we can to make Rademacher's stay at the hospital a happy one.

Irene and Pearl Olson spent the week-end at their respective homes near Amery.

Frances Squires is back in school after having an operation for appendicitis.

Layton Jackson spent the week-end at his home near Amery. He was not back to school Monday.

Gladys Bleisner was at home in Baldwin Saturday and Sunday for the first time since school began.

Rady has done more than his share for the school, and now it's up to us to keep that smile on his face.

Elda Nelson spent Sunday in Ellsworth and Red Wing. Elda doesn't enjoy April roads in October.

Gea and Floy Slauson shopped in St. Paul Saturday. Floy plans to look like a month's salary when she arrives for Homecoming.

Wanted: Anyone who can play jazz (on the piano) or any other instrument, please give your name to the program committee of the Civic Club.

Marcel Lynum and Vic Sivertson spent Wednesday afternoon in the cities. They motored there in the former's young Lincoln (not a relative of Honest Abe).

Most all the teachers spent the week-end in the cities—Misses Forbes, Bridges, Chapman, Hathorne—well it's no use to name the rest of them for they were all there.

Madlyn Bandali and Kathryn Ausman spent the week-end at their homes in Elk Mound. They attended the game at Eau Claire Saturday where they met a large group who had motored up from River Falls.

Don't forget the entertainment which is to be given in the auditorium a week from Thursday, the 23rd—a one act play, "What They Think," and an eight hand piano number, readings, vocal numbers, and several musical selections played on water glasses. This is being sponsored by the Senior department of the Congregational Sunday School. Plan to attend.

Special from physical training class: On Monday forenoon the freshman class thought they would be compelled to elect a new treasure when Victoria Peterson made a dive for the football on the gridiron and failed to come up. "Vic" reported that he saw all the planets and other constellations without the use of a telescope. His friends, especially the "lat-est," will rejoice to know that the doctor said he will be able to "step" soon.

Miss Litha Gregor spent Saturday in St. Paul.

Elsie Erickson spent the week-end at her home in Maiden Rock.

Eileen Stolt and Pearl Heckel spent the week-end at Prescott.

Mildred Murrvold went to her home in Woodville for the week-end.

Annette Lankton spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Menomonie.

Many of the old grads were at the Eau Claire-River Falls game last Saturday.

Dorothy Janes spent the week-end with Marion Simonson at Marion's home in Elmwood.

Romola Chenney, '24, who is teaching at Baldwin, spent the week-end at her home in River Falls.

AG. NEWS

The second Ag. meeting of the year will be held in Mr. Johnson's room at 7 p. m. Thursday night. All Ag. members out, because the committee on entertainment have worked out an exceptionally good program.

The feature number will be the initiation of all the new members.

The entire student body have expressed their sorrow for Rady, but this sorrow is more intense among his brother Ag. members, for many reasons. Rady was the source of all the original wit in our classes, and he also contributed material for many laughs at our Agrifallian meetings. We will certainly rejoice when he can be with us again.

Bill Moore, '24, was in town Sunday. He informed us, on his brief stay, that teaching is a great life.

The animal Husbandry class, under the direction of Mr. Johnson, will attend the cattle sale to be held this afternoon.

Mr. May, Frank Janisch, Clifford Olson, Donald Brownson, and Ted Kexel spent Friday at Osceola. The purpose of their trip was to do the judging work at the fair, which was held there last Friday and Saturday.

Brownson and Olson say they would like to judge another fair this week-end, because some people certainly exhibit good candy. Janisch and one other member of the squad of judges, judged the poultry. Their conclusion was, that there are some chickens in Osceola.

Mr. May acted as master judge on everything, with the exception of the poultry.

CAFETERIA EXPENSES

We have often heard the expression "Patronize your Normal Cafeteria," but the general feeling has been that the meals are not served at cost. Miss Weberg, the new manager of the cafeteria, has submitted the following report of the receipts and expenditures during the past four weeks.

Receipts
Money taken in for meals $1042.87

RIVER FALLS WINS FIRST CONFERENCE GAME

cancy, and the team, although heartbroken over the loss of a great fighter with a "never say die" spirit, carried on the battle with more fight, determined to avenge the injury of their teammate.

The River Falls boys completely outplayed their hosts in the second quarter, but could not score. Eau Claire had a gold mine in Ade Olson, who punted the pigskin out of the danger zone every time the visitors started towards the goal line. Eau Claire found a human stone wall in the River Falls line.

The second half took another nick out of the visitor's courage. The kickoff was received by River Falls, and Helwig, who had been playing a strong defensive game at end, was taken from the field with a dislocated elbow. The kickoff and left end position seemed to be hoodoos to the invaders, but Gibson, who took the wing position, did not show any signs of superstition. The visitors again excelled over their opponents. Many penalties and bad breaks that mysteriously occur in football kept the River Falls team from the shadow of the goal posts.

In the final quarter River Falls threw a "seare" into the spectators twice by coming within 20 yards of scoring. The first time Lowell Dawson found sudden opposition in the Eau Claire line, so he let Pat Ingli, who had been making a mess of the Eau Claire offensive plays, attempt to drop kick. For some reason or other Pat was forced to hurry, and he failed in his attempt. Gibson, who was taking the "hoodoo" position, failed in the second attempt to place the pilley between the bars. During the last few minutes of the game Eau Claire showed a spark of offense. Their aerial attack netted them 30 yards, and put them within 25 yards of the goal. However, their spurt fell short.

Much praise should be showered on the boys for their masterful showing of team work. Let's help the team to another state championship.

STOUT "SKUNKED" 24 to 0

denly a Red & White man shot out from the seething mass of players like a shooting star and never stopped until he was behind the white goal posts. The goal, however, was missed, making the score 4 to 0, in favor of "The Falls." During the remainder of the half neither team could gain but little over its adversary.

"When the second half opened both teams faced each other with a do-or-die expression. It was soon seen, however, that the Red & White would again be victorious. Four touchdowns were made before the final whistle blew, so the game closed with the score 24 to 0, with our team taking the 24."

This is a sample of what River Falls has been doing to Stout Institute on the gridiron for many years. This game which was just described was played in 1896. A photograph of the team is shown in the December copy of the Normal Badger which is on file with the other bound periodicals in the library. The regulation uniform consisted of white vests, or coats, and knee breaches. On Saturday of this week history is going to repeat itself when River Falls again meets the "Stout" team.

Vic, Sivertson: "Is that a permanent wave?"
Sid Scovil: "No, a biennial one."

Helen York: "Isn't she dumb; she thought Mussolini was a town in Italy."

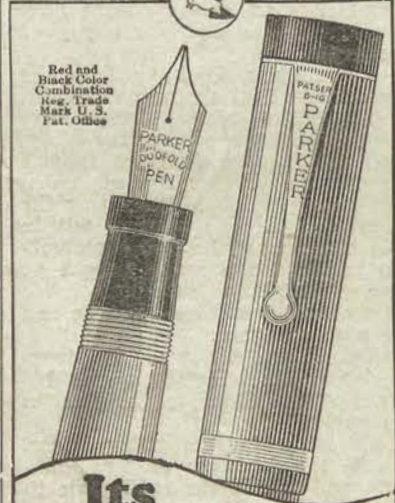

Harriett Beebe: "Where is it then?"

"Can you drive with one hand?"
"You bet I can!"
"Then here's an apple."
