RIVER FALLS STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

MONDAY, MAY 23, 1949

RIVER FALLS, WISCONSIN

VOL. XXXVI NUMBER 17

DiUlio, Carlson, Harris and Olson To Head Student Senate in 1949-50

Newly elected members of the Student Senate had their first taste of a Senate meeting May 12, 1949.

Ag Grads Form New Alumni Association

The true spirit of incorporation was shown Tuesday evening, May 17, when the Ag. boys who will don their caps and gowns this spring, formed an alumni association known as the "Ag-Forty-Niners."

The boys are endeavoring to keep in touch with each other after graduation by circulating 3 news letters yearly and holding an annual banquet with the election of new officers each year at RFFSTC homecoming.

They have adopted a charter and elected their first officers: President, Paul Rogness; first vice president, Al Tschudy; second vice president, Wesley Spors; executive sec. & treas., Jim Ferris.

Honorary membership is being extended to all members of the Ag. faculty.

Smetana To Edit Next Year's VOICE

Wally Smetana, a junior from Bloomer, Wis., was appointed Student Voice editor for next year, at a recent meeting of the new Student Senate.

Smetana has been a member of the Voice staff for the past two years, serving first as a reporter, and this year as sports editor.

Wally, a math major and an English and history minor, will replace Mark Stone who is graduating this year.

Norseng To Speak At Senior-Alumni Banquet

Graduates of two, three and four year courses and the local alumni of '24, '29, '34, '39 and '44 will be honored at the Senior-Alumni banquet at 6:30 p.m., May 28, in the Golden Rod room.

Marshall Norseng, class of '29 and at present the city attorney at Chippewa Falls, Wis., will be the toastmaster.

Mabel Jorstad, who is retiring from the rural education department, and Rexford Mitchell, president of La Crosse State Teachers college, will be guests of honor.

A program of music, recognition of the class of '49 into the alumni, and a response by Paul Rogness will be given.

It has been the custom to invite a different group of alumni to the banquet each year. This year they were chosen by five year intervals.

The junior class will assist with the banquet.

Notice

Veterans who have not signed a re-entrance form for summer school, please do so before the end of this quarter.

Veterans withdrawing at the end of this quarter, please stop at the veterans' desk to sign a withdrawal card.

Vet. Sec'y.

6:30 p.m. by retiring President John Whitaker. Seated before him were nine of the eleven students who will make up the Senate of 1949-50. These included the seven senators elected at large in an all school assembly and the presidents of the junior and senior classes of next year. Also attending were several senators of the year just ending.

The first business executed was the election of officers of the Student Senate. Jim DiUlio was elected president; Mary Carlson, vice president; Mary Harris, secretary; and Gordon Olson, treasurer.

With President DiUlio in charge, the Senate immediately dealt with the business at hand. The first and major undertaking was the appointment of the heads of the college publications.

Wallace Smetana was appointed editor of the Student Voice and Arthur Waters was appointed Meletean editor.

The matter of selecting a social chairman was tabled until the beginning of the fall term 1949. A new and more efficient social committee will be provided for and selected at that time. Something in the way of a committee of persons from each class and headed by a Student Senator will relieve the responsibility and pressure of the tremendous job of a social chairman working alone.

Nine senators left the meeting room after their first meeting was adjourned with an idea of the work that is ahead of them and a determination to do their jobs well.

Lamb, Tech and Hinke Elected Class Heads; Will Serve on Senate Also

Class officers for next year's session were elected at class meetings and the results posted. The senior class chose Stan Lamb, president; Marv Gilbertson vice president; Bonnie Carter, secretary, and Wallace Smetana, treasurer.

Junior class results include Harold Tech, president; Jim Russell, vice president; Jean McLaughlin, secretary, and Don Goodrich, treasurer.

Sophomore officers for next year will include Marv Hinke, president; Don Benson, vice president; Phyllis Hathaway, secretary, and Eleanor Davis, treasurer.

Freshman officers will be elected in the fall.

Whitaker Says—Thanks!

To the student body: My sincere thanks to all students who have had a part in student government and in all phases of student life during the past year. Your participation and support has been appreciated.

One measure of success in the conduct of student affairs might be the number of students who participate. I hope that each of you will give the new Senate and Jim DiUlio your backing and that you will take an even more active interest in student affairs next year.

John C. Whitaker

One Hundred and Twenty-Three Grads To Receive Degrees May 29

One hundred and twenty-three students will be graduated at the 71st annual Commencement Exercises at River Falls State Teachers college, Sunday, May 29, at 2:00 p.m.

Dr. Rexford Mitchell, president of State Teachers college, La Crosse, Wis., and former instructor at River Falls, will be the main speaker.

Sunday, May 29. He is Dr. Rexford Mitchell, president of La Crosse State Teachers college.

From 1920 to 1928 Dr. Mitchell taught history and the social sciences as well as debate, oratory, speech, and public speaking at River Falls.

Several of his teams won national recognition in oratory and extemporaneous speaking. In 1926 his team won both the state and national championships in oratory. Because the team was ineligible to compete in oratory the following year, they switched to extemporaneous speaking, winning the national championship in that.

In 1928 his team made a trip to Texas, debating at various schools en route down and on a different route back.

Dr. Mitchell received his B. A. degree at Lawrence college at Appleton, Wis., M. A. degree at the University of Chicago, and his Ph. D. at the University of Wisconsin. After leaving River Falls, he returned to Lawrence college as assistant president. In 1939 he became president of La Crosse State Teachers college.

Several members of his debate teams gained prominence after graduating from River Falls State Teachers college. Among them are:

John Davidson, popular local attorney; John Burke, warden of the state prison at Waupun; Marshall Norseng, a lawyer at Chippewa Falls, and Carleton Ames, instructor at River Falls State Teachers college.

A Stone's Throw

I have finally sat down to write my last column and I don't yet know whether I'm glad or sorry about it. The job as editor of this paper is a trying one, to say the least. It involves a lot of work, takes a lot of time and sometimes it seems like a thank-less job. Editing this paper is much different from a paper where the reporter is paid for his work. I can assign a story to a reporter and if he doesn't feel like doing it he doesn't have to. There would be no reward (other than self-satisfaction) if he did write it, and on the other hand, there is no punishment if he doesn't do it.

I was greatly disappointed in the size of my staff this year. You have no idea how hard it is to recruit students to work for the paper.

I know there have been many criticisms of the paper this year. Many have told me that they thought the paper wasn't too good. I wish all who felt that way would have told me. The only possible way I could improve the paper from issue to issue was to know what was wrong.

On the other hand, if you thought the paper was any good it doesn't do any harm to inform me of that. The compliments have been few and far between and I believe that I have received more from the faculty than I have from the students.

On the other side of the ledger I will say that I have enjoyed the job and certainly will never regret having it. The crew at the Journal office were swell people to work with, and I certainly will miss them after this issue is off the press. They have taught me a great deal about the printing business and some day I hope I have an opportunity to put a little of that knowledge to good use.

I want to mention a few of the staff members who have given a lot of time and energy in putting out the paper. Keith Nelson, my assistant editor, has spent many hours at the Journal office reading proof, inserting type and many other incidental jobs. In addition to this he has done a great deal of reporting.

Wallace Smetana had handled the sports editor's job in great fashion. He has always had his copy in on time and I have never had to bother assigning it. If he (or Potosnak, his assistant) ever saw a story, they wrote it up and handed it in. Smetana will make an excellent editor for next year's paper.

Others who have stood out among the staff for efficiency and dependability are Janet Reed, John Rockman, Ken LeMere, Duane Rivard, Evadine Jurgensen, and Joyce Stapleton. Except for a little prodding and reminding, my two sport's columnists, Butch McCardle and Bob Platte would have to be included in the above list.

I want to thank my entire staff, the crew at the Journal, Mr. Engler and anyone else who has helped me out this year. I would also like to thank the Student Senate for appointing me to this job which enabled me to gain some very valuable experience that can't be valued in dollars and cents, or credits and grade points.

Well, to conclude this I would like to say that the most enjoyable part of the job has come on the Mondays that the paper came out. It was a wonderful feeling to sit in the cafeteria or the library and watch everyone read the paper. It really gave me a feeling that I had accomplished something, and that alone was worth all the time and effort that I put into this job.

LOOKING UP THE PRECIPICE . . . .

One day, two days and then with sharpened pencils, leaky pens and conspicuous kribbs, students will clamorously enter pre-assigned rooms and bicker over the back seats before settling down to their first Third Term Final. It will be the beginning of the end of the '48-49 school year.

Signs of the approach of the end of the school year have been very much in evidence the last two weeks. It really became apparent last week. A series of little things and big things would have given it away to the careful observer, even if he didn't have a school calendar. Things like heavy laundry bags and suitcases going home and coming back almost empty; assignments being handed in on time and study lamps burning after eleven where they had never been seen before, were dead give-aways. Cafeteria and lawn conversations have become less bull and more serious facts—not "accidents."

Early last week the social circles gathered three deep to crook their elbows and rest their weary foot on the rail for the last "blowout" before the ordeal. Even the traffic down creek and up to the mound died down to a trickle with the exception of Botany students trying to make belated points. The next conspicuous scene will be a few jubilant faces mingled with many more trying to drown their sorrows.

A few days later the average student will pause to look over the campus, now strangely different with leaves on the trees, before his or her last test. Then gathering up clothes, notes, odds and ends of personal possessions, will quietly slip out of town after bidding friends and teachers goodbye. Yes, quietly, though you wouldn't think so to hear the roar of some exhausts—some never to return, as a student.

On the way home they will reminisce about the good times, experiences and incidents that were humorous or otherwise. A few will even try to figure up what they learned and what they did that was really worthwhile afterwards. A few will speculate on their grades and others will begin to fabricate a good story for Dad who paid the bills.

It has been a good year, that few would deny. The school did well in athletics, the building fund grew a little, in spite of the disappearance of the "4-F" jar from the cafeteria; Winter Carnival was its biggest success and Masquer's plays broke even. The Honor rolls were the longest ever printed in the Voice even though it is generally agreed that the clamps were screwed down—how far? Nobody will know that answer until the scholarship committee finishes its session. Success or failure for many hangs on a slender thread.

Three more weeks and everyone will know their state and resolutions will be made and forgotten before September rolls around. Meanwhile everyone will have settled down for the summer at home, on the farm or in jobs in business and industry with each day gone quite before you can begin to enjoy it.

Sir John will have handed in his last copy for the Student Voice, cursed his typewriting errors, and heard your expostulations for the last time. Then taking his bag he will lift his thumb and drift to Indiana for summer and step over into Ohio late next fall. He is one of many not to return. He, as many, will leave with a heavy heart for RFSTC and a mission unfulfilled. His pen has cut like a cruel sword. His ideals high, his manner bold; May none their scars against him hold. Perhaps some day before a class, you'll see the point he hoped he made.

He signs his last—

Sir John.

New Merger Bill Threatens Four Teachers Colleges; Eau Claire Men Approve Plan

The merger bill that is before the state Legislature proposing that all Teachers colleges and Stout Institute be incorporated into the state university appeared to be a defeated issue until Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Eau Claire voted last week to support a measure to make Eau Claire State Teachers college a unit of the university. The proposed amendment would make Eau Claire, Milwaukee, Stevens Point, and Oshkosh parts of the University of Wisconsin while Stout and other Teachers colleges would not be incorporated.

While W. D. McIntyre, State Teachers college regent from Eau Claire, also approves of the amendment the majority of administration and faculty members still oppose the measure.

The endorsement of the amendment by the chamber of commerce representatives is a business man's attitude. Apparently they assume that the incorporation into the university will attract more students which in turn will mean more business prosperity.

Contrasted with this point of view is the position of the faculty of Eau Claire and other colleges, that the merger would mean the end of local independence and pride of their college. Each college would be under dictatorial pressure from Madison and contrary to the stand by the Eau Claire Chamber of Commerce, the faculties believe the union would not mean increased funds and larger enrollment, but the colleges would have to be content with the left overs of the university.

The proposed amendment to make a few colleges into university branches is, of course, a compromise. A compromise that may not receive united opposition of all of the colleges and at the same time this incorporating colleges where strong local sentiment can be found to support the bill.

This amendment, if passed, would provide a proving ground which would be watched with interest by other colleges. If it proves to be somewhat of a success it will establish the necessary precedence

WHAT HAS FATE IN STORE FOR THEM?

"Where do we go from here?" A freshman can sing that tune with a light heart and a carefree air. All he is worrying about is harmony. But the senior suddenly realizes that is just the position he is in.

Oh cruel and bitter fate! He has to get a job—even teaching maybe. In retrospect, all the fun of the last four years (or five as the case may be) looks "fun"-nier and the "black and blue" moments are only a shadowy memory.

The senior looks at his best buddy and wonders where, when or IF they will ever meet again. The future pillar of his community might be shaking hands with a future inmate of Sing Sing.

Graduation is a stepping stone "they say" but right now it feels like the crest of the falls. Of course, there are a few optimists who are still wearing their rose-colored glasses. Granted, it's better than going blind.

The generation of today has the eternal choice—progress or disintegration. They can either believe in the innate goodness of man or in the triumph of evil.

Life is a question mark, is it not?

"Horace-Scoops"

The grind is almost over, there will be no more studying, and Kay Krauth, Bev Ann Jenson, and Mary Gage will have plenty of time to get sunburned.

Does it make you wonder what everyone is going to do this summer? Horace has done a bit of research and has come up with some astounding facts. For instance: Talley (lady killer) Roquette is going to be a judge this summer. Judging what? Bathing beauties, of course. Jeanie Schaer and Bob Jaekel are going into the professionals. er. tennis, that is.

With everyone trying to stretch their last dollar, why is it that people still hesitate to put their name on a list for a free picnic and then show up at the park. Refreshment committees have to have something to plan with. Hence the Question of the Week: Why don't you sign the list?

I guess we do a lot of griping during the year. We gripe about getting F's for cutting class, about having to be in at certain hours, and some other little things that really don't matter now. But when we leave, we'll miss the small things—Steve Lengell, for example. All of us, especially Harry Shay, will miss Slim Jim.

Reb, the lad from South of zee Border, has his papa watching over him. Horace predicts that Reb will continue to be a very good boy. Right, Reb?

Jim Van Tatenhove: "What did you do after school hours, Don?"

Don Mattson: "I was a track man."

Jim V.: "Oh? What section did you work on?"

And of course you've heard about the dead fish—Long time, no sea. (Kinda stunk, didn't it?)

In one way, these finals are nice. At least, we can be sure we won't get another test for quite a long while.

Notice: Pistol Mulhollam is going to do some surveying this summer, and he wants to know of a windy street corner.

Have a vacation full of whatever you want, everyone, and Horace will probably be seeing most of you next fall.

And since the title of this column mentions Horace, I suppose he should say a few parting words. Say goodbye, Horace.

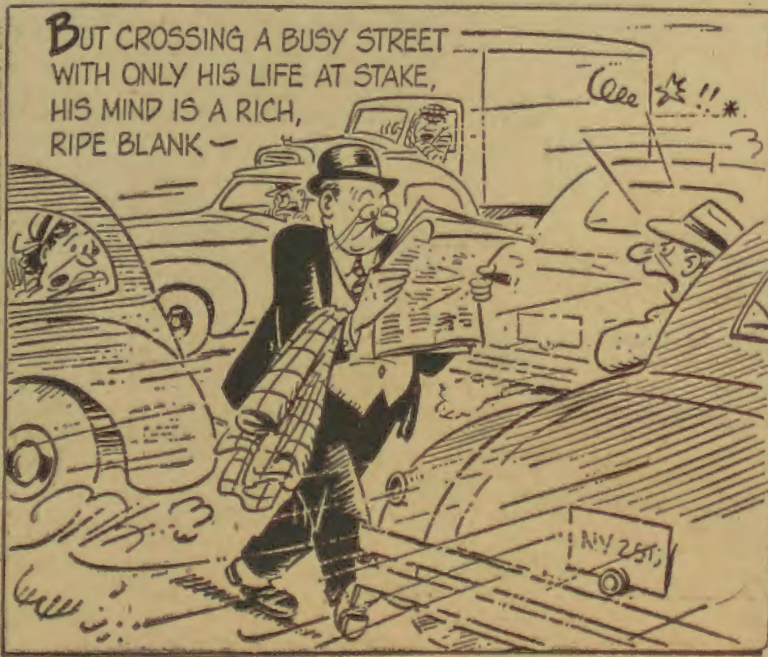

"Say goodbye, Horace! Say this, say that! I'm going to say what I want to!"

All right, all right. Say what you want, then.

"Bye".

encing factor in swinging the support of the chamber of commerce's in every state teachers college town in Wisconsin for the expansion of the merger to their college, regardless of doubtful educational values to be received from such action.

Outlaws Lead League; Seven Teams in Second

Continuing to win, while the rest of the league leading teams dropped off pace, the Outlaws have moved into the top of the intramural softball league. The Outlaws had a 1-0 record a week ago and were tied with two other teams for third place. The House of Collins had won three with no losses and held first honors. Now all this has changed, the House of Collins has dropped two in a row and the other teams that were tied for the top have all lost at least one, while the Outlaws have continued to win and gain an undisputed first place.

Although most of the games have continued to be hitters' duels, the fans, who take time to look on at some of the games, had an opportunity to see a real pitcher's duel for a change. Darrell Summerfield, known to some as Summertime, pitching for the Lithias, and Jerry Lenander for the Weekenders, settled down and gave the league a lesson in how a softball game should be pitched. Summerfield went the distance without giving up a hit, and Lenander did nearly as well giving up only two. Several errors and walks during the game were enough for the Lithias to send in a run and come out on top in a 1 to 0 game.

With the school year nearly over and intramural sports drawing to the end it is time for a bit of thanks to Mr. Sjowall. Have any of us ever taken the time out to realize just how much work there is in a year's intramural sports program? How many schools this size have one which covers the sports field as well as this one? Football, basketball, tennis, golf, archery, softball, all these sports and more have been played by the intramural sports participants. Several hundred men in the college have been given a chance to run off some of that excess energy. There has been a sport with every season and a chance to play for every man in school. So let's take the time for a thanks to Oscar Sjowall and those who may have helped him. Thanks for a fine job.

Thinclads Upset By Eau Claire, 61-52

The Eau Claire cindermen upset a favored Falcon track team to win a dual meet by a score of 61-52, here, May 19.

The Bugolds had a lead of 56-52 with the relay event remaining. A Falcon win here would have won the meet, but slow handling of the baton between the Falcon second and third runners proved to be the Falcon's undoing.

Jim Van Tatenhove was the Falcon iron man as he ran the half-mile, the mile, and the two mile.

Fossen Leads Falls To 7-4 Win Over Stout

Collecting seven runs on ten hits the Falcons downed Stout by a 7 to 4 score at Stout last Wednesday. Trailing by a 4 to 3 score at the end of the 7th the Falcons came to bat in the eighth and with a single, an error, a walk, two fielder's choices and a homer by Bud Fossen they managed to push in 4 runs to put the game on ice. Fossen's homer was with one down and one man on base.

Riley started the game on the mound for the Falcons and gave up 9 hits and 4 runs before he was replaced by Bob Salmon in the eighth. He struck out two and walked none. Salmon walked one and struck out two in the eighth and ninth. Janikowski started the game for Stout and gave up nine hits and walked six while he struck out three. He was taken out in the eighth and replaced by Maxa who finished the game. Both teams got 10 hits but the Falcons cashed in on the error and walks to win the ball game. The Falcons committed 3 errors and Stout made 4 errors and had fielders' choices.

Falcons Play At Hudson Tomorrow Night

The River Falls baseball team will close its season against Winona under the lights at Hudson tomorrow night. The game will begin at eight.

Winona won a previous game from the Falcons by a score of 17-9.

The Falcons did not have a great season. The main reason for this was the lack of an adequate pitching staff. The loss of Layman, Demulling, and Feidt proved to be the difference between a mediocre and a good season. Errors at crucial moments also caused the loss of a few games.

Benny Benson, Falcon shortstop, will play with the Appleton Papermakers of the Wisconsin State league at the close of the school year.

Blugolds Overcome Falls In Three Sport Events

The Falcons traveled to Eau Claire Wednesday, May 10, only to lose a 7-4 baseball game, a 7-0 tennis match, and 11 1/2-3 1/2 golf match.

Riley was rapped for 12 safeties while his Falcon teammates were only able to get seven safe blows off the hurling of Carl Gerber. The Falcons built up an early 2-1 lead only to see it vanish when the Blugold attack exploded for five runs in the sixth inning. River Falls rallied for two runs in the seventh but were unable to catch the Blugolds.

Gene Cardinal starred for the Falcons, hitting a two-run homer, two other safeties and walking twice. Roger Juneau made Eau Claire's longest hit, a triple in the eighth inning.

Cindermen Cop Two Conference Firsts

Jim Van Tatenhove and Gordon Seifert won firsts at the Wisconsin-Minnesota conference track meet held at St. Cloud on May 14.

Van Tatenhove ran the mile in 4:38 and Seifert tied for first in the high jump with a leap of 5 ft. 10 in.

Don Veith, Harley Harkness, Gordon Cassel, and the Falcon relay team also placed in the meet. The Falls had a total of 20 points.

The Falcons placed fifth in the golf meet.

Eau Claire Sinks Falcon Nine

Rapping out 2 hits and a run in the tenth inning, Eau Claire State Teachers college succeeded in dropping the Falcons to the short end of a 5 to 4 score. With the game tied up in the sixth, the two teams went four more innings before Eau Claire was able to score the winning run. In the top of the tenth Proctor rapped a single to center and scored on Steen's single to left field.

Eau Claire scored once in the first, twice in the second and once more in the sixth, while the Falcons pushed in one in the first, another in the fourth and two more in the sixth and the ball game was all tied up until Proctor scored the clincher in the first of the tenth.

Bob Salmon pitched for the Falcons and gave up 7 hits and 5 runs while he walked 2 and struck out 3. Proctor was on the mound for Eau Claire and gave up 7 hits and 4 runs, walking 1 and striking out 3.

State Track Meet To Be Held May 28

River Falls will send at least three representatives, Jim Van Tatenhove, Don Veith, and Gordon Seifert, to the state track meet to be held in Milwaukee.

Last year the Falcons placed fourth as Pete La Borde tied the state record in the 120 yard high hurdles.

The golf team took part in the state meet held at Oshkosh last Saturday.

Former Local Star Now at Wisconsin

Bill Vanderhoof, former Falcon grid star, is now a leading end candidate on the University of Wisconsin spring football squad.

Vanderhoof, who was an all-conference end in 1947, withdrew from RFSTC to complete a business course at Wisconsin.

He is a native of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Student Voice Staff On Tour of Mpls. Tribune

Eighteen members of the STUDENT VOICE staff, accompanied by Mr. Engler, were conducted on a tour through the new plant of the Minneapolis Star Tribune at Minneapolis, Tuesday, May 10.

Especially interesting to many of the students was the mailing room which covers one-fourth of a city block. Here the separate bundles for out of town and various parts of the Twin Cities are put together and labeled for distribution throughout the Northwest.

The group also had the privilege of closely examining George Grim's gold typewriter which is insured for $1,000.
