Liberian Head's Son-in-Law Here

Henry Cooper, Liberian foreign student has been at Wisconsin State College at River Falls for over six months and very few people are aware of his background, his "claim to fame."

Last week, Henry's wife applied for enrollment at River Falls and under the section asking for her father's occupation, she placed "President of Liberia" as matter of factly as any other student might answer the question by saying his father was a clerk. Henry had never seen fit to mention the fact that he was married to the daughter of President William Tubman. He even hesitates to elaborate on the matter when he is questioned about it.

Henry attended high school in Monrovia, capital of Liberia, and after graduation, he began to make plans to come to the United States to study agriculture. However, shortly before he made his college selection, he was sidetracked by a job with the National Liberian Department of Public Works, Division of Highway Design. He worked at this job until the fall of 1960, when he decided to take up engineering in a college in the United States instead of agriculture.

He came to River Falls in two days from his home in Monrovia (Continued on page 4)

RIVER FALLS STATE COLLEGE

MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1961

Voters Name Beverly Voigt 'Cover Girl'

Beverly Voigt, freshman from Barron, is the winner of the River Falls Campus Cover Girl contest. She was one of five finalists entered in the contest which was decided by an all-school election Wednesday of last week.

Miss Voigt's picture will now be submitted to the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune, which is sponsoring the contest, to vie for its Campus Cover Girl title. Her picture will appear in the Tribune's Picture magazine on April 23, along with the entries submitted by other co-educational colleges in this area.

The Tribune will print a ballot along with the contestant's photos on April 23, thus giving its readers a chance to select the finalists. Five finalists of the balloting will then be submitted to a panel of judges for the final decision.

The contest is open to all colleges in the northwest, with the stipulation that all entrants must be from a community within the circulation range of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune.

Last year's entrant from Wisconsin State College at River Falls was Carol Wenner from Rice Lake.

READING PROGRAM

The Reading Dynamics Institute will present a demonstration in North Hall Auditorium at 4:15 p.m. on Tuesday.

The final competition with Eau Claire is on April 19 in North Hall Auditorium at 8 p.m. The price of the event will be 50 cents.

Brock to Attend Student Center Meet in Colorado

Robert N. Brock, director of the Hagestad Student Center, at Wisconsin State College, will represent the College April 16-19 at the 38th annual Association of College Unions international conference at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Approximately 325 delegates from colleges all over the United States, in Canada and Puerto Rico are expected to attend. The ACU has member-institutions in Australia, Japan, Mexico, and the Philippines. The total membership is 410. The purpose of college unions everywhere is to train students in citizenship, social responsibility, and democratic leadership.

This year's conference theme is "Higher Education and the National Purpose." It will be studied throughout four days of 31 program sessions. Gerald O. T. Erdahl, North Carolina State College, Raleigh, is national president.

Foreign Students 'on Stage' For Folk Songs and Dances

Foreign students at River Falls will be dressed in the full, colorful regalia of their native lands for the presentation of their "Around the World" variety in the Little Theatre tonight and tomorrow night. The event will begin at 8 p.m.

The program will be highlighted by folk song and dance numbers of the various nations represented by students here at the College, with documentary information on costumes, geography, occupations, recreation, and living conditions of the various countries designed to add interest.

Mohammed Iraj Amirarjomand, president of the campus Foreign Students Association and narrator for the "Around the World" program, states that the purpose of the program is to provide for American students, a combination of entertainment and educational information about the countries represented by foreign students. All proceeds from the event will be added to a scholarship fund to bring a foreign student to this college.

"The planning of this program has also helped very much to unify the River Falls foreign students and to make them a part of the full campus life of the College," the Iranian student added.

"Around the World" will be under the direction of students Kay Larsen and Jackie Bergquist and Miss Marion Hawkins, professor of English and advisor to the Foreign Students Association. James Hay will be technical director and Robert Richardson is in charge of publicity and ticket sales.

Foreign students included in the program and their native countries are: Abdol Amirani, Iran; Mohammed Iraj Amirarjomand, Iran; Sammy Bai, Korea; Arlene Baxter, Panama; Behzad and Behrooz (Ben and Bruce) Bohloul, Iran; Newton Buchner, Panama; Henry Cooper, Liberia; Leon Headley, Panama; Chan Soo Joung, Korea; Hai Ryong Kim, Kilyoung Kim, and Woon Ryoum Kim, Korea; Chuni Suh Lee, Korea; Vilas Nititham, Thailand; Mir Massod Seyedian, Iran; Miss Young Ho Koo, Korea; Gloria Romero, Venezuela; and Perry Raana, Iran.

Francine Cockett, Hawaii, will represent our fiftieth state on the program, and Mary Helen Jones and Analu Jurgens of the River Falls high school will provide entertainment representing Mexico.

Narrator Amirarjomand, in summing up plans for the "Around the World" program, stated that cooperation from the faculty, students, and especially the music and drama departments has been very impressive to the foreign students, and that he feels the program as planned should be very realistic and enlightening.

Letter to Editor . . .

Dear Editor:
I will not make an issue of this, I simply wish to express an opinion that I, along with others, hold. I believe that for dances on campus a smaller-name band should be contracted. Less expensive groups are equally pleasing to listen and dance to. The monies involved in hiring a big-name group could be used to greater advantage to a greater number of students. River Falls is not that "big-time" yet.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Dear Editor:

This writer was highly pleased to read a letter by Karl H. Lillienwald in last week's Student Voice. Having long been appalled by the lethargy of our student body (the writer being no exception), it is gratifying to see a fellow student use the available medium of communication to express an opinion. Agreement or disagreement with Mr. Lillienwald's thesis is of secondary importance. Initially he is to be commended for exercising the right and duty of a citizen in this "training ground for democracy." Many students can be overheard voicing various complaints, some of them quite legitimate, but they fail to carry their complaints beyond the conversational stage. The timidity which seems to permeate the academic profession is very evident in the student body of Wisconsin State College at River Falls—future academicians for the most part. Let us then take a cue from Mr. Lillienwald and make our complaints known. In some cases the immortal words of Voltaire may be applicable: "I don't agree with what you say, but I defend to the death your right to say it."

Let us now shift our attention to Mr. Lillienwald's letter and its accompanying "Editor's Note" of March 20, 1961. The issue raised is one which deserves careful scrutiny by any thinking person. Is it desirable that pursuit after profits by a private corporation be aided by a state institution in a policy of mandatory meal ticket purchases? It appears to this writer that while this policy may have positive aspects, such as a proper diet and cheaper meals, it also contains some inherent evils which are worthy of consideration. One evil is, of course, the element of coercion which seems incongruous with one of the objectives of an institution of higher learning, viz. developing citizens who can think for themselves. A second unsavory aspect is that forcing the purchase of meal tickets insures a continuous clientele for the food service thereby eliminating the possibility of that very effective check on quality of service—the student boycott. A third negative aspect of this policy is that it enables the food service, because of its mandatory customers, to "bleed those students white" who by choice or necessity cannot utilize the meal plan and instead purchase food on an a la carte basis.

The "Editor's Note" following the letter in question implied, to me at least, an attempt to justify the meal plan policy. Justification for this course of action may be more than ample, but it cannot be found in the "Editor's Note." The fact that it is a decision by the Board of Regents doesn't make it "right." As for the plan applying only to those freshmen living in dormitories is hardly worth rebuttal. How many freshmen who don't live at home or commute don't live in dormitories? And if we are going to use as justification all (also italicized in the "Editor's Note") other state colleges doing it, River Falls had better adopt the semester system, and build four story dormitories instead of three-storied structures.

Sincerely yours,
Fredrick Trautmann

Dear Editor:

I would like to ask some questions concerning certain matters on this campus.

The first matter, concerning the "young ladies" in the dormitory. Why is it that they are not allowed to appear in the lobby wearing dusters? Maybe it is a just rule, but its purpose, (whatever that may be), is defeated when "male" student photographers come to the dorm at 10:30 p.m. and photograph the entire "female" population, as a group, in their sleep-wear.

Restoring to light another policy, why is it a rule that a girl must sign out in her own "home" (the dorm) only when she and her escort are down in the lounge after 7:30 p.m.? (This male escort could be the father.) Why is this necessary only after 7:30 p.m.? Why not before that time? At this time I would also like to ask a question about the AWS board (often called "Kangaroo Kourt"). Why is it that the girls on the board have the right to pass judgement upon other girls who have broken "rules," especially when members of the board are often offenders of like rules? Who judges them?

"Judge not that ye be not judged."

Respectfully yours,
Virginia Lee White

Wits only four weeks of "A" Division action left, there seems to be a surge forward of the honor hungry teams. The best example of this is the all-senior squad the Splitters. The Splitters with the aid of a 12 game winning streak, have moved from fifth place to a tie for second in a matter of 4 weeks. In last weeks action the Splitters rolled over the third place Elmer's Boys. Another team that has gone a long way and is an almost cinch to be in the roll-offs is the Alley Cats. The Cats who are presently in first place won three points from the Alley Playboys on forfeit in last weeks action. In next weeks "A" action the Alley Cats take on the Tequila Kids, who are currently tied for second with the Splitters. The Splitters take on the defending Champion Gutter Dusters who have lost two of their top bowlers due to class schedule conflicts. The Nine Pinners will try to get back on the winning trail by going against the Alley Playboys, who are coming out with a couple new bowlers to replace schedule casualties. The Elmer's Boys will have a night off to rest up for the last couple weeks of action.

In the "B" division a close race has also developed with all teams still in sight of the roll-offs. In last week the Scraggs managed to hold on to fourth place by taking three points on forfeit from the Dog Faces. The King Pins have been making a tough fight of it by taking two points from the slipping Maple Splitters and moving just a little closer to the second place Pin Boys. The Sleepers stayed in first place and drew a bye last week. In the coming action, after Easter vacation, the top match will be between the King Pins and the Sleepers. The Pin Boys will take on the Scraggs and the Dog Faces who have indicated a few new bowlers might be added will take on the Maple Splitters.

Schedule

Monday, March 27
 Nine Pinners vs. Alley Playboys
 Splitters vs. Gutter Dusters
 Tequila Kids vs. Alley Cats
Wednesday, April 5
 King Pins vs. Sleepers
 Pin Boys vs. Scraggs
 Dog Faces vs. Maple Splitters

HEAVYWEIGHT JULIEN SECOND IN NATION

by Lance Hittman

Larry Julien added another mark to his already impressive record as he placed second in the heavy weight division of the NAAIA wrestling tournament at Golden, Colorado, March 13-17. Julien fought his way into the finals only to lose to Winona's Jerry Wedemeier. Wedemeier placed second last year. Julien's record now reads 51 wins, 8 losses, and 1 tie.

The three others that represented River Falls were Jerry Fehlen, Dick Culver and Dave Garlie.

Fehlen drew a bye in the first round but was pinned in his first match. He advanced into the consolation semi-finals by defeating an Eastern Illinois University man. In the semi-finals Fehlen lost to Larry Wills of Winona.

Culver was defeated 5-0 in his first match by the third place man in Culver's weight class.

Hardballers, Cindermen Face Bleak Season As Inexperience Shows In Early Practice

by Garwin Lenander

A dismal season faces the baseball men of Coach Don Page. Ineligibility due to pro-leagues prompted Coach Page to make the comment that this year's team will be built around youth and "brains".

Three of the stellar performers from the past season were lost due to grade difficulties. Bill Halverson, who has led the Falcons for three years in hitting and cavorted in center field, Brad Noreen and Charlie Johnson, two mainstays on the mound, also fell by the wayside.

Last year's graduation dug deeply into the infield, pitching, and catching. Infielders Jim Turnquist, Dick Peper, Gene McNamara, pitcher Mick Lauber and catcher Roger Phiel did not return.

The pros gobbled up the final two pitchers and made them ineligible. Jack Scholz, who recently signed with the Chicago White Sox and Bill Freeman, who signed with the Kansas City Athletics last spring, are both gone.

Back this year are outfielders Frank Gombold, Jim Pohl, and Gary Burke; infielders Hank Lauber and George "Ross" McCullough; and catcher Bib Nilsen. Coach Page lists the following players as the nucleus of his team this year:

Pitchers—John Bortz, Jim Chinander, Richard Quast, Francis Gregorich, and Dave Wittleson.

Infielders—Tom Strasser, Vern Wanish, Bob Cross, Jim Norrish, Ross McCullough, and Hank Lauber.

Outfielders—Bob Nilsen, Kermit Summers and Bob Halverson.

Sportniks

by Swami Schlumpt

With rule changes in every sport coming as fast as changes in the weather, the average fan can hardly attend an athletic event today unless he carries an up-to-date rule book under his arm.

The latest change concerns basketball and the restoring of the "little man" into a place of prominence in the game. We think it has some merit but of course only time will tell.

The new professional basketball league has adopted the rule that will allow any basket scored from 25 feet out or farther to count three points. To help the officials determine whether or not the shot was taken from that distance, a line will be painted on the floor in a 25 foot arc around the basket.

"Why not? we ask. Shouldn't a 25-foot shot count more than one of Wilt Chamberlain's "stuff shots? A free throw counts only one point for the same reason. It is considered easier to make with no one guarding the shooter, etc., than a field goal.

Basketball today hinges around the tall men in the front line. In college and professional ranks, the 6-7 or taller man is the necessary ingredient in building a winning team. Often, these giants do nothing more than stuff the ball through the hoop at close range turning the game into a scoring contest between a couple of individuals with some help from the other members of the team.

The new rule will help eliminate this type of individual. But at the same time it would not hurt the truly proficient big men like Bill Russell. The rule would force development of all-around players (something the new "Wild Card" substitution rule for pitchers in baseball does not do.)

That this rule will have an effect on the game is easy to see. Had it been in effect in the recently completed Wisconsin State Tourney, Shawno might have ended up the winner instead of Milwaukee Lincoln.

The three point rule would revolutionize the game. It would practically eliminate the zone defense, which is distasteful to many fans because it slows the action of the game. The object of a zone is to force the other team to shoot from out, and with long shots counting three points instead of two there would be very few times when it would be advantageous to use a zone.

Thomas Pride, a letter-winner in the quarter mile, will be running the 220 this year along with the quarter mile.

Distanceman Jerry Halverson will be running the mile and two mile.

Neil Nordquist and Duane Jensen are returning lettermen in the half-mile.

Returning lettermen in the weights are Gary Wagenbach, Bob Radatz, and Glen Anderson.

Lutanist Plans April 5 Concert

Suzanne Bloch, whose expert concerts of early music for the flute take her constantly on tours in the United States and Canada, will be heard in recital Wednesday, April 5, at 11 a.m. in North Hall Auditorium at Wisconsin State College at River Falls.

Miss Bloch is also a brilliant player on the early keyboard instrument, the virginals, and is considered one of the outstanding exponents of recorder playing. In addition, she plays her own lute accompaniment for performance of the beautiful literature of lute songs.

Daughter of the late composer, Ernest Bloch, her first training was as a pianist. As a composer she won, at 19, first prize in a Paris contest for women composers. In recent years she has had orchestral performances in New York by Leonard Bernstein and Leon Barzin. Miss Bloch is now recording solo albums of her general repertoire.

Her performance is the first event in the Annual Fine Arts Festival at River Falls which will also feature a lecture by Dorothy Adlow, art critic of the "Christian Science Monitor"; a concert by the St. Croix Valley Symphony, and a performance by Basil Rathbone, noted actor.

Dr. Richard Darr Plans To Attend AFL-CIO Meeting

Dr. Richard Darr of the social science department has been invited to attend an AFL-CIO seminar April 3-7 in French Lick, Ind.

Topics to be discussed during the four-day session are: Labor activities in the field of legislation, growth and stability in the American economy, social security issues, the role of unions in today's society, income distribution and problems of low-income families, international trade and balance of payments, collective bargaining problems, productivity, automation, wages and prices.

RF Wesley Foundation Will Sponsor Lectures

"Gods of the Campus" will be the title of a lecture series for all college students to be held at the Methodist Church, Friday evening and Saturday, April 7 and 8. The lecturers will be the Rev. and Mrs. Archie Henry who founded the Wesley Foundation at Wisconsin State College in 1937.

The Wesley Foundation which is sponsoring the lectures, announced also that there would be no registration fee in order that as large a group of students could attend as possible.

In addition to the lectures there will be a movie titled "Campus Parish" concerning college ethics and also a debate on the question "Resolved that social fraternities and sororities have no place on college and university campuses."

A square dance will be held Saturday evening. The Rev. Henry will preach Sunday, April 8.

The theme "Gods of the Campus" was chosen from the title of a book by The Rev. Robert Hamill of the University of Wisconsin Wesley Foundation. It discusses the various false Gods that students sometimes worship.

Dr. Charles W. Curtis, who has taught at the University of Wisconsin since 1951, is giving a series of lectures which started this morning and continued until one o'clock this afternoon. Dr. Curtis will give his final lecture tomorrow at 10 a.m. in 201-2-3 SC.

Student Senate Minutes

President Ron Skone called the March 20 meeting of the Student Senate to order at 6:30 p.m. in Room 200 of the Student Center. The secretary's minutes of March 13 were approved as read. Treasurer Smith reported a balance of $562.83 in the Student Senate account; this amount does not include the $1,370.00 allotment for Spring Quarter.

Edith Walker, representing the Social Committee, requested that the Senate provide a piano for the basement of the Student Center.

Darrell Newman, Student Voice Editor, met with the Senate to discuss the election procedure to be employed during the Campus Cover Girl contest.

Jim DeMarce requested that the Senate provide expenses for a chaperone to the Young Democratic Club's convention at Madison. It was moved by Schmid, seconded by Seefeldt, that the sum of $18.00 be provided to defray expenses in sending a delegate to the Young Democrat's State convention. The motion was carried.

COLLEGE ART CLUB HOLDS EXHIBITION OF JAPANESE WORKS

The College Art Club is now sponsoring a show of Japanese Watercolors and Wood Block prints in Room 112 or South Hall. The watercolors are originals of flower and bird subjects. The woodblock prints are copies of famous masterpieces that are reproduced in the same complicated method that was used for the originals. The subjects of these range from landscapes to studies of courtesans and many genre scenes. Most of the paintings and prints are for sale at very reasonable prices. Only part of the collection is on display but the others may be seen by contacting an art club member or Mr. Ammerman.
