Kick-Off Convo Tuesday To Open '59 Homecoming

The 1959 Homecoming activities will get underway tomorrow at 11 a.m. with an all-school Kick-off Convocation. The main speaker will be President E. H. Kleinpell. Also on the agenda are selections by the college band, an introduction to this year's Homecoming plans, and movies of last year's Homecoming game with Platteville.

Organizations are reminded by the Homecoming committee that the names of Queen candidates are to be turned in to them no later than today, and campaign managers should be ready with a presentation by Thursday, Oct. 8. On that day queen candidates will be introduced to the student body. Queen Campaigns will begin Monday, Oct. 12.

Window and lawn decorations may start Wednesday, Oct. 14, and will be judged Friday, Oct. 16. Organizations which have signed for windows should contact the store manager to check when window will be available.

The "Scream for the Team" contest is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 16, at 11 a.m., followed by the traditional snake dance. In the afternoon students may work on various decorations and floats.

Friday night festivities will include a Pep Fest featuring the Hut Four Barbershop Quartet and climaxed by the coronation of the 1959 Queen. Former Queens, Student Senate presidents, Homecoming chairman, and college alumni will be present.

Featured speakers for the evening will be LeRoy Luber, now Dean of Students at the University of Wisconsin and a River Falls alumnus and Bosco Farrel, Superintendent of the State Training School in Red Wing, Minn.

After the bonfire, students will attend the record dance in the Student Center Friday night.

What promises to be one of the biggest Homecoming parades will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday. At 11:30 a.m. a smorgasbord dinner will be served in the cafeteria.

"Blugold Blackout" time is 1 a.m. at Ramer Field.

There will be a coffee hour after the game for students, alumni, faculty and friends in the Student Center.

Grand finale to the festivities will be Saturday night with the Homecoming dance, highlighted by the music of Sauter-Finegan.

Alumni, Students Will Dance to Name Band Music

by Don Negard

The Sauter-Finegan Orchestra, one of the nation's name dance bands, will set the musical pace at the Homecoming dance this year. The dance will be held at St. Bridget's gym from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 17.

Before cutting discs for RCA-Victor, both Ed Sauter and Bill Finegan had years of experience turning out arrangements for such all-time greats as Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw, Tommy Dorsey, and the Glenn Miller orchestra.

Mutual admirers of one another's work, Sauter and Finegan first thought of teaming up as they began discussing music in 1939, when they met at a Benny Goodman opening in New York. Sauter was arranging for Mr. Goodman at the time and Finegan was with Glenn Miller. After the war, Finegan stayed in Europe to study at the Paris Conservatory, but they corresponded with one another about musical ideas.

After Finegan's return to the States, plans for an orchestra in which they would have full freedom to put ideas of their own to work began to materialize. One person who helped transform the Sauter-Finegan musical dream into reality was Dave Kapp of RCA-Victor who, "sound unheard", gave them a recording contract with liberty to record whatever they wished! And another was their manager, Willard Alexander, the booking agent who launched the Benny Goodman and Count Basie bands and whose managerial association with these and other great aggregations is legendary in the trade.

Handpicked by Sauter and Finegan, the musicians of the new band formed a unit admirably suited to play Sauter-Finegan arrangements. Approximately (Continued on page 3)

Chris Barber

Chris Barber to Bring Jazz to River Falls

by Kristin Engebret

Chris Barber, one of the world's top jazz bands, will again play in the North Hall Auditorium, Wednesday, Oct. 14 at 8 p.m. Tickets priced at 50c will go on sale Tuesday in the Student Center. The concert is open to the public.

The band, which has been in existence since 1948, spends each year touring and playing for thousands of people all over the world. Besides playing in concerts, the band plays for radio, television, films, and does a lot of recording.

Even though the basic structure of the Chris Barber Band is New Orleans sound, they play a variety of selections all with the very distinctive Barber style.

Selling over two million records, and collecting golden records from Europe and America, "Petite Fleur" has greatly increased the popularity of his band.

This year, Chris Barber's band was voted by the readers of a major Dutch musical paper the top jazz band in the world. Chris Barber's records outsell any other individual jazz artist or band in Germany, Denmark, Holland and Sweden. In Chris Barber's office, letters continue to come in from all over the world requesting details of records and broadcasts.

Chris Barber was born in London on April 17, 1930. In London he learned to play the violin, bass, and the trombone. A few years later the band was organized. It is a six piece band consisting of Chris Barber (trombone), Monty Sunshine (clarinet), Dick Smith (bass), Pat Halcox (trumpet), Eddie Smith (banjo), Graham Burbidge (drums), and the charming vocalist, Miss Otilie Patterson.

States Y-Dems Plan Conference At Stevens Point

The Young Democratic Clubs of Wisconsin are sponsoring a two day conference and workshop in Stevens Point on Friday through Sunday, Oct. 9 to 11.

The idea for this conference arose from a need for more and better coordination between the Young Democratic Clubs throughout the state. This will be an excellent opportunity for fellow Young Dems to exchange ideas that would be useful in planning activities for their local Young Democratic unit.

Many prominent Democrats from around the state will be on hand, as the Senior Democratic Party will hold its Administrative Committee meeting in Stevens Point on Saturday.

Patrick J. Lucey, Chairman of Democratic Party of Wisconsin will speak to the group on Saturday on "The Aims and Purposes of a Political Party."

Larry Gansluckner and Carl Duch, who have been appointed by William R. Drew, Chairman of the Young Democratic Clubs of Wisconsin, to act as co-chairmen for the conference, are working on the final plans for the conference.

COLLEGE SCHEDULES POLIO SHOT PROGRAM

The annual Polio vaccine program will begin next Monday, October 12, from 11:30 until 12:30 in the Social room. The price of the first shot will be one dollar.

The Dean's office urges students who have not had their shots to do so in light of the many epidemics occurring over the nation.

WITH STUDENT CENTER

Campus Assumes New Look

Students returning to the campus of Wisconsin State College at River Falls this past month have found facilities awaiting them which have never before been available. The focal point of the new services is the Student Center.

The Center, financed entirely by student payments, is providing a suitable environment for out-of-class activities with lounge and recreation areas, meeting rooms, food service, a bookstore, and publication offices. The building also has offices for Director Richard Reynolds who joined the staff at the college this year to see that the students' "home

The Editor Speaks . .

The key to a successful homecoming this year and any year is organizational participation. The Homecoming Committee Chairmen have expressed the desire for campus organizations to sign up for lawn decorations, window displays and to put floats in Saturday's parade.

One recommendation from the Student Senate in regards to the sponsoring of a homecoming queen candidate is that there be a limit of campaign expenditures to $25. By placing a limit the small campus organizations can again compete with the larger groups. In the past couple years the campaign costs have risen as if they were in an inflation period. This would also serve to put each campaign on an even basis.

The committee chairmen have plans for a very successful homecoming which will begin tomorrow with a kick-off convocation. Today is the final day for turning in the names of queen candidates. The queen candidates will be introduced at an all-school convocation Thursday, Oct. 8. The campaigns begin Oct. 12.

Two of the world's top musical bands will be available to students during homecoming week. The Social Committee has for the second year been able to schedule a concert featuring the music of Chris Barber. For the Homecoming Dance, Saturday night following the game with Eau Claire, the chairmen have Sauter Finegan under contract.

The main theme of homecoming is centered around the return of alumni and friends. One of the ways that organizations can help with the homecoming spirit is to invite former members of their organizations back and hold special get-togethers.

Student Senate Minutes

The meeting was called to order by President Curtiss Larson. The secretary's report was given and a balance of $490.32 remains in the Student Senate account.

A newly revised constitution for the Baptist Youth Fellowship was presented by Dale Emerson.

President Kleinpell met with the Senate to discuss the year's Student Activity allotment. A motion was put before the Senate which read: Resolved: That the sum of $50 apiece be deducted from the budgets of the Athletic Department, Student Senate, Forensics Department, The Student Voice and the Meletean and be allotted to the Drama Department. Roll call vote: Aye: Ross, Kaluzny, Norelius, Schmid, Hanson, Skone, Duch and Schlumpf. Opposed: Smith.

President Kleinpell proposed that the Social Committee be subjugated to the Union Governing Board and provide a 7 day-a-week program for organized life on campus.

Bill Finlan reported that the Biology Department plans to secure a branch of National Beta Beta Beta, honorary biology sorority and fraternity. Carroll College in Waukesha is the only other college or university in Wisconsin represented in this organization of 125 chapters.

Smith, Schmid and Norelius are to check into the organization of the Social Committee and the function of the Student Governing Board.

The meeting was adjourned. Ross, Kaluzny, Norelius, Schmid, Hanson, Skone, Duch, Schlumpf, Smith and Larson were present.

Secretary, Carol Jean Hanson

"The day just isn't long enough to teach everything you want to bring to the students' attention," says Mrs. Hazel Clark, Wisconsin's Rural Teacher of the Year.

A veteran of 30 years in the profession, Mrs. Clark now is in her first semester at the Schofield School, just south of Wausau, where she teaches all seventh grade subjects except music, art and physical education.

For 22 years, and until this fall, she was principal and teacher at the Boulevard School in Marathon county, where she won wide acclaim for her interest in her students, her profession, conservation, citizenship and community projects.

She left Boulevard because it had been reduced from a four-room to a two-room state-graded school, which would have meant teaching four grades instead of two.

But she sees little difference in her environment, "since I'm still teaching youngsters." The fact she resides 10 miles away in Mosinee with her husband, however, may tend to remove her somewhat from the Schofield community, she admitted.

A native of Oconto, she graduated from Oshkosh State College and taught the schools of Oconto taking the Boulevard position in 1937.

Among the changes she has seen after three decades of teaching, Mrs. Clark includes the switch in emphasis from subject matter to individual student and the abandonment of the rigid course patterns of the past.

But students and parents have not changed, and the former have not come up with any new tricks either, she added.

Discussing her philosophy of teaching, Mrs. Clark said, "I try to find the needs of the youngsters in order to get something across, and with patience even the slowest can learn to become good citizens." And her interest in citizenship is symbolized in the plea under a picture of Lincoln on the blackboard: "Wanted: Boys to Become Men."

Republican Congressmen Will Present 'Recruits for a Sound America' Oct. 14

by Bob Enstad

A total of nine Republican congressmen were willing to be part of the "Recruits for a Sound America" program to be held here on Wednesday, Oct. 14. The three chosen to come to River Falls are Congressmen Robert Griffin, Melvin R. Laird, and Albert Quie.

In the selection of the three who will come to campus, six other congressmen indicated a desire to make the trip. They were congressmen William Broomfield of Michigan; Joseph Holt of California; William Cramer of Florida; Edward Derinsky of Illinois; Robert Michel, also of Illinois; and Richard Poff of Virginia.

Congressman Robert Griffin of Michigan is the co-author of the administration backed Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill that recently passed the Congress. Mr. Griffin is expected to discuss the bill while at River Falls.

Congressman Albert Quie was elected from Minnesota's first congressional district in 1957 to fill the vacancy left by the death of Congressman August Andresen. In 1958, he was a member of the house committees on agriculture and education and labor.

Congressman Melvin R. Laird represents Wisconsin's seventh congressional district and is a native of Marshfield. A graduate of Carleton College, Mr. Laird was a member of the Wisconsin State Senate from 1946-52 before being elected to Congress in 1952. He is presently a member of the house committee on appropriations.

Twelve years ago, a similar group was formed to present the issues and the Republican story, known as the "Chowder and Marching Society." Members of this team included now Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, now Senator Thurston B. Morton, national Republican chairman, and Congressman John W. Brynes of Wisconsin.

The Congressmen will speak in North Hall Auditorium at 10 a.m. on Oct. 14. A press conference with area newsmen will be held in the Student Center at 9 a.m. Following the program at River Falls, the lawmakers will fly to Stevens Point and Madison for other engagements on the same day. They will speak to students and have a question and answer period.

The program is being sponsored by the college Young Republican club. It is the first of similar programs to be conducted throughout the nation as part of the Republican "Recruits for '60" campaign.

Traditional 'Hut Four' To Appear at Pep Fest

The Hut Four, college quartet turned professional, will return to the River Falls College campus for the fifth time on Friday to be a part of this year's Homecoming festivities.

Having the Hut Four at the Homecoming pep fest has become almost a tradition at River Falls. They made their first appearance here in 1955 at the Homecoming pep fest and have returned to campus each year since.

Two members of the quartet, Donald Sundt and Robert Dykstra, are alumni of the college. Mr. Sundt graduated from River Falls in 1958 and the group turned professional after his graduation.

Economics Club To Hear Speaker At Next Meeting

Robert Piculell, Northwestern Refinery Co., will speak at the next Economics Club meeting scheduled for Tuesday, October 6, at 8 p.m. in room 201 in the Student Center. A business meeting will follow the talk.

Mr. Piculell, a St. Paul Park resident, has had experience in sales, controls and counseling and will show slides on the phases of refining.

The Economics Club has also tentatively scheduled for the Fall Quarter a field trip into a major industry or business in the Twin Cities plus several other speakers. Included are speakers on cooperatives, Interstate Commerce and Dr. Darr who will discuss his work with the Ford Grant this summer.

The club limits membership to economics majors and minors but invites all interested people to attend the speaker meetings.

Senior members of the Economics Club are participating in the liberal arts placement program. A committee consisting of members from other applicable clubs meets with Dr. Stone once a month. A meeting for all seniors in liberal arts will be scheduled in the near future.

CONOCO Awards RF Senior $200 for Chemistry Essay

Byron T. Gorres, senior from Amery, is the winner of a $200 second prize in a contest sponsored this year by the Continental Oil Company.

The contest was for essays in colloid and surface chemistry and was open to college undergraduates. Mr. Gorres' prize-winning essay was on "The Contribution of Irving Langmuir to Colloid and Surface Chemistry."

Prizes totaling $1,500 were awarded in the contest conducted by the University of Southern California. First prizes were awarded to Leonard G. Feinstein, awarded to Leonard G. Feinstein, a student at Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, and to Miss Saule Liulevicius, a student at Mundelin College, Chicago. Second prize in the report class went to Gene Downs of Iowa State College at Ames.

Purpose of the contest, which will be repeated next year, is to encourage undergraduate student interest in important fields of chemistry. Contestants this year entered either a report of a research project or an essay.

STILL CAN'T, BUT

Johnny Couldn't Read Then!

Students have an "inability to read and understand simple English," and they "don't know a noun from a verb or a simple from a complex sentence."

Students "do not know how to write decimals nor how to operate with fractions."

Furthermore, the "quality of the boys physically does not seem to measure up to the standards . . . of the town boys of my boyhood."

Such statements are almost commonplace today as critics complain that present students fail to achieve virtually any of the standards of previous generations.

But one wonders if such complaints aren't always present, since the above remarks were made in 1913 by college instructors about the quality of their students.

Out of 192 "normal school"—as the state colleges then were called—teachers replying to a survey on educational conditions, 125 found students ill-prepared in basic subjects taught in high schools. To this, principals and superintendents retorted that poor preparation of students resulted from poor teaching by the normal school graduates—and the vicious circle persists today.

Teachers back in 1913 complained about poor student penmanship and worried about the writing of the future. They criticized the failure to read books and further contended that the students' preparation "seems to have given them the idea that all that is necessary is to learn a lesson by reading over the words and giving these words to the teacher."

Apparently discipline was not of a sterling standard either, judging from complaints about the need for better order in the corridors and less noise in the assemblies. Some teachers insisted that the "use of tobacco on the grounds" should serve as justification for expulsion.

And, indicative of either poor conditions or student encroachments, another hoped for provision of a "men's rest room for members of the faculty," since "there is no common room where faculty men may meet for a conference."

Falcon Fanfare

by John Doyle

One of River Falls' finer athletes is Mick Lauber, senior from Glenwood City. He was last year's Falcon all-conference half-back who scored an amazing total of 56 points. Mick started strong this year with an electrifying broken field run, and scored a touchdown against the strong Stevens Point squad. Mick will again have the Falcon gridiron fans on their feet throughout the entire season, but he says that "we have seven rough ones left to be the champs again." Mick considers his greatest thrill to be last year's victory against Platteville in the Homecoming game.

Being a very versatile athlete, Mick has also received letters in basketball and baseball.

JUNIOR CLASS NAMES NEW VICE-PRESIDENT

Ron LaGrander, junior from Chili, was chosen in a special election Tuesday to fill the vacant vice-president position. Karl Schmid, junior from Chilton, is the new class president.

Chosen to represent the class as a homecoming queen candidate was Marge Wallen, junior from Prairie Farm.

Gridmen to Face Stout

by Ed Schlumpf

Fran Polsfoot's battered Falcons retreat to the solace of Ramer Field this Saturday but their opponent there will be no soft touch. Stout's revitalized Blue-devils are coming to town and for once they have victory on their mind.

Not that they haven't had victory on their mind in the past. It's just that this time they may be aren't hoping in vain. Coach Bos Bostwick's collection of eager freshmen, so-so sophomores, and returning lettermen have jelled into a winning combination and Stout fans haven't been silent in voicing their appreciation.

Stout dumped hapless Winona 20-7 in the season opener, edged St. Cloud 13-7 in their second outing, and then held Eau Claire to a 13-13 deadlock. Results of their game with Milwaukee this weekend were not yet in as we go to press.

The Bluedevils forged out a 13-0 halftime lead against Eau Claire, completely dominating every phase of the game. But a different ball game emerged during the second half as the Blue-golds almost ran Stout off the field. They scored twice to tie it and were knocking on the door from the two-yard line when the final gun sounded. Statistics showed Eau Claire the leader in yardage by a huge 411-163 margin!

The Falcons meanwhile have had their troubles. Latest in an ever mounting list of injuries, is Dick Shimel, River Falls' stellar all-conference guard. He suffered a severe shoulder separation last week and will be lost for the remainder of the season. His replacement, Jim Murphy, is hobbling around on a bum knee to further complicate the problem.

Nobody listened early this fall when Polsfoot commented, "This is the thinnest squad I've had since I started coaching here." Now as the injuries pile up and there is no capable replacement relief in sight, fans are wondering if he wasn't partially correct. Polsfoot hurries to point out that this isn't the main reason for the team's record to date, but it has been at least a minor factor

Bob Bundy and Jim Payne have been throwing the ball with amazing accuracy for the Blue-devils and the running of all-conference halfback Glen Harke has been superb. With these three at their best and the rest of the Stout team at an emotional peak the Falcons may have their hands full trying to "Wreck Home Ec Tech".

STOOL BUMS WIN, TOP I-M FOOTBALL FOR SECOND WEEK

By Eddie Fisk

With two weeks of football completed and each team having played two to three games, it looks as though the Stool Bums are the team to beat. The Bums have a 3-0 record and it seems as though they will go all the way for the Intramural championship.

The college intramural officials are attempting to arrange a football game with Eau Claire State on the morning of our Homecoming, Oct. 17. The game would send the intramural football champions of River Falls up against the intramural football champions of Eau Claire. They are also trying to set up a game with the intramural champs from Stout State.

Falcons, Yellowjackets Battle to 13-13 Deadlock

UPENDED AFTER A short gain in Saturday's bruising battle with Superior was Falcon halfback, Frank Sprenger. (Photo by Blegen)

The River Falls Falcons were as up and down as the Superior Yellowjackets field Saturday night battling coach Mortorelli squad to a 13-13 deadlock.

The Yellowjackets scored on a eight yard pass play from quarterback Don Ferkovich to end Tom Kuklinski with 1:10 showing on the scoreboard clock and then knotted the score at 13-13 with the placement.

End Duane Tollefson gave River Falls its first break late in the first quarter. Tollefson blocked a fourth down punt with Ferkovich standing on his own 17, the ball bounced into the end zone and was recovered by Ed Olund, for a Falcon TD. Jim Hallen's attempted conversion was short and the "Red and White" held on a 6-0 lead.

An alert Superior guard, Bill Kogenick, fell on a Falcon fumble on the 'Falls 24 yard line to put the Yellowjackets in scoring territory. On the first play Ferkovich hit Bill Smiley with a screen pass good for the 24 yards and a touchdown. Jack Neurer blocked the conversion attempt.

The Polsfootballers scoring punch deteriorated and they couldn't get a scoring drive started until the middle of the final 15 minute session.

Mick Lauber in attempting to pass eluded his rushers and picked his way up field for a 30 yard advance to the Superior 46. Frank Sprenger was nailed by Mervin Shaffer for a three yard loss. Quarterback Tom Everson found Neurer and Lauber in the open and pitched for successive gains of 13 and 16 yards. Three plays later Everson was on the end of a Lauber aerial and scored from fifteen yards out.

Hallen's toe returned to form and the Falcon's held a 13-6 lead with 6:25 remaining.

John Miller became Superior's "hero of the week" as he picked up Marv Hanson's punt on the RF 46. Miller confronted with the white shirted Falcons reversed his field, picked up his blockers spun away from the would-be tacklers and returned the punt to the RF 13. Jensen finally getting the tackle.

The Yellowjackets work horse Bill Smiley picked up two yards and then lost one when Larry (Continued on page 6)

In last weeks opening NFL League games most of the favorites won their games but a few upsets were the order of the day.

This week I am taking a close look at the Western Division. It looks as though any one of three teams could take the championship in the Western Division. These include last years top three, the Baltimore Colts, the Chicago Bears, and the Los Angeles Rams.

The Baltimore Colts, last years world champions, could take the championship. They will be led at quarterback by the great John Unitas. In last years regular season he passed for 19 touchdowns. Alan "The Horse" Ameche a former All-American from Wisconsin is at fullback. Lenny Moore, who scored fourteen touchdowns last year, and L. G. Dupre round out the backfield. Ray Berry and Jim Mutscheller are the ends. Both are exceptional blockers and are fine receivers. The defensive line will be led by Gene "Big Daddy" Lipscomb, Gino Marchetti and Milt Davis.

The Chicago Bears finished in a tie for second last season despite having several injuries to top men. Ed Brown and Zeke Bratkowski will share the signal calling duties. George Halas often uses three ends in his offensive unit. Bill McCall, Jim Dooley and Harlan Hill lead a host of receivers. Fullback Rick Casares, headed for a great season, carried the ball for over 700 yards in six pre-season games. Their defensive nucleus is made up of Bill George, Doug Atkins and Fred Williams.

The Los Angeles Rams are another team that could go all the way. They are loaded with offensive punch led by Ollie Matson obtained from the Cards.

Aging Ollie Mattson should run like a young colt in the California Sunshine. Jon Arnett and Tom Wilson are the halfbacks. Del Shafner, Leon Clarke, Jim Phillips, and Lamar Lundy give Sid Gilman four starting ends. Les Richter, Gene Brite and Lou Michaels supply the punch on defense.

The Detroit (Toothless) Lions of Last year may have troubles again this season. They place a load on Tobin Rote. High hopes are on rookie Nick Pietrosante, All-American fullback from Notre Dame. Other backs are Hopalong Cassidy, John Henry Johnson and ex-Badger Danny Lewis. Joe Schmidt leads an all-veteran defense unit.

The Green Bay Packers will be much improved this season, if new coach Vince Lombardi can lick the defeatist attitude and instill some new spirit. The Packers lost their top draft choice Randy Duncan to Canada, but have grabbed quarterback Lamar McHan from the Cards. Paul Hornung, Don McCellhenny and Lew Carpenter round out the backfield. Ends to watch are Gary Knafle and Max McGee. Nate Bowden, Jim Temp, Dave Hanner and Bill Forester are solid defensivemen.

The San Francisco 49ers new coach is Red Hickey. He will rely on untried rookies to come through for him. Aging Y. A. Tittle at quarterback will be spelled by John Brodie. Ageless Joe Perry is at fullback. Hugh McEhenny and J. D. Smith are leading halfbacks. Clyde Conner, R. C. Owens, and Billy Wilson will share the end duties. The linebackers are Jerry Tubbes, Karl Rubke and Matt Hazeltine.

away from home" runs smoothly. Mr. Reynolds came from Portland with a master's degree from the University of Oregon where he also did his undergraduate work.

Probably the most impressive area in the new building and "the center of the Center" is the cafeteria. Under a contract signed with Slater Food Service Management of Philadelphia, students this year may have all their meals in the cafeteria for $10 a week. They may, however, eat there as frequently or as seldom as they choose if they prefer to pay by the meal.

With a seating capacity of 300 also in the main room and 100 in the auxiliary dining room which will also serve as an area for organizations and smaller groups, the new facility will care for the student body adequately.

Behind large picture windows overlooking an expanse of campus between the Center and south Hall is a lounge area equipped like the cafeteria, in Scandinavian-modern furniture.

For the first time, the campus will have a bookstore. Located just off the north end of the lounge area, it will carry classroom supplies, supplementary textbooks and other items frequently needed by students.

The Center also will house the "seat of government" with Student Senate offices on the second floor, the first "permanent" office since the Senate was founded. This area also will contain an "Alumni Room."

No longer will student organizations have to look for unused classrooms, for the Center has three meeting rooms on the first floor, three meeting rooms on the second floor and two in the basement. Those on the first and second floors may be converted into one large room by sliding back moveable partitions.

In the basement is a large game area with table tennis, pocket billiards, and an area for checkers, chess and cards. It connects by an underground tunnel with the basement of the Health and Physical Education Building, now under construction, which, it is hoped, ultimately will house bowling alleys.

Also in the basement of the Student Center will be the publications office, housing the staffs of the Meletean and the Student Voice, and an adjoining photographic darkroom.

But with all the change, it is expected that the Center will be the new spot for an old course—"cafeteriology" where students and faculty will sit informally over a cup of coffee to continue discussions begun in class and to "solve" the problems of the world.

Carleton Victor In Cross-Country

Coach Dick Zamjahn's cross country team was beaten by a fine Carlton team 19-13 last Friday afternoon on a slippery and rain soaked course. The Carlton team placed men in the first three positions. Jerry Halverson was the first River Falls man to cross the finish line with Danny Teetzen close behind. The winning time for the 2.6 mile course was a slow 13 min. 58 sec. Next week the River Falls cross country team will travel to Winona.

Julien crashed through. Superior was set back to the RF 17 with a backfield in motion penalty. Smiley again carrying, went wide for nine yards. Ferkovich on the fourth down faded back to his left looking for receivers and hit the wide open Kuklinski in the left corner. Ferkovich added the extra point for a 13-13 deadlock.

Ferkovich has previously missed two field goal attempts, one in the final period by inches. The Falcons one field goal attempt slithered off to the left side.

The loss drops River Falls into a fourth place tie with Eau Claire and Stevens Point with a 1-1-1 record. The over-all record in 1-2-1.
