AWS Political Conference Features Model of Kennedy-Nixon Debates

To stimulate more political interest on campus in this election year, the A. W. S. is staging a Political Conference on Tuesday, Oct. 18.

Highlighting the Political Conference will be a debate between the campus Young Republican and Young Democratic Clubs at 8 p.m. The debates will take a form similar to the nationally publicized Kennedy - Nixon debates complete with moderator and "newsmen" to ask questions.

The Young Democrats will attempt to portray the views of Kennedy and Johnson, and the Young Republicans will speak on behalf of Nixon and Lodge.

Tentative debaters include Jim DeMarce and Dave Madis representing the Y-Dems, with Bob Richardson and Wayne Hendrickson to set forth the views of the Y-GOP. Kari Gatten and Manya Brooke will take the position of newsmen in asking questions, and Judy Harmon will be moderator.

Movies stressing the importance of voting will be shown in conjunction with the Political Conference. "And the People Stayed Home" and "The Vote that Failed" are scheduled for showings in the Little Theatre at 12:30 and again at 4 p. m. to make sure that all students will have the opportunity to see them. The movies point out the possible consequences when a great amount of eligible voters do not utilize their powers.

'Feed the Falcon Fund' Foundation Week Goal

"Feed the Falcon Fund" is the slogan which the Foundation Committee has tentatively agreed upon for the November 7-12 Foundation Fund drive.

The "Falcon" is a proposed sculptured replica of a falcon in flight which is to be mounted on the north exterior wall of the R. A. Karges Physical Education Building. A falcon is the symbol of the River Falls College athletic teams.

John Rood, internationally prominent sculptor, will fashion the Falcon. It will be made of bronze, and will be approximately 20 feet high with backlights to set it out at night. Approximate cost of the Falcon will be $4,500.

Although the concerted drive for the Falcon Fund will not get under way until Foundation Week it is already possible for students and faculty to "Feed the Falcon Fund." A jar has been placed in the Student Center near the Snack Bar in which "Pennys for Freddie" can be deposited. It can hardly be missed by anyone who knows how to spell the word "Pennies." The "Pennies for Freddie" jar already has a good start, since the Student Center Cafeteria Service for two hours last Thursday afternoon turned over their coke and coffee money to the Falcon Fund.

Mr. Rood has exhibited and lectured widely throughout the United States. He is known chiefly as a prominent sculptor, having received numerous important commissions for sculpture in institutional buildings. His first one man show was in New York in 1937, and since then has had one-man shows in Milan and Rome. His work is also the subject of a film.

Mr. Rood was a lecturer at the 1959 Fine Arts Festival at Wisconsin State College at River Falls. Since that time he has done work for the National AAUW headquarters in Washington, D. C. and for the new city library in Minneapolis.

Active in many professional organizations, Mr. Rood has been national director of the Artist's Equity. He was born in Athens, Ohio, and attended Ohio University. He is now head of the sculpture department at the University of Minnesota.

Education of Children To be Panel Topic at Campus School PTA

The Campus School PTA will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 18, at Wisconsin State College in rooms 101-2-3 of the Student Center at 8 p.m.

How has the education of children changed in 30 years? A lively panel "30's vs. 60's" should provide the answer to this question.

Chaired by Prof. Robert Krueger, who will present the use of teaching aids such as films and tape recorder the panel has as other participants Mrs. Oliver Younggren, Grant Jones and Prof. Ann Dubbe.

Mrs. Younggren will speak on the influence of the home, and problems met in getting students to participate in school activities. Mr. Jones will discuss motivation and the variety of activities, and Prof. Dubbe will develop another phase of the question.

Secondary Students Extern Three Weeks in Area Schools

Twenty-one externs and one student on the regular program from Wisconsin State College at River Falls have been practicing teaching in their assigned schools for the past three weeks, according to Dr. Allen Siemers, director of secondary student teaching.

Externs first met with their respective principals and teachers for a one day conference on Sept. 21, and returned to the campus for a final week of intensive instruction in techniques classes. On Sept. 28 they began their eight weeks of intensive public school work. They will return to the campus on Nov. 28.

During the eight weeks they will be supervised by Dr. Siemers and Mr. Beck of the school of education, and in some cases will be visited by professors from their mafor or minor departments as well.

The Editor Speaks . . .

There have been some comment's lately that articles and announcements have been brought into the Student Voice office which never got published.

We are always open for comments, and will readily admit that occasionally we miss an important story or lose a note which someone has brought us. However, we would like to defend our position in saying that some of the problem could be remedied by more care on the part of the various campus clubs' publicity chairmen.

For instance, here is an example of a common shortcoming in notes left on our desk:

"There will be a meeting of the XYZ Club tonight. The main speaker will be Jim Jones. Could you please run this in the Student Voice and Daily Supplement?"

Where will the XYZ Club meet and what night is tonight? What time will they meet? Who is Jim Jones, and what subject will be discussed?

Most of these notes can be tracked down and the information can be made complete in just a few minutes; others take hours, and some are so vague that there is no trail to follow. Perhaps a few suggestions could not only save us time, but could insure better and more complete publicity for all campus groups.

There are six basic questions to be answered in a good journalism article. They are who? what? where? when? why? and how? If we know what group is meeting, where when, and why, as well as who will be guest speaker or how the meeting will be carried on, the reader interest and active participation would of certain be more enthusiastic.

Another suggestion we would like to make is to have a person who leaves a note in the office sign his name to it. That way, if we ever have any question, we know immediately who to contact for any problems.

By all means, bring in the notes even if they are vague. Any hint to a story helps us give better campus coverage. The Voice office door is always open and the spindle on our desk is seldom filled.

"THIS CONVERTIBLE MIDLAND TECH. OFFERED YOU, TOO — WAS IT FULLY EQUIPPED?"

Registration for Voting Ends Wed., Oct. 26

Voters of River Falls are reminded that Wednesday, Oct. 26, is the last day to register for the general election in order to get one's name on the official registry list. People registering after that day will have to get a special certificate from the city clerk's office and their name will have to be added on a special supplemental list.

People who have registered since August 1, 1960 will not be required to re-register. People who voted in the September 13 primary are not required to re-register. But all citizens of the city, regardless of how many times they have voted in River Falls previously, must register.

People who have moved since registering are asked to check with the City Clerk to make sure that the new address is listed. People who will be moving from one house to another in River Falls before election day are asked to contact the clerk's office. People whose 21st birthday falls on or before November 8 may register at once without waiting for their birthday.

Women who have married since registering or intend to be married before the election are asked to re-register.

A recent Wisconsin law permits people who are residents of Wisconsin for less than a year to vote in the presidential election only, provided they were qualified electors at their last place of residence. Any recent city residents are asked to contact the city clerk for additional information on this.

Citizens who plan to go out of town on election day or will otherwise be unable to go to the polls are asked to furnish this information to the city clerk at once so that absentee ballots may be provided. Wisconsin residents who are not qualified to vote in River Falls are urged to contact their municipal clerks at once to arrange for absentee ballots.

Persons are asked to arrange to register now. Registration is not permitted on election day.

Anyone having any questions about the coming election, such as voter registration, absentee voting, or residential requirements, is urged to call at the city clerk's office or call HA 5-2447.

Homecoming is over here at River Falls and some other members of the Wisconsin State College Conference have finished up their fall classics as well. Upon hearing the stories concerning our neighbors' Homecoming plights, we feel confident in saying that River Falls has the best system yet.

At Eau Claire, for instance, 17 girls ran for the honor of Homecoming Queen. This may or may not have its advantages. However, democracy reigns supreme, they claim. Everyone should have a chance. Then, we ask why is everyone forced to buy a homecoming button for 50 cents before they are allowed to vote? Is it fair to allow a person to spend $5 to vote ten times for his favorite candidate? This is hardly democracy. At least River Falls doesn't enforce a poll tax although almost anything else goes in elections here.

Or consider the case of our friend Tom Bentzien, the sports editor of the UWM Post. Eight muscular frat boys almost beat him up when they saw the ad he ran in his column in support of his buddy Jim Baas who was running for Homecoming King. Apparently the running of the ad violated campaign regulations and Baas's name was dropped from the ad violated campaign regulations and Baas's name was dropped from the ballot.

The Falcons travel to Menomonie this Saturday to provide Homecoming opposition for the Bluedevils where there is still another problem. As Bob Papas, sports editor of the Stoutonia puts it, "Once again this year, the SSA (student government) has selected a homecoming theme, and once again the traditional football game is without a slogan. It is rather difficult for me to picture Coach Bostwick giving his boys a pre-game pep talk and winding up by saying O.K. guys, let's get out there and Autumn Internationale."

So Papas has suggested several slogans the majority of which will undoubtedly be cast aside. (Dam River Falls, Cook the Falcons' Goose, and Rip River Falls all leaving something to be desired.) We still feel that we have the most significant slogan in "Let's Wreck Home Ec Tech" and there's no sense changing it. Several enthusiastic fans have suggested "Clout Stout in the Snout" but the barnyard connotation may be turned against us here at River Falls.

Game time is at 2:30 rather than 8:00 in the evening as some schedules around campus erroneously suggest. The parade is set for 1:30 the same afternoon with the bonfire burning slated for 7:30 on Friday night.

In talking about River Falls fans in his Eau Claire Spectator Column Ray Moucha admits, "They really support their teams in that city and it would be nice if this college did the same." We'll add a resounding second to this with the note that some of the other schools are attempting to catch up with us. We're referring to the noisy band of LaCrosse rooters that chartered a bus last Saturday for the Falcon-Indian clash at Ramer Field.

They hardly resembled the spirited bunch of Falcon followers that made the trek to Superior last winter for the final basketball game of the season on a Monday night. Neither did they resemble the faithful flocks that yearly hit Eau Claire when we play them in football, basketball, or baseball. And the LaCrosse busload could hold a candle to the 100-plus of River Falls rooters that swarmed into Stevens Point two years ago for a Thursday night game that didn't even count in the league standings.

Thus, we feel confident that River Falls will send a respectable delegation to Menomonie this weekend to watch the Falcons attempt to stop the Bluedevil steamroller.

It Had To Happen

Yes, it finally had to happen. Did you see Dave Smith, back judge in the Falcon-Indian clash last Saturday when he called a penalty? After pacing off the yardage, he retrieved his handkerchief, blew his nose on it, and put it back in his pocket!

Eau Claire's Bugolds upset the Swami's appiecart last week by edging Superior 27-25 giving us two losses in the prediction race. We're currently sporting an average of 61% while Socrates Nozall of the Eau Claire Spectator ranks considerably higher with 70%. But these choice selections should take the wind out of his sails:

- Whitewater 28, Superior 7
- Oshkosh 14, UWM 13
- Stout 19, River Falls 14
- LaCrosse 20, Eau Claire 0
- Platteville 28, Stevens Pt. 27
- Wisconsin 19, Ohio State 17

Falcon Fanfare

The names of Margotto, Neurer, DiSalvo, Lindeman and Coleman have three definite things in common — they all attended River Falls, all came from Cumberland, and all played for RFSC within the last decade with Bucky DiSalvo, Jack Neurer and Bob Margotto earning all-conference honors on the gridiron.

Fred Coleman, a Senior majoring in Biology, is the only member of this year's Falcon eleven from Cumberland. Fred is a six foot 175 pounder who plays end on offense, and halfback on defense for Fran Polsfoot. Coleman claims that Polsfoot salesmanship was the key factor in his attending school here.

Fred has derived many benefits from his eight years of competitive athletics. His Senior year in Cumberland he was awarded the Kiwanis Sportsmanship Award and the American Legion award which is awarded every year to the schools most valuable athlete.

Fred's greatest sense of accomplishment in athletics came in the spring of his freshman year at River Falls. Fred competed in football, basketball and baseball in high school but because Cumberland didn't offer track, Colman never tried out for track until his initial year at River Falls. Within 90 days after he took up track, Fred won the conference medal in the 880, with an amazing time of 2:00.02.

Aside from athletics, Fred is active in the "R" club (Vice President) the Wesley Club and the Young Dems.

Indians Scalp Falcons 26-0

by Curt Thurston

An injury-riddled River Falls football team suffered their third straight conference setback here Saturday night, as they were trounced by the LaCrosse Indians 26-0.

For the third week in a row the Falcon's lost a first string guard for the season. This week Ken Kraft, sophomore from Elcho, suffered a broken leg in the opening minutes of the game.

Visibly absent from the sidelines of Saturday night's game with LaCrosse was head coach Fran Polsfoot. The team was directed by the three assistant football coaches, while the ill Polsfoot watched the game from his car at the south end of the field.

Coach Bill Vickroys Indians took a 6-0 lead early in the first period, when Fred Pongratz ran twenty yards on a pitchout from Don Mudrak only five minutes of playing time had elapsed. Pongratz's conversion attempt was wide.

La Crosse's second touchdown drive came early in the second period. After a pass interference penalty against River Falls the Indians had a first and ten on the 'Falls 20. On the first play Ron Gilbertson galloped 20 yards to pay dirt. Pongratz added the extra point attempt making the score 13-0.

With time running out in the half Ted Harris picked off a Dawson aerial. Don Murdak, from a Wisconsin spread formation, was good for 32 yards and a first down on the River Falls four yard line. Little Andy Fenderson capped the drive with a 4 yard sprint around the left side. Pongratz added his second conversion point of the evening making the half time score 20-0.

The Indians added their final touchdown of the evening in the fourth period. The play was set up when La Crosse recovered a Falcon fumble on the one yard line. The Red and White defense stiffened, but were unable to contain the scoring threat for long as quarterback Murdak sneaked across three plays later.

Falcons Travel to Stout For Bluedevils Homecoming

by Warren Rogers

A duo of intangible hurdles will confront the Falcons Saturday when they meet the WSC Conference's 1960 surprise team—the Stout Bluedevils. Prevalent in Menomonie for the first time in many years is a touch of championship fever and also troubling the Falcons will be the roar of homecoming.

In successive weeks Coach Bob Bostick's marvels have dumped La Crosse 7-6 and Superior 17-7, two pre-season favorites. Last week they romped over another supposedly toughie, Stevens Point 26-13. At the present time they are tied with Whitewater with a 3-0 record.

All-Conference halfback Glen Harke has been Stout's main offensive trust for the past couple years and this year aiding the senior speedster is freshman signal caller Al Peckham. In five games Peckham has scored a pair of touchdowns and in the St. Cloud loss (21-20) passed for all three TD's.

Harke after being contained to a single scoring play in the first four games broke loose last week against the Pointers with a 73 yard punt return, a 32 yard pass interception, and scored for the third time from four yards out. Leading the Bluedevils defensive unit is All-Conference tackle Pat Krall.

The Falcons have not been beaten by a Stout team since 1951 when they dropped a 39-0 decision. The Bluedevils also whipped the gridmen the previous year 44-13. Since 1950 the series stands at RF 8 and Stout 2. River Falls has been scoring at a 23.3 clip whereas Stout has been held to a pair of touchdowns, 14.0.

Last year's contest brought out the "Red and White's" scoring potential as five different Falls players hit paydirt for a 40-7 win. Scoring for the Bluedevils? Harke, of course with a 15 yard pass interception.

R F Pancake Contest Makes History

STUFFED with pancakes, pancakes, pancakes, and more pancakes are Jerry Mertens and Jerry Halverson, both entrants in the Homecoming Pancake Eating Contest. Halverson, eating for Frucha Hall, took individual honors with 33, and Mertens, representing the Vet's Club, was second with 28½. (Photo by Harmann)

Probably the biggest pancake eating spree in the history of the Wisconsin State Colleges took place at River Falls during Homecoming Week when Pillsbury Mills and the College cafeteria management, together with the Homecoming committee, staged a pancake supper.

Excluding about 30 entrants in a pancake eating contest, a total of 527 students and faculty members ate a whopping 4000-plus pancakes, or an average of 7.6 pancake per person.

Jerry Halverson, sophomore from Luck, was individual winner in the pancake eating contest with a stomach full of no less than 33 hotcakes. Jerry Mertens ran a close second with 28½. Team honors went to the Vet's Club.

More than 150 pounds of pancake mix were consumed, as well as 78 pounds of pork links or approximately 2350 pork sausages. More than 16 gallons of blueberry syrup were used, and the ADA would surely approve of the event's consumption of 47 pounds of Wisconsin butter.

Guy Howard and Bob Johnson, representatives of Pillsbury Mills, Inc., were on hand to supervise the pancake eating contest.

Campus Women Indicate Political Opinion in Poll

Women are more likely to vote for women on a local scale than on a national scale, according to a poll of 171 female students on campus conducted by the A.W.S. last week.

When asked, "If a woman, qualified for the office were running for president of the U. S. in the present election, would you vote for her?" 78 of the students polled answered yes while 87 gave a no answer. However, when asked if they would vote for a qualified woman running for mayor of their home town, 127 said they would while only 41 said they would not.

The forces were split right down the middle on the question of whether or not they would run for a political office if qualified and given the opportunity. Exactly 85 women said they would seek an office and exactly 85 said they would not.

Whether due to domestic problems or to some sort of trend in political affiliations, very few of the women would vote as their husbands recommended. When asked "If you were or are married would you vote as your husband recommended?" 15 said yes while 154 emphatically reported they would not.

The results of other questions were as follows:

"Assuming that you felt him qualified and were anxious to have him elected, would you campaign for a candidate for political office by calling on people door to door?" (Yes, 94; No, 76.)

"Have you watched any of the Kennedy-Nixon debates or speeches on TV?" (Yes, 107; No, 61.)

"Do you believe that it is better to vote for all candidates of one party—a straight ticket (Yes, 22) or is it better to select individual candidates, regardless of their party affiliation?" (No, 146.)

'Clearing House' Publishes Article By Allan Siemers

"What of the Twenty-eight?" is the title of an article by Dr. Allan Siemers, director of secondary student teaching at River Falls. It appears in this month's issue of The Clearing House, a national publication for junior and senior high school teachers.

The article discusses the plight of the teacher who must take time for the "twenty-eight" to deal with "two" discipline problems.

Dr. Siemers makes the point that "democracy" in the classroom must also be matched with "responsibility."
