Noted Sculptor To Speak During 'Fine Arts' Week

John Rood, prominent sculptor, will take part in this year's "Festival of the Contemporary Arts" at the college the week of May 3 to May 10. Mr. Rood will give a public lecture Tuesday evening, May 5, when a film based on his work will also be shown.

Describing his work and some of the radical changes it has taken, Mr. Rood says, "There is an energy behind all growth which is constantly taking new forms. I am concerned more with the possibilities of such growth, and the forms it might take, than I am with the forms we accept without question because they are familiar to us."

Others taking part in the festival include Howard Nemerov, poet, novelist, and short story writer; Miriam Stewart Hamilton, operatic soprano and painter, and Mary Barrett, printmaker and painter.

In addition, contemporary music will be performed during the week by the college symphonic band, madrigal singers, choir and orchestra. Also part of the festival will be a performance by Alpha Psi Omega of Jean Paul Sartre's "The Flies."

Born in Athens, Ohio, Mr. Rood began to paint while still in his teens and then turned to music and to writing. After a year of travel in Europe, he returned to the United States and entered the printing and publishing business.

It was not until 1933 that he turned his attention to sculpture. He had his first one-man exhibition in New York in the spring of 1937 and has had more than 100 one-man exhibitions in the United States. In June of 1956 he had an exhibition at the Galleria del Fiore in Milan, the first one-man exhibition by an American ever to be held in that city. Mr. Rood worked entirely in wood until he began the work at St. Mark's cathedral in Minneapolis in 1949. For a few years afterward he concentrated on work in stone. At present, he works mostly in welded metal and is experimenting with the use of metal and glass in combination. During the summer of 1952 Mr. Rood carved three stone sculptures for the terrace of a new (Continued on page 2)

College Receives Film Strips, Guides From Encyclopaedia Britannica Films

Encyclopaedia Britannica Films, Inc. has given the college 150 copies of 327 different film and film strip correlation guides to be used in conjunction with standard elementary and secondary textbooks, Robert Krueger, director of visual aids announced today.

The guides will be distributed free of charge to graduating seniors in education this year for use with textbooks they will be using in their schools. Seniors who are planning to teach next fall should find out as soon as possible what text they will be using and should go to Room 45 in the library where they may select the guides to go with their textbooks, Mr. Krueger said. The guides also will be given to teachers attending the summer session.

Film strips produced by Encyclopaedia Britannica are in the fields of language arts and reading, health and safety, science, social studies, geography and history.

The guides have gummed strips to facilitate fastening them to the inside cover of the teacher's edition of the textbook for easy reference.

SHE'LL BE GAYNER!

Cast Your Vote For Cover Girl

The photo appeared under the heading "Pick Your Favorite Campus Cover Girl." An official ballot was published and will appear with the photos of the queen candidates from 28 upper Midwest colleges.

This is the fifth year Picture Sunday magazine has run a campus cover girl contest.

Students are urged to support their candidate by mailing in their ballots. Deadline for mailing ballots is midnight tonight.

The film strips produced by the company are for use with more than 200 texts published by 23 leading firms. They are for use with textbooks in the elementary grades and in junior and senior high schools.

A complete set of the filmstrips was donated to the college by Encyclopaedia Britannica last year so that they might be previewed by student teachers.

Atelier Plans Sale of Art At Festival

Mr. Crane, of the art department, commenting on the benefits derived from the purchase of one of these works of art said, "One important purchase of art is to give meaning and richness to one's life. Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra To Give Concert April 22

The fabulous Dorsey Orchestra will appear on campus this Wednesday, April 22, at 8 p. m. in North Hall Auditorium. A two hour concert containing the traditional Dorsey style music will be presented at this time.

The well known 17 piece orchestra will perform under the direction of Lee Castle. Mr. Castle is a master of the trumpet and bears the musical nicknames of "Mr. Trumpet" and "Prince of the Trumpet."

Lee Castle started playing the trumpet when he was very young. He played first with the Joe Hyams band, then later with Artie Shaw, Glen Miller and Tommy Dorsey. Dorsey recognized Mr. Castle's potential talent and insisted that he leave Pennsylvania to study with Mr. Dorsey, Senior. Upon completing his training, Mr. Castle joined the Benny Goodman band but soon left to form his own group, which became one of the most popular in the country. He later re-joined the Jimmy Dorsey orchestra and became musical conductor and featured trumpeter for the group.

The first Dorsey Brothers Orchestra was formed in 1922, a small group called the Dorsey's Novelty Band which played local

The proceeds from the show are to be used in financing the Children's Day, sponsored annually by the Vet's Club. Tickets will be available from any veteran and the cost will be 50c for students and 75c for adults.

Soils Professor Writes Article

Dr. Eliahu Wurman of the soils department in the Division of Agriculture at River Falls is the author of an article in the March-April issue of "Soil Science Proceedings."

The article entitled "Properties and Genesis of Finer Textured Subsoil Bands in Some Sandy Michigan Soils," is based on Dr. Wurman's Ph. D. thesis.

In his study, Dr. Wurman describes the characteristics and the origin of subsoil bands which are redder and finer textured than the adjoining layers. Co-authors are E. P. Whiteside and M. M. Mortland of Michigan State University.

HARRIS ON PANEL AT SUMMER PROGRAM OF PSYCHOLOGISTS

Dr. Wilfred C. Harris, professor of education at River Falls, will be a member of a panel at the Third Annual Institute for School Psychologists July 9 and 10 in Madison.

Dr. Harris will participate in a workshop on "Consultation With and In-Service Training of Teachers." Theme of the conference is "Using What We Know About Child Behavior." The conference will be in the Wisconsin Center at the University of Wisconsin.

dates in and around their home town of Shenandoah, Pa. The brothers decided to go their own individual ways in 1936 when Tommy and Jimmy each formed their own orchestra. For nearly 17 years, the Dorsey Brothers carried on a friendly feud which ended in 1953, when they merged their bands.

Emphasizing a sweeter, more subdued approach to the top tunes of the day, the Fabulous Dorseys have established a musical tradition for the entire generation. The reunited Dorsey Brothers, who recorded exclusively for Bell Records, has more influence in determining the song favorites of the world than any other bandleaders. Together and apart, the Dorsey Brothers have sold a combined total of 110 million records.

Many of our top records have been recorded by the fabulous Dorsey orchestra, including: "All of Me", "Manhattan", "I Understand", "Sweet Georgia Brown", "Sophisticated Swing", and "So Hare."

This concert will be open to the public and an admission of $1 a person will be charged. Tickets are on sale in the cafeteria.

The Editor Speaks . . .

Is Student government really necessary at River Falls State College? Nearly all would answer yes to this question but . . . if the results of the recent vote on the Student Senate Constitution are any indication it must be assumed that student government is not necessary on this campus.

The Student Senate recently spent a great deal of time in revising the Constitution which governs the efficient operation of our school. Monday, the revised constitution was published in the Student Voice for the student body to examine and determine whether it fulfilled its purpose.

Tuesday was poll day and the student body was given the power to vote for or against the constitution. The previous constitution carried the clause that one-third of the enrollment was required to cast their ballot before the constitution could be considered accepted. Less than one-fourth actually voted.

What are some probable reasons why more than 800 students failed to feel a strong enough obligation to express their choice? In querying various students I came up with number of excuses, such as lack of time, lack of knowledge in relation to the constitutional amendments and the feeling their one vote would not make a difference or be the deciding factor.

The truth is that the majority of our student body is apathetic and will accept without question the work of the Senate in revising the constitution. We, as students at River Falls, should feel loyal enough to express our opinions when something that affects the school is put before us for consideration.

The main objection to the present constitution election is the fact that people did not have sufficient time to really examine the amendments and discuss them with each other. Other objections which have been voiced is that each amendment should be ratified separately, write-in candidates should be allowed and that it should be made clear that interested students may attend Senate meetings.

Student Senate president, Clarence Dulek has announced elsewhere on this page that all interested students who wish to voice opinions on changes in the constitution can do so by attending the Senate meeting tonight or April 27.

"I FINALLY GOT A BLIND DATE FOR YOUR FRIEND HERE - WE CAN EVEN STAY OUT PAST CLOSING HOURS."

Senate Urges Students To Attend Meetings

Student Senate President Clarence Dulek today issued calls for student attendance at coming Senate meetings.

President Dulek reminded all male students that those interested in serving on the Homecoming Committee have been asked to appear before the Senate tonight, April 20.

In addition, all students who wish to voice opinions concerning desirable changes in the Student Senate Constitution are urged to attend the Senate meetings of April 20 and April 27.

Students will be allowed to price their own works and the Art Club will take a 10 per cent commission from sales. The proceeds will be used to establish a fund for the purchase of art works for the Union.

The works of Mary Barrett will be priced from $5 to $35 and the oils will range from $75 to $150. Prices on the individual pieces will be given on request from the art department.

In the fall of 1956 he began work on three panels for the National Headquarters of the American Association of University Women in Washington, D. C. These depicted 17 women who had contributed most in various fields in the United States and were entitled "Pioneers in Progress."

In 1944, Mr. Rood was called to the University of Minnesota as Resident Artist and Lecturer in Art Education. In 1945 he was appointed Assistant Professor and Artist-in-Residence. He became an Associate Professor in 1950 and Professor in 1957.

Student Senate Minutes

April 14, 1959
The meeting was called to order by Vice-president Curt Larson. After the Secretary's report was approved as read, the treasurer reported balances of $1,685.62 in the Student Senate account, $1,287.21 in the vending machine account, and $17.13 in the River Falls account.

Vice-president Larson read a letter from Dr. Knaak, thanking the Senate for the financial support given to the Career Conference.

Patty Ross, Ed Schlumpf, Carol Jennings and Ron Skone were named to a committee to prepare a poll to determine student opinion on the proposed accident-health insurance plan.

Dr. Chisholm's request for use of the student lounge for art exhibits during Fine Arts Festival May 3-10 was approved.

Students who wish to voice opinions concerning amendments to the Student Senate Constitution are reminded of their right to appear before the Senate at any time. Discussion of this matter will be at a peak during the April 20 and April 27 meetings.

Male students interested in becoming members of the Homecoming Committee are to appear before the Senate at 6 p.m., Monday, April 20.

Vollywags Win Intramural Crown

by Slim Chelberg

In the final round of play last Monday night the Vollywags scored three victories to give them a final record of 24-0, and the championship of the '58-'59 intramural volleyball league.

The Vollywags winning came as no great surprise because of the fact that the nucleus of the team is made up of members of last years champion Lancers.

Captain Sheldon Bearrood, Curt Larsen, Chuck Norelius, Jim Kahl and Jim Tostrud were all members of the Lancers a year ago. Gary Nelson, Al Voelker, Bob Beeson, and Ron Bosman make up the remainder of the group that compiled a perfect, unblemished 24-0 record.

Second place honors went to the Goops who had a very enviable record of 15 wins and 9 losses. The QB's took third with a 12-12 record. The Beagle Boy's record of 11-13 was matched by the Lakers for the fourth place tie. The Aggies, Foul Ups, Comets follow in that order with the Preps having a little trouble registering in the win column and taking last place with a 1-23 record for the season.

FRED COLEMAN, Falcon middle distance whiz, gets off to a flying start in last week's 440 yd. run against Eau Claire and St. Thomas. Coleman kept right on flying and wound up winning the 440 and the 880 as well. He is the defending WSCC champion in the half mile and his his sights on the school record in that evtnt. (Staff Photo)

Young Bill Freeman won his second game of the year with another sparkling pitching display, setting down Bemidji with one hit winning 1-0, Saturday afternoon at Ramer Field. Freeman hooked up in a fierce hurling duel with the Lumberjacks' Charlie Hartzke who allowed the Falcons only two base knocks.

River Falls made best use of their two blows. Both came in the fourth inning and netted Freeman the only run he needed. Duane Teska opened the frame with a booming double and then advanced to third on Frank Gombold's single. Bill Halvorson's sacrifice fly sent Teska home with the winning run.

Despite another day of frigid temperatures, fielding gems were a dime a dozen for the Falcons. Howie Madsen, the Falcons' burly catcher, threw three Bemidji runners out at second to ease Freeman out of a couple of tough spots and Don Swanson had several beautiful saves at third.

Freeman

Contrary to last week when he walked 11 on a snowy afternoon at Macalester, Freeman had the situation under control from the start against Bemidji. He walked only three and struck out two but had the Lumberjacks eating out of his hand most of the time. Four times he fielded little rollers to the mound and only two balls other than the base hit were knocked out of the infield.

Hartzke threw good enough to win on most afternoons. He gave up only the two base hits and struck out five while issuing only one free pass. He was tough in the clutch and ended uprisings in the third and the fifth inning by whiffing the always dangerous RF shortstop, Al Suezaki.

Mick Lauber fired a brilliant no-hitter against Bemidji in the second game of Saturday's twin bill at Ramer Field, but had to settle for a heartbreaking 1-0 loss as his mates committed three errors in a wild fourth inning.

By rights, Plevell, the Lumberjack who scored the only run of the game, should have been out three or four times. He reached first when Duane Teska dropped Don Swanson's strike-like peg from third. Then on an infield popup, Plevell found himself racing into second with the umpire calling the infield fly rule into effect. Jim Turnquist caught the ball on the infield grass but when he attempted to double Plevell off first, he slipped and fell and Plevell hurried back to first safe again. Lauber then got the next batter to hit a grounder to Sawson but Plevell pulled up safely at second when Turnquist dropped Swanson's throw.

Lauber

With two men out, Lauber forced the next batter to loft a seemingly inning-ending popup which he drifted under near the first base line. But Teska tried for it too and the resultant collision made Lauber drop the ball. Plevell, meanwhile had rounded third and dashed for the plate. The throw to catcher Rog Piehl was slightly wide and Plevell slid in safely as Piehl missed the tag on a highly disputed play.

Don Palm, the Bemidji hurler, richly deserved the win, even though his mates didn't back him with any hits. The tall right-hander had the Falcons completely handcuffed as they collected only two hits for the entire game. Bill Halvorson slashed a single right off in the first inning that went for naught and Frank Gombold dumped one into short left field in the fifth that (Continued on page six)

Bethel Nips RF Netters

by Ed Schlumpf

Bethel's tennis team came storming from behind in the final match of the afternoon to edge George Johnson's Falcon squad 4-3 Saturday on the River Falls courts.

With the score knotted at 3-3, Bob Graham and Rog Reguse grabbed the first set of their doubles match by a score of 6-4. But Bethel's Don Sension and Bob Johnson fought back to take the final two sets, the match, and the team victory.

The Falcons' Steve Sandburg came through in fine form trouncing Sension in the first singles match and teaming with Keith Ronningen to win their doubles event in two straight sets 7-5 and 9-7.

Duane Swanson also looked impressive for River Falls wasting little time in downing Bethel's Gary Skall 6-3 and 6-2.

This Saturday the Falcons will face Stout and Eau Claire in a triangular meet to be held on the River Falls courts starting at 1 p.m. This will be the last chance for River Falls tennis enthusiasts to watch the Falcon team as the three remaining meets are to be held on the opponent's courts.

Singles

Steve Sandburg (RF) defeated Don Sension (B) 6-4, 1-6, and 6-3.

Dick Larson (B) defeated Keith Ronningen (RF) 6-3, 4-6, and 6-2.

Bob Johnson (B) defeated Bill Hanley (RF) 2-6, 7-5, and 6-2.

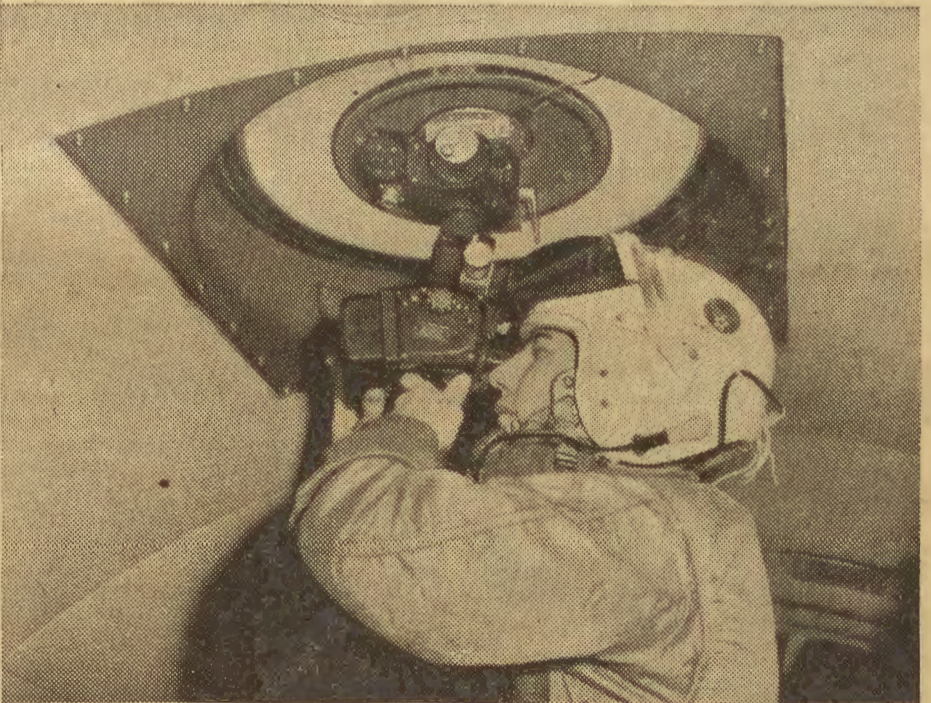

Duane Swanson (RF) defeated Gary Skall (F) 6-3 and 6-2.

Falcon Golfers Win First Meet

by Dick Enstad

The River Falls State golf team walked off with a victory in a four-team meet at the River Falls Golf Club Saturday afternoon. Ben Bergsrud's squad amassed a total of 37½ points to best St. Olaf, Winona, and Bethel who finished with scores of 25½, 25, and 2 respectively.

Ralph Ryan, a sophomore from Red Wing, highlighted the Falcon attack with a one-under-par 69 to gain medalist honors. Gordie Elliot of Winona followed with a 18-hole score of 72. Jim Hallen, River Falls, finished third at 72; Cal Carlson, St. Olaf, fourth at 75; and Con Freeman, St. Olaf, fifth at 77.

The Falcons won all three of their matches edging St. Olaf 11-4 and routing Winona 13½-4½ and Bethel 15-0. The second place Oles lost to Winona 8-7 but also clubbed Bethel 15-0. Winona handed Bethel its other setback 13-2 but fell ½ short of the Northfield team.

Despite Ryan's fine showing it was sophomore Gerald Stern who was the big point-winner for the locals. Stern, a Hastings product, golfed in the number five position and brought home 9 big points on the strength of a 80.

Eau Claire boast five returning numeral winners and could prove to be exceedingly tough. Herb Brown heads a list of returnees that includes Dick Green, Dick Hanson, Will Klatt, and Fran Von Schrader.

Player-coach George Johnson will have his tennis team ready for a 1:00 meet against Eau Claire and Stout to be played on the River Falls courts.

Probable participants for the Falcons are Johnson, Keith Ronnigen, Steve Sandburg, Rog Raguse, Al Rozenthal, and Dick Enstad.

Coach Ade Olson has four returning lettermen for his court crew in Bill Elstran, John Grimmer, Tom Lee, and Paul Murphy. Stout had a pathetic season last year edging only River Falls in six meets.

BASEBALL —

Lauber notched five strikeouts and walked but two. His curve ball was superb as time and time again the Lumberjacks waved foolishly at the breaking pitches. The Lumberjacks failed to hit a ball to the outfield off Lauber unless you count the popup that Turnquist hauled in on the edge of the outfield grass.

Al Suesaki came up with another one of his amazing plays in the sixth to help Lauber out of a slight jam. Plevell was hit by a pitched ball and trotted down to first. The next man struck out but the third smashed a hard grounder between second and short which seemed destined for a hit. But Suesaki made a beautiful grab while sprawled on his stomach and threw the ball with his gloved hand to Turnquist for the force out on Plevell.

WISCONSIN COLLEGES PLANSUMMERSCHOOL

More than 7,500 Wisconsin teachers will go to school in June at the nine Wisconsin state college summer sessions.

Classes begin June 15 at Eau Claire, Oshkosh, Platteville, River Falls, Stevens Point, and Superior; and June 22 at La Crosse, Stout, and Whitewater. Three of the colleges, La Crosse, Stout, and Superior, will offer graduate work leading to the masters degree.

The summer program of the colleges has grown rapidly in size since the end of World War II. In 1946 there were 3,775 students on the campuses for summer study.

At two summer camps teacher-students will study art and conservation in outdoor studios and laboratories.

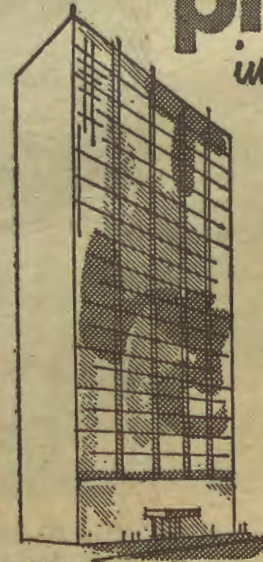

An arts-and-crafts workshop begins at "The Clearing" in northern Door county July 26 and ends August 29. Under the direction of college professors the students will sketch and paint or work with materials from the area, all for college credit.

At Eagle River students will learn conservation by working in forests and streams. Beginning June 14 the teacher-students will live in dormitories at camp and study the newest and best methods of conserving Wisconsin's natural resources.
